LAST SPAN OF C. N. R. VIADUCT PLACED IN POSITION

Rails Will Soon be Laid from Port Hope to Toronto.

The last girder of the new Canadian Northern Railway viaduct at Port Hope dropped gently into place Friday morning. The east and west sections are now connected, and it will be but a short time before the rails are completed from Port Hope station to the Union Station at Toronto.

The steel work here has progressed very satisfactorily—not a man being injured seriously on the whole job. Some of the bracing beams have still to be placed, and the entire structure has to be riveted before it is complete. It is at present held in place by numerous bolts, which will be taken out as the riveting proceeds. The ties are laid and the rails on, so that the work trains may go over the structure.

The Guide had the honor of being the first foot passenger over the new structure.

Two steam shovels are now at work on the cuttings east of the station, and a one track section is expected to be through in about two weeks.

Several trains are steadily drawing gravel and ballasting is proceeding rapidly west of Port Hope.

The Grand Trunk work train is busy filling in the settled part of the viaduct embankment begun last year.

Engineers have been running lines in and through Port Hope, The C.P.R., G.T.R., C.N.R., and even the men on the job, profess not to know what is doing or when anything is to be constructed.

In the meantime the Seymour Power Company are stringing their wires and making ready to deliver power at Port Hope, and at least two railways are busy with their lines.

DANGER POINTS.

Complaints are numerous about the approaches to the overhead bridge, Ontario street. The fill in was made last fall and winter, when the ground was frozen, consequently there has been a constant settling, until now there is a jump down, or up, of about a foot between the gravel and the bridge deck. Farmers complain that they cannot haul a load over while this state of affairs remain. Some of them go around by Cavan street, but even then the road is crooked and narrow over the G.T.R. tracks and under the C.N.R. viaduct, and a very dangerous hole near the wheel track is covered with loose planking. This should be made solid over the culvert.

If damage to life or property should occur at these points who would be responsible for damages, the town or the railway corporations?

What about the north end of the Cavan road, known as the "Pond Road"? Isn't it high time this important highway be made fit for travel? The water from the Electric Light pond has made it impassable. Whoever is responsible for this should be required to put the road in proper condition at once; delays are not only dangerous, but in this case are mighty inconvenient as well.

It would be well for the Town officials to find out where they are at and either act or cause some other body to move at once.

It might also be well to erect a sign at both sides of the overhead bridge, "Autos Blow Your Horn," to warn unseen drivers on the other side of approach.

Black Sateens, regular 30 for 25c regular 25 for 20c, regular 20 for 12½c at Cheffin's closing sale.

ANOTHER AUCTION SALE.—Mr. Fred Dickinson is leaving town and will sell by auction all his choice furniture, &c., without reserve, at his place, east of the Henning terrace, Dorset street, on Wednesday next, May 17, at 1 o'clock. Jas. Kerr, Auct.

SUDDEN DEATH Of Capt. Donald Manson

Brantford Courier

The sudden death took place in Brantford on Tuesday evening of Captain Donald Manson, one of the best known captains that ever sailed the lakes. The Captain has been residing in this vicinity for the past ten years, three of his daughters living in Brantford and vicinity. He had reached the patriarchal age of 87, but was apparently in good health on Monday. While partaking of tea the next evening, however, he fell forward in his chair and expired in a few moments. Death was due to heart failure, the result of old age.

Captain Manson was born in Caithness, Scotland, in 1824. When 20 years of age he came to this country, and for over 40 years sailed the lakes, the greater part of that time as captain. He made his home in Port Hope, in which town he was widely known and highly respected. As previously stated, he came to this city some ten years ago, where he also made many friends. Some six years ago his wife predeceased him.

The Captain was a fine type of the old school of lake captains, of which he was one of the last representatives, steam barges having largely taken the place of the staunch old sailing fleets of the lakes. A vigorous and resourceful body of men were these lake sailors, and Captain Manson was one of the best of them. In religion he was a Presbyterian, attending whilst in the city Alexandra Church, and in politics a Liberal.

His sudden call to "Cross the Bar" will be heard of with regret, not only in this city, but all along the lake shore, where he was so well known in every port. He leaves to mourn his loss four daughters, viz: Mrs. Kenneth Grant, Toronto; Mrs. James Harley, Brantford; Mrs. A. Foster, Brantford township, and Mrs. J. R. Vanfleet, Brantford.

The funeral which was private, took place to the Paris cemetery, where the Captain's wife is buried, and also other relatives who came from that town.

THE CHURCHES.

Methodist.

The pastor, Rev. W. G. Clarke, will preach at both services. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Renwick close their engagement on this day as organist, choirmaster and soloist of the church.

At the evening service the fraternal Order, Home Circle No. 4, will attend this church in a body, when a special sermon will be preached.

11 a.m., subject, "Lips that the fire has cleansed."

3 p.m., Sunday School and Young Men's Brotherhood.

7 p.m., subject, "Circles and their Lessons."

The public are cordially invited to all these services.

As this day is observed generally in Christian churches on this continent as "Mother's Day," it is suggested that everyone wear to service a white carnation or other white flower, in honor of "the best woman that ever lived—your Mother."

Baptist.

Rev. J. S. LaFlair, pastor. "The Rewards of Motherhood" will be the morning sermon subject on Sunday, the occasion being the annual Mothers' Day service. The music will be appropriate to the sentiments of the day.

At the evening service the subject will be "Seven sorts of sinners." The pastor expects to conduct the services.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

'Do you think him strong as a moralist?' inquired Sylvia.

'He has very decided opinions about the present state of our civilisation.'

'So I find. But is there any distinctly moral force in him?'

'Father thinks so,' Sidwell replied, 'and so do our friends the Lilywhites.'

Miss Moorhouse pondered awhile.

'He is a great problem to me,' she declared at length, knitting her brows with a hint of humorous exaggeration. 'I wonder whether he believes in the dogmas of Christianity.'

Sidwell was startled.

'Would he think of becoming a clergyman?'

'Oh, why not? Don't they recognise nowadays that the spirit is enough?'

There was silence. Sidwell let her eyes wander over the sunny grass to the red-flowering creeper on the nearest side of the house.

'That would involve a great deal of dissimulation,' she said at length. 'I can't reconcile anything else,' rejoined the other.

'He impresses you as a rationalist?'

'You not?'

'I confess I have taken his belief for granted. Oh, think! He couldn't keep up such a pretence. However you justify it, it implies conscious deception. It would be dishonourable. I am sure he would think it so.'

'How does your brother regard him?' Sylvia asked, smiling very lightly, but with direct eyes.

'Buckland can't credit anyone with sincerity except an aggressive agnostic.'

'But I think he allows honest credulity.'

Sidwell had no answer to this. After musing a little, she put a question which indicated how her thoughts had travelled.

'Have you met many women who declared themselves agnostics?'

'Several.'

Sylvia removed her hat, and began to fan herself gently with the brim. Here, in the shade, bees were humming; from the house came faint notes of a piano—Fanny practising a mazurka of Chopin.

'But never I suppose, one who found a pleasure in attacking Christianity?'

'A girl who was at school with me in London,' Sylvia replied, with an air of amused reminiscence.

'Marcella Moxey. Didn't I ever speak to you of her?'

'I think not.'

'She was bitter against religion of every kind.'

'Because her mother made her learn collects, I daresay?' suggested Sidwell in a tone of gentle satire.

'No, no. Marcella was about eighteen then, and had neither father nor mother.—(How Fanny's touch improves!—she was a born atheist, in the fullest sense of the word.)'

'And detestable?'

'Not to me—I rather liked her. She was remarkably honest, and I have sometimes thought that in morals, on the whole, she stood far above most women. She hated falsehood—hated it with all her heart, and a story of injustice maddened her. When I think of Marcella it helps me to picture the Russian girls who propagate Nihilism.'

'You have lost sight of her?'

'She went abroad, I think. I should like to have known her fate. I rather think there will have to be many like her before women are civilised.'

'How I should like to ask her,' said Sidwell, 'on what she supported her morality?'

'Put the problem to Mr. Peak,' suggested the other, gaily. 'I fancy he wouldn't find it insoluble.'

Mrs. Warricombe and Mrs. Moorhouse appeared in the distance walking hither under parasols. The girls rose to meet them, and were presently engaged in less interesting colloquy.

CHAPTER IV

This summer Peak became a semi-graduate of London University. To avoid the risk of a casual meeting with acquaintances, he did not go to London, but sat for his examination at the nearest provincial centre. The revival of boyish tremors at the successive stages of this business was anything but agreeable; it reminded him, with humiliating force, how far he had strayed from the path indicated by his self-respecting manhood.

Delect would have strengthened in overwhelming revolt all the impulses which from time to time urged him to abandon his servile course. But there was no chance of his failing to satisfy the examiners. With 'Honours' he had now

Buildings Last Longer When Painted

You have spent hundreds of dollars in building. "Can you afford to let this investment depreciate in value?" Just consider it from a business standpoint. An unprotected wooden surface soon requires repairs. The ravaging action of time and weather is certain. The unpainted building rapidly decreases in value. Paint is protection, a real insurance policy against rot and decay—it is a money saver on the farm, not an expense. Dollars are saved and property value increased by painting at the right time with

FOR SKIN DISEASES

A Treatment That Costs Nothing Unless It Provides Satisfactory Relief.

I have a grayish-white ointment with a pleasant odor that is clean to use, which I believe is the best known remedy for the relief of skin diseases. It is especially efficacious for overcoming eczema in all its various forms, ringworm, acne, pimples, blotches, insect bites, tetter, certain forms of ulcers, sores and wounds. It is strongly antiseptic, cleansing, soothing and healing. It stops all itching and burning caused by skin eruptions.

I am so positive this ointment is unequalled that I offer it with the distinct understanding that if after having given it a reasonable trial, you are not satisfied with the results, you have only got to tell me and I will, without quibbling, return every cent you paid me for it. I exact no promises or obligations whatever.

I want you to try Rexall Eczema Ointment. The first application gives a refreshing sense of relief, and bane of its germ destroying power, it eradicates the germ or parasite which causes eczema and many other eruptions. It quickly allays the inflammation, gives protection to the inflamed surfaces, and helps restore healthy tissue. It is particularly active in relieving skin ailments peculiar to children. You certainly cannot lose anything by trying it. I would not dare make this offer except I am positive Rexall Eczema Ointment will satisfactorily benefit you. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Remember, you can only obtain it at my store—The Rexall Store. H. W. Mitchell, Phm. B.

CLIMATE DOES NOT CAUSE TUBERCULOSIS

Bright Dry Bracing Air Is Healthy

It is not the climate that causes tuberculosis; it is our fear of the climate. The Indians were not troubled with it when they lived in tents and breathed good air all the year around, though at times they were hungry enough and never escaped the rigors of the weather. But when we taught them to live in "civilized" houses and keep the cold out of their unventilated rooms tuberculosis fell on them like a plague, and to-day it menaces their existence as a race.

The only way the climate affects the spread of the plague is by adding to our pampered softness of body. The cold days close our doors and nail down our windows. They, furthermore, drive us within the house and keep us there. In a milder climate, we might sit out of doors more and the perpetually open window would replace the open grave. This is the true reason why northern climes seem to be especially afflicted with tuberculosis.

On the other hand, there is no more curative atmosphere than our bright, dry and bracing air of winter. People come here from the south to get cured. Dr. Trudeau, of the Saranac Sanitarium, had been all over the world seeking relief, but he never found it till he climbed, faint with exhaustion, up into the freezing altitudes of the Adirondacks. We ought, in this climate to be practically immune from the plague; and we would be if we lived in the climate and not in cowardly hiding from it. The cult of the open window would banish tuberculosis in a generation.—Montreal Star.

A Richibucto School Teacher

Once a Dyspeptic—Now Well, Thanks to Father Morrisey's No. 11.

Richibucto, N. B., Nov. 17th 1909.

Father Morrisey Med. Co., Ltd.,

I have been teaching school for upwards of thirty years, during the last twenty-five of which I have suffered seriously with stomach trouble, indigestion and dyspepsia.

I have tried many remedies, and while I would get temporary relief from some of them, yet the old trouble would return, and with it the sufferings only known to the chronic dyspeptic.

Last year I had made up my mind to abandon my profession, feeling that in my condition I could neither do justice to myself or to the many pupils under my charge. A friend suggested to me that I try Father Morrisey's No. 11 Stomach Tablets; I did so, and have continued to use them with the result that my stomach trouble is cured—my indigestion and dyspepsia gone and I feel as well as I ever did.

I have, thanks to the Tablets, been able to continue in my profession, and feel that I am once more enjoying my work and am able to give justice to the fifty-four pupils under my care.

Yours Gratefully, (Signed) MARY CHRYSTAL.

Are you one of the many thousands who, like Miss Chrystal, are prevented from doing their best work, or really enjoying life, by stomach trouble?

If you are you cannot do better than she did—take Father Morrisey's No. 11 Tablets.

Each No. 11 Tablet, when dissolved in the stomach, will digest 1 1/2 pounds of food—a good, hearty meal—so that no matter how weak your stomach may be No. 11 Tablets will enable you to get the nourishment out of your food and build up your strength, while the stomach, thus relieved, recovers its vigor.

DICKINSON RESIGNS

U. S. Secretary of War Retires to Attend to His Own Affairs.

SUCCESSOR IS APPOINTED

Henry L. Stimson, Recently Republican Candidate for Governor of New York Will Take the Vacancy in the Cabinet — Dickinson's Resignation Delayed by Reason of the Troubles in Mexico.

Washington, May 13.—Secretary of War Dickinson has resigned. President Taft has appointed Henry L. Stimson, recently Republican candidate for governor of New York, in his place.

Secretary Dickinson's resignation was dated April 23, and his action was due to the pressure of his private business in Tennessee. The President's letter of acceptance, dated May 3, shows that in the meantime Mr. Dickinson had offered to sacrifice his private affairs if his leaving the Cabinet during the Mexican troubles should embarrass the President. The correspondence is of the most cordial nature.

Jacob M. Dickinson is 60 years old and a lawyer. He was one of the counsel for the United States before the Alaska boundary tribunal, and is a past president of the American Bar Association. While his home is in Nashville, Tenn., and he has served on the Supreme Court Bench of that state, he had a law office in Chicago for years before he became Secretary of War. He has large land interests.

Stimson is a New York lawyer, formerly a partner of Senator Root. He is 43 years old. He served as United States attorney for southern New York, and as such initiated proceedings against the Standard Oil Co., and most of the railroads running into New York, convicting them of rebating. He also prosecuted the Sugar Trust for defrauding the Government and recovered over $3,000,000, besides sending many of the employees and officials to jail. He also prosecuted C. W. Morse, the banker, who is now serving a fifteen-year sentence in Atlanta prison, and James Gordon Bennett of the New York Herald, who had to pay $30,000 fine for publishing indecent advertisements.

Stimson was Col. Roosevelt's choice for Republican candidate in New York last fall for governor, but went down with his party, owing to the dissensions in the Republican ranks and the opposition to Roosevelt's so-called new nationalism.

Mr. Stimson is a mighty hunter and his favorite stamping ground is the Canadian Rocky Mountains district. He has been for many years an enthusiastic militia man and holds a commission as captain in the National Guards.

Honored by McGill.

Montreal, May 13.—The annual convocation for conferring degrees in arts, applied science, law, dentistry, music at the graduating school of McGill University took place at the Royal Victoria College at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Chief Justice Fitzpatrick, who received the honorary degree of LL.D., addressed the students.

The honorary degree of doctor of civil law was conferred upon Hon. E. W. P. Guerin, B.A., B.C.L., judge of the Supreme Court.

Those receiving the honorary degree of doctor of law, besides Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, were Samuel Edward Dawson, Litt.D., F.R.C.S., C.M.G., and Rev. Jean Charlemagne Brac, Q. Litt.D., professor of modern languages, Vassar College.

The degree of doctor of music was conferred upon Charles Henry Mills, Mus. Bac.

IS LAID TO REST

Remains of Archbishop McEvay Placed in Vault.

FALLON PREACHES SERMON

Funeral Service of Roman Catholic Prelate Is Attended by Church Dignitaries From All Over the Country—Many Public Men Are Present—Consigned to Vault to Await Final Disposition.

Toronto, May 13.—Fergus Patrick McEvay, once Bishop of London, late Archbishop of Toronto, but over all a priest of the holy church of Jesus Christ, farewell from all of us until we meet again with God in heaven.

With these words the Right Rev. Michael Fallon, Bishop of London, concluded an eloquent oration over the mortal remains of his grace Archbishop McEvay. It was a fitting tribute by a strong man to a strong man, and more appropriate because the one who spoke was the ecclesiastical successor in London to the one who had departed, who took up the crozier he had laid down to assume a larger responsibility and was now completing the work he had left unfinished.

No more impressive scene has ever been witnessed within the stately walls of St. Michael's Cathedral than that of yesterday. The ornate decorations, sufficient in themselves to form a suitable background for such a ceremonial, were amplified by the funeral drapings; the gathering of the prelates around the casket with the gorgeous colorings of the papal vestments; the sombre hue of the densely packed throng in the pews mingled with the white surplices of the visiting clergy in the centre of the nave; these, and the striking figure of the speaker in the pulpit, clothed in a simple black cassock with a broad girdle of purple, towering above and reaching over the vast throng made a picture which those who saw will never forget. And in the closing moments of his remarks, when Bishop Fallon said, "Eternal rest come unto him. The Lord let perpetual light shine upon him, and may his soul and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace," there was a spiritual quickening; a wave of emotion passed over all, as it might be when the voice of the archangel was speaking. The soft intoning of the organ which followed and the sweet voices of the choristers as they chanted the responses of the requiem of peace. Not a few said, "Even as he who succeeded his grace to the see of London, and has so fittingly expressed what was in every heart, may he also succeed him in the archiepiscopal see of Toronto, here to implement the work which has been so abundantly endowed with his blessing and spirit."

Shortly after 10 o'clock the procession of clergy arrived, the bishops and prelates passing into the chancel and grouping themselves in order of precedence around the casket. The archbishop's throne was appropriately left vacant, while on the opposite side a canopy had been erected for his excellency Mgr. Stagni, papal legate, who, robed in purple and gold with mitre and cope, conducted the high mass of the requiem.

The archbishops present were: Archbishop Bruchesi, Montreal; Archbishop Begin, Quebec; Archbishop Gauthier of Ottawa.

The bishops in attendance were: Bishop Dowling, Hamilton; Bishop Latourette, vicar apostolic of Temiskaming; Bishop Weber, head of the Roman Catholic College at Berlin; Bishop Bruneau, Nicolet; Bishop Carey, St. John, N.B.; Bishop Macdonnell, Alexandria, Ont.; Bishop Fallon, London; Bishop O'Connor, Peterboro; Bishop Feehan, Fall River; Bishop Hickey, Rochester.

Those in the first seats were: Premier Whitney, A. C. Macdonnell, M.P., South Toronto; Edmund Bristol, M.P., Centre Toronto; Hon. Dr. Reame, M.P.P., Minister of Public Works; Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands and Mines; Hon. J. J. Foy, Attorney-General of Ontario, and Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary.

Behind them were seated Hon. Charles Murphy, Secretary of State, representing the Dominion Government; George Clare, M.P., Waterloo, and George Gordon, M.P., Nipissing.

Next came Hon. J. M. Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and Justice Latchford.

The ceremony of robing the celebrant lasted a few minutes, and then the organ pealed forth in the solemn mass of requiem, and the choir sang in Latin:

"Eternal rest give them, O Lord; and let perpetual light shine about them. A hymn, O Lord, becometh thee in Zion; and a vow shall be paid to thee in Jerusalem, O Lord, hear my prayer, and all flesh shall come to thee."

The confiteor was recited, and then came the Kyrie Eleison, during which prayers were offered up to the Lord to have mercy on the soul which had passed away.

At the conclusion of the sermon by Bishop Fallon, final absolution was given, the prelates coming close around the casket and sprinkling the body with holy water. The funeral cortege then moved off to Mount Hope Cemetery, where the body was temporarily committed to the vault to await a decision as to the final disposition.

A Strong Gas Well.

Confessed to Theft.

Kingston, May 13.—A fifteen-year-old boy, found guilty of many petty thefts from city stores, was given a year in the industrial school. Merchants had been complaining for months of the thefts. The lad confessed.

MANY CONFLAGRATIONS.

Buildings at Petawawa Camp Burned to the Ground.

Ottawa, May 13.—The Militia Department was apprised yesterday of a fire at Petawawa military camp on Thursday which destroyed the ordnance stores building, the army service corps building, and the house of Sergt. Slade, the caretaker, entailing a loss of about $25,000. The fire was caused by lighting, which struck the building, and, despite the efforts of a number of men employed in getting the camp ready for the summer training, the buildings and contents were consumed. The loss is made up mainly of the blankets used in camp, a number of Ross rifles, several sub-machine guns and transport wagons. The buildings were one-storey frame structures.

Craighurst In Danger.

Craighurst, May 13.—Bush fires are raging furiously all around the Village of Craighurst, causing much alarm to the residents. Unless the high winds that prevail at the present time abate, and rain is forthcoming, the village is in danger of being wiped out. The fire is making rapid strides, fanned by high winds and the village is enveloped in smoke. A number of the male residents are out to fight the flames.

Approaching Bala.

Bala, May 13.—Wm. Carr started a fire Thursday to clear the corner of a chopping. After dinner it was beyond his control and is now across the C.P.R. track. The fire is raging before a high wind eastward along Shanty Bay towards Bala. Buildings will be in danger if it crosses the swamp north of Robertson's Point, as there is no provision of any kind for fighting it.

Lavant Threatened.

Kingston, May 13.—A big bush fire is raging at Lavant, on the line of the Kingston & Pembroke Railway, sixty miles north of here. Mayor Graham was called upon to render assistance last night. The mayor gave Fire Chief Armstrong permission to take the Chatham fire engine and as much hose as he could spare. A special train was made up and left as soon as possible with men and equipment. The report from Lavant states that the fire is about a quarter of a mile from the village. It is believed it will be checked in time to save the buildings in the village. There are less than a dozen houses at Lavant.

A special from Lavant says the employees of the Wilbur Iron Mines have been fighting bush fires for two days and nights, and that if the wind changes, it is sure to strike Lavant. Kingston firemen are at the scene checking fire as best they can.

May Become Serious.

Megantic, Que., May 13.—Forest fires are raging in the Woburn district near here. Between four and five miles square of forest have already been burned over. A large force of men have been rushed to the scene and are now making an effort to stay its progress. Unless rain comes soon, the situation will be serious.

Bryan at Galt.

Galt, May 13.—William Jennings Bryan, the noted American politician, who is on a tour through western Ontario, arrived in Galt yesterday morning, having motored here from Paris, where he lectured Thursday night.

At 1 o'clock he was entertained to a luncheon at the Imperial Hotel, which was attended by over a hundred prominent citizens. Mr. Bryan delivered a strong address, in which he supported the Y.M.C.A., and outlined the great work the association is doing in the uplift of men. Speaking of the association as a co-operative institution, Mr. Bryan digressed from his subject somewhat to commend the system of annuities recently inaugurated by the Canadian Government.

For years, he said, he had been trying to figure out a similar scheme for the benefit of the citizens of the United States. Only yesterday did he learn that such a system was in force in Canada. He could not understand why every civilized country did not follow the lead of Canada and encourage the people to put something by for the day when they would be old and could not work.

UNION IS USELESS

Canada Can Do Better Outside Copyright League.

POSTAL SALARIES GO UP

Hon. Sydney Fisher In Explaining Copyright Act Says Better Terms Could Be Secured If Canada Withdrew From the International Group — Postoffice Employees' Wages Resolutions Carry.

Ottawa, May 13.—There was a business-like sitting of the House yesterday and a number of Government measures were under consideration.

Hon. W. S. Fielding introduced a bill to extend for one year the charter of the Canadian banks, which expire at the end of every ten years. This probably means that the general revision of the Bank Act will be deferred until next session of Parliament.

Before the consideration in committee of Hon. Mr. Fisher's bill to amend the Copyright Act was taken up, the Minister made some additional explanations in reference to it. He said that under the present arrangements British subjects and some of the British residents had copyright privileges in Canada. Copyright acts were under consideration, both in the Imperial Parliament and in Canada, and when these were passed, he proposed to extend Canadian privileges throughout the Empire.

Under the new Canadian act citizens of countries outside the international union were not given copyright privileges in Canada unless there was a special arrangement with that country. The new bill provided for making such arrangements.

It was a question as to whether Canada should remain in the union under the new act. Under the present system a country outside of the union could get privileges in all countries in the union by obtaining copyright from one of its members. The United States was a case in point. That country, while not a member of the union, could get all its advantages without giving any concessions in return. Under the circumstances, Mr. Fisher thought it would be as well for Canada to withdraw from the union, unless an arrangement could be made whereby an outsider's privilege within the union would be restricted to the one country within which it had been obtained. The Minister further stated his belief that if Canada were to withdraw from the union, several countries would immediately take steps to secure privileges within the Dominion.

Progress was reported.

The Ontario & Quebec Railway bill, to which there have been objections, was allowed to stand in the absence of the promoter. Mr. Graham suggested that a good title for the railway might be the Ontario and Abitibi.

The bill to incorporate the Grain Growers' Grain Co. passed through committee and was given a third reading. There was a short discussion over the title, in view of the wide powers sought by the promoters.

Mr. S. Middlebro of North Grey suggested that it should change to the Grain Growers' Trading Co. In that case, he said, nobody would be misled.

Finding that the western Conservatives were against changing the name of the company, the question was dropped.

The resolutions to increase the salaries of postoffice employees were discussed in committee. The total amount involved was $51,850.

In reply to Mr. Taylor of Leeds Mr. Lemieux said that letter-carriers delivery was established in places of twelve thousand inhabitants. This was the rule, but the practice was to apply it to towns of between ten and twelve thousand people.

Mr. Taylor said he had seen it mentioned in the newspapers that Brockville, Hon. Mr. Graham's constituency, with nine thousand people, was to get a letter-carrier delivery. Mr. Lemieux, however, stated that he had not heard of it himself.

Joe Russell (Toronto) pointed out that junior mail clerks got less in the beginning than mail carriers, but had no allowance for clothing.

Mr. Lemieux said he was quite willing to consider the question of supplying railway mail clerks with uniforms. He also expressed himself as inclined to the view that Canada should follow the example of the United States and other countries and provide more distinctive and ornate mail cars.

The Minister then made reference to the various increases which have been given to the service recently, and intimated that there would be more in the future.

The resolutions were passed shortly after midnight and bills based upon them were given first reading.

A Sure Tip.

London, May 13.—For the first time in two weeks, William Hayden has taken the index finger of his right hand from the tip of his nose. It was a long time to remain in one position, but Mr. Hayden will think the results worth the inconvenience, for now he has a fine tip to his nose where formerly he had none.

Yesterday morning the cartilage of the finger was cut away and there to the end of the nose stuck that cartilage.

Only one thing remains to be done, where the finger nail was, a piece of skin will have to be grafted, but that will be easily done in a week or two.

LOCAL OPTION AT BEAVERTON.—With the advent of local option the two hotels at Beaverton went out of business entirely. On Monday signs were tacked on the front doors which said, "Private" the stable yards were fenced in and the pumps locked. The temperance forces have arranged with a restaurant keeper to enlarge his operations a barn that will accommodate 10 horses has been secured and will be opened to the farmers; a pump is to be attached to the well in front of the town hall, and tonight, bedrooms will be opened in some vacant apartments over a down town store. There was a good deal of drinking Saturday before the bars formally closed.—ORILLIA NEWS—LETTER.

LEFT FIFTEEN MILLIONS.—Old Frank Work, clubman, sportsman, horseman stockbroker, left about fifteen million. He was troubled by his daughters, one of whom married a common coachman. His other girls didn't marry to his liking and the old man spent his latter years drawing up wills. He finally left the coachman's wife $80,000 a year, provided she relinquished all interest in horses, horse shows and horsemen. The lady came by her tastes honestly enough, for old Frank himself was one of the best horsemen in New York City and prided himself upon his string of trotters. Another daughter, Mrs. Peter Hewitt gets a yearly allowance of $80,000 during her lifetime. As there were about fifteen codicils to the old man's will, the lawyers will have fine, fat picking taking it to pieces.
