Quebec, Feb. 19th. Last night, after the reporter left, in answer to Mr Robinson, Mr Hincks stated that the Government had made an effort to obtain from the Imperial Government, permission to carry mails by the new line of screw steamers, at a nominal rate, to accommodate the poorer classes, with whom time was no object, but he doubted if the Provincial Government could ask for Penny Postage by the Canard Steamers, without at the same time offering to bear a part of the heavy loss which must result from that. Mr Robinson expressed himself dissatisfied with the answer, and stated he would bring the matter

THE RAILWAY.

m the number of strangers visiting it-chiefly on business connected with the Peter-among the visitors, partners and representatives of several of the most respectable firms of railway contractors in Canada, and also many from the neighboring State of New York. We may therefore anticipate an activ ompetition for the contract of the road, and ne performance of the work at reasonable prices. We perceive by the printed specifications and form of tender, that the work is to be offered for in separate items, by measurement: that is, for instance, the earth exeavation at so much per cubic yard; bal-lasting by the mile; masonry of each sort by the cubic yard; permanent track superstructure by the mile, and so on of each particular item. This is plainly the most equitable nanner of tendering for such work, and while it protect; the contractor against the danger of incurring serious loss by underrating the quantity of any particular kind of work, and affords the company reasonable security against imposition, it also ensures the building of a better description of road. The great folly of letting the construction of a railway at so much per mile, or in bulk, at a round sum for a road of so many miles in length, has been glaringly exemplified in the manner in which the work upon the Northern Road was being done, until the inspection of the Government Engineer put a check upon it. In such cases it becomes so much the interest of the contractor to make his grade conform to the undulations of the ground, to curve around every hill to save cutting, and avoid hollows where filling is required, that in nine cases out of ten it may be considered a sheer impossibility to get a first class road built by such means. As it is of the first importance that the Port Hope Railroad should maintain the great superiority, in point of grades, which it now holds over every other line likely to compete with it for the trade of the back country, it must be conceded that the Directors have adopted the wisest course in choosing the form in which tenders are to be made. The plan about to be pursued is the only effectual one to secure a good road at moderate cost; and that the Directors will attain both these desirable results, there is now no room left to doubt. The most prudent precautions have been adopted, by ob-

The auditors having examined the several accounts, and finding them correct, they were then presented to the meeting and passed, showing a balance in the hands of the Treasurer, over and above all demands, amounting to £62 17s. 3d., a much larger balance than usual, to be accounted for from the fact that the Government grants for the years 1851 and 1852 were both drawn and placed to the credit of the Society for the year 1852. Much congratulation was therefore felt that the Society was thus placed in so prosperous a position, when it was generally supposed, from the frequent changes made by the Legislature in the passing of new Agri cultural Bills for their guidance annually, the reverse would have been the case. It is to be desired, however, that in future more stability and less fluctuation will characterize our Legislature in the formation of so all-important a subject as an act for the general uidance for Agricultural Societies in the Province. The requisite number of subscribers being obtained, and the declaration signed for the formation of the County of Durham Agriculnral Society, the following persons were the

CORRESPONDENCE.

DEAR GUIDE:-I really believe you newspaper Editor get up altercations with one nother, just on parpose to famish yourselves with subjects to write upon when news is scarce, and the trade in politics rather dull. What on earth else could have induced the rentlemanly Editor of the Star to lend his columns and his good name (which not being transferable property is very illegal,) to such writer as the "Railroad" of the Star, whose mendacity, ill temper, and ill manners, are a great discredit to your contemporary. I don't wonder that many of the respectable people of Cobourg are quite put out of countenance by this writer, and that when spoken to on the subject of his disreputable lucubrations, they disayow all countenance of them, and answer—"We never read the trash about Railroads in the Star." But I quite think, dear Guide, that it is high time you should discontinue answering his unmanly and whicing attacks upon you, and upon our beautiful little town-which is growing big so very fast, that it excites the bitter jealousy of its neighbours—like all great folks when they get ahead of their competitors. I can't help feeling great contempt for a swaggering fop of a schoolfellow of mine, who, because he cannot beat me at recitations, or get above me in class, comes up to me after school, gives me a blow in the face that sets my nose a-bleeding, calls me horrid names, tells the most shameful falsehoods of me to the master, and then when he meets his playmates, hypocritically assures them that "he wishes his neighbours well, and never desires to say or do any thing to retard their prosperity." But the worst of it is, that after the most violent abuse and illusage, he sometimes, when he has exhausted himself, rubs his hands in the greatest glee, smacks his lips, looks quite delighted with himself, and cries "We youch for our correctness-impeach it if you can! we defy you to do so!! We desired to let your project alone, and hitherto we have done so." And then like a true bully, he insolently tells me, after the most moderate resentment of his ruffianly usage, "you may thank yourself."
Now, dear Guide, I have made up my mind to keep out of the way of this bad, illnatured school-feliow of mine, to take no notice of him, and to expose myself to no more of his cowardly attacks. If Mr. "Railroad" of the Treasurer, was referred to the Finance is quite sure that his road will be built-that all the money required to make it, excepting a paltry "£25,000," is as good as in the treasury-that Cobourg is in a better financial condition than Port Hope, by some #£200,000,"—that their read will pay well -be shorter and better than ours, and cost only about two thirds as much-will overcome an elevation of two hundred and secenty one feet in three miles, ascending southwardly, in the direction of the heavy freight, and yet be nearly level—if he is sure that he possesses all these magical advanta-ges over us; than even a younger school-boy than I would very naturally ask-Why does he not let the Port Hope road alone, rely upon

According to previous announcement, putation from the "Young Men's Intellectual Society" of Port Hope met an equal number of members of the "Perrytown Debating Society" at Perrytown, on Monday, the 21st Inst., when the following question was discussed .

"Resolved. That there is more misery is the world than happiness."

The Affirmative was held by Messrs. Bo land, Stephens, and Cald rell on the side of Perrytown, and the Negative by Messrs. Cleahorn, Might, and Hay on the part of the "Intellectuals." The Chair was ably filled by that distinguished member of the Penv-town bench—Aaron Cheate, Esq. .

The debate was opened by the "Plain Farmer," who was prevented on this occasion from making his usual display by a very material alteration in the nature of the ques-tion, but who endeavoured to sustain a bad cuse" as well as the evidently miserable state of his mind would permit. He was replied to in a splendid and powerful speech by Mr. D. Cleghorn-Mr. Stephens then followed, and in a remarkable clear and touching manner, notical the cause of anisery. Mr. Might replied in a very intellectual and convincing speech. Mr. Caldwell was then upon and defended his position with great ability and talent. He was answered by Mr. John Hay, in a manner which evinced great powers and grasp of mind. The Closing oration was delivered by Mr.

Cleghorn in a very logical and powerfully argumentative manner, evincing meat redefinition of the control of th gumentative manner, evincing great arch, ability, and intellectuality

After awarding a due measure of eulogium on the speakers of each side, in his usual har py style the chairman decided that the Vegative had been most ably sustained. The audience, which was composed of the beauty, wealth, and intelligence of the neighborhood, sustained its long established character for good order and decorum, and evinced its approbation by frequent bursts of unbounded applause.

After a vote of thanks being presented to the chairman, and another to the Gentlemen from Port Hope for the delicious treat which they had served up for the occasion, the meeting was dissolved amid the most lively manifestation of evident delight

THE LATE COLONEL TALBOT.-The St. Thomas Despatch gives the following account of the deceased Culonel :-"After a long and busy life, the greater part of which was devoted to the advancement of the settlement of Western Canada. The Honorable Thomas Taibot has been summoned to eternity. Descended from a long line of noble ancestry, Colonel Talbot had the most encouraging inducements to push his fortune in his native country, but for reasons which we have never heard fully accounted for, he was induced in the prime of life to retire from the career which lay open to him in the old world, and bring himself in what was then in truth, the dense forest of Canada. On the shores of Lake Erie he found a home, where, during a period of half a century, he lived to witness the gradual development of the splendid country in which he had found his residence. To facilitate and encourage the settlement of that portion of the country, Colonel Talbot entered into an engagemen with the Government, whereby he undertook to bring out actual settlers from the old country and to take the general management of the new settlement. After having undergone great hardships in the outset of his un-dertaking, and having suffered privations and misfortunes sufficient to drive a man of less energy and determination to despair, he had at length the gratification of seeing his years of toil and anxiety rewarded in the comfort and prosperity of those whom he had induced to settle near him. His memory will long be held in grateful remembrance in the Talbot Settlement, on account of many acts of kindness and assistance which he was ever ready and anxious to extend to those who stood in need of them.

SUMMARY.

Scene on Boston Common a HUNDRED YEARS Ago .- Brailford in his history of Massachusetts, states that on the anniversary of the Society for Promoting Industry, 300 females of Boston assembled on the Common with their spinning wheels. They were neatly attired in cloth of their own manufacture, and a great crowd of spectators collected to witness the scene. This was in 1753, just one hundred years ago.—Trascript.

The New York Times calls attention to the astonishing fact, revealed by the Treasury tables just issued, that "we (the yankees), smoke up in Spanish cigars, our whole exports of wheat, and guzzle down in French Cognac, our entire export of Indian corn. For the rest of our breadstuffs, the flour sent abroad suffice for something like two-thirds of the interest on the foreign debt; leaving the rice of South Carolina, and the deferred faith of the repudiating States to settle the remain-

Halifax has always been considered, and stly too, as one of the healthiest cities in the world. The number of deaths during the past year (1852), was only three hundred and sixty! This is out of a population of at least twenty thousand souls is a remarkable

Low RATES OF TRAVELLING BETWEEN BOSTON AND ALBANY.—The Hudson River Rail-road Co., having recently reduced their fares between New York City and Albany to 50 cents passengers, now leaving Boston at 5 p. m., by either of the Steamboat trains are carried to New York for $1,50, and thence to Albany for 50 cents. Making the whole fare through but $2,00.

A GREATER THAN ERRICSON.—The Genoa correspondent of the Newark Daily Advertiser says :- " A complete revolution, in the means of steam navigation and locomotion is anticipated here from a recent invention by Doctor Carosio, of this city. He has, it is for the decomposition of water by electro-magnetism, which will introduce the gas thus generated into the engine in a way to save all the expense of fuel! His invention has been approved by savans and practical engineers, and a company has subscribed the means of giving it a full experiment.— Means have also been adopted to secure patents in all other countries. Mr. J. B. M so, a respectable merchant of this city, has just started for the United States, with our minister at Turin, to the heads of the Patent Office at Washington."

SALE OF NEGROES-Baltimore, Feb. 8 .-A letter from Rio Janerio, the 29th, states that on the 22nd, 1000 negroes were landed from a Slaver at a point on the coast, and sold for $800 each. A war steamer was despatched to the spot, but when she arrived the Slaves had been sent to the interior and the Slaver had disappeared.

Six bundred and sixty thousand five hundred and sixty-three slaves are owned in the United States by Ministers of the Gospel and viz:—219,553 by the Methodists; 77,000 by the Preshyterian by the Presbyterians; 125,000 by the Baptists; 88,000 by the Episcopalians; 101,000 by the Campbellites; & 50,000 by other denominations.

ANOTHER MAINE LAW TRIUMPH !-- Some months ago the Legislature of Vermont pass-ed a law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating with provisions more stringent than drinks. those of Maine. Before coming into operation, it was submitted to the people to vote on. About two weeks ago a vote was taken, which resulted in a majority of 2,000 in-fa wont of the law going into immediate oper-ation. What will our Cauadian Axis say to this. We are persuaded that if the Maine Law were submitted to the people in Townships on the first Monday in January, 1854 that it would be enacted or upheld by a large majority of Upper Canadians.

Let our Legislature then do its duty, and pass a law, to go into operation in January, 1854, immediately dafter a vote shall be taken on the subject by the people.

Illinois and Michigan are taking measures to have a similar law passed and submitted to the people of Canada.—Son of Temperance, CROMWELL REDIVIUS .- The city of Mexico has pronounced in favour of revolution. The President finding Congress refractory introduced, on the evening of the 19th ult., a body of soldiers in the Hall, and dispersed the legislators at the point of the bayonet. To what this miserable country is tending we cannot by any possibility divine.

MAGNANIMOUS .- Captain Ericsson has announced the noble intention not to establish a monoply of his new invention; but to throw covery open to the world

Among the peculiarly new features of the new Liquor Law, which has just passed the Rhode Island House of Representatives, is the appointment of complainants at the annual lection for town and city officers.

Chorus: I wheel about and turn about, As all my readers know; Oh; I am de berry niggar To jump Jim Crow.

You heard about a Railway, The Cobourg folks would make it, Wid money out of Hamilton, But dey would'nt let 'um take it. I wheel about, &c.

And den de folks in 'Tonabee, Some money were to lend 'um; But when dey went to ax 'um, Not a dollar did dey send 'um. I wheel about, &c.

I tell 'om all long time ago, "Can't build de road widout 'um;" And if dey keep de dollars, Dey'll have no round about 'um: I wheel about, &c.

But now I wheel and turn about, And I loudly sings and hollers; We'll surely have de Railway, 'Cause,—we hav'nt got de dollars. I wheel about, &c.

A railway we should nebber have: And it would be "all my eye," If the townships had a finger In our little railway pie. I wheel about, &c.

That's the way I wheel about, Let every body know, It takes a Cobourg niggar To jump Jim Crow.

I wheel about, &c. I told Port Hopers long ago, "Two roads would nebber pay;" And hoped from off the railway track To scare dem all away.

I wheel about, &c. Den when I found dis was no go, To Lindsay tried to send 'um; Dey went and bought de right ob way, Dey did, de devil mend 'um. I wheel about, &c. And now to Peterboro' straight, De road dem gwine to make, I'm berry glad of dat indeed, I am and no mistake.

I wheel about, &c. For if to Lindsay dey should go, And there should tap de junction; Twould take de trade right clair away, Dat's Cobourg's proper function. I wheel about, &c. And so you see I's alle'rs glad, And sticks to it to de letter, SHIP BUILDING AT QUEBEC .- On Wednesday, the 2nd instant, the Honorable Messrs. Hincks, Morris, Tache, Morin, Cameron, Drummond, Richards and a number of other gentlemen paid a visit to Mr. Lee's ship-building establishment in Quebec, for the purpose os inspecting two vessels now on the stocks-the 'Belle Canadienne' and the 'Star of the North.' The ships were decorated with the flags of all Nations for the occasion, and cannon were fired to add eclat to the event. "The visitors, says the Morning Chronicle, were shown through forges, rigging lofts and Carpenter shops; had the superior qualities machinery-picked oakum pointed out to them, and examined some iron contract patently by Percent New York and capstan, patented by Perry of New York, and imported by Mr. Lee for his vessels." A lower mast of one piece of pine, of 35 inches in girth, and upwards of 100 feet in length was exhibited. Mr. Lee, it appears, has built several vessels, which have gained a name for their excellent sailing qualities.— He is now building the 1500 tons.

La Minerre, in his last issue, relates a deplorable accident by which M. Villenevue, a young ecclesiastical of the Roman Catholic Church, it is to be feared, will lose his life. That gentleman, it appears, descended to the cellar of the Seminary building where the gasometer is kept, to ascertain the cause of the insufficiency of the light which the gas had given the morning of the accident.—Approaching with a lighted candle too near the wooden box which encased the gasometer, & from which it now appears there must have been a considerable escape of gas, an ex-plosion took place of such violence as to throw

To the Electors of Ward No. 2.

GENTLEMEN—Justice and the duty I owe to my numerous friends and supporters of Ward No. 2 who desired my services, and who carried my Election by honest votes, has compelled me (however reluctantly) to again place myself at your disposal in regard of the seat in the Council to which I was entitled.

Were it not that I might appear ungrateful for your good opinions, my personal feelings would prevent me opposing my much valued neighbour, Mr. H. Gillett, to whom I do not offer an envious opposition; on the contrary, I feel hurt that he should have been so badly advised, to so oppose himself to honour and justice. Still, should the suffrages of the Ward on this occasion go against me, (I feel as-sured the contrary will be the case,) I shall beg to offer the right hand of fellowship to that highly respected opponent, as also to the Electors of the Ward who may (by false representations) be induced to record their votes against me

I have the honor to be Your most Obedient Servant, T. W. METCALFE. Port Hope, Feb. 26, 1853.
