The Municipal Legislators.

A STRONG BREEZE IN A SMALL TEA-POT.
The regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening, all the members being present except Coun. Ward.

In the absence of Mr. H. V. Sanders, Town Clerk, Coun. Barrett kindly officiated at the head of the table.
The Secretary, of the Home applied for the grant for that institution, four instalments of which were overdue.

The Durham Teachers Association applied for the use of the Town Hall. On motion the usual consent was given.
An application was read from volunteer firemen at the West end praying to be recognized as a portion of the fire brigade of the town.

The finance Committee recommended the payment of the following accounts:—
Dunn & Co.....$ 14 82
"News" printing..... 14 00
Williams, Police Uniforms..... 47 00
Stone-breaking..... 49 00
Brown & Co. Coal account..... 29 55
F. Beamish, water time..... 3 50
Men's pay roll..... 49 70
Stone-breaking..... 9 00
$267 54

Coun. Stevenson wanted to know by what authority the Police uniforms had been ordered. According to the by-laws, no member of a committee could incur an expenditure exceeding $20, without the consent of the Council.

The Mayor replied that if there had been a mistake he must take the responsibility.
Coun. Stevenson (smiling) replied that His Worship always got out of a difficulty in that way.

The Mayor warmly denied that he had accepted any responsibility in relation to expenditure before. The only time that he had done so was in relation to the constables having carried out the by-law preventing people from standing on the public streets.

Coun. Stevenson—No.
The Mayor—I say yes.
Coun. Stevenson—You have forgotten.
The Mayor—I will not stand that insinuation, but will assume the responsibility myself.

Coun. Stevenson—There is no necessity for that.
The Mayor (very warmly)—Yes, strike out the item until a by-law can be passed to recoup me for the expenditure.

Coun. Seth Smith said it was quite proper to exonerate His Worship. The Board was composed of men who would protect the Mayor from any responsibility in the matter, as they had asked him to order the suits.

Coun. Burnham was surprised at Coun. Stevenson's actions. It was the first time that he had ever heard of the like.
Coun. Barrett reminded Coun. Stevenson that the coal account exceeded $20, what had he to say about that?

Coun. Stevenson denied that he intended to cast any aspersions upon His Worship.
The Mayor (interrupting), well, you take a strange way to compliment me.

Coun. Stevenson said that the Mayor had no right to snap him up in that way. If he wanted to discuss the question he had better come down on the floor.
Coun. Budge was then called to the chair, and Mayor Hugel came down to Coun. Budge's seat.

Coun. Stevenson continuing, said that he had no intention of hinting that the Mayor was to blame for improper conduct, but wished to remind the Council that no member of a committee had any authority to incur an expenditure exceeding $20. The Mayor indignantly denied Coun. Stevenson's right to criticize him in the way that he had done. He had tried every way to act discourteously towards him since he (Mayor) had presided at that Board, and he was not going to submit to it any longer.

Before the Police suits had been ordered the Police Committee had been conferred with. The figure charged was reasonable. About the helmets they had been purchased with private funds. He had never asked a dollar from the Council as a matter of courtesy. The objection or insinuation by Coun. Stevenson was altogether unequalled.

Coun. Seth Smith said that the authority of the Council had been given to the expenditure when the policemen were appointed. The item was neither challengeable or objectionable. The objection was really a large tempest in a small teapot.

Coun. Stevenson said that if the Mayor had stated in the first place that authority had been secured for the expenditure, he would not have objected to the item.
The Mayor having resumed the presiding officer's chair.

Coun. Budge said that Coun. Stevenson seemed determined to make the Chief Constable question as objectionable as possible. No man with ordinary courtesy would have said what he did last Monday night on that question. The matter of uniforms had become fully settled in the public mind. There were not twenty-five men in town who were not satisfied. He would suggest that Coun. Stevenson should give the Chief Constable a little fair play. He believed the present arrangement the best that could be desired for the town. By it either one of the Constables would be on the street all the time.

Coun. Stevenson denied saying anything calculated to offend the Chief Constable. He would never interfere with that official.
Coun. Budge—What, never?
Coun. Stevenson said that he would do all in his power to assist the Chief Constable and he would do so. He thought he was fully competent to fill the position.

The report was then declared carried, and the municipal waters became calm again.
By-laws relating to the collection of taxes were passed and the Council then adjourned.

Death of Mrs. N. Choate.

A few weeks ago it was well-known that Mrs. Nathan Choate was in a very low state, and for some time her illness was considered of a dangerous character. However, she rallied and had so far recovered as to be able to go to church the Sunday before last. On Saturday of last week, though, the melancholy news spread like wild fire that she had suddenly expired a few moments after the thunder-storm that passed over this locality early that morning. The deceased had been showing quite her accustomed vivacity during the week, and had to all appearance secured a new lease of life. Immediately after the heavy clap of thunder on Saturday morning she got up to look out at the storm. As she was lying down again Mr. Choate noticed that she was breathing very heavily, and in a moment or two, before he could render any assistance, she had ceased to breathe. The funeral took place on Tuesday and was very largely attended. Among the relatives and friends from a distance were:—Rev. J. Brant, Guelph; R. Lukey, Sarnia; J. Adams, J. Pollard, Bowmanville; J. Green, J. Burnham, Hamilton; L. Maguire, Mrs. Cox, Dr. Herriman and family, Lindsay; T. Choate, Mrs. Jury, Mrs. Lukey, Mrs. Sidney Payne, Warsaw; J. Walton, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. A. S. Maguire, Miss Bingham, Mr. A. and Miss Lumsden, Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, Brighton; Mr. and Mrs. May, Castleton; Mr. and Mrs. Ankerman, Port Perry; Mr. and Mrs. Toms, Mr. Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Tourgee, Mr. and Mrs. Lukey, Cobourg. The deceased was a daughter of the late Sampson Lukey, and came from England with her father in the year 1831. The family remained at Port Hope for a short time, Mr. Lukey entering the employ of the late James Robertson. From here they went to Dummer township, then a wilderness, where the father formed a home for his care, and largely added in developing that section of the country. The deceased was married to Nathan Choate in 1848, when she was in her twenty-fifth year, and proved a devoted and loving companion for her husband, and a kind mother to the children of Mr. Choate's former family. For over forty years she was a consistent member of the Methodist church. Those who had the pleasure of her acquaintance bear testimony to the grand traits of her character. Nothing could exceed the consideration with which she regarded the poor. To them she never tired of ministering, and no sacrifice was too great to demand of her when their wants could be supplied or their grief could be allayed. Such a character cannot but be missed, but those who have been bereaved, and particularly her aged husband, have the pleasure of knowing that the memory of the deceased will long remain sweet and treasured among very many beyond the family circle.

—The requests of the firemen deserve reasonable consideration at all times. But when they ask the Council for a grant for uniforms, so as to be able to attend a holiday demonstration in a neighborhood town, it is too much of a good thing. The objection is not so much that the money will be spent for the firemen, but because it will be wasted in the manner proposed. Rigging out in fancy helmets, white belts and blue suits for one day is unjustifiable extravagance. Neither the firemen nor Port Hope will be any the better for such an extravagant exhibition. To spend the money for some useful purpose, either in improving the appliances on hand, or coats to protect the men when engaged in fighting the flames, would be judicious, and would meet with general approval. But the expenditure of public money on a useless parade uniform is entirely unnecessary.

—Coun. Stevenson thinks that Mayor Hugel is unnecessarily sensitive, on account of the way in which he endeavored to annihilate him (S.) on Monday evening. Coun. Stevenson is under the impression that the Mayor should rather thank him than manifest his displeasure when kindly reminded that he had transgressed the rules of the Council. On that point the worthy councillor is right. His Worship ought to take his punishment like a little man, whenever he violates the established routine of municipal red tape. Coun. Stevenson is rather a troublesome customer to sit upon. Mayor Hugel will discover some day that greater comfort can be experienced in sitting on a nest of old fashioned Scotch thistles. When Coun. Stevenson is right, and he was justified in dropping the expression that led to the tempest on Monday evening, he won't allow his light to be hid by His Worship's coat tails.

—The World says that on Saturday night Mr. Adam Burwash, son of Prof. Burwash, living on the Densmore farm, went out to the barn to put down some hay for the cattle, and when he thought he had sufficient, threw down the fork, which struck in the hay with a bang. When he came down he found he had a substantial hay down and went back for more, and on jumping down the second time, he struck the fork, one prong of which entered the groin, causing a very serious wound.

—Peterboro' and Lindsay may now be regarded as active rivals for the new Midland railway workshops. While the geographical odds may be in favor of Lindsay, the financial inducements under the control of Peterboro' are said to far out-weigh any Lindsay consideration. Now let Peterboro' and Lindsay fight the question out on business principles—that is, if Lindsay has the money and Peterboro' the principles.

—The Midland railway is being pushed to the full facilities of the road with through grain. It is said that the arrivals at Midland will necessitate five hundred car loads being transported over the line immediately. In consequence of the heavy grain traffic, it is expected that the usual quantity of lumber will not arrive here during the next week or ten days.

Harbor Board.

The regular meeting of the Harbor Board was held on Monday afternoon. Mayor Hugel occupied the chair.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:—
G. M. Furby Insurance.....$ 10 50
Rice, Lewis & Son..... 1 55
Men's pay roll..... 133 45
$145 50

M. Mulligan stated to the Board that Mr. R. C. Smith intended shipping his lumber via Whitby this year. Mr. Smith had complained to him of the way that he had been dealt with by the Harbor Board in the allotment of dock room. His (Mulligan) opinion was that the difficulty really was with the Midland Railway.

A conversational discussion took place on the subject, and it was finally agreed to appoint a committee to confer with the President of the Midland railway, so as to secure the traffic over the harbor if it could be arranged.

There not being any other business the Board adjourned.

Admitted to Bail.

Aitkins and McClung, the men who were charged with the coroner's jury with having been instrumental in causing the death of Little at the late Centreville tragedy, were admitted to bail on Wednesday, $4,000 security being given in each case. Mr. W. R. Riddell is acting for the accused.

Murder.

Chief Constable Douglas received a telegram from Norwood on Wednesday instructing him to arrest an Italian about five feet four inches in height, both eyes sore, wearing a knitted jacket, for having plunged a knife into the vital parts of a fellow workman that morning near Westwood, on the line of the Ontario & Quebec railway. The murderer did not come this way. It seems that this Italian belonged to the gang that passed through here a few days ago to work on that railway.

A DOMESTIC MISTAKE

ST. MARY A. BARR.

Van Winker kept a country store, and his clever wife, Jeannette, tended the children and the house, and saw that both ends met.

And, as it happened, on that day, from morning until night, nothing in all her household work had gone with Jeannette right.

She answered, as a woman would; for contradiction, he declared he did in every day as much as she in three.

She took his orders for the store, and said: 'Van, listen now: You'll light the fire, and while it burns you'd better milk the cow.'

'And after breakfast, if the morning should be clear and fine, the washing that I did to-day hang up upon the line.'

'Then wash the dishes, make the beds, and take up-stairs the broom, for I always at this time of year both sweep and air each room.'

'At twelve the dinner must be laid, or else the boys complain: You know they must be back at school by one o'clock again.'

'Then you may iron until five, but when the boys come home you'd better send them for the cow, she is so apt to roam.'

'Besides, there's many a little thing you'll have to see done right; and I'd need not a moment be out of your call or sight.'

'When it is nearly nine o'clock you may look out for me, for I shall want a bit of steak, and a good cup of tea.'

Jeannette went to the store next day, prepared to do her part, and yet her children and her house lay heavy on her heart.

He got the clothes upon the line, and then the line gave way; he put them back into the tubs; then Fred had got astray.

They got what dinner they could find; Van stood it until four; then, in a most repentant mood, he went down to the store.

When Van went home at nine o'clock the house was still and clean, and wise Jeannette ignored the day as though it had not been.

A Family Pretty well Posted on History.

'Pa,' asked Willie Jones, as he was studying his history lesson, 'who was Helen of Troy?'

'Helen of Troy,' replied Mrs. Jones, who was sewing a new heel on the baby's shoe, 'was a girl who used to live with us.'

'The very same. Old Cleo' used to wash for us. It's strange how they come to be in that book.'

'History repeats itself,' murmured Mr. Jones, vaguely, while Willie looked at his ma with wonder and admiration that one small head could carry all she knew.

'Everything,' answered Mrs. Jones, complacently. 'He was the only one who said, 'eat, thou brute,' when his horse wouldn't take its oats.'

'I learned it at school,' said Mrs. Jones, with an oblique glance at Mr. Jones, who was listening as grave as a statue.

'Your pa will tell you about him; I am tired,' said Mrs. Jones. Then she listened with pride and approval while Mr. Jones informed his son that Horace was the author of the 'Tin Trumpet' and a rare work on farming.

'Well, I say, ma, who was Horace?' 'Your pa will tell you about him; I am tired,' said Mrs. Jones.

'Splendid! Beautiful! Gentlemen, please repeat!' The hand on the grass was only too happy to accommodate, and 'Only a Pansy Blossom' went floating again on the night breeze.

'That's what I call singing, that is! Gentlemen, I'm no hog, but if I could prevail upon you to render that delightful poem once more, it would be a kindness I never could forget!'

'Better and better! You have my heartfelt thanks. The old woman is deaf, my darter is in Pontiac, and the hired gal quit yesterday, or I'd have 'em all stick their heads out to thank you in person! Good night, gentlemen—good night; and if you see fit to come to-morrow evening, I'll have the old woman set up with a bedquilt wrapped around her.'

'What do you mean?' 'It means I am robbed again. I'll have to put another nickel to that one to get me a cigar. I never allow myself to be caught smoking a cigar that costs less than a dime.'

'What do you mean?' 'It means I am robbed again. I'll have to put another nickel to that one to get me a cigar. I never allow myself to be caught smoking a cigar that costs less than a dime.'

They Swapped Lies.

They sat around the White House stove yesterday swapping lies, and when Jackson had exhausted his store, Jones opened his sample case and began:

'I was down in Water Canyon, South-east Nevada, near Mormon Spring last fall, where the water rushes through and under a mountain thirty-five miles across.'

'Tunneled, perhaps?' said Jackson. 'No, it's a natural water course, and comes out boiling on t'other side, then runs off in a big stream.'

'How does it perforated the mountain?' said Jackson. 'There's a series of beautiful falls, with nice steps leading down, then a deep pool as clear as crystal, with plenty of mountain trout sporting at the bottom.'

'Did it drown her?' said Jackson, who had become very much interested in the fate of the squaw. 'No; she came out dripping wet, with a two pound trout in her mouth and one in each hand.'

Why Jefferson Davis Wanted Lieutenant Derby Court-Martialled.

The invitations sent of late to naval officers requesting them to furnish suggestions for a change of uniform reminds me, says a Washington writer in the Boston Journal, of a similar invitation issued by Jefferson Davis when he was Secretary of War under General Frank Pierce.

One of these invitations was sent to Lieutenant Derby, a good draughtsman and a merry wag, who sent in response a proposition for having a two-inch iron ring appended by a piece of strong leather to the seat of each enlisted man's trousers.

The illustrations which accompanied the specifications represented officers catching infantry stragglers and forcing them into the ranks, dragoons padlocked to their saddles, and artillerymen with gun-prolongs hitched to their rings, hauling heavy pieces of artillery up steep heights.

It was very funny, and the clerks in the War Department enjoyed some hearty laughs over it, but when it reached the Secretary he became indignant and regarded it as an insult.

He ordered charges and specifications to be drawn up, and a court-martial was actually ordered, when it came to the ears of Governor Marcy, the Secretary of State, who was level-headed, and who advised Davis to let the matter drop.

He might convict Derby and dismiss him from the service, but he would be laughed at from one end of the country to the other. Davis took the advice, and Derby's 'suggestions' are still to be found on the files of the War Department.

The Usual Result.

It is not to be denied that a good sewing machine is one of the most important appurtenances of the modern household.

We thought we had a good machine in our household until one day the agent of the New Home presented himself at our door and proceeded to deliver an oration upon its characteristic merits.

'But,' we answered, 'our machine serves us nicely and suits us well, and we do not care for another.'

The agent, however, begged the privilege of leaving one of his machines with us, 'for the ladies to try.'

The request was not unreasonable, so we granted it—but more to oblige the agent than anything else; for we really did not want the machine, and had not the remotest idea of buying it.

The machine once in the house, it was natural that the ladies should look it over; they did so, and as a consequence fell in love with it. They say that without the slightest wish to decry or disparage any other machine, this, all things considered, is, in their opinion, the most desirable one to be had.

The Act of Dying.

HOW PEOPLE FEEL WHEN LIFE'S LAST WORD SNAPS.

Sir Benjamin Brodie, professor of chemistry in the university of Oxford, and an eminent English scientist, in an interesting work entitled 'Psychological Inquiries,' gives the following results of his professional experience of the last moments of life:

Really, according to my observation, the mere act of dying is seldom, in any sense of the word, a very painful process. It is true that some persons die in a state of bodily torture, as in cases of tetanus, that the drunkard dying of delirium tremens is haunted by terrific visions; and that the victim of that most horrible of all diseases, hydrophobia, in addition to those peculiar bodily sufferings from which the disease has derived its name, may be in a state of terror from the supposed presence of frightful objects, which are presented to him as realities, even to the last. But these and some other instances which I might adduce, are exceptions to the general rule, which is, that both mental and bodily suffering terminates long before the score is finally closed. This as to the actual fear of death; it seems to me that the Author of our existence, for most part, gives it to us when it is intended that we should live, and take it away from us when it is intended that we should die. Those who have been long tormented by bodily pain are generally as anxious to die as they ever were to live. So it often is with those whose life has been protracted to extreme old age, beyond the usual period of mortality, even when they labor under no actual disease. It is not very common for anyone to die nearly of old age.

'Like ripe fruit to drop into his mother's lap.'

But I have known this to happen; and a happy conclusion it has seemed to be of worldly cares and joys. It was like falling to sleep, never to awake again in this state of existence. Some die retaining all their faculties, and quite aware that their dissolution is at hand. Others offer no sign of recognition of external objects, so that it is impossible for us to form any positive opinion whether they do or do not retain their sensibility; and others again, as I have already stated, who appear to be insensible and unconscious when carefully watched, are found not to be so in reality, but they die contentedly. I have myself never known but two instances in which in the act of dying, there were manifest indications of the fear of death. The individuals to whom I allude were unexpectedly destroyed by hemorrhage, which, from peculiar circumstances which I need not now explain, it was impossible to suppress. The depressing effects which the gradual loss of blood produced on their corporeal system seemed to influence their minds, and they died earnestly imploring that relief which art was unable to afford. Seneca might have chosen an easier death than from opening his arteries.

What I have said refers only to the last stage in the process of dissolution. There is no doubt that a pure and simple religious faith, and a firm reliance on the Being who has placed us here, contribute more than anything besides to disarm death of its terrors, deprive 'the grave of its victory,' and smooth the passage of the humble and sincere believer to the termination of his worldly career. Nevertheless, according to my own experience, and what I have heard from others, the influence of religious feelings is, for the most part, not so much perceptible at the moment when death is actually impending, as it is at an earlier period, when the individual, who was previously in health, or supposed himself to be so, first discovers that it is probable that he will die.

NEVER ALLOW IT.—Never allow the bowels to remain in a torpid condition, as it leads to serious results, and ill health is sure to follow. Burdock Blood Bitters is the most perfect regulator of the bowels, and the best blood purifier known.

'Look here, Jim, there's a hole knocked out of this bottle you gave me. Why, not at all; there's the hole in it now. If it was knocked out, how could it be there?'

'Minnie,' said a mother to a little six-year-old, 'if I was a little girl like you, I would pick up all those chips.' 'Well, mamma,' said the little girl, 'ain't you glad you are not a little girl?'

SOMETHING PLAIN.—Cold in the head is the seed, the nasal cavity the field, impure blood fertilizes the soil, and the growth is first Catarrh, then Bronchitis, Consumption and Death. One to four bottles of Fountain of Health is warranted to cure ordinary Catarrh. Sold by R. Deyell.

—Isn't it about time you paid me that little bill? said Stubbs to one of his debtors. 'My dear sir,' was the consoling reply, 'it's not a question of time; it's a question of money.'

Diphtheria—that terrible scourge of the present day—attacks chiefly those whose vitality is low and blood impure. The timely use of Burdock Blood Bitters forestalls the evils of impure blood, and saves doctor's bills. Sample bottles 10c.

A schoolboy being asked by his teacher how he should fog him, replied: 'If you please, sir, I should like to have it upon the Italian system of penmanship—the heavy stroke upward and the down one light.'

'FOUNTAIN OF HEALTH.'—What it is, and what it does. It is a chemically harmonious mixture of herbs; it heals, repairs, and re-invigorates the diseased organs of the body. Price $1.00. For sale at Deyell's Drug Store.

The first time Jerrold saw a celebrated song-writer, the latter said to him: 'Youngster, have you sufficient confidence in me to lend me a guinea?' 'Oh, yes,' said Jerrold, 'I've all the confidence, but I haven't the guinea.'

NEW BLOODFIELD, Miss., Jan. 2, 1880. I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever.

—If you feel angry, beware lest you become revengeful.

—Nothing so simple and perfect for coloring as the Diamond Dyes. For carpet rags, better and cheaper than any other dye-stuffs.

—Catarrh is the seed of Consumption, and, unless taken in time, is a very dangerous disease. Hall's Catarrh Cure never fails to cure. Price 75 cents. 20-3m.

—A Glasgow antiquary recently visited an old castle, and asked one of the villagers if he knew anything of an old story about the building. 'Ay,' said the rustic, 'there was another auld story but it fell down lang since.'

—The editor of the Grand River Societies says, 'We are usually sparing in our eulogiums towards patent medicines, but observation and enquiry has satisfied us that the preparation of Messrs. T. Milburn & Co., styled 'Burdock Blood Bitters,' as a blood purifying tonic is worthy of the high reputation it has established among the people.'

—Who finds all the umbrellas that everybody loses? Every man we meet loses the umbrella he buys, but we have never got acquainted with the man that finds them. Can any one answer the question before the next rain?

Mr. T. C. Berchard, public school teacher, Norland, writes: 'During the fall of 1881 was much troubled with Biliousness and Dyspepsia, and part of the time was unable to attend to the duties of my profession. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure was recommended to me, and I have much pleasure in stating that I was entirely cured by using one bottle. I have not had an attack of my old complaint since, and have gained fifteen pounds in weight.'

—There are times in one's life when all the world seems to turn against us. Our motives are misunderstood, our words misconstrued, a malicious smile reveals to us the unfriendly feeling of others. Oh! how hard it seems, and the more so that we cannot divine the cause. Courage, patience, disconsolate one! God is making a furrow in your heart, where he will surely sow his grace. It is rare when injustice, or slights patiently borne, do not leave the heart at the close filled with marvelous joy and peace.

—'Mean people take advantage of their neighbor's difficulties to annoy them.' Mean diseases, such as piles, rheumatism, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, lame backs, &c., take advantage of people's exposures and attack them. It is then that Kidney-Wort appears on the field and by its timely agency puts to rest this flock of evil ailments. It is a friend in need and therefore a friend indeed.

—Oshawa is a little excited over what is called another Garboid case. It appears Archbishop Lynch refused Christian burial to a certain individual of that town who had abandoned the church, neglected his religious duties for years, and who had even publicly avowed his infidel sentiments. He died from the effects of a drunken spree without giving any signs of repentance. Some of the friends against the prohibition of the Roman ritual, and breaking the contract upon which a grave is given in a Catholic cemetery, forcibly buried the corpse in the consecrated grave of the young man's parents. Now, according to the Roman ritual, the whole graveyard is desecrated. The archbishop has given the friends of the deceased the option of removing the corpse to another portion of the cemetery, which is unseparated, or they can remain excommunicated for having committed a sacrilege, and the grave was desecrated will be fenced around and the remaining portion of the cemetery be reconsecrated. —Toronto World.

 W. T. R. Preston.—Publisher.
 FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1883.

—The Premier of Quebec has been unseated for corrupt practices.

—Hon. Alex. Mackenzie was presented with a purse containing $10,000 by his friends at Ottawa a few days ago.

—Hon. S. C. Wood has resigned the Treasurership of Ontario. That probably indicates that the vacancy in the government will soon be filled.

—Mr. Rod Pringle visited the leader of the Opposition at London the other day preparatory, it is said, to Rod taking his departure for Arizona, where he is despatched looking after the corruptible.

—The Earl of Dalhousie is now mentioned as Lord Lorne's successor at Rideau hall. He is 35 years of age and is a descendant of a former governor-general, and a nephew of the great Indian viceroy who laid the basis of the East India empire so firm that even the mutiny was not able to do more than shake it.

—It is understood that the contract for the new Post Office has been awarded for about $28,000. The lowest tender from Port Hope was about $33,000. The local contractors do not understand why there should have been such a difference. They all say that they figured close.

—Sir John Macdonald in the House on Monday said, he "did not care for the support of journals which from their tone showed themselves to be subservient organs that were prepared to give a slavish approval of everything the government did. Such journals were utterly valueless from a party point of view." Sir John's organs can take a slap in the face of that kind, when they know the Premier did it for the purpose of giving some recalcitrant organ "taffy." He manifests his appreciation for those journals that are most subservient by dealing liberal allowances for advertising, printing &c. Sir John does not want independent organs any more than he wants independent members of parliament.

—Upon Archbishop Lynch's recovery from the recent severe illness, he directed a paragraph to be inserted in each of the Toronto papers, in the advertising columns or otherwise, expressing his reverent thanks to Almighty God for having answered the prayers of his people in again restoring him to health. The Mail refused to insert the notice, although tendered the usual advertising rates. His Grace was guilty of an unparadonable error. He should have ascribed his thanks to Sir John Macdonald, and his note would then have been inserted in the editorial columns of the Mail, and double headed at that. Around the Mail office no one takes precedence of Sir John. The Archbishop should be informed of that fact.

—Sir John Macdonald's License Bill provides for the sale of liquor on Sundays from 12.30 to 2 p. m., and 5.30 to 6.30 p. m.

—Mr. H. H. Smith has left for England, on business of public importance.—Review.

Yes, public importance! Mr. Smith was chief distributor of the Tory funds at the recent Provincial Elections. It is not desirable, from a Tory standpoint, that he should be subpoenaed to attend the approaching trials of the contested elections. Therefore, he is hied off to a foreign country at the public expense. That is one way of shirking the witness box.

—The timber robbers in the disputed territory will now be brought to book. The officers of the Ontario government have seized over a million dollars worth of ties that were cut last winter for the Pacific Railway. The case will now go through the courts. The Boundary question will, of course, be raised for adjudication. The Attorney-General deserves the thanks of the electorate for adopting that course to secure a legal decision on the western boundary of the Province, although he knows that he will have to fight the Dominion government and Pacific Syndicate combined.

—During a discussion in the House of Commons last evening on the Indian estimates, Mr. Guillet, of Cobourg, suggested:—

"That the Government should take steps to give a more liberal education to the young men of the Indian tribes, who would return and undertake to instruct their brethren."

If some such course could be adopted, it would be beyond the power of a sanctimonious looking old customer like David Hezekiah to shave Indian claims, and thus pocket a few thousand dollars of public money, by having taken advantage of the simplicity of the too confiding squaws.

—It is believed that Sheriff Waddell has placed his resignation in the hands of the Attorney-General. The Sheriff's health has not been satisfactory for some months, and he has been prompted to resign by the desire to be relieved entirely from the cares surrounding one occupying such a responsible position. Sheriff Waddell will be parted with regretfully. He has proved a most efficient and courteous official. It is to be hoped that his retirement from active duty will have the desired result, and that his friends will soon have the pleasure of witnessing his complete recovery. The question of Sheriff Waddell's successor is now engaging the attention of the Government. Mr. W. H. Burke, ex-M. P. for West Durham, is mentioned as most likely to receive the appointment. Such a selection would give universal satisfaction.

—The speech delivered by Hon. Edward Blake, in reply to Sir Charles Tupper's enunciation of the government policy on the Pacific Railway question, stands unparalleled in Canadian parliamentary history. The Minister of Railways had taken weeks to prepare his points, and debated the question in all its aspects for four hours. Without a moment's hesitation Mr. Blake commenced to reply. When he had concluded, not a point raised by Sir Charles was unanswered. The various inconsistencies, contradictions and mis-statements of the government and syndicate were laid before the House with such telling force that Sir John's followers were appalled as they listened. The most servile government supporters were driven to confess that it was a terrible indictment. None dare attempt to reply. The speech was unanswerable.

THE LIQUOR LICENSES OF EAST DURHAM.

The Times, with its usual desire to prejudice public opinion by misrepresentation, has launched a tirade against the License Commissioners of this Riding. In relation to the business that has come before the Board this year, the Times says:—
 "Several licenses have been withheld. To say that the applicants are not in political accord with the Commissioners is neither here nor there. One, at least, has never been fined, or any complaints laid against him, for the six years he kept hotel in the town. His house has borne the reputation, particularly, of being quiet and respectable. Certain charges have been preferred against him at the department. What these charges are, he may guess, but is not able to find out, and the man—that's too respectable a name for him—who preferred them is kept in the dark. A license has been withheld on the strength of such charges, and at the same time, the applicant has no redress—not even an opportunity of clearing his own character. The basest lies have been circulated in regard to him, and there is very good reason to believe that the Commissioners have entertained these unfounded rumors, and excluded all defence. There is something very rotten in Denmark. Men who hold up their hands in holy horror, as a certain Commissioner did, and dramatically exclaim, 'I will wipe my hands of the business; I will resign,' should have Christian spirit enough to grant that fair play which every British subject is entitled to."

The above, of course, is in reference to the old Lambert hotel, now owned by Mr. Bradley. In several important particulars the Times is astray.

(1) Complaints have been made against Mr. Bradley's house—(2) Mr. Bradley has been furnished with the particulars of the charges—(3) He knows the name of the principal complainant—(4) He has an opportunity of clearing the character of the house—(5) and no Commissioner said, "I will have nothing to do with this file man etc." Those facts were probably immaterial from a Times standpoint.

The License Commissioners have not shown any desire to flaunt the particulars before the public that prompted the Board to withhold Mr. Bradley's license. If the charges are false it is to Mr. Bradley's interest that they should be proved so. There is only one way to meet them, by entering an action for libel. The License Board is not the proper tribunal to court such an investigation.

The Commissioners will not undertake either a public or private prosecution in the premises. It is not a part of their business. The complaints had been brought to their attention in such a way that they could not be overlooked. If Mr. Bradley suffers, he has only to blame some of his customers, who occupy public positions, for having made his house their frequent resort. The Commissioners were prompted in the course that they have adopted in the interests of public morality. They are prepared to defend their policy in every particular. If evidence is wanted that the Commissioners have no intention of treating Mr. Bradley unjustly, it is found in the fact that a license is being withheld for his house, which will be issued as soon as the charges can be cleared up, notwithstanding that a large petition has been presented to the Board praying that the license should be granted to another applicant.

COL. WILLIAMS AS A NORTH-WEST SPECULATOR.

It will be remembered that during the discussion of public questions, incident to the general election for the House of Commons last June, the charge was made against Col. Williams, that he had applied to the government for several thousand acres of land in the North-West for speculative purposes. The only tangible evidence that was procurable at the time, to substantiate the charge, was a letter that had been laid before the House of Commons at the preceding session, of which the following is a copy:—

"HOUSE OF COMMONS,
 "Feb'y. 15th, 1882.
 "SIR.—Some of my constituents and others are desirous of entering into stock breeding in the North West, and of securing a ranche for that purpose.
 "I therefore apply for the following pasturage lands under the Dominion Land Regulations, viz.—Townships 22 and that part of 21 lying north of Bow River on range 27.
 "The land is opposite Pine Canyon and below the mouth of High River, will you please let me know when the leases can be made ready. I will then enter into further particulars.
 "Your obed't servant,
 "ARTHUR T. H. WILLIAMS.
 "To the Hon. Minister of the Interior, Ottawa."

Col. Williams indignantly denied the charge in every way, shape and form. When brought face to face with that letter, at the Music Hall meeting, he stated that the ranche applied for was for Mr. James Aikens; and that he (the Colonel) had no interest in it whatever. Notwithstanding that statement, however, a government map has been published showing Col. Williams as the owner of that identical property. The accusation that he had applied for and was about securing lands for himself was met with a most vehement denial.

It was the News that charged Col. Williams with using his representative position to secure grants of public lands. We refused to accept the Colonel's denial. The matter had been proved to our satisfaction, and we requested those who condemned the accusation to "bide a wee." In October Col. Williams visited the North-West. In an interview with the Winnipeg Sun reporter he acknowledged having secured a large tract of land, upon which he intended raising stock and grain.

But that was a moderate surprise to Col. Williams' constituents, in contrast with the huge job that he had on hand at the same time, the full particulars of which have just come to light, by a return presented last week to the House of Commons. Those papers show that on Dec. 28th, 1881, Col. Williams applied for five and one-quarter townships in the North-West for colonization purposes; that was followed up by another game of grab on Feb'y. 15th, 1882, for six additional townships, amounting altogether to 115,190 acres of land. No bono fide settlers could have purchased these lands for less than $2 per acre, but Col. Williams, being a speculator, has the privilege of purchasing them at $1 per acre within five years, by placing a certain number of settlers in the townships during that period, with a fair prospect of clearing a couple of hundred thousand dollars by the transaction.

As to the right of Col. Williams to prostitute his position for speculative purposes naught will be said now. These particulars are published for the purpose of convicting him of the most unblushing departure from the path of rectitude that any public man could possibly be guilty of. Col. Williams flaunted his reputation for veracity before the electors and asked them to believe his unqualified denial. The majority did believe him. But what have they to say about him now. The public documents in the House of Commons substantiate the charge that was formulated against Col. Williams in the News last June; and the same records prove him to have been guilty of unparalleled prevarication. There he may be left for the present.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Mr. Goggin.

To the Editor of the News.

DEAR SIR:—Allow me to thank you for your expression of good will in last week's 'local,' and to say that I do not propose to give up that profession in which, you have been kind enough to say, I have so far been successful.

Yours etc.
D. J. GOGGIN.

Port Hope, May 10th, 1883.

Elizabethville.

Mr. R. Pickup, an old resident in the community, and one of the foremost men in the church has passed away after a lingering illness. He died on Friday, the 4th inst., at his own residence north of the village, and was buried on Sunday. The funeral sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Pattison. The reverend gentleman took his text from Isaiah 64 chapter and 6 verse, and delivered a very appropriate sermon therefrom. The large concourse of friends who followed the remains to the grave, showed in a marked manner the respect in which he was held. His presence with regard to church matters will be sadly missed in the neighborhood.

The farmers of the neighborhood are getting along nicely with the seeding. The greater part of the grain will be sown by the end of the present week.

SCRIBLER.

—The Newsman brought a cargo of freight from Charlotte yesterday.

—Mr. Joseph Maynard has a cactus with one hundred flowers in full bloom.

—The Lindsay Post, with the proverbial gravity of an owl, thus sagely remarks:—"We understand an enterprising gentleman from Berlin, Ont., known to fame as a journalist of rare ability, intends shortly to give Port Hope an opportunity of voting a bonus of $10,000, a free site and exemption from taxation for say twenty-one years, to aid in the establishment of a factory on an extensive scale for the cleaning of sausage-skins. This raw material is now admitted duty free, and it is thought a very flourishing industry could be started, that would employ a large number of hands. The promoter thinks Port Hope has fine natural advantages for this business, and prefers it, though he has good offers from Sarnia and Sleepy Hollow, otherwise Cobourg.

—While prizes were given at the fairs for all kinds of farm stock and produce, the first premiums of the kind were awarded here a few years ago for babies—a boy and a girl. Stress being laid upon size and good looks, but more particularly the former. The prize boy is now four years old and big at that, besides being a boy of adventures. His first feat of ground and lofty tumbling was in a cutter, the horse ran away and over a pile of stones, acrobating Harry in a somersault, but he landed safe. The next was an attack he made upon a bee-hive, the bees swarmed out and covered his face and filled his hair, but he did not mind them, only he said they bit him, but he complained bitterly of his mother who spanked him, he said, until she broke his back. The next was being landed out of a buggy one dark night this spring when asleep, buggy going into the ditch; and in getting things righted the boy was missing, but in answer to a call he said, "Here I am, pa," and was pulled out of the slush badly soaked. The next accident was a fall through the lower story of an old building but no harm done. If allowed to perpetrate an Irish bull we would say, he was a very lucky-unlucky boy.

Another Row.

THE C. P. E. COMPANY AND THE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT.

There is not the least doubt about it; and a big one, too. Section B company for the past winter, have been doing an extensive business in the way of getting piles, timber, lumber and other materials. Some 3,000 men were engaged during the winter in getting out these materials, and there has been piled along the Thunder Bay Branch, waiting for transport to the west, to be used in construction, over 1,750,000 ties alone. These ties are worth 30 cents each, delivered on the railway, and are of good quality. The value of the materials now on the track is about $1,000,000, and materials to the value of $300,000 are yet to be delivered. The winter's operations have drawn to a close. It will be seen that a very large amount of timber has been cut by those cutting timber. But it is said that this company have not complied with this demand, and have not paid their license. But they are not going to be allowed to get of "scot free," for the department have given instructions to their agent here, Mr. Wm. Margach, Government Inspector of Timber, to proceed at once and seize all the ties and timber that has been cut by the aforesaid company, and Mr. Margach left here on Saturday last for that purpose. He took the train as far as Savanne, from which place he will take to the woods and size everything that has been cut, posting up notices that anyone touching the materials will be arrested and dealt with as a person would be for stealing. His instructions are very emphatic, and he informs us that he intends carrying them out to the letter. Of course there will be a grand "kick" on the part of the company, but that is to be expected. Nevertheless the government will hold firm until their demands are met. It may be claimed that the Ontario government have nothing to do with the timber or lands in this disputed territory; nevertheless they intend to lay claim to it. This may be the means of a speedy settlement of the boundary dispute, as to which province this territory belongs.

Coasting Regulations.

LEGAL ENACTMENTS IN WHICH OUR VESSELS ARE DEEPLY INTERESTED—RATHER STERN RULES.

The Canadian coasting regulations have been undergoing a change by the Minister of Customs.

All vessels and boats employed in transport from one port to another in the Dominion are considered to be engaged in the coasting trade and come under the regulations.

None but registered British vessels and wholly owned by British subjects, or boats owned by subjects with whom a treaty is in force, and by which the coasting trade is mutually conceded can lawfully engage in the trade. The name of the vessels and the port she is registered at must be plainly painted on the stern of the vessel. Licenses are issued terminable on June 30th in each year and bonds have to be given to the amount of $500 that the vessels will not be employed in the foreign trade unless according to the governmental statutes.

The license of the craft shall be produced when required by any officer of Customs.

The officer can go on board the boat whenever he deems it proper and if he should find any dutiable goods which had not been entered at the Customs, or any prohibited or smuggled goods, or if any goods had been unladen therefrom before the master had reported to a Customs officer, the goods and vessel shall be forfeited, and the master shall incur the penalty of $100.00.

Before any coasting vessel or boat can go out from any port of loading in the Dominion, the master must make a report in duplicate and hand it to a collector of Customs. The duplicate will be retained and the original handed back. This report shall be the clearance of the vessel, except for goods under bond, or goods liable to Excise or Internal Revenue duty, which shall require the entries and warrants for landing to be signed by the proper officers as required by law, and if any report be false the master who signed it shall forfeit the sum of $100. No coasting vessel shall touch at any foreign port unless forced by unavoidable circumstances or authorized by a Collector or officer of Customs, and the master of any coasting vessel which has touched at any foreign port shall declare the same in writing to the Collector or officer of Customs at the port or place in Canada where his vessel afterwards arrives, under a penalty of $100. If any goods are unshipped from any vessel arriving coastwise, or unshipped or water borne to be shipped, to be carried coastwise on Sundays or holidays, or unless in the presence or with the authority of the proper officer of Customs, or unless at such times and places as shall be appointed and approved by him for that purpose; the same shall be forfeited and the master of the vessel shall forfeit the sum of $100.

Officers of Customs may board any coasting vessel in any port or place, and at any period of the voyage search her, and examine all goods on board, and demand all the documents which ought to be on board; and the Collector may require such documents to be brought to him for inspection. No fishing boat or boat used in ferrying under fifteen tons burthen shall, except by special license or permission, carry any goods from a foreign country, which are liable to duty, under pain of seizure, unless the same (in the case of ferry boats) be for the sole use of some passenger then on board. No goods can be carried in any coasting vessel or boat, except such as are laden to be so carried at some port or place in Canada, and no goods shall be taken into or put out of any coasting vessel or boat while on her voyage by river, lake or sea.

Instantaneous Combustion.

The following expressions from the chief of the Montreal Fire Brigade, in regard to instantaneous combustion may not prove uninteresting:—

"I may say that every time you throw a cotton rag well soaked in boiled linseed oil into a close place it will take fire. I suppose there is not a carpenter who does not remember an instance. Water will do instead of oil too. I remember a fire we had in a warehouse where there was a great quantity of paper rags stored. Afterward a lot of the bales which had been saved in a damp state were stored in an adjoining shed, and they were ablaze in ten hours. Then there was the case of the barge that took fire in the canal a year or so ago; it cost us a lot of trouble to get it out, and when we did so and began to investigate four or five bales of paper rags in the bottom of the boat showed what was the cause of the trouble. It's not cotton alone. I remember nearly burning my house down once by throwing a bunch of woollen rags, saturated in linseed oil, into a close drawer. They were a mass of fire when I discovered them. At time of the year, when people are moving and polishing up their furniture, no person should forget these warnings. The value of the rags is not great enough to justify any risk."

—Peterboro shows a total assessment of real and personal property amounting to $2,897,450; and, according to the Assessors, a population of 7,822.

Going to get Whipped.

It beats all how different people will look at the same article in a newspaper in a different way. A few weeks ago the Sun published an article about young men who get drunk, when in the presence of the girls they are engaged to, and advised girls to give such fellows the shake. We have had several letters from mothers, saying, 'God bless you!' and such words as made a fellow's eyes spring a leak, and we have felt like saying, 'don't mention it, mother,' and let the matter drop. But to-day we had a letter from a young fellow who says 'God bless you,' only he spells bless in a different way. He has got a hot box. He says he has been engaged to one of the handsomest girls in this city for two years, and no trouble had ever come to them except her sorrow at his dissipated habits, until that article appeared in the Sun. Now he says she has broken the engagement, and says she will never marry him, and the worst it seems happier than she has before for years, her mother has grown ten years younger, and he feels as though he should die. He says it all to us, and says he will whip us on sight. Well, there is a business look to this, certainly. Going to whip an Editor for talking sense? Here we have been talking nonsense for years, and never got whipped, and for a little sense, have got to be trounced. The world is going wrong. And so the girl is handsome! Well, that's the kind these drunken whelps always pick out. They have got sense enough to know a pretty girl, drunk or sober. And she is happier than she has been for years? That is worth being whipped for. The wearing of a black eye for making an unhappy, handsome girl happy, would be worth the money. Such a black eye ought to be worn proudly and pointed to, as one would point to an honorable scar, or a wreath on the brow. Of course you don't have to poultice a laurel wreath with beef-stake, to take the soreness out, as you do to the black eye, and it does not look as well, but it is all right. And the poor, old mother has grown ten years younger since her daughter has broken her engagement with the drunken young man? This is better yet and it is worth two black eyes. Black both of them, young fellow, and Malice the nose, and with the knowledge that two people have been made happy, we shall take the medicine like a man, if we take it at all. But it is barely possible we shouldn't take it. Does it stand to reason that we would allow a drunken coward to whip us, for speaking the truth? For the young man who is engaged to the handsomest girl in the city, and gets drunk in the practice, is a coward. He is a coward who would whip her if she was his wife. What would we be doing while such a youth, with his skin full of benzine, was whipping us on sight? This young man never whipped any editors, evidently. He has never had to be carried out on a window shutter, to a hospital, and lay in a stupor while the doctors set his bones, and has never laid in a delirium for months, and seen the air full of sore-top editors walking over him with hunting boots on. He should commence down low and work up, gradually, to editors. Let him attend in a few ward caucuses, with their rows, and take in a few summer garden picnics, and balls, and prize fights, and if he lives, then he can think about whipping a newspaper man. But he wants to learn to pray, and it is best to bid an affectionate adieu to friends, and to pay up whiskey bills, for there is nothing that injures a young man's reputation so much as to have his trunk attached, after he has been buried by the authorities, for an old liquor bill. In addition to announcing that our office hours for being whipped at sight for articles that appear in the paper, are from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., we will state that the advice to girls who are engaged to drunkards is still in force, and if they will all take it to themselves, and ship the drunkards before it is everlastingly late, and thus make themselves and their mothers happy, we will take the chances on a whipping from the drunkard in every case, and make them a present when they marry a sober young man. Don't hang on to any drunkard for fear he will whip us.—Pek's Sun.

Silkworms in a Kansas Parlor.

'Would you like to look into my parlor, sir?' Of course we said yes. Our lady hostess had just favored us with a delightful dinner, which after a long ride across the prairies, was indeed a matter to be grateful for. She opened the door, and we looked into the room, expecting to see the usual stuffed hair-cloth, the bric a brac, the parlor organ, the stereopticon, the photograph album, the autograph album, and the regulation parlor ornaments. If there is one thing more than another in which American ladies show a lack of originality, it is in their parlors. All are after one model; and if ever anywhere you chance to find one differing from the standard, it is from the shape of the house, or some other circumstance, over which the lady herself had no control, and which you are sure to find her lamenting from a full heart. Judge of our surprise then, to see, in an uncarpeted room, three long tables covered with fresh green leaves, which somehow seemed all in motion. Even the window seats and the chairs were laden with green leaves and sprays; and as to the floor it was covered with bare twigs.

lady laughed merrily. 'How do you like my furniture?' she exclaimed.

But something still more odd—for a parlor—had arrested our attention. It was a great green worm, somewhat like a maple worm, on the table. It lay among the green leaves, and was feeding on them. There were scores, hundreds, thousands of these worms! That was what caused the motion—these ravenous worms feeding on the leaves. 'Why, what are these, madam?' 'My silk worms.' 'And this foliage?' 'Mulberry leaves, from those hedges round my garden lot. I bring in bushels of them every day. See the bare stems on the floor.' 'Yes,' continued the lady, 'I commenced with a few worms as an experiment two years ago, George—that's my husband—laughed at me at first. He works hard on the farm; but unless it is a better year than last, I shall clear as much off my cocoons as he will off his corn. I get seventy cents a pound for cocoons. And what's the good of a parlor shut up from one week's end to another? I have little time to sit down in it. So I have papered mine with mulberry leaves. And I have my attic and two chambers full of worms, besides. It is pretty and pleasant work to feed them.' 'Well this is indeed a new departure,' we said. 'An original idea.' 'No, not original with me,' explained our hostess. 'I got it from the Menonites, those Russian refugees, who came to Kansas eight or ten years ago. They brought the silk culture here with them, and imported the mulberry shrubs from Southern Russia. Their women reel the silk off the cocoons; but that takes a great deal of time and patience. I prefer to sell my cocoons to the factory folks.' 'Surely, I thought, here is a hint for many a woman with a shut up parlor and a scanty family purse. For it is said the business requires scarcely $10 capital for a start.

A Greek Heroine.

I find the following in a letter, written by an American gentleman, from the Levant, in 1824. The incident occurred during the struggle in which Lord Byron lost his life. A young woman of Missolonghi, whose father had been wounded in battle, and was lying in the mountains, in a suffering condition, determined to reach and succor him if possible. To this end she persuaded a younger brother to accompany her; and, having obtained such medicine as she thought she might need, she set forth, armed with a pair of light pistols and a short sword.

Twice they were intercepted on their way, and were enabled to break through the Turkish ranks only by fighting for it; and in the last of these engagements the young brother was wounded. But the sister nursed him as well as she could, and they pushed on. Arrived at the foot of the mountains, however, the young man's strength gave out, and he sank down utterly exhausted.

'Go on, dear sister,' he said, 'and rescue our father. Leave me here. If I live till you return you may be able to take me with you. If I die—so be it. At all events our father must be rescued.'

At that moment, while the young girl was suffering an agony of indecision, a Turkish horseman, heavily armed, appeared on the scene. He espied the two Greeks, and quickly dismounted, paying little attention to the girl, but hastening to the man, who he saw, was armed. The brave girl, with a nerve that failed her not, waited until the Turk had passed her, when she drew a pistol and shot him through the head, killing him instantly.

Then she lifted her brother on the strong horse; and having gathered up what was of value upon the person of the dead Turk, she mounted the saddle,—the twain being but little, if any, heavier than had been the former rider,—and pursued her journey into the mountains. In good time she found her father; and the sale of the horse, to a man of means who was deeply interested by her romantic story, furnished her with money enough for all present wants. Father and brother, both, were restored to health; and, ere long thereafter, they were enabled to return to the old home, where the devoted daughter became a heroine, widely honored, as she richly deserved.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY.—Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them, to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery; resulting in hundreds of our best physicians using it in their practice. Eating at Night.

Popularly, it is thought injurious; but unless dinner and supper have been late, or the stomach disordered, it is harmless and beneficial, if one is hungry. Invalids and the delicate should always eat at bed-time. This seems heretical, but is not. Animals after eating instinctively sleep. Human beings become drowsy after a full meal. Why? Because blood is solicited toward the stomach to supply the juices needed in digestion. Hence the brain receives less blood than during fasting, becomes pale and the powers grow dormant. Sleep, therefore, ensues. This is physiological. The sinking sensation in sleeplessness is a call for food. Wakefulness often is merely a symptom of hunger. Gratify the desire and you fall asleep. The feeble will be stronger at dawn if they eat on going to bed. Fourteen hours lie between supper and breakfast. By that time the fuel of the body has become expended. Consequently, the morning toilet fatigues many. Let such eat at bedtime, and take a glass of warm milk or beef tea after rising. Increased vigor will result. 'But the stomach must rest.' True. Yet when hungry we must eat. Does the infant's stomach rest as long as the adults? The latter eats less often merely because his food requires more time for digestion. Seldom can one remain awake until 10.20 or 11 without hunger. Satisfy it and sleep will be sounder. During the night give wakeful children food. Sleep will follow. The sick should invariably eat during the night. This is imperative. At night, the delicate and children may take, slowly, warm milk, beef tea, or oatmeal gruel. Vigorous adults may also eat bread and milk, cold beef, mutton, chicken and bread, raw oysters, all, of course, in moderation. Do not eat if not hungry. Eat if you are.

Geraniums in the Window.

It is very rare to see a well grown geranium in window culture. Even if the plants bloom fairly they are often drawn up, misshapen things not pleasing to look upon. In the majority of cases, plants that have been set out in the garden for the summer, are allowed to 'go as you please.' The roots finding an abundance of rich soil, the tops grow off at a famous rate. At the approach of cool weather the plants are taken up as they stood; if any cutting is done, it is all at the roots, to bring them within the limits of a pot, and the plants are placed in the window. As a consequence of such treatment, the majority of the leaves fade and fall and show a lot of long, lanky stems, with a small tuft of leaves at the top. This condition of the plants is due either to a lack of knowledge or to timidity. Amateur cultivators, as a general thing, seem to fear to use the knife; could the plants suffer pain, they would not be more reluctant to cut. The proper method is to prepare the plants for taking in long before the time for lifting them, but it is too late to advise that, as it is to suggest pruning them at the time of taking them up. Even at this late day, it is better to cut back the geraniums to a good shape than to let them remain as they are. Of course each plant will have its own needs in this respect, and only general advice can be given. Cut back the long stems in such a manner that the plant, will form a low, rounded head, and remove altogether such branches as will make the head too much crowded.

Foo Cheo's Balsam of Shark's Oil.

Positively Restores the Hearing, and is the only Absolute Cure for Deafness Known.

This Oil is abstracted from peculiar species of small White Sharks, caught in the Yellow Sea, known as Careharodon Ron-Selenti. Every Chinese fisherman knows it. Its virtues as a restorative of hearing were discovered by a Buddhist Priest about the year 1400. Its cures were so numerous, and many so seemingly miraculous, that the remedy was officially proclaimed over the entire Empire. It became so universal that for over 300 years no Deafness has existed among the Chinese people. Sent charges prepaid, to any address at $1.00 per bottle.

HEAR WHAT THE DEAF SAY! It has restored a miracle in my case. I have no uncharitable noises in my head and hear much better. I have been greatly benefited. My deafness helped a great deal—I think another bottle will cure me. My hearing is much benefited. I have received untold benefit. My hearing is improving. It is giving good satisfaction. Have been greatly benefited, and am rejoiced that I saw the notice of it.

Its virtues are unquestionable and its curative character absolute, as the writer can personally testify, both from experience and observation. Write at once to HALLOCK & JENNEY, 7 Dey Street, New York, enclosing $1, and you will receive by return a remedy that will enable you to hear like anybody else, and whose curative effects will be permanent. Mystery always magnifies dangers as the fog magnifies the sun.

Careful for nothing, prayerful for everything, thankful for anything.

We are never ruined by what we want but by what we think we want.

ANSWER THIS.—Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness, or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver, or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

We see farthest into the future—and that is not far—when we most carefully consider the facts of the present.

If a man have love in his heart, he may talk in broken language, but it will be eloquence to those who listen.

Mrs. S. W. Curry, of 95 Richmond street, Toronto, says: "Pain in the back, liver complaint, and bilious headache were my ailments. I got prompt and permanent relief by using one bottle of Fountain of Health." For sale at Deyell's Drug Store.

The conqueror is regarded with awe, the wise man commands our esteem, but it is the benevolent man who wins our affection.

Mental pleasures never cloy; unlike those of the body, they are increased by repetition, approved by reflection and strengthened by enjoyment.

A SPRING MEDICINE.—During the winter months the system accumulates poisons which become dangerous as the warmer weather sets in. Do yourself the justice to take one bottle of Fountain of Health to cleanse the blood. Sold by R. Deyell.

Mr. Jones has discovered the respective natures of a distinction and a difference. He says that "a little difference" frequently makes many enemies, while "a little distinction" attracts hosts of friends to the one on whom it is conferred.

A WONDERFUL CHANGE.—Rev. W. E. Gifford, while pastor of the M. E. Church, Bothwell, suffered from chronic dyspepsia so badly as to render his life almost a burden. Three bottles of Barcock Blood Bitters cured him.

The rage of people is like that of the sea, which, once breaking bounds, overflows a country with that suddenness and violence that leaves no hopes of flying.

John Hodgins, 325 Wilton Avenue, Toronto, says:—"I have been able to discontinue tobacco by using Fountain of Health, and feel much better every way. It has also cured two of my daughters of dyspepsia." For sale at Deyell's drug store.

Sorrow is a kind of rust of the soul, which every new idea contributes in its passion to scour away. It is the putrefaction of stagnant life and it is remedied by exercise and motion.

Mental depression, headache, and nervous debility, are speedily remedied by that excellent blood-purifying tonic, Barcock Blood Bitters. The editor of the Mitchell Herald states that he was cured of biliousness, liver derangement, and sick headache by the use of this medicine.

Our fellow creatures can only judge of what we are from what we do; but in the eye of our Maker what we do is of no worth except as it flows from what we are.

$100 Reward! If one bottle of Fountain of Health does not relieve ordinary catarrh, any dealer is authorized to refund the money it costs you; and $100 will be paid for a case that 3 bottles will not cure. Sold by R. Deyell.

The Christian faith is a grand cathedral, with divinely pictured windows. Standing without, you see no glory, nor can possibly imagine any; standing within, every ray reveals a harmony of unspeakable splendor.

BE ADVISED in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as a simple backache now, to run into a disease of the kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. DR. VAN BREN'S KIDNEY CURE will at once ease your pain and positively prevent these unfortunate results. Take it once. Any druggist will have it.

The thousand tongues of the press, clearer far than the silver trumpet of the jubilee, louder than the voice of the herald at the games, may speak and do speak to the whole people, without calling them from their homes or interrupting them in their enjoyments.

Sent by mail in the form of pills, or of lozengers, on receipt of price. $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham answers freely all letters of inquiry. Enclose 3c. stamp. Send for 'Guide to Health and Nerve Strain.'

We never regret the kind words we have spoken or the retort we have left unsaid, but bitterly we recall sharp words spoken angrily, and unkind actions that may have caused tears to come to eyes that will never shed them any more.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.—The greatest medical wonder of the world. Warranted to speedily cure Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Cancers, Piles, Chilblains, Corns, Tetter, Chapped Hands, and all skin eruptions, guaranteed to cure in every instance, or money refunded. 25 cents a box. OH WHAT A COUGH—Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will Cure your Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup, and Whooping Cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. I believe it is the best Emulsion in the market. Having tested the different kinds, I unhesitatingly give it the preference when prescribing for my consumptive patients, or for throat and lung affections."

A serious charge has been brought against a school teacher in Illinois, the specifications of which are:—1. Immorality! 2. Parshalty! 3. Keeping disorderly school! 4. Carrying unlafe weeping! The committeeman who wrote the charge thinks of teaching the school himself next quarter.

FIRST RELIEF, ULTIMATELY A CURE.—These are the successive effects of one of the most deservedly popular remedies in the Dominion, Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and dyspeptic Cure, which reforms an irregular condition of the bowels and liver, invigorates the stomach, renews digestion, and changes the current of the blood from a sluggish and turbid into a pure, rapid, and fertilizing stream.

A professor, in explaining to a class of young ladies the theory according to which the body is entirely renewed every seven years, said, "Thus, Miss B., in seven years you will in reality be no longer Miss B."—"I really hope I shan't," demurely responded the girl, casting down her eyes.

THESE ARE SOLID FACTS.—The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the Liver, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Weak Kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, or whoever requires an appetizer, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by G. A. Mitchell.

Alexis Cyr, of Grant Isle, Aroostook Co., Maine, writes: "Having used Northrop & Lyman's valuable Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, and derive great benefit from it, I take the liberty of asking you for quotations, and also whether you would be willing to give me the agency for this place, as I am confident there would be a large sale for it in this vicinity when its merits were made known."

Beware of Imitations.—Since Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine Dr. THOMAS' OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Electric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back.

FLAX-SEED Emulsion Compound.

The strongest and best evidence to bring forward to establish an honest and just claim is to produce those witnesses whose intelligence, honor, and veracity are unimpeachable. The results which have followed the use of the Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound in Nervous Prostration, PARALYSIS & GENERAL DEBILITY as well as the affections of the Throat and Lung and chronic Rheumatism, might seem most incredible, were it not for the unquestionable evidence which we present in our prospectus of testimonials of many of our most prominent citizens of the city of Ogdensburg, who Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound has been manufactured and largely sold during the past year. We invite investigation and inquiry into the merits and reputation of our Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound in Ogdensburg, N. Y., where it is thoroughly known.

I have the pleasure of informing you that I have personally derived very much benefit from the use of Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound, and I would not be satisfied to see it sold to others without making them aware of its merits. I have carefully observed its effect during the past two years in many cases, and I am able to walk around every day and have not raised one drop of blood since I began to use the Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound. I have every person with weak lungs will use the Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound, for it is far better than the Cod Liver Oil, and I have used it since it never deranged my stomach as it always did. DANIEL CARTIN, President of the Ogdensburg National Bank.

OGDENBURG, N. Y., April 28, 1881. I want to recommend Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound to all persons who are taking Cod Liver Oil Emulsion, I have taken Cod Liver Oil for six months without getting any benefit. During this time I was constantly spitting blood, had not taken more than one bottle of Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound, before I began to feel better, and now am better than I have been in six months. I am able to walk around every day and have not raised one drop of blood since I began to use the Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound. I have every person with weak lungs will use the Flax-Seed Emulsion Compound, for it is far better than the Cod Liver Oil, and I have used it since it never deranged my stomach as it always did. SECTIONAL VIEW OF MILLER'S "NEW MODEL" VIBRATING THRESHER.

MANUFACTURED BY THE JOSEPH HALL MANUFACTURING CO., OSHAWA, ONT.

The most perfect Thresher, the most perfect Separator, the most perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public. The Only True Grain Saver.

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1882. To the Editor of The Canadian Post. Mr. F. W. Glen.

DEAR SIR.—I thought I would write you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got you last summer. I will tell you the truth and nothing but the truth—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed. I could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had them. The farmers whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine that they ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly, JOSEPH SHERK. Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

FRANK ALBERT, Dec. 15th, 1882. To the Editor of The Port Perry Standard. SIX—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wanted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver. Yours truly, JOHN McDONALD.

—Miss Churchill, of Boston, has organized a class for voice culture at the High School. It is to be hoped that this famous elocutionist can be persuaded to give an evening of public readings before her departure. Such a proceeding would meet with hearty approval.

—We congratulate the Rev. James Roy, of Cobourg, on whom the Senate of McGill College conferred the Degree of LL.D., in course, at the Convocation on Monday last. We hope Dr. Roy may live to wear his honors long, as we know he will wear them worthily.

—A communication has come to hand from Mr. Burton, of Lindsay, stating that the heirs of the late Jas. Burton did not know that the deceased was indebted to the Millbrook Council at the time of his death, and deprecating that legal proceedings should have been so publicly threatened until the heirs had been communicated with.

—Dr. Kelly, ex-priest, who has been officiating as assistant on the B. C. Welcome circuit during the past year, is said to have secured a situation in an educational institution. He resigned his charge in Hope last week on account of proceedings that were taken at the meeting of the Quarterly Board.

—Mr. Thomas Goldie, a former officer of our Fire Brigade, has been elected one of the Lieutenants of the Port Hope Brigade, and Mr. Fred Wear, formerly captain of our Hook and Ladder Company, has been appointed a member of the Winnipeg paid brigade by the City Council. It would appear that our firemen are appreciated abroad, if they are not at home.

—The body of Mr. Geo. C. Rogers, proprietor of the Oronabee Flouring Mills, who was drowned on Friday, April 20, while removing a bracket from his dam, was found on Monday by Robert Sheridan, one of the parties who was in the punt with him when the unfortunate accident happened. The body was found in about three feet of water, about 100 yards below Hunter-street bridge, the head imbedded in sawdust and the body in a good state of preservation. The funeral on Tuesday was the largest cortege ever seen at Peterboro'.

—A local professional gentleman, who is trying to introduce the Artemus Ward style of orthography in this locality, refers in the following terms to a matter of local interest:—

“The doctors herd that David Hezekiah was coming up from Cobourg and went to tender for the job or repairs.”

David Hezekiah will advertise for tenders before he comes up. He will announce that plans and specifications of the damage that will be done to him may be learned at the News office. But he is not any more anxious to commence the job than Mr. Mulholland is to build that terrace.

—The thermometer registered 72° yesterday afternoon.

—For some reason or another the mails from the west have been asserted almost every day before the Midland train going north has been ready to leave. Such a state of affairs has proved a great convenience to many. The public want to know to what the improvement is due.

—The Norseman started for Charlotte on Wednesday. The vessel has been repainted and refurnished throughout. Captain Crawford must be congratulated on the improvements that have been made on that deservedly popular steamer. The Norseman will now commence her regular trips.

—“Rod Pringle, President of the Conservative Association of West Northumberland, was in town to-day. He was enquiring about the editor of a down town paper.”—Guide, May 9th.

Yes, but he did not do any more than enquire. He gave the News office a wide berth. Mr. Pringle has one virtue—caution. He blows and blusters, but that is all.

—The anniversary services of the Methodist church will be held on Sunday. Rev. Wm. Briggs, of Toronto, will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening. —In reply to the paragraph in a late issue of the News, Mr. Goggin desires the announcement to be made that negotiations tending to his proposed entry to the “fourth estate” have been concluded, and that he will continue to occupy the position of principal of the Central School. Had the negotiations referred to proved satisfactory we would have experienced unbounded pleasure in welcoming Mr. Goggin to journalism.

—The License Commissioners met last Saturday. Licenses were issued to Messrs. McCormack, Canton, and Garbutt, Port Hope. Mrs. Lang, of Bethany, interviewed the Board in respect to the licenses for that village. It was decided to grant permits for three months, so that the cause for which the licenses were withheld may be dealt with by the municipal Reeve, Mr. Grandy, on his return from the North-west. Mr. Wilson, of Janetville, was granted a permit, instead of a license.

—The Times threatens Councillor Budge with the wrath of the ratepayers nine months from now. The Times predictions of public opinion are of less consequence than Wiggins' storm prognostications. The Times undertook to prophesy the result of a late public meeting twelve hours before it was held. There was not a ratepayer to endorse the Times' view of the situation. If the Times could be so far astray in a twelve hour prediction, what mathematical calculation can place its whereabouts on a nine months prophesy! The ratepayers understand the value of Coun. Budge's services. They know that the compliment is on his side, not on theirs.

A large number of immigrants went north yesterday morning, purposing to settle along the line of the Midland railway.

—The English mails will close at the Port Hope post-office, on and after the 18th instant, at seven o'clock p. m., every Friday.

—So far there has not been much seeding done in this locality. Reports indicate that the Fall Wheat is in a favorable condition.

—The new band master, Mr. McLaren, is pushing the practice energetically, so as to have the boys ready for the military camp this season.

—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the skating rink was held on Monday. It was decided not to declare a dividend, but to carry the balance forward.

—Those who profess to be able to predict weather probabilities, by the appearance of the new moon, state that the month will be cold and damp. Time will tell.

—It will now be in order for the Post to explain how Peterboro' and Lindsay will endure being connected by telephone. The profanity that will pass over that wire!

—The Annual District Meeting, of the Bible Christian church, for the Cobourg District, began on Wednesday morning at Welcome. Rev. A. Clarke, Superintendent of the district, presiding.

—The steam barge Van Allen and schooner Levis Ross will sail on Upper Lakes at the beginning of this season. Capt. Wright having secured a contract to carry coal for the Midland railway to the northern terminus of the line.

—J. L. Thompson is now prepared to furnish all kinds of harness, trunks, valises &c. at extraordinarily low figures. Intending emigrants to the North West will find it to their advantage to give him a call.

—The Durham county Prohibition Association will meet in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, John Street, to-day. All interested in the cause are invited to attend. At the evening session addresses of a public character will be delivered.

—Two Walton street tailors had a quiet paddle on the lake the other morning. If two Port Hope journalists, or two Lindsay physicians should trust themselves in the same canoe, it would be more than a miracle that would bring them both to shore again.

—Great bargains in Cottons at the “Arcade” in grey and white Cottons, Shetings, Shirtings, &c. Fair & Van Every have received several bales at greatly reduced prices. So lay in your supply while cheap. See their new Tweeds for suits, very cheap.

—It is understood that at an after-meeting of the Council last Monday evening, in the Mayor's office, it was decided to grant the firemen $100 to purchase belts and helmets for one company, so that the men can attend the parade at Cobourg on the 24th instant.
