Bowmanville Young Man Comes in Contact With Live Wire at Newmarket.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Bowmanville Statesman

Citizens were shocked on Monday evening when the news reached town of the jatal accident which befell Mr. Roy Chartran, son of Mrs. Walter Chartran, Church street.

Roy was sub-foreman of a line gang of the Bell Telephone Company, and was in charge of men that day who were working about five miles south of Newmarket along the Metropolitan Electric

One of the wires they were erecting caught in a rail. Roy went to free it and in doing so the wire came in contact with a live wire of the Metropolitan line, the shock killing him instantly.

Four other men received the shock and were burned very badly about the hands. The power was from 14,000 to 20,000 volts, and the mystery is how these other men escaped as some of them were nearer the power line than Roy. Mr. J. A. Brown, Barrie, District Plant Chief, was immediately summoned and the Coroner held an inquest, the jury viewing the remains and adjourning until Friday even-Mr. Brown being acquainted with Rev. Mr. Munroe, of this town, phoned him the sad news who immediately notified Rev. Mr. Garbutt, pastor of the unfortunate young man, and together they went to break the tragic news to the now heart-broken mother.

The remains were brought here took place Wednesday afternoon.

Roy was a great favorite among his companions and well liked by his employers, which was evident by the responsible position given him. He had been employed by the Telephone Company about three years He was much devoted to his mother, and to her and his brother and sister is extended the heartfelt sympathy of the whole town in the severe bereavement which has again come to their home.

Well Known Traveler Has Passed Beyond

Joseph H. Devaney Pased Away -Was on the Road Thirty Years.

There died at his home in Spadina avenue recently one of the best known commercial travelers in Ontario-Mr. Joseph H. Devaney. Mr. Devaney was on the road for nearly thirty years, during most of which time he was connected with the firms of Eby, Blain & Co. and Warren Bros. He remarked re-cently that he had traveled a distance equal to a circle of the globe three times and had never been in a railway accident of any kind.

Mr. Devaney was stricken with hear; trouble about two years ago, and had never been entirely well since. He was born in Port Hope, was about 55 years of age, and was one of the original members of the firm of Devaney Bros. who for many years carried on a big dry goods business at Spadina avene and Queen street. JAMES ROWSON A PRINCE AMONG MEN.

Newton (Iowa) Daily Journal.

.The first day Mr. James Rowsen, of the firm of James Rowson & Co., of Iowa City, came to Newton and put in his bid for the new Jasper County Court House he made friends and he has been making friends here ever since.

Those who have met him often and know him well in a business or social way call him a "prince."

He was in Newton most of the time for the first year and a half contract to build the beautiful Court House which is dedicated to day.

Everything did not go smoothly. The weather was bad, the material did not arrive on time, good workmen could not always be obtained and many major and minor troubles sprang up like magic and had to be overcome.

Mr. Rowson must have been worried and anxious many times, but he didn't ask his friends to help him put up with these troubles. With him it was part of the busi ness and he settled each and every difficulty with as much dispatch as possible and without any ado put up with what couldn't be remedied.

Mr. Rowson was very companionable and a genial friend and as he mingles to-day among his acquaintances, made during his visits here, this prince among men meets kinds words and smiles and friendly handshakes and will always be a welcome guest in Newton. [Mr. Rowson is a former resident of Port Hope and a cousin of Mrs. Marshall, Rossmount His many friends in Port Hope and surrounding country will be pleased to learn of his success]

W. F. Walker, P. H. Passy, C. A.
Hagerman, Richard Chapman, H.
Eldridge and H. Corbett. Eldridge and H. Corbett,

Delegates to the synod-Lt. Col. Ward and F. H. Brown.

Messrs. C. E. Sheriff and P. H. Passey were appointed auditors to report on the financial affairs of the church at an adjourned meeting to be held on April 26th.

St. Mark's church has had a successful year with steadily increasing congregations and increased offerings. The Rector's stipend was increased by the Wardens some few months ago by $100 per annum. A new year is entered upon with much encouragement and good hopes of increasing interest and support in the good work being done in Port Hope's old historic church.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

'You haven't told me,' said Earwaker, calmly fronting the indigmant outburst, 'what her circumstances are-at present.'

'She assists an English lady in the management of a boarding-house,' Malkin replied, with an air which forbade trivial comment. Bella and Lily will of course continue their studies. I daresay I shall run over now and then to see th∈m.'

'May I, without offence, inquire if either one of these young ladies seems suitable for the ideal training of which you spoke?'

Musing, he refilled his pipe, and gessip was prolonged till something after one o'clock. Malkin was never known to retire willingly from an evening's congenial talk until the small hours were in progress.

Peak, on reaching home about eleven, was surprised to see a light in his sitting-room wiudow. As he | guest of Miss F. Mullen. entered, his landlady informed him that Mr. Moxey had been waiting apstairs for an hour or two. Christian was reading. He laid down the ensuing year : the book and rose languidly. His face was flushed, and he spoke with a laugh which suggested that a fit of despondency (as occasionally happened) had tempted him to excess in cordials. Godwin under-stood these signs. He knew that his friend's intellect was rather brightened than impaired by such stimulus, and he affected not to be conscious of any peculiarity.

'As you wouldn't come to me,' Christian began, 'I had no choice

It was a history of the Italian Renaissance, recently published.

'Where does this phrase come from?' he continued, pointing to a scrap of paper, used as a book-mark, on which Godwin had pencilled a note. The words were: 'Foris ut moris, intus ut libet.'

'It's mentioned there,' Peak replied, 'as the motto of those humanists who outwardly conformed to the common faith.'

'I see. All very well when the Inquisition was flourishing, but sounds ignoble nowadays.'

'Do you think so? In a half-civilized age, whether the sixteenth or the nineteenth century, a wise man may do worse than adopt it.'

'Better be honest, surely?' Peak stood for a moment as it in doubt, then exclaimed, irritably:

'Honest?' Honest? Whol is or can be honest? Who truly declares himself? When a man has learnt that truth is indeterminable, how is it more moral to go about crying that you don't believe a certain dogma than to concede that the dogma may possibly be true? This new morality of the agnostics is mere paltry conceit. Why must I make solemn declaration that I don't believe in absolute knowledge? forward with his arms upon the table, and gazed at Godwin, with eyes of peculiar brightness. 'Ill, is he?' returned Godwin, with slow interest. 'In the same way as before?' 'Yes, but much worse.'

Christian paused; and when he again spoke it was hurriedly, confusedly.

SAM LLOYD DEAD.

Belleville Ontario

Sam Lloyd, the man who invented "Pigs in Clover" and the "Thirteen, Fourteen, Fifteen" puzzle, has gone the way of all the earth.

What is more to the purpose, he leaves an estate of a million dollars as a fitting reward of his industry. Sam was an original genius. At ten years of age he could beat any one at chess in his vicinity. When he was twenty-five he settled down to the serious business of his lifethat of inventing mechanical puzzle devices. He was an artist of ability and a mathematician who was hard to beat. Usually, these people are mere theorists and dream away their days in an effort to accomplish the impossible. But Sam was made of better stuff. He se himself to turn his genius into money, and he was enormously successful. Any one who has worked themselves into a condition of mild insanity over "Thirteen, Fourteen, Fifteen," will drop a tear to his memory. Alas, poor Yorick. We knew him well.

FOOLING THE FARMERS.

Terre Haute (Ind) Tribune.

The arguments being made in Canada against the effectuation of the reciprocity agreement bear a striking resemblance to those used on this side of the border. The fruit and vegetables and dairy men of Ontario are being told that they will be overwhelmed by American competition. It appears that the Canadian, having freight to pay can sell in the United States for less than the American and that the American, likewise having freight to pay, can sell cheaper in Canada than the Canadian.

This sort of thing passes for argument among the spokesmen for the agricultural interest in both countries. The rule of logic that teaches when two propositions are contra- rises and falls with the tide. dictory both cannot be true is solemnly ignored. Yet there is difficulty about the business. Common sense and hard headiness dissinguish the farmer and the American farmer is put on inquiry when he learns what is being preached to the Canadian farmer and the Canadian farmer is put on iuquiry when he learns what is being preached to the American farmer. The opponents of reciprocity should make arrangements for an embargo on information between Canada and the United States.

Keep April 27th free for the farewell concert to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Renwick. The choir of the church will assist. Every body in town should buy a ticket at 25c. Further particulars later.

EASTER'S DATE.

Some Diverting Incidents of the Great Church Controversy.

"The festival of Easter is to be celebrated on the Sunday following the first full moon after the beginning of spring.

Therefore if the moon becomes full upon the day on which spring begins the Sunday after the next full moon is of course indicated by the directions of the council as Easter day. And if the moon becomes full on a Sunday the next Sunday similarly must be Easter day.

The history of this controversy re specting the date of Easter, which the Nicaean council happily settled, includes a number of diverting anecdotes based upon the disinclination of different people to accept even the council's rulings.

A story is told of a European of prominence who celebrated Easter every year on the very same day on which his wife celebrated Palm Sunday. Another story is told of a devout old couple in Germany who refused to abide by a new church decree relative to Easter. The decree altered the date, and on the day on which they had always attended the Easter services the old people walked from their home to the church. They found the church closed and no Easter service in prog-The old gentleman beat upon ress. the door with his stout stick and demanded admittance, and when there was no response from the uninhabited church the old people retraced their steps to celebrate Easter at home.

EASTER PLACES.

Not an Unfamiliar Name to Those Who Travel.

"Wunst," said the sailor, refilling his glass, "I spent Easter on Easter Island. Jolly little place-southern Pacificpams and all that-gals as yaller and inspiring as this here eggnog.

"Another time I camped on Easter Sunday at the foot of Easter hill, in the New Hebrides. That's a hill what fin't never been climbed. All we had to eat and drink that day was rice and water.

"There's two English villages in Essex, one called High Easter and the other called Good Easter, that I visited one Easter holiday out of curiosity. But I didn't see nothing.

"Easter hole, in southern Patagonia, is a natural well what ain't got no bottom, the natives say. The water in it "But the most melancholy place I ever put in an Easter at was in Easter canyon, in Arizony. We was prospecting there, me and Carlos Riberia. It's a wonder we didn't see ghosts, for at Easter canyon a party of immigrants died of starvation on Easter Sunday, leaving a heartbroken chalk diary on the rocks."

Easter Myths and Customs. Many and varied are the superstitions, ideas and customs which cluster around Easter. One of the best known is that it is unlucky to neglect the wearing of new attire on Easter day. and the best local talent obtainable. This widely prevalent custom originated, it is said, with the young people of Yorkshire, England, who never fail to provide for themselves some new. article of dress or of personal adornment, firmly believing that unless they do the crakes or rooks will avenge the neglect by damaging their clothing. It is held to be a good omen if one sees a lamb the first thing on Easter morning. The lamb, it is to be noted, should be standing erect and looking toward one to augur the most felicitous results. The weather on Easter day is also specially significant. This is a point for forecasters. If the sun blazes out on Easter day, that is very good augury, for it is sure to shine again on Whitsunday in May. An old couplet tells us that-hay. The direction from which the wind blows should also be carefully noted. If the wind is in the east it is said that there is great virtue in the water used on Easter day.

A good deal of rain on Easter day Gives a good crop of grass, but little good

A curious fable connected with Easter day is that on that day the sun could be seen to dance, a superstition which has readily been traced to heathen origin. It was the custom during the ancient pagan spring festivals, of which the modern Easter is an adaptation, for the sun worshipers who held these ceremonies to dance at a festival in honor of the sun after the vernal equinox .- Leslie's Weekly.

Easter Jewelry.

It's the same kind you see at the jeweler's at other seasons, but it's made apropos by being tied with white and purple ribbon to dainty cards.

A gold plated hatpin conveys the Easter wishes of "Bre'r Rabbit," whose clever pen and ink portrait appears on the attached card.

A rabbit's foot charm with silver mounting is most appropriate, tied to an Easter Illy card. Pretty little silver pencil cases, with a rabbit in relief on the top, swing on a silver chain from a card. Silver bookmarks, bracelets, brooches, button hooks, shoe horns and necklaces are all dressed in this Easter fashion with cards and ribbons.

Flood of Resolution Being Received at Ottawa."

SMALLPOX AT OTTAWA

The Premier In Answer to Col. Sam Hughes Says That Every Precaution Is Being Taken Against Epidemics-Reciprocity Debate Is Continued-No Water Power Conservation This Year.

Ottawa, April 20.-During the Easter recess the Government received seventy-seven communications from public bodies presenting views on reciprocity. These were tabled by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the request of Mr. Foster when the House met yesterday afternoon. Every one of the seventy-seven endorsed the Government's proposals. Of the total, 63 came from the prairie provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alber-ta, eight from the Province of Que-bec and six from Ontario. They indicate that the artisan is joining the farmer. Resolutions are now flooding the Government from the labor interests in the older provinces, equally emphatic in their support of the pact to those of the western farmers.

There was a very small attendance of members when the House assem-bled yesterday after the Easter recss. Conspicuous amongst the absentees were the western Conservatives. The Opposition leader was not in his place, and several of the Ministers had gone to the funeral of the son of Hon. George P. Graham at Brock-

Col. Hughes called attention to the "extraordinary and dangerous" con-dition at the Parliament Buildings, and also in the City of Ottawa, as a result of the smallpox epidemic. He pointed out that one of the official stenographers had contracted the disand had been removed to Porter's Island last Sunday, and the colonel asked if it was true that there had been smallpox for some weeks in the house in which the young man boarded. He desired to know what action the Government proposed to take, in view of the fact that the city officials were "teetotally inadequate."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said a memorial had been placed in his hands, which states that Charles Blue had been sent to Porter's Island last Sun-day, and on the preceding day he had been in the Parliament Build-ings. However, the other stenographers who occupied the same room had left for the Easter recess on the Wed-nesday previous. The room had been fumigated.

Hon. George E. Foster asked if the report in the newspapers was true that the Government had given permission to another American gunboat to proceed through the canals to the great lakes. He brought the matter up, he said, because he saw it stated the press that the permission would be given out, and that it would not be necessary for the United States to withdraw one of the vessels now on the great lakes.

The Premier said it was true that permission had been granted to re-place the Nashville with the Dubuque, but neither vessel had yet passed through the canals.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier informed F. D. Monk that he would not promise to take up the question this session of legislation for the conservation of the water powers of the Dominion. The debate on the reciprocity resolutions was continued by Mr. Nutt, Liberal member for Saltcoats, Sask., who spoke at some length in David Henderso nof Halton moved the adjournment of the debate.

Power Should Be Limited.

London, April 20 .- (C.A.P. Cable.) The Pall Mall Gazette, as to the alleged pretensions of the Roman Catholic Church in Quebec, says "the climax has come in the annulment by a Montreal judge of a marriage between two Catholics celebrated by a Protestant minister. The whole story is one more vivid illustration of what the Roman Church, where she has power of any kind behind her, will do, and how very desirable in the interests of the happiness of humanity it is that such power be very strictly limited."

Ex-Mayor of Ingersoll and Former Warden of Oxford County Surprises Court by Admitting Graft While In Office-Verbal Recognizance

St. Thomas, April 20 .- Mitchell T. Buchanan, ex-mayor of Ingersoll and former warden of Oxford County, spent something less than an hour in the prisoners' dock at the Elgin as-sizes before Mr. Justice Middleton yesterday afternoon. During that brief period he pleaded guilty on three charges of "grafting" while occupy-ing a municipal office, and at the end of the time was released on suspended sentence. Later the jury re-turned "no bill" on the conspiracy indictment against B. B. McCarty of Thamesford.

At 4.15 o'clock the grand jury, which had been considering since two o'clock Tuesday afternoon the ten indictments against Buchanan, return-ed five true bills as follows:

Conspiracy to defraud. Breach of trust.

Buchanan here entered the box for arraignment and Crown Attorney Mc-Cammon read indictment No. 6, concerning a deal with the Sawyer-Mas-sey Co. of Hamilton. "How do you plead?" the clerk ask-

"Guilty," was the unexpected reply.

The police now think that Russello cut his own hand when he slashed the dead man, Veci. In support of this is the statement of the doctor who dressed the wound at the hospital immediately after the fight, who says that the wound was inflicted by some very sharp instrument, more prob-ably a razor than the only knife in evidence, which is the one which Russello says he was trying to wrest from Panzine when his hand was cut.

McLetchie was questioned by Inspector of Detectives Duncan.
