MAY IMPAIR EYE-SIGHT

Serious Accident to Young Man Near Minden.

A very serious accident occurred at Mr. Peter Eastman's a few days ago, which not only greatly endangered the lives of his two sons, scar and disfigure them for life, but will in all probability impair the sight of Elmer, the younger.

The young men were engaged in blasting large stones in the field, had placed a charge of explosives and were filling the hole with sand to exclude the air, using a broken drill for that purpose. William was sitting on the stone and Elmer had his feet against it.

Both were immediately over the charge when it ignited with a report heard two miles away. The stone was blown into a thousand pieces, only one piece remaining in the hole.

Elmer was thrown back several yards and both suffered severe lacerations of the hands and face from the powder and fine splinters of rock. No bones were broken, and it is considered a miracle that both are alive and able to walk to the house, aided by their father.

William could see a little at first, but soon became quite blind. Elmer saw nothing after the accident and neither of them have seen anything since, although their physician seems quite confident he can save their sight.

HOW THE EDITOR OUGHT TO WRITE

It was not a Missouri editor but a printer's devil who was going through his first experience in making up forms. The paper was late and the boy got the galley mixed. The first part of the obituary notice of a pecunious citizen had been dumped in the forms and the next handful of type came off a galley describing a recent fire. It read like this: The pall bearers lowered the body to the grave, and as it was consigned to the flames, there were few if any regrets for the old block has been an eyesore to the town for many years. Of course there was an individual loss, but that was

Godwin accepted the invitation, and Warrington unable to linger, took leave of him.

They met the next evening in Buckland's rooms, not far from the Houses of Parliament. Commonplace comfort was the note of these quarters. Peak wondered that a man who had it in his power to surround himself with evidences of taste should be content to dwell thus. His host seemed to detect this thought in the glances Godwin cast about him.

'Nothing but a pied-a-terre. I have been here three or four years, but I don't think of it as a home. I suppose I shall settle somewhere before long; yet, on the whole what does it matter where one lives? There's something in the atmosphere of our time that makes one indisposed to strike roots in the old way. Who knows how long there'll be such a thing as real property? We are getting to think of ourselves as lodgers; it's as well to be indifferent about a notice to quit.'

'Many people would still make a good fight for the old home,' replied Peak.

'Yes; I daresay I should myself, if I were a family man. A wife and family are strong persuasions to conservations. In those who have anything, that's to say. Let the families who have nothing learn how they stand in point of numbers and we shall see what we shall see.'

'And you are doing your best to teach them that.'

Buckland smiled.

'A few other things at the same time. One isn't necessarily an anarchist, you know.'

'What enormous faith you must have in the meta-physical powers of the multitude!'

'Trenchant! But say rather, in the universal self interest. That's the trait of human nature which we have in mind when we speak of enlightenment. The aim of practical Radicalism is to instruct men's selfishness. Astonishing how capable it is of being instructed!

The mistake of the Socialist lies in his crediting men with far too much self-esteem, far too little perception of their own limits. The characteristic of mankind at large is humility. Peak began to understand his old acquaintance; he had imagined him less acute. Gratified by the smile of interest, Warricombe added:

'There are forces of madness; I have shown you that I make allowance for them. But they are only dangerous so long as privilege allies itself with hypocrisy. The task of the modern civiliser is to sweep away sham idealisms.'

'I agree with you,' Godwin replied.

With sudden change of mood, Buckland began to speak of an indifferent topic of the day, and in a few minutes they sat down to dinner.

Not till the welcome tobacco blended its aroma with that of the coffee did a frankly personal note sound in their conversation.

'So at Christmas you are free,' said Warricombe. 'You still think of leaving London?'

'I have decided to go down into Devonshire.'

'The seaside?'

'I shall stay first of all in Exeter,' Godwin replied, with deliberation; 'one can get hold of books there.'

'Yes, especially of the ecclesiastical colour.'

'You are still unable to regard my position with anything but contempt?' Peak asked, looking steadily at the critical face.

'Come now; what does it all mean? Of course I quite understand how tolerant the Church is becoming; I know what latitude it permits in its servants. But what do you propose to yourself?'

'Precisely what you call the work of the civiliser — to attack sham ideals.'

'As for instance—?'

'The authority of the mob,' answered Peak, saucily.

'Your clericalism is political, then?'

'To a great extent.'

'I discern a vague sort of consistency in this. You regard the Church formulas as 'merely symbolical—useful for the purposes of the day?'

'Rather for the purposes of eternity.'

'In the human sense.'

'In every sense.'

Warricombe perceived that no directness of questioning would elicit literal response, and on the whole this relieved him. To hear Godwin Peak using the language of a fervent curate would have excited in him something more than disgust. It did not seem impossible that a nature like Peak's—intellectually arrogant, vehemently anti-popular—should have been attracted by the traditions, the social prestige, of the Anglican Church; nor at all unlikely that a mind so constituted should justify a seeming acceptance of dogmas, which in the strict sense it despised. But he was made uneasy by his ignorance of Peak's private life during the years since their parting at College. He did not like to think of the possible establishment of intimacy between this man of low origin, uncertain career, boundless ambition, and the household of Martin Warricombe.

YOUNG BUT WISE.

In a school in a Western Ontario town is a little girl who has not taken quickly to the mysteries of addition. "One'n one?" asked the teacher, while putting the class through the easiest of the addition tables. The little girl referred to was the only person in the class who couldn't give the answer. "Two'n one?" asked the teacher. The little girl smiled confidently, put up her hand and when noticed by the teacher, said, shoe polish.—From Toronto Canadian Courier.

An Offer That Involves no Risk for Those Who Accept It.

I am so positive our remedy will completely relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that I offer to furnish it free of all cost if it fails.

Constipation is caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestines or descending colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those organs and restore them to healthier activity.

I want you to try Rexall Orderlies on my guarantee. They are eaten like candy, and are particularly ideal for children. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They have a neutral action on the other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause any inconvenience whatever. They will positively overcome chronic or habitual constipation and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments. Try Rexall Orderlies at my risk. Two sizes, 10c. and 25c. CATS DYING OFF.—Hundreds of cats are said to have died of late in England from influenza. If a thousand or two in Port Hope were to go off in the same way, there are those who would not consider it a catastrophe.

TRAINS WILL SOON RUN.—The steel on the Canadian Northern from Port Hope to the Union Station, Toronto, is all down, and as soon as the viaduct at Port Hope is finished trains will operate between Cobourg and the west. This will prove a great convenience and lessen the expense of moving cars and freight to and from the car works.—Cobourg Post.

Jesus No Longer a Man

Begotten and Born of the Spirit, "Put to Death in Flesh, Quickened in the Spirit."

Sermon by CHARLES T. RUSSELL, Pastor—Brooklyn Tabernacle.

London, April 23.—Pastor Russell preached in London Tabernacle to-day to a crowded house. His theme was the resurrected Lord, no longer a man, but ascended where he was before—made partaker of the divine nature. His text was, "He was put to death in flesh, but quickened in spirit" (1 Peter iii, 18). The speaker said:

In the past those of us who continued to believe in the resurrection of the dead, held some inconsistent theories respecting the matter which served to make the resurrection doctrine the more absurd in the minds of those opposed. For instance, we claimed that the Logos, the Son of God, left the heavenly or spirit nature and, according to the Scriptures, was made flesh, and that He was resurrected from the dead a human or fleshly being and ascended to heaven with a body of flesh. In the same breath we acknowledged that human nature is a little lower than the angelic; and thus, while still wishing to honor the Redeemer and to see wisdom and love in the Heavenly Father's Plan, we assumed that the Saviour, since His ascension, has had a body inferior to that of the angels and out of harmony with His surroundings; and that this is to be all eternity a part of the cost of human redemption.

How absurd! Do not the Scriptures particularly tell us that in His resurrection the Son was highly exalted by the Father, far above angels, principalities and powers and every name that is named? Do they not tell us that "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God"? Do they not tell us that the elect Church, in order to be the Bride of Messiah and His associate in the heavenly Kingdom, must be "changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye," in order that she may be made like Him, and because "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom"? We have been too careless in our study of the Divine Word. On this subject, as upon others, we have assumed that our forefathers of the "Dark Ages" understood the matter thoroughly. We forgot that those who lost so much of the Holy Spirit that they could burn fellow-Christians at the stake were quite likely to be more or less confused on all questions. But "the path of the just is as a shining light, shining more and more unto the perfect day," and it is now our privilege to learn the way of the Lord more perfectly, in the light now shining upon the Bible through the aid of our wonderful concordances and other Bible study helps.

Our difficulty on this subject arose from our failure to understand that human and spirit natures are distinct, and that God has provided two distinctly different salvations for mankind—the salvation of this Age being exclusively spiritual, while that of the next Age will be exclusively human. We are not to think of these natures as blending, but, according to the Lord's Word, we are to view them as distinctly separate. Whoever is of the human nature is earthly, fleshly, whether perfect or degraded. Whoever is of the spirit nature is heavenly, whether perfect or degraded. Thus, when "the Logos was made flesh and dwelt among us," He was human, though unblemished. And the fallen angels are still spirit beings, although cut off from Divine favor and fellowship. In other words, human nature is not an imperfect form of spirit nature, but a totally separate and distinct nature.

The Logos, the Only Begotten of the Father, "was made flesh" (John i, 14). He was not a spirit being incarcerated in a body of flesh and wearing it as a garment, or living in it as a house. He became like others of the race, except that "He was holy, harmless, separate from sinners," while all others are sinners, imperfect. Like other men, the man Jesus was not a dual being—a spirit being living in a human frame. He was merely human.

But the Redeemer became a dual being when He received the begetting of the Holy Spirit at the time of His baptism. Thenceforth, for three and a half years, until His crucifixion, He was dual. The flesh was the same; but the spirit-begetting received from the Father constituted Him a new Ego, a new person. He not only thereafter had new hopes, based upon Divine promises, but He had a new mind or new will, specially illuminated, quickened, enlightened by the Holy Spirit. From the time of His baptism His flesh (all that belonged to His human nature) was given up to die in the carrying out of the Heavenly Father's purposes. Thenceforth the Spirit-begotten One waited merely for the accomplishment of His sacrifice according to the Father's will, and for a new body, a glorious spirit body, in the resurrection—His completing or perfecting as a New Creature.

Hence, during the period of our Lord's ministry for three and a half years, He was a dual personage. So far as form and organism were concerned He was a man, but so far as mind and purpose and interests were concerned He was changed—a New Creature, a spirit being; earthly things had passed away. The New Creature followed the instructions of the Divine Word and providences to the extent of mortifying the flesh—surrendering it fully for the accomplishment in it of the Divine will. "The cup which My Father hath poured for Me shall I not drink it?"

The great Teacher Himself gives us the picture of a human birth as illustrating the experiences through which He passed and the similar experiences through which all of His faithful followers must pass in order to reach the plane of heavenly glory. This picture contains three distinctive views—(1) begetting—(2) quickening—(3) birth. These three steps were illustrated by our Lord's own experiences. He was begotten of the Holy Spirit at the time of His consecration at baptism. He was quickened after His forty days' experience in the wilderness when He began His active service as "the Messenger of the Covenant," selecting His Bride, the Church.

When He finished His sacrifice at Calvary the man Jesus was dead, and the New Creature Jesus, spirit-begotten and quickened and developed, was three and a half years old. According to the Divine Program He slept in hades, the tomb, and on the third day was born from the dead, raised up by Divine power as a New Creature, being given a spirit body of divine nature—glory, honor, immortality; "Him hath God highly exalted" (Philippians ii, 9). He did not lose His personality, His identity, and could therefore properly say, "I am He that liveth and was dead" (Rev. i, 18).

Thus was our Lord "put to death in flesh and quickened in spirit"—made alive in spirit, a Spirit Being. True, He was also quickened by the Spirit. It was the Father's Spirit or Power which raised Him from the lower a prisoner in the grave. The Apostle reminds us, all the blessings of Divine providence are of the Father. From Him cometh every good and every perfect gift.

He who thus ascended up on high, the Prince of glory and partaker of the divine nature, is the same who first descended to the earthly nature, yes, who was humbled even unto death, even the death of the Cross, and went to the tomb as the sinner's substitute or ransom-price. The forty days which intervened between the Redeemer's resurrection and His ascension taught two great lessons:

(1) That the crucified One was no longer held in the bonds of death, no longer a prisoner in the grave.

(2) It also taught that the Risen One was different in many respects from what He was before He died. No longer was He a man. No longer was He flesh. The body of flesh prepared for Him for the suffering of death had served its purpose. He needed it no longer. The Father had raised Him up to the plane of glory again. As a quickening spirit He was with the disciples during the forty days, instructing them during the few moments of each of His seven or eight appearances. But He was teaching them equally when invisible to them. He noted their perplexities. His several appearances were in different forms—as a gardener, as a traveler, as a purchaser of fish on the shore of Lake Tiberias, calling out, "Have you any fish?" and then, "Drop the net on the other side."

He "revealed" Himself to the disciples in various ways in connection with those materializations and then straightway He "vanished" from their sight to be present with them, unseen, for days. For identification He appeared on two occasions in a body bearing the marks of His crucifixion. During those forty days the faithful Teacher established the faith of His followers in Himself as the glorified Messiah, their Heavenly Bridegroom, who would later come again and receive them unto Himself and at that time give to them also a similar resurrection "change," that they should be like Him, "see Him as He is" and not as He was, and share His glory—because "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God" (1 Corinthians xv, 50).

St. Paul, the last of the twelve Apostles to be called (to take the place of Judas), needed, as well as the others, to be able to witness to the resurrection of Jesus. Of this He tells us, saying, "He was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve; after that He was seen of above five hundred brethren at once; after that He was seen of James; then of all the Apostles; and, last of all, He was seen of me also, as of one prematurely born" (1 Corinthians xv, 5-8).

In the ordinary course of events St. Paul would not have seen the Lord until His resurrection, when he himself would come forth as a member of "the Church of the First-born." He therefore describes his view of Jesus on his way to Damascus as being like that of one born before the time. In other words, St. Paul saw the Lord as He is and not as He was. He saw the Lord of glory, and not the man Jesus. The appearance was glorious indeed. In various parts of the Bible angels in their normal condition are pictured as bright-shining ones. Thus one of the Prophets fell as dead before an angel of the Lord, whose face shone as the sun.—Thus John the Revelator, granted a glimpse of the glorified Christ, fell as dead before Him. The effect of this great light above the brightness of the sun upon the eyes of Saul of Tarsus was destructive and a miracle was necessary for their repairment.

Thus the Lord identified Himself in glory with His former self, the man Jesus. These lessons of the Lord should not have gone unheeded. We should not have thought of the glorified Messiah as a man. The effect of the wrong thought has not only beclouded our appreciation of the Saviour in glory, but has also confused many respecting His Second Advent. It is safe to say that even yet the majority of those who are expecting the Second Coming of the Son of God and His establishment of His Messianic Throne are looking for Him as a glorified man, forgetting that He sacrificed Himself as a man, and that He took not back that sacrifice, but received exaltation to which He had left to become our Redeemer.

These wrong expectations respecting Messiah's Kingdom have turned the hearts of many in a contrary direction. They have reasoned correctly—that the establishment of an earthly Kingdom, with Christ the King in the flesh and His saints joint-heirs with Him in His Throne, also in the flesh, and with an earthly court—would be a condition of things inferior to the present one and apparently very inadequate for the accomplishment of the great things which the Bible promises Messiah's Kingdom will secure.

The proper thought respecting the resurrection of our Lord and His present glory shows us clearly that His Kingdom, when it shall be established, will, indeed, be a heavenly Kingdom, a spiritual one. From this standpoint only can we see the force of the Apostle's contrast, when he pictures to us how Satan, ambitious and scheming to be the Emperor of the world, took the path of disobedience. He indeed gained his desire and is the "Prince of this world"—over a sorry Empire, in which sin and death reign. On the other hand, the Apostle points us to the fact that our Redeemer, loyal to the Heavenly Father to the core, humbled Himself to take the human nature, to be crucified; and that therefore God has exalted Him and will give to Him the Kingdom now usurped by Satan, the Prince of this world.

Satan will be bound for the thousand years of Messiah's reign. The spiritual Prince of darkness will be dethroned and the spiritual Prince of Light and Truth, as the Father's honored Agent, will be inaugurated as King of kings and Lord of lords. And "He must reign until He shall have put all enemies under His feet"—the last enemy being death, Adamic death, the death introduced through the deceptive lie of Satan, who was a murderer from the beginning and abode not in the Truth" (John viii, 44).

St. Paul, according to the Greek text, institutes a comparison between Satan's course and that of the Logos (Philippians ii, 6). He there implies that Satan was ambitious and sought to grasp Divine prerogatives, but that the Logos "did not meditate a usurpation to be equal with God," but, on the contrary, humbled Himself and made Himself of no reputation. Nevertheless, eventually, in the outworking of the Creator's great Program, the One who humbled Himself will be the Exalted One, and the one who exalted himself will be abased. The Apostle urges the Church to follow the example of Jesus—"Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time" (1 Peter v, 6).

As the Only-Begotten of the Father was begotten of the Holy Spirit at the time of His consecration, as an embryo New Creature, and as He was born of the Spirit or perfected as a New Creature in His resurrection, so also the Scriptures indicate must be the course along which the Church is to follow Him. None can be born of the Spirit unless first he has been begotten of the Spirit and quickened of the Spirit. It is through this spirit-begetting, quickening and birth that the "elect of God," called during this Age to a change of nature, are made New Creatures—"members of the Anointed One," the Christ, the Messiah, the Mediator between God and the world, under-kings, under-priests, under-judges, in association with their Lord, the Chief-Priest and Bridegroom.

In the present life the new nature is merely begun, and, as the Apostle declares, we have it as a treasure in earthen vessels—in earthly bodies. He again declares that all the spirit-begotten ones are in a conflict in which it is required that they shall prove themselves "overcomers." Their special conflict is with their own flesh. The New Creature, the new will, must mortify the deeds of the flesh, the desires of the flesh. It must "fight a good fight" and demonstrate its loyalty to God and the principles of His righteousness. Otherwise it will not be accounted worthy or "meet for the inheritance of the saints in light."

The First Resurrection, or Chief Resurrection, is to be that of the Church. It must be completed before the world's resurrection can begin. And concerning this First Resurrection it is stipulated that none can have share in it except the blessed and the holy. And for these a reward is promised, that they shall be priests unto God and shall reign with Christ a thousand years—on the earth, over the earth, as earth's spiritual Empire and Ruling Government, to put down sin and to uplift righteousness.

Father Morrissey's "No. 11" Cures Stomach Troubles.

When your stomach is working right you never know it is there. But when it feels as heavy as lead—when you have Heartburn, Belching of Wind, Sourness, a gnawing hunger, with distress after eating—when you feel irritable and depressed—then you may know that the digestive fluids in the stomach are not sufficient to digest what you eat.

Father Morrissey's "No. 11" Tablets supply these fluids in concentrated form. Each tablet, dissolved in the stomach, will digest 1 3/4 pounds of food, which is more than an average meal.

Read what Father Morrissey's treatment did for Mr. Gosline, of Salmon Lake. He writes Nov. 30, 1908:

"I was troubled with indigestion, so severe that I really thought I had cancer of the stomach. I took much doctors' remedies, till I was forced to seek another resource, and this was the Rev. Father Morrissey. His treatments worked miracles, until I have been entirely cured, so that now I do not look to the quality of the diet but to the quantity."

THIRTY-TWO KILLED.

South African Wreck In Gorge Is Worst In History.

Grahamstown, Cape Colony, April 24.—According to the latest estimates, 32 persons were killed in the wreck of a passenger train on the Kowie Railway, when it plunged to destruction into a gorge, 250 feet deep, through the collapse of the Blaauw-wantz bridge Saturday.

The rescue work involved heart-rending experiences, and the extrication of the injured from the debris was accompanied by terrible groans and cries. A large mass of wreckage lodged on a ledge 120 feet down, and it was many hours before all were removed from the different crags and hoisted in sacking to the lip of the gorge.

GUNNING FOR JUDGE.

Roland Tanner Sought Revenge and Has Disappeared.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 24.—The provincial police last night said they believed Roland B. Tanner, who left his home at Fonthill, Saturday afternoon, declaring he would kill County Judge Wells, has been drowned in the Welland Canal.

In spite of all the members of his family could do, Tanner left his farm at Fonthill, near here, Saturday, with an old gun under his arm, declaring he would get Judge Wells. The police traced him to near the canal, but nothing of his whereabouts are actually known.

Would Weaken Empire. New York, April 24.—A London cable to The Evening Post says: The Parliamentary discussion this week about the imperial conference, and letters in The Times, evidently by important personages, reveal an unsuspected weak spot in the constitutional theory of the British Empire.

The Empire's attitude towards Japan undoubtedly is the subject of the gravest discussion. The Government promises to reveal all Cabinet secrets to the colonial Premiers "under absolute secrecy."

Forbid Clergy to Attend.

Viterbo, April 24.—(New York Sun Cable.)—The bishop has forbidden the clergy to attend the Camorrista trial upon pain of excommunication unless they are subpoenaed.

The judge concluded the examination of the prisoners, including Maria Staudardos. The session was then adjourned until next Tuesday, when the prisoners will be confronted by Abbate-maggio.

A letter has been received from the Naples chemist Scotto saying that he intended to commit suicide, explaining that he was affected with incurable heart disease. It is an open secret that Scotto is one of the important witnesses for the prosecution and has repeatedly shammed suicide to escape Camorra vengeance.

In Memory of King Edward.

Plattsburg, N.Y., April 24.—A movement has been inaugurated to name the proposed New York to Montreal international highway in honor of President Taft and the late King Edward, in recognition of their efforts in the cause of peace.

Gen. A. Simard of Montreal, chairman of the Canada committee, formed to accomplish the building of the Canadian end of the road from Rouse's Point to Montreal, made the suggestion that part of the international highway be named King Edward road, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier is also known to be heartily in favor of the idea.

Howard D. Hadley of this city, chairman of the committee formed to bring about the building of the New York portion of the highway, now suggests that it be named Taft road.

TOWN HALL BURNED.

Thamesville Firemen Helpless While Apparatus Burns.

Thamesville, April 24.—Thamesville's fire brigade are out of a job. This is not by any special dispensation doing away with the danger of any visitation by fire, but by reason of an extra special visitation which on Saturday destroyed the Town Hall, in which, beside the municipal offices, are located the firehall, the police cells and the public library.

The fire started in the engine-room and spread rapidly. The volunteer brigade vaulted counters, and quit its various occupations and made a mad and heroic dash for the hose, but the fire beat them to it, and when the first of the fire-fighters arrived upon the scene the flames were merrily eating up all the instruments generally directed to its own destruction.

The flames were confined, however, to the Town Hall. There they demolished everything in sight. The stock of the library, except the librarian, more than $3,000 worth of knowledge and diversion, was consumed in this branch alone. The total damage will reach $20,000, with an insurance of $5,000.

The irony of fate was emphasized by the pumping of a bang-up water works within 40 feet of the triumphant blaze. Firemen and citizens stood about watching the biggest building in the town go down before their eyes.

As the flames crept up into the tower where the four-faced clock, built by George Sherran, looked over the town, the clock became hysterical with fright and struck 13. Then the watchers knew that it was all off. The bell tolled twice more and then the tower tumbled with a terrible crash.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES. Hugh Waddell, a wealthy citizen of Peterboro, died suddenly. Guelph Water Commissioners will plant 100,000 more young trees on the reservoir property.
