When It All Started.

When Adam met Eve he was bashful and shy,

- And he stammered and blushed every time she came nigh,
- Till at last he grew bold and began
- to pay court, You may put all your trust in this
- faithful report,
- And he murmured to her on an evening serene:
- "You're the prettiest girl that I ever have seen".
 - And that's how that started.
- When Eve, with a beautiful blush on her face,
- Yielded shyly and sweetly to Adam's embrace,
- And put up her red lips for the true lover's pact
- (You may set all this down as an absolute fact,)
- She inquired, while he breathed the fond names on his list:
- "Have you said that to all the girls vou have kissed ?"
- And that's how that started.
- When Adam asked Eve if she would be his bride,
- She looked up and looked down, and she sighed and she sighed. And she let him take hold of her
- lily-white hand
- (This is the history now, as you must understand),
- Then she said, in a voice that was dulcetly low:
- "I must take time to think. 'Tis so sudden, you know,"
- When they had been married a few

CHAPTER II

On calling at Earwaker's chambers one February evening, Malkin became aware, from the very threshold of the outer door, that the domicile was not as he had known it, With the familiar fragrance of Earwaker's special 'mixture blended a suggestion of new upholstery. The little vestibule had somehow put off its dinginess, and an unwontedly brilliant light from the sitting-room revealed changes of the interior which the visitor remarked with trank astonishment.

'What the deuce. Has it hap pened at last? Are you going to be married? he cried, staring about him at unrecognized chairs, tables, and bookcases, at whitened ceiling and pleasantly papered walls, at pictures and ornaments which he knew not.

The journalist shook his head, and smiled contentedly.

"An idea that came to me all at once' My editorship seemed to inspire it.'

After a year of waiting upon Providence, Earwaker had received the offer of a substantial appointment much more to his taste than those he had previously held. He was now literary editor of a weekly review which made no kind of appeal to the untaught multitude.

'I have decided to dwell here for the rest of my life,' he added, looking round the walls. 'One must have a homestead, and this shall be mine; here I have set up my penates. It's a portion of space you knew; and what more can be said of Longleat or Chatsworth? A house I shall never want, because I shall never have a wife. And on the whole I prefer this situation to any other. I am well within reach of everything urban that I care about, and as for the country, that is teo good to be put to common use; let it be kept for holiday. There's an atmosphere in the old Inns that pleases me. The new flats are insufferable. How can one live sandwiched between a music-hall singer and a female politician? For lodgings of any kind no sane man had ever a word of approval. Reflecting on all these things, I have established myself in perpetuity.' Just what I can't do,' exclaimed Malkin, flinging himself into a broad, deep, leather-covered chair. Yet I have leanings that way. Only a few days ago I sat for a whole evening with the map of England open before me, ing where would be the best place to settle down -a few years hence I mean you know; when Bella is old enough .- That reminds me. Next Sunday is her birthday. and do you know what? I wish you'd go down to Wrotham with me." 'Many thanks, but I think I had better not." 'Oh, but do! I want to see how Bella is getting on. She's grown wonderfully since you saw her in Paris-an inch taller, I should think. I don't go down there very often, you know, so I notice these changes. Really, I think no one could be more discreet than I am, under the circumstances. A friend of the family; that's all. Just dropping in tor a casual cup of tea now and then. Sunday will be a special occasion, of course. I sav what are your views about early marriage? Do you think seventeen too young?' 'I should think seven-and-twenty much better.' Malkin broke into fretfulness. 'Let me tell you, Earwaker, I don't like the way you habitually speak of this project of mine. Plainly, I don't like it. It's a very serious matter indeed-eh? What? Why are you smiling?'

average of only $250 per head. But to the rest of us what does all this new wealth mean? It means bread and butter for those who work on freight trains, in railway yards, in harbours, in ships, in offices as the grain goes from the farm to its destination. Then it means more as what the farmers gets in exchange for the grain finds its way back to him. It means imports of merchandise. It means cargoes in ships, it means work in the harbour, its means business for wholesale and retail houses, it means a market for the product of factories, it means employment for ten of thousands of people, it means the building of new homes for them and it means busy times in the shops which supply the wants of all these people.

That is what the farmers' creation of new wealth means to the rest of us. There is very, very little of it left over from year to year. If we wanted to know how to value it we would have to go a year or two without it. The last time it suffered a serious reduction there was almost a panic and our strongest houses were near to failure. Our solidest manufacturing establishment nearly closed and tens of thousands of working men were nearly out of a job.

The time never was when the average farmer lived in opulence. After his crop has served to keep steam in so many boilers the fires in his own burn low. If we can help him we should. If we can help him to double the creation of new wealth it is in our own interest to do it. -Montreal Herald.

AN AVIATOR'S FIRST LESSON.

Learn to Steer an Airship in a Straight Line for at Least a Mile.

The aviator's first lesson is to Bittors the presentation was made. Col. Sturson, who commanded the Canadian team at Bisley, gave a brief address. He said it was the first time ou record, that one man had carried off both the King's Prize and the Prince of Wales' Prize. Clifford had competed with 1.158 entrants for the King's Prize and had to shoot on learn to steer his airship in a perfectly straight line for a distance of a mile or over. This looks very easy until you discover that an aeroplane possesses the perversity common to all inanimate objects, remarks Leslie's Magazine. It always wants to go the other way instead of the straight way that you seek to direct. Your first dash across the field and back takes two minutes, if no mishap occurs. After two dashes of this description, a discreet teacher will dismiss you for the day. You have had all that your nerves ought to be asked to stand. In the best schools in France-a land famous for its aviators-no pupil, however apt, is permitted to have a longer daily lesson than five minutes at the outset of this course; and M. Houpert, who is a graduate of a leading French school of aviation, follows this plan.

A Cross of Pearls.

The extraordinary pearl, or, rather, cluster of pearls, known as the "Southern Cross," is probably the most remarkable example of its kind that nature has ever produced. So far as is known, it occupies a unique position among pearls. It consists of nine pearls naturally grown toether in so regular form an almost perfect Latin cross. This pearl was discovered by one Clark while he was pearl-fishing at Roeburn, West Australia, in 1874. At first glance it might be supposed that the component pearls of the cross had been artificially grouped together. A minute examination under strong light and high magnifying power, however, dispels any idea of artificiality.

Clifford of the 10th Royal Grenathere is none more perilous than the manufacture of gunpowder and none in which the public, which usually diers, winner of the King's Prize and the Prince of Wales' Prize at Bisley. suffers severely in case of accident, was accorded a typically Canadian welcome on his arrival home last takes so small an interest. The word gunpowder itself carries a suggestion of peril which is reflected in all the superstitions of the men who work in the trade. The men who work in powder plants are a study in themselves. Probably in no other business do the human agents take more precautious against disaster with such pitiful results.

Men who work in powder plants are in constant fear of death. They are face to face with peril every second. Instead of growing hardened to it, as do the laborers in many other fields of danger, they appear to be the most superstitious class of men on earth. They are well paid. A man who has nerve enough to work at this trade is worthy of his bire. He can command $10 a day, sometimes $20. He practically makes his own rules, since he is the one to suffer from an infraction of them. His every suspicion is respected by his employer. He cannot dictate the hours of labor, since that is a matter eternally in dispute, as in other kinds of labor, but he can dictate the conditions under which he works from the moment he enters the factory until he leaves.

These superstitions seem absurd sometimes, but they are the law of the gunpowder factory. If you are an employer you break the law at the risk of financial loss: if you are a fellow employee you violate it at the risk of your life.

One of the first laws among the employees is that of self preservation. They have a deep rooted fear of the casual visitor. Few men have gone through a gunpowder plant out of mere curiosity. They are not wanted and are told so frankly. If they succeed in obtaining the permission of the superintendent or possibly of some one higher in authority they are subfected to an extraordinary ordeal before they are admitted to the sacred precincts.

First they are searched, and no police official is more adept in the art of "frisking" than is the outer guardian of the average gunpowder plant. Every piece of metal, from pocketknife to garter clasp-every coin, match, suspender buckle, everything that could possibly strike a spark, is removed. The hatband of the most fashionable derby is examined with care to see that it carries no metal initials. And this examination is not earried on alone by the official whose favor you have gained. A representative of the employees takes an active part in the examination, and if he has any doubts he will politely request you to strip to the skin.

Once inside the powder factory you are under even more careful scrutiny. Your shoes are taken away, and you are provided with feit slippers. Convinced that on your person there is no piece of metal which under any provocation could strike a spark, you may feel at liberty to roam around, but you are not. Your every movement is watched carefully, and should you make a gesture calculated to inspire distrust you would be hustled out of the building and told to leave the neighborhood within a given time,

THE CATSKILL GNOMES.

Legend of the Ugly Elves and Hendrick Hudson and His Men.

In the Catskill mountains, back of Grand Hotel station, is a large amphitheater where, Indian legend tells us, live the ugly little Catskill dwarfs with bushy beards and eyes like pigs who can do many marvelous things.

They work surpassingly well in metals, and it is from their forges that in autumn comes the baze of Indian summer.

But their most marvelous feat is the brewing of a liquor which shortens the bodies and swells the heads of all who drink it.

It was to their tender mercles that Hendrick Hudson and his men fell, having landed from the Half Moon and lost their way among the mountains. The gnomes held a mad carouse in their bonor, capering and dancing around the amphitheater and bringing forth great flagons of their magic wine.

Hudson and his men drank freely and deeply, only to become misshapen, ugly dwarfs from that time forth. Since then they have wandered around the Catskill mountains, appearing to men once in twenty years.

The last time they were due to be seen was in 1909. So now they will not appear again until 1929, when any one daring enough can go up to the mountains to test for himself the truth of the legend .- Alice Phebe Eldridge in New York World.

EXQUISITE PAIN.

The Fifth and Dental Nerves Are the Most Agonizing Thrillers.

Which part of the human body is the most sensitive to pain? A sharp definition must be drawn here between irritation and pain. Irritation is not pain, but only a frequent cause of it. Thus a crumb lodged in the larynx near the vocal cords produces violent irritation and prolonged coughing, which often result in actual pain. So, too, a fly or speck of dust in the eye sets up violent irritation and infiammation, followed by acute pain. Of the surface of the body the finger tips and the end of the tongue are most sensitive. For instance, a burn on the fingers is much more painful than one on the back would be, while one on the tongue would be more painful still.

Deep wounds are not painful, as a rule, save as regards the surface injury. Of pains not caused by external injuries neuralgia of the fifth nerve, the one which supplies the skin of the head and face, is the most intense. It has frequently driven people mad for the time being, and sufferers have been known to cut and even burn the flesh in desperate attempts to relieve it. The rupture of the branches of the dental nerve in tooth drawing also causes agony so intense that it has been stated that no human being could endure it for more than two seconds at a time .--Pearson's Weekly.

The Joy of Pockets.

The pocket has to be lacked before it is properly appreciated, the London Chronicle says. This writer had taken his pockets as a matter of course until one evening he attended a fancy dress ball in a costume which, he discovered when too late to remedy the defect, was absolutely pocketless. The question at once arose what to do with pocket handkerchief, money, cloakroom ticket and so on. The handkerchief, of course, went up his sleeve, but it took some minutes to devise receptacles for coins and other necessaries in the lining of the cap, the heels few words were lost in the cheers of the crowd. Politics Hot In Spain.

Paris, Aug. 15.—Vague rumors of political troubles in Spain are afloat here. They cannot be confirmed and appear to be based chiefly on the absence of definite news to the contrary from Madrid, where the censorship of press despatches has been particuarly strict since the mutiny on board the Spanish battleship Numancia.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

But her real feelings were astonishment and amusement, not unmingled with an idle gratification.

'I must ask you to pardon me,' said Christian, whose forehead gleamed with moisture.

No, don't say that. I am really so sorry! What an odd mistake!' 'And I have hoped in vain-since you were free-

'Oh, you mustn't say such things, I shall never dream of marrying again-never!'

There was a matter-of-fact vigour in the assertion which proved that Mrs. Palmer spoke her genuine thought. The tone could not be interpreted as devotion to her husband's memory; it meant, plainly and simply, that she had had enough of marriage, and delighted in her freedom.

Christian could not say another word. Disillusion was complete. The voice, the face, were those of as unspiritual a woman as he could easily have met with, and his life's story was that of a fool.

He took his hat, held out his hand, with 'Good-bye, Mrs. Palmer. The cold politeness left her no choice but again to look offended, and with merely a motion of the head she replied, Good-bye-Mr. Moxey.'

'I agree with you as to its seriousness.

Making Tea In Tibet.

Buf The people of Tibet make their tea in a complex fashion. They get it in Jer Ne Pro "bricks," which are brought overland from China by caravan. When a Tibetan wants to make tea he takes a piece of tea brick, pulverizes it and boils it in a kettle for a few minutes with a sufficiency of water and a pinch of salt. Then he puts the mixture into a little churn, adding a bit of butter and a small quantity of fine ground barley. These things he churns vigorously for a few minutes and then pours the stuff into the teapot. A strainer of bamboo is used. Each person in Tibet carries his or her own tea bowl, which is of wood, tucked into the folds of the body garment or robe.

I had a graphic illustration of the extreme care taken by these men to prevent an accident and to save their own lives. After having been carefully searched and after having surrendered everything which might come under the classification of metal I was admitted to the plant. Secure in the knowledge that I was thoroughly "disinfected," I assumed a nonchalance which I was far from feeling as I watched the various processes of making gunpowder. I was so well at ease that I drew a toothpick from my pocket and calmly picked my teeth.

Instantly 1 was thrown to the floor and while two husky men held me a third searched my clothing. When finally I was released it was explained to me that they feared the toothpick might be a match.

Laboring under the constant fear of death, the employees grow extraordinarily superstitious. Once allow a woman to set foot within a powder factory and the entire force will guit. It is one of the axioms of the trade that a woman brings misfortune, and it is useless to argue the question. A woman photographer for a newspaper on a "Sunday assignment" once was admitted into an Illinois powder factory by an inexperienced official, and the next day the plant was shut down. The employees struck. The plant remained idle until an entire new force was recruited .- Chicago News.

The Canned Green Pea Bomb.

The innocent looking "canned green pea bomb" is, according to an expert chemist, "the most hellish affair invented." It was sent to a prominent Parisian hotel keeper as a sample. He suspected something and sent it to the government laboratory. It was found to contain a powerful explosive and belonged to the class called "bombe a renversement"-that is, a bomb the inversion of which causes instant explosion. It is fitted out with a straight or curved glass tube connecting two vials containing the necessary acids, A wad of cotton separates the fluids, and this wad in some instances serves in place of a time fuse. It was a bomb of this kind which caused the terrible loss of life in the central police station of St. Petersburg some time ago .- Chicago Tribune.

CONSERVATIVE MANIFESTO

Chief of Opposition Again Sums Up His Arguments Against Reciprocity and Declares That It Will Destroy Canadian Autonomy-Messrs. Graham and King Are With the Premier.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Sir Wilfrid Lau-rier and R. L. Borden left Ottawa last night for Simcoe and London, where they will open their campaigns to-night. The Prime Minister, who will have with him Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the new Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and Alex. Smith, for-mer Liberal organizer for Ontario, left by the Grank Trunk at 6 o'clock and goes straight through to Simcoe, where Hon. Geo. P. Graham and Hon. Mackenzie King will join him.

Mr. Borden left at 11.20 by C.P.R. for Toronto. He will have Hon. J. J. Foy, Attorney-General of Ontario, and a number of Western Ontario mem-bers with him in London. Mr. Borden stays in Ontario, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier leaves Simcoe for Three Rivers, where he speaks on Thursday.

Mr. Borden yesterday issued a mani-festo to the electors of Canada, in which he voiced the position of the party and replied to the Premier's pronouncement of a few days ago. It says in part: "The objections to that compact are profound and abiding. They may be thus summarized: "It shatters the ideal and the hope of reciprocity within the Empire. The President of the United States has avowed that the main purpose with which he sought the treaty was to pre-vent the consolidation of the British Empire.

"It reverses the policy of Canadian nationhood, which sought to bring together the provinces of Canada by intercourse and commerce over east and west lines of transportation; and it stultifies the unexampled sacrifices of a half century which the Canadian people have cheerfully made for that high purpose. "It is a direct and serious menace to our international lines of water communication and to our ocean shipping as well as to our Canadian Atlantic ports that have been construct-ed and equipped at such enonmous cost to the country. "It abandons the policy of improved trade relations with the British people, our best customers, and centres our hopes on the American people, our strongest competitors in the markets of the world.

"It will destroy the distinctive character and reputation of our staple pro-ducts, which will henceforth be merged in those of the United States, and will be known as American rather than Canadian products.

'It exposes our natural resources to the depredations of the gigantic trusts which have already secured control of those of the United States.

"It will encourage the export of our raw material and unfinished products for manufacture abroad instead of at home.

"It will establish conditions and relations from which it will be ex-tremely difficult and even impossible to retreat, except with the consent of the United States or under terms dictated by her."

SLAYS HIS WIFE.

Laborer Beats Woman to Death In Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 15 .- Because there was a can of beer and a bottle of whisky on his table at 254 Claremont street, but no fire in the stove and no supper ready for him when he arrived home at 5 e clock yesterday afternoon. Edward Wilkie, 33 years of age, an American laborer, is in the cells at the Esther street station, charged with murder of his wife, whose body lies in the city morgue.

When Wilkie arrived home, he says he found his wife drunk and when he asked for his supper, she abused him. A quarrel ensued and the police came in to make peace. Later the quarrelling was resumed and about 11.20 last night, the woman was heard screaming for help. Policeman Smith (S6) forced an entry and found Wilkie pinning his wife to the stair-way by the throat. Blood was running from her nose and mouth.

The policeman separated them and the woman demanded that the husband be locked up and charged with assault. There was considerable dis-cussion, and Smith was just about to leave with Wilkie when the woman collapsed. Dr. Webster of College street was called, but when he arrived life wass extinct. Wilkie admitted to the police that he had struck his wife with his fists, but said that he had used no weapon. There are two daughters, 14 and 16 years of age.

DESERTING RAINBOW.

Cruiser's Men Tempted by High Pay In the West.

Ottawa, Aug. 15 .- R. J. Lang, secretary of Naval Department, when seen regarding the statement that 46 men had deserted from the cruiser Rain-bow on the Pacific coast, stated that these desertions had been going on ever since the cruiser went to Esquimalt station.

Higher pay elsewhere is given as the reason. "It is not an uncommon thing for men to desert from warships on the Pacific coast, even in large num-bers," said Mr. Lang.

"It has been done on imperial ships stationed there time and time again. You see, wages are high on the coast, and as the naval department is naturally unable to pay prevailing rate, the men desert and obtain work elsewhere at more money. I do not know off-hand the total number of men who have deserted from the Rainbow since she went to the Pacific coast, but would say that 45 or 50 was approximately correct."

Drowned While Bathing. Barrie, Aug. 15 .- Hezesks' Gray, an Englishman, 27 years of age, came to his death by drowning while bathing in Kempenfeldt Bay at Fisherman's Point on Sunday morning about 11 o'clock. Gray was accompanied by Dalton Dunsmore, a young lad 14 years of age, and a son of his em-ployer, who, being familiar with the water in that vicinity, warned Gray against going out too far, as there are some deep holes around there. They had not been in the water long before young Dunsmore heard a splash and on looking around saw his companion struggling to reach the shore. Being unable to swim him-self. Dunsmore called to some campers along the shore for help, but before assistance could reach him Gray had gone down for the last time. His body was afterwards recovered in about ten feet of water. The young man's only relatives are an aged mother and a brother, who live in England. He had been em-bloyed ever since coming to Canada by W. H. Dunsmore, a farmer, livint St. John, N.B., Aug. 15.-The Con-a short distance from Barrie on the Penetang road.

RAILWAY STRIKE LOOMS UP

Officials After Meeting Declare That a Tie-Up of the Roads of the United Kingdom Is Now Inevitable-Liver. pool Employers Lock-out Men-More Disturbances Mark Day

In Britain's Seaport City.

London, Aug. 15.-Last night there appeared little hope of averting a great railroad strike, which probably will be accompanied by a general labor revolt that will have a tremendous effect on the trade of the United Kingdom.

At a meeting held in London yesterday by the managers of all railroads having terminals here it was resolved that the time had arrived to resist the men's encroachments. The managers contend that the men by striking will violate the agreement arrived at after the railway troubles of 1907. under which all disputes were to be referred to conciliation boards or an arbitrator. This agreement, they say, was to run until 1914, unless either side gave notice of its termination, which has not been done.

Yesterday's meeting was unanimous that the only.way to terminate con-stant dislocation of business would be to take a firm stand and refuse all concessions to the men. One manager in an interview after the meeting expressed the fear that there will be grave troubles on all the railway systems of the country before the present week is ended. He said the railroads were preparing to run the best services they could under the circumstances, with the aid of police protection for their employes who are still willing to work

Sectional strikes of railway men were declared last night at Manchester. Liverpool, Sheffield, and other places. Some of the railway lines already have given notice of their inability adequately to handle freight traffic.

Declared General Strike.

Liverpool, Aug. 15.-The strike com-mittee at 12 o'clock last night declared a general strike of all transport workers, including the railway men, who, up to the last, had refused to go out. The strike will be effective on all the local steamboats and the Mersey ferries. Seven thousand Mersey dockers struck last night at Birken head.

During the day the lockout threatened by the shipowners became ef-fective, and 30,000 men were refused employment until they decided to abide by the terms of a recent agreement.

ment. There has been much disorder in both Liverpool and Birkenhead throughout the day, and the police were constantly in conflict with dis-orderly crowds. Last night the pla-teau in front of St. George's Hall, where the rioting started Sunday, be-come impossible because of the gract came impassble because of the great crush of workmen. There were fre-quent stampedes, following the efforts of the police to disperse the crowds.

Glasgow Tramway Strike.

Glasgow, Aug. 15.-The tramway strike situation has improved percep-tibly, and is likely to collapse altogether. A majority of the men have agreed to return to work and submit their dispute with the municipality to the arbitration of the Board of Trade.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

The British Commons has decided not to adjourn until strike troubles are ended. Mr. Hugh Guthrie denies the report that he has any intention of retiring from politics. Edward Jessop, arrested on a charge of receiving stolen goods, escaped from the lock-up at Port Stanley. Three young people from Carleton were drowned in Mississippt Place. Lake, their canoe capsizing while being towed behind a launch.

Rev. Hugh McGuire, of Chicago, reputed to be the premier Catholic educator of the American priesthood, is dead at Hamburg, Germany. Fire at Chester Park; an anusement resort on the northern boundary of Cincinnati, destroyed many amuse-ment building at a loss of $175,000. The steam barge Mary Louise, loaded with a cargo of wooden boxes, was sunk near Brewer's Mills on the Rideau River, . 1d is in bad shape. All the crew escaped. Percy J. Potter, a Kingston mason, had a miraculous escape from death when he fell a distance of 25 feet off a scaffold at Odessa. He only suffered a severe shaking up.

The C.P.R. statement for the year ending June 30 shows a surplus of nearly twenty-right million dollars. The usual quarterly dividend were declared by the director.

An important meeting was held at the old Methodist chapel at Hay Bay -which is described as the mother church of Methodism in Canada. is to be taken over and preserved. The crew of seventeen men of the French fishing schooner Leon E. Milie, were brought into St. Pierre, Mig. on Sunday by the French bark Saint Briac and reported the loss of their ship.

Harvey Harbutt, a well-to-do farm er, aged about 40 years, who lived near Jennette's Creek, Kent County, committed suicide by throwing him-self into the creek a mile above the iron bridge.

High Constable Green of Guelph arrested two men in Drayton, who had in their possession a complete set of burglars' tools and dynamite. They gave names of J. B. Austin and Bert Willard.

A Kingston youth, 18 years of age, tried to desert his 18-year-old bride by joining the Canadian navy. After he had passed as a single man, his wife appeared on the scene just in time to prevent his leaving. A true bill charging murder in the first degree was returned by the grand jury of the Chesterfield (Va.) Circuit Court yesterday against Henry Clay Beattie, jr., of Richmond. He will be tried for his life as the alleged murderer of his wife.

McCurdy Has Accident.

Aviation Field, Grant Park, Chi-ego, Ill., Aug. 15 .- J. A. D. McCurdy, the Canadian air-man, fell 40 feet when his biplane caught fire from contact with electric wires at the north end of the park. The McCurdy accident left fifteen or twenty strands of high power electric wire to the Chicago Yacht Clubhouse dangling among 20,000 spectators in the free seats.

A heavy police guard immediately surrounded the wires and tried to drive the crowd away. Electricians declared that any of the wires carried sufficient power to cause death. Mc-Curdy was not hurt.

Rene Simon in his monoplane sank off Harrison street. The hydropiane assisted him to arise and he got safely into the air. Again his motor refused to work and the monoplane dropped to the water again, this time overturning. Simon was uninjured and got free from the monoplane and held on to it. A motorboat went out for him. Lee Hammond, an entrant in the water crib race, fell into the lake in the last lap. Two launches, which were patrolling the course, went out to his rescue.

To Tempt Death Again.

Niagara Falis, Ont., Aug. 15.—Cap-tain Klaus Larsen, Cleveland, who last September successfully navigated the whirlpool rapids in the motor boat Ferro, arrived here yesterday to arrange another trip through the torrent in his new boat, the Niagara. He told a reporter last night he felt confident of success. Larsen's new boat has five feet six inches beam, and with the exception of two circu-lar hatches, is decked over. She measures four feet from the crown of her deck to the bottom of her keel, and is propelled by a 13 horse-power engine, with a speed of a little better than nine miles an hour. The after hatch is also used as a cockpit. When the Niagara starts on her perilous journey through the rapids her forward hatch will be hermetically sealed, while the after hatch will be fitted with a canvas hood with an

Fatal Heat In Germany.

Berlin, Aug. 15 .- The hot wave has claimed many victims. Sunday was the hottest August 13 since the establishment of the weather bureau in 1848. The local observatory reported 39 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade but the shade temperature in the streets was about 97 degrees. At Frankforth-on-the-Main it was 95 de-At grees.

In this city 34 cases of sunstroke, four of them fatal, were reported. A cab-driver became insane because of the heat

Several fires, due to spontaneous combustion, occurred. A number of forest fires broke out in the vicinity. A great conflagration is raging on the moors at the Belgo-German frontier. Soldiers of both countries are fighting the fire. Despite the intense heat rail way traffic is enormously heavy ow-ing to the fact that the schools will epen to-morrow. It is estimated that 80,000 persons returned from Baltic and North Sea resorts on Sunday.

Suspect Cholera Cases.

Ottawa, Aug. 15-The health branch of the Department of Agriculture has received advices from Grosse Isle to the effect that there are 37 cases of suspected Asiatic cholera on the in-coming steamer, Lake Erie, and a large number of suspected snallpox cases on the German vessel Wittinkind. Insurance For Durbar.

London, Eng., Aug. 15 .- During the past week or two a number of insur-ances have been effected in Lloyd's in connection with the Coronation Durbar at Delhi. The uncertainty of the political situation at home and abroad has led to fears that the Durbar may have to be abandoned altogether. Against this risk underwriters in Lloyd's are issuing policies at 10gs. per cent., covering only the risk of abandonment. In a few instances policies have been issued at 30gs. per cent., covering against an alteration in the date, but very lew insurers are willing to take this risk, as it is considered that by no means unlikely that local health conditions may make a temporary postponement of the Durbar advisable.

It's Going to Be Hot Again.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—Get ready for an-other hot wave. Yesterday marked the beginning of it. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the mercury was at 74. The maximum temperature on Sunday was 78. Thunderstorms occur-red in the Maritime Provinces, Que-bec and the Northwest, but Ontario remained dry. "The outlook is for more summer," says the observatory officials with a grin.
