The little fellow, with a number other boys, was bathing and it is thought that he was seized with cramps and went down. MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Mr. Stephen Purser Who Was Overcome in File Factory Fell on Burning Lantern

Was unconscious From Eleven O'clock Until Next Morning

Mr. Stephen Purser, who was eized with a weak spell while on duty as nightwatchman at the Nicholson File Works on Monday, is able to be about to-day, although very weak.

In conversation with the Guide representative this morning, Mr. Purser stated that about ten o'clock on Monday night, he felt himself growing weak and endeavoured to reach the telephone to call assist-ance but fell on his way. He thinks he remained there a couple of hours when he sufficiently recovered to get up. He managed to reach the barn when he was again overcome, and he remembered nothing afterwards until he was picked up in the morning by some of the other employees. Mr. Purser was carrying a burning lantern and he fell on this smashing it to atoms and it was miraculous that his clothing did not ignite or any damage done to the factory.

Mr. Pursers home is in Peterboro and he left for there this atternoon.

The next game takes place between the Methodist and Baptists to-morrow evening and it is hoped that both teams will be on the field ready to start at seven o'clock sharp. Let every player make a move and get there.

Inquest Into Death of Mrs. Thos. Harrison Resumed Important Evidence Taken.

Peterboro, Aug. 1-The adjourned inquest into the death of Mrs. Thos. Harrison, whose sudden death occurred at Fraserville a week ago while driving to Peterhoro, was resumed Monday night in the Orange Hall at that place, and on account of the Provincial Analyst not having his report of the stomach yet ready, another adjournment had to be made. The inquest will be re-sumed at the town hall two weeks from Monday night.

Although no conclusion could be arrived at on account of the wanting information from the Analyst, a great amount of valuable information was imparted. Thes. P. Deig, an accountant in the Bank of Toronto, here, was the first witness called. With regard to the financial embarrassment the late Mrs. Harrison was in, he outlined her connection with the said bank. He stated that on the 27th of July, he and the Deputy Sheriff served a writ of summons on Mrs. Harrison. She told the men a story which was afterwards proved by them to be false. She made a statement to the effect that her husband was in Seaforth with blood poisoning. It appears that previous to this, she had been served several times with notices to the effect that her note in the Bank was due, and several times she had promised payment, but failed to keep her pro-mise. She also told them a story of her husband being left a large sum of money by a deceased rela-tive, since he had taken sick, and she told them that she was waiting ing Skip J. W. Ball defeated Skip for a telegram telling her where the H. B. Rosevear by a score of 22 money was. Doubting the Skip Ball will meet the winner truth of her statement, the men of the Aldrich-Gillies match for drove to Cavanville, where they were informed by Mr. Tinney that he had bought no cattle off her at all, but that some time previous he In a league game last evening had purchased a horse from Mr. the Baptist defeated the St. Paul's Harrison. The two men then a score of 18-17. The game did not get started formed Mrs Harrison that they had until seven o'clock, and the last found out that her statement was innings had to be played when it false, and that they had found out that her husband was working back in the fields at the present time. in the last inning the saints were This was the night previous to her

Mr. Thos Harrison, husband of the deceased, told of how Mrs. Harrison became agitated over the threat of arrest that Mr. Little and Mr. Doig had made, and wanted him to go to Peterboro right away that night, and they had the boises hitched, and then decided not to go until morning. Mr. Harrison also stated that Mrs. Harrison told him to go to bed, that she could not for it was no use; she said she would not sleep any way. He said that they did not go to bed, and spent the night in talking over their troubles, and looking over the papers they had been served with. Previous to this he stated that on Sunday morning the little girl was sweeping the floor, and found a package of strychnine. And Mr. Harrison stated that he had found out later that she had purchased 15 grains at a local drug store, on May 27th, where they dealt.

Mr. Harrison assumed a very unconcerned air while under examination and yawned repeatedly.

All the startling details of probably a horrible tragedy have not yet come to light, but a most gruesome find was the experience of a farmer named Martin Henry last Monday evening on Mr. J. Madill's farm near Fraserville, says the Peterboro Examiner. Mr. Henry was just going to put the horses which he hed been working into an old barn, while he was having supper, and to his dismay found the badly decomposed and decayed body of a man lying in a manger. The body had apparently been there for some time, as the flesh had so decayed that the body was not recognizable. The barn is an old log structure situated about a mile and a half north of Fraserville, and about 500 yards from the road. It had not been used all summer, and as the men who had been working at the grain near the barn all day, they decided to tie the horses in there while they sat down for luncheon. and in this manner found the unknown man.

The body was found about 5.30 Monday evening, and as the coroner, Dr. Greer, was at Fraserville conducting the Harrison inquest, he empanneled the jury for this inquest.

The jury proceeded to the barn and viewed the remains. No person has been reported missing in that neighborhood, but an old man named John Carroll was last seen in that neighborhood about six weeks ago, and in conversation with a man of that neighborhood stated that his money was all gone and he was in very hard circumstances, and it is thought that the remains may prove to be those of Carroll, though at the time of going to press no information had been to hand.

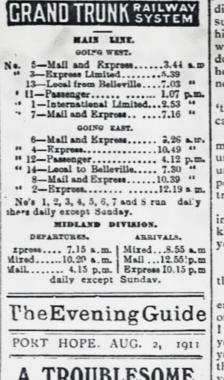

LATER .

A official report this afternoon from Springville is to the effect that the body found was that of John Carroll, an old man aged 75 years. For some time past he had been wandering about the country, and a resident of Springville about six weeks ago, when he was last seen. that his money had run out, and he was in hard circumstances. Constable Archie Moore is in charge of the remains at present. An inquest will be held at the Town Hall today (Wednesday) at 8 o'clock p.m. It is thought, however, that he took a weak spell and tell into the manger where he expired from weakness and his advanced age.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

'It was natural enough .- And you were disposed to believe it?' 'I thought it impossible. But 1 should have thought the same of the other things.

Peak nodded, and moved away. Watching him, Sidwell was beset with conflicting impulses. His assurance had allayed her worst misgiving, and she approved the self-restraint with which he bore himself, but at the same time she longed for a passionate declaration. As a reasoning woman, she did her utmost to remember that Peak was on his defence before her, and that nothing could pass between them but grave discussion of the motives which had impelled him to dishonourable behaviour. As a woman in love, she would fain have ! obscured the moral issue by indulgence of her heart's desire. She was glad that he held aloof but if would have forgotten everything in

'Why didn't you tell me that the day before yesterday?' she asked, with tremulous bosom.

She was silent, then exclaimed in accents of pain:

'Why should you have thought it necessary to be other than yourhe had taken her in his arms, she self? Couldn't you see, at first meeting with us, that we were not bigoted people? Didn't you know that Buckland had accustomed us to understand how common it is nowadays for people to throw off the old religion? Would father have looked coldly on you if he had known that you followed where so many good and thoughtful men were leading?'

He regarded her anxiously

"I had heard from Buckland that your father was strongly prejudiced that you also were quite out of sympathy with the new thought.' He exaggerated-even then.'

'Exaggerated? But on what plea could I have come to live in this neighborhood? How could I, have kept you in sight-tried to and because of its germ destroying win your interest? I had no means power, it eradicates the germ or no position. The very thought of parasite which causes eczema and encouraging my love for you demanded some extraordinary step. What course was open to me?' Sidwell let her head droop.

'I don't know. You might perhaps have discovered a way."

You certainly cannot lose anything 'But what was the use, when the mere fact of my heresy would have forbidden hope from the outset: "Why should it have done so?" (TO BE CONTINUED.)

Cadets and Recruits Are Sent Off For Three Weeks Holiday

Halifax, Aug. 2.—The condition of the cruiser Niobe at Clarke's Harbor, where she is anchored, is one of grave peril for the warship. A despatch from there last night says that in spite of all that her own pumps can do and although the pumping appara-tus on wrecking steamers is kept going day and night, the water is slow-y gaining, and the Niobe is settling by the stern.

Last evening not more than ten feet were visible above the surface. The cruiser is anchored in seven fathoms of water, three quarters of a mile off West Head, a point in Clarke's Har-bor. A red flag has been set half way between the ship and the shore, marking the most suitable spot to beach the cruiser if it comes to the worst. The weather continues clear and fine. One of the holes in the bottem of the Niobe is said to be twenty-five feet long and ten feet wide.

During repairs to H.M.C.S. Niobe the cadets will be furnished with free transportation, 3 month and a half pay, and three weeks leave of absence. The reason given by Admiral Kingsmill for this is that they were only in the way and that as no train-ing was going on it was better for them to be ashore, thus leaving the Waller narrowly escaped having his head chopped off by Charles I. & enemies. The fact that he was a marriage a connection of Oliver Cromwell probably saved his life. In the conflict between King Charles and the Common he was at first en-listed on the side of the latter. In February, 1643, he was one of the commissioners appointed to treat with the King at Oxford. Charles received him graciously, and it way during the poet's stay at Oxford that what was known as "Waller's Plot" was conceived. On his return to London he became the channel through which the adherents of Charles at Oxford communicated with his friends in London.

The edict of the plot was to secure that city for the king, to seize upon the defences, the magazine, and the tower, from which the Earl of Bath was to be liberated and made the general of Charles' forces. The king was to be informed of the hour of Waller was fined $50,000 and heaviehed the realm. It $50,000 and banished the realm. "Col." Clark, M. P. P., has been out west with Borden, warning the people against the dangers - the mysterious peril - of reciprocity. "Just what the Opposition thinks that danger may be," says the Vancouver Sunset, "does not seem quite clear from their speeches, nor does Colonel Clark elucidate it quite so happily as one might expect from a man of his pungent wit and faculty for terse phraseology." And it has not been a very successful bogey. The Sunset says :

It seems a pity that a man of Col. Clark's undoubted courage, his proven pluck and high optimism should get wobbly in the knees and bulging in the eyes at the thought of buying and selling more goods with the United States. Also it is a national catastrophe that a printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. Ferry Sirius Hits Shoal and Seven Persons Perish.

RETURNING FROM CORNWALL

Terrible Tragedy Occurs In St. Lawrence River When Small Boat With Seventy-Five Passengers Turns Over on Sand Bank-Picnickers Go Out in Skiffs and Do Some Heroic Rescue Work.

Massena, N.Y., Aug. 2 .- Seven persons were drowned late yesterday af-ternoon in the St. Lawrence River, when the ferry steamer Sirius struck a shoal, eight miles below this city, capsized and hurled its seventy-five passengers into the river. Four bodies have been recovered.

The steamer Sirus left the dock here yesterday morning for Cornwall on the Canadian side, with seventy-five per-sons, bound for a day's outing there. Most of those aboard were residents of Ogdensburg and Massena. The picnic crowd boarded the Sirius on the return trip about four o'clock yesterday afternoon and were seated on deck under the canvas awning when the crash came. The deck was swept bare in a moment and the entire party were struggling for life in the swift waters. Wo-men who could not swim clutched at camp stools and other portable articles hurled into the river by the impact, while others, upheld and aided by male companions, battled their way against the current to the overtarned Picnickers at the Internasteamer tional Park, just opposite the scene of the wreck, managed to get off with the skiffs available.

They picked off scores who had clung to the sides of the ferry boat. Others, benumbed and exhausted were swept down stream to death. Among them were the Misses Parker, who were spending their vacation in Massena. Futile attempts were also made by swimmers to save Miss Dewey and Floyd Hackett from the current.

So quickly did the river claim its victims that those who were drowned had already met their end when boats from the International Park reached the scene, scarcely five minutes after the crash. The work of rescuing under the circumstances was very great.

Those rescued were taken to the International Park and later proceeded to this city.

Three of the bodies recovered are those of women. They are: Miss Hat tie Parker of Ogdensburg, N.Y.; Mist Nellie Parker of Ogdensburg, N.Y. Miss Ada Dewey of Massena, and Floyd Hackett of Massena.

The identity of the three persons, who, according to the captain's tally, are missing, is not known. Scores of persons in motorboats and skiffs are endeavoring to recover the bodies.

The Sirius lies near mid-stream, capsized. The vessel was formerly a private yacht and saw service at the Thousand Islands. She is a trim little boat, owned by Cept. Weston Uc-line of Massena, N.Y., and has plied between that port and Cornwall, doing a passenger and excursion busi-ness of considerable magnitude, for close on ten years.

No one connected with the asylun knows exactly when the fire started and no one can account for its origin although defective wiring is ascrib as the cause. An attendant is sup posed to have passed the spot when the fire was discovered on his regula: rounds at one o'clock. No sign of fire was then to be seen, but a few min utes afterwords a refractory patien made another visit to the hall D ne cessary, and the blaze was then burn ing energetically. The attendant at tempted to subdue the flames, but his efforts were futile and the alarm was then sounded. The asylum fire brigade attacked the threatening conflagration but it soon became evident that the fight was hopeless, and at 1.45 a.m. the city fire department was notified.

European Scientists In Canada Pre paring For Trip.

Montreal, Aug. 2 .- Two travelers arrived in Montreal yesterday preparec to battle against the cold and hardships of the Arctic circle. They are Christian Leden, noted as an explorer in different parts of Greenland, and Harold Thaulow of the Norwegian Ethnological Arctic Canada Expedi tion, and their home is in Christiania Norway.

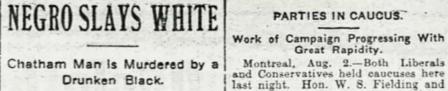

Although the object of this expedition is merely to prepare the way much greater expedition in 1912, Mr. Leden considers the importance of their work should not be minimized, as on this occasion they intend to study some lost tribes of Athabasca Indians and collect zoological and oth-er specimens for the University of Christiania and Ethnological Museum of Berlin. The later expedition will go further north and will be composed of at least four or five Europeans, who will make a more extensive investigation into the habits, customs, language, relig-ion, signs and history of the Athabasea Indians and Esquimaux.

Messrs. Leden and Thaulow are patronized by the King and Queen of Norway, and assisted financially by the Norwegian and German aristocracy. They have a phonograph to record the speech of the natives, and cameras and cinematograph to depict their habits.

After Assault-Is Arrested.

Chatham, Ont., Aug. 2 .- As a tragic sequel to the colored emancipation celebration here yesterday. Thomas Brown, white, aged about 50 years, was struck on the head and killed by Charles Hurst, a negro, aged about 26 years.

Brown and Hurst were walking along Colborne street together at six | o'clock, when some altercation took place. The negro grabbed a heavy club and beat the white man over the head with it in such a brutal manner that he died ten minutes later. The n gro left his hapless victim and fled down William street. A policeman started in hot pursuit, aided by enraged white citizens. Hurst doubled on his pursuers and ran back down town, but was caught and arrested by Officer Thomas Groves, before he could get in hiding. Hurst was locked up charged with murder. The chief police immediately order the hotel bars in the vicinity of the park where the negroes were celebrating, closed up for the night. About the time the killing took place there were a great many drunken negroes around the streets. It is supposed that Hurst was much the worse of liquor when he struck Brown.

The deceased, Thomas Brown, leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. W. J Strong, of Toronto, who is now contending in the courts with her husband for the custody of their child. Hurst was a colored porter in the Garner Hotel here.

Port au Prince, Aug. 2 .- The capital has been completely invested by the revolutionists and it is probable that they will refuse a delay of three days asked for by President Simon to effect plans to secure the capitol from pillage and will enter the city immediately.

It is probable also that President Simon, who has consented to leave the country will be obliged to embark today for some foreign port.

Alex. Harris, who was running the boat, took fire near Huckleberry Island and was destroyed.

With Harris in the boat were four others: William Depster, William Smith, Thomas Haig and a young man by the name of Jakes.

The four passengers, though badly burned, managed to swim ashore, but Harris is missing and it is certain he has been drowned. No one seems to know just how the accident happened.

A Losing Proposition.

London, Aug. 2.—Head counting in the House of Lords on the veto bill has now been transformed to the Lib-eral side of the chamber. Viscount Morley has written a letter to all the Liberal peers, intimating that the veto bill again will be submitted to the Lords probably on Aug. 9, and, after referring to the hostile inten-tions of the Halsburyites against the measure, asks in view of this emergency whether he may count upon the attendance in the chamber on Aug. 9 of the recipients. This move of Viscount Morley's is interposed to mean that the Government now is confident of its ability to outvote the Halsburyites without the necessity of creating more peers. It is estimated that from sixty to seventy Liberals will respond to Mr. Morley's invitation and attend the session while it is tolerably certain that the Earl of Halsbury cannot muster fifty votes. It is considered more likely that he will be able to gather in only 20 or 30.

Ottawa dealers say they believe there is good ground for an enquiry under the Combines Investigation Act, but Senator Edwards scaffed at he idea. As a matter of fact, he said, before the Canada Cement Co. was organized, the individual concerns in Canada were cutting each other's throats to the detriment of all.
