DRANK GASOLINE THOUGHT IT ALE

R. Nicholas, a teamster in Orillia, found a bottle on the side of the road. Being a local option district he prized the find very highly and carefully stored it away for another time When the time for pulling the cork arrived the bottle was duly opened and half of the contents poured down Nichols' throat. Scarcely had he got the good stuff down when he realized it was not Bass's ale as supposed, but a mixture of gasoline and turpentine. Thinking he was poisoned medical assistance was called, but there was nothing more serious than inward pains for the few days which it took to get rid of the explosive liquids.

Messrs. Goodman and Holdaway to make this presentation and to voice the feelings of you all, I will say to deepest regret that we are aware that this is the last day you will be amongst us. And we desire to show in a small manner our appreciation of your good will and ser-vices. And as foreman of the core department you have always been alert and supplied our moulders with a promptitude that left not the slightest cause for delays. ## A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING don't mean mere intellect?' He waited anxiously for what she would say. A neceesity for speaking out his inmost thoughts had arisen with the emotion, scarcely to be called hope, excited by Sidwell's magnanimity. Now or never, he must stand before this woman as his very self, and be convinced that she loved him for

'No, I don't mean intellect,' she replied with hesitation.

'What then? Tell me of one quality in me strong enough to justity a woman's love.

Sidwell dropped her eyes in con-'I can't analyse your character-

I only know'-

She became silent. 'To myself,' pursued Godwin, with the modulated, moving voice which always expressed his genuine W. Mitchell, Phm. B. feeling, 'I seem anything but lovable, I don't underrate my powers- rather the opposite, no doubt; but what I always seem to lack is the gift of pleasing-moral grace. My strongest emotions seemed to be absorbed in revolt; for once that I feel tenderly, I have a hundred fierce, resentful, tem-pestuous moods. To be suave and smiling in common intercourse costs me an effort.

I have to act the part, and this habit makes me sceptical, whenever I am really prompted to gentleness. I criticize myself ceaselessly; expose without mercy ail those characteristics which another man unlovable-the gift of love means far more to me than to other men. If you could conceive the passion of gratitude which possessed me for hours after I left you the other Sidwell regarded him fixedly. In comparison with this sincerity consider worthless the devotion Mr. Thomson was unmarried. which has grown in me month by month? So he went forth. CHAPTER VI

For several days after the scene in which Mr. Malkin unconsciously played an important part, Mar-cella seemed to be ill. She appeared at meals, but neither ate nor conversed. Christian had never known her so sullen and nervously irritable; he did not venture to utter Peak's name. Upon seclusion followed restless activity. Marcella was rarely at home between breakfast and dinner-time, and her brother learnt with satisfaction that she went much among her acquaintances Late one evening, when he had just returned from he knew not where, Christian tried to put an end to the unnatural constaint between them. After talking cheerfully for a few minutes, he risked the question:

'Have you seen anything of the Warricombes?" She replied with a cold negative.

'Nor heard anything?' (To BE CONTINUED.)

IT GROWS HAIR

Here Are Facts I Want You to Prove at My Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall '93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course, in none of these cases were the hair roots dead, nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the bair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant, toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum or permanently stain the hair.

I want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell me, and without question or formality I will hand back to you every penny paid me for it. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at my store-The Rexall Store. H.

GRANDSON OF ROBERT BURNS

Death at Glasgow of James Thomson, Last of the Poet's Near Kin.

The death has occurred in Glasgow of James Glencairn Thomson, the last of the grandsons of Robert Burns, the national poet.

Mr. Thomson, who bore the name of one of the mest generous of the patrons of the poet, was a son of Betty Burns, a daughter of which another man would keep out the poet by Anne Park, of the Globe of sight. Yes, and for this very Tavern, Dumfries. She married reason, just because I think myself John Thomson, a weaver by trade, who settled in Langside, then a quiet rural village, now a populous suburb of Glasgow.

Mr. James Glencairn Thomson was born in 1828. He was trained to his father's trade, and on its decline he became a pattern engraver in a calico printing works, retiring what becomes of the pretence you from active work in 1900. The blame in me? It you knew how whole of his life was spent practipaltry it seems-that accusation of cally in the same place. He was dishonesty! I believed the world highly esteemed, and was latterly round, and pretended to believe it the recipient of a small pension from flat: that's what it amounts to! ## PEOPLE'S PULPIT.

I hold that there is no other source of information comparable to it. Before presenting his own findings lieve what to him seems reasonable respecting the dead, Pastor Russell could not agree with Roman Catholic teachings. He summarized their view to be that a very saintly few were fit for heaven and that they went thither. He complimented the justice of their intentions, that a compara-tively small number of humanity were worthy of eternal torture.

For his own part, he could not imagine any human being, on account of any human weakness or depravity.

Catholic view, that all heathen and practically all Protestants and Catho-lics go in death to purgatory, he could not agree with fer two reasons. First, he finds no Scriptural authority for such a view, and secondly, his mind cannot accept the thought that an all-wise, all-just, all-loving and powerful Creator will torture His creatures for centuries in any such manner as Catholics generally be-lieve, and as Dante's great poem, "Inferno," so graphically depicts. Pastor Russell declared that he was a Protestant, in large measure because his parents were such. But he declared that while he sees many Catholic feachings he considers that the Protestant view respecting the hereafter of the dead the most dia-bolical conception to be found on the face of the earth, the grossest blas-phemy against the Divine character and provision for humanity. Had he nothing better to offer he would not be addressing his audience on Perplexed and disconcerted by his early teachings, he had, when a youth, discarded all human creeds, and the Bible as well-believing that the latter was the basis for the form-er. It was a happy day for him when he learned that this was a mistake—one respecting man-explaining his past, present and future as prear-ranged by a wise, gracious and all-powerful Creator.

Protestant views respecting the hereafter are various, but two in thought in general: (1) The Calvinistic theory; (2) the Arminian theory.

Five centuries ago there were no

Protestants-all were Catholics and -heaven for the saintly few; Purga-tory for the general mass of man-kind; and hell, everlasting torture, for the incorrigible. Luther and coadjutors got to studying the Bible, and, finding nothing there respecting purgatory and mass for the dead, they threw these out. Figuratively, they smashed completely the idea of Purgatory. A little later they were perplexed and said to each other, We have smashed Purgatory, but now

The thought of their responsibility

WHERE ARE THE DEAD NON-ELECT?

Our Friends, Neighbors, Holy, Unholy, Civilized, Vile?

Galesburg, III., August 6.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn, and now also heathen and with their neighbors and friends and the vast majority of their own families, that Brother Calvin appeared. "Cheer up," said Calvin. "Of course we all are sorry, of London, delivered addresses to large audiences at the Galesburg Chautauqua to-day. His topics were, "Where are the Dead?" and "The Judgment of the Great White Throne." We report the former. Each address lasted for nearly two but it is not our fault. The shame of such a conclusion is not ours. I will show you the way out of the dilemma; charge the whole terrible business upon Almighty God! Say hours, but so deeply interested were the audiences that they seemed not to note the flight of time. He said: that He foreordained and predestin-ated things thus, and that we cannot No other question could be of deeper interest to thinking people than the one now before us—"Where Are the Dead?" Our ancestors, our neighbors, our friends, are dead or dying, and ourselves with them. What will be our condition when 'he spark of life flickers out? I have no new revelation on this subject. I have merely for my guide what is recognized by all Christians as the Divine revelation on this subject—the Bible. I hold that there is no other source. own plan and doing; but seeing no way out of the difficulty they finally agreed, and then extolled John Cal-vin as the greatest theologian the world had ever known. Calvin arranged the entire matter into a philosophy and his doctrine became the basis of all creeds of the Reformation period, including the Westmin-ster Confession of Faith, which is ster Confession of Faith, which is generally acknowledged by Presby-terians, Baptists, etc. Thus, said Pastor Russell, we Protestants got our diabolical theory respecting the dead. We must confess that it is on the subject, in the Bible, Pastor Russell reviewed the findings of others—Christian in general. The agnostic view, that there is no life beyond the tomb, he could not entertain. He believed that man's organism as much high at the subject of th much worse than the theory of our Catholic friends. If we could not accept theirs because it was unloybrute, implies not only an all-wise Creator, but His benevolent intention for man's future. He examined the Catholic view, and, while according full liberty to every Catholic to being, unmerciful, unjust and ungody, surely we cannot accept any nger our own. The blessings of the Reformation were considerably overshadowed and handicapped by the great Calvinistic error of an all-powerful God, destitute of love, vindictive and devilish to a degree never approximated by any human degenerate. Centuries later that good man, John Wesley, appeared. His soul cried out against the injustice and lovelessness of Cal-vinism; and his claim that God is love has permeated Christendom to such an extent that even those de-nominations which confess the Westninster Confession of Faith and Calrinistic theories do not really believe We must love Brother Wesley for his largeness of heart even though we must confess that he had a less ogical head than had Brother Calvin

Brother Wesley and the majority of his followers failed to see the in-consistency of his claim that God sonsistency of his claim that God s love, and yet nine hundred and inety-nine out of every thousand are to be eternally tormented—because the mass of them had never leard of "the only name whereby we must be saved"; and because thers who had heard did not live contrary to their tendencies; did not ive saintly lives! Pator Russell declared that Wesey and Calvin put exactly the same aintly few into heaven, and put all he remainder into eternal torment. Hence it was a mere question between hese two men as to why this was on and not as to the fact. Calvin aid, "It is God's will and He fore-relained it thus." Wesley said, "No, lod is love, and love would never do hus. It was the result of Divine ack of wisdom in their creation, and ack of rower to halo after their ack of power to help after their reation. Hence the fate of the nasses."

Pastor Russell said, There is a have been trying to accept the errors of the Dark Ages instead of going lear back to and making our theo ogy afresh from the words of Jesus, he Apostles and prophets. Let us do his now and find the beauty of the Divine Plan in the Bible, and a glorous Divine character such as we tnow it should have-far beyond numan wisdom, justice, love and power. So the Lord says: "As the neavers are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways and My plans higher than your

The Bible confirms the ablest findings of science when it tells us that the dead are dead and not alive at all, anywhere. The Scriptures declare, "The dead know not anything" The Scriptures "their sons come to honor and they know it not; they come to dishonor but they perceive it not of them." Again the Bible says, "There is neither wisdom nor device nor knowledge in the grave (sheel, the Bible hell) whither thou goest" (Ecclesias-

Where, my dear triends, is the key to the whole problem? The Bible hell is the grave, sheel, hades, the death state. The salvation which God has provided is the salvation from sin and from death. The hope set before us in the Gospel is—the resur. rection of the dead. If anybody is dead there can be no resurrection of the dead. It is not the body which dies that God has promised shall be resurrected, but the soul. It was not Adam's body merely that was punished with death, but it soldy and soul, which involved the body and every power Adam possessed. All of his children have shared with him in his fall, in his death.

God's provision for the salvation of nankind is that "As by man came mankind is that leath (not eternal torment), by a man (the man Christ Jesus) comes also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam die, so all in Christ shall be made alive" (I. Corinthians xv, 22).

Not only do the Scriptures clearly et forth that the wages of sin is death and that thus death passed upon the entire human race (Romans v. 12), but they also set forth that the redemption price which Jesus gave was death— He poured out His soul It was when the Reformers were unto death"; He made His soul an feeling very sad for what they felt offering for sin (Isaiah liii, 10, 12).

As a result, "in due time," there will come a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and of the unjust. By the just is meant those justified and brought into harmony with God through faith in Christ. By the unjust is meant all others. Thus the Church will share in the First Resursation with Christ, these are the rection with Christ; these are the Elect of the Scriptures. Their resur-rection and complete change of nature has already begun in them through the begetting of the Holy Spirit.

They will be like the angels and like Christ, who is the express image the Father's person. Like God and the angels they, as spirit beings, will be invisible to mankind. These with their Lord and Head will set up the Kingdom of God-the Messianic Kingdom. "They will live and reign with Christ a thousand years." These are the saintly ones, a class recognized by Catholics and Protestants, by Luther, Calvin and Wesley. All are agreed respecting such a class. The entire point of discrimination is respecting the masses of our race for whom Christ died and for all of whom the various creeds provide torments untellable, unthinkable.

Brothers Luther, Calvin and others, when they smashed purgatory as un-scriptural, should have said, "We do not know where those poor creatures are whom we so long supposed were in purgatory." They should not have felt it incumbent upon them to enlarge hell and to put the thousands of millions out of purgatory into it. But, as a matter of fact, they all are in hell; the difference is that it is the hell of the Bible—the grave, the unconscious state of death, and not a place of suffering and torture.

Do not the Scriptures repeatedly tell you that the dead fall, asleep? Paul writes of those who fell asleep in Christ; and again, of those who "sleep in Jesus"; and again that all would sleep except those saints who would be changed in a moment, at the second coming of Messiah. Do not we read that St. Stephen stone to death read that St. Stephen, stone to death, fell asleep? Did not Jesus say, "Our friend Lazarus sleepeth," and subse-quently explain his meaning saying, "Lazarus is dead!" Do we not read that "Abraham slept with his fathers," and so of the kings and prophets and all, good and bad? Abraham's fathers, being heathen, none will claim that they sleep in heaven. Our Catho-lic friends will not claim that they sleep in purgatory, and surely nobody would claim that they could sleep in eternal torture. Where, then, do they sleep, and for how long? The Bible answers, "They that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake" (Daniel xii, 2). The Bible tells us that the weeping, sighing and dying of the present time will give place to a glor-ious morning of better things, the resurrection morning.

Pastor Russell disclaims Universalism; he cannot find it in the Bible, else he would preach it. He finds the Bible to teach a universal opportunity for salvation and everlasting that the gift of God, eternal life, will be given only to those who will avail themselves of the opportunity. Upon all others will come the wages of sin. namely, death. Those who sin wilfully, preferring wrong to right, after being granted full opportunity for reformation, will be destroyed in the Second Death, utterly, as St. Peter de-clares, "like natural, brute beasts" (II. Peter ii, 12).

It was not in vain that the Redeemer taught us to pray, "Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven." That glorious time will come when, as the Prophet declares, 'Every knee shall bow and every tongue confess Messiah; and when the knowledge of the Lord shall fill the whole earth, as the waters cover the great deep; and when none shall need longer to say to his neigh-bor and his brother, Know thou the Lord, because all shall know Him." Then "they shall build houses and inhabit them, and plan vineyards and eat the fruit of them, and long enjoy the work of their hands." Then "the reat mistake. None of these theo-ies satisfy your heads and hearts, nor mine. The difficulty is that we yield her increase"; and the Lord will make His earthly footstool glorious (Isaiah lx, 13). This is the hereafter footstool glorious which God has provided for the world of mankind in general. But this long-promised restitution blessing to the world, lifting them up out of sin and death conditions, not come until first the Royal Priesthood shall have been selected. The election of the Church, in progress during this Gospel Age, is God's preparation for the blessing of mankind. The elect saints will be kings and priests, judges, etc., in association with Jesus for the uplifting of the thousands of millions of humanity-"in due time."

A Witty Retort.

As is generally the case with people who have nothing to say worth hear-ing, a conceited drummer talked a great deal, to the evident disgust of a number of his commercial friends who were dining at a country hotel. When cheese was served it was of a decided "lively" brand, much to the delight of the irrepressible. He attacked it with great gusto, remarking. 'I'm like Samson-slaying them by the thousand!"

"Yes," replied a quick-witted diner at the end of the table, "and with the same weapon too!"

ARBITRATION PACT

Text of Treaty Is Published in Full at Washington.

DOMINIONS TO HAVE SAY

Special Rider to First Clause Gives Great Britain the Right to Confer With the Overseas Self-Governing Colonies In Any Matter Affecting Them Before Arriving at a Decision Regarding Claims.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The Senate on Saturday adopted the rather unusual but not unprecedented course of mak-ing public the text of four treaties which have not yet received action at its hands. These were the Anglo-American and the Franco-American general arbitration treaties and the treaties providing for the adjustment of the finances and customs of Honduras and Nicaragua.

Publicity was given to these important conventions at the request of the administration, which desires that the subject matter shall receive the fullest consideration by the press and the people, in order to enlighten the Senate as to the real sentiment of the country as a basis of its own action.

Some justification for this procedure developed Saturday, when in the course of a short executive session two Senators of opposite parties. Borah of Idaho and Bacon of Georgia, voiced their dissent from the conclusion of arbitration treaties in the form sub-mitted. Their criticism was aimed at article 3 (identical in the two treaties), which, in their opinion, prowides for compulsory arbitration, and thus tends to deprive the United States Senate of its constitutional prerogatives.

The treaty advocates, however, felt that there had been a misunderstand-ing of the scope of the treaty by the two Senators named, and that a clause in article 1 of the treaties, which provides that there shall be no arbitration except under the terms of a spe-cial agreement, effectively guards the rights of the Senate, as such special agreement must receive the Senate's sanction in order to become operative.

The British and French treaties are substantially the same with the exception of the preambles, some small differences in dates of existing treaties referred to therein, and some of the differences between the treaty-making methods of the two Govern-One important provision in the British treaty requires the British Government to obtain the concurrence of any of its self-governing dominions affected by the proposed arbitration.

In view of their importance it is intimated that a motion may be made to ratify them in open Senate, an almost unprecedented procedure.

The presmble, after reciting the fact that all outstanding differences be-tween Great Britain and the United States have been settled by arbitra-tion since the treaty of Ghent, goes on to state that it has been found desirable to extend the scope of the arbitration treaty of 1908. The treaty. which is practically the same in both cases, reads:

Article 1.—All differences hereafter arising between the high contracting parties, which it has not been possible to adjust by diplomacy, relating to international matters in which the high contracting parties are concerned by virtue of a claim of right made by one against the other, under treaty or otherwise, and which are justifiable in their nature by reason of being sus-ceptible of decision by the application of the principles of law or equity, shall be submitted to the permanent courts of arbitration established at The Hague by the convention of Oct. 18. 1907, or to some other tribunal as may be decided in each case by special agreement, which special agreement; shall provide for the organization of such tribunal if necessary, define ecope of the powers of the arbitrators, the question or questions at issue, and settle the terms of reference and the procedure thereunder.

The provisions of articles 37 to 90, inclusive of the convention for the pacific settlement of international disputes concluded at the second peace conference at The Hague, on Oct. 18, 1907, so far as applicable, and unless they are inconsistent with or modified by the provisions of the special agreement, to be concluded in each case and excepting articles 53 and 54 of such convention, shall govern the ar-bitration proceedings to be taken under this treaty.

The special agreement in each case shall be made on the part of the Unit-ed States by the President of the United States, and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, his Majesty's Government reserving the right before concluding a special agreement in any manner affecting the interests of a self-governing dominion of the British Empire, to obtain the concur-rence therein of the Government of that dominion.

London Faces Famine.

London, Aug. 7.—The strike of the dock laborers is marking time to-day pending the arbitration of the dispute by Sir Albert Kaye Rollit, who is identified with large commercial and steamship interests. The award in the dispute, which is between the organizations of transport laborers and the shipowners, will probably be made to-day. A general strike of the men will be declared if the award does not suit them.

Many steamships sailed from here Saturday with thousands of tons less than the usual amount of freight. Over two hundred trainloads of freight are standing on the wharves ready to be placed on board the vessels. The latest steamships which have arrived here bring the total of undischarged cargoes up to a high point. It is esti-mated that 500,000 carcasses of mutton, 100,000 quarters of beef and huge quantities of eggs and butter are still on board the vessels.

London is threatened with a scarcity of food stuffs, and beef threatens to become a luxury. Prices have advanced four cents per pound in the

Sir James Whitney Pledges Ontario Conservatives.

RECIPROCITY IS DODGED

The Issue Before the People of Canada Is Skillfully Avoided by Speakers at the Conservative Rally In In Toronto - Foster Raises Annexation Bogey-Whitney Defines Government's Attitude.

Toronto, Aug. 7 .- It was satisfactory and reassuring to the Conservatives-that gathering of nearly 2,000 assembled in Exhibition Park on Saturday afternoon to fire the first gun in the Ontario anti-reciprocity campaign. The flag was unfurled, British institutions fittingly vindicated, and the Empire saved. It was a great day for orstory.

Incidentally the economic merits or demerits of the reciprocity agreement were not called in question. Hon. Geo. E. Foster explained that they were unessential to the campaign being inaugurated. National extinction was the issue.

Sir James Whitney placed himself on record in reply to the twin "exponents of high political morality, The Globe and The Star, who had taunted him with being unable to make up his mind to take sides on the reciprocity issue until great pressure was brought to bear upon him. Sir James was characteristically indignant at the insinuation and repelled it with fervor. He indignantly repudiated The Globe's doubt as to where the Ontario Government and the weight of its organization would be.

"I wonder what pressure was appli-ed to Sir Edmund Walker, and to Mr. Lash, and on Mr. Jack Eaton, and all the other prominent Liberal gentlemen who have come forward on that side and repudiated this policy. I pre-sume it was the pressure that every

"It would be a waste of time," concluded the Premier, "for me to tell you what to do. I know what you are going to do. In reverential dependence on the providence which has guided us so far, we will go on, as far guided us so far, we will go on, as far as we may, to lay the foundations of British institutions deep and strong in British America. Why? Because wherever those foundations are laid, humanity has been for ever the gainer. We will cling to our British traditions and to our British connection over the seas. And, please God, 'What we have we'll hold'.' (Loud cheers.)
Sir James Whitney's speech was the important utterance of the gathering,

Minister of Labor Addresses Meeting in Berlin,

HE EXPOUNDS RECIPROCITY

Young Liberal Leader Is Attentively Followed When He Shows the Increased Market Which the Agreement Will Give For the Steadily Output of the Western Districts - Big Audience.

Berlin, Aug. 7.—Hon. W. L. Mac-kenzie King, Minister of Labor, de-livered the opening Ministerial address of the reciprocity campaign be-fore a large audience in King's Hall in this town c. Saturday night.

He was received with enthusiasm and his remarks on the merits of the trade pact with Washington was ac-corded close attention, he being heart-ily cheered as he made telling point after telling point in his great argu-ment to vindicate the course of the Ottawa Government in providing this arrangement for increased trade.

The Minister of Labor recalled that he was asking for their suffrage for the third time in three years, and, judging by the manner in which the audience received this declaration.

HON, MACKENZIE KING.

his appeal for a return to Parliament will be responded to by the hearty en-dorsation of the majority of his constituents.

Some of the Labor Ministers out-standing sentences were: "You can pass by this opportunity to secure a wider market and it may never come again.

"The United States gives us a market of 90,000,000 people and a protected market. It gives that chance gami, Algonquni Park, Georgian solely to Canada. "The arrangement will increase transportation, business and com-merce, and help every man in this community.

"Never before did a Government go out with so great a sense of victory as at the present time. "If they do not get a chance to ex-port to the United States, the great wheat and cattle-growing areas of the west will have to export somewhere. The first thing we shall know their products will come down to Ontario, congest our markets., and depress trade. We must look to the future and take the chance now when the opportunity comes. "As one who believes in bringing down the cost of living to the masses, I am prepared to support that agree ment.

"I am ready with you to fight anything that comes along."

Mr. Arthur Pequegnat occupied the chair, and prominent among the sup-porters of Mr. King present were: Mr. E. J. Stuebing, president of the Laur-ier Club; Mr. H. J. Sims, vice-president of the North Waterloo Reform Association; Mr. C. M. Bezzo, vice-president of the Laurier Club; Mr. John Moffat and Mr. H. J. Bowman.

Monk at Three Rivers.

Three Rivers, Que., Aug. 7.—Before an audience of 10,000 people Mr. Monk, M.P. for Jacques Cartier, opened the Federal campaign here yesterday. Mr. Moak had on the platform with him the Nationalist leader, Henri Bourassa, and his lieutenant, Ar mand Lavergne, both of whom made speeches. It was one of those unique occasions in Quebec when the people go to mass in the forenoon and remain for political discourses in the afternoon, then go home, having done their full duty to their religion and political ideals. It was the opportune time to hold the meeting, as thousands of farmers from the country side are able to be present only on such a day.
Mayor Normand, who will be the candidate for Three Rivers, spened the fire on the Laurier Government. Mr. Blondin, M.P. for Champlain, followed on the naval question, and then came F. D. Monk, M.P., who delivered the main speech of the day Henri Bourassa was given a good reception. He said among other things that Laurier and Borden seemed to have agreed that reciprocity should be the one theme of the coming election Premier Laurier had brought on the reciprocity agreement to cover up the naval bill, but Mr. Bourassa said he would not be cribbed in that way as there were too many important questions before the public.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING. - Mrs. Joseph Howe, of Gelert, aged 53, Wednesday evening. It seems that a stoye had been removed and the pipe left in place from the up-stair floor, extending through the roof, down which the electric bolt passed, killing her as she stood at the table, shortly after the evening meal had been served. Two children were stunned, but soon re-vived.—Lindsay Post.

The Style Subject

The value of good style in the clothes you select cannot be overestimated. To give clothes that certain touch of correctness which you are desirous of seeing in your garments is distinctly a question of ability on the part of the maker of the clothes.

We believe you will get what you pay for in the matter of fabrics and Ilnings, if you buy clothes of a reliable make, but if you want style, combined with quality, it is a question of ability. The 20th Century people } have the ability, hence the style you always find in their bench-tailored garments.

The New Cloths, Style Charts and Measurement Forms for Fall, 1911, are here now.

Come in and take a look through.
