Chisholm produced a local paper which had a news story of a severe snow storm, on March 10th which partially crippled traffic.

Plaintiff did not recall the above mentioned storm or the thaw and rain which is stated to have follow ed. He added that water might leak through the cement foundation but believed it had seeped through the O.H.A. control over all amateur under the foundation. Mr. Chisholm related that he had been instructed that the flooding took place on the 16th of March but Mr. O'Neill was quite positive that it was the 14th.

Edward Angove, who resides on the east side of Bramley street testified that there was water all over Bramley street and extended to Sullivan street and saw water beyond that point after the culvert on the cast side of Bramley street was opened, He remembered that there was an abundance of snow and that it was abundance of snow and that it was the worst flood there since he had lived in that section.

Mrs. O'Neill, wife of the plaintiff corroborated her husband's evidence and Charles Gist the next witness could not say whether there was a general flooding at the time.

"Indeed! and are you so an hour a bride, and sick of your with a mocking laugh.

Edith.

The man regarded her with a look of astonishment.

He had been very much interested in his wife's clever play, until the last act, when he had been greatly startled by the change in the leading characters, both whom he had instantly recognized in spite of their masks. He windered why they had been substituted for Alled and Walter Kerby; when, upon also recognizing the clergy man, it had flashed upon him that this last scene was no "play"-it was to be a bona fide marriage planned, no doubt, by his wife for some secret reason best known to her and the young couple.

He did not once suspect that Edith was being tricked into an unwilling union.

He had known that Emil Cor e'li was fond of her, but he had cot supposed he would care to make her his wife, although he had no doubt weary of your new title? Open Season Later

John A. Heydler, President of the National League, tossed his revolutionary idea of a ten-man baseball team into the joint meeting of the American and National League club owners Thursday.

Instead of creating a whooping uproar, the proposal fell as flat as a cooking school cake. It was not even discussed, except by President Heydler himself when he presented the idea t the club owners. Then falked about it apologetically, of last year's team is available with splaining he merely wanted to explaining he merely wanted to LOCAL TIME TABLE ure consideration.

> With the idea tabled, the pitchers of both Nati nal and American Langues will bat for thems:ives during the coming season.

Commissioner K. M. Landis, presiding over the session, had little opportunity to wave the "big stick," as peace and harmony prevailed from start to finish. The club owners unanimously agreed to start the major league season on April 16, about a week later than usual, and wind it up Oct.6, week later than the close of the 1928 season.

This will bring the World Series in conflict with the football season, as the baseball classic, unler the new closing date, cannot be started until Oct. 9 or 10. The ciub owners decided on the later opening date because of the adverse weather conditions that prevailed last spring, when scores of games were forced to be postponed.

Say it with a "Rogers"

If you're planning to say "Merry Christmas" to your family with a Radio-say it with a Rogers and be sure.

Years before any other electric radio was successfully marketed anywhere on this Continent there were thousands of Rogers-Batteryless Radios in every day use right across Canada. The Rogers has been tried, tested, perfected and more Rogers-Batteryless Radios are sold than all other electric sets combined. Just ask the owner of a Jour-year-old Rogers-Batteryless how he likes it and what service he has had!

There is nothing, in all the world of gifts, that will bring the spirit of Christmas into your home like a Radio. And the programs that will flood the air during the holiday season will more than compensate you for the small cost of a Rogers.
