TURKEY THIEVES MAKE ESCAPE

Three Men Selecting Christmas Dinner From Turkey Flock Take Flight

Three men, apparently on the look-out for a good Christmas dinner, almost acquired the flock of turkeys belonging to Wilson Thair, Seymour township. The thieves however, took flight before landing their spoil, and eluded pursuing police.

Chicken sealing is becoming so prevalent in that vicinity that many are considering giving up raising poultry.

Heavy snowfall reported in Delaware.

DECEMBER 20, 1908
Painful Accident

Walter Montgomery, who is employed by Thomas Marsh of Wellcome, met with a painful accident on December 20th, 1908. While working about the barn a colt kicked him in the eye inflicting a nasty wound. The ball of the eye became badly inflamed but the sight was not injured.

The names of Mrs. Dass and Mrs. A. W. George, were omitted from the account of the Christmas Tree and Tea at "The Lodge." The above ladies poured tea.

KING REGISTERS GOOD PROGRESS

King Continues to Make Slight But Steady Improvement Towards Recovery

The King Wednesday continued to make tedious but definite progress toward recovery from the disease which for a full month has besieged him and kept the whole British Empire in anxiety. Both the day and evening bulletins of the physicians brought cheering reports of the Royal patient's successful resistance.

"The King has passed a quiet day," said the 8 p.m. announcement. "Both the general and local conditions are continuing to make slow progress."

The morning bulletin recorded a restful night enjoyed by the King, and it spoke of "the slight improvement," which had continued from yesterday. Both bulletins were signed by Sir Stanley Hewett, Lord Dawson of Penn and Sir Hugh Rigby.

The ultra-violet ray treatment, which apparently has given gratifying results, was administered as usual by Doctors Wood and Howitt, just prior to the evening consultation. Dr. Whitty, a bacteriologist, who was called in earlier in the King's illness, was also at the Palace.

Queen Mary was sufficiently buoyant in spirit Wednesday to take her afternoon drive. To the delight of her subjects, she turned the outing into an excursion to the zoological gardens. She was accompanied by Princess Mary and the latter's husband, Viscount Lascelles.

The trio wandered around the grounds for an hour, paying visits to the aquarium, the reptile house and the lion house. Few visitors were in the gardens, and hardly any one recognized the Royal party.

The Queen of Norway, sister of the King, took tea with Queen Mary at Buckingham Palace.

An indication of the relaxation in public anxiety was seen in the manner in which the newspapers played up the scores of the cricket match in Australia between a travelling English and a representative Australian team. Accounts of the match crowded the King off the position on the front pages.

The authoritative statement which will appear in The British Medical Journal and The Lancet will say that dangerous phases of the illness of the King have been surmounted, and that there are increasingly solid grounds for hoping for his recovery.

The article is addressed to medical men, and expresses the hope that physicians will be able to soothe the public mind, made very sensitive by weeks of anxiety. It will be apparent to medical men, the statement says, that not only the severity and length of the infection but the exhaustion resulting from it must make progress slow and difficult. The writer voices a belief that the employment of ultra-violet rays has been beneficial.

DIVISION COURT

Judge L. V. O'Connor of Cobourg presided at the December Sittings of Division Court here this morning when only a few cases were on the docket.

C. E. Stephenson was awarded $37.95 in an action against Thomas Bell of Campbellcroft. The claim was entered for $42.45 for car repairs which were necessitated from an accident on the Cranberry Road last fall.

The actions of Goeseffto vs Thunder Bay and Goeseffto for $68.75, Aiken vs Hallick for $39.50 and Holman vs Sully for $41.33 were adjourned.

Four cases of tularemia (rabbit fever) have been discovered in Wisconsin.

FINE DISPLAY BY T. C. S. BOYS

Physical Training And Gymnastic Display Presented at Hart House

A physical training and gymnastic display was given at Hart House, Toronto, last night by the students of Trinity College Junior School, Port Hope, and the senior school, Woodstock.

There was a large turnout of parents and others interested, and the boys who took part, some 240 in all, acquitted themselves creditably. Dr. Graham Orchard, headmaster of the schools, was in charge of the arrangements, and the work was carried out under S. J. Batt, physical director.

The senior school students were seen to advantage in such exercises as horizontal bar, club swinging, parallel bars, vaulting horse and physical training, and the juniors also excelled in physical training and brain-stimulating games. The seniors and juniors figured in a tableau feature. The reunion will provide an opportunity for the boys who were separated after the fire at the Port Hope school to get together before the Christmas holidays.

THIEVES KILL COW IN FARMER'S BARN

Cattle Lifters Change Tactics In Watford District Wednesday

Cattle thieves working in the Watford district have started slaughtering animals right on the premises. Wednesday morning Thos. Gavigan, Warwick farmer, discovered that his best heifer had been killed in the barn during the night and only its head and entrails left.

The thieves showed every sign of being experienced butchers. They neglected, however, to skin the head and police are hopeful that with this clue the hide can be traced.

This is the first theft of the kind in the district, but police are inclined to believe that the work was done by the same gang which operated during the Summer in Lambton County near Sarnia.

Nine boys between ages of 10 and 17 arrested in Arkon, Ohio in "bicycle theft ring."

HAPPY THROINGS SEEKING GIFTS

Everything in Port Hope Stores From Fur Coats to Turkeys

Three more shopping days to Christmas.

Three more days of ceaseless bustle.

Three more days of mystery.

Then—Christmas—

Today's brighter weather brought the crowds out bent on making the dash up the home-stretch on Christmas Eve a bit less spectacular.

Youngsters today had long lists for Santa Claus.

And they were very solicitous, too, lest the old fellow should catch the "flu," get hurt inspecting the chimneys, or otherwise incapacitated for his Monday night visit to the homes where children are.

"Christmas trade is brisk today"—so the merchants say, and if the merchants say so, must be so.

Grocery stores were dealing out fruit, candies and nuts.

And the careful housewife was asking the price of the turkey.

And, after all, what is Christmas without a turkey—

Or a plum pudding.

Cleaning silver, dainty china and brassware in interesting new lines, found a ready sale for Christmas gifts.

Smoking sets, sewing tables, bridge novelties and treasures from all around the world—all these in the famous stores of Oshawa—were in demand.

Evening frocks are in demand as gifts, and fur coats for midday are being largely bought.

Skates, sleds, jewelry, toilet articles—

There is something for every taste in the stocks of the city shops.

Toyland is the mecca for young and old—Here the citizenry are represented by the noble matron of 75 and the sturdy hero of the family at the age of two or three.

Port Hope stores are hives of buzzing industry and a greater rush is expected before old Santa packs up his treasures to depart again for the far northland.

CHECKERS IS GAME OF SKILL

No Chance Involved Rules Vancouver County Judge

Checkers is a game of skill and not of chance, according to Judge W. Ellis, in county court, who has awarded Julius D'Orio, of High Grove, Calif., judgment of $114 and costs against Leigh and Cuthbertson, Ltd., wholesale candy manufacturers, Pender street east, Vancouver.

The plaintiff, who is patentee of a problem checker board, sold 39 boards to the defendant company, which refused to pay on the grounds that the boards were to be used for gaming purposes and thus contravened the criminal code. The company, as explained by His Honor, had honest misgivings as to the legality of operating the boards and was advised by its lawyers against the proposal.

By a payment of 10c a customer had a choice of one of ten problems to solve in a game of checkers and if the customer won, he received a prize.

"Every problem is capable of solution by the exercise of skill in applying the principles of the game of checkers," stated Judge Ellis, when considering the evidence.

WILLIAM O'NEILL SUCCESSFUL IN ACTION AGAINST THE CORPORATION

Bramley Street Resident Claimed $76.34 For Damage Sustained By Flooding of Cellar— Judgment Handed Down Today By Judge L. V. O'Connor

William O'Neil, Bramley Street, was today granted $76.34 as a result of a Division Court action here last Friday before Judge L. V. O'Connor when he entered suit for the above amount against the Corporation of Port Hope for damage sustained when his cellar was flooded with water. A considerable quantity of goods were destroyed told the plaintiff.

W. F. McMahon represented the plaintiff while D. H. Chisholm K.C., appeared on behalf of the Corporation.

In part the judgement reads "At the close of the trial as intimated I personally took a view of the highway at the corner of Bramley and Strachan Streets and I find that the fact is that when the culverts at that point are open, the water will flow to the east; yet when these culverts are blocked and water reaches the height of the travelled part of the road as on the occasion in question the water will flow from the east to the west. The travelled part of the road is flat with a slight slope towards the west. The sidewalk on the east side of Bramley Street has the appearance of being several inches higher than the sidewalk on the west side of the street. As said above, although the conditions were bad on the occasion in question, the evidence of John Martin would indicate that the defendant did not put on extra men to cope with the situation.

There is a duty imposed upon a Municipal Corporation to keep their highways in repair and in default thereof a corporation liable for damages sustained by any person by reason of such default.

According to the evidence of the plaintiff, although the water had flowed in large quantities from the east side of Bramley street to the Lawson property on the 12th March and the cellar of the plaintiff's house was dry at 8 o'clock on the night of the 13th March. The plaintiff further states that he had lived in the dwelling house in question since April 1922 and that on no previous occasion had he been troubled with water in his cellar. The only conclusion that one can draw is that a large volume of water carried on to the Lawson property by reason of the overflow from the east side of Bramley Street had the effect of forcing its way into the plaintiff's cellar, causing the damage and injury sustained.

I have no hesitation therefore, in finding that the plaintiff has sustained damages by reason of the neglect and wrongful acts of the defendant and its servants and agents. The plaintiff claims that by reason of this flooding he lost fifty six pounds of butter, eight bags of potatoes and one barrel of apples, all of the value of $36.34. He also states he lost five days time in cleaning out his cellar which as one of the witness described, was in a terrible condition, and for which the plaintiff claims $40.00.

It seems to me that the claim of the plaintiff is quite moderate and I direct that judgement be entered in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $76.34 and costs."

HEARD ON THE STREET

Good morning! Come right in!

A fellow coming down the hill put on his car brakes just in front of the Guide and ran onto the side walk in front of Curtis' store where upon Walter opened the door and invited the party in. Walter would have been rather more surprised than pleased if they had accepted his kind invitation on the instant.

A Toronto man driving a Chandler Sedan east slipped a little loo, when he came to the corner of Ridout and Victoria streets. Fortunately he was not travelling fast else his car would have been badly damaged when it struck the tree and curb. Only a fender and running board were bent and broken and one wheel smashed off.

Do you remember when you used to be at those public school Christmas Concerts? Everyone going dressed more like for Sunday School rather than Day School. We used to have lots of fun, well the present school generation are going to have their merry time tomorrow.

Only three more shopping days until Christmas!

Now the postal employees are working long hours to help us all in having a Merry Christmas!

The south side of the street is so dark during the gloomy days of December that they have to leave the lights on all day. The radio test car is here and the Hydro has turned on the lighting circuit in order that they may find the short causing interference.

If you haven't any little kids of your own to make you laugh and enjoy Christmas now about doing a turn for the youngsters at the Children's Shelter. You will be the happier to have made them glad.

The High School Commencement is to be held Friday night in the School Assembly Room. Jack Biddle, of Toronto will figure in the program with a solo.

More than 100,000 Chevrolets will be produced during the coming year in the plants of General Motors of Canada. This is as great as the entire production of all seven General Motors Canadian cars during 1928. The Oshawa plant will be at capacity production at least until March 31, and the schedules for January, February and March are almost double the schedules for the corresponding months last year.

Chicken thieves have become rather frequent in Oshawa and district during the last few weeks. Police are now investigating a fifth report of theft from a city residence.

For the second time in the history of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, a son has been chosen to succeed his father as County Clerk and Treasurer. Major E. L. MacMhant was appointed by the Counties Council to succeed his late father, Colonel Neil F. MacMhant, C. V. O.

At the annual meeting of the Harwood Co-operative Creamery Company held at Harwood it was shown by the reports submitted that the value of butter manufactured during the year was $78,620.70—202,499 pounds of butter were manufactured. The reports were excellent and indications point to future success and additional activity for this company.

THE GUIDE STORY

"I am very sorry that I cannot comply with your request," said Mrs. Goddard, flushing slightly, "but Edith is rather delicate and the reception, after the marriage, was such a strain upon her that she fainted and was obliged to retire."

"That was very unfortunate," Mrs. Stewart observed, while she searched her companion's face curiously; "but I trust that I may have the pleasure of meeting her later."

"I cannot promise as to that," madam replied, "as it is my brother's intention to go abroad as soon as he can complete his arrangements to do so, although no date has been set as yet. But—have you met my husband, Mrs. Stewart?" she inquired, as that gentleman was seen approaching their way at that moment.

"No, I have never had that honor," the lady returned; then added, with a light laugh, "I feel very much like an intruder to be here to-night as a stranger to both my host and hostess."

"Pray do not be troubled on that account," madam hastened cordially to reply; "any friend of my brother would be a welcome guest, and I am charmed to have made your acquaintance."

"Thank you," responded the beautiful stranger; but madam marveled at the line of white encircling the scarlet lips, as she signaled to her husband and called him by name: "Gerald!"

He glanced up, and both women noticed the expression of uneasiness and trouble upon his brow.

"You have not been introduced to Edith's friend, I think," his wife continued. "Allow me to present Mrs. Stewart—Mrs. Stewart, my husband, Mr. Goddard."

The gentleman bowed with all his accustomed courtesy, but did not fairly get a glimpse of the lady's face until they both assumed an upright position again, when he found himself looking straight into the magnificent eyes of his guest.

As he met them it seemed as if some one had stabbed him to the heart, so sudden and terrible was the shock that he experienced.

He changed an involuntary groan into a cough, but he could not have been more ghastly if he had been dead, while he continued to gaze upon her as if fascinated.

"Ha! he has noticed it also!" said madam to herself, with a sudden heart-sinking.

Then realizing that something must be done to relieve the awkwardness of the situation, she hastened to observe:

"Mrs. Stewart has only just arrived—she did not come in season to witness our little drama."

Mrs. Goddard murmured some polite words of regret, but feeling all the while as if he were turning to stone.

Mrs. Stewart, however, responded in a pleasant vein, and chatted sociably for a few minutes, when, some other friends joining them, more introductions followed, and the conversation became general.

Gerald Goddard improved this opportunity to slip away; but his wife, who was covertly watching his every look and movement, noticed that he walked with the uncertain step of one who was either blind or intoxicated.

A feeling of depression settled upon her—a sense of impending evil, which, try as she would, she could neither forget nor shake off.

She began to be very impatient of all the glitter, glare, and gaiety around her, and told herself that she would be heartily glad when the fast dance was over, and the last guest had departed.

Truly, there is many an aching, heart hidden beneath costly raiment and glittering jewels; and society is, to a large extent, but a smiling mask in which people hold high revel over the tombs of dead hopes and disappointed ambitions.

But fashion and folly must have their time; and so, in spite of madam's heart-ache and weariness, the dancing and merriment went on, no one dreamed of the phantom memories and the ghosts from out the past that were stalking about the beautiful rooms of that elegant mansion; or that its envious (?) master and mistress were treading upon the verge of a volcano which at any moment was liable to burst all bounds and pour forth its furious lavatide to consume them.

An hour later Mrs. Stewart again sought her hostess and wished her good-night, remarking that circumstances which she could not control compelled her to take an early leave.

"Ah! that is unfortunate, for supper will shortly be announced; cannot you possibly remain to partake of it?" madam urged, with cordial hospitality.

"Thanks, no; but I am promising myself the pleasure of meeting you again in the near future," Mrs. Stewart returned, shooting a searching glance at her hostess.

Her language and manner were perfect; but, for the second time that evening, Anna Goddard noticed the peculiar shading in her words, and a chill, that was like a breath from an iceberg went shivering over her.

Oshawa Fosters Many Sports

Oshawa, baby city of this Province, deserves a few words of praise for the part it is playing in sports. Amateur officials of the Motor City have been most active, and it should be added, most successful in their efforts to stimulate interest in amateur sport, develop athletes and generally advance the best interests of the game. Their efforts have borne fruit to the extent that the Ontario senior lacrosse championship and the Ontario intermediate football title were both taken to Oshawa. Just at present amateur boxing and speed skating are receiving the same enthusiastic attention that has been given other sport. O.H.A. intermediate and junior teams and a city hockey league also serve to occupy the attention of the community.

FACE OFF NEAR NET TO PUNISH STALLING

O. H. A. Takes Firm Stand Against Ragging Tactics—Referees Gather

A thorough interpretation of the rules governing O.H.A. games this winter was made at the Prince George Hotel yesterday afternoon, when a largely attended meeting of the officials who handle the games in the amateur organization was held.

Secretary W. A. Hewitt presided and explained the duties of the officials. He emphasized the need for proper supervision of the game at all times, and impressed upon his listeners the fact that the O.H.A. will not tolerate rough or rowdy tactics on the ice. Club officials or players who attack the referee or heap abuse on him are to be reported, and they will be dealt with promptly. The O.H.A., as in years past, will stand solidly behind the arbiters.

A warning hint was given when the referees were advised to not become too friendly with the players or clubs in the groups where they officiate.

Following Mr. Hewitt's address, the referees asked many questions concerning the rules. In regard to the no-offside area, some of them were not quite clear as to whether the puck could be kicked over the blue line and recovered by the same player from the defending area.

It was pointed out that the defending side must recover the puck after a kick over inside the blue line before carrying it over, otherwise the play will be called back. All offside plays must be started and finished behind the blue line by the defending team. All offside plays called inside the blue line must result in a face-off at the blue line.

The O.H.A. will deal strictly with stalling tactics this year. When teams begin ragging the puck in their own defensive area the puck will be faced off ten feet to the side of their net.

Another important interpretation is that when an attacking player makes an offside near the opposing team's net the puck is to be faced off halfway between the net and side of the rink and fifteen feet from the goal line. If the offense is made by the defenders in front of the net, the puck will be faced off directly in front of the net ten feet from the goal line. This rule also applies when goalkeepers fall on the puck.

Loafing offside will bring penalties if a player persists in it. The referees were cautioned about the rule permitting one player to skate a teammate offside. If the player offside is only a few feet in front, the other player can skate him onside as long as the player ahead does not touch the puck until he has been skated onside.

Trips are to be regarded as accidental if the offending player gets his stick on the puck. If he is in such a position that he cannot reach the puck but upsets the puck-carrier, he has earned a penalty. Players leaping over their opponent's stick must run the danger of a fall. In case where the other player is seen to lift his stick with the evident intention of tripping the handling player then a penalty is to be given.

The case of a puck carrier blocked by the defense, but followed by a teammate who skates ahead and takes the puck is to be ruled onside. If the player covering the puck is ahead of the player blocked at the time the defense blocks said player then it is plainly an offside.

Players substituting for a goalkeeper when the net-minder is penalized have all the privileges of a goalkeeper. Players knocking the sticks out of opponents' hands while they are not in possession of the puck are to be penalized. Players booting opponents' sticks across the ice will also incur a penalty. Players must be penalized for hooking opposing players around the body or under the arms.

No body-checking will be permitted on the forward line in the middle area. Body-checking is permitted by all the defending players while they are in the defensive zone. In the event of a tie game where both teams refuse to play overtime a defeat will be scored against each team. Where only one team refuses, that team will have a defeat scored against it.

All rinks will be notified to supply stop-watches for the timekeeper and where no stop-watches are available referees are to instruct timekeepers to play a straight 25 or 27 minutes to a period. A delay of ten minutes only will be allowed where goalkeepers are substituted. Goalkeepers catching the puck must get rid of it immediately. When the puck is held, the face-off will be made ten feet in front of the goal.

It was also decided that the puck must be over and clear of the goal line before it is a goal.

TOPSY AND EVA

The famous black-and-white pals of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be seen at the Royal Theatre for three nights, beginning tonight, and at the Saturday matinee, for "Topsy and Eva" is the feature photoplay, and an ideal one it is for the pre-holiday season. Everyone knows the characters who appear in this comedy version of the old classic, and the fact that the story has been given a comedy twist only makes it the more entertaining. On Saturday afternoon the kiddies will have a big time, as Santa Claus will be there to amuse them and present each one with a long stick of the finest sugar candy.

ABOUT GROWING OLD

The psychologist who said the other day that old age and death is a mere matter of psychology, seems to be skipping about the edge of sophistry. To claim full credit for modern knowledge which has lengthened human life five years in two generations is one thing, but to reach from that for a logical conclusion that life may be prolonged indefinitely by mere psychological effort, is something different. This would be comforting to those who desire to live to be 200 years old, but before men reach that age other knowledge than merely how to wish for prolonged existence will be necessary.

To fix an arithmetical program by which human life is to be lengthened according to the ratio of the first modern steps is to invite disappointment. Some time, possibly, men may live to be much older than in this generation, but when that time arrives human beings will be found living as well as thinking in a manner far from the habits of 1928. Physical death and old age is some thing more than a simple matter of psychology, at least in man's present state of knowledge.—O-nawa Times.

CANADA'S FIELD CROP IS LOWER THIS YEAR

One billion and fifty-one million dollars is the latest government estimate as to the value of the field crops produced in Canada in 1928. This is $117,000,000 less than in 1927, but $50,000,000 more than in 1926.

Ontario's field crop is $27,000,000 down, being $228,548,000 this year. Wheat was down ten cents a bushel, oats down three cents, barley four cents, rye one cent; peas, potatoes, hay and alfalfa were all down in price, but beans, beets, flax, corn, turnips and buckwheat were all up. These prices are the money received by the farmer, not the price paid by the consumer.

Saskatchewan created the greatest proportion of the country's farm wealth this year, the value of her farm products being $309,538,000. Ontario came second with $228,548,000, then Alberta, $199,583,000; Quebec, $129,175,000; Manitoba, $114,127,000; Nova Scotia, $18,812,000; New Brunswick, $18,704,000; British Columbia, $18,465,000, and Prince Edward Island, $13,191,000. These figures do not include anything but field crops. Ontario, Nova Scotia and British Columbia have apple and other fruit orchards and their dairy industries, which would increase their farm production.

U.S. air mail service carried 421,174 pounds of mail in November.

Dr. Henry Truettner, of Coopersburg, Pa., celebrated his ninetieth birthday.

The Open Road

Suppose you came suddenly upon two roads. One straight, well trodden . . . the other thin and twisting off into undergrowth. If you didn't want to arrive at any place in particular, you might choose the latter. But not otherwise.

Before you, as buyer, run two roads. One is the road of knowledge of an advertised product. Thousands use it. There's no mystery about it, no doubting, nothing hidden. It leads the way definitely to a fountain pen, a floor wax, a tooth paste that will give you satisfaction. When you use an advertisement you use an open road.

When you don't use advertisements, you go the doubtful road. You have only hazy knowledge of the product ahead. No trade-mark or name to depend upon guides you. The result may or may not be worth the effort. You don't know.

Read the advertisements. Anything widely advertised—breakfast food, hammer, hair tonic—has proved itself good by advertising.

Ads put you on the open road to satisfaction.

ANNUAL DANCE NEW YEAR'S NIGHT
Port Hope Rotary Club Have Planned Another Big Affair

The celebrated annual dance by the Port Hope Rotary Club, will take place as usual this year, on New Year's Night, January 1st.

One of the best six piece orchestras in Toronto, under the personal direction of Mr. Harvey Shephard, an old Port Hope boy, has been engaged for the dance, and this, with the experience and success which the Rotary Club have had in their past dances, assures the dance loving public of Port Hope, that this year will eclipse all former efforts.

Aside from the fact that genuine entertainment is provided, the general public should be keenly interested in this and other affairs sponsored by the club, as they are purely unselfish from a Club standpoint. One need not look far to see how much the Rotary Club has done and will continue to do for the general good of the community.

We as a Club appreciate the way in which the citizens of Port Hope have supported our efforts in the past and trust we will have your whole hearted support in this undertaking.

Don't forget the date, New Year's night, January 1st, in the Assembly Room of the Town Hall at 9 o'clock sharp.

Successful Juniors Conference at Cobourg

On Thursday, December 13th, well attended Conferences were held in the Town Hall, Cobourg, for Junior Farmers and Junior Institute Girls from the Counties of Ontario, Victoria, Peterboro, Durham, Northumberland, Prince Edward, Hastings, Lennox and Addington. The programmes were arranged by the Institute Branch and the Department of Agriculture at Toronto, along with Agricultural Representatives in the various counties. Interesting addresses were given by Junior Farmers from the various Counties, including Morris Mallroy, Hastings County; Harry Anderson, Prince Edward; Norman Jamieson, Victoria; and several others. A very interesting demonstration was given by the Clarke Township Junior Farmers of Durham County as "Program Planning," they outlining plans made for monthly meetings for a year ahead. J. Y. Kellough, Agricultural Representative, Port Hope, gave a talk on the points to be emphasized in planning yearly programmes and some of the essentials. Mr. J. E. Whitlock, Toronto, gave a very interesting address on some of the outstanding features of Junior Farmer work. Mr. Percy Gardiner, of Norwood, Peterborough County, made a most efficient Chair man for the day, while Fred Graham, of Lindsay, was Secretary.

At noon a joint banquet was held for the boys and girls, numbering about 115, in St. Peter's Parish Hall. Dr. J. B. Reynolds, Port Hope, was the speaker and he gave a most interesting and instructive address. Those in charge of the arrangements for the Conference were highly delighted with the response from the young people of these counties. Plans will be drawn up in the very near future for inter-county Debating and for the Annual Field Day to be held next summer.

In what could be readily termed the fastest and most exciting hockey game seen at the Arena this season, University of Toronto defeated St. Michael's in the opening fixture of the O.H.A. senior series at Arena Gardens last night by 6 to 2.
