

BUROWSKI PAYS DEATH PENALTY

Murderer Dies on Scaffold At Parry Sound Jail

John Burowski paid with his life early this (Friday) morning for the murder of Thomas Jackson. Burowski went to the scaffold at Parry Sound Jail at 1.15 a.m. and was pronounced dead 15 minutes later. Sheriff J. E. Armstrong told that the man retained his composure to the last.

The shooting of Jackson, a farmer of Waubamie, followed the mail robbery there last August. Burowski was condemned to hang Dec. 7, but a last minute reprieve prolonged his life for two weeks. The reprieve expired at midnight last night.

LOCAL STORES OPEN EVENINGS

Immense Stocks Moderately Priced Are Offered For Christmas

Citizens of Port Hope and district are reminded that all Christmas stores are open evenings from now until Christmas, which makes it convenient for those who cannot shop in the daytime to make their selections at a time when they are able to do so.

Port Hope stores were never so well stocked with substantial Christmas gifts as they are at the present time, and prices are reasonable. There has been quite an influx of shoppers from the district, which no doubt will be augmented between now and Christmas.

WHERE DO WE STAND?

Various Comments Are Made On Metropolitan Corner Stone Laying

The Metropolitan Ceremony To the Editor of The Star. Sir: Your announcement of the laying of the corner-stone of the new Metropolitan is interesting.

Chown we know and Endicott and Gunn, but who is this other one? The Methodist church always stood for temperance uncompromisingly. And now, do we welcome in fellowship the man who has, above all others, done more to saddle on Ontario its greatest curse? L. M. ENGLAND, Kingston, Ont.

At Corner-Stone Laying To the Editor of The Star.

Sir: I observe that Canon Cody, Premier Ferguson and Sir Joseph Flavelle figured most largely in the ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the new Metropolitan church. These are the notables chiefly responsible for the legislation which foisted the government sale of liquor upon our fair province. Is this a mere coincidence or must we take it as an endorsement by the United Church of Canada of the liquor traffic? A METHODIST. Toronto, Dec. 15.

The above is from the Toronto Star. Can any one tell us which is the proper quotation "To Hell with profits" as was it "To Hell for profits?"

J. C. Hayden is Presented With Floor Lamp And Books

The members of St. Paul's Trail Rangers gathered at the home of their leader, Mr. J. C. Hayden, Cranberry Road, on Thursday night and presented him with a lovely floor lamp and books as a token of their appreciation of his services through the year. A merry evening was spent and a delightful lunch served at the close.

ENTERTAIN HOPES OF SLOW RECOVERY

Progress of King is Now Established on Firmer Basis

Doctors who have been attending the King yesterday took the people into their confidence and told the nation that it might entertain good hopes of the slow recovery of the King.

He issued a lengthy communication in the afternoon after a medical consultation at the Palace. The result was wholly welcome.

"That is the best Christmas card we could have," remarked one man as he read the bulletin when it was posted in front of the Palace. What he read was this:

"A consultation has taken place in order to make a comprehensive survey of His Majesty's present progress and to discuss the lines along which treatment in the immediate future had best proceed.

"The condition of the right side of the chest has improved and there is evidence of more normal respiratory functions.

"The healing of the empyema, with its severe local infection, though satisfactory, must of necessity be a lengthy process.

"The heart is slowly gathering power and while the exhaustion remains profound, a slight accession of general strength is noticeable.

"The future course of the illness must, from its nature, be slow and not without difficulties, but we are happy to state that the King's progress is now established on a firmer basis."

The signatures on the announcement were those of Sir Hugh Riggby the surgeon who performed a rib resection on Dec 12; Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, the King's regular physicians, and Sir E. Farquhar Buzzard and Sir Humphrey Rolleston, who have been called in consultation on several occasions.

The announcement was notable not only for good news which it contained, but for being in sharp contrast to the terse and closely edited bulletins which have been the rule since the King was taken ill.

The very length of the announcement was considered a good augury and people read it with sighs of relief, virtually disregarding its warning that there were still difficulties ahead of their Monarch, and that complete cure would be a protracted affair.

The evening bulletin consisted of only two sentences. It said:

As there already have been two bulletins today, a further one is not issued tonight. The position continues to be satisfactory.

The morning bulletin merely recorded the fact that the King had passed a good night and that there was a continuation of his Majesty's slow progress.

These regular announcements were signed by Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, physicians, and Sir Hugh Riggby, the surgeon who performed the drainage operation on the King's chest last week. But for their afternoon consultation they called in Sir Humphrey Rolleston and Sir E. Farquhar Buzzard, and all five signed the "Christmas card."

HOLIDAYS START WITH HAPPINESS

Old Custom Still Prevails—School is Closed With Concerts

This being one of the big days at the Public School the press was invited to be present for the closing event with its concerts and merriment which has for so long characterized the final days of school before Christmas holidays.

In every room we met with a whole hearted response to our "Merry Christmas," the whole class replying in unison "Merry Christmas, Sir." It was good to see their whole hearted enjoyment of their programme; with real honest good nature, applause which said truly "You did well and we liked your piece!" As all the concerts were on simultaneously it was impossible to see and hear all of what each class put on so we just stayed for one or two numbers in each.

In our brief visits we found their programmes of great variety: recitations, vocal solos, choruses, piano solos, dancing, playlets, a mock trial and many other things showing that school to possess a diversified talent, from the inspiring recitations of the primary class to the eloquent speeches of the entrance class students.

We could not mention all we saw and heard as neither space nor time would permit but the mock trial in the entrance provided every one with a good laugh and gave the students an opportunity to be eloquent. Those taking part were:

Judge—Herbert Linton.
Court Clerk—Jack Bruce.
Court Crier—Billy Elms.
Sheriff—Russell Broadbent.
Accused—Jack Phillips.
Witnesses—Harold Stephens and Wilfrid McMahon.
Lawyers—Allen Flood and Philip Benson.

The Jurors—Dan O'Connor, Eric Newman-Jones, Joe McMahon, Chas Corbett, Wesley Friar, Percy Kinsey Geo. Box and Leo Smith.

The boys and girls left school with cheers and shouts, joyous for the freedom they will enjoy for the Christmas holidays.

BLANKET OF SNOW IN THIS DISTRICT

"Fair And Cold" Says Weather Man For Week End Weather

The blanket of snow which descended on this district Thursday evening created a more noticeable aspect for the Yuletide festivities. Commencing early in the evening, the beautiful began to fall and at midnight four or five inches graced the landscape. In the district north of Port Hope the snowfall is stated to have been heavier. Motor traffic was not impeded to any considerable extent.

Following the snow storm, the temperature took an abrupt drop and preparations have been made for the flooding of the local rink on Young Street. (The fighting fixtures have been installed and the ground is being put in shape for flooding. At noon today there was 12 degrees of frost in the rink and if the cold weather continues, the rink management expects there will be skating next week.

The Weatherman, announces his bulletin as "Fair and cold today and Saturday," and the cold weather is anticipated over the week end. In Port Hope a few sleighs made their appearance today and the jingle of the sleigh bells added a touch of Christmas spirit to the atmosphere.

Out in Manitoba yesterday, King Winter swung in to its old-time gait when the mercury dropped to as low as 45 degrees below zero in the northern country and 16 below in Winnipeg.

It was the coldest weather experienced in the Province this season. The Pas reported 30 degrees below this morning. Coldlak, north of the Pas recorded 45 degrees below.

The weather in the other two Prairie Provinces is comparatively mild, with Calgary, Alta. enjoying a temperature of 42 above zero. Four below was marked in Regina but that Province is watching its thermometers rise today.

AUTOIST DIES FROM SHOCK

Car Overturns, Pinning William Smith In Wet Ditch

William Elgin Smith, aged 48, resident of Trenton, was fatally injured in a motor accident south of the Caerying Place, Prince Edward County, late Wednesday evening. The car in which he was riding, driven by Patrick McCauley, slued on the slippery road, went into a deep ditch and overturned. The ditch was partly filled with water, and, as Mr. Smith was pinned beneath the wreckage, he suffered much from the chill and shock. He was taken home to Trenton, but passed away shortly after the arrival of medical aid.

The other occupant of the car was uninjured, but had to break the glass to get out of the wrecked car. The deceased was well known in Trenton. He was an engineer for many years running from Trenton to Maynooth. The deceased was a member of Trenton Lodge, A. F. & A. M.; Trenton Chapter, R. A. M.; I. O. O. F., and Rebekah and of the Anglican church. He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, two sons, Harold and Burton at home, and one daughter, Mrs. Havelock Butler, Belleville.

SAYS "FLU" CASES ARE NOT SERIOUS

Dr. W. J. Bell Issues Statement On Behalf Of Department of Health

In an official statement issued by the provincial department of health through Deputy Minister Dr. W. J. Bell, it is stated that there is no serious emergency in connection with the flu epidemic. Reports made by district medical health officers in conference here indicate that while the disease is widespread its distribution and severity is spoty, the most serious case being with respiratory and intestinal complications.

It is stated that the supply of trained nurses in some localities is not equal to the demand and practical home nurses or partially trained nurses will be recruited where needed by local boards of health. Where necessary arises the department of health may decide to supervise a practical nursing service.

With the official statement is a bulletin designed for general distribution which states that the epidemic is not as serious as in 1918 but is highly communicable although of itself rarely fatal.

Seven rules for avoiding the disease are given, avoid crowds, take exercise in the open air, take plenty of sleep in well-ventilated rooms, wash the face and hands frequently (especially before eating, cover the face when sneezing and coughing, do not visit sick persons if it can be avoided, and do not worry.

After describing the symptoms of the disease the bulletin tells how to fight it. These instructions are to go to bed until absolutely well, which means a period considerably longer than that of actual illness; to keep the bedroom at 63 degrees F., to call a doctor and do exactly as he says.

Late Matthew Pope Clemes

After an illness of a week, Mr. Matthew Pope Clemes, senior member of the firm of Clemes Brothers, died at his home, 129 Jamieson Avenue, Toronto, on Dec. 21st, 1908. He was born in Cornwall, England and came to Port Hope with his parents when two years of age. In 1897 he left Port Hope to reside in Toronto. He was laid to rest in Port Hope Union Cemetery the day before Christmas, 1908.

Gang of thugs is supposed to be frequenting byways around Windsor.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Good morning! There's a bright future ahead!

This is the shortest and darkest day of them all, but from now on they'll be stretching it by little.

But even our darkest days have their bright moments. The gorgeous sunlight against the snow and the dark bank of clouds form a background makes a beautiful sight to the eyes.

If this weather holds out we'll have skating for Christmas. They flooded the rink this morning.

It's more like Christmas now with the tingle of sleighbells.

Nobody seems to mind shovelling after this snow storm—too delighted that Old Probs sent along the snow storm.

High School Commencement is to night and there'll be lots of fun in the Old School when the winners of various awards go forward to get them. The dances which conclude is perhaps one of the most interesting features to many.

Come, look sharp! Only two more shopping days till Christmas!

In the death of S. Wellington Staples, of Baltimore, whose funeral took place Wednesday, that locality has lost a prominent agriculturist, who was also widely known in the district as an apple buyer. Mr. Staples was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Staples of Baltimore. He is survived by his widow, before her marriage Kate Ingram; two sons, Christopher and Harold, and one daughter, Miss Jennie Staples, also by three brothers, James F., Welcome; Franks of Provincial Highway West; and Stanley of Baltimore.

Further evidences of incendiarism were revealed at Oshawa Wednesday when Fire Chief W. R. Elliott returned from two blazes in the home of R. Pritchard, 128 Rosedale Avenue. The occupants of the home were away when the fire broke out, and they declare they do not know how the fire originated. Investigation continues.

Orillia's fire loss this year totals $98,000, the largest since 1911. Miller's tannery fire was responsible for $84,000 of the amount. The fire brigade had ninety calls, only eleven of which were actual fires, according to Chief Blacker's report to the Town Council.

Fine new School at S. S. No. 6, in Mersea Township was recently opened.

PRISON TERM FOR FORGERY

Port Hope Was Visited By Convicted Man A Short Time Ago

Wanted in Guelph, Paris, Port Hope and Toronto on forgery and fraud charges, William George Henwood was Wednesday sentenced at Barrie to two years and six months in Kingston penitentiary after pleading guilty to similar offences committed at Thornton, Beeton and Cookstown.

About two weeks ago, the convicted man visited Port Hope under the name of W. Howard and it is stated had dealings with the Royal Bank here. It is said he attempted to transfer his account for $300 from Beeton and at the same time place the figure "1" in his pass book.

Henwood's Mississauga Horse sergeant's tunic had an imposing array of military decorations, including the Victoria Cross, D. C. M., M. M., Mons Star, South African ribbons, general service, victory medals and Croix de Guerre. None were won by him on the field of battle or any other place. He wore his uniform in presenting himself at bank teller's cage with forged cheques.

On Dec. 7, representing himself as W. Howard, he cashed a $300 cheque at the Royal Bank, Beeton, depositing the proceeds. The same day he received cash for a $50 cheque. Both were drawn on the Poppy Fund trust account. Accused had a long record, including sentence to six months at Paris, Ontario, for fraud, in 1921; in March, 1924, six months for forgery at Toronto; in 1925 on nine charges of forgery, two years at Kingston; and in March of this year six months for theft.

He spoke but twice in court, saying "guilty" when charged and "thank you" when sentenced.

THE GUIDE STORY

She, however, replied courteously, and then Mr. Stewart swept from the room upon the arm of her attendant.

Many earnest and curious glances followed the stately couple, for the lady was reported to be immensely rich, while it had also been whispered that the gentleman attending her—a distinguished artist—had long been a suitor for her hand; but, for some reason best known to herself, the lady had thus far turned a deaf ear to his entreaties, although it was evident that she regarded him with the greatest esteem if not with sentiments of a tenderer nature.

After passing through the covered walk leading to the house, the two separated—the gentleman to attend to having their carriage called, the lady to go up stairs for her wraps.

As she was about to enter the dressing-room to get them, a picture hanging between two windows at the end of the hall attracted her eye.

"Ah!" she exclaimed, catching her breath sharply, and moving swiftly toward it, she seemed to forget everything, and stood, with clasped hands and heaving bosom, spell-bound before it.

It represented a portion of an old Roman wall—a marvelously picturesque bit of scenery, with climbing vines that seemed to cling to the gray stones lovingly, as if to conceal their irregular lines and other ravages which time and the elements had made upon them; while here and there, growing out from its crevices, were clusters of delicate maiden-fair fern, the bright green of which contrasted beautifully with the weather beaten wall and the darker, richer coloring of the vines.

Just underneath, partly in the shadow of the wall, there sat, upon a rustic bench, a beautiful Italian girl, dressed in the costume of her country, while at her feet reclined her lover, his hat lying on the grass beside him, his handsome face upturned to the maiden, whom it was evident he adored.

It was a charming picture, very artistic, and finely executed, while the subject was one that appealed strongly to the tenderest sentiments of the human heart.

But the face of the woman who was gazing upon it was deathly white. She was motionless as a statue, and seemed to have forgotten time, place, and her surroundings, as she drank in with her wonderful eyes the scene before her.

"It is the wall upon the Appian Way in Rome," she breathed at last, with a long-drawn sigh.

"You are right, madam," responded a voice close at hand, the sound of which caused the woman to press her clasped hands hard upon her heaving bosom, though she gave no other sign of being startled.

The next moment she turned and faced the speaker.

It was Gerald Goddard.

"I heard no one approaching—I thought I was alone," she said, as she lifted those wonderful eyes of hers to his.

He shrank from her glance as under a lightning flash that had burst upon him unawares.

But quickly recovering himself, he courteously remarked:

"Pardon me—I trust I have not startled you."

"Only momentarily," she replied; then added: "I was admiring this painting; it is very lovely and—most faithfully portrays the scene from which it was copied."

"Ah! you recognize the—the locality?"

"Perfectly."

"You—you have been in—Rome?" the man faltered.

"Oh, yes."

"Recently?"

There was a softness of breathless intensity about the man as he asked this question.

"No; I was in Rome—in the year 18—"

At this response, Gerald Goddard involuntarily put out his hand and laid it upon the balustrade, near which he was standing, while he gazed spell-bound into the proud, beautiful face before him, searching it with wild, eager eyes.

After a moment he partially recovered himself, and remarked:

"Is it possible? I myself was in Rome during the same year and painted this picture at that time. Were—were you in the city long?" he concluded, in a voice that trembled in spite of himself.

"From January until—until June."

For the second time that evening Mr. Goddard suppressed a groan with a cough.

"Ah! it is a singular coincidence, is it not, that I also was there during those months?" he finally managed to articulate.

Claus will have a busy week visiting various schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dawson and baby daughter, of Lakefield, were the guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. George Engleson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thompson and son Billie, were the guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Barnard.

Old Arlington Hotel at Cobourg is to be remodelled.

William John Quinn, Fenian Raid veteran, died in Chatham, aged 80.

The Detroit Cougars recovered from whatever ailed them during their last two games and walloped the Canadiens of Montreal last night. The score was 5 to 1.

The New York Rangers again combined a fast attack with tight defensive work to take a hard-fought National Hockey League game from the Ottawa Senators 1 to 0 last night. The Rangers had a slight edge over the battling Senators in all but the first period when one of their few successful attacks brought the only goal of the game.

ROGERS
BATTERYLESS
RADIO

The New 1929 "Four-Ninety" Console
Features: Single Dial Tuning, Illuminated Dial, Automatic Voltage Control, Phonograph "Plug-in" Jack, Rogers Output Filter, Electro-Dynamic Speaker—other Rogers refinements.

Price Complete $395
Terms if Desired

THE gift that many wise men will give their families this Christmas will be this glorious "Four-Ninety" Console—the finest of all the new, 1929 Rogers-Batteryless Models.

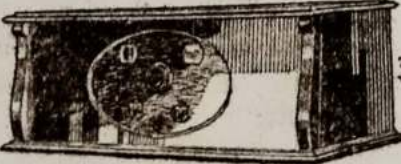

We say "wise men", because any other comparable radio would cost considerably more and it wouldn't be a Rogers.

This is the fourth Christmas since Rogers blazed the trail for Batteryless Radio and set the standard in quality and performance for practically all of the electric sets that are on the market this Christmas. Today more Rogers-Batteryless Radios are sold than all other electric sets combined!

The new "Four-Ninety" is a marvel of radio engineering by Rogers; a masterpiece of fine cabinet making by Malcolm. As only a limited number of this de luxe model have been made, only a limited number will be available for sale in this community.

For those who demand the utmost in electric radio, there can be no substitute for a Rogers-Batteryless. You can pay more for your Christmas radio, of course, but if you're wise you'll say it with a Rogers and be sure.

Table Speakers
The following Table Speakers can be supplied, if desired, with this model:
Cone Table Speaker—$49.00
Dynamic Table Speaker—$65.00
Combination Phonograph and Dynamic Table Speaker—$125.00

Get a Rogers-Batteryless Radio in your home this Christmas? If you see there will be. Rogers production facilities have been strained to the utmost tremendous demand this season. So get your order in immediately.

CORRECTION

In our issue of Nov. 27th, 1928, under the heading "Bus Driver Broke Leg in Scuffle," the wrong names were used in an item regarding an accident at Lindsay. It was Gordon Trigg who had a broken leg and went to the Ross Memorial Hospital at Lindsay and the injury was received in a scuffle with Reg. Howe.

We are very pleased to make this correction and always seek to state the facts; we are though wrongfully informed occasionally, which is regrettable. We receive this correction through the courtesy of Mr. Wilbur Berry who was mentioned in the accident but who was in Toronto at the time.

BAILIEBORO

A bazaar and concert was held on Friday evening by the ladies of the Anglican church.

The program commenced at eight o'clock in the basement of the church. It was an excellent one, consisting of a short play staged by the ladies; solos by Mrs. Will Tunney and Mrs. F. Waterman; drills by the intermediate girls, and piano solos by Mrs. Allen.

At the conclusion of the program a dainty buffet luncheon was served to the audience after which the dainty aprons, etc., were offered for sale.

An interesting feature of the program was the selling of a handsome quilt. W. W. Brown was the auctioneer and the quilt sold for about six dollars and a half.

Boy's Entertainment
Keith Barnard entertained about forty of the tuxis boys at his home on Friday evening.

During the evening the National anthem was sung as a prayer for the recovery of His Majesty King George.

Mr. Barnard also addressed the boys, thanking them for their support and loyalty to their candidate during the recent election campaign in East Durham and stating he was always at their service, willing and anxious to do all in his power to build the tuxis boys movement in this constituency to a higher standard.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games and in music.

Lunch was served at eleven o'clock after which the boys took their departure to their respective homes.

Among those present were: A. Deyell, A. Brown, H. Dean, R. and F. Barnard, A. Dawson, R. and A. Dawson, S. Greenaway, D. Davison, Fred Ough, and Bruce Curtis, of Port Hope; H. Chambers, J. Smith, A. Bateman, M. Henry, G. Har, r. S. and M. Johnston, J. Ackison, J. and F. Barnard, E. Earnshaw, K. Lang, M. Wood.

Before taking their departure, the Pretor, Archie Deyell moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Barnard for the evening's entertainment. After singing "For he's a jolly good fellow" the pleasant evening was brought to a close.

Personals
Mr. Meredith Perrin is holidaying at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Perrin.

During the next week public school concerts in the vicinity will be the order of the day. Santa

When there is
SUNBEAM
LAYING MASH
in the Hopper,
there will be
EGGS IN THE NEST

That's a fact! There are always eggs in the nest when your hens have had plenty of Sunbeam Laying Mash. Grain fed birds may grow big and heavy but they don't lay eggs. Sunbeam Laying Mash provides certain elements that give hens the power to produce eggs and also imparts a vitality which increases the hatchability. This is a scientific fact—you can prove it by a trial. The splendid increase in egg production while egg prices are high will pay big profits out of a small investment if you keep Sunbeam Laying Mash before your flock all the time. Read what Mr. Stevens, the well-known poultryman of St. Catharines, says:

Standard Milling Co., of Canada Ltd.
Toronto

Dear Sirs—
You may be pleased to hear of the success that I have had with SUNBEAM LAYING MASH during January, February and March. I received an average of 95 eggs per day from 130 hens, or better than 70%; my top production being 115 eggs. Sickness was unknown in my flock and hatchability excellent. I can strongly recommend your feeds to any person wishing to have success at a reasonable cost.

Yours truly,
H. G. STEVENS

SINGER OVERCOMES NATIVE HANDICAP

A foreign name has a definite advantage over the Anglo-Saxon name in music or the other arts, Edward Johnson, native of Ontario, who has won world recognition as a famous tenor, told The Canadian Club here recently. While in Europe he used the Italian version of his own name and when he returned to this continent under his proper name his "marked value" fell 50 per cent., he said.

Similarly, Isidore de Lara, an Englishman born and bred and christened Cohen, had to leave Britain to get a living and change his name. His operas have been performed with great success in France for years. And Sir Thomas Beecham, renowned supporter of opera told a group in London that the chief tenor in the Vienna Opera was a man named Packover from Lincolnshire, England, but singing under the name of Picover.

Edward Johnson, however, has triumphed over this "handicap" and on his return to his native city of Guelph this month was acclaimed with the greatest warmth. He had left Guelph at the age of 20, having established a reputation as a singer and student of good music. After years of strenuous study in the United States he studied in Paris, Florence and other great musical centres of the continent. In Florence he achieved his first real success; and in Florence he met the lovely girl who became his wife. She died not long afterward, but his only daughter was born in the Italian city and named after it, "Ferenzi." She is now 18 years of age and is studying music in the finest of the world's schools.

OVER 1,500 HARVESTERS REMAINED IN CANADA

Detailed figures on the movement of British miner-harvesters to Canada last autumn were furnished in the House of Commons by Rt. Hon. L. C. Amery, secretary for the dominions. He said 8,449 men went to the harvest fields from Britain and 6,876 returned, leaving 1,573 in the Dominion. Of these returning, he continued, 4,557 had received a loan for whole or part payment of return passage and he was unaware what amount of these loans were still owing, but imagined the losses through non-payment would fall on the British government.
