OBITUARY

W. L. PAYNE

W. L. Payne, K.C., was buried at Colborne Saturday. Mr. Payne suffered a stroke of paralysis a few days before his death. He was 82 years of age. He was a prominent member of the Colborne United Church. In politics he was a Conservative. Mr. Payne married Emma Ewell, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Powell of Cobourg who, with two sons, Hector of Detroit, and Ernest of Moose Jaw, and two daughters, Mrs. W. Lacey of London, Eng., and Miss Frances Payne of Detroit, survive him. Mr. Payne was one of the most highly regarded citizens of Colborne.

OSHAWA WINS FROM QUEEN'S

Takes Second Game of Play Offs Winning Round by 9 To 5

Oshawa intermediates disposed of Queen's in the second game of the O.H.A. play downs at the Harty Arena last night, taking the game by 6 to 2 after being tied in the first game at Oshawa on Friday last, when the game ended in a 3-3 tie. Oshawa was the better team on the play and richly deserved their victory. They played better combination, back-checked better and their defense was stronger and in every department were just a little better than the Tricolor.

Oshawa opened the scoring three minutes after the start of the game, when Rowden got the first counter. Reid came right back for the tying goal, but after ten minutes of play Chartrand put his team ahead, and then Johnston added another for the visitors.

In the second period Reid went in alone to drive a shot which the Oshawa goalkeeper ducked only to find it sailing over his head into the net. Johnston got the counter back in seven minutes.

Oshawa sewed up the game in the last period in seven minutes when Lowe took a pass from Chartrand out side the defense. With every Queen's man except Quinn on the forward line, Houck suddenly broke away and had only the goaler to beat. He circled in and flipped the rubber past the Tricolor goalkeeper. From then on Oshawa held their opponents safely.

The class of intermediate hockey that is played in this district is shown by the fact that Oshawa stepped onto foreign ice and handed a strong team a decisive defeat. After the first game in Oshawa had ended in a tie, even the most optimistic fan believed that the Tricolor would secure the edge in the Limestone City. Class will tell and congratulations are extended Oshawa on their well merited win and it is hoped that they will advance far in the O.H.A. race and bring credit to Group No. 2.

Manager Sammy Lowe, formerly of Port Hope, got into the fray last night as substitute and although he was playing his first game of the season, was used often and turned in a creditable performance. He scored the 5th goal for his team on a pass from Chartrand.

When Sam assumed the managerial reins of the Oshawa team this season he expressed a desire to remain out of the play, but feeling he was needed last night, donned the blades again. Sammy has a lot of hockey left in him yet and Port Hope fans remind the fine stickhandling of a player who learned his hockey on the ponds of Port Hope.

In the third round of the intermediate series, Oshawa plays at Whitby Friday, February 17th, with the return game at Oshawa on Monday, Feb. 20th.

The teams:
Oshawa—Goal Smith; defense Chartrand and Johnston; centre Avery; wings Houck and Rowden; subs Lowe and Joyce.

Queen's—Goal Quinn; defense Britton and Boland; centre Lindsay; wings, Reid and Relet; subs Boucher and MacPherson.

Referee—Ernie Collett, Toronto.

COMING EVENTS

THERE WILL BE A MEETING OF THE Canton Farmers' Club at Canton, Thursday, February 16th. A special program. Mr. Walter Reynolds, Durham's representative to the United Farmers' Hog Pool meeting, will give his report and he would like all the farmers in Hope Township interested in hog farming to be present at this meeting. Mr. J. W. Kellough, District Representative, will also be present with several reels of motion pictures. Everyone welcome.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE Port Hope Fish and Game Protective Association will be held in the Agricultural Office, Ontario Street, on Monday, the 20th of February, at 8 p.m. All members are requested to attend.

W. F. McMAHON, Sec.-Treas.

ATTENTION OFFICERS AND members of the A.O.F. kindly attend our regular meeting, Feb. 14, for installation, business and lunch. FRED SNELL JACK STAPLES Sec. C.R.

SHORT SESSION OF TOWN COUNCIL

Bylaw Is Passed For Borrowing Sums of Money for Current Expenditure

A by-law authorizing the head, or acting head and treasurer of the Corporation of the Town of Port Hope to borrow certain sums of money to meet the now current expenditure was read a third time and passed by the Municipal Town Council at their regular meeting held in the Town Hall Monday night. The limit of the by law was fixed at $75,000 and the bylaw was passed for the purpose of allowing the corporation to borrow small sums from time to time without preparing a special by law and in this way expedite matters to a considerable extent.

ALL PRESENT

All the members were in their accustomed places and those present included Mayor R. J. Edmunds, Reeve L. H. Giddy, Deputy Reeve Fred Rosevear and Councillors Moss Hewson, Jas. Sinnott, H. W. Mitchell, H. Merrifield, S. Brickell and J. A. R. Elliott.

INDIGENT PATIENTS

Mrs. E. M. Elliott, superintendent of the Port Hope hospital advised the council that Eileen A. M. French was admitted to the hospital as an indigent patient. Two accounts, one for Nellie Henderson for $46.50 and the other for Lloyd Kemp for $54.50 were forwarded.

SAFETY LEAGUE CONVENTION

A communication was received which asked that the council appoint a representative to attend the 16th annual meeting of the Ontario Safety League and the 9th annual meeting of the Canadian National Safety League to be held in Hamilton on February 15th. No action was taken.

ASKED FOR AUDIT

Messrs. Robertson, Robinson, Armstrong and McCannell, a Toronto firm of chartered accountants submitted their services as auditors for the town's accounts at a fee of $500 but as the auditors for the town have already been appointed, no action was taken.

RE CAVAN STREET

The Nicholson File Company wrote the council as follows regarding the condition of Cavan street:

"Last year a majority of the property owners on Cavan street signed a petition requesting the council to have Cavan street paved. The council, in view of the unfinished work on hand, did not think it advisable to do the work in 1927.

"Cavan street is now in a bad condition and the town will be under considerable expense to repair it in the same manner as heretofore.

"Will the council kindly give the matter their careful consideration and see if they cannot see their way to grant the request of the petitioners and have Cavan street paved this year?"

"It has always been a costly street to maintain and the saving of the annual expense will help pay for the cost of paving and should the work be started as soon as weather permits, the cost of repairing this street will be saved."

RE HIGH SCHOOL

The following communication was received from Dr. J. F. Thompson, secretary treasurer of the Port Hope High School Board by the town clerk.

"Would you kindly convey to the municipal council the request of the High School Board that the municipal council be pleased to place to the credit of the High School Board in the hands of the secretary treasurer the unused balance of building fund amounting to $510.90 and which is still in the hands of the town treasurer and also that the municip-

NO FAVORS FOR MELLOR AT GUELPH

Picton Pastor Works with Pick And Shovel In Landscape Squad at Guelph

A somewhat downcast looking man clad in baggy regulation trousers and jumper of the Ontario reformatory, is wielding a pick and shovel with the "bull gang," engaged in landscape beautification along the York road boundary of the institution grounds today.

He is Rev. J. J. Mellor, one-time beloved pastor of Picton United church, who arrived Thursday to begin serving a term of 13 months.

This beautification work is not all that the name implies. It is excavation work in heavy clay and black loam and is part of a program of landscape gardening. All it requires are pick and shovel and steel barrow, and is by no means the most pleasant task in the world for the ordinary laborer.

And this is the status the former minister enjoys.

Though the erstwhile Picton pastor had his meals brought to him by taxi from the town's leading hotel while in Picton jail, he enjoys no such privileges at the Ontario reformatory. Superintendent C. F. Neelands stated that he had been put to work in the "bull gang" the same as any other prisoner.

Mr. Neelands could not see why such a fuss was being made about Mellor. He is just one more at the provincial institution.

When a day's toil is completed Mellor files into the graystone building in line with hundreds of other similar blue-clad figures. He is counted with the others. And with the others he gets his food on a tin plate and eats it in the great dining hall. His cot, the same as hundreds of others receives his body at night, aching from unaccustomed physical exertion.

Those are the conditions under which Rev. J. J. Mellor will expiate his crime against society.

TRADE TOTAL IS NEAR 2 BILLIONS

Increase Over Previous Year—Some Decreases in Exports Noted

Grand total of Canadian trade for the first ten months of the present fiscal year ending Jan. 31, was $1,953,417,577, an increase of $27,000,000 over the corresponding period of the previous year. Imports totalled $902,000,000 and exports, $1,051,000,000. Total trade for January was $164,000,000, including imports of $79,000,000, and exports of $84,000,000. The exports for January showed a slight decrease, as compared with January, 1927. Well over 50 per cent. of the imports entered Canada free of duty. The principal decreases in exports were in agricultural and vegetable products, mainly foods.

council place to the credit of the High School Board the further sum of $2,955, being the balance of the amount raised by municipal taxatice for high school purposes during 1927 by request of this board and which is still in the hands of the town treasurer.

In making this request the board has instructed me to point out to the council that this is the second time that this board has requested the transfer to its account of $2,955, the first request made in December, 1927, having met with no response, also that the payment of the sum will make no difference whatever to the finances of the town as the High School estimates for 1928 will be reduced accordingly, also that the board feels that it should be in possession of all funds to which it is legally entitled before striking its estimates for 1928 as this board has already received in the popular mind the credit of receiving this money. The board feels that it is only fair that it have the opportunity which the possession of this sum would give of obtaining credit before present lower estimates for the present year."

Councillor Mitchell, chairman of the Finance Committee pointed out that there was a difference between the books of the town and the High School books and it was suggested that the two treasurers get together and straighten matters out.

LAST OF BODIES TAKEN FROM HOLLINGER MINE

Thirty-Ninth Known Victim of The Timmins Disaster Brought to Surface—Rescue Crew Strive to Find and Save Comrades.

Timmins mourns its dead. The hope that has lived for days, despite the ghastly finds of rescue parties, has now died. Thirty nine men were known to be in the Hollinger workings. The bodies of all have been recovered.

All night long rescue crews strove mightily to find and save comrades who might still be alive. Their efforts were all in vain. Corpses they found, but no man in whom the spark of life still lingered. Ambulances travelled all night long from the Hollinger main shaft to local undertakers' rooms only to return from whence they started for yet another piteous burden.

Timmins, unable yet to realize the full extent of the tragedy, awakened Monday morning to learn that no more rescues of living had been effected during the night. This fact compelled the belief that no more were likely. Expectations of mine officials that certain men on the 675-foot level would be alive when reached did not materialize. Hope died in the hearts of miners' families.

Twenty three miners were still unfound at 2 o'clock Monday morning. A half hour afterward three more bodies were recovered. These were T. Sarar, J. Balich and J. Whitney, all of Schumacher. Then a couple of hours later the bodies of Alfred Aubrey, B. Fowler, M. Whalen, P. Klimko, W. Roberts and R. Barrett were brought to the surface. No more bodies were recovered until about 11 o'clock, when the remains of M. Swythy and P. Hede were brought up. Two bodies were recovered shortly after 12.35 and the next reported were at 5.30 p.m. The two brought up at noon were J. Kangas and E. Loblan, both of Timmins. The bodies located late in the afternoon were those of J. Aubrey, O. Bastien, C. Hacka, S. Maki, A. Aho, R. Irving, M. Gardej, Charles E. Richards and C. Johnson. The last body to be recovered was that of Omar Tittit, and it was brought to the surface about 8 o'clock Monday night.

A coroner's inquest was to be called this morning at 10 o'clock. Jurors were being impanelled by Coroner Montgomery yesterday afternoon. The inquest in the morning was only a formality and was adjourned. So far bodies have been released as they have been brought in, on orders of the coroner.

It is expected that criticism will be levelled outside of Timmins at the fact that the workmen were not warned quicker. Locally there is no criticism. It is realized that the extent of the underground workings, over 100 miles in length and 2,000 feet in depth, would make it a difficult task to warn all. It is felt that really wonderful work was done by those who were responsible for getting the men off the various levels. On the levels where the greater loss of life occurred, the men whose duty it was to give the warning, Graham and Pond, collapsed, and this was the cause of the greater death list. The last bodies to be recovered were on the 550-foot level where the fire started, and also on the eastern part of the 665-foot level. The bodies to be first discovered were on the 800-foot level, and then the rescue parties worked upward.

It was stated Monday night that the fire had not altogether burned itself out, despite the water poured on it. Most of the time since the start, it has just been smouldering, however. It is said to have been practically out when the water was turned on it, shortly before 7 o'clock Sunday night.

Lieut. W. Moodie of the Toronto Fire Department and Joseph Brooks of the Consumers' Gas Company returned to Toronto Monday. S. A. F. Brigham, general manager of the Hollinger, expressed his appreciation of the services extended by them.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Did you get one?

Sure I got a couple of Valentines which were more like a shower of bricks than missiles of love.

Tomorrow afternoon the dry-goods stores are remaining open and ready to serve the public of Port Hope and district. Look over the advertisements herein contained and you will find some real attractive buys.

The white house on Brown street, second from the north end on the west side, now occupied by Mrs. Rorke, has been purchased of Mr. Bailey Thompson, by Mr. D. H. McKay who at present resides on Charles street.

Did you think you heard thunder in the night? Well, it wasn't. A Loblaw tractor, semi-trailer and trailer had to get the assistance of another of their trucks so the long train with somewhere like 30 tons made quite a rumble on Walton st. hill.

Canton Farmers' Club is to have an especially interesting meeting on Thursday when Mr. W. Reynolds is to have a report of special interest to hog raisers and Mr. J. W. Kellough, of the department of agriculture will take several reels of motion pictures, "Ottawa, the Capital"; "Top Grafting of Fruit Trees"; "Box Packing"; "Apple Time in Evangeline's Line." "Nitrate of Soda, Industry," and these short but intensely interesting pictures will be topped off with a comic strip. It is a program which will be of much profit and well worth attending.

Hastings County Council at its regular session took a commendable step by way of encouraging the making of first-grade cheese, by making a grant of $100 to provide prizes for the best cheese maker in certain sections. As cheese making is one of the most important industries of the district, the action is timely.

At the annual meeting of the Campbellford Holstein Club the following officers were elected: President, P. B. Nelson; vice-president, E. O'Connor; secretary-treasurer, G. A. Kingston; Directors: A. E. Ford, S. B. Moir, W. A. Wynn, R. Honey, and Lindsay Anderson. It was decided to hold a judging class and field day in June.

Congratulations to the Kitchener Daily Record who recently issued a special edition in celebration of the 50th anniversary of daily newspaper in Kitchener.

ATLANTIC TRIPS BEING PLANNED

Giant Airship to Carry 135 Persons And Ten Tons Of Mail

The most wonderful skeleton in the world—the metal framework of the airship R100—has been shown at Howden in Yorkshire, says the London Daily Mail. The Mail says: The R100 is to be finished in April. It will carry 100 passengers, 35 of a crew, and ten tons of mail or other freight. You will be able to travel in her from London to New York or Montreal in 48 hours for a fare of 100 pounds. The first class liner fare is about 125 pounds. These are among the claims made for R100 by Commander C. D. Burney, M.P., the managing director of the Airship Guarantee Company Limited, who are building her to the order of the air ministry.

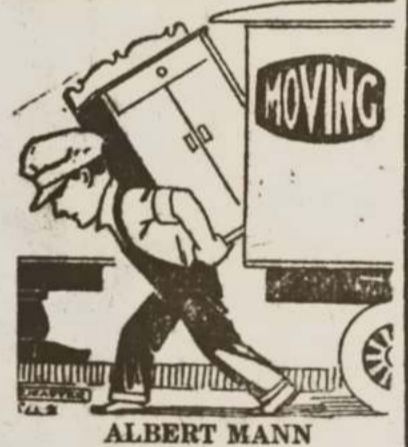

"This ship," said Commander Burney, "is entirely for commercial purposes—useless in war time—and she will be made as a commercial production job. Her total cost will be 450,000 pounds."

The dining room, with its 5-ply wooden floor will be 36 feet by 20 feet. It will seat 50 people, or cleared, provide ample dancing space for an equal number. The music will be provided by wireless. There will also be 36 bunks in two and four-berth cabins and two promenades on this floor. The floor above is a lounge from the centre of which you look over a balcony into the dining room. Surrounding this lounge are 60 more berths. Below the dining room are the kitchen quarters, connected by service elevators.

MANY DEPOSITS OF GYP SUM

Many large deposits of gypsum occur throughout Canada, the most extensively mined areas being in the Maritime Provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, where the mineral, in many places exposed in cliffs from 50 to 100 feet in height, is found associated with rocks of the Lower Carboniferous series. Gypsum is also mined in Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia. Deposits are known to occur in other parts of the Dominion.

Two overhead crossings will be constructed in Philadelphia costing $1,000,000.

MOON'S PART IN WEATHER CHANGE

Moon Guides Some Farmers in Planting Season—Can Forecast Dry or Wet Weather by Position

Many people believe the character of the moon's phases determines the weather shortly to follow. For instance, the wet moon and the dry moon are often spoken of; in the one case, the horns or the crescent are turned up, so it is said they will hold water and the weather will be dry; in the other case, the horns being down, the rain will be free to fall. Opinions differ, however, as to which is which, since what is called the wet moon in one section is called the dry moon in another. Again it is the truth to say that in different parts of the country there will be both dry and rainy spells during lunar quarters, whichever way the horns turn, for rarely if ever is the country all dry, and never all wet. The direction of the crescent, it may be said, depends upon the astronomical relationship between sun, moon and earth in their orbits.

As to the moon's relation to seed-time and harvest, that also is lore, believed in thoroughly by men here and there, and actually taken into account at planting time by individuals in a small way, but hardly considered by farmers on a large scale, since in practical farming the surest scientific methods and not the dictations of folklore, must prevail.

There is a saying that "sharp horns do threaten windy weather." This saying is founded on fact, since when the air is well mixed by strong winds aloft, it is clear, instead of being blurred by layers of air of different temperatures and humidities. The moon's horns are thus sharply defined, and the upper wind movement is likely to be followed by stronger wind movement at the surface.

"A dim or pale moon indicates rain or snow." This saying is also true. The moon is then partly obscured by the upper clouds which are the usual forerunners of stormy (rainy) weather. At such times there is often a ring or halo around the moon.

TO STAND TRIAL ON WEDNESDAY

Hickman May Hang For Earlier Crime Before Appeal Is Heard

The possibility that Wilby Hunt may enter a plea of guilty on Wednesday when he and William Edward Hickman go to trial for their joint holdup-murder of C. Ivy Thoms, a year ago, was indicated today by attorneys.

The attorneys added that this also might result in Hickman, slayer of Marion Parker being tried alone for the Thoms murder.

Clifford Thoms, District Attorney assigned to prosecute the joint murder trial of the two youths, conferred with A. Gray Gilmer, Hunt's counsel. He said Gilmer was to make known his decision tomorrow and indicated that the State's willingness to accept such a plea.

"A plea of guilty will save the country about $1,000 a day," the District Attorney's deputy said, "and will expedite matters considerably." He added that the question of Hickman being tried alone for complicity in the holdup-murder would be settled when and if Hunt entered such a plea.

District Attorney Asa Keyes declared that Hickman, who last week was declared sane by a Superior Court jury in connection with the slaying of Marion Parker, might be convicted and hanged for the Thoms murder before his appeal from the Parker case verdict was returned. Keyes pointed out that Hickman had entered two pleas in the Thoms case those of "not guilty" and "not guilty by reason of insanity." The jury will decide, Keyes said, both his sanity and his guilt, if he is found sane.

A verdict in the trial that Hickman is both sane and guilty, Keyes said, unaccompanied by a recommendation for mercy, would send Hickman to the gallows.

Hickman declared he would testify for the State against his alleged accomplice, the 16-year-old Hunt, in the Thoms murder.

"He had a lot of fun testifying against me; watch him when I take the stand against him," said Hickman.

NATIONAL RAILWAY EARNINGS

Sir Henry Thornton Attributes This to Increased Wages and Lower Freight Rates

Net earnings of the Canadian National Railways for 1927 amounted to $42,100,000, a decrease of $5,900,000 compared with 1926, according to figures given by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the system. Sir Henry pointed out that wage increases accounted for $6,300,000 and freight rates for $1,500,000.

Sir Henry stressed the great need for co-ordination of effort along the lines of promoting immigration. Last year only 154,000 people were brought to Canada. This amounted to only 1 7-10ths per cent, increase, which Sir Henry thought was not a good showing. If a slave in the Southern States was worth anything from $1000 to $2000 in the days before the civil war, then a free, able-bodied immigrant had infinitely greater value to the Dominion of Canada.

A Chiropractic mechanic is called a DOCTOR OF CHIROPRACTIC or a CHIROPRACTOR and either of these terms, rightly used with relation to the name of an individual, signifies that he knows the law of displacement, occlusion of stimulus and the adjustment to remove same. All that such a mechanic uses to restore the displacements to normal is the bare hands. A simple quick thrust accomplishes the results in a remarkably short time in most cases.

THE GUIDE STORY

"I thought I'd tell you, in case some one else did it blundering-like. Don't you think I'm going to rake up the old trouble again, because I am not. I've taken you at your word, and I'm ready to believe that you won't look at another man (ill this young vagabond—Wynter Leigh—is proved what all the world says he is."

"What do they say he is?" she asked.
"That he was as false in love as he was in farming—wrong at bottom, laze; and a gay deceiver. They do say that there's a lady pining her heart away for him up in the North, where he came from. I cannot say if it's true, for you may be sure that I haven't stopped to make inquiries. All that I do mean to say is that it goes against my natural pride to hear my own lass mated to some other miles away and sharing pity with her."

"It is false!" said Muriel.
"Very likely," said the farmer, grimly; "I only tell thee what I've heard."

He seemed disinclined to touch the subject as Muriel herself, and, after bestowing another flip upon the mare, set to whistling.

They had passed the Holme and were on the Hopwood road some distance when the farmer drew aside to allow a post-chaise to pass.

Instead of passing, however, the postillion pulled up in obedience to a signal from the inside; the window rattled down and a lady, young and good-looking, with a pleasant smile accosted the astonished farmer.

"Can you tell me, my man," she said, in a slightly foreign accent, "if we are in the right direction for the Holme?"

For a moment the farmer was too astounded to speak. The lady, evidently amused at his bewilderment, transferred her attention to the pale, beautiful face of Muriel.

"The Holme," she repeated.
"Yes," he said, "you are going right for the Holme."

"Mr. Wynter Leigh's?" asked the lady, as if to make assurance doubly certain.

"No. Farmer Holt's," replied the old man, grimly.

The lady looked surprised.
"Are there two places called the Holme?" she asked.
"Not in this part of the country," said the farmer.

"And Mr. Leigh does not live at this one?" said the lady, looking displeased.
"No, he doesn't," replied the farmer. "He did, but he has gone."

"Gone!" echoed the lady, faintly; and the farmer, noting her tone of dismay looked at Muriel significantly.
"Yes, gone," he repeated; "left suddenly."

"And for where?" asked the lady, who appeared very much startled.
"Ah!" said Farmer Holt, drawing a long breath, "that's just what no one knows. He left—fled, as one may say, from the country like a thief in the night, and not a soul knows where he has gone."

"This is most strange!" exclaimed the lady, sinking back in the carriage and looking very much annoyed and undecided. "I—I—had most important business with Mr. Leigh."

"No doubt," remarked the farmer, sardonically.
"And—and I really don't know what to do. But I must find him. Are you sure you can give me no information of his movements?"

"The only man who knew anything of him or his affairs left the place the moment he heard of his master's flight—followed him, I suppose," said the farmer.
"I don't understand it," said the lady, with an anxious sigh. "Well, I am very much obliged to you. Will you tell my man to drive on, please? Stop! whom is this Mr. Holt whom you say has bought or holds this farm?"

"He's your dutiful servant, madame," said the old man, lifting his hat with a grim bow and setting the mare going as the postillion started the chaise.

For a mile not a word was spoken by father or daughter, Muriel looking straight before her with the same pale face and sad, calm eyes, the old man breaking into spasmodic whistling occasionally and flippings of the mare.

At last he said, quietly:
"It's true, lass, you see. That fine lady was the one we've heard of, no doubt of it. She'll follow him, for she looks like it; but my modest lass will act sensibly and bid good-bye to all thoughts of him forever," and Muriel's eyes filled with tears, but she said nothing.

But Farmer Holt had conquered. That same evening the young squire came hurriedly into the parlor, and to his surprise and embarrassment found Muriel there.

It was the first time they had met since the evening of his avowal and for a moment he turned as pale as she herself, but the next he took the hand she held out to him, and bent over it, murmuring indistinct thanks for her recovery from the illness which was the accepted reason for her confinement to her apartments.

While they stood silent, the farmer came in, rubbing his hands, and winked with a world of joyous cunning at the young squire.

ANOTHER SCHOOL THEATRE PARTY

Boys' Athletic Association Of High School To Buy Gym Equipment

Last fall the High School boys and girls held a very successful theatre night at the Royal, so successful that many had to stand all evening and others were turned away. The school share of the receipts was large, but sport paraphernalia is expensive and in order to complete the equipment of the new gymnasium the Boys' Athletic Association has arranged for another special program, which will be presented tomorrow and Thursday—two nights instead of one, so that all may be seated.

The management of the theatre were successful in securing a very suitable and pleasing photoplay, "The High School Hero" to head the bill; it is a comedy drama of school life in which an amateur play and a basketball game are the highlights, and is considered delightfully entertaining. The short subjects also have been selected with care, while some added items of amusement will give the evening a distinctive touch.

For both nights the theatre will be open to the public as long as the seating capacity is unsoled, but in order to avoid any possibility of disappointment it is advisable to purchase tickets from the students. There is no advance in prices.

SPORTING SKITS

Jumping from place to place and refereeing hockey games is not all milk and honey. Harold Mitchell contracted pneumonia and died in Minneapolis recently, while Stan Burgoyne, the most sought-after official this year in the O.H.A., is seriously ill in the Oshawa Hospital with bronchial pneumonia. Stan handled the Queen's game in Oshawa Friday evening, but early Saturday morning a doctor had to be called in and he was rushed to the hospital. His friends were refused permission yesterday to see him. Last winter Stan coached the Fort William team, which was beaten in the hectic Allan Cup finals by Varsity Grads.

Beavers—Goal Rutter; defense Douglas and Moore; centre Berbert; wings, Paedon and Tape; subs Isaac and Mitchell.

Another Tie Game

In a junior play off game at Oshawa last night, the Oshawa Juniors and Bowmanville Juniors played a 4-4 tie game. The contest was fast from beginning to end and the deciding game will be played at Bowmanville Wednesday night.

Mrs Mildred McKeen, 22, shot and killed herself in her home, near Morris, Ill.

There were 195 more suicides in New York City last year than in 1926.

Lloyd Meeker, 37, driver, was killed when a school bus was struck by a train near Huron, Ohio.

Mrs. John Fox, great-great-grandmother, died at Fairbury, Neb., aged 84 years.

About 1700 of the 2900 students who entered University of Wisconsin this year will not return next fall.

GROWING OLD

A little more grey in the lessening hair,
Each day as the years go by;
A little more stooping in the form
A little more dim in the eye,
A little more faltering in the step
As we tread life's pathway o'er,
And a little nearer every day
To the ones who have gone before.

A little more halting of the gait,
And a dullness of the ear;
A growing weariness of the frame
With each swift passing year;
A fading of hopes, and ambitions,
too,
A faltering in life's quest,
And a little nearer every day
To a sweet and peaceful rest.
A little more loneliness in life
As the dear ones pass away;
A bigger claim on the heavenly land
With every passing day,
A little further toil and care,
A little less way to roam;
A drawing near to a peaceful voyage
And a happy welcome home.

PROMINENT AGRICULTURIST

Death of Mr. J. H. Bletcher

We regret to announce the death of Mr. J. H. Bletcher, of Castlethorpe House, Brigg, who passed away on Thursday morning after a serious illness.

Mr. Bletcher was a man widely known and respected throughout the Midlands, and had the reputation of being a man of high character and strict integrity. A prominent agriculturist, he had farmed extensively at Medge Hall, Louth, and Worbly prior to his retirement some ten years ago, when he took up residence at Brigg. He owned a great deal of land in North Lincolnshire and South Yorkshire, and although he never sought public office, he was always willing to give assistance to any deserving cause.

His wife predeceased him a matter of 40 years ago and he leaves on son and one daughter.

The late Mr. Bletcher was a native of Huddersfield and came of an old Yorkshire family.—The Hull Times.

Mr. Bletcher above referred to was a relative of our townsman, W. S. Bletcher.

A Dress For Reading, Writing And Romping

The way to show off one's new dress to the best advantage before mother's friends, Ann decides, is to consent to say some of the pieces that she has learned "by heart" at school. They cannot help but admire the charming picture she makes in the cool green linen dress with its little round collar and turned back cuffs bound in a darker shade. The jacket effect in front buttoned at each side over the pleats in the skirt is an interesting as well as becoming feature of this little costume. The sleeves are gathered at the cuffs and tiny tucks are set in on either shoulder to give ample room for ease of movement. It is a dress that can be easily laundered and, much to this little miss's delight, does not have to be taken off after school. (Copyright, 1928, by Butterick)

HOCKEY

England Defeated 3-2

The second day's matches in the Olympic hockey series played at St. Moritz Sunday furnished several outstanding surprises. They saw the rise of Poland from obscurity to possible contenders for the world's hockey championship, and the partial eclipse of Germany as a favorite.

Four games were played and the first, between Belgium and Hungary, proved uninteresting. The former team, displaying superior combination outscored their opposition 3 goals to 2.

The match between Poland and Sweden was the feature event of the day. The poles proved that they could not only learn the game, adopted two years ago, but also play it well, as their 2-2 draw with Sweden one of the favorites would indicate.

Holmquist the Swedish star, scored twice because the Polish goalkeeper persisted in leaving his net. On the other hand, the Polish forward line scored twice through brilliant rushes and clean shots to tie the score. With a different goalkeeper, the Poles would probably have defeated the Swedish team.

The English team were somehow unable to repeat their clever victory of Saturday and were defeated by the French 3 goals to 2. The English lacked driving power and were unable to solve the clever combination play of Winds, Simond and Hassler, of the French team. Kuaglia accounted for two goals, and when Captain Rauch from mid ice, shot unimpeded into the English net the game was decided then and there. The Caruthers brothers scored for the British on individual efforts in the first and third periods.

The last game was bitterly contested although the hockey shown was very mediocre. The Germans proved to be indifferent skaters and the Austrians hemmed them, in around their own goal for most of the time, often leaving their defense unprotected. The match ended in a scoreless draw so each team gets a point.

France sprang the first surprise in the hockey play, defeating Great Britain on Sunday by three goals to two, and now leads in the competition with two victories and no defeats. France appears certain to be the first semi-finalists against Canada on Friday.

The following are the results.—

LIKE A LETTER FROM HOME

Rochester, N.Y.
February 10, 1928.

Dear Mr. Wilson:—
Enclosed you will find cheque for $7.50 covering 2 years' subscription to the "Dear Old Guide." This is as a letter from home telling all the news from my home town. It hardly seems possible that it is nearly 20 years since I came to Rochester to enter school.
Best wishes to you and Donald.
Yours, Mrs. George Vierhile

CHEVROLET BIGGER AND BETTER

It is not often that the public is offered a full evening's entertainment free with the addition of presents of an automobile tire, also a tire chain thrown in. Such, however, was the case at Sculthorpe's garage, Cavan street, last Monday night. The large room in the garage was filled with an attentive audience, the majority of whom were men who listened to the descriptive lecture of Mr. S. Irwin of the General Motors, Oshawa. His explanation of the mechanical parts and description of its production from chalk drawing to moving Chevrolet was so ample and satisfying that few could find questions to ask though invited to come up at the close of the lecture, inspect the "cut open" model of the engine and rear axle and ask questions. Mr. G. E. Henchan, also of the General Motors, gave a short address regarding the number of men employed, production and destination of cars as manufactured. The "movie" of the General Motors proving ground in Michigan was intensely interesting and every man present followed with the closest interest the various tests and watched the cars speeding up on the tilted turns or making difficult hill climbing on high gear. Some of the pictures were taken from airplane, as the cars were rushing along at top speed.

Not a person left until the close and some lingered until nearly midnight to examine cars and parts.

It's the money you spend wisely that counts.

Someone has said that a rich man has more fun keeping a budget than a man of modern means. Because the money he saves is tangible, he can see it and invest it and put it to work. Be that as it may, a budget is an invaluable help to anyone.

A budget helps you keep the right proportions between expenses, prevents you from spending more than is best for food and rent, or crimping more than you should on entertainment and luxury. But a budget is not a reason for getting cheap things, things in which you forfeit quality by attempting to save on price. A budget says to you: "Here is the amount of money you should spend for this. Spend all of it but don't spend more." And it is up to you to get the best that can be got for that amount.

The person who spends his money wisely, who likes to get the utmost for it, always finds out from advertisements how he can spend it to the best advantage.

It is surprising how much more wisely you can buy if you make it a habit to read advertising. A little more value here . . . a little more value there . . . in this thing slightly more durability . . . that product perhaps a bit finer. And every cent of money you spend for advertised merchandise will bring you greater comfort, a higher quality of goods and a standard of excellence that is nationally recognized.

IT CERTAINLY PAYS TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS

A. Y. P. A. STAGE FINE PROGRAM

St. Mark's and Perrytown Y.P. Visit Local Organization

The A.Y.P.A., that flourishing organization at St. John's Church had one of the best meetings of the year in the Parish Hall, Pine St., Monday evening and a large number of the members were in attendance.

St. Mark's Young People together with a number from Perrytown visited St. John's A.Y.P.A. and a very merry evening was held indeed. The President, Jack Winfield, presided, and conducted the affairs of the evening in his usual capable manner.

Numerous contests were enjoyed throughout the evening and this form of entertainment enlivened the meeting to a considerable extent. Miss Dorothy Fourt sang two beautiful numbers, accompanied by Mrs. P. Gibson and an orchestra composed of Miss Dorothy Wormington, piano; Al Stagg, violin; and Carl Rutter, saxophone, played various numbers throughout the evening. Miss Margaret Strong presided at the piano for the sing song. After dainty refreshments were served, those present voted it the best evening yet.

Y. P. S. HOLD VALENTINE NIGHT

Good Crowd of Young People Have Very Entertaining Evening

After the regular business was disposed of, Mr. Bev Hancock took charge and put on a short program. Valentine readings were given by Miss Netta Brownlee and Mr. Harold Hancock, both telling in different ways about its origin with the good Bishop Valentine. Miss Doris Stephens, played a delightful piano solo entitled "Scarf Dance." Mr. A. Orchard, a visitor here, contributed three solos to the evening's entertainment.

Such a splendid program of games was provided that the time slipped away so fast that it could not be completed before it was time for the refreshments.

The crowd all gathered about a table in the primary room, which was gaily decorated with hearts and cupid and lighted with candles. After partaking of delicious sandwiches, cake and coffee every one departed from one of the season's most enjoyable meetings.

Next Monday will be a missionary meeting and a study of the work in Africa will make it very interesting.
