ELMVIEW FARMERS' CLUB

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wragge, Precious Corners, was the scene of a very enthusiastic gathering when the members of the Elmview Farmers' Club, together with their lady friends and others interested in the Club assembled at that place last Tuesday night for the first regular meeting of the newly formed club. Over fifty interested persons were present.

The dairy industry was the subject discussed. The President, R. George Holdsworth was in the chair. Mr. Harold Macklin gave a very good address on the market end of the dairy business. He emphasized the fact that farmers should do at least some winter dairying when prices, as a rule were at high tide. Mr. A. Bell followed. He made reference to the great need of weighing and of testing the milk of each individual cow, in order that the farmer may keep no boarders in his dairy herd.

Mr. Phillips gave a paper on the history of cheese. He also referred to the men who had built up the dairy business of Canada. Mr. Davy gave a report on the annual meeting of the Northumberland and Durham Apple Growers' Association and Fruit Institute. A discussion of the subjects by the members followed.

The commencement of the program was somewhat delayed owing to the late arrival of R. S. Duncan, Agricultural Representative, Port Hope. The club officers did not wish to proceed with the program without his presence. However, it is not the intention of the Representative in organizing these clubs that he shall provide part of the program but rather, that the Club members themselves shall provide the program. In this way the members will become more proficient in public speaking and besides have the benefit of the knowledge gained in the preparation of the subjects taken up.

Mr. Duncan gave a short address. He congratulated the President on the bright outlook of the Club and said that if the future was to be judged by the present, the success of the Club was indeed assured.

Mr. D. E. MacRae, Assistant in the Agricultural Department at Port Hope, acted as critic. Those who fell under his lash have no reason to feel hurt. His criticisms were offered in a friendly manner and not with a desire to cause pain or to offend.

The addresses were interspersed with excellent music. At the conclusion of the program coffee and sandwiches were served and a social hour enjoyed. A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Wragge who proved an ideal host and hostess, which brought the meeting to a close.

WESLEYVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The members of the auxiliary of the W.M.S. of Wesleyville were much pleased to meet so many friends at their monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Meadows. After an exceptionally good program, a social evening was enjoyed, followed by refreshments served by the ladies of the congregation. During the evening a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Meadows for thus kindly opening up their home to such a number of friends. Two new members were added to the society. The parting hymn was "God be

APROPOS OF FREE TRADE IN NATURAL PRODUCTS

I presume potatoes come under that heading, and the following is some of my experiences in that line.

In January or February of 1888 the present town of Fernie, in British Columbia, was a sort of stopping place on the line of the Crows' Nest Pass Railway, consisting of half a dozen log shacks and a "blind pig."

An enterprising citizen from across the boundary, hailing from Idaho, came along with a covered sleigh with a stove in it, peddling potatoes at the railway camps.

Potatoes just then were very scarce and a sort of luxury, so I bought a sack. They were sold by the pound and my treasure came to $9.

Carefully I carted them home thirty miles, covered up in blankets in my sleigh. Arriving at my camp, the cook began investigating to pick out any frozen one. When he got somewhat more than half way down in the sack, behold the remainder was nothing but nicely assorted broken rock, which after a little calculation brought the price of my potatoes to about 14 cents a pound or $8.40 per bushel. Now I don't believe my friend ever stopped to pay duty when he sneaked across the line, and I don't know whether he brought the rock all the way or not—foolish if he did for we had any amount of that natural product all around us and didn't have to buy it either.

This was no doubt a "Free" trade transaction but scarcely a "fair" one.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

The fight for entrance — honest British stupidity, crushing ribs and rending garments in preference to seemly order of progress—enlivened him somewhat, and sent him laughing to his conquered place; but before the curtain rose he was again depressed by the sight of a familiar figure in the stalls, a fellow-student who sat there with mother and sister, black-uniformed, looking very much a gentleman. 'I, of course, am not a gentleman,' he said to himself, gloomily. Was there any chance that he might some day take his ease in that orthodox fashion? Inasmuch as it was conventionally, he scorned it; but the privileges which it represented had strong control of his imagination. That lady and her daughter would follow the play with intelligence. To exchange comments with them would be a keen delight. As for him—he had a shop-boy on one hand and a grocer's wife on the other.

By the end he had fallen into fatigue. Amid clamour of easily won he made his way into the street, to find himself in a heavy downpour of rain. Having no umbrella, he looked about for a sheltered station, and the glare of a neighboring public-house caught his eye; he was thirsty, and might as well refresh body and spirit with a glass of beer, an unwonted indulgence which had the pleasant semblance of dissipation. Arrived at the bar he came upon two acquaintances, who, to judge by their flushed cheeks and excited voices, had been celebrating jovially the close of their academic labours. They hailed him.

'Hallo, Peak! Come and help us to get sober before bed-time!'

They were not exactly studious youths, but neither did they belong to the class that Godwin despised, and he had a comrade-like feeling for them. In a few minutes his demeanour was wholly changed. A glass of hot whisky acted promptly upon his nervous system, enabled him to forget vexations, and attuned him to kindred sprightliness. He entered merrily into the talk of a time of life which is independent of morality—talk distinct from that of the blackguard, but equally so from that of the reflective man. His first glass had several successors. The trio rambled arm in arm from one place of refreshment to another, and presently sat down in hearty fellowship to a supper of such viands as recommend themselves at bibulous midnight. Peak was drawing recklessly upon the few coins that remained to him; he must leave his landlady's claim undischarged, and send the money from home. Prudence be hanged! If one cannot taste amusement once in a twelve-month, why live at all?

He reached his lodgings, at something after one o'clock, drenched with rain, gloriously indifferent to that and all other chances of life. Poo! his system had been radically wrong. He should have allowed himself recreation once a week or so; he would have been all the better for it, body and mind. Books and that kind of thing are all very well in their way, but one must live; he had wasted too much of his youth in solitude. O mihi praeferitos referat si Jupiter annos! Next session he would arrange things better. Success in examinations—what trivial fuss when one looked at it from the right point of view! And he had fretted himself into misery, because Chilvers had got more 'marks'—ha, ha, ha!

The morrow's waking was lugubrious enough. Headache and nausea weighed upon him. Worse still, a scrutiny of his pockets showed that he had only the shame-faced change of half-a-crown therewith to transport himself and his belongings to Twybridge. Now, the railway fare alone was three shillings; the needful cab demanded eighteenpence. O idiot!

And he hated the thought of leaving his bill unpaid; the memento because it was a trifling sum, a week's settlement. To put himself under however brief an obligation to a woman such as the landlady gnawed at his pride. Not that only. He had no business to make a demand upon his mother for this additional sum. But there was no way of raising the money; no one of whom he could borrow it, nothing he could afford to sell—even if courage had supported him through such a transaction. Triple idiot!

Bread turned to bran upon his hot palate; he could only swallow cups of coffee. With trembling hands he finished the packing of his box and portmanteau, then braced himself to the dreaded interview. Of course, it involved no difficulty, the words once uttered; but when he was left alone again, he paced the room for a few minutes in flush of mortification. It had made his headache worse.

The mode of his homeward journey he had easily arranged. His baggage having been labelled for Twybridge, he himself would book as far as his money allowed, then proceed on foot for the remaining distance. With the eleven pence now in his pocket he could purchase a ticket to a little town called Dent, and by a calculation from the railway tariff he concluded that from Dent to Twybridge was some five-and-twenty miles. Well and good. At the rate of four miles an hour it would take him from half-past eleven to about six o'clock. He would certainly reach home in time for supper.

STILL ANOTHER FARMERS' CLUB

Officers Elected and Aims of These Organizations Outlined by Mr. Duncan.

On Friday of last week a Farmers' Club was organized in Roberts Hall, Welcome. The organization was conducted by Mr. R. S. Duncan, district representative, Port Hope, who very ably outlined the aims and the objects of these clubs. He also pointed out the special needs of the farmers for such clubs even in the best farming districts.

The following officers were elected:—
 President—Dr. H. C. Leslie.
 Vice-Pres.—Mr. Hugh Walker.
 Secy-Treas.—Mr. R. C. Symons.
 Directors—Messrs. E. H. Martyn, A. P. Pollard, Fred Currelley, Arthur Runnalls, Thos. Coyte.
 All the farmers and farmers' sons present expressed themselves in favor of such an organization. Twenty-eight members were secured on the first call, and the present indications point to the possibility of the membership being doubled, or thereabout, at the next meeting, and undoubtedly with such live, enthusiastic officers the Club will make very rapid progress.

It is the intention of the Clubs at Elmview, Garden Hill and Welcome to co-operate with each other in the exchange of papers on subjects of vital interest to these localities, and by this means much benefit will be derived by the different Club members as well as by those taking part in the program.

The name chosen for the Club was "Welcome Farmers' Club," and it is hoped that all the members in that vicinity will give their hearty support to the Club. Wherever Farmers' Clubs have been organized they have done an immense amount of good. These Clubs enable the farmers of a certain district to meet regularly to discuss subjects relating to agriculture, and to better themselves on the public platform. These Clubs carry on experiments along some phase of farm work, and co-operate with other Clubs in the County for mutual benefit. The aim of Farmers' Clubs is to raise the general standard of agriculture and to better social conditions in rural districts.

The Welcome Farmers' Club will hold their first regular meeting in Welcome on Tuesday, February 21, when the subject of "Horses" will be discussed. All interested are cordially invited to be present on that occasion.

COL. M'GILLIVRAY DEAD.

Noted Orangeman, Mason and Forester Passes Away.

Guelph, Feb. 15.—The death occurred here yesterday, after an illness of several years, of Lieut.-Col. John Alexander McGillivray, eldest son of the late George McGillivray of Whitby.

The deceased was born in Whitby on July 19, 1852, and was prepared for matriculation to the Toronto University at the collegiate institute of that town.

He studied law in Oshawa, and on being called to the Bar started practice in Port Perry. He subsequently removed to Uxbridge, where he soon enjoyed an extensive and lucrative practice. He early became prominent in political circles, and unsuccessfully contested North Ontario against Isaac J. Gould for a seat in the local House. Nothing daunted, he turned his attention to Dominion affairs, and was returned in a bye-election to support the administration of Sir John Thompson.

In fraternal societies, the late Col. McGillivray was quite prominent. In the Masonic craft he rose to the rank of D.D.G.M. of Toronto district. In the Foresters he occupied the position of supreme secretary for many years and until failing health compelled him to resign. Although busy engaged in the practice of law while at Uxbridge, he found time to administer at least two farms and to encourage agriculture in its various branches. He was among the first to put the first to import the Horned Dorset sheep into Canada, and for many years his services were sought after by the Industrial Exhibition Board as a director. He was elected president in 1906, but in a short time he was overtaken by illness that rendered his discharge of his important duties more than he could bear, and his resignation followed. He early sought to serve his country through the medium of the Canadian militia by joining Uxbridge company of the 54th Regiment as a lieutenant. He remained with the regiment until he became its commanding officer in 1902. He leaves a widow and one son, Gordon. The funeral will be held at Uxbridge on Thursday at 2.30 p.m.

After Man Higher Up.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 15.—The Vermilion County grand jury, which is investigating the vote-selling scandal in the recent elections, yesterday dropped the direct probe into the frauds in an effort to get hands on a powerful politician—one of Cannon's lieutenants—who is accused of "fixing" witnesses.

This man, whose name has not been divulged, is said to have forced almost a dozen important witnesses to keep away from the grand jury. Some of these witnesses are even said to have been spirited out of town. It was predicted that an indictment charging contempt, and probably one charging subordination of perjury, would be returned against him.

Seventy-six new trials have been made, ordered by the grand jury, and

"The Old Homestead."

Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead" is rapidly hastening on to its silver jubilee. This celebrated drama of New England rural life is now in its twenty-fifth year, and has only two more years to run when it will have completed a quarter of a century of uninterrupted success. When we look back upon the years that have intervened since "The Old Homestead" was first produced at the Boston Theater in April, 1886, it seems incredible that this same, simple, domestic drama, dealing, as it does, with scenes and incidents which are in no way remarkable in themselves, should in this theatrical season of 1910-11 be still the best drawing cards in the theatrical world. Millions of people have witnessed it during the past twenty-two years, and yet the theater-going public has not yet tired of dear old Uncle Josh, of Cy Prime and Seth Perkins, Aunt Matilda, Eb Canzy, Happy Jack, Ricketty Ann and the other. The singing of the quartette of farm hands is looked forward to with as much interest as of yore and the scenic equipment this season is as beautiful and effective as ever. This play will appear at the Grand on Monday, Feb. 20th. Plan open at G. V. Strong's on Thursday morning.

Interesting Hague Trial.

The Hague, Feb. 15.—The permanent court of arbitration assembled yesterday to determine the case of the Indian law student, Savarkar, in dispute between Great Britain and France. After preliminaries of opening, the session was adjourned until Thursday, when arguments will be made.

Savarkar, an Indian subject of Great Britain, was arrested on his arrival in London, March 13, 1910, charged with sedition, and ordered extradited to India for trial. When the vessel upon which he was being taken home stopped in Marseilles harbor, Savarkar crawled through a porthole and swam ashore. He was captured in Marseilles by the French police, while running through the streets and calling out that he be taken before a magistrate. He was turned over to British detectives and taken on to Bombay for trial. The French Socialists raised the question of whether the student was properly surrendered to the British officers after he had set foot on French soil, and appealed for refuge as a political prisoner.

The case excited so much controversy that the Governments of Great Britain and France exchanged notes on the subject, and last fall agreed to submit to The Hague tribunal this question: "Ought Vinayak Damodar Savarkar, in conformity with the rules of international law, to be or not be surrendered by the Government of his Britannic Majesty to the Government of the French Republic?"

Eight-Hour Day.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 15.—Delegates representing marine labor organizations associated with dredging operations on the great lakes, submitted to representatives of the Dredge Owners' Association a formal request for the adoption of an eight-hour work day. The owners are expected to present their reply to-day.

The action of the labor associations followed a conference here on Monday at which T. V. O'Connor, Buffalo, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, was chairman. At this meeting were representatives of the dredge workers, engineers, and cranesmen, licensed tugmen, tug firemen and the submarine and rock drill workers. The organization last named already has an eight-hour day. The other four want a similar limit to their hours of labor.

Guests Barely Escape.

St. John, N.B., Feb. 15.—A fire broke out a few minutes before one o'clock yesterday morning in the Felix Hebert Hotel, Edmundston, N.B., of which J. M. Siro is the proprietor. All the furniture in the building was destroyed, and many of the guests barely escaped with their lives. The supply of water was very low and the firemen fought the flames mostly with snow. The loss is estimated at about $10,000.

Georgian Bay Canal.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—The Federated Boards of Trade have asked the civic publicity department for a grant for the furtherance of the objects of the federated boards, principal among which at the present time is the Georgian Bay Canal. The federated boards intend sending two men on a tour of the west with the object of enlightening the people there as to the merits of the project.

FORESEES DISASTER

Foster Spends Three Hours in Prophesying Trouble.

DR. NEELY MAKES REPLY

Farmer Finance Minister Takes Up the Thread of His Discourse Again and Says He Can See the Death Blow of Imperial Connections—Tariff Reform Will Be "Dished" in Great Britain.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—For three long hours in the Commons yesterday Hon. George E. Foster conjured up and bedecked the Opposition scarecrow to frighten the country away from the productive fields of expanding trade and prosperity opened by the Government proposals for freer intercourse with Canada's nearest market. He saw in the agreement the death blow to the Imperial preference, and the even more tragic "dishing" of the tariff reform movement in Great Britain.

Mr. Foster's arraignment of the Government was bitter. His chief argument was that acceptance of the reciprocity proposals means abandonment of the confederation ideal, developed since 1867. The object of the United States was political, not economical, in short, it spell continental union. The United States, he declared, coveted Canadian natural resources, and in five years the trusts would have gobbled everything that was lying loose. It involved a breach of faith with British investors, and the instability of the arrangement would deter the incoming of both capital and labor.

He charged Sir Wilfrid Laurier with breaking his pledge not to revise the tariff until a commission had been appointed, and charged the Government with helplessness in the face of the fruit growers' demands, replying that it was "too late." This was all the more remarkable in view of the fact that a telegram expressing satisfaction with prevailing conditions had been received from the Fruit Growers' Convention on Dec. 15. He challenged the statement that the preference had been scrupulously maintained, and argued that profitable reciprocity would have been with the West Indies and Great Britain. He asked if Canada was through with responsible government, and said that Messrs. Fielding and Paterson had crept into Washington with fear and trembling and had brought back a mortgage. If Canada had abandoned reciprocity 25 years before she did, the country would have been that much farther ahead to-day.

In a dramatic peroration he exclaimed: "This land of ours, we have made it, we and our fathers, we have wrought so in order to bestow a great gift upon a rich nation." The United States was engaged in a conquest of Canada, to unify the continent, where the power of the republic would be supreme. "This proposal cuts square across the national ideal, challenges it at every point, will endanger it undoubtedly, may destroy it entirely."

Dr. Neely (Humbolt, Sask.), who followed, said the proposal had the endorsement of every farmer in the west. It would bring prosperity as Canada never had it before, and those who opposed it would have to answer to the people.

Hon. Clifford Sifton was in the House during the entire debate and was a silent but interested spectator from his seat in the front row.

"The Flaneur" Is Dead.

Toronto, Feb. 15.—Mr. H. H. Wiltshire, who was one of the oldest newspapermen in the city, died at the General Hospital last night. He had been ailing for about two months through a gradual breaking down of his constitution. He remained at his residence, 359 Givens street, till about a week ago, when he was removed to the hospital.

Mr. Henry Horace Wiltshire was born in London, England, about 75 years ago. When a lad he was apprenticed to the printing trade, which, in those days, was the first step to reporting, and later he was for over twenty years connected with The London Times. He came to Canada about twenty-seven years ago and took a position with The Mail, where he started editing of the page which is widely known as that of "The Flaneur."

Exclude Dynamite.

New York, Feb. 15.—It is announced that the Municipal Explosives Commission of Greater New York which has been informally investigating the recent Communipaw explosion and several other less serious accidents with dynamite and other explosives in the vicinity of the city, is considering the advisability of prohibiting entirely the use of dynamite within the city limits.

The commission's contemplated action would not only shut out dynamite for the purposes of blasting, but would also prevent its transportation or shipment from or to piers or terminals within the corporate limits.

Bad Wreck in France.

Conville, France, Feb. 15.—A bad collision occurred near here last evening on the western section of the State Railroad, when the expresses for Paris and Brest dashed simultaneously into a freight train which was being sidetracked. The wreckage immediately caught fire.

Nine bodies were taken from the wreck up to midnight, and one of the eight injured recovered died, making the total number of fatalities ten. It was apparent, also, that the searching parties that other bodies are still uncovered, as charred flesh was visible under the debris, which was still blazing at that hour.

A Case of Hold-Up.

Kingston, Feb. 15.—Magistrate Farrell committed Patrick Burns for trial on a charge of holding up and assaulting John Hickey last Tuesday night. James Hickey, who shadowed Burns from the scene identified him as the man who was implicated in the hold-up.

BILINGUAL SCHOOLS

Mr. Racine Raises the Question But Is Checked.

BUDGET DEBATE GOES ON

Member for Russell Says French Want to Learn English in the Schools, But Are Anxious to Keep Their Mother Tongue—Sir James Whitney Stops Him—Agricultural Schools Are Needed.

Toronto, Feb. 15.—Bilingual schools, reciprocity and the presentation for the Opposition's acceptance or rejection of a big progressive new platform, featured an animated, strenuous and somewhat prolonged sitting of the Ontario Legislature yesterday afternoon.

W. H. Hoyle, chairman of the standing orders committee, gave emphatic notice that Friday would be the last day for the reception of petitions. (Hear, hear, from Sir James Whitney.) Under no circumstances did the committee intend to ask for any further extension of time. Feb. 24 would be the last day for the introduction of private bills.

Valentine Stock, South Perth, resumed the budget debate, speaking chiefly in relation to education. The chief inspector of Toronto reported, he said, a great scarcity of teachers. It was evident that what was troubling the country was beginning also to trouble the cities. This could have been avoided if the Government had not changed the model school policy of the Department.

The projected industrial schools for city boys would be a further temptation to rural population to draw them away from the land. This should be offset by an extensive system of agricultural education in rural schools.

J. Thompson, East Peterboro (Con.), declared that in North Peterboro, owing to the niggardly policy of the Liberal Government there were scarcely any schools at all six years ago, but the generous grants of the present administration had provided plenty of schools.

Reciprocity would be a blow to the farmers in more ways than one. Taking eggs, for instance, the average price per dozen was higher in Canada than in the United States, and an equalization would mean millions of dollars' loss to the farmers here. Last year there were 120,000,000 dozens of eggs marketed in Ontario, at an average of 20 cents a dozen. The farmers' revenue was, therefore, $24,000,000.

D. Racine, French Liberal member from Russell, said his people wanted to learn the English language, and have their children learn it in the schools; "but," he added, "we want to keep our mother tongue."

It was a hard thing for the French children to pass examination that were printed and required to be answered in English. If this must maintain, they should be tried both ways.

"We are not getting our share of the grant for our separate schools," he continued. "The old Government gave us more, and the present Minister of Education is not treating us fairly. The public schools of the east, with all their assistance, are not being properly looked after. The results are not as good in them as in our separate schools."

Mr. Racine would be glad to see Ontario and Quebec get closer together—"get mixed," is the way he put it. He was glad to see the vote of $100,000 towards the ten-year fund last year. It would go a long way in this direction. But, he prophesied, if his honorable friend, G. H. Ferguson from Grenville, would live to regret the motion he had introduced regarding bilingual schools.

Sir James Whitney rose to protest that it was clearly contrary to the elementary rules of procedure to refer to a subject which was already on the order paper. It should not be discussed till that order of business was reached.

A. A. Aubin, French Conservative member from Sturgeon Falls, contrasted the treatment accorded to the north country under Liberal and Conservative rule.

The present Government was getting as much revenue from small areas of timber to-day as the old Government did for immensely large areas. The present Government had kept its word to the people in every particular—free grants to settlers, colonization carried on, no timber given away, license law enforced, and education advanced.

Allan Strohholme, Hamilton East (Labor), said that from the speeches one would think there was nobody in this province but farmers. Their one cry had been "More for the poor farmer." While the farmers were admittedly prosperous, the conditions of labor called for amelioration. The prosperous Ontario farmer was aided by the Government last year to the extent of $700,000. He regarded the immigration grants as worse than wasted.

Hon. A. G. MacKay moved the adjournment of the debate.

At the instance of Toronto Council, W. D. Macpherson gave notice that he would introduce a bill giving reels, engines and vehicles of fire departments the right of way over streets and highways while proceeding to a fire or answering a fire alarm call.

No Change in Policy.

Montreal, Feb. 15.—L. J. Tardie of La Patrie, gave out last evening a statement that there is absolutely no truth in the report that Mr. Thomas Cote will join the staff of La Patrie in order to conduct a pro-reciprocity campaign. He has accepted a position on the staff like any other writer, and will be subject to the policy of the paper.

Sir A. P. Pelletier Resigns.

Montreal, Feb. 15.—It is understood here that the resignation of Sir A. P. Pelletier as Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec has been received and that Sir Francis Langlier, acting chief justice of the Superior Court of the province, will be appointed in his stead.

BILL PASSES HOUSE

Representatives in Congress Ratify Tariff Pact.

NOW GOES TO THE SENATE

Democrats Prove to Be in the Ascendancy Throughout and For the First Time in Years Put One of Their Number in the Chair—Bitter Debate Marks Passing of Measure—Speaker Cannon Present.

Washington, Feb. 15.—President Taft's reciprocity agreement with Canada was ratified in the House of Representatives last night, through the support of an almost solid Democratic vote. The McCall bill, carrying the agreement into effect, was passed by 221 to 92. A majority of the Republicans present voted against the measure, the division being 73 ayes and 87 noes. The Democratic vote was 143 ayes and only 5 noes. A majority of the Republican insurgents voted for the bill.

The McCall bill now goes to the Senate. What its fate will be in that body is problematical at this time. President Taft believes that if a filibuster can be avoided and a vote taken, the bill will pass.

The passage of the bill in the House came at the end of a long debate, which at times was as bitter as has been heard on the floor of that chamber in years. The fight was confined almost wholly to the Republican side. Democratic members joined in from time to time, and tamed the majority members for their lack of unity. The Democratic leaders also put in the claim that the reciprocity agreement was good Democratic doctrine, and declared that they were glad to welcome President Taft and many of the House Republicans into the Democratic fold. The suggestion came from the Republican side that Mr. Taft and Champ Clark might be rivals for the next Democratic Presidential nomination. Mr. Clark claimed that in case of a contest of that sort, he would win "hands down."

A final vote was reached last night only through the application of a closure rule, which shut off all amendments, and even dispensed with the reading of the bill. The procedure was decided upon only after Mr. McCall had failed to get unanimous consent to do away with the calendar of Wednesday. If that had been secured, he said he would have been glad to let the debate continue for another legislative day.

The Republicans opposed to the bill fought till the very last, denouncing it in caustic language. They directed their fire especially against the Democrats, and accused them, on the eve of going into power in the House of enforcing a "gag" rule as drastic as anything against which they had so eloquently inveighed in the past.

It has been apparent for several days that the reciprocity measure would have an overwhelming majority in the House. This seemed to make its opponents all the more bitter. Some of the old guard Republican leaders, like Dalkiell of Pennsylvania and Fordney of Michigan, gave it as their prediction that the Republican party would be defeated by reason of what they characterized a departure from the principal of protection and the espousal of free trade. Mr. Dalkiell proposed to stand where he had stood for forty years, and to "go down" with his party. Mr. Fordney said he feared that Democratic times were coming, and that made him "sweat blood" to contemplate the melancholy fact.

Speaker Cannon took no part in the debate either Monday or yesterday. He was in the chamber constantly, however, and followed the arguments on both sides with the keenest interest. There was loud applause and cheering in the House last night when on the first record vote that was ordered the Speaker called Representative Ollie James of Kentucky, one of the leaders of the Democratic side, to the chair. Mr. James sat there all through the roll call, and when he announced the vote the cheering was renewed. This is said to be the only time a Democrat has been called to preside over the House since the Republicans gained control.

Spectacular Suicide.

New York, Feb. 15.—The most spectacular suicide that New York has ever known took place at Washington avenue and Montgomery street, Brooklyn, yesterday, when a well-dressed man coolly climbed twenty feet above the pavement, drove a nail to a sign which hung over the street, placed one end of a rope about his neck and tied the other about the nail and then dropped. He was found dead shortly afterward by a policeman.

The man had climbed up one of the poles supporting the sign. The dead man was about sixty years old, and there was nothing in his possession by which he could be identified.

Society Girl a Heroine.

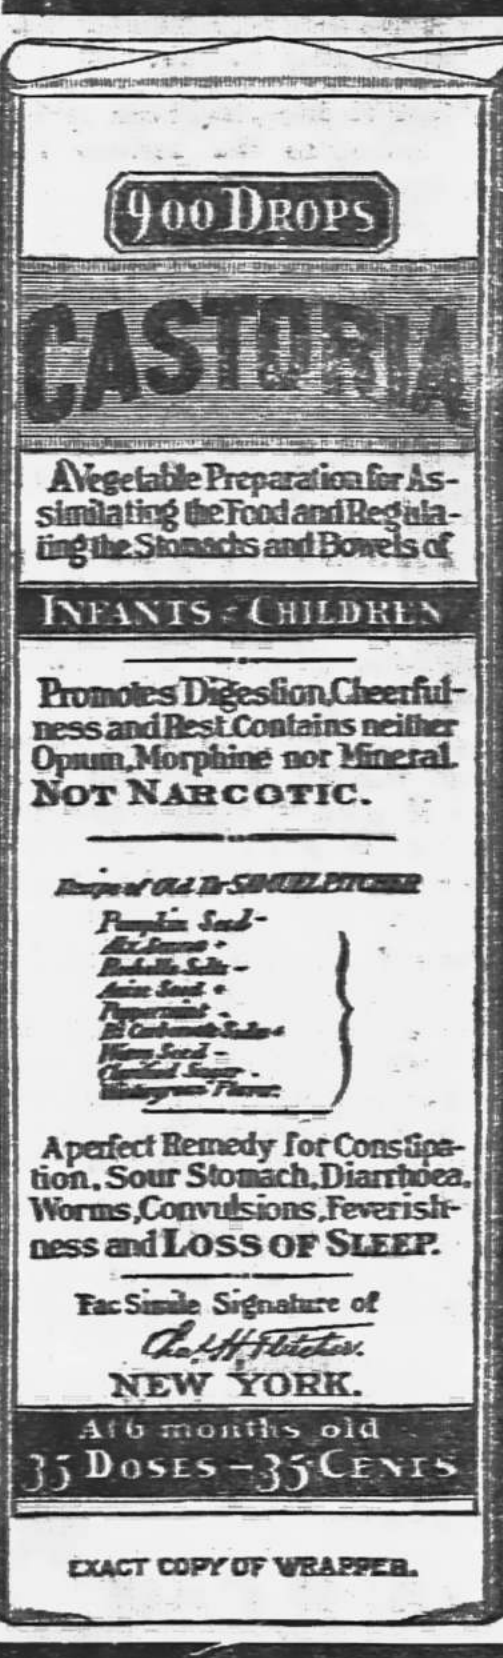

Boston, Feb. 15.—Three firemen were injured and the lives of eighteen other persons were imperilled by fire in the Hotel Dartmouth at Roxbury early yesterday.

Two aged women, who were nearly suffocated by smoke, were carried from the third floor to the street.

A Roxbury society girl and a Conservatory of Music student proved a heroine. She assisted the police and firemen in getting the people out of the building, and refused to leave until she was sure that everybody had reached the street in safety.

Col. Balfour Dead.

London, Feb. 15.—Col. Eustace J. A. Balfour, brother of the Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, M.P., died yesterday. He was formerly an officer of the Scottish Guards and subsequently aide-de-camp to King Edward and King George. He was the fifth son of the late James Balfour, M.P., and in 1879 married Lady Frances Campbell, fifth daughter of the eighth Duke of Argyll.

MILLIONS OF LIVES

An Awful Toll Collected by Consumption. Many Unnecessary Deaths.

If people could only understand that systemic catarrh is an internal disease that external applications cannot cure, they would not need to be warned so often about this malady, which, when neglected, paves the way oftentimes for consumption, at the cost of millions of lives every year. Yet catarrh may be cured, if the right treatment is employed.

The only way to successfully treat catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is toned up and made capable of resisting the infection of consumption and other diseases.

I have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made catarrh a specialty, and whose record was a patient restored to health in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Rexall Mucu-Tone. I am so positive that it will completely overcome catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that I promise to return every penny paid me for the medicine in every case where it fails or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

I want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone on my recommendation and guarantee. I am right here where you live, and you do not contract an obligation or risk when you try Rexall Mucu-Tone on my guarantee. I have Rexall Mucu-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Very often the taking of one 50-cent bottle is sufficient to make an impression upon the case. Of course in chronic cases a longer treatment is necessary. The average is such cases is three $1.00 bottles. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Port Hope only at my store—The Rexall Store. In an exciting game at Brock street rink this afternoon the T. C. S. third team of Port Hope defeated a picked team of local youngsters by 5 goals to 2. It was a splendid exhibition of juvenile hockey and required ten minutes overtime to decide the issue. At half time the Peterborough team was ahead by 1 goal to 0, but they were even up with two goals each when the final whistle sounded. Neither team scored in the first five minutes of overtime, but the Trinity College school youngsters finished with a grand burst and landed three goals, winning the contest.—Peterboro Examiner.
