He had the option of a fine $2.00 and $2.50 costs, but he hadn't the necessary change.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of A. W. Spooner at Webbwood This Morning

Just as we go to press we learn the sad intelligence of the death of Mr. Alonzo W. Spooner. Deceased had been on a business trip in the West and contracted pneumonia at Webbwood. He was receiving attention at this place and his condition was not considered serious. This morning, however, he took a turn for the worse and passed away suddenly.

The late Mr. Spooner was held in the highest esteem by his many friends, and the news of his sudden death will come as a great shock to all. The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community is extended to the widow and family in their hour of sore trial.

A GOOD START

Daniel Tracey, widower, did his second courting by letter, following an introduction through a matrimonial agency, and in time formed an alliance with Jane Jones a widow, who lived in a town some distance away. He went to her home for the ceremony, and seemed rather ill at ease while it was being performed. When they were safely married he cleared his throat and announced to the bride that he had a confession to make.

It's about the wedding present I have for you, he said. I thought—that is I— I hoped it might be a pleasant surprise. I have four children at home waiting to call you mother. And I've five at home waiting to call you father, she snapped.

A BUSY SESSION

Of Town Council—Chief Bond and John Tozer Given Increases in Salary

Chief Bond's Increase Was Opposed by Beeve Long and Councillor Fulford

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held last Monday evening and the members were all present.

Business commenced promptly at seven o'clock and it was after nine before an adjournment was made. A communication was received from Mr. George Gibbs, stating that the assessors had left a notice with him that there was arrears of taxes against his property at the corner of Hope and Dorset streets and this was not correct.

The Chief of the Fire Department reported that in the west end fire station a small manual engine and hose reel were stored which were not needed and would make a suitable outfit for a village or small town; also a 45 foot ladder and recommended that the same be disposed of.

The Fire and Light Committee recommended that these articles be offered for sale and their report was adopted.

Mr. Hancock stated that he thought the Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee should notify the proper authorities at once to have the approaches to the overhead bridge on Ontario street gravelled at once. If this work was left until the frost was out of the ground traffic would be impossible.

Mr. Russell introduced two by-laws, one to amend the bylaw appointing Chief Bond and the other appointing John Tozer. In each case the by-laws were to be amended to grant increases in salary.

Mr. Fulford asked if the Police Committee was satisfied with the duties as now performed by the Chief of Police.

Mr. W. A. Russell replied that the Committee was satisfied.

Mr. Fulford said that during the past two weeks he had looked over the town books to ascertain what the duties of the Chief of Police were and he found that they were quite onerous. He had also made a comparison of the work done by the late Chief Douglas and our present Chief. From the years 1896 to 1903 Chief Douglas collected in Sature Labor Tax $656 and from 1904 to 1910 Chief Bond had collected $477. There were more young men in town now eligible to pay this tax than there were during Chief Douglas' term of office. On that showing he did not think the salary should be increased. The duties of the Chief Constable are many. He is Municipal License Inspector, Health Inspector, Chimney Inspector, Collector of Statute Labor Tax. As Chief of Police he does his duty but as Municipal License Inspector he does not. The speaker was a member of the Police Committee last year and when Chief Bond was instructed to do his duty regarding the hotels, he replied that information necessary in certain cases was obtainable at the hotels only and if he enforced the Liquor License Act he could not secure this information. The Liquor License Act is openly violated. Last Sunday morning he met a young man on John street so intoxicated that he could hardly walk. The Council was to blame for such a state of affairs. Mr. Fulford then quoted clause 134, Sec. 1, of the Liquor License Act, showing that it was the duty of the Chief to enforce the License Act and concluded by stating that he would oppose any increase.

Mr. Long said he would gladly make the increase $200 if the Chief would do his duty. He agreed with the remarks of Councillor Fulford and thought there should be an improvement in the Chief's work before an increase was granted. The Council did not expect the Chief to do outside detective work. He was appointed to look after Port Hope. The market by-law was not enforced. The prices at the market were very high and the citizens should be protected. It was the duty of the Chief to inspect all the articles offered for sale. He would oppose the increase.

The Mayor said that there was room for complaint at the first of last year, but since then a great improvement had been made. The

Tea Time Talks Tea Spoils with Age

No tea is fit to drink after it is two years old. That is the age limit of tea quality and benefit. The best tea is the freshest.

"Salada" Tea owes much of its world-wide reputation to its sale fresh from the plantation. The leaves are fresh picked every week the year round; then dried, sorted and packed in air-tight lead packages. Every five weeks a new picking of "Salada" comes fresh from plantation to purchaser.

Bulk teas, carried year after year, lose their freshness.

Ask your grocer for "Salada" Tea or send for a free trial package which makes 25 cups of delicious tea. We will mail it to you without charge. Say whether you use Black, Mixed or Green Tea and the price you pay per pound.

Chief was appointed six years ago at the salary we are still paying and as the cost of living was much higher now it was only fair that he be given an increase. He was always courteous and apparently anxious to do his duty. Last year he collected $480.00 of dog taxes, $107.00 Statute Labour tax, and $400.00 in fines. Referring to the Chief the other day, Police Magistrate White stated that he was a fearless, courageous and splendid chief, and should be encouraged.

The by-law increasing Chief Bond's salary from $600 to $750 was carried on the following division:

Yeas—W. A. Russel, Hancock, R. G. Russell, Mayor Mulholland, Beggs and Ambrose.

Nays—Fullord and Long.

The by-law increasing Mr. Tozer's salary from $850 to $900, was carried unanimously.

Deputy Reeve Patterson occupied the chair in both by-laws.

The Town Property Committee reported that they had secured suitable rooms for the Chief's office in the Fire Hall building. All work necessary was a partition to cost $75.00. The committee also recommended the Elgishtown Fire Hall be sold and that the Clerk be instructed to advertise for tenders for the same. They also recommended that the water wheels and some steel girders be sold.

The committee further recommended that a closet be installed in the firehall for the accommodation of the firemen and chief of police and that the wash basin now in the chief's office be removed so as to be convenient to both the chief of police and firemen, cost for both not to exceed $45.00.

The report was received and adopted.

The bylaw to authorize the issuing of debentures for the sum of $20,000 for the purpose of retiring existing debentures maturing in the first day of April, 1911, received its several readings and was passed.

A by-law to borrow $2,500 was passed.

Moved by Mr. Hancock, seconded by Mr. Beggs that the firemen have the exclusive use of the Town Park on Aug. 9th.

Moved by Mr. Long, seconded by Mr. Ambrose that the sum of ten dollars be forwarded to J. E. Farewell, Sec. Treas. of the Good Roads Association of Ontario and that G. N. Patterson and R. G. Russell be sent as delegates to attend the annual meeting to be held in Toronto in the early part of March.

Mr. Patterson gave notice to amend Sec. 2 of by-law 1001.

This is in reference to Mr. Chesher's salary. It is a well known fact that Mr. Patterson was always opposed to the grant of $150.00 given to Mr. Chesher at a secret meeting of the Council and we understand it is his intention to rescind this clause or at least bring the matter up for discussion.

WANTED TO GO TO JOLIET PRISON.

William Robertson was arrested in Chicago for breaking a plate glass window valued at $175, says the Belleville Ontario. When arraigned before the judge he said he had spent thirty-two of sixty-seven years behind prison walls, and this is not counting the months he had laid in jail waiting trial.

"Judge," he said, "I spent twenty-five years in Joliet prison. I swore when I left it the last time that I would never go back, but somehow the feeling comes over me that I want to sleep there again. Prison ain't such a bad place to be unless you've got a grudge. You get good grub and you are treated square. I ain't got any folks nor any friends nor any home. I've been in so many prisons that I guess I'm a pretty good judge of them. I like Joliet the best. They treat you real white there. The world is a cold place for a man like me, and thoughts of Joliet kind of make me homesick. I don't want to go to the poorhouse." And so, like the man in the Bastille, who begged to be allowed to end his days there, they kindly sent William Robertson back to his old home, where under the care of Warden Murphy, he will lead a peaceful and happy life.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

Godwin, superfluously troubled about his attire, met them with grim endeavour at politeness; their gravity, a result of shyness, he misinterpreted, supposing them to hold aloof from a young man who had been in their father's employ. But before he could suffer much from the necessity of formal conversation the door opened to admit yet another young lady, a perfect stranger to him. Her age was about seventeen, but she had nothing of the sprightly grace proverbially connected with that time of life in girls; her pale and freckled visage expressed a haughty reserve, intensified as soon as her eye fell upon the visitor. She had a slight but well-proportioned figure, and a mass of auburn hair carelessly arranged.

"My sister," said Christian, glancing at Godwin, "Marcella, you recognize Mr. Peak."

"Oh yes," the girl replied, as she came forward, and made a sudden offer of her hand.

She too had been present the other day at Whitelaw. Her "Oh yes" sounded offensive to Godwin, yet in shaking hands with her he felt a warm pressure, and it flattered him when he became aware that Marcella regarded him from time to time with furtive interest. Presently he learnt that Christian and his sister were on a short visit at the house of their relatives; their home was in London. Marcella had seated herself stiffly by a window, and seemed to pay more attention to the view without than to the talk which went on, until dinner was announced.

Speculating on all he saw, Godwin noticed that Christian Moxey showed a marked preference for the youngest of his cousins, a girl of eighteen, whose plain features were frequently brightened with a happy and very pleasant smile. When he addressed her (by the name of Janet) his voice had a playful kindness which must have been significant to everyone who heard it. At dinner, his place was by her side, and he attended to her with more than courtesy. This astonished Peak. He deemed it incredible that any man should conceive a tender feeling for a girl so far from beautiful. Constantly occupied with thought of sexual attachments, he had never imagined anything of the kind apart from loveliness of feature in the chosen object; his instincts were, in fact, revolted by the idea of love for such a person as Janet Moxey. Christian seemed to be degraded by such a suggestion. In his endeavour to solve the mystery, Godwin grew half unconscious of the other people about him.

Such play of the imaginative and speculative faculties accounts for the common awkwardness of intelligent young men in society that is strange to them. Only the cultivation of a double consciousness puts them finally at ease. Impossible to converse with suavity, and to heed the forms of ordinary good breeding, when the brain is absorbed in all manner of new problems; one must learn to act a part, to control the facial mechanism, to observe and anticipate, even whilst the intellect is spending its sincere energy on subjects unavowed. The perfectly graceful man will always be he who has no strong apprehension either of his own personality or of that of others, who lives on the surface of things, who can be interested without emotion, and surprised without contemplative impulse. Never yet had Godwin Peak uttered a word that was worth listening to, or made a remark that declared his mental powers, save in most familiar colloquy. He was beginning to understand the various reasons of his seeming clownishness, but this very process of self-study opposed an obstacle to improvement.

When he found himself obliged to take part in conversation about Whitelaw College, Godwin was disturbed by an uncertainty which had never left his mind at rest during the past two years;—was it, or was it not, generally known to his Twybridge acquaintances that he studied as the pensioner of Sir Job Whitelaw? To outward seeming all delicacy had been exercised in the bestowal of Sir Job's benefaction. At the beginning of each academic session Mrs. Peak had privately received a check which represented the exact outlay in fees for the course her son was pursuing; payment was then made to the registrar as if from Peak himself. But Lady Whitelaw's sisters were in the secret, and was it likely that they maintained absolute discretion in talking with their Twybridge friends? there seemed, in the first instance, to be a tacit understanding that the whole affair should remain strictly private, and to Godwin himself, sensible enough of such refinements, it was by no means inconceivable that silence had been strictly preserved. He found no difficulty in imagining that Sir Job's right hand knew nothing of what the left performed, and it might be that the authorities of Whitelaw had no hint of his peculiar position. Still, he was perchance mistaken. The Professors perhaps regarded him as a sort of charity-boy, and Twybridge possibly saw him in the same light. The doubt flashed upon his mind while he was trying to eat and converse with becoming self-possession. He dug his heel into the carpet and silently cursed the burden of his servitude.

A DENATURED POEM.

I went one night with my high-priced thirst to loaf in the booze bazaar, and as I sampled the old red dope I leaned on the handsome bar. My purse was full of the good long green, and my raiment was smooth and new, and I looked as slick as a cabbage rose that's kissed by the nice wet dew. Behind the bottle a mirror stood as large as a parlor floor, and I looked and looked in the shining glass, and wondered and looked some more.

My own reflection did not appear but there where it should have been I saw the form of a cringing bum, all crumpled and soaked with gin. His nose was red and his eyes were dim, unshorn was his swollen face and I thought it queer such a seedy bum should come to so smooth a place. I turned around for a better look at this effigy of despair, and nearly fell into a heap, for the effigy wasn't there. The barkeeper laughed.

"It's the Magic Glass," he said, with a careless yawn. "It shows a man how he's apt to look years hence when his roll is gone."

Changes in Municipal Act

No Elections on New Year's Day—Likely be First Monday in December.

Changes in the Municipal Act came thick and fast when the Municipal Committee of the Legislature met for the first time.

The bill of Mr. Nickle, of Kingston, declaring that property of charitable institutions shall not be exempt from taxation if they are tenanted passed without discussion.

Fines collected from reckless motorists will hereafter go to the municipalities, not to the constable who lays the complaint. This was Mr. McElroy's (Carleton) bill and Mr. Hanna endorsed it as a "good one." Mr. McElroy wanted the same conditions to apply as in case of liquor fines.

Mr. Nickle's bill to give municipalities the right to regulate the place for the storage of rags and bones also carried.

NO ELECTION ON NEW YEAR'S DAY.

The municipal elections will not be held on New Year's Day, except in case of those cities that have special charters. But the present date of the first Monday in January is likely to be changed to the first Monday in December.

SEPARATE WARD MEETINGS.

The request of Peterboro City Council, through Mr. Bradburn's bill, for municipalities to be able to charge for the oiling of streets in the same way as for watering, was granted, but no cities that are divided into wards will be allowed to hold one central meeting for aldermanic nominations.

It was agreed that with twenty-one vacancies and several times that number of applicants there would be little opportunity to discuss local questions in which each ward was interested.

Nor will a Mayor be allowed to relegate the work of signing debenture coupons to the Treasurer or some other official, as this might open the way to coupons being signed by improper persons.

GRENFELL'S CHARMED LIFE.

Kingston Whig.

Dr. Grenfell knighted! Strange that this announcement comes so late when the King was distributing his New Year's gifts. There could be no secret about the transaction, about an act which carries with it an unusual significance. Grenfell was made a C.M.G. in 1906. If made a K.C.M.G. His Majesty seemed moved to recognize in an especial manner the splendid work in which he is engaged. He is a hero in the highest acceptance of the term. He has, indeed, become a saviour of his fellow men, and no one can read of his labors, professional and otherwise, but must realize that he is spending his life in a most unselfish way.

In the dangers he runs in his navigation off the Labrador coast, in the message of peace and good will, in his medical services, in the hospitals and industries he has established, in his efforts to drive out vice and intemperance, and introduce sobriety and industry, he has done more than any man in the world in his generation. His is a new and refining force, and it has accomplished wonders in the reformation of mankind. His books tell something of it, but not all. Each day brings its new experiences, and Grenfell's is surely a charmed life.

An English Chemist Has Discovered How To Grow Hair

In England the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing rats, which is due entirely to this new discovery.

It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-looked-for article is proven every day.

The Americans are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leave, which is having a phenomenal sale. This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure Dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perturbed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant hair dressing. Davison, your druggist, is the first to import this preparation into Port Hope and a large, generous bottle can be purchased for 50c.

HON. MR. MACKAY'S TELLING SPEECH

Severe Criticism of the Government.

Hot Shot For Minister of Education.

Administration of Justice—Industrial Education—Local Option—Reforestation—Immigration and Colonization, All Dealt With.

On the resumption of the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, Hon. Mr. MacKay, leader of the Opposition, in a brilliant 45-minute speech, gave a concise and masterly review of provincial problems. His speech, in part, was as follows:

"Mr. Speaker.—It is fitting that the opening sentences of the speech of the Lieutenant-Governor, which was placed in his hands by his constitutional advisers, should contain a reference to the demise of King Edward VII and to the far-reaching influence for good which he exerted throughout his whole reign. No British subject knows, no British subject will ever know, how great was the influence exercised by our late King, making for the peace of the whole world. His very extended ties of affinity and consanguinity were doubtless used to advantage with all other European monarchs. His was a reign that made for peace, that tended to bring about if not the age itself, at least the spirit of the age, when men shall beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning-hooks; and when the nations of the earth shall have learned to submit international difficulties not to the arbitration of the sword, but to the decision of such tribunals as that of The Hague, which recently has done such splendid work and has removed forever as between us and the great nation to the South of us, a large number of irritating and mischief-making difficulties. That reminds me, Sir, that we are nearing the celebration of the century mark of peace between this nation and our cousins to the South; a celebration in which I have no doubt this Province and this Dominion will take a fitting and prominent part. Notwithstanding the exasperating recollections of the War of 1812, Canada and the United States have set the world an excellent example of how two nations with a 3,000-mile non-fortified and un-garrisoned frontier may live at peace as neighbor nations ought to.

NEARLY DIED OF STONE IN THE BLADDER

GIN PILLS SAVED HIM

513 JAMES ST., HAMILTON, ONT. "Five years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called inflammation of the Bladder—intense pains in back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor.

My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once and the attacks were less frequent.

In six weeks, the Stone in the Bladder came away. When I recall how I suffered and how now I am healthy and able to work, I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what GIN PILLS have done for me."

GIN PILLS are sold at 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your dealer does not handle them. Sample box free if you write us, mentioning this paper. Money back, if GIN PILLS do not give full satisfaction. National Drug and Chemical Co., Dept. B., Toronto.

HE DENIES RUMORS

J. R. Stratton May Call Hughes Charles as Witness.

THE REMOVAL OF TRAVERS

Officials Are Still Debating the Hasty Exit of Manager From Toronto—Mr. Stratton Says He Had Nothing to Do With Promoting Farmers' Bank Nor Did He Talk With Directors or Mr. Fielding.

Toronto, Feb. 21.—J. R. Stratton, M.P., who is to appear with J. J. Warren, the provisional directors of the bank, and others, upon a charge of conspiracy to obtain the certificate of the Treasury Board when Travers resumes his evidence upon the stand to-day, has issued a statement, which was also printed in the Peterboro papers of yesterday. It contains an outline of the probable evidence of Hughes Charles of Montreal, who has been hard to get as a witness but who is expected to be in attendance to-day.

In this statement, Mr. Stratton categorically denies any connection with the bank's promotion, directors or affairs, and declares that he did not communicate with Hon. Mr. Fielding in its behalf.

Mr. Corley said yesterday that Deputy Sheriff Severs at least knew that he was not through with Travers and that he might need him even this week. He said that he had told him that he did not know whether the magistrate would sit on Saturday, and that if not, he would need him on Monday. He said that he was asking for a letter asking the sheriff to detain him, but that he did not give the letter, as it would have had no further weight than his spoken request.

Sheriff Mowat still continues to state that the length of Travers stay in the city is without precedent. Frank Law was held here after his conviction for even longer time.

Travers is back in the city looking not much the worse for his hurry-up trip to Kingston penitentiary. Yesterday he was closeted with Inspector of Detectives Duncan, Crown Attorney Corley and Assistant County Crown Attorney Monahan.

Travers still says that when he was taken from the jail he vigorously protested that he should not be so removed, as he was wanted to complete his evidence in the Police Court, and asked that either Magistrate Denison, Inspector Duncan, Sheriff Mowat or Mr. Corley be communicated with. He was told that Mr. Corley knew on Friday of the plan to move him on Saturday, and yesterday he told Mr. Corley so.

It was learned yesterday from a responsible source that Premier Whitney had called for the presence of Dr. Bruce Smith, who is said to have asked Sheriff Mowat why Travers had not been removed. Dr. Smith was not in the city, having gone out upon a tour of inspection.

The central topic of conversation on the street yesterday was a call for the circumstances surrounding the removal of Travers and the placing of the responsibility.

U. S. Naval Plans.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The naval appropriation bill was considered at length in the House yesterday and practically all of the provisions of the measure were agreed to with the exception of the new building program, which will come up to-day, and which is expected to precipitate a lively fight.

The bill provides for two battleships of the super-Dreadnought type, carrying twelve 14-inch guns; two fleet colliers, eight torpedo boat destroyers and four submarines. An attempt will be made both to decrease and increase this program, but the committee believes it has enough votes to carry it through.

A proposed repeal of the clause in last year's bill that all ships let out by contract should be under the eight-hour labor law, will be fought from both sides of the chamber. There also will be a fight to have one of the new ships constructed at a navy yard, Chairman Foss of the naval commission stated yesterday that of two sister ships now under construction, the one at the New York Navy Yard is costing $6,400,000, and the one by private contract $3,500,000.

Sir James Whitney Thinks Better of Hydro Move.

BONUSES TO RETIRED MEN

Hon. W. J. Hanna Is Asked as to the Method of Granting Gratuities to ex-Civil Servants - Ten Dollars a Week Is Maximum Allowance For Deserted Wives - Matheson Plans to Buy Lands.

Toronto, Feb. 21.-Monday, at the Legislature, instead of the formal gathering of a remnant of the House, yesterday proved one of the most interesting and important of the present session. Several Government measures of considerable public importance were dealt with.

Sir James Whitney relieved the province of all need for anxiety respecting the control of the Hydro-Electric power furnished by the commission by himself moving the withdrawal of the bill to transfer the control from the Hydro-Electric to the Railway Commission.

Hon. Col. Matheson introduced a bill empowering the Government to recover by purchase to the extent of $500,000, timber limits in the Algonquin Park forest reservation.

The Provincial Treasurer stated that the limits to be secured within the immediate future were appraised at $280,000.

Hon. J. J. Foy was called upon by Allan Studholme and S. Clark to increase the maximum amount to be paid by husbands to deserted wives. The revised statute as recommended by the commission of judges left the maximum as formerly at $5 per week. Mr. Studholme said he did not see why a wealthy man, possibly a millionaire, should be left off with $5 a week to his deserted wife.

S. Clark said he thought it should be $7 a week.

Hon. J. J. Foy said he was willing to have the maximum raised to $7, $8 or $10, but this was not with respect to the wives of men of wealth. It was one of summary proceedings all the entire cost of the public, and enabled a deserted wife, without the expenditure of a cent, to secure an order of support, which carried with it a penalty of imprisonment if disobeyed.

The Attorney-General agreed to the maximum being raised to $10 a week. Several speakers suggested that various officials in addition to the wife should be authorized to lay complaints on her behalf.

Hon. J. J. Foy said that the judges and himself had personally considered the proposal. It might give opportunity to middle-class persons to increase trouble, and as desertion was not a crime, but only a civil offence, the act as amended, would, he believed, suffice. It was given its third reading.

Sir James gave notice of his bill aiming at the transfer of control over rates in the early days of the session, but on Feb. 1 announced that he would allow the bill to stand, pending consultation with the hydro engineers. His action yesterday in absolutely withdrawing the bill, indicates that proposed change was not a popular one.

The House went into supply and passed the balance of the supplementary estimates with the exception of the colonization and agricultural items, which were held over on account of the absence of the Opposition leader.

Replying to an enquiry respecting the item of $10,000 for islands in Georgian Bay, Hon. Frank Cochrane explained that it was to go towards a complete survey, which was designed to prevent the same property being sold to two or three persons, as had been sometimes done.

In passing $1,156,196.77 for miscellaneous items, the Government was asked by Mr. Studholme, why some civil service employees were getting gratuities upon retirement and others were not. He brought up the names of two employees in the Hamilton Asylum of over twenty years' service. A man discharged after twenty-five years' service got nothing.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, referring to the statutes, said that prior to 1881 there was an indefinite provision for gratuities, but then an order-in-council was made classifying the manner of employees that should be bonused. This has been re-modified in 1892, and again in 1898, it reached a point after which no gratuities were given. "Under no case had this province granted a gratuity to a discharged person," concluded Mr. Hanna, "and the provision reads, 'Where it is necessary to disburse with a man by change of Government or through ill-health, without fault, the Government may—not shall—give a gratuity.'"

Hon. Col. Hendrie, chairman of the railway committee, moved the second reading of a bill to amend the Railway Act. He explained that this was the provincial portion of joint legislation to be also enacted at Ottawa. It was for control of the interchange of freight between railway companies holding provincial charters and those chartered at Ottawa. The details had been drafted by Justice Macbee of the Dominion Board, and Chairman Leitch of the Ontario Commission. Its necessity had been shown by conditions at Preston, and with respect to levies in the vicinity of Hamilton.

Col. Hugh Clark's bill with respect to fire insurance aims to provide a standard form of fire policy; to limit variations to the statutory conditions to such as are accepted by the insurer and the assured; to provide that a copy of the application shall be attached to the policy; to hold the inspector of insurance responsible for the administration of the act and the solvency of companies doing business in Ontario. Several amendments are made to the statutory conditions, all with a view to protecting the insured against companies that are practically insolvent, and against trickery, adjustment of fire claims, at the same time providing safeguards for the companies against fraudulent claims.

Creates No Surprise.

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—At the Department of Customs yesterday it was stated that renunciation reported by cable over the Anglo-Japanese convention regarding relations between Japan and Canada, has been forecasted, and consequently causes no surprise. It is claimed to be a precursor to a wider arrangement, Japan's idea being to frame a scientific tariff and to cancel such a convention as a preliminary.

The supplementary convention was signed in January, 1905, and was terminable on six months' notice, which have now been given. In the meantime negotiations for a new agreement will take place. Under the convention being renounced a specific instead of an ad valorem duty was substituted on a list of 64 articles. Included in this list were cement, cotton, yarns and tissues, velvets, velvet, window glass, iron and steel, sheet iron, wire, and small rod iron, leather, linen tissues, printing paper, sugar, woolen and worsted yarns, silk faced cotton, satins, yarns of all sorts.

Recently, it was announced in the House by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, that correspondence, looking to a new treaty with Japan was in progress.

Woman Goes to Asylum.

Toronto, Feb. 21.—Pronounced violently insane by Dr. T. Owen Barry, the jail physician, Miss Appeline Beal, who sent threatening letters to Ald. Heyd, was yesterday placed in the Toronto Asylum for the Insane, where she will be closely watched by physicians and nurses, as she is subject to wild hallucinations and is in every way a dangerous woman.

Miss Beal was a native of Montreal, and first came to this city as a maid in the employ of the household of Hon. W. S. Blake. She afterwards worked in a departmental store, but of late years has been making her living as a modiste. "Her threat on the alderman's life was by no means an idle one," declared Dr. Barry, "for she was very much deranged, and would not forget a fancied wrong."

Would Pray For Aviators.

London, Feb. 21.—There is a serious movement on foot to add the words "by air" to the prayer in the Church of England Litany: "That it may please Thee to preserve all that travel by land or water."

The suggestion originated with Rev. Charles de Havilland, a Hampshire rector and father of Mr. de Havilland, an aviator, and now the matter has been taken up by Archbishop Sinclair.

"I think," said the archdeacon, "that in view of the great advances in aviation and the risks run by those engaged therein, it would undoubtedly be an excellent thing if opportunity were afforded in the litany to offer prayers for the safety of flying men."

Drowned at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Feb. 21.—Foreman Harris, of the Magee Walton Ice Co., while out on the bay Sunday morning found a Christy hat, a black overcoat and a pair of gloves close to one of the channels in the ice field. Railway Death List Too Large Says H. H. Miller.

URGES BETTER PROTECTION

In Moving For an Inquiry Into the Causes of Accidents With a View to Reducing Them to a Minimum, Member For South Grey Says One Man in Every 199 Is Killed—Is Better Than U. S.

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—On a resolution which recited that one trainman in 199 was killed on Canadian railways, and one in every 33 injured in a year, and that the Government should cause an investigation to be made, with the view of devising some means to provide better protection, with the object of preventing so great a loss of life and so frequent accidental injury, H. H. Miller (S. Grey) pointed out in the House of Commons yesterday that on Canadian railways there was not a sufficient sectional staff maintained to safeguard the lives of trainmen and traveling public. The hours were too long, and he thought the cause was partly due to lack of enforcement of regulations and lack of protective equipment.

Hon. George Graham thought that Canada was moving rapidly towards better railways and better management. He mentioned recent improvements in the way of more money spent for protection, heavier rails, fewer level crossings, more double tracks, interlocking switches and safety devices of all kinds. As to the proposed regulation guarding cattle and protecting farmers from loss, the Minister pointed out that the original framers of railway law approached the problem from the point of view that the right of way belonged to the railway, and cattle on it might cause loss of life to passenger or employees. The railway commission had more plenary power than the Interstate Commerce Commission. Its inspectors reported on every accident.

"Have inspectors the right to prosecute? If not, why not give it to them?" asked Mr. Miller, bringing up the old question of enforcing Federal law.

Mr. Graham: Results is what we are after, and we get better results than in the United States, where they have power to prosecute.

The Minister of Railways went on to show that the climatic difficulty was gradually being overcome. Railway employment of its nature involved danger, but owing to the standardization of equipment and the regulation of the hours of employment by the railway brotherhoods, the elements of danger were being eliminated. The regulations of the Railway Board were stringent, and rolling stock had to be built to comply with those orders. He thought that legislation would be introduced this session to give the board absolute power to employ all the experts necessary to maintain a thorough inspection of railway equipment.

Hon. Mackenzie King, Minister of Labor, quoted statistics in Britain, Canada and the United States to show that Canada was more saving of passenger and employees' life and injury than the republic, although much less than England. But Canada had great mountains and much territory, in which the physical conditions caused greater risk than in comparatively level England. He showed that Canada's laws for the protection of life must be good, as the statistics showed much lower proportions of loss than in the United States, where conditions were similar.

Mr. Miller offered to withdraw his resolution, but Dr. Sproule objected, and Sir Wilfrid moved the adjournment.

Just before the House rose the bill of Medenech Martin (Montreal), providing for the fortnightly payment of railway employees, was given a second reading, passed through the committee stage, and stands for third reading.

George Perley, chief Conservative whip, expressed dissent, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that if the railways had any objections to offer they would be given an opportunity before a third reading.

Hon. Mr. King, on behalf of Mr. Graham, stated that the Minister approved of the bill.

In reply to a question by Dr. Sproule, the Prime Minister stated that he had not yet received the text of the new treaty affecting pelagic sealing in Behring Sea.

Dr. Reid (Grenville) read to the House a letter by Governor Dix, published in a New York paper, regarding the Long Sault bill, now before Congress, in which the writer suggested that a hydrographic survey be made of the locality before any legislative action. This was necessary in view of the superior rights of navigation in the St. Lawrence channel. Sir Wilfrid did not think it was necessary to bring this phase of the question before the British ambassador at Washington.

Alex. Haggart (Winnipeg) wanted a bill to incorporate the Security Trusts Corporation amended so that the name of the company would not conflict with one already doing business. The bill goes back to the banking committee.

British Officers Massacred.

Brisbane, Australia, Feb. 21.—Word was received yesterday from Papua, a division of the Island of New Guinea, of the massacre of Stanforth Smith, the British administrator of Papua, two white officers, and a party of natives by inhabitants of the interior. Two natives who accompanied Smith arrived at Goulbarri with the tidings that all of the party except themselves were killed by natives.

AUTHORITIES SCARED.

Chinese Officials Frightened into Action to Stop Plague.

Peking, Feb. 21.—There is a notable attempt on the part of the Chinese Government to stay the spread of the plague, and sanitary measures are being strictly enforced in all the various towns, where a few weeks ago the disease was allowed full swing unhindered. Instructions have been issued that every village burn its dead. The panic and fear of the plague have overridden the Chinese superstition against cremation, and now almost daily the torch is applied to piles of hastily constructed coffins, among which are often seen bodies wrapped only in shrouds.

In the town of Kwongchangte, near the Manchurian Railway, where the daily death list has numbered a hundred or more, masked men go about with sleds and pick up the bodies lying in the streets, where they have been placed by relatives. The sleds transport them to the west gate, and from there they are removed in cars in lots of four or five to the cremation grounds.

Every house is inspected daily. The important shops keep a man at the door with an atomizer, and with this he sprays all persons entering the shop with a solution of carbolic acid. The refuse, which was formerly thrown into the streets is now removed each day from the houses.

The Mukden authorities are promptly despatching physicians and nurses with all the requisites for taking care of the sick, to villages where new outbreaks occur, and this precaution, it is believed, will result in checking the spread of the disease.

A correspondent who visited Harbin, which is thirty miles north of Peking, found that towns are afflicted. For many weeks the governor, with the customary fatalism, was indifferent to the awful work of the plague. He has now been suddenly roused into activity, and clad in mask and bandages, personally superintends the cremation of the accumulated bodies.

In one village nearby, where formerly seventy people lived, there are now thirty-four, the other thirty-six having died from the plague and been cremated. The dread of death seems to have set in throughout the afflicted regions, and the people, fearing infection, refuse to go any distance from their homes. Trade and commerce have been therefore greatly affected in all parts of the country where the disease has appeared.

According to the Government statistics, there have been a few deaths in Peking and Tientsin.

Burning Lazarettos.

Harbin, Feb. 21.—Although the bubonic plague now is said to be waning in Southern Manchuria, reports from the northern part yesterday stated that the scourge was growing in virulence there. All of the Lazarettos just outside the towns in Southern Manchuria are being burned to-day. Parts of towns where the plague raged in its most virulent form are also being destroyed.

Plague in Glasgow.

London, Feb. 21.—According to The Morning Post, there are isolated cases of the bubonic plague at Glasgow and East Anglia. The plague has killed 75,000 in China.

Wreck on I.C.R.

Pictou, N.S., Feb. 21.—The Intercolonial Railway train from Pictou to Oxford Junction met with a serious mishap yesterday afternoon. Near Munro's Siding, two and a half miles this side of River John, something caused the whole train of fifteen cars to leave the track, the engine alone remaining on the rails. Thirteen of the cars were freight, and there were two passenger coaches. No one was hurt, although the passenger cars are in rather bad shape. The freight cars are badly wrecked, many of them being laden with perishable food products from Prince Edward Island. The mix-up will not be cleared for a day or two.

Bad Storm in Alaska.

Cordova, Alaska, Feb. 21.—One of the worst storms ever experienced in Cordova and the Copper River country ended Sunday after three days of continuous rain and of wind reaching a velocity of eighty miles an hour. Snow melting on the mountainsides caused bad landslides on the railroad running up the Copper River, but they are now clear. The river bank is full, and it is feared that the flood will start the glaciers moving long before the Alaska winter is ended.

Seven Were Cremated.

Sutton, W. Va., Feb. 21.—Seven persons lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the home of J. D. Hardin in this city on Sunday. Only Mr. Hardin escaped, the six remaining members of his family, and Ada Green, a 14-year-old girl who made her home with the Hardins, perishing in the flames. The fire was caused by a natural gas grate.

French-Canadian Resentment.

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 21.—At a large meeting held at Tecumseh Sunday a resolution was adopted and a message sent to Hon. N. A. Belcourt, approving the steps taken by the French-Canadians in resenting the presence of Bishop Fallon at the installation of Archbishop Gauthier at Ottawa.

A Real Sporting Editor.

Montreal, Feb. 21.—The Montreal La Presse balloon with Mr. A. Barriere, sporting editor of that paper, and Mrs. Barriere, which left Ogdensburg, N.Y., Sunday night, landed at Toytown, near Cornwall, yesterday morning. The balloonists had suffered considerably from the cold.

To Avoid General Revision.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—The passage of the Canadian reciprocity bill by the U. S. Senate is favored in a resolution adopted by the Board of Trade here yesterday, in order, the resolution states, "to avert any broader or more general revision of the tariff."

Flight Over Harbor.

Nice, France, Feb. 21.—Aviator Le Gagneux, of France, made a daring flight over the harbor in his Berial yesterday. He circled the steamship Cleveland, of the Hamburg-American Line, three times.

Ice Cream Bricks at Oke's

BAND TO-NIGHT.—The band will be at the rink this evening. There is a fine sheet of ice and a large crowd is expected.

THE WIFE'S REPARTEE.—A young cotton worker and his wife had been married only a few months. John developed a tendency to stay out late at night, and now it was early morning, when his wife heard a violent knocking at the door. Who's there? asked she from the bedroom window. It's me, replied John meekly. We have been considering the present strike. "Oh, have you? Well, you can sit on the doorstep and consider the present lockout!" was the retort.

LYCEUM COURSE.—The fourth and last concert of the course, under the auspices of the Ideal Concert Band, will be given by the Parland Newhall Concert Company, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 28th. The program includes male quartettes, brass quartettes, violin solos, vocal solos, and bell-ringing,—altogether one of the best programs ever given in Port Hope, will be presented to the patrons of the concert. The reserved plan is at Strong's and already a large number of seats are marked off at 50c. Get yours to-day.

THE OLD HOMESTEAD PLEASED EVERY PERSON.—The favorite play, "The Old Homestead," was presented to a fairly large audience last evening and it pleased every person present. William Laurence, who took the part of Joshua Whitcomb, appeared here a couple of seasons ago in David Holcomb and theatre goers were anxious to greet him again. His work last night was of the highest order and at times he had the audience in roars of laughter and then again they were weeping. The singing by the double quartette of such old favorites as "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Good-bye Betty Brown" and "Silver Bell" brought forth rounds of applause, and the singers were called back five times. One of the Company in the famous Grace Church scene sang "The Palms," with choral and organ accompaniment. No better production has ever been given in Port Hope and Mr. Steen is to be congratulated upon his enterprise in securing such a first class play.
