Hold Congregational Social-An Interesting Programme Given.

The congregational social of St. Mark's Church held in the Knights of Pythias Hall last (Wednesday) evening was a grand success in every way. The hall was well filled Opinions Differ On by the large number present. The Rector presided and a very entertaining programme of songs by the Glee Club, and solos by Mr. Smith, Mrs. Hawkins, Miss Parlow, Mr. McLaren, Mr. Owen and Mr. Baker were much appreciated by those present as was also two recitations, "The Relief of Lucknow," and Shakespeares "Seven Ages" by Miss Gladys Foster, who is certainly gifted with a splendid voice and talent as a reciter and declaimer. There is no doubt a very successful career ahead of her on these lines.

While refreshments were being served Mr. Geo. Westhead enlivened this pleasant part of the entertainment with his splendid gramophone and choice lot of Miss Tuer presided at the organ and to her faithful and loving service on behalf of St. Mark's church is largely due the success of the musical part of the programme for the social gathering.

The entertainment was brought to a close by the Rector thanking the ladies, especially Mrs. Passmore, Mrs. Edgar and Miss Booth for making the social such a grand success in every way. His remarks were tollowed by the men present rising and singing "For they are jolly good fellows" and "Three cheers with a tiger," in a truly

British manner. blise Gladys Armstrong and Miss

Burnham gave "sweetness" to the evening by presiding at the "candy table" whi ch was well patronized. The programme concluded with the singing of the first verse of the National Anthen.

It is the purpose of the congregation to have another of these social gathering in Easter week if possible. The proceeds of the social amounted to about seventy dollars.

Millers Angry — Fish Interests Pleased Asbestos Not Affected - Confidence in Canada

From Our Own Correspondent. Montreal, Feb. 6.-The industrial and commercial world has had ample time to digest the reciprocity announcement, and it is much easier now to get a clear and concice view from those vitally interested in the way the affairs of the country are shaping, than it was directly after the proposed agreement had been made known. Much to the surprise of many, Montreal, Montreal, the centre of manufacturing in the Dominion, is not as heavily hit as might have been expected.

The millers are angry, at least most of them are, and are preparing for battle. They declare that the proposad facilities for shipping Canadian wheat to American mills will have a detrimental effect on the milling industry which will result in substantial loss to the Dominion.

The fish trade is delighted with the prospect of the free handling of United 5 ates, which it is declared, miss this opportunity.

When the meal was over, Mr. Moxey led the way into the garden. Christian walked apart with Janet; Godwin strolled about between his host and the eldest Miss Moxey, talking of he knew not what. In a short half-hour he screwed up his courage to the point of leave-taking. Marcella and three of her cousins had disappeared, so that the awkwardness of departure was reduced. Christian who seemed to be in a very contented mood, accompanied the guest as far as the garden gate.

THE FLAG IS STILL A-FLYING.

Ottawa Free Press.

In these days when charges of disloyalty are made against the Canadian Government and tye Canadian Liberal party because they have sought to secure better trade relations with their neighbors, it is refreshing to be told that, as a reault of an order given by the Minister of Public Works, the Canadian answered, with an absent glance flag will henceforth be flown every day in the year on every government building upon the borders of you'll be there presently for first

> This means more than appears upon the surface. In years gone by, those who travelled the great lakes must have noticed that upon the American side, there was a proof the national entity in the shape of the flag.

> There may have been in Canada some officials who have, without orders, kept the flag flying every day in the year, but by Mr. Pugsleys' orders this habit has now became an order: and henceforth every government building on the border line between Canada and the United States and every government building at our seaports will fly the flag day by day.

> The custom of the daily display of the flag of the Empire to which we all proud to belong, upon the municipal buildings of the Dominion of Canada, is due to the good citizenship of Mr. Fred Cook, an ex-Mayor of Ottawa, who during the hall, insisted that the Union Jack should fly here every day in the year (and it is a pretty poor, battered sample of the lack which is flying to-day.)

The suggestion of Mr. Cook was followed by the Hon. C. S. Hyman, then Minister of Public Works, who extended the number of days upon which the flag should be displayed.

The seed thus sown by Messrs. Cook and Hyman has taken many years to come to fruition, but the harvest has come at last; and hereafter, at every municipal point where Canada becomes in contact with outside countries, those who want to do business with us, will , have to do business under the Canadian ensign, which means under the ægis of the Union Jack:

Severe Criticism of the Government.

In dealing with the Government's attitude with reference to industrial education I pointed out that this Government has practically done nothing along that line. Perhaps, Sir, it is well for industrial education that they should never take the subject up. If no more intelligent direction is given to the movement by the Education Department than it has shown in the dealing with rural school education, I repeat, it may be a blessing if this Government never touches the question at all. Of all the mismanagement that any Department in the known world ever was guilty of, I venture to say that that of the Education Department with reference to our rural schools is the most pronounced. Of all the floundering and blundering and sinning against device ever known, I know nothing to equal that of this Government in the manner in which it has dealt with our rural schools. No Departmet, Sir, could possibly have been more mischievous as to results than the Education Department of this province. I make that statement deliberately, I make it plainly, with the full sense of the responsibility that the charge implies. When this Government, Sir, proposed to wipe out our model schools we, on this side of the House, gave them fair warning and told them plainly what any intelligent ten-year-old child ought to know, namely, that if they at one stroke wiped out the means of training qualified teachers for our public schools, there must inevitably be a dearth of qualified teachers. After first, Sir, they had determined to abolish the Model Schools, when we found our efforts to save them were unavailing, we next begged of the Premier of this Province, the Honorable the Minister of Education, not to wipe out the model schools at one stroke. We urged that there should at least be a survival of the fittest of them, in order that a supply of properly qualified teachers might be ensured for all our schools. This, Sir, was the burden of our plea. What I have said from session to session upon this subject is well known to honorable gentlemen in this House. They will also recall a plea along this line made by the Hon. Mr. Harcourt and the Hon. Mr. Graham; but, Sir, the Honorable, the Minister of Education, time that he had control of the city, seems always absolutely impervious to knowledge. He seems, Sir, unsusceptible to receiving even a single idea along educational lines. Nothing could or would permeate his thinking faculty. Session after session we pointed what must be the inevitable result of closing the model schools: we also pointed out what is a known fact, that at least, twenty, possibly thirty per cent. of our normal trained > teachers do not remain in Ontario, but go to the western provinces where without any further training, they are qualified to teach. The result is that we have cut off largely the basis of supply of teachers for our rural schools, and are spending Ontario money to train teachers, a very large percentage of whom do not remain within the province. I repeat, Sir, this Government with reference to the rural schools of Ontario sinned against light, sinned against warning, and sinned against knowledge. No class of people in the whole province best education they possibly can te their children than are the farmers of the Province of Ontario; but, Sir. there is a limit beyond which they cannot go. By closing the model schools this Government barred the door to many a poor man's son and daughter from ever entering the teaching profession. This fact is so well known that it needs but to be mentioned to be recognized as truth in every part of Ontario. I say, Sir, the result of the stupid, stubborn, and blundering policy of this Government was absolutely inevitable and was easily discernible in advance. It has led to a deplorable and lamentable state of affairs. We now find twenty per cent. or more of the rural schools in our land in the hands of teachers with absolutely no professional training whatever, and some of them without even a semblance of a non-professional certificate, and this, Sir, is a direct result of the stupidity and stubbornly adopted policy of this Gov-ernment. As an illustration, Sir, I find in the Public School Report of William E. Tilley, Esquire, Public School Inspector for the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, that there were last year seventy rural school teachers in these united counties. Two having first-class certificates, twenty-seven with second class, twenty-two thirds-mostly renewed, and not less than nineteen schools were being taught by people having no professional trainingteaching simply on temporary permits. Now, Sir, contrast this with ten years ago: From the same report I learn that in the year 1900 there were exactly the same number of rural school teachers in these united counnamely seventy. Of these, two had first-class certificates, twenty-two had second-class, and the remaining forty-six has professional thirds. There was not one single permit in either county in that year. Last year we had not less than nineteen. That, Sir, is a fair average of what we find all ever the Province of Ontario, and this is the result of the policy deliberately adopted by this Government in spite of all warning we could possibly give them. In my own riding, Sir, in the early January of last year, there were no less than fifteen rural schools vacant, and the trustees and

and thither in an endeavor to secure any person regardless of qualification, to act as a teacher. Complaints come from all over the province along the same lines. This scarcity of teachers is the natural consequence of the closing of the model schools. My arguments years ago was, and now is, that it was far better to have teachers, some of whom may not have had the normal school professional training, than to adopt a system calling for a more expensive training and resulting in the fact that one-third of our schools are in the hands of untrained teachers. I may add, Sir, that I have always had great faith in the work of our model schools; they were in charge of competent and experienced men, men of five, ten, fifteen, and twenty years actual experience, men who were trained in what is by all odds the best of all universities—the university of actual experience. They were doing efficient and successful work. These schools were easy of access to intending teachers. A poor man's son or daughter was not obliged to leave home and reside for a year in one of our cities to obtain professional training. Instead, however, Sir, of continuing these model schools until at least a sufficient number of teachers were guaranteed for the province, practically all the model schools in Old Ontatio were closed, with the deplorable results already referred to. The net result is that the cost of education in the rural districts is increased fifty or seventy-five per cent., and on the average the character and quality of the teaching is far lower than it was ten years ago.

Summary. Now, Sir, I have dealt in a cursory way with the leading subjects which are either mentioned in, or omitted from, the speech from the throne. regret to say that I find in the speech no guarantee, nay, Sir, not even an indication of a forward movement as to the large question of reforestra-tion, perhaps the largest the Government has to-day to deal with. I find no indication whatever of the adoption of an aggressive colonization system looking to the peopling of our own northland. Nor do I find any indication of dealing comprehensively and systematically with that all-important question of industrial education. Nor, Sir, do I find any indication of any intention on the part of the Government to take any steps whatever to relieve the serious condition of affairs in which the rural school sections find themselves with reference to teachers. I, for one, Sir, strongly urge upon the Government, in order to supply a sufficient number of teachers to reinstate in the meantime at least the model schools of the province in order that duly qualified teachers may be furnished for the 'three-fifths clause" as to local option. Much credit has been claimed for the Honorable, the Provincial Secretary, by the honorable member for South Norfolk with reference to the enforcement of the liquor license law, and he even had the temerity to refer to the enforcement of the law in New Ontario! Doubtless he had in his mind the fiasco of sending Yankee Pinkerton detectives up into that north country, who collected a considerable quantity of liquor, then il-legally sold the same, and then prosecuted the purchasers for re-selling! This hollow humbug of pretending to put down the illicit sale of liquor in the north country is becoming a scandal. Every man knows that if one good Canadian official stood on each train of the Government road, by which road alone liquor can brought in to that north country, he could absolutely stop the traffic; but instead, Sir, the liquor is allowed to go in, and then the province is put to the expense of sending a gang of disreputable detectives up to make a farce of the administration of justice. Again, Sir, we are told, and the beast is made by Government supporters ad nauseam, that the Attorney-General's Department is, and has been extremely active, because of the isolated fact that years ago they put out of existence a single poolroom. I make the statement boldly, I make it with a full responsibility of the gravity of its nature, when I say that there never was a time in the history of the province when the people of the province had so little faith in the activity, or rather inactivity, of the Attorney-General's Department as now. Never, Sir, since Confederation have House of Commons last night when there been so many absolute miscarriages of justice, and never have so many scoundrels gone unwhipped of to curtail the power of the Lords, was justice as during the past five years. I do not purpose entering into do tails, they are familiar to the publicthe Orangeville affair, the Kinrade inquiry, and others, furnish striking ilustrations. The Department seems to be absolutely overcome with inertia. How well, Sir, we all recall the boast of the Honorable, the Provincial Treasurer, during the session of 1906. that this Government had actually raised the standard of the administration of justice. "The King's writ now runs," throughout the province, shout ed this distinguished gentleman. Sir, the general public are strongly of the opinion that it is the other fellows that are allowed to do the running, while the King's writ, under the di rection of the Attorney-General's Department, lags lamely on the stage of action. And yet, Sir, the moyer and seconder shout "Behold this great Government." The honorable member for South Norfolk went so far in his adulation as to say "there never was a Government like ours in the world." the bill. Sir, let me assure him that for once I unreservedly accept his statement Unfortunately for this province his statement is entirely too true. Now, Sir, pursuing the course sooner or later the Opposition would address in reply to the speec. the throne. It is in these contests that the keen, insight, sound judgment, and statesmanlike grasp of the Opposition leader become most clearly apparent, and his incisive strength as a debater has a most telling effect. He was fully conscious of the serious ness of his words when emphasizing the loss of public confidence in the Attorney-General's Department and the pernicious influence of the easy escape of malefactors.

The opposing policies as to techni-cal education were brought into clear contrast, although Sir James urged the need of waiting for the finding of the commission. The fact that nothing is done for the children who at twelve, thirteen, or fourteen years of age must leave school for apprenticeships was condemned in the strongest terms by Hon. Mr. MacKay. Industrial continuation classes for these boys and girls would sustain their mental development, perfect them in their chosen work, and make them more useful members of society. This form of technical education would not prowoke the antagonism of workmen suf-fering through competition for em-ployment, and would not deprive children of the full benefit of mental training during their school years. The full persuasive effect of the Opposition leader's logic was felt in behalf of the class of children most in need of technical training. In educational affairs, as in other important functions of Provincial government, he showed not only a thorough familiarity with administrative principles and details, but with the results of various lines of policy on the public directly affected. The closing of model schools and the great expense entailed on prospective teachers had produced a system not at all responsive to the needs of the Province. As a result it was impossible to obtain a supply of competent teachers. Turning to the complete omissions of the speech from the throne, Hon. Mr. MacKay dealt with the continued absence of any attempt to form a reforesting policy and the lack of a system of colonization for New Ontario. The House was unusually attentive during the Opposi-tion leader's address, but it is in the Province at large that such reviews of public affairs have lasting effect. Sir James was vigorous and determined as usual, and happy in the general good fortune enjoyed by the Province. His continued tendency to revert to ancient political history sug-gested that, as was said of an American statesman, his future is mainly behind him. Economic reasoning has never been his specialty. When he said the Province got nothing and the Dom'nion much in taxation from immigrants he was innocent of the fact rural schools. I stand, Mr. Speaker, that they pay indirectly their share where I have always stood on the of the supplementary revenue tax on many corporations, and the scarcity value given to some of the assets of the Province by increases in population. Sir James defended the threefifths clause against Hon. Mr. Mac-Kay's demand for the British system of majority rule, and dwelt on the favorable features of Provincial development with vigorous emphasis. The two speeches, commendably brief, weighed the opposing leaders in the balance. Alike in sincerity, in courage, in determination, and in confidence, the Opposition leader shows clearly superior in economic understanding, in comprehension of public needs, and in appreciation of the subservience of Governmental institutions to the people for whom they

Farmers' Bank Defendants Are Committed For Trial.

TWO MORE ARE CHARGED

Messrs. Wilson and Morden Are Served With Warrants on Conspiracy Charges Col. Munro Comes Up In County Court To-day and Travers is to Testify - Case Now In the Civil Courts.

Toronto, Feb. 23 .- While the hearing of the conspiracy prosecution of the provisional directors of the Farmers' Bank, J. R. Stratton, J. J. Warren, Dr. Beattie Nesbitt and C. H. Smith in the Police Court resterday morning was brief, it was fraught with interest, inasmuch as it was immediately followed by the committal of all the defendants for trial at the March sessions when Assistant County Crown Attorney Monahan declared that the erown will be ready to proceed with the case. Immediately following the hearing an information was laid by Inspector of Detectvies Duncan charging Matthew Wilson, K.C., who has acted as counsel for Mr. Warren and C. S. Morden, assistant manager of the Trusts & Guarantee Co., with conspiring with Travers to procure Travers to give an undue preference to the company as creditor of the bank as against the other creditors, by altering the nature of their claims.

The basis of this charge was disclosed in Travers' evidence at the close of Tuesday's hearing of the case in which he declared that he had been pressed to consolidate a secured loan of $175,000, with an unsecured deposit of $190,000, and induced to put up an additional security of $300,-000 in notes to secure the consolidated debt. A summons was issued returnable to the Police Court to-morrow

The charge of illegally taking the currency of the bank as a pledge against Mesers. Stratton, Warren and Morden was called and the two former were arraigned while Mr. Morden appeared by counsel. All pleaded not guilty, and it was arranged to have the case adjourned from week to week to allow Mr. Warren to go west on the understanding that all agreed to appear in person or by counsel when-ever called, and, if the former, to allow a committal to be made in their Another important development of the day was the statement of Inspector Duncan that he would require the presence of Travers in the city for at leas; three weeks, and perhaps longer. Travers will be heard again to-day: in the case of Col. Munro, former, president of the bank, who comes up before Judge Winchester in the County Judge's Criminal Court upon the charge of making false returns to the Government. It is understood that Mr. Dewart, counsel for Col. Munro, intends to admit that the returns were false and that they were signed by his client and will confine his defence to the contention that there was no knowledge of their incorrectness or wilful deception. In this event, F. W. Stair, proprietor of the Star Theatre, will be the crown's star witness, as he has said that he warned Col. Munro about a year ago that the bank was in an unstable condition and advised him to look into the matter. The case will not go on, as Mr. Stair is in Florida and will not return for some time. But Col. Munro will be arraigned and asked to plead to the

Yesterday a proceeding was begun on behalf of the liquidator to have it declared that the alleged consolidation of the loan to the bank by the trust company and the deposit of the company with the bank, whereby it is alleged by Travers that an unsecured deposit of $120,000 was secured by notes and other, was placed as a secured claim, and which is said to have been since paid by the liquidator was a fraudulent and improper transac-tion whereby the Trust Company received an improper preference, and that it be set aside and the proper transaction established. This will be heard by Referee McAndrew.

At yesterday morning's hearing Mr. Corley rose to say that he had no further evidence to offer and to ask that all the defendants be committed for trial. "Then all will be committed," replied the magistrate.

"Just a moment," exclaimed Matthew Wilson, K.C., counsel for Mr. Warren. "I want to cross-examine Mr. Stockdale. This he was allowed to do and Mr. Stockdale, manager of the Toronto office of the Trust Company, was put in the box. Mr. Wilson led him over the points touched upon by Travers in the closing of his evidence on Tuesday. He led him over various matters which had been touched upon before. "Regarding that $295,000 loan, was it a consolidation?" enquired Mr. Wil-

"It was a new loan," replied Mr. Stockdale. "This was on Nov. 2, 1910." "Were there any subsequent loans?" "Yes, four. Nov. 11, $3,575; Nov.

15, $7,000; Nov. 17, $15,000; Nov. 18, $8,000." "That indebtedness to the company has since been all paid off?"

In cross-examination, Travers admitted that Mr. Warren did not know that any illegal act was in contemplation in connection with the loan to Travers. He further said that Mr. Warren was not a party to the misrepresentation or fraud made or pracliced on the Finance Department, which led to the issue of the license to the bank to do business. When Travers went to Mr. Warren he presented a letter from Mr. Thomas Fyshe, general manager of the Merchants' Bank pertifying to Mr. Travers integrity and ability as a banker.

Valentine Stock's Bill Before Local House.

Toronto, Feb. 23.-Automobile and assessment law amendments held the floor at the Ontario Legislature yesterday afternoon. Toronto members were rather startled by the motion for the second reading of the bill to amend the Assessment Act, as they thought it was not to come up for another two weeks. The actual understanding was, however, cleared up by a Ministerial explanation. Valentine Stock, South Perth (Lib.). spoke at length in moving the second reading of his bill to require that chauffeurs and drivers of automobiles to convey with them their permit or li-cense, the same to be endorsed upon conviction for violation of the statute. and to the Provincial Secretary for caucellation on the second conviction.

Boards of Trade Protest Against Projected Tariff.

Toronto, Feb. 23.-By a vote of 97 to 18 the Associated Boards of Trade, before the close of their convention in the City Hall yesterday afternoon, passed a strong resolution protesting against the ratification of the reciproty agreement with the United States.

The resolution was moved by R. S. Gourlay, president of the Toronto Board of Trade, and seconded by Hon. J. Davis of Newmarket, a member of the late Liberal Government of Ontario. Mr. Gourlay said the reciprocity question was one that should be discussed by Boards of Trade. He did not wish the members to deal with it in a political way.

The resolution was a lengthy document. It stated, in substance, that the present unexampled prosperity of Canada is the result of the policy pursued in the developments of her trade and natural resources, involving the expenditure of millions of dollars upon railways, canals and other means of transportation between the east and the west.

If the reciprocity agreement went through, further development along these lines would be handicapped and the present expenditure would to a great extent be lost. Reciprocity with the States would greatly tend to check the growth of trade between the various parts of Canada and of the rest of the Empire, and it would be a disturber of trade and commerce generally. There were also the million or more foreigners to consider. If such an agreement went through they would in time become in sympathy with the United States, and it would become more and more difficult to preserve the autonomy of Canada.

Asked to explain the reason for this elimination, John Dennison Pender, chairman of the committee, said that the books were regarded as objectionable on account of "their extreme lack of refinement and also because they were written in American and extremely vulgar American at that." The report was referred back to the sub-committee.

LOYAL TO EMPIRE

Liberal Party Lines Up With Mr. Monk's Resolution.

LEADERS

Member For Jacques Cartier Suddenly Springs a Resolution Pledging Lovalty to Empire and Both Sides of House Unanimously Accept It In Connection With Tariff Debate-Motion Unnecessary.

Otiawa, Feb. 23.—The resolution, moved by Mr. Monk, pledging loyalty to the Empire, was precipitated unexpectedly when the House of Commons was about to resume the discussion of the reciprocity agreement yesterday afternoon. For a second time the Nationist leader in the House intervened in the debate in a sudden and spectacular manner.

It brought the leaders on both sides back to the firing-line, roused a spirit of acrimony among members that for a time kept the Speaker busily engaged in interpreting and applying the

The motion was unanimously approved.

The opponents of this agreement.' said Hon. Mr. Fielding in summing up before the motion carried, "have, unwisely and unjustly I think, sought for party reasons to convey the impression that there is a portion of the people of Canada who are not loyal to the institutions of our country and the Empire. I believe that every man of them, and every man on this side, and every citizen of the Dominion is bound to maintain the position of Canada as an integral part of the British Empire. But since my hon. friends opposite think that, in view f their record, it is necessary to make declaration to that effect, I am gong to help them make it."

Mr. Monk sought to trace back the rigin of the public feeling of nnrest in regard to annexation to alleged secessionist sentiments of many years 120 on the part of members of the Government. The charges met with prompet and explicit denials from Jesses. Fielding and Lemieux. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, amid great Liberal enthusiasm, promptly accepted the resolution as expressing a truism which no Liberal doubts, but which night help the Conservatives to harmlessly flaunt their loyalty. Mr. Bor-len, who was confessedly taken by surprise by his lieutenant's latest move, could only cite in support of the annexation fears he himself expressed isolated excerpts cent speech of Champ Clark in the United States Congress.

Sir Wilfrid replied briefly, and concluded with the statement that "there was no necessity for this motion. It affirms a principle of which everybody is persuaded, and which no one needed to affirm. But in order to make it doubly sure, in order to affirm not only to this country, but to the other side also, that this discussion in which we are engaged does not mean what has been stated by my hon, friend. Mr. Monk, it may mean, I shall for my part vote for his motion, and I hope all on this side of the House will vote for it also."

Mr. Borden, who followed, stated that the Prime Minister should have brought in such a resolution himself. "I can tell him this," declared the Opposition leader, "that if this proposition means anything, it means commercial union in the end." He claimed that the U.S. House of Representatives had not accepted the proposal on economic grounds, but for the reason that it would lead to political absorption.

W. F. Maclean declared there were annexation germs in the agreement. It was a surreptitious agreement, and removed from Parliament the right to make the tariff. It was concected by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "the new exar of Canada, and Taft, the exar of the 'nited States."

Following approval of Mr. Monk's notion, Mr. Ames continued the deate, its adjournment being moved y Dr. Clark of Red Deer.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.-A marriage of much interest to Canadians generally will be consummated in the Methodist Church at Waddington, N.Y., on Friday, March 3, when Trooper L. W. R. Mulloy, the blind hero of the South African campaign, will lead to the al-tar Miss Jean Munro, daughter of a Seattle, Wash., milionaire, and herself the possessor of half a million in her own right.

Trooper Mulloy will be in the novel position of having never seen his bride, as the romance which culminated in the present engagement only be-gan after he received the terrible injuries in the war which resulted in his complete loss of sight, he having met her in London, England, about six years ago.

The trooper himself gave out the news of his intended nuptials, surpris-ing a party of friends by calmly remarking that when they next saw him they would see him "double."

Miss Munro is an accomplished musician and the possessor of a magnificent soprano voice. She has studied in Italy for five years, and was a companion of Madame Tetrazzini, the noted opera singer. Mulloy recently received the appointment of secretary of the Conservative Association of London, Eng., and besides this is sec-retary of the Imperial Pieneer Association.

It is anticipated that he will now enter politics, and stand in the Conservative interest on his return to England for one of the two constituencies offered him at the recent general elections.

The marriage will be very quiet.

GOOD STORY FROM SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.

Here is a good story that wells up from San Antonio, Texas... It shows how easily people can be taken in by an unlimited assumption

The dispatch says:-When Mr. and Mrs. George Mays, living in the western part of the city, returned from prayer meeting the other night, they found the dining room well lighted and a well dressed man sitting at the table helping himself to a cold supper he had taken from

Smiling in a significant manner as Mr. and Mrs. Mays came into the dining room somewhat surpris-

> He continued to help himself to the food on the table. Mr. Mays thought there was something tamiliar about the visitor, but was unable to recall where he had met him. After looking at him critically for a little while Mrs. Mays remembered that an uncle of hers had mysteriously disappeared some

Finally she said: Are you Uncle

But the man declared he was not the king lost uncle. After both had tried, without success, to tell who the visitor was, he said:

"I'll just go down the street here Fb 23 IW come with me to pay you a visit and I'll see if you remember her." Suiting his action to the word, the man left the house and disappeared around the corner.

Mr. and Mrs. Mays waited for some time for the return of the stranger and his mother before it dawned upon them that they had contributed a good meal to a versatile hobo.
