ed this avocation during a good many years. He was a loyal subject of the British Empire during the strenuous times of the Mackenzie-Papineau troubles, in what was then Upper and Lower Canada. He enlisted at Prescott and served for eight months. For this he got no pay, but an nonorable discharge, and the records preserved in the Government department at Toronto will show that he was one of the veterans of '37 whose belated claim for recognition came to late.

After the war of '37 he spent some time in Ogdensbutg, N. Y., but never abandoned his allegiance to Britian, and returned to Canada, resuming his coopering business north of Toronto at a point filteen miles out on Yonge street. After disposing of business ther ' he came to Northumberland county and continued the coopering business at Perry's Mills. He never abandoned his taste for farming, due to his youthful associations, and he removed from Perry's Mills to Cold Springs' settling on a small farm, where he remained for some years. OBITUARY

MRS. PORTER PRESTON

One of the oldest residents of Ontario and one bearing an historic name, died at Bethany village, East Durham, in the person of Mrs. Porter Preston, aged 97 years.

Mrs. Preston's maiden name was Ann Jane Cromwell, and she was a direct descendant of Oliver Cromwell. She was born in Ireland but came to Canada when young. Her husband, Porter Preston, was a son, one of the seven, one the cele-the seventh member of the first Orange Lodge instituted in the city of Belfast, Ireland. He was so young that a special dispensation was necessary before he could join. He settled on Amherst Island, opposite Kingston, and when James Johnston the then head of the Orange order in Ireland, visited Canada years ago, he spent some days with the doughty captain.

Captain Preston stayed on the Island, but he took up land in East Durham for his seven sons. When Porter Preston married he took his bride to his East Durham home. They lived there until Porter Prestons death. Then Mrs. Preston moved to Bethany village.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Preston had seven daughters, of whom three are living, Mrs. Dow, of Montreal, Miss Addie Preston, of Bethany, and Miss Jane Preston, owner of applantation in Cuba, but with her mother when she died. Mrs. Preston was an aunt of J. J. Preston, M. P. P., for East Durham, and W. A. Preston, M. P. P. for Rainy River, and a grandmother of W. J. Elliott, the Toronto barrister.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

Godwin was not distinguished by originality in thinking, but his strongly featured character converted to uses of his own the intellectual suggestions he so rapidly eaught from others. Earwaker's habit of reflection had much to do with the strange feelings awakened in Godwin when he transferred to son. his mother's house the cabinets which had been Mr. Gurnery's greeting, as the widow drew back. pride for thirty or forty years. by Chilvers, and thought with extreme reluctance of the year still to be spent at Whitelaw, probably a year of humiliation. In the meantime, should he or should he not present him self for his First B. A? The five pound fee would be a most serious demand upon his mother's resources, and did the profit warrant it, was it really of importance to him to take a degree?

He lived as much as possible alone, generally avoiding the society of his relatives, save at meal times. A careless remark (not intentionally offensive) with reference to Mr. Cusse had so affronted Charlotte that she never spoke to him save in reply to a question. Godwin regretted the pain he had given, but could not bring himself to express this feeling, for a discussion would inevitably have disclosed all his mind concerning the draper's assistant. Oliver seemed to have forgiven his brother's reproaches, but no longer behaved with freedom when Godwin was present. For all this, the elder's irritation was often aroused by things he saw and heard; and at length- on a memorable Saturday afternoon-debate revived between them. Oliver, as his custom was, had attired himself sprucely for a visit to acquaintances, and a silk hat of the very newest fashion lay together with his gloves upon the table.

'What is this thing?' inquired Godwin, with ominous calm, as he pointed to the piece of head-gear. 'A hat, I suppose,' replied his

'You mean to say you are going to wear that in the street?"

'And why not?' Oliver, not venturing to raise his eves, stared at the table-cloth indig-

'Can't you feel,' burst from the other, 'that it's a disgrace to buy and wear such a thing?

'Disgrace! what's the matter with the hat? It's the fashionable shape.'

Godwin mastered his wrath, and turned contemptuously away. But Oliver had been touched in a sensitive place; he was eager to defend

'And isn't that quite sufficient reason why anyone who respects himself should choose something as different as possible? Everybody! That is to say, all the fools in the kingdom. It's bad enough to foliow when you can't help it, but to imitate asses gratuitously is the low-est depth of degradation. Don't you know that that is the meaning of vulgarity? How you can offer such an excuse passes my comprehension. Have you no self? Are you made, like this hat, on a pattern with a hundred thousand others?"

'You and I are different,' said Oliver, impatiently. 'I am content to be like other people.'

And I would poison myself with vermin-killer if I felt any risk of such contentment! Like other people? Heaven forbid and forfend! Like other people? Oh, what a noble ambition!'

The loud passionate voice summoned Mrs. Peak from an adjacent

'Godwin! Godwin!' she remonshould you put yourself out so?"

She was a short and slender dependent of her badly made and long worn widow's dress. Selfpossession marked her manner, and the even tones in which she spoke gave indication of a mild, perhaps an unemotional, temperament.

Oliver began to represent his

'What harm is there, if I choose to wear a hat that's in fashion? I pay for it out of my own'-

But he was interrupted by a loud visitor's knock at the front door, distant only a few paces. Mrs. Peak turned with a startled look. Godwin, dreading contact with friends of the family, strode upstairs. When the door was opened, there appeared the smiling countenance of Andrew Peak; he wore the costume of a traveller, and by his side stood a boy of ten, too plainly his Trifling Attentions.

Dear girls, do not attach too much importance to the trifling attentions of men. Do not imagine because some young man likes to call upon you and seems pleased at having your friendship, that he is necessarily in love with you.

If a man sends you a few flowers or a book, it may merely mean that he likes you.

If a man takes you to a theater or asks you to attend some dance with him, he may only admire you and finds you an amusing companion. Such trifles need not mean love.

The best thing a girl can do is not to think of a man as in love with her until he himself has told 'I can't see what you're finding her that he is. Then there will be no heart-breaks. Girls are too apt | ance to the resolution of the assiciated to take trifling attentions most seriously; they feel actually wounded-in their pride and their Learts -when they find eventually that the young man who they thought loved them is really in love with another girl.

Van Horne Doesn't Like It.

Montreal, Feb. 23.-Sir William Van Horne has just returned from Cuba. highly disgusted at the proposal put forward to carry through the Fielding-Paterson reciprocity measure.

"I am too much disgusted to talk about it," he said yesterday. "Just think of it. Our Government returns show that the commerce per capita of the people of Canada is $97 per head, while the commerce per capita of the people of the United States is $33 and some 55 odd cents per head. Naturally they look on us with a covetous eye, and this proposal for reciprocity is theirs. Now we are actually proposing to remove the mill dam, and you know what happens when the mill dam is removed-the waters find a common level. It is numiliating and disgusting to find such a deal as this one proposed by Messrs. Fielding and Paterson being seriously entertained. I won't trust myself to say another word about it. Here, just say that my opinions on the subject are summed up in the folwoman, with an air of gentility, in- lowing," and Sir William sat down at his desk and wrote:

"Re reciprocity agreement-I am sick and ashamed-to sick and too much ashamed to say anything about the subject."

Colors of the Stars.

Although there is no relation apparent betwee the two phenomena, yet it is interesting to recall the fact that among the stars certain colors appear to characterize different stages of change, or evolution. Red stars, according to the testimony of the spectroscope, differ widely in their constitution from white or yellow ones, and it has been thought that varying colors may give a clew to progressive changes in the heavenly bodies. Sirius, for instance, is said to have changed from red to white, and some have suspected that Arcturus is fading from red toward yellow.

A Fairly Good Appetite. Kaffirs, North American Indians and the fat boy in "Pickwick" may well be quoted as fearful examples of voracity, but even their grastronomic feats are exceeded by the full grown Eskimo, who will daily eat twenty pounds of flesh and oil if he has the chance, while on the authority of Admira! Saritcheff a Yakut of Siberia has been known to consume in twenty-four hours "the hind quarter of a large ox, twenty pounds of fat and a quantity of melted butter for his drink."

To Be Avoided.

"There's Wilson! Let us turn back. I've no desire to meet that fellow again! Last week I asked him to lend me five pounds."

"Well, he certainly might have done so, he has plenty of money." "Yes, I know-and-he did lend me the fiver!"-London Mail.

A Strategist. That fellow is a greater strategist than Napoleon ever was."

"As to how?" "He got a two dollar raise of salary z year ago and hasn't told his wife about it yet."-Pittsburg Post.

Conservatives Forced to Resort to Guerrila Fighting.

READING THE NEWSPAPERS

They Take Up Two Hours of House's Time Reading Comments and Protests From Their Districts - Dr. Clarke Makes Short Work of the Annexation Fears of the Protectionist Members.

Ottawa, Feb. 24.-The events of yesterday seem to have utterly demoralized the Opposition to the reciprocal trade agreement. The dramatic intervention of Mr. Monk, his frank statement that the economic merits of the proposal had not been called in question, and the unanimous adoption by the House of his resolution declaring Capada's intention to preserve intact the bonds which unite her to the Empire, have confessedly left the Opposition artillery without powder. Yesterday they marked time to the amusement of the Liberals, pending some organized effort to evolve order from chaos.

For over two hours they held up he debate. On the resolution to resume, speaker after speaker was put up to read comments from the newspapers and reports of meetings held to condemn the agreement, many of them several days old.

The ball was started by C. L. Owens (E. Northumberland) reading a telegram from Washington that Senator Cummins would introduce an amendment to the tariff law of the United States admitting all Canadian manufactures free of duty.

On the motion to go into committee, E. Gus Porter (W. Hastings) started skylarking. He read a resolution of protest from the strawboard manufacturers of the country.

W. B. Knowles (Moose Jaw) responded with a resolution from the Swift Current Board of Trade, "Viewing with satisfaction that a reciprocal tariff agreement had been reached with the United States," as it would help agricultural interests and bring about closer relations between the two

The Kootensy member, E. S. Goodeve, was next on his feet with protests from the Kootenay Farmers' Institute, and two other British Columbia organizations.

W. E. Middleboro (N. Grey) drew the attention of the Minister of Fin-Boards of Trade at Toronto, moved by R. S. Courlay and seconded by E. J.

Then followed other interruptions. Members produced more protests. B. B. Law (Yarmouth, N.S.), had one in favor of it.

At this point Hon. Wm. Paterson took a hand. As honorable gentlemen opposite had given the House some information, quoting from newspapers and otherwise, he would like to read an article from The Summerland Review, a fruit publication in British Columbia in support of free fruit. "The subject of the article is 'Sober Second Thoughts," said Mr. Paterson, while the members roared.

Geo. Bradbury (Selkirk), also contributed to the procession of protests. After further cross-firing Mr. Borden said that apparently the Ministers did not understand the agreement with the United States, and had better hand it over to someone who did. It was five o'clock when Dr. Michael Clarke, the Liberal orator from Red Deer, arose to continue the reciprocity debate. He quoted the president of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, the Grain Growers of Alberta and Manitoba, and the Grange of Ontario, all societies representing many farmers, to prove that the farmers were in favor of the measure. Touching on the annexation argumentsi Dr. Clarke said that annexation meant revolution. It meant the dismalting of the Parliament Buildings, the hauling down of the flag and the removal of the Canadian capital to Washington. Revolution had never taken place except where discontent prevailed. The restriction of trade, as in the case of the United States, had led to revolution. Richard Blain (Peel) made a speech on behalf of the farmers. Mr. Blain charged the Government with "taking away at one stroke of the pen every ventige of protection that the farmers ever had." He read over the free list, comprising live animals, poultry, grain of various kinds, fresh vegetables, etc. "The Conservative party is in favor of protection for the farmer; the Liberals are opposed to it, but are charging a duty on those commodities that the farmers need." Dr. Molloy (Provencher) followed with a racy western speech, in which he said that western farmers did not propose to be dictated to by a bunch of Toronto millionaires. -Hon, Clifford Siften moved the ad-

Women His Victims.

London, Feb. 24.-Felix Franz Alfred Ogilive, who describes himself as a German engineer, is charged with a multiplicity of wives, and with defranding his victims. Three illegal alliances are alleged.

According to evidence, Ogilvie in 1906, in San Francisco, married a widow named Louth before a magistrate. In a more recent case, it is asserted that he took his bride to a well-known hotel and next day drugged her and decamped with her jewels and cash. To a third victim he is accused of having represented himself as an engineer employed by the Standard Oil at $30,060 a year.

JAR FOR RAILWAYS

U. S. Interstate Commission Forblds Them to Raise Rates.

THEY MUST BE ECONOMICAL

Mere Fact That Cost of Operation Has Gone Up Does Not Justify an Increase in Freight Tariff, is the Principle Laid Down by Commissioner Prouty In Most Impertant Decision In Years.

Washington, Feb. 24.-The Inter-State Commerce Commission decides against the railroads in both the eastern and western cases. The decision, eagerly awaited by railroads and shippers alike, was handed down late yesterday afternoon.

The cases are the most important that have ever come before the commission. The decisions were in the nature of a surprise to railroad officials and other experts, who have followed closely the proceedings, a majority of whom believed the commission would grant some increase to the western lines, if not to the east-

After considering exhaustively the whole subject, however, from every viewpoint, the commission could not see its way clear to grant any advance in rates, although it concedes that in the case of some of the roads an increased revenue is needed.

In the so-called southwestern cases. the commission declines to disturb either the commodity or the class rates, thus in effect authorizing the sdvances recently made by the roads except as to the third, fourth, fifth and sixth classes, on which the old rates are ordered restored.

The carriers are ordered to cancel the advanced tariffs on or before March 10. If they fail to do this, the commission will order a suspension of proposed advances and fix the existing rates for two years. In the western case the carriers entered a powerful plea for increased revenue, to put into improvements and betterments. Both the eastern and western cases were brought to public attention in the spring of 1910. Just prior to the enactment of the existing interstate commerce law, which, in part, became effective on June 18, 1910, the railways of official classification territory-41 in all and those of the Western Trunk Lines Association territory filed with the Inter-State Commerce Commission's tariffs making general increases in their freight rates.

The tariffs filed by the eastern lines increased the first class rate between New York and Chicago points. The proposed advances affected approxi-mately fifteen per cent. of the total freight tonnage and amounted to $27,-000,000 a year.

Approximately the same amount of tonnage was affected by the increases proposed by the western lines, but the class rates were not affected in any way.

Commissioner Prouty concedes that the increase in the labor accounts of the eastern roads during the last year has been from five to eight per cent. of their pay rolls, aggregating, for the forty-one lines, approximately $35,000,-600 a year. The opinion holds, however, that "the carriers have not, by showing that the increases in wages more than equal the increases in rates, made out the reasonableness of the proposed advance in rates," because, it is indicated, "it appears that during the year ending June 30, 1910, the net earnings of these railroads aggregated $51,000,000 more than during the year 1909." While it is admitted that this is not conclusive against the propriety of the advances, "it does show that we cannot conclusively presume from an increase in operating expense that there should be a corresponding increase in transpertation charge.

It is laid down as a principle that "no general advance in rates should be permitted until carriers have exhausted every reasonable effort toward economy in their business," and the opinion is expressed that railroad operators have not given to this subject the attention which it deserves.

Hon. Col. Matheson, in moving the second reading of the bill to authorize the expenditure of $500,000 for the re-purchase of Algonquin Park limits, said that over 300 square miles would be immediately bought back for $290, 000. They were at the headquarters of large rivers.

J. J. Craig, East Wellington (Con.). made a fighting speech in support of his bill to prohibit bonuses by muni-cipalities. The City of London, he said, was in danger of losing all her manufacturies by tempting offers from rival municipalities. He would appeal to the Premier to give more backbone to the private bills committee to stop the enactment of special bonus bills, which were an open defiance of the general law and a crying evil. It is up to the Premier to remove a condition of affairs that is intolerable." Sir James was promptly on his feet to respond to his supporters' appeal. his tone was vigorous and determined and left no doubt in regard to the Prime Minister's attitude. The Premier said he was very much interested in what had been just stated. He would be sorry to learn that the private bills committee showed a disposition to countenance evasions of the law. He would do his utmost to stop, as far as he could do so, both for the credit of the Legis. lature and the province, the passage of bonus bills which should never be carried in any well-regulated municipality in defiance of the laws of the

Strong Gathering In Toronto Results In the Formation of a Society Which Aims to Bring Many Activities of the Evangelical Churches Under a General Council and Prevent Waste of Good Energy.

Toronto, Feb. 24.-A movement which will undoubtedly take rank as tory of the most important in the history of the churches of Canada for many years, was launched yesterday when at a meeting of about fifty representative ministers and laymen of the Presbyterian Churches of Toronto, and other centres, held in the schoolroom of New St. Andrew's Church, a strong organization, to be known as the Presbyterian Association for the Federal Union of the Churches, was effected. The movement is the outcome of deided dissatisfaction with the proposed basis for organic union of the Protestant churches and if hopes are realized, similar organizations will econ spring up in the Anglican, Methodist, Baptist and Congregational

Among those present were: Rev. F. Crawford Brown of New St. Andrews, Rev. B. Strachan, Rosedale; Rev. A. Robertson, St. James' Square; Rev. A. I. Geggie, Parkdale; Rev. D. T. Ackerroll, Rev. Dr. McLeod, Barrie; Pav. R. G. McBeth, Paris; Rev. Dr. Smith, St. Catharines; Principal Mc-Kay, Westminster Hall, Vancouver.

In the course of the discussion there was revealed an increasing feeling throughout the church against the unon of the Methodist, Congregational in-I Presbyterian Churches on the basat present proposed. It was felt hat one of the strongest arguments against the organic union of these three churches was its limitations:

The view that obtained among those resent was unanimously in favor of federation of all the Protestant harches that would prevent overlapoing in the home and foreign mission fields, and that would stand for the ishering in of the Kingdom of Christ as the present movement for organic unity among three denominations merely could not. A strong organization was effected, the name to be the eral Union of the Churches.

After considerable discussion statement was adopted tentatively as an indication of the direction which the movement would take:

We ministers and members of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, afirming our belief in the scriptures of the Old and New Testament as the primary source and ultimate standard of Christian faith and life; affirming our faith in Jesus Christ as the only head of the church, recognizing the value of the teaching of the great creeds of the ancient church and maintaining our allegiance in the evangelical doctrines of the reformations, desire to proclaim our love for the brethren of Christ's visible body and our assurance that the ultimate unity of the church is being brought nearer with every increase of spiritual life. Because of history, traditions, sentiments and convictions which have become a part of our nature, we do not think the time has arrived when the various evangelical branches of the church of Christ can give up their name and identity and their particular methods for the realization of the kingdom, without much need-

"Yet we berewith proclaim our beief in and our desire for a closer union and a more definite co-operation d all the evangelical branches of the sharch of Christ in Canada. We proose that these shall form a federal mion to conserve and further comn a interests at home and abroad; hat each branch should preserve its dentity and autonomy and should be illowed to earry on its work in a way best suited to its genius and outlook. "In order that each branch of the hurch may have the fullest liberty and the largest opportunities to reaize its ideal and at the same time to make its best contribution to the eligious life of the world, there should be a general council, made up of reresentatives, lay and clerical, from the different pranches entering into the federation. This council shall have the advisory oversight of the work of the churches within the Dominion of Canada in all matters upon which the various churches may agree to coperate, having in mind the principle hat the universal church is the divine agency for the establishment of the kingdom, and the various denominations are of value only in so far as they minister to its well-being.

"In the home field, the council shall seek to so arrange the forces of the federating churches that the best interests of the community and the increasingly complex problem of our national life shall be more adequately dealt with and that all people within the Dominion shall have opportunity of coming into vital contact with our Lord and Christ. The council should address itself as far as possible to the solution of the increasingly difficult problem in our great centres of popu-

Munro Trial Postponed.

Toronto, Feb. 24.—The charge against Col. James Munro, former president of the Parmers' Bank, was called yesterday before Judge Winchester in the county judge's criminal court. The colonel did not appear, as his counsel, H. H. Dewart, K.C., was delayed by a late train from Ottawa. Later in the day it was arranged that, as the crown could not go on owing to the absence of F. W. Stair, the principal witness for the prosecution, who is in Florida, the case will stand until the March sessions, unless Mr. Stair be sooner here and both parties ready to go on. Matthew Wilson, K.C., and W. S. Yesterday Travers was not brought up from the jail until the afternoon. He was kept at the detective office, while Inspector Duncan spent some time with him. Inspector Dunesa also spent considerable time at the bank offices.

Vote to Shorten Hours.

Toronto, Feb. 24.-The dove of peace reigned over the second temperance meeting of the Canadian Citizens' League in Labor Temple last night, and the : imperance workers of Toronto by a large majority endorsed the movement for a reduction in hours as insugau i by Alderman McCarthy

Rev. B. H. The resolution moved by Rev. Dr. Hincks and seconded by Rev. R. M. GUELPH, OR THE OLD BELLEVILLE TEAM, LASTED ONE DAY.

Guelph, Feb. 23.-When seen this morning, Manager Pete Charlton, of the Guelph professional hockey team, said that they have terian church on Friday next, 24th disbanded, and the players will depart for their respective homes. The gate last night, after expenses had been paid, left $2.40 to be The Lecture will be illustrated by divided among the players, or 35 cents each. Though they might take chances on a bigger gate next game, they thought it was best to disband. Accordingly the day after the team made its debut here it made its adieu.

Mr. Norman ("Buck") Irving is at the back of the team, and after having made a poor showing in the Eastern Pro. League with the team at Belleville, the whole bunch were transferred to Brantford, where they tared no better, As a last resort he returned to his old stamping ground in Guelph, with the result that he received poor encouragement at the hands of the hockey fans here, who demonstrated that Great bargains at J. L. Thomp- if Guelph was not good enough at the start for a pro. team, it certainly will not support one at the fag end of the season.
