Successful Dance

For Benefit of Hospital — Large Crowd and Enjoyable Time.

The social and dance by the Moulder's Union in aid of the Hospital held in the Town Hall last evening, was the most successful affair of this nature ever given in Port Hope. The worthy object for which the dance was held was sufficient to bring out the crowd, and once there you were bound to enjoy yourself. The committee in charge had everything well arranged, and the merriment did not lag for a single moment. Mr. John Cauley, of Cobourg, acted as floor manager in his usual efficient and pleasing manner. The dance opened shortly after nine o'clock, His Worship Mayor Mulholland leading the Grand March, and he tripped off the light fantastic with grace and ease. The music was supplied by a local orchestra, and was of the highest order. Miss Host Perry, of the Royal Hotel, served the supper, and had everything to the king's taste. A more enjoyable night could not have been spent, and we understand the receipts were much larger than anticipated.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

A convention in the interests of temperance reform is called to meet in Port Hope Town Hall, on Monday, Feb. 27, at 2 p.m. In the evening the session will open at 8 p.m. The convention comprises Durham County. Leading temperance speakers will be present. Mr. W. H. Norris, baritone soloist, and a member of the Sherlock Quartette, Toronto, will be present to assist in the singing. The public are invited to the convention.

SPORTING SKITS

HOCKEY.

The High School seven played a friendly game in Cobourg with the Collegiate team of that town last evening and were defeated by a score of 7 to 2.

In selecting an all star team for a game in Toronto, the Star gives the position of right wing to Jack Brown, son of Mr. F. H. Brown, of this town. Below is the Star's comment on Jack:

"The wing positions have not developed any outstanding stars, though the playing of Jack Brown of T.A.A.C. at right wing has attracted attention. Last year a junior with Port Hope, he jumped into senior ranks this season and made good from the start. Though small he is chunky and can stand the guff with the best. He is very game and is always going at top speed. He is a nifty stick handler, and a nice shot. His checking back has been a feature of his play all season and has made him a valuable player in that position."

VERY SAD DEATH

Of Mrs. McKeon — Formerly Miss Olive Smith

"Asleep in Jesus, Blessed sleep!
From which none ever wakes to weep."

It is with the deepest regret and with sympathy for the sorrowing relatives that we refer to the death of Mrs. Hugh McKeon, which took place at Noblesville, Indiana, on Wednesday. The deceased lady was the only daughter of Mr. Wm. Smith, College street, and it is just two months since she and Mr. McKeon had visited her home. The cause of her death was acute dilatation of the heart, having been sick only one week, and the news of her demise came as a great shock and has caused widespread regret throughout the community, where she was so well known. The heartfelt sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved husband, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, and her two brothers in their sudden and sore affliction. The remains were brought here from Indiana, and the funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30.

life together have witnessed many changes. Friends and loved ones have departed, and memory has taken them to her caverns. These changes will doubtless recur to your memory tonight with thankful recognition of the blessings which have been bestowed upon you.

During the remaining golden years of your lives we wish you continued health, happiness and joy, and as a remembrance of this joyful occasion and as a slight token of our love and affection, we ask your acceptance of this purse of gold. Signed on behalf of the family—

Mrs. S. E. Hagerman, C. A. Hagerman, Mrs. Shepperd, Mrs. Honor. Mr. Robert Roddick, Miss Roddick, Mr. James Roddick and the sons and daughters.

Port Hope, Feb. 24th, 1911.
Mr. Roddick on behalf of himself and bride of fifty years ago, briefly returned thanks and assured his visitors that he and Mrs. Roddick would always cherish pleasant memories of their 50th anniversary. The evening was spent in progressive euchre and other games and a sumptuous repast served at the close.

Drink—The Menace of Our Youth.

A public meeting in the Town Hall, Port Hope, will be held on day, Feb. 26, at 4.15 p.m. Addresses will be given by Rev. R. H. Hamilton, Toronto; and Miss Cora E. Stoddart will illustrate her address with limelight views. Mr. W. H. Norris, baritone soloist, and a member of the Sherlock Quartette, Toronto, will be present to sing. A collection will be taken.

THE NEIGHBORS.

Why do I grind from morn till night,
And sick or well sit down to write?
Why do I line my brow with sweat An extra buck or two to get?
The reason isn't hard to trace,
For us our neighbors set the pace.

The Greens go weekly to the show,
And so, of course, we have to go.
A dollar-fifty per they pay For seats down in the parquet, And always they wear evening dress;
We couldn't think of doing less.

The Browns maintain a servant girl;
The one we have was christened Pearl;
At dinner, several kinds of wine They serve in glasses of rare design.
Their dinners are a great success;
And ours, of course, must be no less.

In summer all our neighbors flee Unto the mountains or the sea; They spend two months in big hotels
And hobnob with the other swells;
And though it's costly, I confess That wife of mine shall do no less.

Two doors from us lives Mrs. Groat.
Who owns a lovely rounabout, And though she's very nice, it's plain
She looks on us with some disdain.
Although it's more than I can do My wife will shortly have one, too.

I'd like to take a holiday And spend a month or two in play, I'd like to take an ocean trip And give this awful grind the slip; But there's no rest for me the while We like our neighbors set the style.
—Edgar A. Guest.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

'Set down, Jowey; set down bo-oy!
Down't be afride of your awnt.'
'O! ain't afride!' cried the youth, in a tone which supported his assertion.

Mrs. Peak trembled with annoyance and indecision. Andrew evidently meant to stay for some time, and she could not bring herself to treat him with plain discourtesy; but she saw that Oliver, after shaking hands in a very strained way, had abruptly left the room, and Godwin would be anything but willing to meet his uncle. When the name of her elder son was again mentioned she withdrew on the pretence of summoning him, and went up to his room. Godwin had heard the hateful voice, and was in profound disturbance.

'What does he say, mother?' he inquired, anxiously. 'Anything about Kingsmill?'

'Not yet. Oh, I do so wish we could bring this connection to an end!

It was the first time Mrs. Peak had uttered her sentiments so unreservedly.

'Then, shall I see him in private,' said Godwin, 'and simply let him know the truth?'

'I dread the thought of that, Godwin. He would very likely be coarse and violent. I must try to show him by my manner. Oliver has gone out, and when Charlotte comes home I'll tell her to keep out of sight. He has brought his boy.
Suppose you don't come down at all?
I might say you are too busy.'

'No, no; you shan't have to do it all alone. I'll come down with you.
I must hear what he has to say.'

They descended. As soon as his nephew appeared, Andrew sprang up, and shouted joyfully:

'Well, Godwin, bo-oy! It's all settled! Got the bloomin' shop from next quarter dye! "Peak's Dinin' and Refreshment Rooms!" Jowey an' me was over there all yesterday—wasn't us, Jowey? Oh, it's immense!'

Godwin felt the blood buzz in his ears, and a hot choking clutch at his throat. He took his stand at the mantelpiece, and began to turn a little glass ornament round and round. Faté had spoken. On the instant, all his College life was far behind him, all his uneasiness regarding the next session was dispelled, and he had no more connection with Kingsmill.

Mrs. Peak had heard from Oliver of her brother-in-law's proposed undertaking. She had spoken of it with anxiety to Godwin, who merely shrugged his shoulders and avoided the topic, ashamed to dwell on the particulars of his shame. In hearing Andrew's announcement she had much ado to repress tears of exaltation; silently she seated herself, and looked with pained countenance from uncle to nephew.

'Shall you make any changes in the place?' Godwin asked, carelessly.
'Shan't I, jest! I'll take a month to refit them eatin' rooms. I'm agin' to do it proper—up to Dick! and I want your 'elp, my bo-oy. You an' me'll jest write a bit of a circular —see? to send round to the big pots of the Collige, an' all the parents of the young fellers as we can get the addresses of—see?'

Even amid his pangs of mortification Godwin found himself pondering an intellectual question. Was his uncle wholly unconscious of the misery he was causing? Had it never occurred to him that the public proximity of an uneducated shop-keeping relative must be unwelcome to a lad who was distinguishing himself at Whitelaw College? Were that truly the case, then it would be unjust to regard Andrew resentfully; destiny alone was to blame. And after all, the man might be so absorbed in his own interest, so strictly confined to the views of his own class, as never to have dreamt of the sensibilities he wounded. In fact, the shame excited by this prospect was artificial. Godwin had already felt that it was unworthy alike of a philosopher and of a high-minded man of the world. The doubt as to Andrew's state of mind, and this moral problem, had a restraining effect upon the young man's temper. A practical person justifies himself in wrath as soon as his judgment is at one with that of the multitude. Godwin, though his passions were of exceptional force, must needs refine, debate with himself points of abstract justice.

'I've been tellin' Jowey, Grace, as I 'ope he may turn out such another as Godwin 'ere. 'E'll go to Collige, will Jowey. Godwin, jest arst the boy a question or two will you? 'E ain't been doin' had at 'is school.
Jest put 'im through 'is pyces, as yer may sye. Stend up, Jowey, bo-oy.'

Godwin looked askance at his cousin, who stood with pert face, ready for any test.

'What's the date of William the Conqueror?' he asked, mechanically.

'Ow! 'e shouted the youth. 'Down't nike me larf! Zif I didn't know that! Tensixsixteenightsyvn, of course!'

The tather turned round with an expression of such sincere pride that Godwin, for all his loathing, was obliged to smile.

'Jowey, Jest sye a few verses of poitry; them as you learat larst.
'E's good at poitry, is Jowey.'

To Be Continued.

Why Boys Leave The Farm

By Barlow Cumberland in Canadian Courier

I take it that this subject is to be considered from the point of view of the farm in Ontario, and particularly in the older parts of the province. All the boys do not leave the farm; but most do. All boys do not go to High School, but some do.

As one interested in farming, I have for twelve years been making particular inquiries, and during that time I have found only three boys who have gone through High School and returned to the farm.
Why? Because their education is mainly directed to store-keeping and banking, to typewriting and clerkships. Off the farm, into the town. For the first time they are taken from their own homes, initiated into the delights of easy days, sidewalks, and evening strolls under the gas lights, no wonder they take a step further and go to the cities.

In the Public Schools, where the majority attend, the same courses prevail. School is devoted to preparation for examinations and passing on as many pupils as possible to the higher "grade" which has been the only criterion of the abilities of the "teacher." No farm instruction, no visit to neighboring fields or orchards, no cultivation of pleasantries or conveniences in the home; not a tree, nor a shrub, nor a flower in the school grounds.

Through such mis-methods as these the cities have gathered in the living crops from the countryside. The future may produce better result. The recent introduction of "nature studies" in the schools, and education of the teachers in agricultural qualifications; the opening of agricultural courses in the High Schools under charge of graduates from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph are practical and hopeful movements, which in time and with increased application will bring advantageous results. Farming is being taught as a "profession" worthy of the highest mental application, not as only a mud plodding manual labour. In past days the child has been advised to try and rise above the farm, now he is being taught how to rise up to the farm.

It would be well for Ontario if education in the country districts were more largely in the hands of the Agricultural Department. This department takes charge of education after the young people have left school, why not while they are in school? If the County Councils would pay for the expenses of young men for taking courses at the Guelph Agricultural College instead of paying their fees for attending high schools they would do more service for their counties.

But there is another and still older reason why the boy leaves the farm. It is that non-payment for labour and the uncertainty of tenure. When in the early days of Upper Canada a bill was passed abolishing primogeniture or the succession of the eldest son to the farm, Sir John MacDonald, who was then a young member of Parliament, is reported to have said, "This will break up the family homes of the country, and produce less interest in farming." May his forecast not have been in some degree correct?

In this country there are usually more sons than one on the farm; they cannot all inherit, nor is there often enough to share round between them all. Who is to share?
No one knows, and meantime no one is paid for his work and labour in building up the farm. All in turn serve their term of service until they come to man's estate, when some at once go away, usually to some other form of employ for which they have a predilection. These who go away come back on visits with money in their pockets, earned by their labor for other men, while those who remain plod on without any recompense beyond their food and what may be doled out to them as a gift, and not as a fair day's wage for a fair days work. One son after another leaves, until the old man finds himself left alone. Thus the practice of farming is abandoned, and the homestead, having lost its interest, is in many cases, sold to strangers, and the proceeds divided.

If the farmers would pay their sons as they pay other men, or better still, would share with them on a profit-sharing plan, they would create continued interest in farming. Not knowing whether they will have a share in it, not being paid for the labor they expend on it, no wonder that farmers' sons take less interest in farming and leave the farm.

Back of this reason affecting the sons, there is a still greater reason affecting the farmer himself.

The farmer of thirty years ago considered that his only way to provide for his future was to "save" money. He scrimped himself, he scrimped his sons, he scrimped his farm, and put the money in the bank. This habit still continues, as has unhappily been so evidenced in the recent failures of banks. The larger part of deposits in companies and banks are the deposits of farmers.

Where have they all come from?
They have been taken out of the land. The farmer must learn to treat his occupation as a profession and as a business. The business man who finds his occupation providing him with a living, invests his money in his business, builds up and expands it. Farmer, instead of inverting their earnings in drainage, improved buildings, improved stock and better cultivation, carry it all away and puts it somewhere else.

There are many who do not.
These are the up-to-date, success-men, who thus appear to the "saving" farmer to be extravagant, while in fact they are economical, for they put their money back into their business, improve their earnings, provide for their future, and keep their savings under their own care instead of handing it over to others.

ARE MICROBES IN YOUR SCALP?

It Has Been Proved That Microbes Cause Baldness.

Professor Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Sabourand, of the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under the observation of eminent scientists. This microbe lodges in the Sebum, which is the natural hair oil, and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles, and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

I have a remedy which will, I honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots, tighten and revitalize the hair roots and over-

Tea Time Talks
The Healthfulness of Tea

Physicians who often forbid the use of Coffee and Cocoa to the well, prescribe tea for the sick.
Of the three, tea is the only beverage that can be drunk for a lifetime without injurious effects.
It is a harmless tonic—a gentle stimulant without reaction.

As tea is the most desirable beverage, so "Salada" is tea in its most desirable form.

"Salada" Ceylon Tea comes from tea plant to tea pot untouched by human hands, from the time the leaves fall into the picker's baskets.
Its delicate aroma and delicious flavor are perfectly preserved in sealed, air-tight packages.

Ask your grocer for "Salada" Tea or send for a free trial package which makes 25 cups of delicious tea. We will mail it to you without charge. Say whether you use any life left in the hair roots.

I back this statement with my own personal guarantee that this remedy called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as I state.

It will frequently restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease; yet it is in no sense a dye. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

I exact no obligations or promises—I simply ask you to give Rexall "93" Hair Tonic a thorough trial and if not satisfied tell me and I will refund the money you paid me for it. Two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it in Port Hope only at

TWO DIE IN WRECK

Train Jumps the Track on Rail-

FIVE PERSONS ARE HURT

Five Starts After Train on Halifax and Southwestern is Derailed and in the Excitement of Rescuing Men Imprisoned in Baggage Car One is Overlooked—Baggagemaster Crushed Under Car.

Halifax, Feb. 25.—The Halifax and Southwestern train from Middleton for Lunenburg was wrecked near New Germany last evening. Two men were killed and five persons were more or less badly injured. The cars took fire and the passengers were rescued through the roof, which had to be cut.
It was impossible to get out by the door. The accident, it is thought, was caused by spreading rails. The engine and two or three box cars went along all right, but the baggage car and passenger car at the rear jumped and fell over a ten-foot embankment, lying on their side.

In a few minutes after the cars fell over, the baggage car took fire, and the flames afterwards spread to the passenger coach, which held 12 persons. Within the baggage cars were four men. Standing on the outside was killed, the baggage master. He was thrown to the ground and the car fell on him, causing instant death.

People ran to the baggage car and opened the door. They pulled out three men, and, thinking that was all, they diverted their attention to the passengers. One had been left, however, and he perished in the fire that burned the baggage car, if he had not been killed in its fall. His name was Lock McLaughlin.

Axes were used and the skylights of the passenger coach were cut away and the passengers pulled out. They were seriously bruised, but none fatally injured.

McCall Bill is Reported in the U. S. Senate.

From Tone Adopted by Speakers It is Probable That an Extra Session Will Be Necessary—Senator Hale Says the Measure Must Take Its Turn With Other Business in the Senate's Projected Work.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Opponents of the Canadian reciprocity agreement attempted to put a quiescent on legislation on the subject when the McCall bill to carry out the provisions of the agreement late yesterday was reported "without recommendation" from the Senate committee on finance. So far as the present session of Congress is concerned they took a long step toward accomplishing their purpose.

As only a few days remain to put the bill through a hostile body, the speeches against it were accepted generally as its death knell, until a resurrection should come in an extra session.

Senator Bailey, the Democratic leader, expressed the opinion that the best interests of the agriculturalists would be served by the defeat of the bill. The Texas Senator said that while the agreement admitted wheat and cattle free, it retained the duty on flour and beef meat.

"Civilized people eat flour and not wheat, beef and not cattle," he said. True it was, he continued, that the agreement provided for free wood-pulp, but this change in the tariff laws would mean the loss of almost $500,000 of revenue to the Treasury annually. He had been informed, he said, that this change would be worth $5,000,000 to the newspaper and magazine publishers, but for himself he could not consent to a measure which gave such a preference to the rich as against the poor and needy.

Senator Hale concurred in all that Mr. Bailey had said and added that while the bill had been reported without recommendation, the committee had done so in the face of the fact that an unquestioned majority could otherwise have been had for an adverse report. Coming to the consideration of the bill on its merits Mr. Hale said:

"It is my understanding that the bill will take its course in accordance with the feeling and desire of the Senate, whatever that may be. If the Senate does not choose to take it up, that course will be within its clear right, and any effort on the part of anyone, of whatever authority, to drive the Senate now or at anytime, would be an assumption of power which would be unwarranted."

Senator Stone of Missouri, minority member of the committee, announced his intention of supporting the measure on the ground that it would be in the line of wise and progressive statesmanship.

The bill went on the calendar, where it is subject to consideration whenever the Senate may decide to take it up.

Wilson and Morden Arraigned.

Toronto, Feb. 25.—Matthew Wilson K.C., and C. S. Morden, assistant manager of the Trusts & Guarantees Co., were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday morning, charged with conspiring with W. R. Travert to procure him to give the company a fraudulent preference over the other creditors of the Farmers' Bank in the matter of an alleged consolidation of $175,000 loan and a $120,000 uncured deposit. Both pleaded not guilty, and the case was adjourned till March 3, when a day will be set for the trial, the matter will be ready for the grand jury of the sessions which meets in a week.

An action has been begun by the shareholders of the Keeley Mines Limited, by permission of Referee McAndrew, against the Farmers Bank for an accounting of the matters between them.

Heroine Gets Medal.

Washington, Feb. 25.—President Taft has awarded to Miss Nettie Case key of Fairmount, Ind., a life-saving medal on recommendation of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The President sent a personal letter of commendation for Miss Caskey's bravery.

On March 19, 1910, Miss Caskey discovered her niece, Martelle Caskey, three-and-a-half years old, on the railroad track in front of a rapidly approaching train. The young girl of 14 ran along the track ahead of the train and when all hope seemed lost, grabbed the little one and threw herself and the child down an embankment.

Train Fell 150 Feet.

Valparaiso, Chile, Feb. 25.—A railway train made up of eight cars, in one of which were eighty miners and the others loaded with cement, broke through the Rancagua bridge near the American Braden copper mines yesterday. The bridge crossed a ravine 150 feet deep and the train was precipitated to the bottom. The miners were all killed and the remainder injured.

G.T.R. Agents Promoted.

Montreal, Feb. 25.—George W. Vaux, general passenger agent, G.T.R., has resigned to take an extended rest. Harry G. Elliott, his assistant, Chicago, will return to Montreal as general passenger agent; J. D. McDonald, Toronto, will go to Chicago as assistant general passenger agent, and A. E. Duff, Winnipeg, will succeed Mr. McDonald at Toronto.

The changes are effective March 1.

Found Eleven Bodies.

Tonopah, Nev., Feb. 25.—The rescue party in the Belmont mine, which caught fire on Thursday, found the bodies of eleven miners at the 1,100 foot level of the mine yesterday. It is thought more bodies will be found at the 1,500 foot level. The fire did not materially damage the mine.

DENOUNCES BONUS.

Allan Studholme Attacks System of Bringing in Help.

Toronto, Feb. 25.—Cabinet Ministers and the Opposition leader paid the Labor party the compliment of sitting attentive listeners yesterday afternoon to a lengthy address by the representative of labor. The back benches were conspicuous by their absence, however.

W. H. Hoyle, chairman of the committee on standing orders, said that he was glad to be able to report to the House that, for the first time in its history, the committee would be able to complete its work with but the one extension of time, which expired yesterday.

Sir James Whitney stated that Hon. Col. Hendrie, chairman of the select committee, on the bill respecting the protection of scaffolding, had found a difficulty in securing a quorum. He therefore moved the addition of Messrs. Kohler, Fisher and Bradburn to the committee, five members to form a quorum. The motion was agreed to.

Hon. Col. Matheson moved the House into committee on the bill authorizing the expenditure of $5 000 for the re-purchase of timber limits in Algonquin Park.

Hon. Col. Matheson said the holdings to be immediately paid for covered 350 square miles. The annual income from matured timber would be $12,000 to $13,000 in perpetuity.

Sir James Whitney said that the Lieutenant-Governor had assented to an order-in-council for the limits to be immediately secured.

Hon. A. S. MacKay asked for certain detailed information which is in the possession of the Minister of Mines, who was out of the city. The bill was accordingly left over.

Hon. A. G. MacKay, S. Clarke and D. Reid criticized the outlay of $5,000 for experimental fruit tree spraying as too limited to be effective. Mr. Clark said the amount should be $100,000.

Hon. J. S. Duff contended that, for educational purposes, $5,000 was sufficient, and the estimates were passed.

When the colonization estimates were reached, A. Studholme announced that he would probably take until midnight to express his views. He, however, confined himself to one hour and twenty-five minutes. The criticism was an earnest repetition of his budget debate argument that the true way to colonize New Ontario was to follow the example of New Zealand in advancing money to land-seekers whether Canadians or immigrants, to enable them to take up new territory.

He denounced the bonus of $5 a head of servant girls and farm laborers who were brought here with a lien on their wages, as a vicious and unnecessary method of lowering the scale of wages for domestic servants and agricultural help.

Rush a Temporary Line.

Hamilton, Feb. 25.—Following a conference with the Hydro Commission, Mayor Leach announced yesterday that Chief Engineer Sothman is prepared to come here with fifty men and erect a temporary line within two or three days to any of the factories to relieve the power situation if called upon to do so.

Hundreds of men out of the factories are still idle here but the Cataract promises to have everything in full swing by to-night and pending this the city will postpone action on the commission's offer.

Canada's Welcome of Connaught.

London, Feb. 25.—At a lecture in the Imperial Institute yesterday afternoon by Miss Cameron on "Canada," Lord Strathcona presided and there were also present the Duke and Duchess of Argyll. Lord Strathcona referred to the gratification with which the appointment of the Duke of Connaught had been received by the people of Canada, not only because of his connection with the throne, but on personal grounds. Canadians, too, had the pleasant recollection of the sojourn of the Duke of Argyll at Government House.

Kingston Pipe Broken.

Kingston, Feb. 25.—Owing to an accident at the pumping station, shore water is being pumped into the mains. The spindle valve in the intake pipe, about 1,300 feet out from shore, was broken while the valve was being shut off to make a test of the outer part of the intake pipe. Medical health Officer Williamson has had the amount of chloride of lime trebled, and is advising citizens to boil the water. The repairs may take three days.

Shot Wife and Self.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 25.—A Detroit News special from Mount Pleasant, says: William Knowlton, a farmer, 38 years old, was found dead yesterday, and his wife, aged 22, lay dying on the bed when neighbors entered the house. Both were shot through the head. The couple had attended a party on Thursday night.

Ratified Japanese Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The new Japanese treaty of trade and navigation was ratified last night after a two-hour executive session in the Senate. The action of this Government is expected to do more to prove the feeling of cordiality that this country has for Japan than anything that has been done for many years.

Negroes Turned Back.

Winnipeg, Feb. 25.—The Dominion Government yesterday decided to stop the immigration of negroes from the United States and stopped at the boundary a party which intended to go to Western Canada. The negroes were stopped because they were regarded as undesirable citizens.

RAISE FOR MAIL CLERKS

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux Announces That the Railway Branch of His Department Will Get an Increase in Pay—Long Sault Dam Correspondence Will Be Brought Down in House on Monday.

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—An interlude in the reciprocity debate occurred yesterday when the House went into committee of supply. A number of items were brought up, the chief of which was a desultory discussion on the Long Sault dam project.

Col. Sam Hughes introduced the question, stating that although the bill had been rejected in Washington by the House of Representatives, it now appeared in an amended form in the Senate. As Congress ceased on March 4 he thought the Government should take active steps to prevent the passage of the bill, as it was an invasion of rights under the Ashburton treaty. He also stated that the rights under that treaty had been superceded by the international waterways treaty.

Dr. Reid (Grenville) continued the discussion. He complained that while Canada had always observed her treaty obligations, the United States had always found an opportunity to evade them. Canadian vessels could not use the state canals, such as the Erie, while armed vessels were stationed on the great lakes, nominally maintained by the States as training ships.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that the Government had made proper representations to Ambassador Bryce, and the correspondence would be presented on Monday.

"Now is the time for this House to take action," said Col. Hughes. Dr. Reid kept up the attack by saying that prominent friends of the Government were behind the enterprise, while Col. Hughes remarked that the Minister of Railways had blushed when the charge was made that it had friends among the seats of the mighty.

Mr. Graham thought that Canadian vessels could use the canals of New York State.

E. N. Lewis (N. Huron) introduced his tenth bill for the session, this time to provide a penalty for "baggage smashing." He proposes to inflict a fine on summary conviction of fifty dollars in excess of the damage done by baggagemen in handling trunks, etc., or in default, one month in jail.

Hon. George P. Graham said that the railways were liable up to the amount of baggage carried, but he had no objection to the bill having a first reading.

Replying to a question by Mr. Berden, the Minister of Railways said that the contract for the Quebec bridge had not yet been signed. He confirmed the retirement of Mr. Vautier, chairman of the Quebec Bridge Commission, on account of ill-health.

During the discussion of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux's postoffice estimates in the House of Commons last night the Minister informed J. E. Armstrong that he was preparing a bill which would give Canadian railway mail clerks, stampers and sorters an increase in pay.

Mr. Armstrong pressed the Minister for details, but Mr. Lemieux said that, while he and his Deputy Minister had made up their minds as to the amount of increase, the matter had not yet been dealt with by council. The increase, he assured the House, would be a substantial one.

Mr. Armstrong asked if the Minister proposed to place the mail clerks under the civil service act.

E. M. MacDonald expressed the hope that the Minister had no such intention.

Mr. Lemieux said that a year or two ago he was under the impression that this could be done, but the more he studied the act the less inclined he was to think it advisable. The act was too exact. Under its provisions it would not be possible to deal with the special conditions which exist, more particularly in respect of securing extra help at rush seasons. It was possible that the employees in the post-offices of the larger cities might be brought under the operation of the act.

Mr. Lemieux during the discussion of his estimates also made the important announcement that there would be a special issue of stamps to mark the coronation of King George. He did not give any details, but announced that a copy of the design would shortly be received from England, and would be submitted to the House.

On the discussion of the estimates of the Labor Department, Dr. Reid (Grenville) said that in most settlements of strikes by the Government, he found that the company got the best of it. It was that way in the Grand Trunk Railway strike.

Hon. Mr. King thought not. Strikes were difficult things to settle. The G.T.R. strike settlement was a fair one.

W. B. Northrup (E. Hastings) claimed that the Grand Trunk had not lived up to its strike settlement pledge, and said the Government should take action to enforce the settlement. The men were not all back in 90 days, as stated they would be.

Mr. King pointed out that the 90 days' clause was not in the written agreement of the strike settlement. But it was through the influence of the Government that Judge Barron was appointed, and his work had resulted in many adjustments being made that otherwise might have caused misunderstanding.
