KU KLUX KLAN HAS UNMASKED

Imperial Wizard Issues the Final Edict—Name of the Organization Will Be Changed

The mask is officially forewarned as part of the regalia of the Ku Klux Klan.

An edict to all klansmen from the headquarters at Washington of Dr. H. W. Evans, imperial wizard, discards the mask, effective Thursday, and inaugurates a new degree, that of knights of the great forest. The edict gave no details concerning the new degree, but advised every klansman to become a member at once. The action, said a statement from headquarters, was in preparation for "new and larger activities in our national life."

Dogs and cats are barred from Grand Canyon National Park; therefore, fawns become pets for the children of the Government staff.

ANNIVERSARY OF OLD PORT HOPERS

Mr. and Mrs. John Moffat To Celebrate Golden Wedding Sunday

A happy family gathering will take place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Moffat, 218 Indian Grove, Toronto, when they celebrate on Sunday, their golden wedding anniversary. With laughter still young and vibrant with the joy of living, Mrs. Moffat told of the plans for their celebration.

"All our sons and daughters will be present, and most of our grandchildren," Mrs. Moffat declared, and added, laughing, "that will mean a large household, for we have seven daughters, five sons, and twenty-four grandchildren."

They are proud of their sons and daughters, happy men and women who have taken their places in the world.

Mrs. Moffat believes in large families, and smiled as she repeated the number of sons, daughters, sons-in-law, and daughters-in-law, who would join in the celebration.

"There are not many such big families today; people do not believe in them," she remarked.

Mrs. Moffat was formerly Jane Crist of Parry Sound, and she was married in the Methodist church there, just fifty years ago. Mr. Moffat was born in Port Hope and went to Northern Ontario to open up a store and then became interested in railway contracting and mining. He spent many years supervising the work in copper mines in the Sudbury district and knows all ores well.

When Mr. and Mrs. Moffat first went to Parry Sound there was no railroad near their home.

"The sound of the boat whistle in the spring was very welcome," Mrs. Moffat related. "It meant that we could get word back and forth from the rest of the country."

For twenty years Mr. and Mrs. Moffat have resided in Toronto and on Saturday afternoon and evening they are holding open house for the many friends. Mrs. C. W. MacDonald of Winnipeg, the eldest daughter in the family, has arrived in the city to be present for the celebration. Mrs. S. J. White, Mrs. O. C. Ormby, Mrs. Howard Robertson or Galt, Mrs. F. C. Rogers, Mrs. Milton Robinson and Mrs. Harold Kirby are also daughters.

In a vain effort to rescue their son, who had broken thru the ice near Steven's Point, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Forest Rice lost their lives.

"TOM" BELL WAS G.T.R. VETERAN

Flag at Town Hall Flying At Half Mast In His Honor

Tom Bell is dead. But his memory and deeds still live.

The oldest resident and the youngest child in Port Hope knew of Tom Bell and his noble deeds. He was just and upright and of sound judgment and strict morals.

He was known throughout Canada and the width and breadth of Ontario as a pioneer railway man. Many of the employees still in the service remember him and the many years he served at the local depot, when he filled the office in every sense of the word to the satisfaction of the travelling public and the business men of Port Hope.

Tom was highly regarded among the men in the service on the line. They all knew him, his cheery smile and friendly word. After his retirement in '24, he was wont to return to the scene of his labors and pass a friendly word to the engineer and fireman in the cab as they controlled the steaming monsters of the present age.

Mr. Bell entered railroading when the old type of wood-burning engines were in use, and learned telegraphy when the paper ticking system was in vogue. When the modern sound instruments were introduced he mastered the intricacies of the all-important instrument in railroading.

His connection with the railway dates back to March 1st, 1871, when he first entered the company's service as an operator. In 1875 he was operator at Collins Bay, from 1881 to 1883 he was at Newtonville and in 1883 came to Port Hope as day operator. He was acting agent in 1888 and the appointment was made permanent on October 1st, 1898, and until September 1924 acted in that capacity. At this time after fifty three years in the company's employ he was placed on the pension list.

In fitting commemoration of his memory the Union Jack at the Town Hall is flying at half mast. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon under Masonic auspices and it is expected that leading railway men from various centres will attend the obsequies.

Some S.S. Lines Favor Reduction

Officials of North Atlantic Steamship Lines To Meet in Quebec

SOME S.S. LINES FAVOR REDUCTION

Officials of North Atlantic Steamship Lines To Meet in Quebec

The significance of the meeting of the transatlantic general steamship conference in Quebec next week is not lost upon the general body of steamship agents and officials who are going about with hints and forebodings as to the outcome.

It has been known for some time the feelings displayed in the north Atlantic conference, which is a subsidiary organization attached to the transatlantic body, have aroused comment among the outside steamship interests, and this, it is hoped by steamship officials, will be strengthened out next week.

Canadian Pacific officials still are doubtful as to whether they will remain in the conference while Cunard men, although they have canceled certain sailings still are hopeful they will be able to keep the four vessels intended for this trade on the schedule they made out without friction with the two other great companies.

Loss of traffic in the steamship business, according to nearly every member of the conference, is giving the owners food for thought, and an intensive advertising campaign thru out the whole of Canada and the United States will be adopted by the conference to stimulate traffic.

Officials of many lines favor a reduction in the rates for the cheaper class of travel in order to attract more tourist travel, but others are inclined to think the operating costs of vessels on the north Atlantic run are much too heavy to allow of any reductions.

Fall from a train resulted in the death of Audrey Rupert at Marinette, Wis.

Sheriff Lloyd Brooker of Rhinelander, Wis., has appointed his wife deputy sheriff.

WRECK IS FOUND RUMOR STATES

Roundabout Report Says Mrs. Grayson Crashed in New Ontario

Do the waters of Northern Ontario hold the secret of the tragedy of the ill-fated amphibian plane, the Dawn, in which Mrs. Grayson and her companions disappeared two months ago?

This question was revived Friday when a flutter of excitement was caused by the report that the wreck of the Dawn had been found somewhere in the Abitibi District. The report emanated from G. N. Aulavag, Omaha, Neb., who received a wire in Winnipeg from his wife advising him that a message was received in New York by a brother of the Dawn's pilot to this effect. No further details are available.

J. E. Patterson, Manager of the Abitibi Power and Paper Company at Iroquois Falls, stated that until he had left the Falls no news of anything unusual had been reported by Abitibi scouts or employs in the Abitibi region.

Mr. Norman Gaynor has returned to Timmins after spending a month with his mother, Mrs. Gaynor. He escaped the terrible mine disaster as he was visiting at home at the time.

Mrs. Douglas Fisher of Baillieboro was in the village on Thursday attending the funeral of the late Wm. White.

Mr. Ernie Rowson of Hamilton, was in the village a few days, called here on account of the death of his uncle, the late William Northcutt. Mr. Rowson was a Port Hope boy. Many will remember Ernie.

Mr. George Moncreif who died very suddenly in Peterboro was widely known around Bewdley. He visited here a few weeks ago the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell. His sudden death was a shock to his many friends.

The funeral of the late William White was largely attended, many friends showing their respect to the deceased. The Rev. J. M. Crissall conducted the services at the house and cemetery.

2ND FORM WIN FROM U.C. TUXIS

High School Triumph in Basketball 28-12 Friday Evening

In a fast and exciting game of basketball at the United church on Friday evening the second form team of the Port Hope high school handed the junior Tuxis Boys of the United church a 28-12 defeat. McElroy proved the star for the winners and netted twenty points. Roach came next with four points while Brown and Hudson each bagged a basket.

Smith in centre for the losers scored half of his team's points and Brockenshire secured the other six. 2nd Form—Centre, McElroy; wings Roach and Brown; defense, Hudson and Roebuck; subs, Carruthers. Tuxis Boys—Centre, Smith; wings D. Moore and Brockenshire; defense, Douglas and Laurie; subs. Moore. Referee—Paedon.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Is it going to be another keen and frosty week-end?

The skaters will enjoy a good time at the rink tonight, especially so as it is band night.

After playing for the skaters until their legs are nearly numb the Port Hope band is coming out Sunday night to put on a concert at the Royal Theatre. Rather decent fellows, you know!

Who says the little want ads are not read? Friday night an advertisement of a building for sale and before the office was closed for the evening, the Guide had several enquiries and many more since. If you have something you don't want, turn it into cash and get what you do want. Let the Guide "want ad" column tell the people and help you sell it.

Another case! A local man had a cutter, but no horse. He advertised in the Guide and a man who needed a cutter, read of the one for sale and secured it.

When Dr. Scott of Campbellford was coming into Stirling Friday, his automobile was struck at the level crossing just west of that village by a light train, completely wrecking the automobile and severely injuring the doctor. Two other occupants of the car were less severely injured.

Why go home for tea to night? Why not have supper at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church with the bunch and have a nice, sociable time as well as a change of diet? They're having a real good "feed" and a musical program thrown in.

Minden, Haliburton county, according to the Echo, has three feet of snow on the level and still it continues to fall. Our corner friends remarks that they might share up and give us enough for sleighing.

Did you know the Port Hope Music Study Club have a charming program arranged for Tuesday evening? Well, it's so! It is student and pantomime night in the town hall on the evening of the 28th. Everything from the Tin Pan Parade down; all for "two bits."

The management of the New York Cafe is getting all ready to handle the big tourist trade next season. You won't know the old place when it's all fixed up.

February's nearly all done, so it can't be long until spring, so if you keep your eye on the Guide, you'll be kept informed when the first of the latest spring models of cars come along.

HINKLER'S TRIP COST BUT LITTLE

Expenditure Totalled About Two Cents Per Mile.—Plane Only Cost $3,500

Bert Hinkler in his 15 day flight from England to Australia made the cheapest long distance flight ever accomplished, it has been estimated.

The small machine in which he flew cost about $3,500. Expenses from Crocydon, England, to Port Darwin, Australia, including food, fuel and accommodations were calculated at $250, or about two cents a mile for the trip of some 12,000 miles.

Hinkler was his own engineer throughout the trip and the simplicity and handiness of his plane enabled him to handle it when he alighted or hopped off without hiring any help.

The low horse power of Hinkler's plane was another feature; it is under 80. The Smith brothers, in their flight to Australia, used a motor of 360 horse power, and Sir Alana Cobham, on his flight, one of 400 horse power.

CORRESPONDENCE

Utilizing the Library Hall

To the Editor:—

In contemplating the conveniences and inconveniences of this town, it occurs to me that a very great convenience would be served if the Hall of the Library could be used on Saturday by the farmers' wives who come to town with their butter and eggs and fowl. It would be a pleasant place for them to gather, much more so than the basement of the Town Hall, and it would be a most decided convenience to the townspeople who patronize the market, and would save many weary steps. I am sure that Mr. Eddie Farquharson, who is always so very obliging, would be only too happy in seeing both producers and purchasers comfortably gathered in the Library Hall this one day of the week. And I am also inclined to think that he would see that the library is opened an hour earlier than usual on Saturday, so that the farmer folk who come to town might have a place to drop into, reading the newspapers and periodicals for an hour or so before commencing business.

A little enterprise of this kind would give Port Hope a good name in the country, and prove conclusively that this is no slouch of a town. I hope, Mr. Editor, you will help this matter on.

Yours truly,
Enterprise.

OBITUARY

DR. R. J. WADE

Robert James Wade, M.D., a well-known resident of Brighton, Ont., passed away at Wellesley Hospital, Toronto, yesterday in his sixty-eighth year. Dr. Wade, who was born in Brighton township, received his early education at Brighton high school and at institutions of learning in Cobourg and Ottawa. He then entered upon the study of medicine at Trinity College, Toronto, graduating with the class of '88, and completed his medical education by taking post graduate courses in the hospitals of New York City and London, England.

He then settled in Brighton, where he has practiced his profession for the past 38 years.

In his earlier days he took an active part in public life, being chairman of the School Board, member of the Town Council, entering the County Council in 1902 and winning the coveted Wardenship in 1906. He was a staunch Presbyterian and Past Master of United Lodge No. 19, A. F. and A.M.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Lillie Webb; one daughter, Mabel of Toronto, and one son, William, medical student at Queen's University, also one sister, Mrs. Wesley Montgomery of Brighton.

Giant turtle escaped from a box in a post office at Philadelphia, Pa., causing panic among employees.

While changing a tire on his own machine, Howard Lorenzon was struck and killed by another automobile near De Kalb, Ill.

HYPNOTISM TO DETECT CRIME

Mesmerism Invoked in German Criminal Investigation for First Time

For the first time in the history of German criminology, hypnotism was resorted to for the detection of crime.

The experiment was conducted by Dr. George Flatau of Berlin, noted authority on hypnotism, on Frau Neumann, housekeeper for the late Professor Rosen of Breslau, who was murdered over a year ago under circumstances which still baffle the police.

Frau Neumann was suspected of being implicated. She has steadfastly denied this, and the police, after re-arresting her several times, has dropped the charge. But Frau Neumann felt that she owed it to herself to be cleared of even the semblance of suspicion and therefore accepted the suggestion of her attorney that she be hypnotized and in this state be induced to testify.

Dr. Flatau hypnotized her in the presence of police commissioners and of her attorney. The testimony given in the hypnotic state differed from her previous testimony only in that her mind seemed to concentrate better on details. She also remembered one person as having been seen frequently with the murdered professor during the days immediately preceding the crime, whom she had not recalled in her normal state. Whether this name will furnish a new clue remains to be seen.

The fact, however, that the testimony in the hypnotic state in no way runs counter to that given when she was first heard by the police, is cited by her attorney as proof of her innocence.

THE SHIP THAT NEVER RETURNED

On a bright Summer's morning, when the waves were dashing o'er the silent, silent breeze,

A ship set sail, with a cargo laden to a port beyond the sea. Said a pale face boy to his loving mother,

"Let me cross the wide, w'd, sea. For they tell me that in a foreign country

There is life and health for me! So the mother listened but with fond affection.

For her heart still yearned to him— So she sent him forth with a smile and a blessing In the ship that never returned

Chorus

It never returned, no it never returned, And its fate is still unknown. But from that day to this, they've been watching, waiting, For the ship that never returned.

Only one more trip, said a gallant sailor,

As he kissed his fond young wife; Only one more bag of that golden treasure and we'll settle down for life,

Yes, we'll leave this place for a little cottage and enjoy the wealth we've earned,

But she ne'er did think that her love would perish In the ship that never returned.

HOW ROCKIES WERE NAMED

The name "Rocky Mountains" appears to be of Cree Indian origin. Long before the advent of the white man the Indians of the Canadian prairies, gazing at the glistening line of peaks stretched across the West, called them the "Shining mountains." Legardeur St. Pierre in his journal, 1752, stated that among the Crees they were called "Assin-wati," that is, literally, "stone or rocky mountains." He translated the name into French—"Montagnes des Roches"—and by the English equivalent they have since been known.

LENTEN SEASON HAS ARRIVED

Appropriate Inauguration Of Period Preceding Easter

Lent commenced Wednesday. In the Christian church this season is acknowledged in the way of fasting during that period just prior to Easter.

In the time of Irenaeus, a rigid fast was observed for forty hours before Easter morning. In Alexandria, during the third century, Christians fasted throughout the Holy Week, and by the fourth century, the period had extended to forty days. Hence in the ancient city of Rome it came to be called "Quadragesima," from the Sunday which was the fortieth day before Easter.

However in the eighth or ninth century, it was determined that the feast should commence on Ash Wednesday, between which and Easter Sunday there are forty days, excluding Sundays on which the fast is observed.

Formerly the fourth Sunday in the Lenten season used to be known as "Mothering Sunday" for on that day young servant girls were allowed a holiday in order that they could visit their mothers, usually taking with them on their maternal visit a large "skimmel" cake. The periods of fast go on and are named each one differently such as the fifth week is called "Passion Week," and the sixth commencing with Palm Sunday is "Holy Week."

The Lenten season in Port Hope is strictly adhered to previous to this season most of the social events of the season are hurried up. In fact they are so hurried that most people who attend these social events are satisfied to the full with them, by the time the Lenten season draws nigh, and therefore they are only too glad for the fasting season to begin.

It might be of interest to know that the word "Lent" is derived from the old word of lencten, lenten, iente, from the Latin lens, meaning Spring.

Greatness, as we daily see it, is unobtainable.—Landon.

Grief alone can teach us what is man.—Bulwer Lytton.

DANISH SETTLERS HAVE SEA LUST

New Canadians in Middle West Experience "Sea Sickness"

"Danish settlers in the prairie provinces suffer terribly from sea-sickness—not of course, from heaving on the sea but from being absent from it," said Aksel Sandemose, novelist of Copenhagen, just back in Montreal from a seven months' tour of the Danish settlements in the Canadian middle west.

In discussing his findings in the offices of the Department of Colonization and Development, Canadian Pacific Railway—where, apparently, he had dropped in for literature, maps, photos and things from the department's resources—Mr. Sandemose went on to explain: "This sea hunger—or should I say 'thirst'—no that won't do either—but, at any rate this new and strange absence from the sea is experienced by practically all of the 30,000 Danish settlers in the West; for you must remember that it is almost impossible to live anywhere in Denmark without being in sight or sound of the sea, either the coast or bay or inlet.

"But," Mr. Sandemose hastened to add, "this sea-sickness gradually wears off, after a year or so, and once the settlers have dug themselves in and got used to the new horizon they do well, even in wheat growing, which is new to them and very few of them return to the homeland."

SPORTING SKITS

BASKETBALL

The High School basketball team are getting in shape by numerous practices for an exhibition game with the Cobourg quintet.

RUGBY

District Rugby

A meeting is to be held this spring to form an inter-collegiate rugby league with teams from Peterboro, Oshawa, Lindsay, Cobourg and possibly Port Hope. Last fall these teams were in the O.R.F.M., but each team had only two games. With a single schedule between these four or five clubs each team would have six or eight games, and a nice group could be arranged. It is likely that in the spring a constitution will be drawn up and a schedule made.

HOCKEY

On Wednesday evening the second form hockey team of the Port Hope High School journey to Orono to play the Continuation School sextet.

Marlboro's Swamp Brantford

The Toronto Marlboro's went to Brantford Friday night and completed the third round of the O.H.A. junior play offs winning 11 to 3 and making a total on the round 28-5—probably a record for an O.H.A. play off. The visitors left McPherson and Baxter at home, Harris donning the pads putting Morris at centre and subbing Jackson and Hackett.

Bracebridge Out

Newmarket intermediates earned the right to meet Oshawa or Kitchener in the next round of the O.H.

A. playdowns when they defeated Bracebridge Friday night 5 to 1, winning the round by 6 to 3. Bracebridge defeated them on Wednesday night by 2 to 1.

LINDBERGH WAS UNEXPECTED

Farmer Got Surprise of His Life When Aviator Landed in His Meadow

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, one American known generally throughout the world, could chuckle over the reception he received at Royal Oak, Mich., when he made a forced landing—and was not recognized by the owner of the farm.

Flying a Ryan cabin monoplane, Lindbergh landed on the farm of J. W. Cornair.

The famous trans-Atlantic flier was unable to continue yesterday and dropped to an easy landing on the Cornair farm. Major Lanphier, the commander of the first pursuit group of the Army Air Service, was flying with Lindbergh and landed also.

Cornair, when he saw the planes land, proceeded to the field. He told the following story:

"As I came up to the first plane, I saw a tall, yellow haired boy getting out," said he.

"Hello, what's the matter, boy?" I said. "Did you get caught in this storm, or something? It forced you down didn't it?"

"He kind of grinned. "No, I wouldn't call it a forced landing," he said slowly. "The fog was too heavy."

"Then the other pilot came up. He said, 'Do you know who you are talking to?'" and I said, "No."

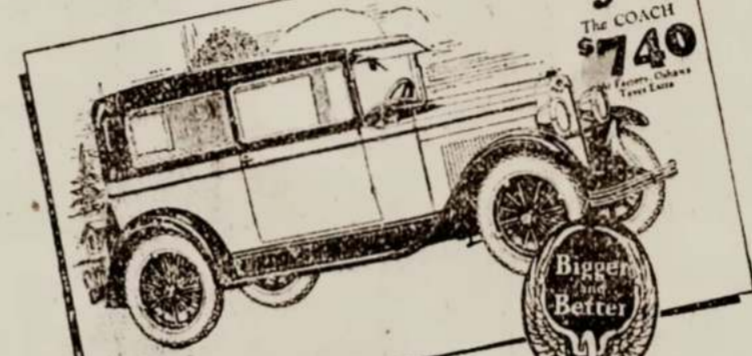

"Well, this is the colonel."

"Colonel? Colonel who?"

"Why, Colonel Lindbergh."

"That kind of took the wind out of my sails."

THE GUIDE STORY

"As you ask me that question, sir," says I, "you will excuse me, I hope, if, being a servant, I plainly speak my mind notwithstanding. I know my station well enough to be aware that, strictly speaking, I have done wrong, and far exceeded my duty, in telling you so much as I have told you already. But I would go through fire and water, sir," says I, "feeling my own eyes getting moist, for my mistress's sake. She has no relation here who can speak to you; and it is even better that a servant like me should risk being guilty of an impertinence than that dreadful and lasting mischief should arise from the right remedy not being applied at the right time. This is what I should do, sir, in your place. Saving your presence, I should leave off crying and go back home and write to Mr. James Smith, saying that I would not, as a clergyman, give him railing for railing, but would prove my unworthiness by had suspected me by ceasing to call at the Hall from this time forth, rather than be a cause of dissension between a man and wife. If you will put that into proper language, sir, and will have the letter ready for me in half an hour's time, I will call for it on the fastest horse in our stables, and, at my own risk, will give it to my master before he sails tonight. I have nothing more to say, sir, except to ask your pardon for forgetting my proper place, and for making bold to speak on a very serious matter as equal to equal and as man to man."

To do Mr. Meeke justice, he had a heart, though it was a very small one. He shook hands with me, and said he accepted my advice as the advice of a friend; and so went back to his parsonage to write the letter. In half an hour I called for it on horseback, but it was not ready for me. Mr. Meeke was ridiculously nice about how to express himself when he got a pen into his hand. I found him with his desk littered with rough copies, in a perfect agony about how to turn his phrase delicately enough in referring to my mistress. Every minute being precious, I hurried him as much as I could, without standing on any ceremony. It took half an hour more, with all my efforts, before he could make up his mind that the letter would do. I started off with it at a gallop, and never drew rein till I got to the sea-port town. The harbor clock chimed the quarter past eleven as I rode by it, and when I got down to the jetty there was no yacht to be seen. She had been cast off from her moorings ten minutes before eleven, and as the clock struck she had sailed out of the harbor. I would have followed in a boat, but it was a fine starlight night, with a fresh wind blowing; and the sailors on the pier laughed at me when I spoke of rowing after a schooner-yacht which had got a quarter of an hour's start of us, with the wind abeam and the tide in her favor.

I rode back with a heavy heart. All I could do now was to send the letter to the post office, Stockholm.

The next day the doctor showed my mistress the scrap of paper with the message on it from my master; and an hour or two after that, a letter was sent her in Mr. Meeke's handwriting, explaining the reason why she must not expect to see him any more at the Hall, and referring to me in terms of high praise, as a sensible and faithful man who had spoken the right word at the right time. I am able to repeat the substance of the letter, because I heard all about it from my mistress, under very unpleasant circumstances, so far as I was concerned. The news of my master's departure did not affect her as the doctor had supposed it would. Instead of distressing her, it roused her spirit, and made her angry; her pride, as I imagine, being wounded by the contemptuous manner in which her husband had notified his intention of sailing to Sweden, at the end of a message to a servant about packing his clothes. Finding her in that temper of mind, the letter from Mr. Meeke only irritated her the more. She insisted on getting up, and as soon as she was dressed and down stairs, she vented her violent humor on me, reproaching me for impertinent interference in the affairs of my betters, and declaring that she had almost made up her mind to turn me out of my place for it. I did not defend myself, because I respected her sorrow and the irritation that came from it; also, because I knew the natural kindness of her nature well enough to be assured that she would make amends to me for her harshness the moment her mind was composed again. The result showed that I was right. That same evening she sent for me, and begged me to forgive and forget the hasty words she had spoken in the morning, with a grace and sweetness that would have won the heart of any man who listened to her.

Combining New Elements of Style, Beauty and Performance

BEYOND question, this is the most amazing thing Pontiac Six has ever done . . . it is a thing that only Pontiac Six, backed by the almost unbounded engineering and manufacturing facilities of General Motors, could do.

The New Series Pontiac Six is the last word in stylish design, with new and vividly beautiful Fisher Bodies, finished in rich new harmonies of genuine Duco, its imposing appearance enhanced by the new, higher, narrower radiator, massive full-crown fenders and newly-designed headlamps.

Greater power and smoothness have been secured by a unique combination of refinements, including the new GMR "blue-streak" cylinder head, new fuel pump, new carburetor with accelerating pump, new manifolds and many other features.

The New Series Pontiac Six attains a new high record with its more handsome interior appointments, its rich upholstery, its smooth-riding, easy-driving qualities, the security of its self-equalizing four-wheel brakes.

Most amazing of all . . . these revolutionary refinements are offered at amazingly low prices . . . a further evidence of the General Motors policy of using success as the stepping stone to further progress.

Ideal For The Hurried Woman
Of Today

"OLD FAITHFUL" is the nickname given this coat dress by its young wearer for it can always be relied upon when all other frocks fail. It can be quickly slipped into, easily cleaned or laundered, and smartly adapted to so many occasions. Made of light weight wool or tweed, it is warm on chilly days; or made of sports silk or linen, it is cool on warm days. The pockets set at the top of inverted pleats come in very handy at all times and add an interesting feature to the lines. The slip, in contrasting or harmonizing color, with button trimming gives this standby a smart appearance. It is a style that will always serve its purpose faithfully and attractively whether worn by college girl, business woman, housewife or sportswoman. (Copyright, 1928, by Butterick)

Every day is made up of dozens of little decisions. And so many of them concern things. What sort of breakfast food to serve?—how to wash a chiffon frock?—whether glass dishes should be colored or crystal?—what sort of oil to use in the automobile?—whether to travel by rail, by boat or aeroplane?

These questions you must answer to suit yourself, for your friends and your family have their own ideas and you want exactly what fits your case!

Read the advertisements. Send for the booklets offered. Here is practical, modern, up-to-the minute information about everything imaginable. The booklets (and the advertisements too) are planned and written by experts. Authorities on food chemistry, fashions, domestic science, architecture, interior decoration, are answering your very questions. Advertisers these days make it their business to understand thoroughly all the different phases of their subject.

Read the advertisements because it pays . . . in time saved . . . in information gained . . . in a wiser spending of your money.

FEBRUARY 26, 1908

Wedding Bells Are Ringing

A very interesting event occurred on February 26th, 1908, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bowen, Bramley street, when Mr. William Raby Darling and Miss Clara Bowen were united in holy wedlock by Rev. W. H. Brockenshire. The bride wore a dress of nun's veiling richly trimmed with lace and holding a bouquet of sweet peas and carnations, was attended by her sister, Miss May Bowen, while Mr. Ward Brockenshire acted as best man.

JOBS WOULD BE AN INCENTIVE

As every Port Hoper knows, the Port Hope Band is a decided acquisition to the town and their desire to please the public has been exemplified by the fact that the organization has been willing to give summer band concerts and at this season of the year, to render sacred concerts on Sunday evening at the Royal Theatre.

The band practices diligently every week and there are a few departments which could be considerably bolstered up upon this acquisition of new players. The executive of the band would greatly appreciate it if the business men of Port Hope and manufacturers of the town would inform them if any help is required and it would be endeavored to be obtained. The arrival of new musicians in Port Hope would not only materially assist the band but would increase the population of the town.

Here and There

Quebec City was en fete the better part of a week on the return to his native city of His Eminence Raymond Marie Rouleau, newly created Cardinal. Ecclesiastical, governmental, civic, military and lay leaders of the community joined in welcoming this prince of the church.

Four hundred thousand motorcars from the United States will be touring the highroads of the province of Quebec this year, according to the vice-president of the Royal Automobile Club of Canada, interviewed at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, this month. It is estimated they will spend over sixty million dollars in the province this coming season.

Edmonton—Sale of the Lacombe and Northwestern Railway to the Canadian Pacific Railway is announced by the Provincial Premier. The C.P.R. agrees to indemnify the province against future liability on outstanding 5 per cent. bonds for $278,700 and, in addition, pay $1,500,000 in cash, at the same time undertaking to construct a 20-mile extension within the next three years.

Calgary—The Province of Alberta exported goods to the value of $9,120,305 to the United States during the year 1927, according to the annual report of S. C. Reat, United States Consul for Calgary district. The total exports show an increase of $764,660 or 17 per cent. over 1926. Cattle and hogs held a conspicuous place in these exports, the former amounting to $1,215,686 and the latter to $982,045.

Winnipeg.—Homestead entries made in the four western provinces in the calendar year 1927 totalled 6,447, as compared with 6,012 the year before—an increase in 1927 of 435. Entries by provinces—1926 figures being in brackets—were: Manitoba 719 (942), Saskatchewan 2,819 (2,780), Alberta 2,796 (2,166) and British Columbia 113 (124). December filings totalled 488, an increase of 69 with Manitoba 46 (54), Saskatchewan 221 (219), Alberta 215 (139) and British Columbia 6 (7).

Thirteen new ocean liners, at least, of a total of 138,000 gross tons, are expected in Montreal during the coming season. Of this total Canadian Pacific vessels make up more than half, or 90,000 gross tons. These are the "Duchess of Atholl" and the "Duchess of Bedford", of 20,000 gross tons each, and the five Canadian Pacific freighters, the "Beaverburn", "Beaverford", "Beaverbrae", "Beaverhill" and "Beaverdale", each of 10,000 gross tons.

Saint John.—The Harbor Commissioners have now drawn up a $10,000,000 project of port development, to extend over a 5-year period, subject to the approval of the Minister of Marine. The general scheme includes the construction of one grain conveyor gallery at pier No. 7; a grain jetty, 1,250 feet long; a pier, 1,250 feet long and equipped with four one-storey, fireproof sheds and shipping office; one grain elevator of 2,400,000 bushels capacity with grain conveyor galleries for locating grain at pier No. 7 and the necessary railway tracks, railways, sewage facilities and water supply to serve the new works.
