DURHAM COUNTY TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE

Held Two Sessions Here Yesterday—Large Crowd in Attendance

The meeting of the County of Durham Temperance Alliance held in the Town Hall last evening was largely attended.

Rev. Mr. Irwin, of Newcastle, occupied the chair, and after singing and prayer called for the minutes of the afternoon session, which were read and confirmed.

The Chairman in a brief but interesting address strongly recommended temperance advocates to pay strict attention to the voters' lists before a contest for local option was started. He also stated that contests were sometimes lost at the Court of Revision. Eternal vigilance must, of necessity, be observed.

At this juncture, Mr. William Norris, who sang so acceptably during the afternoon, gave a solo to the delight of all present. At two other periods of the session Mr. Norris favored the audience with vocal selections. This feature of the program added not a little to the interest and pleasure of the Convention.

The chairman called for an address from Rev. J. George Miller, Associate Secretary of the Alliance. Mr. Miller, although a new speaker to Port Hope people, at once captured the attention and interest of those present. In making reference to the objections held by some people to local option he pointed out the fact that the Local Option By-law was a provision, indeed was a part of the Liquor License Act. He further stated that Local Option does not kill a man, or any municipality where the by-law is put in force. Experience proves this, and indeed the reverse is the fact, as may be shown by abundant evidence in any locality where the by-law is operative.

The speaker said you cannot license the liquor traffic without making drunkards; and these come from the franks of the boys and young men of your town. Are you willing that your boy should be one of the number?

The address was an effective effort on behalf of local option and against the license system. After the collection was taken the Chairman called for an address from Rev. Mr. Kettlewell, another of the Associate Secretaries of the Alliance.

In his opening remarks the speaker stated that notwithstanding the somewhat hurried manner of calling this Convention it had proved to be one of the best of the series.

Among the many striking features of this most inspiring and interesting address the speaker mentioned the fact that the large Insurance Societies, the medical profession, the captains of industry, the great railroad corporations, the labor leaders and the social economists of the continent, had taken their places alongside of the temperance workers, because intoxicating liquors were a detriment to those interested in all these institutions and societies.

In citing the great progress which temperance legislation is making in our times, he said that at present thirty-five States of the Union in whole or in part had enacted prohibition.

Mr. Kettlewell's address was listened to throughout in rapt attention and was deserving of the great applause given when the speaker took his seat.

After singing the national anthem and prayer by Rev. J. G. Miller, the convention closed a most successful and interesting day's proceedings.

PORT HOPE

The report of the afternoon session will appear in to-morrow's issue.

The following resolution presented by the Committee on the question of law enforcement. Moved by Rev. W. G. Clarke, and seconded by F. W. Galbraith, was carried unanimously.

We, as citizens and workers in the cause of temperance in the County of Durham, and including representatives of Port Hope, Bowmanville, Newcastle, Clarke, Darlington, Hope, Cavan and Manvers in convention assembled, record our emphatic protest against the inefficient administration of the law effecting the sale of strong drink within the territory of our observation and experience.

Within the County of Durham, Local Option By-laws have been brought into operation in the Municipalities of Bowmanville, Millbrook, Clarke, Darlington, Hope, Cavan, Manvers and Cartwright, including the populous centres of Bowmanville, Millbrook, Newtonville, Orono, Kendal, Pontypool and Bethany. The licensed sale of strong drink continues only in the municipalities of Port Hope and Newcastle. As a result of our observation and experience in our judgment the present License system, as a means of restricting the sale of intoxicating drink has shamefully broken down. There does not appear to be one legal restriction placed upon the statute books and devised to regulate the sale of strong drink, but is flagrantly and more or less constantly violated. As a result of our observation and experience of the two systems, we recommend Local Option as vastly superior to and incomparably more effective than the License system for the curtailment of the consumption of intoxicating drink.

We further order that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the License Department in Toronto. Carried unanimously.

Report read by Rev. W. G. Clarke, President:—

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, CHRISTIAN FRIENDS,—In issuing the second annual statement of the Children's Aid Society of Port Hope the officers take this the first opportunity and heartily thank those who have by subscription, donations of clothing, good counsel and otherwise, aided in the work of the association.

With increasing experience and knowledge of the laws in force in the Province of Ontario for the protection of neglected and dependent children the work of the society becomes easier as time passes.

Port Hope is a healthy, law-abiding town with no slums, yet there is every need of such an association as the Children's Aid Society and some idea of the amount and variety of the work of the association may be gathered from a perusal of the records of the society. In and around Port Hope there are under the immediate care of the local society and under the supervision of the general association over thirty foster children and about these and other matters relating to the work of the society there have been received during the year 1910 some one hundred and thirty-three communications and according to the letter book of our secretary some one hundred and twenty-three letters have been written. The actual amount spent in postage in the year was $2.80. This does not include amount of postage spent for notices of meetings of Board of Management.

In 1910 five children—three boys and two girls have been made wards of the society. Of these one boy was placed with a good family in Haliburton County and two girls were sent to the Superintendent of Neglected and Dependent Children at Toronto for placement, and two small boys have been left with their parents under the supervision of the Inspector in the hope that the parents will reform and do better for their children.

Through the efforts of the Port Hope branch homes have been found, mostly with good farmers in the vicinity of Port Hope, for eight boys which were sent by Mr. J. I. Kelso, the Superintendent, from Toronto.

Two children who were made wards of the society last year were changed to more suitable foster homes. Two boys from Toronto that were placed near here were not satisfactory and they were returned to Toronto. It is not at all unusual to find it necessary to change a boy several times before a home suited to the particular child can be found. In one such case a boy from Toronto was sent out to two different places and each time returned as a "good for nothing" to the society. A third place was found for this so-called useless lad and the foster-parents who have now had him for nearly a year are greatly pleased with him and would not part with him for anything.

Our society is incorporated under the "Children's Protection Act of Ontario," and through a process of law takes charge of neglected and orphan children, furnishes them with proper clothing and puts them out to board until a suitable foster home can be found. After placement careful and frequent government inspection is made every care is taken to see that children under the protection of the society receive a proper education and are made good and useful citizens.

The authorized agent of the society, who is usually a constable and receives his appointment from the county judge, investigates all complaints or ill-treatment or neglect of children and advises with parents or guardians, urging them to look after their families in accordance with the laws for the protection of children. During the past year quite a number of cases of neglect have been investigated. In one case of neglect that recently came under the notice of the society, the inspectors made about a score of visits and did all they could do to get the parents to observe the law and provide for their children properly, but all to no purpose. In the end it was found necessary to have the children taken before the magistrate and committed to the care of the society.

Since organization in November 1908 through the efforts of the society seventeen children have been brought before the magistrate in Port Hope and after proper investigation by the court fifteen of these have been made wards of the society. This makes a total of twenty-three children for whom homes have been found by the local society.

The demand for children for adoption is always greater than the supply. There has never been any difficulty in finding good homes for all the children taken over. At the present time the society have on file over a score of applications that cannot be filled, and we have several letters from the general Superintendent in reply to our request for children that at present he had none for adoption.

The work of the association is supported by voluntary subscriptions, membership fees, municipal grants, donations of clothing, etc.

Tea Time Talks Tea Spoils with Age

No tea is fit to drink after it is two years old. That is the age limit of tea quality and benefit. The best tea is the freshest.

"Salada" Tea owes much of its world-wide reputation to its sale fresh from the plantation. The leaves are fresh picked every week the year round; then dried, sorted and packed in air-tight lead packages. Every five weeks a new picking of "Salada" comes fresh from plantation to purchaser.

Bulk teas, carried year after year, lose their freshness.

Ask your grocer for "Salada" Tea or send for a free trial package which makes 25 cups of delicious tea. We will mail it to you without charge. Say whether you use Black, Mixed or Green Tea and the price you pay per pound.

PORT HOPE, FEB. 28, 1911

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

Now he would abandon his B. A. examination—a clear saving of money. Presently it might suit him to take the B. Sc. instead; time enough to think of that. Had he but pursued the Science course from the first, who at Whitelaw could have come out ahead of him? He had wasted a couple of years which might have been most profitably applied; by this time he might have been ready to obtain a position as demonstrator in some laboratory, on his way perhaps to a professorship. How had he thus been led astray? Not only had his boyish instincts moved strongly towards science, but was not the tendency of the age in the same direction? Buckland Warricombe, who habitually declaimed against classical study, was perfectly right; the world had learned all it could from those hoary teachers, and must now turn to nature. On every hand, the future was with students of the laws of matter. Often, it was true, he had been tempted by the thought of a literary career; he had written in verse and prose, but with small success. An attempt to compose the Prize Poem was soon abandoned in discouragement; the essay he sent in had not been mentioned. These honours had fallen to Earwaker, with whom it was not easy to compete on such a ground. No he was not born a man of letters. But in science, granted fair opportunity, he might make a name. He might, and he would!

On the morrow splendour of sunshine drew him forth to some distance from the town. He went along the lanes singing; now it was holiday with him, and for the first time he could enjoy the broad golden daylight, the genial warmth. In a hollow of grassy fields, where he least expected to encounter an acquaintance, it was his chance to come upon Christian Moxey, stretched at full length in the company of nibbling sheep. Since the dinner at Mr. Moxey's, he had neither seen nor heard of Christian, who, it seemed probable, was back at his work in Rotherhithe. As their looks met both laughed.

"I won't get up," said Christian; "the effort would be too great. Sit down and let us have a talk."

"I disturb your thoughts," answered Godwin.

"A most welcome disturbance; they weren't very pleasant just then. In fact, I have come as far as this in the hope of escaping them. I'm not much of a walker, are you?"

"Well, yes, I enjoy a good walk." "You are of an energetic type," said Christian, musingly. "You will do something in life. When do you go up for Honours?"

"I have decided not to go in at all."

"Indeed; I'm sorry to hear that." "I have half made up my mind not to return to Whitelaw."

Observing his hearer's look of surprise, Godwin asked himself whether it signified a knowledge of his footing at Whitelaw. The possibility of this galled him; but it was such a great step to have declared, as it were in public, an intention of freeing himself, that he was able to talk on with something of aggressive confidence.

"I think I shall go in for some practical work of a scientific kind. It was a mistake for me to pursue the Arts course."

Christian looked at him earnestly. "Are you sure of that?" "Yes, I feel sure of it." There was silence. Christian beat the ground with his stick.

"Your state of mind, then," he said at length, "is more like my own than I imagined. I, too, have wavered for a long time between literature and science, and now at last I have quite decided—quite—that scientific study is the only safe line for me. The fact is, a man must concentrate himself. Not only for the sake of practical success, but—well, for his own sake."

He spoke lazily, dreamily, propped upon his elbow, seeming to watch the sheep which panted at a few yards from him.

"I have no right," he pursued, with a shadow of kindly anxiety on his features, "to offer you advice, but—well, if you will let me insist on what I have learned from my own experience. There's nothing like having a special line of work and sticking to it vigorously. I, unfortunately, shall never do anything of any account,—but I know so well the conflict between diverging tastes. It has played the deuce with me, in all sorts of ways. At Zurich I utterly wasted my time, and I've done no better since I came back to England. Don't think me presumptuous. I only mean—well, it is so important to—to go ahead in one line."

His air of laughing apology was very pleasant. Godwin felt his heart open to the kind fellow.

"No one needs the advice more than I," he replied. "I am going back to the line I took naturally when I first began to study at all." "But why leave Whitelaw?" asked Christian, gently. "Because I dislike it—I can't tell you why." With ready tact Moxey led away from a subject which he saw was painful.

"Of course there are many other places where one can study just as well."

"Do you know anything of the School of Mines in London?" Godwin inquired, abruptly.

"I worked there myself for a short time."

To Be Continued.

HANGMAN IS DEAD

Donald James Rattley, Otherwise Radcliffe, Ends Career.

A KINDLY MAN AFTER ALL

The Famous Public Executioner Who Has Sent 150 Men to Their Account Was a Friend of Little Children and a Good Neighbor—His Terrible Business Told on His Nerves Toward the Last.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Donald James Rattley, better known as "Radcliffe the Hangman," for over twenty years the public executioner of Canada, died Sunday at his home in Fern avenue, of paresis. After sending 150 men over the great divide, Radcliffe has at last gone the way of all flesh. He had not been actively engaged for some time, though he had never been retired, and Ellis, the present incumbent of the position, has been listed only as his assistant.

In later years his terrible task preyed upon Radcliffe's nerves, and since he had hanged Pavale Steffo two years ago, he had not been able to perform his duties. The late hangman's neighbors all speak well of him, and this is his greatest tribute, that those who lived nearest to him and knew him as a man as well as a hangman, remember him kindly as a good neighbor and a kindly man, who numbered little children among his friends.

The man followed many ways of life before he settled down to become the hand of justice which should carry out the law of a life for a life. He had been a sailor and had engaged in the whaling trade. He had been a grocer and a cook. He was chef for the Sunnyside Club just before he took his appointment from the Canadian Government.

One of his neighbors had this to say of him: "He was a generous man and would rather give you a dollar than beat you out of a cent." He has lived in the neighborhood for 25 years and his chief characteristics were his open-heartedness and his iron nerve."

Radcliffe's own statement of his view of his job is interesting. He said once when asked what was making him shaky: "Plenty of trouble and a life like mine." When asked if it was getting on his nerves, he said: "Not the executions, but it is the twaddle of the people, either before or after. I get the thing off my mind as quickly as I can."

Fire in Montreal.
Montreal, Feb. 28.—Fifteen thousand beds of various sizes, styles and make, representing a value of approximately $150,000, were destroyed by fire in the four-story warehouse of the Ives Modern Bedstead Co., 117 Queen street, yesterday afternoon. The warehouse is completely gutted, the fire, which originated in the second story, ravaging it clear to the roof. The ground floor was occupied by the offices of the concern, while the three floors above were given entirely to the storage of manufactured beds.

The fire was a fierce one, due to the fact that the bedsteads in storage were covered with many wrappings of paper and in some instances with slight wooden slats intended for protection in shipping.

Within thirty minutes after the first alarm there were 27 individual streams at work and one water tower. The force for these was supplied by seven steamers of the highest power, some of which can eject 1,600 gallons a minute. Two firemen were injured during the fire. One came in contact with a live wire while at work on a ladder, and was thrown to the ground. He was attended to by the surgeons of Notre Dame Hospital. Another, A. Gauthier, had his hand cut and was also patched up by the surgeons of Notre Dame. There were several men who received minor cuts.

Call a Halt.
Washington, Feb. 28.—That the President and Congress shall "call a halt and take hands off" in the matter of the Mexican Revolution is the "demand" of certain residents of San Antonio, Texas. The demand reached the Senate yesterday in a petition bearing fifty signatures. The document was addressed to "the President of the United States Senate and to the Speaker of the House of Representatives," and said in part: "There is not an honest, liberty-loving man knowing the cause of this revolution but who is heart and soul in sympathy with those revolutionists; we therefore demand that you call a halt and take hands off of same, and let old despot Diaz and the revolutionists fight it out."

Cut His Baby's Throat.

INFORMATION by TELEPHONE

PEOPLE are not leaving so much to chance in these days of universal telephone service. Instead of risking disappointment they telephone and get the facts. Will school be held on a stormy morning, will your friend be in if you call, what does the weather man predict and when does the train leave—are samples of myriads of questions constantly passing over the wire, and being answered by the proper authorities. There are also questions to be asked about the telephone service, how somebody can be reached over the Bell Long Distance Telephone and what it will cost, and similar questions, which are being answered by the information operators.

The neighbors became aware of the tragedy when they saw Mrs. Soosek run into the street streaming with blood and shrieking "My baby, my baby."

Cost of N.T.R.
Ottawa, Feb. 28.—A return placed on the table of the Commons on Saturday, showed that up to December 31 last, a total of $89,533,740 has been spent on the National Transcontinental Railway construction. It is estimated that it will take $55,785,999 more to complete the road between Winnipeg and Moncton. The total mileage of track laid is 1,236.

Sir Alphonse Pelletier Better.
Atlantic City, N.J., Feb. 28.—Dr. Walter P. Conway, late yesterday afternoon, pronounced Sir Alphonse Pelletier, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, out of danger. The aged statesman is improving steadily. Capt. Victor Pelletier, his aide-de-camp, will take Sir Alphonse home next week.

MARKET REPORTS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 27.—The market was steady at opening, with prices unchanged to bid lower. The weakness in America was offset by a large decrease in local stocks here and smaller Russian shipments than expected. Following the opening, the market showed a hardening tendency, with some covering of shorts and lighter offerings. The strength in Buenos Ayres at the close on Saturday and less pressure to sell Argentine steamers, with a better general demand for carcases, and firmer Australian offers, caused the advance.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Part of the responsibility for an advance in wheat to-day was blamed on the calendar. The rise followed covering by short sellers, who believe that March is an unfavorable month for them. Quite a rush of buying occurred, and the close was 1/2c to 3/4c higher than forty-eight hours before. Corn finished 1/2c to 3/4c down; oats off 1/2c to 3/4c to 1/2c, and provisions varying from 1/2c to 1/4c to the decline.

Dr. Pyne's Measure For Industrial Training.

UNDER LOCAL COMMISSION

A Board Appointed by Trustees Will Control Each Town's Schools Which Will Be Subject to Grants From the Government as in the Case of Collegiate - Studholme's Eight-Hour Bill Introduced.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Monday records were broken at the Ontario Legislature yesterday, both by the length of the sitting and mass of public business cleared off the order paper. The sitting was equally notable for the important nature and popular interest of most of the measures under discussion. The Government implemented the promise made in the speech from the throne by introducing a series of proposals for the extension of industrial education, and Sir James Whitney spoke out with characteristic frankness in reference to amateur law reformers who desire the enactment of revolutionary changes in the general law as it now exists.

Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, presented the Government's plan for the extension of industrial training. The bill authorizes any urban school board to establish general industrial schools, special industrial and technical high schools, co-operative and industrial schools, schools for instruction in fine and applied arts, industrial and technical and evening art schools. The regulations for the schools are to be provided by the Department of Education in the same way as in the case of a high school, and, subject to those regulations, the Minister is to apportion all sums of money appropriated by the Legislature for the establishment and maintenance of such schools. The high school grant at present is apportioned according to the number of pupils, the equipment, and the qualifications of the teachers.

The classification of industrial schools follows the recommendations of Dr. Sneath. General industrial schools are those in which, to the regular course, there are added special classes calculated to prepare pupils for industrial life. Special industrial schools are those providing instructions in theoretical and practical work of particular trades carried on in the district where the school is situated. Co-operative schools are those in which an apprenticeship system is combined with the school course.

It is provided in the bill that every technical school, whether at present in operation or established hereafter, is to be under the management of a committee of twelve, six from the Board of Education, three persons not members of that board who are engaged as employees in manufacturing or other industries carried on in the district, and three employers of labor. This is to be known as the advisory industrial committee.

A. Studholme, Hamilton East, has drafted an eight-hour day and minimum wage bill. The lowest wage is placed at 20 cents an hour. The bill says: "Eight hours a day shall constitute a legal day's work for all workmen employed within the meaning of this act, and no workman shall be required or permitted to work more than eight hours in any one calendar day, except in cases of extraordinary emergency caused by fire, flood, or danger to life and property."

Another clause declares that a man working more than 48 hours a week shall be deemed to be working overtime, and shall be paid at least one and a half times the rate per hour at which he is engaged.

"Notwithstanding any agreement or understanding to the contrary, made by a workman with his employer, no workman shall be employed and paid at less than 20 cents per hour, irrespective of any amount earned at overtime."

No male under 18 or female under 21 should, according to Mr. Studholme, be allowed to work overtime. A saving clause is inserted to exempt agricultural labor and cases where all the persons employed are members of the employer's family. This measure is to apply to any contracts made by the Government, and would void such contracts if the provisions of the act were not carried out.

Team to Go Early.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—The Canadian Bisle team will arrive in England in time for the coronation. It was decided at the meeting of the D. R. A. council yesterday afternoon that arrangements would be made to give the riflemen a chance to see this great ceremony. Since this takes place on June 22, the team will sail about the 10th of that month for Montreal. The Bisle matches start early in July.

May Reduce Charge.

Brantford, Feb. 28.—Gistoni Diarado, the Italian charged with "intent to murder" in connection with the stabbing affair in which Mike Gerenci, a Hungarian, was stabbed in the abdomen, was yesterday committed for trial in Police Court. It is likely that the charge will be reduced to one of felonious wounding, in which case the prisoner will come before Judge Hardy.

Bold Bank Robbery.

Clover, Va., Feb. 28.—Five armed men rode into town before daylight yesterday, blew open the safe of the Bank of Clover and escaped with $4,000 in cash. Residents aroused by the explosion, rushed into the streets, only to be met with a fusillade of shots from the robbers of two of the men who stood guard outside the bank. No one was wounded.

An Athenian Invitation.

Brockville, Feb. 28.—The Presbyterian congregation of Athens has extended a call to Rev. W. W. Montgomery of Sombra, in the Sarina Presbytery. The matter will be dealt with by the Brockville Presbytery at a meeting to be held here shortly.

G. N. W. Telegraphers Allege Breach of the Law.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Local officials of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union are up in arms against the Great North Western Telegraph Co. for alleged infringement of the alien labor law and a thorough investigation of the methods employed by the company in importing men from the United States to replace those who were dismissed will, it is believed, be demanded by the Toronto men.

Two weeks ago 25 employees of the G. N. W. were served with notices of dismissal for taking part in organizing for higher wages, and of these six Toronto men and five Montreal men will leave the company's employ to-day. Twelve of the Montreal men were given two weeks' notice, but a week ago yesterday seven were reinstated.

To fill the vacancies thus created six men, it is alleged, have been brought over from Detroit and Buffalo to take the places of the Toronto men, and five from New York and Boston, to replace those dismissed in Montreal. The Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, who have been championing the rights of the men, suspected that the G. N. W. were engaging these men in the States, and in so doing were violating the alien labor law.

A local official of the union complained to the superintendent of immigration at Ottawa, and drew attention to the fact that a telegrapher had been engaged in Detroit for employment in Toronto, to take the place of an employee dismissed by the Great North Western. The man's name was given to the Department with the additional information that he had been instructed to call at the G. N. W. office in Windsor for his transportation to Toronto.

"Ottawa, Feb. 24, 1911. "Sir,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt due course of your letter of the 21st inst. and to say in reply that the enforcement of the provisions of the alien labor law is left entirely to the local courts and aggrieved parties, and under the circumstances stated in your letter, I think it would be well for you to seek legal advice.

"I regret that I am unable to assist you in the matter. "Your obedient servant, "L. W. Fortier, "For superintendent of immigration."

Farmers Pleased, Says Leader.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Three prominent agriculturists—E. C. Drury of the Dominion Grange, J. B. Anderson of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, and T. A. Cramer of the Grain Growers' Co., Winnipeg—held a conference in the Walker House yesterday morning regarding reciprocity and Canadian farmers. These three gentlemen have been advocating reciprocity among the farmers of Ontario and the west, and give the opinion that the feeling is almost unanimous for the proposed agreement. Mr. Drury has been addressing meetings of farmers in Peterboro and Prince Edward Counties twice a day for the past two weeks.

Would Give Shorter Routes.

Moncton, Feb. 28.—At a representative meeting of the Sackville, N.B., Board of Trade last Friday evening it was unanimously decided to favor the absorption of the New Brunswick and P.E.I. Railway by the Intercolonial. This branch road runs from Sackville to Cape Tormentine and is a good feeder for the Government road.

It is urged that a shortened service to Prince Edward Island could be maintained via Cape Tormentine, as the distance across the straits is only from seven to nine miles at this point. The Government steamers, it is claimed, would easily keep this route open in the winter.

Fielding Hung In Effigy.

Montreal, Feb. 28.—An effigy of Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, hanging from some electric wires 25 feet above the ground, was the spectacle which greeted a number of Grand Trunk employees at the Point St. Charles yards, as they passed the corner of Knox and Hibernia streets, early yesterday morning on their way to work.

The effigy was draped in the Stars and Stripes, upon which was crudely painted in big black letters the name of the Finance Minister. The "body" was not "cut down" until 10 o'clock.

REFORM OF SENATE

Sir Wilfrid Wants Fair Consideration of Problem.

TO PROBE SHOE COMBINE

McLean of South Huron Moves For an Elective Senate, But the Premier Tells Him That He Favors a Half Elected Body and He Drops It —Hon. George P. Graham on The Scientific American.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—Reform of the Senate, the merits of the Quebec bridge plans and the announcement by the Minister of Labor that the "shoe combine" would be investigated under the provisions of the act of last session, and the resolution of Major Beattie to prevent Americans from flaunting their flag in public places in Canada without, or in an inferior position to the Union Jack, furnished the chief bill of fare of the House of Commons yesterday.

The motion of M. Y. McLean (South Huron) to make the Senate elective was dropped, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced his willingness to consider with the Opposition a plan whereby the Legislatures might elect a proportion of the members of the Upper House.

The discussion on the Quebec bridge brought out the opinion from the Minister of Railways that the "Scientific American's" criticisms were not worth considering. It was not so much of an authority.

"The shoe combine investigation will be the first under the new act.

The day resolution of Major Beattie was rejected because of technical flaws by a majority of 49.

A debate on the desirability of making the Senate an elective body was initiated by M. Y. McLean (S. Huron), who moved "That in the opinion of the House the Dominion Senate as at present constituted is not in accordance with the representative institutions of this country, and the Government should take the necessary proceedings to have the Senate made representative of and directly responsible to the people."

Mr. McLean did not think it would be a wise thing to abolish the Senate, as suggested by E. A. Lancaster, because it was a legacy left by the fathers of Confederation. It was designed to protect the minorities of the smaller provinces.

The existing body, he said, consisted of three classes: (1) Those who valued their seats as a respectable refuge, where they may spend their declining years at the expense of the country; (2) Those who valued them for social position and for the facility afforded of advancing their personal and business schemes; and (3) Those who gave freely of their time and long experience for the benefit of the country.

An elective Senate, said Mr. McLean, would result in the abolition of the first two classes.

Mr. McLean went on to say that Canada should be divided into Senatorial divisions, each division covering several Commons' electoral constituencies. The Senators should be elected for a period of seven or ten years.

The electoral qualifications, he thought, should differ somewhat from that pertaining to the Commons. Electors should have a small property qualification, and should be compelled to go to the poll and deposit a ballot.

Mr. McLean had also a proposal to make in regard to the veto power of the Upper House, and it was that any bill passed on three successive occasions by the Commons should become law, no matter what the Upper House might think about it.

In closing the discussion Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that Mr. Bennett would be greatly satisfied if he were to appoint nothing but Conservatives to the Upper House.

The speaker remarked that Mr. McLean's motion had one advantage over those which had preceded it, in plan of reform. He did not think, however, that a proposal for an elective system would meet with the approval either of the House or the country. Upper and Lower Canada had not found the elective system satisfactory.

In view of the experience of the Grand States, Sir Wilfrid did not think it would be wise to have the members of the Senate all elected by the Legislatures, but he said he was prepared to consider with the Opposition a plan whereby the Legislatures would be given the right to elect a proportion of the members of the second chamber. A reform of the Senate along these lines, he thought, would be more in keeping with our constitution than the plan proposed by the mover of the resolution.

Mr. McLean then withdrew his motion.

Arthur Meighen (Portage la Prairie) moved for a return including all documents and papers and information of every kind available touching the methods and operations of trusts and combines in the United States.

He expressed the view that if these matters were not checked they would become more powerful than Parliament.

Hon. Mackenzie King said that the Government had decided to appoint a special selector to assist complaining parties who seek to take action under the Combines Investigation Act. Much of the information was hard to get at. He had received word that the first order for an inquiry under the Combines' Act had been granted by Justice Cannon at Quebec for the investigation of the United Shoe Machine Co., an offshoot of the American company of the same name. The inquiry would be proceeded with at once.

IN EYE OF A STORM.

Ex-Premier Briand Was Assailed From Three Sides.

Paris, Feb. 28.—The French Cabinet organized by M. Briand on Nov. 3rd last, resigned yesterday afternoon.

The abdication of the Briand Ministry leaves the Socialists in power, at least temporarily. Louis Malvy and Paul Meunier, leaders of the radicals, were jubilant at the success of their campaign against the Premier. Aside from the political aspect of the situation, Briand's friends yesterday declared that there was a personal element in the surrender of the Premier. He has been the target not only of bitter oratorical attacks recently but within the last year two attempts have been made upon his life.

The Premier has been assailed from three sides: First and foremost, from the radical Socialists, who declared that Briand failed to carry out his radical pledges; secondly, from the wing antagonistic to the church, who charge him with failure in enforcing laws aimed at clerical organizations; and thirdly, from the labor element, who are angry at the harsh measures adopted by the Premier during the great railroad strike.

There is a great deal of speculation as to M. Briand's successor, five names being mentioned. Leading these is M. Poincarre, the others being M. Delcasse, M. Combes, M. Bertheux and M. Sarrien.

Powerful efforts are being exerted by President Fallieres to form a new ministry which will be able to unite the warring Republican factions as the chaotic conditions, which have existed for the past year, have given rise to much alarm.

The announcement of the Ministry's resignation was made yesterday, following the funeral of the late Gen. Lrum, Minister of War in the outgoing Cabinet. It had been decided on Saturday that the Ministry should quit, but action was postponed until yesterday afternoon.

It is not thought possible that many, if any at all, of the last Cabinet, will have places in the new one. Announcement of the personnel of the next Ministry is expected some time this week.

The crisis may be of some duration as President Fallieres will hold conferences with the presidents of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies, who are his remaining advisers in such situations as the present. Both these officials are believed to have favorites in view for the Premiership.

Passengers Escape Death.

Kingston, Feb. 28.—In a railway accident at inner diamond yesterday, 70 passengers had a miraculous escape. The Kingston & Pembroke express leaving the city at noon, was crossing the diamond, when a suburban train coming in from the junction over the Grand Trunk, ran into it. The engine crashed into the day coach of the Kingston & Pembroke train. The car turned over on its side and there was a panic, but luckily all the passengers were able to crawl out to safety. All were badly shaken up, some suffered scratches, but none were seriously injured.

The crew on the Kingston & Pembroke train claim the signal was up to give them right of way. One report says the brakes on the suburban train engine failed to work. The engineer and fireman jumped in time to save themselves. The passengers in the G.T.R. coaches were badly jolted, but none injured. Several women fainted.

A short time after this accident, the Kingston & Pembroke engine smashed into the rig of John Duggan, a farmer of Pittsburg, at a crossing nearby. Duggan escaped, but his horse was killed.

Eve Wears Pajamas.

Albany, N.Y., Feb. 28.—As a result of the efforts of Rev. J. A. McCusig, a well-known purist, who recently made a tour through Albany's underworld, valuable contributions in a local school have been "blown over" to conform with the rules of decorum and the mandates of the pulpit. When the owner of the pictures was informed by officers Saturday that his paintings must either be "draped or removed," he hired an artist and put him to work. The result was startling. "Diana at the Bath," said to have been valued at $10,000, is no longer shocking. Diana herself has been clad in a bathing suit of brilliant hue, while her attendants wear suits of rainbow varieties. The man in the painting appears in a convict garb, wears a silk hat and smokes a pipe.

Another valuable work, "The Awakening of Adam," has been done over so that Eve wears a suit of blue pajamas and Adam a pair of overalls. Both have on boxing gloves.

Garrison Mutinied.

Vienna, Feb. 28.—A news agency despatch from Constantinople reports that the Yildiz Kiosk garrison at the Turkish capital, mutinied yesterday when ordered to Yemen, Arabia, to crush the native revolt. The despatch added that the mutineers, reinforced by a battery of artillery, were besieged in the palace barracks by loyal troops and that a fight was expected at any time. Grave fears are felt that the mutiny will extend to the entire Turkish army.

$10,000 Fire at New Dublin.

Brockville, Feb. 28.—J. S. Rowson's large general store at New Dublin, caught fire yesterday afternoon, and, together with his residence and out-buildings, was totally destroyed, entailing a loss of $10,000, which is well covered by insurance. When the news reached Brockville, it was feared that the adjoining town hall could not be saved.

Citizens Are Happy.

Kingston, Feb. 28.—Pumping shore water was discontinued last night, repairs having been made to the valve in the intake pipe, the city getting good water again. The citizens are happy, as they do not take to boiled water.

Fishermen Are Safe.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 28.—The fishermen who went adrift on an ice floe recently in the Gulf of Finland, have reached Seiskar Island in safety.

SOME OATH.—If any form of oath is calculated to impress one, that which is prescribed to the State officials of Siam is likely to do so. Each official has to say: "May the blood flow from my veins, may the crocodiles devour me, may I be condemned to carry water to the flames of hell in vessels without bottoms. After death may I enter the body of a slave. May I suffer the harshest treatments during all time in years as numerous as the sands of all the seas. May I be reborn deaf, dumb and blind and afflicted with dire maladies. May I also be thrown into Narok—the lower regions—and tortured by Prea Yam, if I break this oath."

TOO MUCH WATERED STOCK

What are we to think now? Here is Rev. Henry Spencer Booth of the Centenary Methodist church at Morristown, Tenn., declaring that there is too much watered stock in Methodism. He declares that pastors and other officials pad statistics as to the number of conversions in order to make a fine showing in reports and to maintain their prestige. Mr. Booth declares that the church has gone daffy on organization and machinery and thus has largely crushed the very life out of what real religion we have had.—Belleville Ontario.

WELCOME FARMERS' CLUB.

Last Tuesday (Feb. 21) the Welcome Farmers' Club held their first regular meeting in the basement of the church, which was largely attended, eleven new members being enrolled.

After the transaction of the business, Mr. P. Pollard gave a good address on the subject, "Horses," explaining the points and the management of the animal.

Following the discussion on the subject, as well as other topics, the audience were delighted to listen to a song rendered by one of our members, Mr. Will Bickle.

Mr. D. E. Macrae acted as critic and his criticisms, though to the point, were given in such a pleasing manner that no offence could be taken.

The next meeting of the Club will be held in the same place on March 6th, at 8 o'clock sharp, when the subject of seeds, seed grains, and preparation of the soil, will be discussed.

All interested friends are cordially invited to attend.

Advertising as an Art.

There is a tailor in old Battleford, Sask., who is a bit of a wag and believes in advertising.

The main trails leading into the old town have his original advertisements stuck up whereon there's anything to nail them to. They all have some ridiculous caricature figure and a line or two. These are scattered along in detached pieces, a mile or so apart. For instance, the traveller will come across, perhaps ten miles out, the following:

"If you want to make your coat last. Get your pants first."

This will arouse his curiosity and he will watch for something similar and find—

"Pants is plural. If you don't wear 'em it's singular!"

Many others of the same style every mile or so until he gets close to town and then finds the key to all this jocularly—

"Smith sells pants. One dollar a leg—seats free!"

J. L. Thompson & Son's Midwinter Sale is on. Big reduction in boots, shoes and felt goods.

BAND TO-MORROW NIGHT.—The band will be in attendance at the rink to-morrow evening. The ice is in perfect condition and a large crowd should enjoy a skate as the season is nearing a close.
