FAMILY UNITE AFTER 20 YEARS

Mr. George Holdaway Had Eleven Children Together for First Time in Twenty Years

Uniting for the first time in over twenty years, eleven sons and daughters of Mr. George Holdaway gathered at the old homestead near Port Britain on Sunday. All the living members of the family, with two exceptions, had dinner under the parental roof on Sunday, and yesterday the entire group were present at their father's home and a group photograph taken. Those present included five daughters—Mrs. J. Wade, Newtonville; Mrs. C. Bebe, Port Britain; Mrs. Walkie, Newtonville; Mrs. James, Newcastle; Mrs. Anderson, Hope Tp.; six sons—Fred, E. M., and R. K., of Detroit; H. V., of Brandon, Man.; Harry, of Port Hope; Alf at home, and Mr. George Holdaway himself. The Guide joins in congratulating the family upon their joyous reunion.

MERRY TIME "AT HOME"

Mr. and Mrs. I. Walters Entertained in Honor of the Bride and Groom

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walter returned from their honeymoon on Monday evening just in time to take in the "At Home" given by Mr. and Mrs. I. Walters, in Mathewson's Assembly Room in honor of the young couple. About one hundred and twenty-five were present and enjoyed an evening which commenced with progressive euchre won by Mrs. J. H. Wilson and Mrs. Wm. Burley and Mrs. Frank Myers and Mrs. Wm. Groll. A beautiful parlor lamp was presented to the bride and groom and Mr. Wm. Trenouth read the address which was ably responded to by the groom. After the presentation everybody had a jolly time dancing and the merry night was brought to a close with refreshments.

NEGLECTED CEMETERY

Old Headstone Over Clergyman's Grave Stands Upside Down

Arrangements are under consideration for remedying conditions at the old "Methodist Burying Ground" in the fourth ward. This is Peterboro's oldest place of human interment, dating back before Peterboro was incorporated. While many years have passed since interment has been made there and most of the sad memorials of man's mortality have been moved to other cemeteries, beneath the tangled brush and weeds a few bodies remain. Over the grave of a clergyman, whose identity has been forgotten half a century, still stands a headstone upside down. Above the epitaph is carved the words, "Gone Home," with a hand pointing originally to the skies, but as noted this stone has been upside down for years.

Knew the Combination.—A daring robbery was perpetrated in Napanee some time between Saturday night and Monday morning when the grocery store of H. N. Chase on Dundas street was entered and $2,200 in cash taken from the safe. The thieves entered by the rear door and, presumably, knew the combination, for the safe was not damaged in any way.

NEWSY ITEMS FROM WELCOME

Missionary Work at Home And in the Orient Was Reviewed

The Welcome Young People's League held its regular meeting last Thursday evening. The Devotional topic on "The Marks of the Sacrificial Life" was very helpful and inspiring. At the business meeting the matter of having a skating party was talked over but no definite arrangements have been yet made. The Missionary vice president, Mrs. F. W. White, took the topic which was on Home Missions. It was in three parts; a short review of the Indian work given by Miss Elva Pearce, the Oriental work by Mrs. Woodger, and the Missions to Europeans in the West given by Miss Staples. It was a clear and appealing statement of what is being done and what there is to do in our Home Land. Even in this Canada of ours there is unlimited possibilities for Mission work. Plans were made to start a contest in the reading of Missionary Literature using our new Missionary Library. It will begin at the next meeting.

After the topic a pleasant half hour was spent playing games and doing stunts.

Personals

There was a very good representation of Welcome Leaguers to the Winter School held in Cobourg last week. Rev. F. W. White took a load last Friday. Mr. Fred McConnell and Clark White spent the week-end attending its sessions. Also Miss Hazel Bamsey, Miss Christie Staples and Miss Gertrude Lewis, spent Saturday at the Winter School. We are glad to report that Mrs. J. Walker who has been seriously indisposed has recovered. Mr. Perry White has been quite ill but is now recovering. Miss Mary White spent the week-end with her friend, Miss Vilda Osborne. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Osborne spent a few days of last week with relatives in Toronto. The monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. Wallace. It was largely attended and they had a very good meeting. Mrs. Lanchashire of Millbrook, has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. J. Walker. We are sorry to report that Mr. J. Jones is seriously ill.

INFORM CANADIAN PEOPLE

How Money is Being Expended in Maintaining War Graves

That Gen. Sir Fabian Ware, vice-chairman of the Imperial War Graves Commission, will visit Canada this year to give a series of lectures on the work the commission is doing, was stated there by Col. H. C. Osborne, of Ottawa, secretary-general of the commission, who arrived on the Canadian Pacific Steamship Montrose from Liverpool Monday. He explained that all countries in the British Empire were represented on the commission, and that the Canadian Parliament has since the war made large annual grants to defray Canada's share of the expenses. As a result it was felt that the time had now come when the Canadian people should be informed in detail as far as possible, how their money was being expended. These lectures will be profusely illustrated by lantern slides showing just what has been accomplished and what is being undertaken.

STONE LAKE SAILS UNDER U.S. FLAG, SAYS PICTURE

Photographic evidence that the steamer Stony Lake was captured by the United States, is afforded by a picture in an American magazine this month. And evidence is no lacking in the same publication of the use of the Trent Waterway by American steamers. In the photograph, taken last July, the Stars and Stripes has been painted on the stern of the Otonabee pleasure boat, and in a full page picture of the Lift Lock an American boat with two elongated funnels has been painted into one of the pontoons. Perhaps this accounts for the rumor that the Stony Lake has been sunk.—Peterboro Examiner. Domestic privacy gives the rest necessary to your active powers of judgment and discrimination. 192td

ONTARIOS 7; OSHAWA 6
Local Juniors Win First Game From Motor City Sextette

At last the locals struck their stride and won a game that ran into twenty minutes of overtime. Before a small crowd the locals displayed their warts with telling effect. The local sextette put up a snappy exhibition, everybody playing his position well. The team was badly handicapped without the services of Sneyd and A. Highfield on defence, but in Dawley and McCullough they found two able substitutes who played a strong game. The first period opened with Oshawa boring in on the local net, and after four minutes of play, Lowe scored for Oshawa. Six minutes later he came back and bulged the twine for the second counter. The locals rushed tirelessly throughout the period, but Bentley blocked their way and held the locals scoreless. The second period had just nicely gotten under way when Meeking took a pass from Hayden and tallied on a wicked shot from close in. Oshawa came back strong and scored their third goal of the game. A fast pace was kept up throughout the period with Vic Highfield stick-handling effectively. Dawley rushed up the ice several times only to have his shots stopped with the accuracy of a veteran. Finally Dawley made a solo rush and placed the rubber behind Bentley for the second goal. Both teams tried hard to increase their number, but no further scoring resulted. The locals stepped on the ice for the third period facing a score of 3-2 and made their final stand, which was a game one. The Oshawa lads opened up the scoring in the third period by counting the first one after four minutes of play. Highfield started the fireworks when he took a shot from outside the defence, the puck glancing off the mitt of one of the defence men and found a resting place in the corner of the net. The locals scented the victory and kept pecking away at the Oshawa citadel. "Dave" Dawley scored the next goal after a bit of nice stick-handling. Walker changed things somewhat when he tricked the local defence, drew Wade out and placed the rubber in the net. "Dave" came back strong and with fifteen seconds to go scored the tying goal on a pass from Vic Highfield. At the same time Bentley got hit with the puck and had to retire in favor of Goodal. After intermission the game started into overtime with both teams working hard. They set a dizzy pace throughout the first ten minutes overtime, but by good goaltending no score resulted. The next ten minutes of overtime showed the break in the game, and Rowden rushed in and batted in a rebound, putting his team ahead. Fitzsimmons two minutes later added another. Wade got hit with the puck and retired for a few minutes, but he came back and finished out the game, playing his best game of the season on local ice. In the last five minutes the locals played a strong defensive game, breaking up rush after rush. The wing man for Oshawa finally found the net for their last tally.

The game ended with the locals playing a defensive game and shooting the puck the length of the ice. Every man on the local team deserves credit for playing the game and staying on the ice. They fought all the way and earned a hard battle. The locals improve every game, and by next winter we should have a Junior team that will go far in O.H.A. hockey. The game was clean throughout, few penalties being handed out. "Dave" Dawley led the scoring for the locals. Lowe of Oshawa led his team in this respect with two goals.

ROBERT RANKIN BURIED HERE

Former Port Hoper Died Suddenly in Toronto on Saturday

Mr. Robert Rankin, for many years a captain on the Great Lakes, in which capacity he commanded the respect and admiration of a large number of the inland marine fraternity, died suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Gibbon, 451 Gladstone Avenue, Toronto, on Saturday last. He had been ailing since last summer, but was not thought to be seriously ill. A service was held at 451 Gladstone Avenue, Toronto, on Monday at 4 p.m., at which Rev. Mr. Brogg officiated, and the body was brought here on the 5.20 train and taken to the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. F. J. Sneyd, from where the funeral took place this afternoon. Rev. Dr. Rigby conducted the funeral service here. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers: Mayor T. B. Chalk, Ex-Mayor Geo. A. Smith, Messrs. R. J. Edmunds, J. Honey, Chas. Ough and W. F. Walker. The floral tributes were both beautiful and numerous. Deceased was born in Port Hope seventy-three years ago and lived here up till twelve years ago when he moved to Toronto. The late Mr. Rankin was an Anglican in religion; he was a member of the Woodmen of the World, and in politics a staunch Conservative. He was an ardent fisherman and a lover of sport. He leaves to mourn his loss, his widow, seven daughters and one son. Chief Magistrate William Rankin, of Napanee, is a brother.

Bowmanville 8; Oshawa 5
In an O.H.A. Intermediate fixture in Bowmanville last night, Bowmanville defeated Oshawa 8 to 5. Houck and Rowden did well for the visitors, while I. Piper, Avery and Densen were the home team's best.

Bowmanville—Goal, Martin; defence, A. Piper and Densen; centre, Avery; wings, Moise and I. Piper; sub, Crossley.
Referee—Glen Smith.

Belleville Lose to Brockville Again

Belleville's hope to make a conquest of the group went aglimmering last night when for the second time this season they were defeated on their ice by the Brockville sextette. The score was 6 to 5, with the periods ending 2-2, 3-4. No faster game has been played in Belleville for a long time, and the speed was maintained throughout. Back-checking was strenuous and hard. The teams were offered small opportunities to use any combination. Munro, of the visitors, although only credited with one goal, gave a finished exhibition of stick-handling and skating. Whalen for the home-sters played well and scored three of the goals. Brockville—Goal, Murray; defence, Holway and Saunders; centre, Munro; wings, Guest and Higgins; subs, Christopher and Kerwin.
Belleville—Goal, Nurse; defence, Green and Finkle; centre, Hagerman; wings, Whalen and Weir; subs, Frechette and Armstrong.
Referee—Harold Mitchell.

The poor support given the Juniors evening practically means the finish of Junior hockey in this section this year. The boys will close the season with a $30 deficit, but a dance early next Fall will straighten things out.

Lon Marsh of Toronto will handle the Trenton-Port Hope game here to-morrow. Be there early if you want to get a look-in.

SOCIETY ELECT 1925 DIRECTORS

Agricultural Society Held Annual Meeting Yesterday

The Port Hope Agricultural Society met in the Town Hall yesterday afternoon with a fair attendance.

President E. A. Rosevear was in the chair, and made a few preliminary remarks. He was very glad, above all, to see the Society making financial headway, and thought congratulations were in order on their very successful year.

The minutes of last year's annual meeting and the Treasurer's financial statement were read and confirmed.

Mr. R. L. Holdsworth spoke, commending the Society on their year's successes and complimented Secretary-Treasurer Caldwell on his comprehensive report. In his opinion, horse races should be abolished from the local fair, and he thought it would be a step in the right direction if the Board saw fit to leave them from their list of attractions this year.

Mr. William Carruthers thought that many of the classes of poultry shown at the fair were of no special interest, and should be cut out. A revision of the poultry prize list should mean a considerable saving for the Society, he said.

Mr. George Caldwell spoke regarding both races and poultry. He agreed that too much money was being spent in the poultry section, but thought it would be impossible to have a fair without horse races.

Mr. George Holdsworth thought his associates were specializing on economy in special classes. He recommended general revision of the lists in all classes. The addition of a team drawing contest should be of considerable interest he thought if added to list of special attractions.

Mr. Fred Ough also urged general economy, and suggested that the incoming board use every precaution to put the Fair on a paying basis.

A resolution eliminating stallion and spring-bull shows this year was carried.

Upon motion, it was decided that the Society enter the combined crop and field crop competitions this year. The type of crop was left to the discretion of the Board.

A resolution was introduced and ratified as to the employment of departmental judges.

Instructions were issued to the Secretary to forward the $2.00 affiliation fee to the Ontario Fairs and Exhibitions Association.

On motion of Fred Ough, S. R. Caldwell was appointed as delegate to the local board to attend the Central Fairs and Exhibitions Convention at Belleville on January 28. George Holdsworth, or J. Bosnell as an alternative in case Mr. Holdsworth cannot attend, will represent the Society at the Ontario Fairs and Exhibitions convention in Toronto on February 4th and 5th.

Provincial Treasurer Takes Drastic Action to Prevent Fires From German-Made Toys

Illegal sale of second-hand inflammable moving picture film for use in cheap, German-made toy projectors, has led the Motion Picture Bureau of the Ontario Government, under Provincial Treasurer W. H. ous wholesale and retail toy merchants in the city. In making the announcement Price commented upon the grave danger of using such film upon cheap projecting machines, not equipped with fire protective devices, and he read from the report of one of his inspectors a statement that the inspector could not understand how serious fires in homes have not occurred.

The toy projectors have been imported in to Canada and the United States in large numbers, and sell here at from $1.50 to $2. To stimulate their sale a few feet of German made film was often sold with the machine.

An unforgettable story plus flawless acting and admirable direction combine to make "Sinners in Heaven" one of the highlights among the season's current films. An honest man's word

More than three hundred years ago, Miguel de Cervantes said: "An honest man's word is as good as his bond." Advertisers must be honest men, if they would remain advertisers. Their announcements are signed. They must tell the truth in their advertising. For their own protection, as well as yours.

What would it profit a man to advertise "Pure, virgin-wool suits," only to have you discover they were shoddy? You would soon separate the sheep from the cotton. And you would never deal with that man again. And, further, you would tell all your acquaintances what a skinflint he was.

As a matter of business, if not of personal principle, an advertiser must tell the truth in his signed announcements. That's what makes the advertising columns of this paper such reliable guides to honest merchandise. The printed announcements are bonds between you and the advertiser.

Read the advertisements. Read them regularly. To be informed on the newest and best in everything. To save hours of shopping. To make the family purse do a bigger, better job. To get goods of known quality at the most attractive price.

You would not plan a motor trip without first consulting road-maps and guide-books. Is it logical to plan a shopping trip without first consulting the advertisements? Read the advertisements. Then go to the stores with your mind more than half made up.

A signed advertisement is, in effect, a sealed bond between you and the advertiser. Read those in The Guide.

the appearance of the eclipsed sun itself, now completely covered by the moon. For the next minute and 12 seconds you will be able to examine the famed corona at comparative leisure; the moon is encircled by a strong, pearly halo, the streamers of which sometimes shoot out from its circumference for a distance of several diameters.

"So you've never seen me before? Then have a good look; I don't mind," and Mrs. Ruffed Grouse turned all around so Dotty could see her.

9.08 a.m.—A crescent-shaped streak of sun will appear on the opposite side of the moon to that from which it disappeared. The total eclipse is over, not to return to Ontario again until A.D. 2144.

"Colonel Dent!" And in another moment Ernest Dent was standing before her, holding both her hands, gazing into her eyes. He spoke no word, but that impassioned gaze was eloquent! She, too, was still and silent; she felt her strength all going; he seemed to have the spell to wile it from her; no other man on earth possessed this power over her.

Professor Chant Describes Awe Inspiring Spectacle

Professor Chant, eminent astronomer and mathematician, has given a full outline of Saturday's eclipse. Set your watches accurately, and observe this awe-inspiring sight Saturday morning according to the program given below:

7.59 a.m.—The moon will start to pass across the face of the sun. To the onlooker it will appear as though some huge mouth had started nibbling at the solar orb, leaving a crescent-shaped hole as it eats its way toward the centre.

8.57 a.m.—The sky is still clear, but there are ominous signs of what appears to be an approaching storm. All that remains of the sun is a crescent so thin that one might be excused for thinking a puff of wind would blow it away. Daylight begins to fall. And then come the famous "shadow bands." Queer band-shaped shadows move over the side of buildings.

9.06 a.m.—Now is the time to watch for the shadow. Far out to the west the horizon disappears, to be replaced by a line between twilight and daylight, rushing toward you at the terrific speed of 4,200 miles an hour. The sun seems to break up into a series of bright beads—Baily's head—as they are called after the astronomer who first observed them.

9.07 a.m.—All else forgotten in

PULPWOOD EMBARGO

Reams of paper have been used up in setting forward the arguments for and against a pulpwood embargo. A parapet commission last year went gallivanting all over the country at the expense of the taxpayers to collect more evidence on the question—evidence that did not need a commission, since it was already on file at Ottawa. In Parliament and on the platform the embargo has been discussed and debated.

Yet in face of all this weight of argument it is now proposed to throw the question once more into the Quebec Legislature for more speeches, more arguments and more wasted hours. The solution of the whole question is simple and obvious. The Commission was a farce save so far as its bill of expense was concerned. The remedy for the export of our raw material to the United States, there to be "worked" in American mills by American labor into paper for aliens' profits; is to prohibit such exports or restrain them by export duty. Quebec has acknowledged the soundness of this doctrine by placing an embargo on the export of all pulpwood cut on Crown lands. This has been the practice in this province for the last thirteen years, and it covers by far the larger percentage of the pulpwood area.

So far as the settler is concerned, it would not be a difficult matter to see that he suffered no hardship. The paper companies in this province might be compelled to purchase the raw material cut in this province at a price to be fixed by the Government and in accordance with the ruling market price, with special compensation for abnormal conditions of logging.

We believe the paper companies would see the patriotism of such a provision.

"Clap on the embargo and stop wasting money on wandering commissions and hours of futile talk" should be the policy of Provincial and Federal Governments. — Montreal Daily Star.

THE GUIDE STORY

"Hey! what's the matter now? What's put you out, Fanny?" exclaimed Marcus, suddenly waking up. "Has the sponge cake burned? Has the custard curdled? Have last year's preserves fermented, or what?"

By this time Fanny's cheek was flushed to crimson, and her eyes were flashing fire, as, with a proud and scornful air, she drew a ring from her finger, and holding it out toward him, said:

"Only this, Mr. Derby. About a year ago you did me the honor of placing this little ring upon my finger, raving at the same time about eternal love and truth. You promised more than you could perform. Take back your ring and the ring upon the ground, and I will re-enter the house. You are guilty of a breach of marriage!" shouted Marcus after she had picked up the ring; "fetch me another!"

With all his foibles, Marcus was conscientious. He had been following a blind impulse all this time. He was brought up all standing by this short interview with Fanny. He followed her into the house, but she had taken shelter in Aunt Huldah's room. He scratched his head, and thumped his forehead; he "shaved" and grumbled, and finally saddled his horse and rode off to the post-office, a frequent resort of Marcus in times of trouble or of ennui. He did not return that morning.

The family sat down to dinner. Miss Huldah was grave; Fanny indignant; Juliette seemed the only cheerful, easy and self-possessed member of the party. But was Juliette really cheerful? She might have been, for any compunction that she now felt for her perfidy, either to Hester or to Fanny. But Miss Summers had grave causes of anxiety. She had been advised by Mr. Jenkins that Hester Dent's deed of gift of ten thousand dollars to her was null and void; the last eagle was changed in her purse; her wardrobe, her magazine of artillery, sadly in want of replenishment; the days of her visit dwindling to the shortest span; and no arrangement made for her future; her utter abhorrence of being a governess; her tormenting doubts of her lover's constancy; her fears lest, while removed from her spell, he should be attracted by some beauty in Washington, who should finally supplant her in his heart; these drove sleep from her pillow at night, and peace from her mind by day. And her sentiment for Ernest Dent, that had been a queer mixture of superficial admiration, of vanity and ambition, was now, by the pressure of uncertainty, anxiety and fear, deepening into a passion; a selfish and calculating passion; it is true; for she regarded Colonel Dent as the only being able and willing to raise her to the rank to which she aspired, invest her with the wealth that she coveted, and supply her with the elegancies, luxuries and attendance that habit had rendered indispensable to her

"I'm so sorry," said Dotty softly. "I don't know who you are, but I'm a friend of Happy Giggles, and—" "Good gracious me!" and the bird straightened up in a jiffy. "Come babies," she called. "That's different. I thought you were a hunter searching for me and my family, I'm Mrs. Ruffed Grouse. DISCUSS MOVING POLICE OFFICE

Many Appointments Made by Council Last Evening

Port Hope's new Council got definitely down to business last night, and conducted their affairs in a very efficient manner. Opening on the 6th of seven-thirty, they presented their resolutions and reports with despatch and order, adjournment being made at five minutes past eight, with more work done than previous councils did in an hour.

Councillor L. H. Giddy was the only absentee. After the adoption of the minutes, a communication was read from Mr. W. P. Manson applying for the position of auditor for 1925. His application was filed for consideration.

A bylaw extending the lease of the Bush English China Co. until December 31st, 1925. The resolution reads as follows:

Moved by Reeve Holdaway, seconded by Councillor Brimstin, that whereas under and by virtue of bylaw 1277, The Bush English China Company Limited, under certain conditions and stipulations contained in the said bylaw and in a certain lease between the Board of Harbour Commissioners and the said Company, were to receive the benefit of a fixed assessment on the premises of the said Company, if, as, and when, lawfully occupied by it.

And whereas one of the conditions referred to in the said bylaw and the STONE—in loving memory of our dear mother, Eliza Stone, who departed this life January 20th, 1924.

Deep in my heart lies a picture Of a mother gone to rest; In memory's frame I will keep it

Because she was one of the best, Peacefully sleeping, resting at last, The world's weary troubles and trials are past.

Quick and sudden was the parting, Taken home with just a sigh; We could not think her life was ended,

For she never said good-bye, Loving and kind in all her ways, Upright and just to the end of her days.

Sincere and true in heart and mind, A beautiful memory left behind.

Ever remembered by Husband and Family.

Now therefore be it resolved that in so far as this Council may legally bind itself and without in any other way, prejudicing or affecting the position of the Town, or this Council under the said bylaw, the said Company shall have a further time until the thirty-first day of December, 1925, in which to comply with conditions above referred to. Carried.

A summary of the resolutions regarding the appointments made by the Council and carried is as follows:

Moved by Nelson Reynolds, seconded by E. B. Lingard, that W. J. Fielding, Dr. Zealand and George Thorne, be and they are hereby appointed members of the local Board of Health, for the current year.

Moved by H. H. Holdaway, seconded by Councillor Brimstin, that an order be drawn on the Treasurer in favour of Bumbacco Bro's for the sum of seven hundred and thirty seven 00-100 dollars, being balance in full (save and except the Pine street sewer) for the Ridout, Walton and Mill streets sewers, as per agreement.

The Police Committee made a fine debut, with a long detailed report. They had met with the two police and talked matters over. A system by which the duties of the Chief and Night Constable might not overlap was considered. They also recommended the removal of police headquarters from its present location to the Town Hall, the present office being entirely unsuitable.

In a long, dark passage, crowded full of fire equipment, it was practically impossible to ventilate or heat the present office. Artificial light had to be used at all times, and absolutely none of the common conveniences had been installed. For these reasons they urged its removal and brought in a resolution to that effect.

Councillor Brimstin said that it was not the intention of the committee to rush the matter through, but thought that it should be given earnest consideration.

Reeve Holdaway objected to the removal on the grounds that if quarters were taken in the Town Hall, the Police would be too far from the business section.

Councillor Lingard also thought the idea unfeasible, as the Police, if situated away from the main street, would be practically unable to control motor traffic.

It was suggested too, that as new fire equipment might be purchased in the near future that this hall might be cleared and an office built right at the front of the passage way. This idea met with approval.

Councillor Mitchell, although fully in favor with making a change from the present office, urged that no action be taken until a more suitable time.

Reeve Holdaway suggested some temporary changes which might help the situation for the time being.

On the strength of these objections, the committee withdrew their resolution.

Recommendation was also made in their report, that with the co-operation of the Hydro and the Bell Telephone Company a system of warnings for the Police might be devised. When a phone call was put through to the Police Station and no reply received, they suggested that Central call the Hydro and ask them to flash the lights as a warning to the policeman that his services were required. The matter will be taken up with the local Hydro management.

No other business being before the board adjournment was made until Monday evening, February 2nd.

Without frugality none can be rich, and with it very few would be poor.
