SAM CLARKE LAID TO REST AT COBOURG

Many of Prominence Pay Last
Respects to Former M.P.P.

Many letters and telegrams of sympathy from all parts of the province have been received by the widow and family of the late Sam Clarke, ex-M.P.P.

These messages came largely from warm friends and political associates. Flowers were sent by Premier Howard Ferguson, members of the cabinet, members of the Ontario legislature and many friends.

At a meeting of the town council on Monday night a resolution of sympathy with Mrs. Clarke and family was passed, and it was decided that Mayor W. E. Cooper and members of council should attend the funeral in a body. Mr. Clarke was for nine years a member of the town council and for four years mayor of Cobourg, entering municipal life when he was about twenty-five years of age.

Merchants and citizens turned out in large numbers to honor him, for Mr. Clarke was for many years a leading merchant of Cobourg. When only twenty years of age with a capital of $400 which he had saved while receiving a meagre salary as a clerk, and with $1,800 advanced by a relative, Mr. Clarke opened a dry goods business here fifty-five years ago and this proved to be very successful.

Deciding at the age of fourteen years not to follow the trade of his father, the late Thomas Clarke, who was a blacksmith at Hampton, Durham county, Mr. Clarke obtained the position of clerk in a store at Tyrone, five miles from his home. He used to tell the story himself of working hard there for a year for a salary of $55 and his board. For his second year's work he received $125 and felt that he was getting on. It was after that when a youth of eighteen that he came to Cobourg and clerked for two years in the store of Field and Bros.

Friends of All
It was fitting that messages and flowers should come from parliamentarians, cabinet and premier, for while always an ardent supporter of the principles of Liberalism, Mr. Clarke had no quarrel with those who did not see eye to eye with him. He was broadminded, liberal in his social as well as his political leanings, and had very many friends among the Conservatives in the House. During his twenty-nine years of service he had sat under such Liberal leaders as Hon. A. S. Hardy, Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Hon. G. R. Graham, Hon. N. W. Rowell, Hon. W. E. N. Sinclair and others. For the last fifteen years of his parliamentary career he was the desk-mate of the Liberal leader.

Among those present at his funeral were representatives of the men who were his political opponents in his seven successful contests in West Northumberland in the provincial legislature. When Sam Clarke at the age of 45 was nominated in 1898 by the Liberals of West Northumberland he was opposed by John Mulholland, an uncle of the late Senator Mulholland. Mr. Clarke was wont to describe this adventure into the political unknown as a real fight. In 1902 he again contested the riding with the late George Spence, and in subsequent contests his opponents have been George Greer, county road superintendent at the present time in Northumberland and Durham; Major Hugh McCullough, registrar at the West Northumberland registry office; Frank M. Field, K. C., and in 1914, 1919 and 1923 Col. F. D. Boggs, K. C.

Never Drew Line
Referring to his political life Mr. Clarke, some months ago, made this statement: "I never in my career drew the line between Conservative and Liberal, Catholic or non-Catholic, rich or poor, in choosing my friends. When I left the House last year I counted Premier Ferguson, Attorney-General Price, Speaker J. Thompson and other members of the Conservative government among my best friends.

"I never played the saint," he said at one time, regarding his religious convictions, "I was always just Sam Clarke."
It was not always known how

OSHAWA PLAYS HERE TOMORROW

Important Fixture to be Played
On Home Lot Saturday
Afternoon

Oshawa intermediates will clash with the Port Hope Ontarios in a scheduled Oshawa District Intermediate Baseball tilt at the Town Park Saturday afternoon, commencing at 3.15. To stay in the running the locals must clinch this fixture and a capacity crowd should be on hand.

The game is listed in the schedule as Oshawa's home engagement but owing to lack of support in the Motor City, the western team plays their home games here.

Owing to the non-arrival of the Oshawa team for the last game here several patrons did not obtain a refund of their admission fee and those who did not may obtain admission tomorrow on application to the ticket seller.

All intermediates players are asked to be on hand early tomorrow afternoon as a strong line up needs to be selected for this important tilt.

Often Sam Clarke's hand was stretched out to help the poor, and many a kindly deed was done by him as he fulfilled the Scriptural injunction: "Let not your left hand know what your right hand doeth."

Every Man His Brother
Mr. Clarke never joined any fraternal organization, but the spirit of his comradeship with men was brotherly, and he was not lax in giving a helping hand or a word of kindly advice.

Such was the spirit of the man whose remains were reverently borne Wednesday from the home of his brother-in-law, John T. Field, to their resting place in the Cobourg Union cemetery.

The people of Ontario generally know Sam Clarke as the keen parliamentary debater, the fearless exponent of those measures and principles which he felt in duty bound to support, the apt coiner of phrases, the man of sound reasoning and keen business perception, but there are many in Cobourg and in Northumberland county who knew him best as a fellow citizen and friend interested in their welfare.

Those who mourn him in the more intimate family circle are his widow, three sons, Percy, Victor and Stuart, two daughters, Miss Olive Clarke and Mrs. Gray, his step-son, F. P. Hall, K. C., two sisters, Mrs. Trull of Bowmanville and Mrs. Geo. Archer of Sault Ste. Marie and a brother, Thomas Clarke residing in the north west.

The funeral of the late Sam Clarke, ex-M.P.P., took place at Cobourg on Wednesday afternoon and was very largely attended by friends and personal admirers from all parts of this district and from more distant points. Hundreds of autos were in the cortege as it passed through the streets. Mayor W. E. Cooper and members of the Town Council attended in a body, and present were citizens of town and country of all ranks. Among those there were: Hon. W. E. N. Sinclair, Oshawa; Hon. Nelson, Parliament; Hon. G. N. Gordon, Judge E. C. S. Huycke, Peterboro; Senator Laird of Saskatchewan; Mr. Mageau and Mr. Marshall Toronto.

Rev. W. R. Tanton conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Dr. T. Stannage Boyle, D. D. Cobourg and Rev. Father Ferguson, Warkworth. Among the many beautiful floral tributes were: wreaths from the Liberal members of the Legislature and the Ontario Liberal party, the Prime Minister, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, and his followers at Ottawa, the Liberal Association of Northumberland County, Premier G. Howard Ferguson, Mayor W. E. Fraser and Mrs. Fraser, Trenton; Judge L. V. O'Connor of the County Court of Northumberland and Durham, the staff of the Province of Ontario Bank and personal friends in Cobourg and locality and throughout the Province and from the family.

The pallbearers were: J. D. Hayden, Harry Field, Cobourg; Alexander West, Gore's Landing; W. J. Maher, Edwin Guillet, F. D. Boggs, K. C., Cobourg; W. E. N. Sinclair, Oshawa; James Thompson, Coldsprings.

There will be a band concert on Sunday evening, weather permitting.

LITTLE LIGHT ON MYSTERY

Race Course Losses May be Indicated in Vern Mills' Death

Mystery still surrounds the death of Vernon Mills, Lindsay man whose body was found in Cedar Creek near Port Perry early Wednesday morning. Several theories have been presented to account for the manner of death but none has as yet been found to tally directly with the conditions surrounding the finding of the body.

Crown Attorney J. A. McGibbon, Coroner J. A. Mathers, Port Perry, and Provincial Officer Thomas Mitchell have been unable to establish whether the dead man met his end by murder, suicide or accident.

Theory of Telegrams

While it has not been definitely established that the deceased had suffered monetary loss from race course betting, Provincial Officer Thomas Mitchell stated that telegrams found in his pocket, in code, are believed to have connection with losses of such a nature.

The fact that a sedan was found wrecked near the place threw no new light on the mystery, despite the fact that it was claimed to belong to Mills. Contents of the dead man's stomach have been sent to the Provincial Analysis Bureau in the hope that further light may be reached bearing on the crime, if it was such.

No marks to indicate foul play, have been found on the body the former report of a fractured skull being exploded when the coroner stated that leeches in the creek had made the marks on the head.

Frequent Visits to Lindsay

The tragic death of Vernon Mills has shocked Lindsay citizens, and the mystery surrounding the affair is the topic of conversation. Mills had been visiting Lindsay quite frequently of late, and had endeavored to meet his obligations.

It is said that his wife had some what of a premonition that something was happening. Wednesday morning when Mrs. H. Ingram, a sister of Mills living in Lindsay, phoned Mrs. Mills at Oshawa, she had not heard of the death but remarked that she was worried about her husband, who had not returned, something he had never done before.

Mills visited his father's home on Fair Avenue Tuesday night after midnight and was seen by his sister Helen, who was sitting in a car outside.

TODAY FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH

Occurs But Three Times in 1928
—One Must Watch One's Step

The supposedly unlucky day, Friday the Thirteenth, occurs today and for the last time in 1928. Friday also fell on the thirteenth in the months of January and April.

Today is the day when even black cats are not certain of one or all of the nine lives popularly attributed to the feline species. It is the day when to walk under an upraised ladder is to invite sudden and certain trouble, for tradition and superstition points that way. We motorists may find the old bus ailing from sundry mysterious complaints and brand new tires possibly will be found flat, even if only at the bottom just because anything may happen today. Those who would tighten the knot that no man may put asunder are said to be inviting disaster if they would walk up a church aisle during these twenty-four hours and those who claim this as their natal day are to be plied beyond measure—just because. There are many things usually done in the ordinary course of the day's routine that will be deliberately avoided today—simply because it happens to be Friday the Thirteenth.

Local Juveniles Win Prize at Peterboro Orange Walk

Port Hope Lodge No. 2 Proved Best Dressed
Juvenile Lodge and Best Marching Lodge—
Other Orange Walks Held.

Port Hope Juvenile Lodge No. 2, captured the cup at the monster Orange walk in Peterboro Thursday afternoon when fifty-one lodges and three thousand Loyal Sons of King William fittingly celebrated the 238th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne. The local Lodges presented a natty appearance and the Juveniles proved to be the best dressed Juvenile Lodge and best marching Lodge. The Port Hope Citizen's Band accompanied the local Orangemen and their renditions of popular airs made a hit with the crowd.

Orangemen were present from the Counties of Durham, Northumberland, Victoria, Haliburton and Peterboro.

From early morning to late at night the sound of the fife and drum was heard on the streets. The grand parade which included 51 lodges, took one hour to pass a given point. In the early morning a memorial service before the Cenotaph was held and in the afternoon there was a program of vaudeville, sports and speeches at Exhibition Park. Grand Master E. F. Reid of the Orange Lodges of Ontario East acted as marshal of the parade.

The lodges all lined up in Central Park behind the markers on which were the names of their counties, Victoria, Northumberland, Durham and Peterboro. These lined up in this order, starting from the south side of Confederation Park to the north and retained the same order. Victoria leading through the parade. Starting off with the resident band The Peterboro Rangers and followed by five cars and containing the judges and officials, the lodges fell in behind and went west to Murray st. to Aylmer then north to McDonald st. east to George and down George to Exhibition Park where they marched around the track past the judges stand where the parade broke up.

The number of lodges present representing approximately five thousand and people made a parade of such length that it took an hour and a half in passing.

The streets were crowded to their utmost capacity, people crowding to the edge of the parade in the middle of the street.

The Kilties Band accompanying the Cobourg lodges thirty-six strong attracted much attention in their attire.

COMING EVENTS

DON'T MISS THE GARDEN Party at Mrs. McMillan's, Bedford street, on Tuesday afternoon, July 17th. It will be the best yet. You will get nice things to eat at the talent table, toothsome dainties. You will be able to keep cool at the ice cream booth. There will be a choice of quilts for the coming winter. Odds and ends at the white elephant table too numerous to mention. The children will enjoy fishing for the mysterious parcel out of the fish pond. The menu for the supper—Dressed fillet of veal, baked ham, potato salad a la Presbyterian, sliced tomato, tea biscuits, brown and white bread, date bread, cake, ice cream and tea, 35c. Come and enjoy your supper on the lawn. Supper served from 5 to 7 p.m.

WESLEYVILLE ARE HAVING their Strawberry Social, on July 17th, instead of July 18. A baseball game will be held in the evening. A good program expected.

L. O. L. 309 WILL MEET AT 8 P.M. on Monday, July 16, in their lodge rooms. Important business.

THE ORANGE ORDER

The fifes and drums now make a joyous sound.
He eat holds no terrors for the Orange host,
Each trooper of King Billy at his post.

Over the city streets, they do their round,
Repeating, as their white horse shakes the ground,
Anthems of Aughrim, Londonderry's boast
Not to surrender what they value most,
God's open Bible and the truths there found,
Empire and King, one single speech for all.

One flag to lead their flags of many hues,
Resplendent banners which men of mighty thews
Display, in their bright summer festival.

Except you're morose, you must, with heart elate,
Rejoice in all the color of this fete.

Attractive uniforms as well as their playing of merit.

The age of the Durham County Regimental Band that accompanied the well dressed Pontypool Lodge caused much comment from those watching the parade. They were all young fellows dressed in the regular khaki, which gave them a sterner appearance in spite of their age over their gay dressed bandsmen who represented the other visiting lodges.

Many Lodges

The lodges represented in the walk were: Victoria County, Victoria Ladies 41, Emily 294, Omeme 114, Omeme 113, Reabro 820, who represented North Emily, Omeme, Dunsford, Baltimore, Cobourg No. 183, Cobourg 127, Roseneath, Millbrook, Coldsprings, Cayon, Frazierville, Carmel, Baillieboro, Port Hope Juveniles, Port Hope 309, Divernaugh 75, Bewdley, Garden Hill, Purple Hill of Elizabethtown, which was the only lodge on parade in which the women were not in white but wore orange dresses and orange and blue hats, which made them quite distinctive in their attractive uniform, Janetville, Pontypool, Lotus 79, Bethany, Keene Juveniles, Keene Ladies, Campbellford, Wellington, Nassau, Downer's Corners, N. Monaghan, Bobcaygeon, Lakefield, Juveniles, Bensford Lodge of Lakefield, Wesley, Peterboro County Juveniles, Vimy Ridge Lodge, Peterboro; Eastern Star of Peterboro, Star of Bethlehem, Peterboro, Duke of Manchester, Peterboro, Lindsay.

THE GUIDE STORY

"Not so! not so! Love has pierced my heart as deeply as he has pierced yours!"

Louis laid down his violin, the murmur of praises was in his ear, when the door opened and the pretty page said aloud:

"Viscount Dacre!"
Forthwith that fine type of a young Englishman entered the luxurious boudoir, with its Russian tea, its Sevres cups, its turquois hangings, its pretty toilets of women.

Viscount Dacre looked a little out of his element. He would have showed to more advantage on one of the fine mounts from the stables at home, taking a flying leap in some hunting county, or else shouldering his gun amid the ruddy autumn foliage in the Glendinning woods.

Louis Brutone stared blankly at this handsome youth. Louis had prayed that he might never see that young man's face again. The last time he had looked on it he had stood in the rainy street, and the flaring light of a gas-lamp had fallen full upon those clearly cut features, the eyes full of pained surprise, the shadow of deep thought clouding the wide brow. His mask had fallen off while Lord Dacre was looking through the open window of his hired carriage. Brutone his own face unmasked, had stood close to him, and had taken note of every line of his countenance.

And Louis Brutone had vowed to slay this man, if ever he met him.

"Better for me the deep Seine and the cold morgue!" was his thought.

CHAPTER X
There was a mixture of Spanish and Celtic blood in Brutone's veins. By nature Louis was fiery, impetuous, impatient of wrong.

Yet we find this passionate young man exercising the strongest self-control.

Doubtless this was due to a long, severe course of discipline in childhood and early youth.

Louis had never known a father's care or a mother's love; the companionship of brother, sister, or friend. Tyrants had ruled him in his childhood.

The benevolence of a stranger had rescued him from bondage, enabled him to cultivate his mind and his genius for music. Thus he had early learned to subdue the manifestations of his emotions, to bear a calm front if his heart were breaking, his Celtic blood boiling, his whole soul in revolt against some crying injustice.

Fortunately he had finished the morceau that he had been invited to play. He had only to sit down now and receive with a grave smile the praises and congratulations of the ladies; the complimentary "By Joves!" and so on, of the Englishmen.

He who had just entered had not heard the young musician perform, and he soon said frankly that he hoped Monsieur Brutone would play something else presently.

Brutone smiled gravely, and answered that he would be happy to do so.

"And you speak English like an Englishman, monsieur," said Lord Dacre, who had bowed generally to all the ladies, but had not as yet looked at either of them.

Robert had hitherto almost prided himself on not being a ladies' man.

"SALADA" TEA
ORANGE PEKOE BLEND

No one dreamed 50 years ago that such a fragrant beverage as "SALADA" Orange Pekoe could be produced—pure as science can make it—fresh, superb in flavour—43c per half-pound—and all black tea. A treat indeed for tea lovers.

He had not come to Madame St. Cecile's, expecting to find his mother there, but to bring the vivacious hostess a curious book which she was desirous to see, and which he had promised to borrow for her if possible.

Robert was good nature itself. "You speak English like an Englishman," he repeated. "I wish that I spoke French as well."

"I am half English; my father was Welsh."

"Welsh! I am a Welshman—a Cardiganshire man; my father is the Earl of Glendinning. Shake hands." Shake hands! Was there not once a miscreant called Judas Iscariot, whose name has come down to us through the centuries, stained with the ugliest stain that can pollute the memory of a human being?

Louis Brutone was asked to give his right hand to this man in friendship—or, at least, fellowship—and that right hand had already dedicated itself to take the other's life. Still, it was part of the whole scheme to be secret, to make no sign.

With a shudder, then, he touched the white, firm hand.

Lord Robert put down his nervous manner to the "oddity" of a "genius." He saw that he was reserved, sad, self-contained.

"I am desperately fond of music," said Robert, presently. "Will you give us something else?"

"What would you like?" asked Louis.

"Do you compose?"

Louis bowed his head.

"You do? Then something of your own."

BRITISH FIRMS SHOW AT C. N. E.

Increase of 50 Per Cent in British Section—Heads of Firms Coming Out

The charge that British firms are behind hand and slow in going after foreign business is heavily discounted by the experience this year of the Federation of British Industries in connection with the Canadian National Exhibition. Such extraordinary interest has been shown this year in the "British section" which the F.B.I. organizes at the Exhibition that it would appear that any slowness in the past has been less the result of apathy than of inability to take action owing to the various difficulties of the industrial situation. As these difficulties have been removed, so are firms only too willing to take active steps to get after empire markets. The net result as far as the Exhibition is concerned, is that the size of the "British section" has been increased by more than 50 per cent., and the range of goods presented to the Canadian public has been widened very considerably.

Most significant of all, however, is the fact that between twenty-five and thirty people are travelling over from England to take charge of these exhibits. In past years there have seldom been more than five or six most of the exhibits being in charge of Canadian representatives. The majority of those who are coming out are principals, either partners of the firms concerned or men occupying important executive positions.

Careless Drivers Not All Eliminated, Says W. B. Hastings Over CKNC

Evidence that careless drivers have not been eliminated is provided by a motor car ride on any main highway, according to a statement broadcast over CKNC radio last night by W. B. Hastings. Although a decrease in motor car accidents has been observed over the recent holiday the Ontario Highway Safety Committee was not convinced that everything possible had been done to make driving safe.

Speed Demand Admitted

Admitting that this age demanded speed, the speaker uttered the warning that all motorists did not appreciate the consequences and responsibilities of speed. Regarding people who habitually drive their cars at 50 miles an hour, he declared that such a practice would sooner or later result in a smash. One of the greatest dangers was "low powered brains directing high powered cars."

Watch Your Brakes

It was also lamentable, said the speaker that many brakes were allowed to get below average in efficiency. Up to 35 miles per hour the speed was a matter of common sense, he averred. No one but a lunatic would drive into a group of children at play at a speed of even 25 miles per hour. He advised drivers to ask themselves the question: "What is the safe speed with regard to the circumstances?"

He advised motorists to take special care when driving on hot days, as fatalities usually occurred during warm weather, when most people's preceptions and reactions were much slower. Attention to the mechanical condition of the car was also urged.

Regarding Speed

"Many occasion arise when 25 miles an hour is recklessly fast," he said. "For instance, nobody but a speed lunatic would drive into a group of children at play at a speed of 25 miles per hour. Even at 15 miles an hour brakes in average condition will not stop a car within 13 feet. There are times when driving at a rate of speed of 1 mile per hour is reckless with regard to the circumstances and therefore contrary to law. It is an excellent practice when driving to think in terms of the ratio of speed to stopping distance."

Equal Rights for All

He indicated that persons with high powered cars should realize that they have no more rights on the road than the driver with a second hand siver. "Respect courteously the rights of others on the road," he counselled, "and be gracious enough not to insist too rigidly upon your own. Motorists of Ontario are developing traffic consciousness, and are trying as never before to avert accidents. Most of us have taken an occasional chance; in other words, we have been reckless sporadically. That must stop."

MARK TWAIN'S TEN BEST

Nation Wide Contest Was Held To Choose Ten Most Pithy Quotations From American Writers' Books

The ten most pithy quotations collected from the works of Mark Twain were announced by the Mark Twain Association on the eve of the great humorist's birthday.

A committee of judges announced that Miss Pida E. Stallwood has won a nation wide contest with her ten selected quotations from Twain's works. Miss Stallwood's selections follows:—

"Often it seems such a pity that Noah and his party did not miss the boat."—Christian Science.

"Training is everything. The peacemaker is once a bitter almond; cauliflower is nothing but cabbage with a college education." Pudd'n Head Henson.

"To be good is noble, but to show others how to be good is nobler and no trouble."—Following the Equator.

"Man is the only animal that blushes or needs to."—Following the Equator.

Respect for Deity

"True irreverence is disrespect for another man's God."—Following the Equator.

"Arguments have no chance against petrified training; they wear it as little waves wear a cliff."—A Connecticut Yankee.

"Be careless in your dress if you must but keep a tidy soul."—Following the Equator.

"We have a criminal jury system which is superior to any in the world; and its efficiency is only marred by the difficulty of finding twelve men every day who don't know anything and can't read."—Sketches New and Old.

"If you are with the quality or at a funeral, or trying to sleep when you ain't sleepy—if you are anywhere where it won't do for you to search, why you will itch all over in upward of a thousand places."—Huckleberry Finn.

"Whenever the literary German dives into a sentence, that is the last you are going to see of him till he emerges on the other side of the Atlantic with his verb on his mouth."—A Connecticut Yankee.

To The Girl With Silk Stockings

The girl with stockings made of silk— Can you tell why it is That in this weather icy cold You don't get rheumatiz? That you don't get pneumonia, That cold waves you defy, And do not seem to mind a bit, Say, can you tell us why?

They say yours is the weaker sex, Ha, ha, that makes one smile, For when it comes to standing cold You've got man beat a mile, Man ventures out on a cold day All muffled to the chin, While all your clothes would hardly make A muffler for him.

The girl with stockings made of silk, So shiny and so thin— An Eskimo would freeze to death In garments you are in, How do you stand it, little girl, When zero breezes blow? How is it that you do not freeze? That's what we'd like to know!

A NEW WAY TO SPEND A WEEK END THIS SUMMER

Where to go for the week end is always a question during the summer. Try this special Ontario "Circle Tour" for a change and see if you don't enjoy it more than any week end this year.

Commencing Saturday morning, take the train from Toronto to Midland; then the boat trip to Parry Sound; from there by rail to Lake Joseph; embark at Lake Joseph station for a sail past island and head land through the Muskoka Lakes to Muskoka Wharf; entrain for Toronto, arriving back Sunday evening. This "Circle Tour" so new and interestingly inexpensive. Enquire about it.

"WIFE SAVERS" FINE FARCE

Royal Theatre Presents Comedy
—Beery and Hatton Are Real Funny

Because this is the holiday or amusement time of the year the rip-roaring comedy "Wife Savers" played by Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton at the Royal Theatre seems quite in season.

The story starts with the "boys" just before the Armistice was signed and you know there's always a good time when good fellows get together—especially when the fellows are Wallie and Raymond. This comedy creation is a bit absurd in spots but that's all in fun.

The management seem to it that their patrons will see the pictures in comfort and to this end have provided fans to keep the temperature cool and the air fresh.

Tonight or Saturday you can while away the evening with many a chuckle at these two famous comedians appearing now at the Royal.

AUCTION SALE OF HORSES

Auction sale of Western Horses, Mr. W. Nicholson, Morse, Sask. will sell by auction at Mr. M. Crossland's farm, one mile west of Perrytown Corner, Lot 19, Con. 7, Hope Township, on Thursday, July 19th, at one o'clock: 20 horses—10 work horses, well broken, ranging from 3 to 6 years old, guaranteed in all harness; 10 two year old colts, well halter broken and farm raised, mostly percherons. Terms of sale—Four months credit to parties furnishing approved joint notes with interest at 6 per cent. per annum.

LOEWENSTIEN'S PLANE TESTED

Experiment Carried Out in the Aeroplane From Which He Disappeared

The theory that Captain Alfred Loewenstein, Belgian financier, accidentally fell from his plane while over the English Channel last week seemed less certain at the conclusion of flying tests made at Croydon, England.

The same Fokker machine owned by Capt. Loewenstein from which he disappeared during his cross channel trip on July 4 was used, Major Cooper of the accidents branch of the air ministry being in charge of the tests.

No statements were made at the conclusion of the flight, but it was unofficially reported that at a height of 1000 feet, one of the party flung himself against the outer door which opened about six inches. He, however, was immediately flung back into the cabin when the resulting rush of wind shut the door violently.

It was stated that after a prolonged struggle, Major Cooper, secured by a rope which was held by a companion, opened the door sufficiently to climb on to the step of the machine, but it was declared that it would be impossible to fall out accidentally.

Even Break

Brilliant pitching by Bream, recruited from the New York Americans gave Jersey City a 3 to 0 victory in yesterday's game at Leaf Stadium and enabled the Skeeters to get an even break in the four game series. It was the second consecutive game that Bream has shut out the league pace setters and there is little doubt but that he is one of the best moundsmen seen at Toronto this season. His control was so perfect that it was unceasing and the best the Leafs could do was to get four hits, all singles. Even in the fifth inning, when three errors in a row landed Cote on first, second and third base, the Leafs could not manufacture any kind of a hit or play to drive him home.

THE LUMBER INDUSTRY IN 1926

The lumber industry in Canada is at present undergoing an interesting change. The centre of production is moving from eastern Canada to the Pacific slope and in the East much of the material cut in the woods is being diverted from the saw-mill to the pulp and paper mill. Generally speaking there is a tendency toward a reduction in the output of lumber in Eastern Canada due partly to diminishing supplies and partly to the demands of the pulp and paper industry. In the province of British Columbia on the other hand the cut of lumber is increasing and the product is invading the eastern market via the Panama canal. The white pine of the East and some of the eastern hardwoods will always be preferred for certain industrial purposes as long as they are obtainable. The large clear size in which British Columbia lumber can be obtained is one of the chief reasons for its present popularity.

Apart from regional differences in species and sizes of trees, wood will always be one of the most generally useful of all the raw materials used in industry. The supply is rapidly diminishing in certain regions, but it is highly improbable in this enlightened age that it will ever be completely exhausted. We will no doubt pass through a period of lean years before we begin to reap the benefit of present and future applications of scientific forestry methods. The area of land in Canada which is economically suited for forest production is very large and once this area is placed on a sustained yield basis we will be assured of a permanent annual supply of timber of all kinds sufficient for the needs of industry in Canada with a satisfactory surplus for exportation.

The final printed report of the lumber industry in Canada in 1926 has just been issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa where it can be secured on application. The report is not only of interest to those engaged in lumbering and its allied industries but will be found of value to forestry students and all those interested in the conservation of one of our most important natural resources. While the general figures have already been published in preliminary reports the details are now given for the first time in a complete bilingual report.

The report shows an increase in the total cut of lumber of about 7 per cent. with an increase of over twenty per cent in the case of British Columbia and smaller increases or decreases in the eastern provinces. In 1926 British Columbia contributed less than a fifth of the Dominion total but in 1926 this proportion was over fifty per cent.

Here and There

(38) With concrete new up as far as the first bedroom windows and steel up to the fourth, the Royal York C. P. R. motor hotel in Toronto is well up to schedule and is expected to be completed in time for the opening next May, notwithstanding the short strike of the steel and building trades.

W. M. Van Valkenburg, president of the Regina Board of Trade, says that his city and province are out to capture industries. That is one reason for his visit to Montreal and the Eastern States. He figures that the mineral resources of the province should provide the basis of a number of industries, as 42 per cent of the provincial area lies within the pre-Cambrian shield.

Inauguration of the new New York-Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, passenger ship service recently represented the first entrance of a vessel from New York into Yarmouth harbor for the past 20 years. This was the S.S. Evangeline, of the Eastern Steamship Line, carrying 150 passengers. She is of 5,000 tons and her sailing connects with the Dominion Atlantic Railway and so enables tourists to reach Nova Scotia sea and holiday resorts.

This summer will witness a great deal of activity on the part of the grain companies as well as the Wheat Pool in the construction of elevators at country points in Alberta to take care of the larger harvests which are expected. Another company which has just announced its intention to enter on a construction program is the Gillespie Grain Company. According to John Gillespie, president, the firm plans to erect six new elevators each with a capacity of 40,000 bushels.

Musicians under the leadership of Flight Lieutenant John A. Amers, forming the band of the Royal Air Force, Britain's youngest military band, landed recently at Quebec from Canadian Pacific liner Montreal, for a tour of Canada from coast to coast, as did the band of the Coldstream Guards last year. This aggregation was formed in June, 1920, and since then has fulfilled engagements all over the British Isles. The band will play in all the principal centres, military centres and garrison towns of Canada during their tour here.

"First call for dinner!" "Last call for dinner!" The old monotonous warning to the hungry traveller is a thing of the past on the Trans-Canada Limited, C. P. R. trans-continental crack train from Montreal to Vancouver. To-day a nattily attired waiter in white coat and apron with a smart black bow tie walks through the cars ringing "chimes" on a dulcimer, an appeal at once more pleasant to the ear and more likely to attract attention than the former method. In time, there is no doubt, the idea will be adopted on all dining car trains of the railway.

Advertised to make the trip from Montreal to London in nine days, the Canadian Pacific freight ship Beaverbrook actually completed the run in eight days and twenty hours, making record time for a freight vessel between the two ports. This ship is one of the five "Beaver" ships making up the new fast freight steamship service of the Canadian Pacific. They have refrigerated cargo space and are of 10,000 tons dead weight. The service is between Montreal and London, and there is a sailing from the Canadian port every Friday, the vessels as a rule making better time than most passenger vessels to the London route.

THE HIGHWAYS OF BUYING . .

"Follow the highway markings and you can't go wrong." . . . That's the advice the Automobile Club gives you before starting on a motor trip. You follow the well-known, well-marked roads. And you reach your destination the safest, most comfortable way.

Why not follow the same rule in your shopping? Why not stick to the "highways of buying?" They have been just as carefully plotted and are just as carefully marked as the great motor roads you've come to depend on. Marked by the trade-marks of reliable, advertised products.

The next time you go shopping follow these "highways." Before you start, look through the advertisements in these columns. Pick out the products you want. Notice the names and trade marks that identify them. And then ask for them by name.

The advertisements are the sign-posts to guide you to

BOYNE BATTLE

Fought on July 1 With Two Kings Contesting Throne Of England

Orangemen by the thousands, in many parts of the Dominion, as well as in the British Isles, Thursday turned out in annual parade, fittingly marking the 238th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, and in Peterboro, there never was a more successful "walk." Of the Battle of the Boyne, they are well informed.

QUEEN MARIE TO VISIT AGAIN

In Response to Many Invitations—Visit at End of Year

It was understood that in response to invitations Queen Marie proposes to visit Canada and the United States towards the end of the year. She will be accompanied by Princess Ileana, who was with her when she visited America in 1926. The trip is expected to last three months.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Good gracious! Did you notice the day and the date?

Oh, ye superstitious ones, watch your step for 'tis Friday the Thirtieth!

Fish day! And how they draw 'em in! Geo. Ward caught a ten pounder while Baillie Thompson just nosed out Dr. A. G. Aldrich by one, by landing a twenty-one pound mask inonge. Our corner friend says he didn't think Baillie would do a trick like that—just get a tantalizingly small margin to crowd "Doc" out of the "Tower Farm Catch Record." We're now waiting to see if "Doc" will score a comeback or perchance, if George will be able to show more than a big fish story.

And still there are more Strawberry Festivals. Wesleyville advertises that theirs will be on Tuesday evening.

There was a big crowd down to meet the ten o'clock train last night which quite blocked the street for a while, showing the interest of the people in the Orangemen.

The following pupils of Miss Jean Dickinson were successful in the recent Toronto Conservatory of Music examination. Three honor marks and one pass were obtained. Verdun Dickinson tried introductory piano; Frances Johnson, junior harmony; A. McElroy, intermediate counterpoint; F. Skitch, intermediate harm only and are to be congratulated upon their success.

A good crowd attended the Thursday evening dance program at the Port Hope Beach Pavilion. There will be another big dance Saturday evening.

One of the largest engines in the Dominion passed through Port Hope this morning on the Canadian Pacific Railway. The engine weighed 210 tons and came direct from the Locomotive Shops at Montreal for service on the T. H. & B. line.

The "walk" at Haliburton Thursday was the largest in the history of that northern town, there being almost 1000 Orangemen in the parade. Speeches were made by T. H. Stinson, K.C., M.P., of Lindsay, Reeve Currie and resident clergymen. The celebration at Cameron was also largely attended, the speakers being William Newman, M.P. P., and Jesse Bradford of Lindsay.

Two crews from the R.C.Y.C., Toronto, two from Kingston Yacht Club and the same number from the Quinte Club will gather at the Belleville Country Club for a series of dinghy races on Saturday. All of the boats used are owned by members of the Belleville club.

The secretary of the Cobourg public school board has received over two hundred applications for the two vacancies on the school staff. The board will consider them at their next meeting in August.

Orders have been received at the government vendor's shop here that the sale of alcohol was prohibited except on orders from a doctor. During the days of the O.T.A. alcohol became a mighty popular drink, as a quart of alcohol would give four times the kick that was received from a quart of any other kind of liquor, while bootleggers could realize more profit from the sale than they could from other brands. Quite a number became alcohol drinkers during those dry days, and it is to get boozers away from the stuff that the new order has been made.

SKIRTS TO JUST COVER THE KNEES

Princess Outline Largely in Favor—Velvet in Vogue for Fall Costumes

Women's skirts this fall will continue just to cover the knees if the style dictum of the garment retailers of America is followed. The semi-fashion promenade of the association held Tuesday night revealed that the spirit of femininity would continue to dominate the fall styles.

Exaggerated dips and drooping ends of draperies were featured in evening gowns with the princess outline appearing largely in favor. Many were embellished with flowers. In the dress silhouette, a somewhat close fitting bodice prevailed, but the skirt was invariably flared. Ensemble costumes were much in evidence. Velvet appeared the favorite among fabric mediums, satin charmeuse for dresses and moire for evening wear.

Fur trimmings were prominent on sport and dress coats and were even displayed on some evening models. Fur wraps concentrated on ermine, broad tail, seal, caracul and leopard. One furrier advocated the return of the muff and displayed a sport coat of battleship grey with an accompanying muff. Three color families and one individual shade were sponsored, including modern blues, a range of dark tones; Normandy greens, a group of deep green tones, and harvest browns, typical of the autumn season. The individual color espoused was guava red, a dark, wine-like shade.

It was in the fore part of the year 1690, that Duke Schomberg, landed in Ireland with an army for the protection of protestants of Ireland and proceeding south from a point below Belfast, came in sight of King James' army which had taken up a position on the south bank of the Boyne river. King William III landed near Carrickfergus on June 14 and on the 30th day of the same month arrived at the Boyne informing Schomberg that he had no intention of "Letting the grass grow under his feet." He intended to attack on the morrow and by torchlight reviewed the troops.

On July 1 was fought the ever-memorable Battle of the Boyne, at which two kings, in person, contended for the throne of England On the south of the river Boyne by the combined armies of Louis and James consisting of the flower of French chivalry and nearly all of the Popish bigots of England, Scotland and Ireland, headed by James Stuart in person. On the north of the river lay the troops of Duke Schomberg with the Derry regiment raised by the Rev. George Walker in Fermanagh, then known and existing to the present day as the Enniskillen Dragoon, all commanded by William III.

In the passage of the Boyne, Duke Schomberg and the Rev. George Walker lost their lives. The troops, once over, King William courted the battle and won it. Five days later making his triumphal entry into Dublin. In this year, three Protestant associations were formed—1 in Dublin, known as the Aldermen of Skinner's Alley; one in Derry, that of the Apprentice Boys; and one in Enniskillen known as the Boyne Society.
