YOUNG MAN MAY BE ALWAYS BLIND.

Minden Echo:—The friends of Mr. Wm Eastman of Ingoldsby, have been anxiously waiting for some word that would carry with it the assurance that his eyesight may eventually be restored.

It will be remembered that this is one of the young men, who was so seriously injured by an explosion, while blasting stones on their father's farm, nearly three months ago, when he and his brother only escaped death as by a miracle. Elmer, the brother, lost one eye entirely and is otherwise scarred for life; but William's case was quite different, for besides suffering severe cuts and bruises, the marks of which will be carried to his grave the shock to his nerve system was very great and his eyesight did not return, although he was treated by his local physician till his strength returned sufficiently for him to be taken to a Peterboro hospital. Later he was taken to Toronto, and a specialist consulted, who says the best has been done that could have been done. He could however, hold out little hope for a restoration of sight; After remaining at home for a time, he is again in the Peterboro hospital.

fell off the train and sustained serious injuries, is noteworthy. Mrs. McGee seeing he was injured pushed her way through the crowd which had quickly gathered, and making every one stand back she used her pocket handkerchief to bind up his wounds. When she saw the handkerchief was not large enough she took her underskirt and tore it into strips to be used as bandages. When the doctor arrived the patient was ready to be removed to the hospital.

Unbrotherly Treatment Accorded to the Alderville Lodge

An unfortunate incident marred the success of the big Orange demonstration here on Wednesday. Alderville Lodge No. 1069 was invited here and came in accompanied by their band. Their fine appearance was favorably commented upon as they paraded the streets to the park. Mr. George Grey, Master of the lodge, states that there were no directors from the first upon their arrival at the park and in joining the procession they had to fall in where they saw fit. After they had dropped in on parade Mr. W. White, Burnley, told them to step in at a certain place behind Cold Springs Lodge. The Alderville Lodge and Band did this and joined in the procession for a short distance when another lodge, they state, interfered and wanted Alderville to stand aside while they went ahead. Some words passed after which Alderville, Mr. Grey states, rather than carry the dispute further and mar the pleasure of the day and raise any trouble that would reflect on their noble Order or the demonstration quietly dropped out of the procession and retired. They feel the slight keenly because they think it arose from their being Indians. Besides they had been to a lot of trouble and made great preparation to come to Cobourg, and had received a number of other invitations which they refused in order to take part here. They state that they have attended a number of demonstrations and that this is the first time they were ever used like this. Moreover, that in the Orange Order all men are regarded as brethren.—Cobourg World.

SATURDAY WAS ST. SWITHIN'S DAY

St. Swithin was a weather prophet long before the modern weatherman set up business. He gained an influence so great that even his birthday ruled the weather for forty days. It is stated as a fact, that is, however, hardly capable of proof, that the patriarch Noah loosed the ark from its moorings on a rainy St. Swithin's day; hence the big rain of forty days and forty nights, that precipitated the greatest freshet on record. This circumstance or some other, no doubt, gave rise to the following popular English rhyme, which its believers claim contains more truth than poetry.

St. Swithin's day if thou dost rain For forty days it will remain; St. Swithin's day, if thou be fair, For forty days 'twill rain no more.

DEAD MAN'S BONE ON WOMAN'S LEG

New York July 14—By grafting the shin bone of a man onto a woman suffering from necrosis, thus practically giving her a whole new lower limb, the surgeons of the New York Hospital for de ormites have completed an operation unique in surgery. Up to now, operations of this sort have been confined to experimental work done on dogs. The first essential was to get a good healthy bone to take the place of the one eaten by disease. After a time one of the hospitals which handle emergency cases reported that a man had been killed in an accident. The body was unclaimed and was to be taken to Potters' field or to the dissecting table, and requisition was made for one of the legs, from which the tibia was taken. It was kept in an ice box, immersed in a strong salt solution until the surgeon was ready to use it.

SUNDAY AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Yesterday being a little cooler than the previous Sundays, made church going rather more enjoyable, thereby affecting the attendance at church, although one has to give credit to the excellent congregations which have attended the Methodist church during the recent hot weather. One has wondered how Dr. Laker endured such heat in the pulpit when preaching so vigorously. Yesterday morning he spoke of the "Thorn in one's life and how to deal with it." His exposition and illustrations were beautiful. A solo, "Consider the lilies," which was well rendered by Mrs. J. Holden, was much appreciated. A very large congregation, which well nigh filled the church last evening, enjoyed another of Dr. Laker's fine utterances. He spoke on "The desire to see Jesus and the reasons for it," a discourse calculated to make the people feel the preciousness of Christ. The attentive manner in which the great congregation listened must have been gratifying to the Doctor. His sermons are obviously the result of wide and deep reading and of prayerful meditation at the feet of the Master. They come from the crucible of his own experience. The church ought to be proud in having such a powerful preacher to lead them on, and the town such a valuable asset as Dr. Laker. Under such a ministry of energy and spirituality the church ought to make good.

THE PEAR TREE SLUG

This common and troublesome pest has been carrying on its work of destruction in the cherry and pear orchards of the Southern Provinces and the Northern States for something over one hundred years. It still does considerable damage where the orchards are not carefully attended to and the purpose of this article is to briefly outline its life history and to offer a few measures for its destruction. It is found on the foliage of pear, cherry, quince and plum trees nearly every summer and this year the writer has visited some orchards which are very seriously affected. The insect winters in the papa state under the ground and remains she met his glance. Again he thought she was asserting a distant dignity. "The question arose naturally out of a train of thought which always occupies me when I talk with you. I myself belong to no class whatever, and I can't help wondering how—if the subject ever occurred to you—you would place me."

But before he had finished speaking, her face changed. A light of sudden understanding shone in her eyes; her lips softened to a smile of exquisite gentleness.

REMEDIES The easiest and simplest remedy for this pest is to suffocate them. As they breathe through the sides of their soft bodies they will die very quickly if their breathing apparatus is clogged by any sort of dust, fresh air-slacked lime being perhaps the most satisfactory.

Godwin began with the same note of bluntness. But of a sudden he felt the influence of Sidwell's smile. His voice sank into a murmur, his heart leapt, a thrill went through his veins.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

(Continued from Saturday) These uncertainties, these frequent reversions to a state of mind which at other times he seemed to have long outgrown, were a singular feature of his relations with Sidwell.

"Do you think me so far behind the age?" asked Sidwell trying to laugh. "Classes are getting mixed, confused. Yes, but we are so conscious of the process that we talk of class distinctions more than of anything else,—talk and think of them incessantly. You have never heard me make a profession of Radicalism; I am decidedly behind the age. Be what I may—and I have spiritual pride more than enough—the fact that I have relatives in the lower, even the lowest social class must necessarily affect the whole course of my life."

The consciousness that she was deceived checked the words which were rising to his lips. Again he saw himself in a pitiful light, and this self contempt reflected upon Sidwell. He could not doubt that she was yielding to him; her attitude and her voice declared it; but what was the value of love won by imposture?

Thirty-Two Driven. New York, July 17.—Thirty-two passengers and several members of the crew of the steamer Irma, were drowned or crushed to death when the vessel was sunk by the Diamante, according to a despatch from Port Limon, Costa Rica, published here yesterday. PEOPLE'S PULPIT. Gehenna Fire a Figure of Speech. It Symbolizes the Second Death—A Total Extinction. Sermon by CHARLES T. RUSSELL, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

Toronto, Can., July 16.—Pastor Russell delivered three addresses here today under the auspices of the International Bible Students Association. By request two of his addresses were more particularly to the Hebrews, on "Zionism in Prophecy."

There are other and much more beautiful topics than the one I have chosen for this occasion. Nevertheless, "Handsomeness is that handsome does." This text has stood in the way of God's people for centuries, and still continues in the way of many of them.

Others say, not so; God is love, and these unquenchable fires and immortal worms are matters of necessity; which His love cannot overcome, because, by some slip of unwisdom in the beginning, or by some lack of power since, the Almighty is unable to do better than to save the mere handful and to allow the great mass of mankind to suffer endless torture in the fire that never shall be quenched, and where the worm will never die.

Some theologians of the Thomas a Kempis school of thought went so far as to picture the poor creatures in their sufferings and to show that the heat would form a kind of an asbestos covering which would shield them from a measure of its intensity. But those deluded theologians proceeded to explain that these outer coverings would crack and shell off every little while, leaving the poor victim freshly tender that his suffering might be the more intense.

Of course, these theologians of the past had their difficulty in dealing with the worms. They could imagine devils who would oversee the torture as being made immune to pain by the chief torturer, the Almighty God. But just how to imagine the worms getting along in so great a heat and how they would in any wise increase the torture of the poor sufferers was to many a perplexity.

Did the Great Teacher intend that such conclusions should be drawn from His language? And did He stop short of the description from reasons of sympathy or modesty or shame? Is this the general teaching of God's Word or has a great and terrible mistake been made? And have we mistaken a figure of speech and treated it as literal? We erred. We misunderstood.

The Great Teacher who rebuked His disciples, James and John, when they desired to call fire down from heaven upon the City of Samaria, because the people thereof refused to sell them food for the Master—the sympathetic One who said to them, "Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of; the Son of man came not to destroy man's lives, but to save them"—could that Son of man in any wise intend to tell us that our great Heavenly Father had less of the spirit of love and righteousness than the two impetuous disciples?

Did he mean to intimate that while the disciples might impetuously have been willing to destroy the earthly life of the Samaritans, the Heavenly Father, of still more demagogical disposition, would treat practically all mankind ten million times worse than that and use Divine Power to all eternity to perpetuate the sufferings of His earthly creatures, which His own Word declares were born in sin, shapen in iniquity, in sin did their mothers conceive them—earthly creatures, too, whose environment was unfavorable and whose Adversary, the Devil, God neither destroyed nor bound?

As we have heretofore seen, the only Hebrew word translated hell, from Genesis to Malachi, is sheol, which is indiscriminately translated grave, pit and hell in our Common Version of the English Bible—the greater number of times grave—its proper translation. Its Greek equivalent in the New Testament, we have seen, is hades, which likewise is indiscriminately translated grave and hell, but should always be rendered sheol. We repeat again that no scholar in the world will claim that there is the slightest thought of life or suffering or joy connected with these words.

The Scriptures distinctly declare that "there is neither wisdom, nor device, nor knowledge in sheol"—to which all, both good and bad, go at death, and where they remain until the resurrection. In the New Testament the word tartarus occurs once only and is mistranslated hell, whereas it should be rendered our earth's atmosphere. It has no reference to humanity in any way, but to the fallen angels. The Apostle says that as a punishment "God cast them down to tartarus" and they are "reserved in chains of darkness until the judgment of the great Day."

But to-day we will examine the fourth and last word translated hell in our common English Bible. This word in the Greek is gehenna. It occurs but twelve times, as follows: Matthew v. 22, 29, 30; x. 28; xviii. 9; xxiii. 15, 33; Mark ix. 43, 45, 47; Luke xii. 5; James iii. 6. One of the occurrences is in connection with our text to-day. The question is, To what does this word gehenna refer? Is it a name for Purgatory? Or a name for a still worse place of unending torture, as our Protestant creeds declare? We answer, No. It is a figure of speech used to symbolize the Second Death—the death from which there will be no resurrection, no resuscitation—the everlasting destruction mentioned by St. Paul, and of which St. Peter says that they which experience it perish like the brute beast (II. Thessalonians i. 9; II. Peter ii. 12). This is very plainly stated in Revelation xx. 14, where of this "lake of fire" it is declared, "this is the Second Death."

The Greek word gehenna is the synonym for the Hebrew word Gehinnom, which means "The valley of Hinnom." This valley is repeatedly mentioned in the Bible. It was owned by a family named Hinnom. The first reference to it is in Joshua xv. 8. Looking at any Bible map of the city of Jerusalem, the valley will be seen to the southwest of the city wall. At a time when the Israelites became sadly involved in idolatry, this valley was used as a sacred place. An image of the heathen god, Moloch, made of brass, and hollow, was erected. It was so constructed that the chair, which was a part of the image, constituted a furnace fired from the rear, and the head of the image was the top of a flue.

The image held out its arms as though to receive something and, heated red hot by the fire, was a receptacle in which deluded Israelites placed their children as sacrifices, while trumpets were blown, drums beaten and the people shouting, stifling the cries of the tortured infants (II. Kings xxiii. 10). When the good King Josiah came to the throne all this idolatry was abolished and the proper worship of God in the temple was resumed. Then, lest the people should ever again resort to such atrocious customs, the valley was desecrated. It became a valley of abomination. It was used as a dumping place for the filth of Jerusalem. Dead dogs and dead cats were thrown there, and it is claimed that some of the vile criminals, after execution, were thrown therein instead of given burial—to typically illustrate that there is no future life for such obnoxious beings—that they will be refuse.

The valley of Hinnom is now filled up and an orchard grows there; but originally it was quite deep. The carcasses of animals were thrown there intended for destruction, the worms feeding upon them. No one sought to hinder the worms from making a complete destruction. In the bottom of the valley fires were kindled for the consumption of the waste debris, and brimstone was added that the fumes of it might destroy any germs of disease. No one thought of quenching that fire; it was one that was desired. This was the gehenna of our Lord's day. He uses it in a figurative or pictorial sense as illustrating the Second Death, which will be the portion of all unrepentant sinners. He used it also symbolically, in connection with other symbols, in the book of Revelation, where as already seen He explains it to mean the Second Death.

The worms of that valley were no more immortal than any other worms or maggots and the fires kindled there are not burning now. This expression, "Where their worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched," merely signifies that the destruction of the class represented would be complete, that nothing would interfere to save them from destruction. Adamic death will be destroyed, as the Scriptures declare. Christ died that He might have the rightful authority to destroy Adamic death and uplift all of Adam's race who will accept His favor back to all that was lost in Adam, and redeemed at Calvary by the Second Death is a friend to God and to all who love righteousness, since it will utterly and forever destroy such as have love or sympathy for sin and refuse to be obedient to the Divine will after full enlightenment.

As the earthly Jerusalem was a figure of the Jerusalem from above, the heavenly Jerusalem, the Kingdom of God that is to be established in the earth, so gehenna and its "fire" and "worms" prefigured the destruction of the Second Death upon every unrepentant sinner, during or shortly after the termination of Christ's Mediatorial Kingdom and reign and the delivery of the Kingdom back to God, with righteousness fully established. As the New Jerusalem will not be a literal city, with literal streets of gold and gates of pearls and walls of jewels, neither the valley of Hinnom nor the lake of fire outside; the city of Jerusalem will be literal—both are symbolical. The one represents harmony with God, the Divine blessing and everlasting life; the other represents separation from God, everlasting destruction, the Second Death.

Fire is never used as a symbol of preservation, far from it. It is always a symbol of destruction. The addition of brimstone intensifies the figure, because burning brimstone is one of the most deadly influences known in the world. It is not only deadly to humanity and the larger animals but also to insects and microbes and everything that has life.

This same lesson of the destruction of wilful transgressors, as represented in the destructiveness of the valley of Hinnom (Gehenna), is furnished by the Prophet Isaiah (lxvi, 22-24). A familiar light in Isaiah's day was the literal valley of Hinnom, used as a figure by the Holy Spirit speaking through him, pointing to the antitype and telling of the New Heavens and New Earth—the new religious and secular organizations of mankind which will be accomplished by Messiah's reign—and that then evil doers shall not escape but shall be completely, utterly destroyed. "They shall go forth and look upon the carcasses of the men who have transgressed against Me, for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorrence unto all flesh." Nothing is said about looking at living beings suffering torture, nor is this the thought. God never approved of torture, but always condemned it. A carcass is a dead body.

How glad we should be to realize that God's great Plan will not include a great torture chamber containing countless myriads of His creatures but, as the Scriptures declare, "Every creature in heaven and in earth and under the earth will be heard saying, Praise and glory and honor and dominion and might be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne and unto the Lamb forever."

Having demonstrated that neither the Bible nor reason offers the slightest support to the doctrine that eternal torment is the penalty for sin, we note the fact that the various church creeds, and confessions, and hymn-books, and theological treatises, are its only supports; and that under the increasing light of our day, and the consequent emancipation of reason, belief in this horrible, fiendish doctrine of the Dark Ages is fast dying out. But alas! this is not because Christian people generally are zealous for the truth of God's Word and for His character, and willing to destroy their grim creed-idols. Ah, no! they still bow before their admitted fallacies; they still pledge themselves to their defence, and spend time and money for their support, though at heart ashamed of them, and privately denying them.

The general influence of all this is to cause the honest-hearted of the world to despise Christianity and the Bible; and to make hypocrites and semi-infidels of nominal Christians. Because the nominal church clings to this old blasphemy, and falsely presents its own error as the teaching of the Bible, the Word of God, though still nominally revered, is being practically repudiated. Thus the Bible, the great anchor of truth and liberty, is being cut loose from by the very ones who, if not deceived regarding its teachings, would be held and blessed by it.

The general effect, not far distant, will be, first open infidelity, then anarchy. For much, very much of this, lukewarm Christians, both in pulpits and pews, who know better, are responsible. Many such are willing to compromise the truth, to slander God's character, and to stultify and deceive themselves, for the sake of peace, or ease, or present earthly advantage. And any minister, who, by uttering a word for an unpopular truth, will risk the loss of his stipend and his reputation for being "established" in the bog of error, is considered a bold man, even though he ignominiously withhold his name from his published protests.

If professed Christians would be honest with themselves and true to God, they would soon learn that "their fear toward God is taught by the precepts of men" (Isaiah xxix, 13). If all would decide to let God be true, though it should prove every man a liar (Romans iii, 4), and show all human creeds to be imperfect and misleading, there would be a great creed-smashing work done very shortly. Then the Bible would be studied and appreciated as never before; and its testimony that the wages of sin is death (extinction), would be recognized as a "just recompense of reward."

Worth Every Penny. Sir James Crichton-Browne tells a new story of the railway tunnel. A friend of his once traveled in a first-class carriage, when they were not so well lit as to-day, with a newly-married couple. On emerging from a long tunnel they "were very much in love," and "to minimize the confusion" (his own confusion, presumably) the superstitious third party said, "This tunnel cost $500,000." To this the bridegroom replied "It was well worth the money."

A Striking Metaphor. For a "striking metaphor" take Sydney Smith's when he saw a little girl stoop down and stroke the shell of a turtle. "Why are you doing that, Belle?" he asked. "To please the turtle." "My child, you might as well stroke the dome of St. Paul's to please the dean and chapter."

His Surprise. Mrs. T.—What are you making those grimaces in the glass for, my dear? Mr. T.—I'm trying to practice a look of astonishment. Some of my friends are going to make me a present to-night, and I am supposed to know nothing about it.

PORT HOPE. JULY 17. 1911

W.G.P. MARK Shirts & Collars at Jennings, the new Clothier and Haberdasher. Next door to the Bank of Toronto.

LAWN FESTIVAL.—The congregation of the Church of Our Lady of Mercy will hold their annual lawn fete on the grounds west of the church, on Wednesday, July 19th. Keep the date open. Come and enjoy a pleasant evening. Band in attendance. Admission 15 cents.

A FINE POTATO.—We have on our table a new potato, the Irish Cobler, grown in Mr. James Flemming's garden, King street. It measures 11 inches in circumference and weighs 12 ounces. This will be hard to beat.

HARRY MITCHELL RETURNS HOME.—Mr. Harry Mitchell, who was injured at Cobourg on July 12th, by falling off the train, was removed to his home, 1023 Water street, city, this morning, in Comstock's private ambulance from the 8.20 G. T. R. train. He is improving nicely and will soon be around again. —Peterboro Review.

DIED IN BALTIMORE.—Mr. Thomas Morrow received the sad intelligence this morning of the death of his sister, Mrs. Gray, in Baltimore, Ont. Only a month ago Mr. Morrow's mother passed away and his many Port Hope friends extend sympathy in this his double bereavement. The funeral takes place tomorrow.

FRACTURED SKULL.—One of the visitors in town, Charles Mitchell, who lives in or near Peterboro, met with an accident on Wednesday night. He fell from a train and received a depressed fracture of the skull and injuries to his foot and lower lip. He was taken to the hospital where Dr. J. A. Ivey attended him. Dr. Ivey, assisted, by Dr. Ferris, removed the depressed bone and the injured man is doing well. His recovery is hoped for unless further complications arise. —Cobourg World.

SOMETHING FOR THE COUNCIL TO EXPLAIN.—We have received a communication from Mr. Sampson Bones criticizing the Council because they did not continue the concrete walk on Ontario street to the corner of Hope street. Mr. Bones states that the present board walk is worn out and is a danger to pedestrians. Ontario street is one of the principal thoroughfares of the town and with the C. N. R. station at the north end it seems strange that the walk should be chopped off just in the middle of the street. The portion where the board walk is left is very much travelled and it would be interesting to have the Council explain why part of the street was left without concrete. A concrete walk is surely as necessary at this point as on Elgin street or over the College hill.

WARNING!
