The Vital Spark of Life is Photographed.

Detroit, Mich., July N7 .- The flight of the vital spark has been witnessed, according to a state-ment made by Dr. P. S. O'Donnell, ot Chicago, an X ray expert, who has been following experiments made by Dr. W. J. Kilner, ot London, England. .Some time ago, using a chemicalized film, seated between two thin strips of glass, Dr. O'Donnell gave a demonstration to twenty physicians of the "aura," or elec-trical radiation of living bodies, four young women being used as subjects.

The aura developed as a strong ray of light surrounding the entire form of the subject.

Division of 45th Regt.

Omemee, July 19.-On Monday County Police Magistrate Moore of Lindsay presided over the cases of Thos. Rowan, Richard Morton. Edward Dancy and Charles Banks. charged with being drunk and disorderly in the quarters of the Omemee Division of the 45th Regiment. Several witnesses were called and the case for the Crown was clearly proven notwithstanding the defence put forward by Mr, Geo Jordan the lawyer for the parties prosecuted. The fines imposed together with the costs, amounted to $8.60 each. In concluding his remarks Magistrate Moore hinted that the Militia might take steps to prefer a more serious charge of a criminal character for breaking into the armoury.

FOLLOW MY WHITE PLUME'

"Follow my white plume" may be the Liberal battle cry in the impending general election, says the Ottawa correspondent of the New York Herald. Addressing his French-Canadian compatriots on the Champ de Mars at Montreal last Tuesday, Sir Wilfred Laurier exclaimed.

"Henry at Navarre at the battle plume and you will find it always in the forefront of honour.' Like Henry IV., I say to you young men, 'Follow my white plume-the white hairs of sixty-nine years -and you will I believe 1 can say without boasting, find it always in the forefront of honour."

He was rapidly sinking. Sudden ly the atteading physician announced that the man was dead. The aura began to spread from the body and presently disappeared. Further observation of the corpse revealed no sign of the aura.

"We do not claim that the light is the soul or spirit. In fact no one seems to know what it is. In my opinion, however, it is some sort of radio-activity made visible by the use of the chemicalized film. My experiments, however, seem to prove that it is the animating power or current of life of human beings.'

Names Omitted from the Census Report.

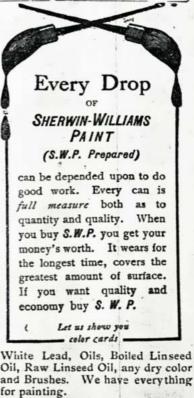

The newspapers have been reporting omissions on the part of enumerators of the census, especially in the large cities of the Dominion, and notwithstanding the care of the Census Office to enjoin a performance of accurate and full work on the part of enumerators it is possible that in some instances persons and even families heve been passed over.

It is known at the Office that many reports of omissions are without foundation, and that generally the enumeration has been well and of lvry said: 'Follow my white fully made, although it is yet too early for a final decision. The fact is that the census of a district or enumeration area was often not completed when complaints were first publicly made.

The Census Office earnestly desires that the name of every man, woman and child in the country as Sir Wilfred's hair while thin on well as other information called for top, is luxuriant and bushy behind in the schedules,, should be record-

Rev. Mr. Brown the new Metho-dist pastor here, is becoming deservedly popular.

PORT HOPE, JULY 20, 1911

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

What has brought you?' exclaimed his sister, starting up congenial to him- especially when anxiously, for something in young man's look seemed ominous.

'Oh, nothing to trouble about. I had to come down-on business. Mother gone to bed?'

Sidwell explained.

'All right; doesn't matter. I suppose I can sleep here? Let them get me a mouthful of something; cold meat, anything will do.

His needs were quickly supplied, and before long he was smoking by the library fire.

'I was writing to Sylvia,' said his sister, glancing at her fragmentary letter.

'Oh!' 'You know she is at Salisbury?' 'Salisbury. No, I didn't.

His carelessness proved to Sidwell that she was wrong in conjecturing that his journey had something to do with Miss Moorhouse. Buckland was in no mood for conversation; he smoked for a quarter of an hour whilst Sid-well resumed her writing. 'Of course you haven't seen Peak?' fell from him at length.

His sister looked at him before replying'

Yes. He called this afternoon. 'But who told him you were here?'

His brows were knitted, and he spoke very abruptly. Sidwell uniform stand. gave the same explanation as to her mother, and had furthur to reply that she alone received the caller.

'I see,' was Buckland's comment. Its tone troubled Sidwell.

'Has your coming anything to do with Mr. Peak?'

'Yes, it has. I want to see him the first thing to-morrow.' 'Can you tell me what about?'

He searched her face, trowning. 'Not now. I'll tell you in the morning.

Sidwell saw herself doomed to a

'I'll explain atterwards. He hurried awny. Sidwell was seemed to declare that she had not word or two, the young man swallowed his cup of coffee, and had soon left the house.

CHAPTER III

The wrath which illumined Buckland's countenance as he strode rapidly towards Longbrook Street was not unmingled with joy. In the deep pocket of his ulster lay something heavy which kept striking against his leg, and every such contact spurred him with a sense of satisfaction. All his suspicions were abundantly justified. Not only would his father and Sidwell be obliged to confess that his insight had been profounder than theirs, but he had the pleasure of standing justified before his own conscience. The philosophy by which he lived was strikingly illustrated and confirmed. He sniffed the morning air, enjoyed the firmness of the frozen grounds, on which his boots made a pleasant thud. To be sure, the interview before him would have its disagreeableness, but Buckland was not one of those over-civilised men who shrink from every scene of painful explanation. The detection of a harmful lie was decidedly he and his had been made its victims He was now at liberty to indulge that antipathetic feeling towards Godwin Peak which considerations had hitherto urged him

STANDING CROPS COMPETITION

Results of the Competition on Winter Wheat by Members of Port Hope Agricultural Society

The purpose of the Field Crops Competition is :-(a) To stimulate the growing of first class grain.

(b) To encourage the growing of the following year's seed on the best ground, with the best seed, producing the largest yield and allowing the seed to ripen, and threshing and storing separately.

(c) To produce pure seed. (d) To promote the sowing of seed from clean vigorous crops of and the elimination of weed seeds. The 1st, 2nd and 3rd prize winners are permitted to enter a sheaf, and grain exhibit at the Toronto Exhibition for which suitable prizes are offered. Prizes will be offered also by the Department for two-, Returns Per Cow; bushel sacks of grain from the winning fields, to be exhibited at the Winter Fairs at Guelph and Ottawa. The judges are sent out by the Department of Agriculture and are men who have been interested in the growing of farm crops and each year meet at Guelph to discuss how night of suspense. She could not the points shall be be awarded and are given practical work in judging on the experimental plots under the direction of Prof. C. A. Zavitz and others of the College Staff. The points allowed are as follows: (1) General appearances, considering stand of each type of plant, vigor and uniformity of growth, method of seeding and absence of Hundred Million's of dollars worth of field crops, we do not wonder at at the breakfast-table. Her eyes the effort being made to get the very best seed so that with other slept well. With an insignificant favorable conditions the soil will product its maximum crop.

Another injury to the grain crop is the destruction of the head of grain by a fungous growth known as smut. In winter wheat the worst variety is bunt or stinking smut. The grains in the head becomes black. The head becomes white and stands up straight, while the grain free from the smut is usually bent from the weight of the grain. If the diseased grains are crushed beeween the fingers a fishy odor will be given off.

Prof. C. A. Zavitz recommends the following treatment :- Thoroughly mix one-half pint of formalin with 21 gallons of water. Place the oats or wheat in this solution for 20 minutes and then spread the grain thinly on the floor or over a canvas on the ground, and stir it occasionally to hasten drying. The seed may be sown as soon as it is dry enough to run through the seed drill freely.'

We found a man this year who had treated his oats in that way | and he was the only man among all the competitors who was entirely free from the loose smut of oats. The formalin may be obtained very cheaply at almost any drug store.

Montreal Grain and Produce. MONTREAL, July 19.-There was an improved demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat, and, as cables were stronger, with 1½d per quarter high-er, sales of 100,000 bushels were made. The export trade in oats was quiet, but there was a better demand from local buyers, and sales of 50,000 bushels were made at prices ranging from 41½c to 42½c per bushel, as to grade. The judges were instructed to score closely under 2 and 4 because it is important that the men who are awarded prizes should as far as possible have the crop free from obnoxious weeds and should be free from other varieties and other kinds of grain.

As the Department of Agriculture issues a report containing the names of all the prize-winners, and these reports are distributed over the province there necessarily becomes a demand for their seed from those who desire to get new seed, and if a judge awards a prize to a man who does not get nearly full points on 2 and 4 he helps to defeat the very object of the competition. If this average is multiplied by a milking period of ten months it follows that there is actually a difference in the income from two such cows of as much us $30.00 in the season.

These astonishing differences are only brought to light and to the apprehension of owners when they begin to record weights of milk and to take samples for testing.

If cows are viewed from a right perspective (the full season's satisfactory production and not a brief. near-sighted glimpse of a record for a day or a week), not one will be retained in the herd that does not return a good profit; and such common differences as noted above will not be possible in the properly selected dairy herd, each cow select ed on the basis of her individual demonstration of profit made.

Richmond, Va., July 20.-Bloodhounds yesterday are aiding in the hunt for the man who on Tuesday night shot and killed Mrs. Harry C. Beattie, jr., as she was riding with her husband in an automobile.

BLOCKING BUSINESS

Opposition Members Discuss Anything But Reciprocity.

GEORGE TAYLOR ON STRIKE

Member for Leeds Would Drive Miners at Point of Bayonet Rather Than Risk Coal Famine-Hon, Mr. King Explains State of Affairs-Conservatives Criticize the Taking of the Canadian Census.

Ottawa, July 20 .- In the Parliamentary battle the Government still holds the position of vantage. The keen contest of political sagacity continued again yesterday. Again the Government forced the fighting, with insistence upon proceeding with pub-lic business. Sir Wilfrid Laurier remained steadily in his place. The Premier was in great fettle, goodtempered, courteous, but firm in his determination to make progress with the legislation. The Opposition on the other hand, is having a hard time to preserve its equanimity. Mr. J. D. Taylor's peevish outbreak Tuesday night against having to proceed with the reciprocity debate was followed yesterday by a heated exclamation by Mr. George Taylor, in discussing the coal strikes of the west, that it would "be better for the Government to drive the strikers to work at the point of the bayonet" than to allow a coal fam-ine to strike the districts.

When the House met yesterday af-ternoon it was seen that the ranks of the members had been largely aug-mented over night. Mr. Monk and the Nationalists were in their places. There were more Ontario members on hand, and the Maritime contingent was almost full strength.

was almost full strength. Mr. Fielding, in reply to a question from George Gordon (Nipissing) re-garding the Porcupine fire sufferers, reminded Mr. Gordon that Mr. Smythe, the member for Fist Algoma, had drawn the matter to the attention of the Government on Tuesday, and that he had made a statement to the effect that the question was engaging the attention of the Government.

When Mr. Fielding moved the House into the committee on the reciprocity resolutions at 3.20, A. S. Goodeve (Kootenay), introduced a dis-cussion on the question of the western coal strike, inquiring if the Government had received the report of the conciliation board and what action was proposed to take.

Mr. Goodeve said that the situation caused by the strike was serious, and promised to be worse if a settlement was not reached before the cold wea-ther set in. If no relief is given in way of coal supplies, settlers would freeze to death on the prairies during the winter months.

Hon. Mackenzie King, after laying on the table a report of the concilia-tion board, said he was surprised to hear the member from the Kootenay discuss this industrial situation from the standpoint of party policy. The moment either party commenced to make political capital out of the sit-mation, the difficulties in the way of a settlement would be increased.

The main question in dispute was that of the open and closed shop, the workmen and the operators taking diametrically opposite views. It was quite possible, therefore, that the strike might develop into a test endurance.

J. G. Turriff (Assiniboia) said the Opposition members were paying more attention to the political side of the question. They made no sug-gestion as to how the difficulty might be settled.

The discussion then drifted into a general criticism of the Labor Depart-ment, Messrs. Blain, Middlebro, Reid MASONS IN CONCLAVE. Grand Master Reports Steady Growth of the Order.

St. Catharines, July 20 .- The hotels of the city are unable to accommodate the crowds who are here to attend the fifty-sixth annual communication of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada, for the Province of Ontario, in session in the armory. The formal opening was made yesterday morning when an address of welcome was extended to the delegates by Mayor McBride. The Masonic welcome was voiced by George H. Sherwood, E. W. Smith, and James McIntosh, masters of three local lodges. The report of Grand Master MacWatt was then submitted.

Grand Master MacWatt's address contained considerable very interesting intelligence. It showed that to the end of May 31 the total revenue was $42,383.81, an increase of $1,176.42 over the year previous. For ordinary expenditure it required $16,797.07, and thus a surplus of $25,586.74 was at hand; this amount is slightly less than last year. During the year bene-volent grants from the ordinary fund amounted to $26,275; this, however, was supplemented by grants from the interest of the semi-centennial fund of $3,920, making a total of $26,676.34. The lodges have so far paid into the semi-centennial fund $92.178.80, every lodge having contributed something during the year; last year 37 lodges contributed nothing. The year was closed with a total membership of 48,500, as compared with only 46,000 the year previous. Col. Ponton of Belleville had charge of the report on the condition of Masonry. One of the most particular recommendations was that in growing towns and cities permanent Masonic halls or temples should be erected. It was claimed that the reports of surpluses on hand in most cases would justify such an expenditure. Attention was also called to the need of providing for Masonic charities, while restriction was placed on other charities.

CHOSE SUICIDE.

Old Man at Learnington Had Been Sentenced to Jail.

Leamington, July 20 .- A tragic affair took place here yesterday morning, when John Oliver, an old resident of Leamington, took strychnine and died a few minutes later. Mr. Oliver was sentenced yesterday morning to a short term in Sandwich Jail, on conviction of being drunk and disorderly, and while on his way from the Police Court to the car, said he would like to go home and get his coat. To this the chief of police agreed, and accompanied him to his home. On the way to the railway station Mr. Oliver went into convulsions, informing the chief he had taken strychnine

The policeman and others around supposed him to be shamming, but Mr Oliver died within a few minutes. He was about 66 years old, and leaves a widow and three daughters.

About this time last year Mr. Oliver's son-in-law, named Dresser, shot and killed his wife (Miss Oliver) and then shot himself fatally. Thus three tragedies have occurred in the Oliver family within a year.

Bar Cobalt Beer.

Montreal, July 20 .- Montreal's temperance workers, having succeeded in securing legislation limiting the hours during which liquor can be sold, are detarmined to prevent the sale of even the mildest substitutes. Yesterday a case was entered to prevent "Cobalt" beer being sold as a temperance drink before Judge Leet in the Police Court. The case heard is one taken by J. H Roberts, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, against R. Lusher, proprietor of the Empress Hotel, Berri street. Mr. Roberts stated that on May 12 he purchased a bottle la-belled Cobalt beer. Mr. Roberts had the contents analyzed, and, according to his evidence, it contained 1.42 per cent. alcohol and 2.48 per cent. proof spirits.

Unionist Paper.

PEERS PROBABLE FIFTY

London Daily Telegraph Says Policy of Bringing the King Into the Dispute Would Be Suicidal to the Tory Party - New Noblemen May Be Created by Way of a Warning to House of Lords.

London, July 20 .- The Daily Telegraph, a staunch Unionist paper, in to-day's editorial, says not only that the House of Lords will pass the third reading of the veto bill to-day without division, but that when the Government bill is returned to the Uppar Chamber, shorn of the Lords' emendments amendments, they will pass that al-so, for the simple reason "that there is really no practicable choice," and because it would form an evil and dangerous precedent to bring the crown into the struggle and it would be impossible for the King to withhold his consent if the Ministers requested the creation of peers. Practically the whole Unionist press has now fallen into line with The Telegraph in the admission that this is the only reasonable policy for the Lords to follow, and that the "no surrender policy would be suicidal." Long meetings of the Cabinet and also the Unionist leaders, including Balfour and Lansdowne, Selborne, Curzon, Salisbury and others, were held yesterday for the purpose of making final arrangements for the coming debates. Premier Asquith has postponed his visit to Scotland on account of the crisis, and urgent whips have been issued to all parties for Monday's sitting of the House of Commons. On that date the Prime Miniswill move the excision of the ter Lords' amendments, and he is expected to make an important pro-nouncement on the Ministerial intentions. According to persistent re-ports, whatever happens fifty new peers will be created before the bill is sent back to the House of Lords, as an earnest of the Government's in-tentions, should there be a disposition on the part of the peers to display obduracy. It is explained that the present Government has created much fewer than the customary number of peer-ages in recent years, and that therefore the creation of fifty now would little more than restore the balance. That the creation of peers may yet be necessary is indicated by an edi-torial in The Morning Post, which still counsels a firm policy of no surrender.

Crisis Settled Peaceably?

London, July 20 .- The announce-ment yesterday that A. J. Balfour, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, will go to Gastein to take the cure early in August, is re-garded in the lobby of the Lower House as particularly significant, and is widely accepted as an indica-tion of a peaceful settlement of the tion of a peaceful settlement of the constitutional crisis.

At the same time a denial was is-sued by the Unionist leader that the condition of his health necessitated the trip. This disposes of the sugges-tion that he was obeying the orders of his physician and is taken as con-firmation of the belief that he does not anticipate any vital political dis-turbance over the Veto Bill such as would be created by a deadlock of the two chambers and the appointment of a large number of peers.

To Fight the Fly.

So completely have houseflies been exterminated in England that screens noons on your way home to luncheon." said the little girl.

"Why, yes, so I can. How did Madge know of your school, Miss Worden?" "Oh. Madge and I are old friends. I give music lessons afternoons, and her inseparable companion, Grace Landon, is one of my pupils."

"I wish you would give Madge lessons too. Her teacher left the city some time ago, and I have neglected to have her start again."

"I should be glad to teach her," said the girl simply.

"Very well. You may commence tomorrow, if agreeable, and give her two lessons a week."

"She's a sweet little girl," thought John Walker as he pursued his way from the kindergarten. "She must be Tom Worden's daughter. Poor fellow! His failure took all he had. She's a trump to take hold and help in this way."

The first day that John called for Tot he so cordially seconded the child's invitation to her teacher to come home with them to luncheon that she was forced to comply.

Madge's music hour was from 5:30 to 6, and she would not practice properly unless her teacher would consent to stay to dinner. The children all claimed her as a kindred spirit and called her "Bess," for which they were sternly and ineffectually reprimanded by their parent, who finally followed their example and called her by that name

In the month of July the Walkers went to their summer cottage on a lake some twenty miles from the city.

"You need a vacation more than any one," said John Walker abruptly to Bess one day. "You must go with us." "Thank you very much," said the girl gratefully. "It's kind in you to ask me, but of course I can't accept." "Why not?" he demanded. "Your father is going west on an extended business trip, and he won't need you." The girl blushed, besitated and then said frankly: "Why, you see, of course, it would really be all right, but then, you know, people would talk-they wouldn't approve."

She began to founder in her explana. tion, and John suddenly comprehended. "I see," he laughed, nodding. "But, you see, you have come to seem to me like one of my own-my eighth girl, 1 call you-but I suppose you are grown up enough for a chaperon." "I am twenty years old," she said with dignity.

"Indeed! A great age. Well, I have a second cousin, a meek, elderly widdow, whom the children rule firmly. I presume she would like a month or so at the cottage."

So it was finally arranged.

From that time on John Walker suddenly regarded his children's teacher (To in a new light.

"I wonder if a beautiful young girl like Bess could come to care for an old duffer like me," he pondered. "I had supposed that she considered me an old man!"

A thrill stirred within him as he looked up at the fair young face gazing happily over the waters of the lake on the first night of their arrival. "Bess!" he said suddenly.

But the children had also called "Bess." and she was away for a romp on the beach.

"She is only a child, after all," he thought, with a sigh.

In the Walker boathouse was a canoe which the children were forbidden to use, but Bess one Sunday morning ventured forth alone in it. She managed it very skillfully, but on her return a sudden wind came up and made the lake choppy. She had all she could do to keep the little craft right side up. John Walker, coming out on the veranda of the cottage, saw her danger and rushed to the boathouse, intending to row out after ber. Another emotion besides anxiety surged within him, and he knew now that he loved this playmate of his children. She was making great progress with her tiny cance, and as he rowed out from the boathouse she was landing at the pler.

Uriah Wilson (Lennox and Addington), who retires with the present Parliament, sang his swan song yesterday and added more fuel to the reciprocity debate. He based his judgment on the assumption that reciprocity would diminish Canada's trade with England. He thought that England should give some compensating consideration for the preference. E. Gus Porter (East Hastings) quot-

Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, was vigorously assailed in the Commons yesterday afternoon over the census figures. In reply to an in-terpellation by Mr. Borden on Tuesday the Minister stated that the final figures would not likely be available before October. About 28 per cent. of the enumerators had not made their returns, but the bureau was keeping

He quoted from a local paper severe criticism on the manner in hich the work had been done here, id declared that the system of payg five cents per name was not cal-lated to encourage enterprise. Reimbursed Husband's Clients. Schenectady, N.Y., July 20.-In the will of Mrs. Mary H. L. Thompson, admitted to probate here yesterday, she bequeathed $1,000 each to two women to replace losses suffered by them in 1884 through investments advised by Mrs. Thomson's husband, who was the counsel for a foundry concern which failed here. It was learned that though the Thomson fortune was nearly wiped out by that failure Mrs. Thomson out of her own means since slowly repaid all of her husband's clients except the two mentioned in her will.

Atlas Out on Parole.

Kingston, July 20.-It is reported that Rev. G. M. Atlas, who has served about eight months of a six-year term in the penitentiary on a charge of misappropriating trust funds, was released yesterday by an order from the Minister of Justice, and that he left at noon for Toronto.

According to the prison officials, Atlas was granted only a release on parole.

Seven More Deaths.

Toronto, July 20 .- Seventy will no doubt be the total death list from the Porcupine fire. This seems clear from a message from the relief comyesterday received by Hon. mittee Frank Cochrane. The newly-registered deaths at Por-

York. Osmond Butler, Tangier, N.S. Five are dead at New Liskeard.

They are: Thomas Cooper, Toronto working at Dome mine.

Barnardo Boy's Bones.

London, Ont., July 20.-The police are convinced that the human bones found in the burned barn of Simon Blight at Wiarton on Tuesday are those of John Cousins, the Barnardo boy who mysteriously disappeared some weeks ago, shortly after the barns of a former employer at Lambeth had been destroyed. He has a bad record, including a vicious attack on a farmer's wife.

overtime that night on the solution of the stepmother problem. A day or two after the eventful visit of Miss Cecilia Rayne, as John Walker was passing a little park he met two or three kindergarten teachers walking with their young charges. He gave them but a casual glance, when his attention was attracted by a delighted cry of "Papa!"

The littlest and last child in the procession let go of the hand of the young girl with whom she was walking and rushed up to him.

"Why. Tot!" he said, taking her up in his arms.

Then he looked hesitatingly at the young teacher, who was walking on slowly.

"You must be Mr. Walker," she said naively. "I am Tot's kindergarten teacher.'

"Are you?" he asked interestedly. "I didn't know that Tot attended a kindergarten."

"Didn't you?" she asked anxiously. "Madge brought her to school yesterday and entered her as a pupil. I supposed it was your wish."

"Of course it is," he replied promptly. "only I hadn't thought of it before. I am glad Madge is so wise." "I've learned lots, papa. I'm going to prick you a card," assured Tot.

"Thank you, darling. Where is your school, Miss"- "Worden." she said, supplying the name. "The school is on the corner of Wood and Third streets, three blocks below. Are you fond of children, Mr. Walker?" she asked, looking up at the princess enthroned on his shoulder. "Naturally," he said, with a whimsical smile.

She flushed and laughed a little. "Come and visit our school some time, then."

"I will walk there with you now." he responded promptly, setting Tot down on the sidewalk.

The child instantly appropriated a hand of each guardian and skipped along between them.

"Who takes her to and from school?" he asked, remembering the automobiles and trolley cars.

"Madge bas so far." "Madge said you could stop for me

It was a very merry, winsome face, alight with the excitement and danger, that was lifted to his.

In the reaction from his fright he was beginning to censure her when he was interrupted by Madge, who had appeared upon the scene and who instantly resented her father's lecture.

"You shall not scold her!" she cried hotly. "I wanted her for our stepmother, but I'll give her up if you aren't going to be nice to her."

Bess turned red and pale by turns. "Til race you to the house, Madge," she cried, and they were away.

"Bess," said John softly when he had succeeded in getting an interview, "as I said, I had thought of you as my eighth girl. I don't want to think of you as a stepmother, but I do want you to be my wife and a companion to the girls because I love you. Will you try to care for me?"

The verdict of the world was that John Walker had eight girls now and needed a woman in his house more than ever.

Thin Women.

The contention of Dr. Moots before the Ohio medical convention that there "must be something wrong with the Internal workings of thin women" will find ready indorsement among the Apache Indians. Some years ago a delegation from that tribe came to New York, and at a reception given for them a woman asked one of the chiefs what he thought of the white women be had seen. The late Governor Richard McCormick, who had charge of the party, reluctantly returned the answer given to him by the interpreter.
