AN INTERESTING CASE

Man Who Had Love Intrigues with No Less Than Forty-two Women

London, July 19—"I do not think the earth contains another such scoundrel as the prisoner," said Judge Rentoul yesterday at the Old Bailey, at the conclusion of the trial of "George William Lucid alias Leslie," for obtaining money from women whom he had promised to marry, and with committing bigamy with Ethel Selfe at a Brighton registry office.

In defence of the charge of bigamy prisoner said that there was a great mystery connected with his married life which he did not want to speak about. It was of a delicate character. As a matter of fact the marriage with Miss Selfe, which was alleged to constitute the bigamy he was accused of, was valid. It was true, as the police said, that he had previously married a Mrs. Ransome, but at that time he had a wife alive. That wife died, but the alliance between himself and Mrs. Ransome was, of course, invalid and therefore his marriage with Miss Selfe was legal. "Miss Brandon has used that plot eleven times in her novels," commented the judge.

After prisoner had been found guilty, counsel said he could tell the court something about the delicate domestic relations the prisoner had spoken about. It was true that the prisoner had married Mrs. Ransome—and from her he got £1,500. When the money was gone he left the woman. At the prisoner's lodging 2,700 letters from different women were found, in most of which sums of money were mentioned. The letters showed that he had received £285 from the women in addition to sums the amount of which was not definitely stated in the letters.

In 1909 the prisoner was communicating with twenty-three different women, in the following year thirty-five and this year forty-two. Since prisoner had been arrested a letter from an illiterate person had been sent to the prisoner's lodging containing two £5 notes.

A previous conviction of seven years' penal servitude, passed at Reading, was proved against the prisoner. This he denied, but the police said they were certain for his finger prints were taken.

Inspector Taparden said the prisoner's name was Patrick Moran and he was the son of a well-to-do Tipperary farmer.

He joined an Irish regiment and married at Davenport in 1889, but eventually deserted his wife, leaving her with two children.

In 1892 when in the Berkshire Regiment, he was sentenced to 7 years' penal servitude for forgery and for stealing postal orders. When accused of the theft he tried to blame his fellow officers. His wife died while he was in prison.

The officer added that prisoner, between his release on ticket of leave in 1898 and 1906, when he again married, he obtained £1,100 from ten different women under promises of marriage, and in 1907 he married a well-to-do Bristol lady. This was a second bigamy of which the court had not heard. Some frauds of his also led to the closing of a Catholic Sailors' Home at Plymouth.

"Are you a Catholic?" asked the judge of the prisoner, and the man replied, "I do not wish to give any details."

"The reason I ask," explained his lordship, "is that when an Irish Catholic, whose attachment to his religion is so well known, commits a fraud on his religious body, he has reached the lowest depths of human depravity."

Judge Rentoul referred to the "heartless and cold-blooded character" of the frauds, and sentenced prisoner to seven years' penal servitude. "I have hopes," added the judge, "that the suffragettes will change the law and make such crimes a flogging offence, without giving the judge any option."

"You will hear more of this," explained the prisoner as he was taken from the dock.

GRAND TRUNK

Will Use Phone On Entire System.

The Toronto Globe has the following:

It was announced by Mr. W. W. Ashald, Superintendent of Grand Trunk telegraphs, Montreal, last night at the Queen's Hotel, that the company would adopt in the near future, the despatching of trains by telephone over its entire system, displacing the telegraph for this purpose.

The company has had, two telephone circuits in operation during the past eighteen months and these have given entire satisfaction. These circuits embrace the northern division with one despatcher, from North Parkdale to Burlington Junction via Allandale a distance of 140 miles, and the division from Allandale to North Bay, a distance of 165 miles, with one despatcher.

The entire system of the railway totals above 4,700 miles and the telephone despatching department will include 31 circuits. The same number of operatives will be required as in the present telegraph service. Mr. Ashald said that the telephone system was much superior to the telegraph and in flexibility of operation it was considered much safer.

Around estimate of the costs of installing the system and placing it in operation is $105 a mile. This will bring the entire cost of installation for the system to a round $500,000.

"We use a copper metallic circuit said Mr. Ashald, "having two wires of No 9 gauge of hard group copper."

Each wire weighs 210 pounds per mile. It costs 75 per cent more than the telegraph to install but the railways consider it so much superior to the telegraph that they readily adopt the telephone. A special telephone will be used.

Mr. Ashald also estimates that the telephone saves 50 per cent over the telegraph in time. In issuing orders over the telephone the numbers are first given and then spelled out, as "two-three" for twenty three and the names of towns are first pronounced and then spelled so that the possibility of mistakes is avoided. This check cannot be obtained by telegraph.

The new system has not yet been tried on the northern division and as a consequence there has been no local change a yet.

MONARCH KNIT

—the comfiest coat you can wear in the cool of the evening on the water.

"MONARCH KNIT" is justly the vogue. Because of intrinsic merit and apparent style, fit and shape. Most woollen coats and sweaters are knit in sections and sewn together. The shape is a chance—the style not even a good guess, and there's no surety of the lastingness of either. It's different—a good deal different with "Monarch Knit."

If you want a stunning, comfy coat for evening wear on the water or for autoing just tell your merchant that you want a "Monarch Knit" coat.

He's a personal friend of yours—besides he has excellent reasons for giving you full particulars. Here are two—you'll tell your friends where you got your dandy coat or sweater, and—you'll buy more "Monarch Knit" goods.

Beware of the Dangerous House-fly

In the summer one is reminded that our annual visitor, the common house-fly, swarming about us. The annoyance which this insect causes is sufficient to warrant a painstaking effort by every one to drive this pest from the house, but its presence is also an extreme menace to the health and life of every one whose home it inhabits.

Many instances of serious and fatal disease can be directly attributed to the action of the fly. These creatures, who are always eating or drinking, wander upon decaying garbage, refuse and other filth, or about the helpless bedridden sick, in search of food. At these times their tiny feet, wings and bodies become covered with millions of bacteria, or disease germs. When the meals are being prepared, or at the table, the same flies walk over the family food, leaving great numbers of germs upon the victuals, which soon enter the human body.

Typhoid fever, tuberculosis and the summer complaints of children are but a few of the diseases which may be produced in this way. The fly caused five-sevenths of the infant deaths in New York City last summer!

Throughout the country an earnest effort is being made to set forth the dangers of this pest, and to encourage every person to exert an individual effort to keep the fly from his home. The following rules are advised for the prevention of this nuisance.

- 1 Screen all doors and windows, especially those of the kitchen and dining-rooms
- 2 Keep all food in the pantry covered or screened.
- 3 Flies breed only in the presence of filth. Do not allow decaying matter to exist in or near your house.
- 4 Keep the lid on the garbage can.
- 5 See that your sewerage system is in good order.
- 6 Use plenty of good fly-paper, but keep it out of the reach of children.
- 7 Keep the flies away from the sick.

A Fly Destroyer.

The family toad, says the Marion (Indiana) Leader, as a household necessity is one of the by-products of the "swat the fly" crusade, the toad's appetite for flies being the cause for the sudden popularity.

Notwithstanding the alarm about the fly recently sounded by the medical profession, the toad likes him, likes him in unlimited numbers, without disinfection or sterilization. Some observations of the toad's capacity in the way of flies have suggested that they and frogs should be in every home and particularly numerous in every menagerie.

"Frogs and toads, I have found," Keeper Cy De Vry, of the Lincoln Park Zoo, said, "are the greatest fly eaters in the world. If we have enough of them the flies would soon disappear. We have one big frog out here called Jumbo. He is from Florida and we feed him nothing but flies. In an hour I've watched him eat several hundred flies. We can't give him enough, and I am thinking of turning him out and maybe he'll rid the park of flies attracted by the other animals."

It is about the same with frogs. The head of one house which handles them for live bait and for their legs, said:

"To watch them devour flies is a marvel. My little boy started to

PASSED WITH HONORS.

"I have passed with honors, mother," Said Ned, with conscious pride, As he threw a well-filled book bag On the footstool at her side. "So I've brought my books home, mother, For teacher said to-day That those who passed with honors Could take their things away."

Many have passed with honors Besides this happy boy, And through the long vacation We wish them every joy. Though the days of study are weary So are the future years, But to those who try and conquer Life's great reward appears.

When the paths of light grow broader, And the problems are mastered all And you take your place with the army That answers to duty's call May the children pass with honors, Through temptations, trial and strife, For these will be the problems That will puzzle their after life.

Keep pure and sweet in the struggle Each lesson with patience heed For the world is a school, my children, Where only the brave succeed. We are not all born with talent And learning we cannot buy, But we can pass with honors If we make up our minds to try.

A NEW INVENTION.—An inventor says he has a system for glass bottoming ships and some time soon it is going to be tried out on a big ocean-going steamer. He has already made a long and thorough test of his invention on an electric launch. The chief aim is in the saving of coal, although the greater speed is not to be overlooked.

Most Canadians Have Catarrh

Our Changeable Climate is Responsible.

Where the atmosphere is damp, with sudden changes in temperature, almost everybody has Catarrh, in some form or other. The ordinary cold in the head inflames and weakens the membranes lining the nose and throat, and starts a discharge. The next cold is more easily caught, and soon the patient is never quite free of it.

As Catarrh develops the discharge increases—drops into the throat, especially at night—and takes on an offensive odor. Besides being exceedingly disagreeable, there is great danger of the disease extending to the lungs, stomach, or bowels.

Though it is very difficult to cure, Father Morrissy devised a combined internal and external treatment that has cured thousands. The Tablets tone up and invigorate the system, and assist Nature in throwing off the disease, while the saline, applied up the nostrils, clears out the discharge and heals the membranes. Combined treatment, 50c at your dealer's, or from Father Morrissy Medicine Co., Ltd., Montreal, Que.

FILLING HANSARD

Conservatives Continue Their Obstruction Tactics.

JUDGE MURPHY'S REPORT

Sir Wilfrid Finds That the Culprits Whom It Was Thought Undesirable to Scare Away Are In China and Brings Down Finding In Pacific Coast Case—New Parcel Postage Projects Announced

Ottawa, July 22.—Parliament's first week-end since resuming has been reached with nothing done. Of the thirty odd hours the House has been in session, the Opposition obstruction to reciprocity and redistribution has occupied all but two. No resolutions or proposals, beyond an indefinitely-worded amendment to recognize "in some substantial manner" the Fenian veterans on the first day of the meeting, have been submitted or suggested. It is an expensive plan of time-killing by unceasing talk to empty benches and to Hansard.

Yesterday's declared purpose of the obstructionists to devote another day to obstruction on the immigration act by moving an amendment, calling for the production of Judge Murphy's report on his investigation, was badly upset by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who tabled the document in question with the brief comment that as the culprits whose prosecution the judge recommended were in China, and could not consequently be apprehended, he was making its contents public, even in face of the commissioner's recommendation.

R. L. Borden inquired of Mr. Fisher as to alleged census irregularity. He had received a letter from a gentleman living in an apartment house in Toronto, in which it was stated that twenty-two people living in the apartment had not been counted. When an explanation had been asked for, the reply was that there were enough other names to make up for those missed.

Mr. Fisher said that he would prefer to wait until he had made a thorough enquiry into the charges of irregularity.

Mr. Borden wanted to know when the special committee named to inquire into the charges against Hon. Frank Oliver would get down to work. He thought it was strange that no action had been taken since the House opened to call this committee together.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier suggested that it was owing to the slim attendance of members.

A. H. Clarke (S. Essex), chairman of the committee, explained that the members of the committee were not all here, one was still missing, but would be in Ottawa in a day or two. A. C. Boyce (West Algoma) brought up the question of the preparation of the voters' lists in the unorganized districts of Ontario. After referring to the discussion of 1908 he said that he had received semi-official information that the lists were now being made up, and that a board of registration was being constituted.

After declaring that in 1908 the lists in these districts had been padded, Mr. Boyce asked the Government if there had been a proclamation for an earlier preparation of the lists and, if so, what time would be occupied in the work.

Sir Alan Aylesworth said that the administration of the act was not in the hands of any Department of the Government, but on the judges of the courts in the districts. Sir Alan said that in 1908 there had been probably need for a limit to the preparation period as far as the law would permit. He had heard no complaints except from Mr. Boyce, and was encouraged to think that no amendment was necessary.

W. R. Smythe (East Algoma) said that he was one of the sufferers from the iniquitous list got up by the Government in 1908, when it had been found necessary to send Dominion police officers up to Algoma for the protection of life and property. He spoke of a list of 600 names at a poll a long way from civilization, in which case the enumerator had told him that he had got some of the names from a foreman, some from men going into the woods, and some from a lawyer in Blind River friendly to the Government.

Parcel post as a means of relieving the country from excessive express charges occupied the attention of the House of Commons for the entire afternoon yesterday. The discussion was initiated by W. F. Maclean (South York), on the motion to go into committee on reciprocity. Mr. Maclean based his argument on the triumph of public ownership in overcoming monopolies, and urged that state competition in the matter of public services would result in tolls being reduced one-third, and probably one-half instancing in support of his contention that people in European countries had received great benefit from the introduction of state competition.

Mr. Maclean secured from the Postmaster-General a statement that improvements in this direction were contemplated. First, in regard to a reduction of cable tolls between Canada and Great Britain, and second, that he had studied the question of the parcel post, and had already given instructions to George Ross, chief superintendent at Toronto, to carry on an investigation and make a report.

Other members expressed strong views on the subject. Responding to the appeal of the member for South York, two western Conservative members, Dr. Schaffner (Souris), and Glen Campbell (Dauphin), came out strongly in support of his contention. Both enlarged their views to include a general reduction in carriage tolls, which they declared was a big issue among the farmers. Dr. Sproule (S. Grey) and F. R. Lalor (Haldimand) were also outspoken in regard to present conditions.

The Evening Guide

PORT HOPE, JULY 22, 1911

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

Mr. Peak, I have a plain word to say to you. More than a year ago you asked me for my goodwill, to you in getting a social position. Say what you like, I see now that you dealt with me dishonestly. I can no longer be your friend in any sense, and I shall do my best to have you excluded from my parents' house. My father will read this essay—I have marked the significant passages throughout—and will form from his own judgment; I know what it will be.

"You are within your rights," "Undoubtedly," replied Buckland, with polished insolence, as he rose from his seat. "I can't forbid you to go to the house again, but—I hope we mayn't meet there. It would be very unpleasant."

Godwin was still pressing down the tobacco in the bowl of his pipe. He smiled and glanced about the room. Did Warricombe know how far things had gone between him and Sidwell? Whether or no, it was certain now that Sidwell would be informed of this disastrous piece of authorship—and the result?

What did it matter? There is no struggling against destiny. If he and Sidwell were ever fated to come together, why, these difficult would all be surmounted. If, as seemed more than likely, he was again to be foiled on the point of success—he could bear it, perhaps even enjoyed the comedy.

"There is no possibility of arguing against determined anger," he said, quietly. "I am not at all inclined to plead for justice; one only does that with a friend who desires to be just. My opinions are utterly distasteful to you, and personal motives have made you regard me as—a scoundrel to be got rid of. Well, there's an end of it. I don't see what is to be gained by further talk."

This was a dismissal. Godwin felt the necessity of asserting himself thus far.

"One question," said Warricombe as he put the periodical back into his pocket. "What do you mean by my 'personal motives'?"

"Their eyes met for an instant. 'I mean the motives which you have spoken of.'"

It was Buckland's hope that Peak might reveal his relations with Sidwell, but he shrank from seeming to know anything of the matter. Clearly, no light from this source.

"I am afraid," he said, moving to the door, "that you will find my motives shared by all the people whose acquaintance you have made in Exeter."

And without further leave-taking he departed.

There was a doubt in his mind. Peak's coolness might be the audacity of rascaldom; he preferred to understand it so; but it might have nothing to do with baseness.

"Confound it!" he muttered to himself, irritably. "In our times life is so deucedly complicated. It used to be the easiest thing to convict a man of religious hypocrisy; nowadays, one has to bear in mind such a multiplicity of fine considerations. There's that fellow Bruno Chilvers: mightn't anyone who had personal reasons treat him precisely as I have treated Peak? Both of them may be honest. Yet in Peak's case all appearances are against him—just because he is of low birth, has no means, and wants desperately to get into society. The fellow is a scoundrel; I am convinced of it. Yet his designs may be innocent. How, then a scoundrel?"

"Poor devil! Has he really fallen in love with Sidwell?"

"Humbly! He wants position, and the comfort it brings. And if he hadn't acted like a blackguard—if he had come among us telling the truth—who knows? Sidwell wouldn't then have thought of him, but for my own part I would willingly have given him a hand. There are plenty of girls who have learned to think for themselves."

This was an unhappy line of reflection. It led to Sylvia Moorhouse and to grinding of the teeth. By the time, he reached the house, Buckland was again in remorseless mood.

He would have it out with Sidwell. The desire of proving to her that he had been right from the first overrode all thought of the pain he might inflict.

She was in the library. At breakfast he noticed her heavy eyes and that she made only a pretence of eating. She was now less unlike herself, but her position at the window showed that she had been waiting impatiently.

"Isn't mother coming down to-day?" he asked.

Asquith Tells Peers That King Will Support Him.

SURRENDER IS CERTAIN

Unionists In Caucus on Receiving a Letter From the Premier Decide to Reserve Decision Until Monday, But Bill is Now Expected to Pass Untouched When It Reaches the Lords Again.

London, July 22.—The constitutional revolution last night appeared to be an accomplished fact. Great Britain in the future will be governed practically by the House of Commons, with its hereditary Upper House possessing only a veto with a time limit of two years. The peers find their one gleam of hope in the predictions that the next Conservative Government will overturn Asquith's revolution and restore the old conditions, but the Radicals are confident that in such matters the hands of the clock will never turn back.

Thursday the future career of the veto bill was apparent to all politicians and its eventual acceptance by the House of Lords not doubted. Premier Asquith dispelled all clouds yesterday by communicating informally to Mr. Balfour, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons the substance of an announcement which he will make in that House on Monday. His letter which Mr. Balfour communicated to the meeting of the House yesterday afternoon was brief and to the point. The Prime Minister stated that the King had agreed to take such measures as were necessary to secure the passage of the bill, and brushed aside the lingering hope the peers have cherished that the crown would refuse to lend itself to weakening the prestige of the nobility, which stands between the crown and the people. The Premier's letter was as follows:

"I think it is courteous and right before any public decisions are announced to let you know how we regard the political situation. When the Parliament bill in the form in which it has now assumed returns to the House of Commons we shall be compelled to ask that House to disagree with the Lords' amendments. In the circumstances, should the necessity arise, the Government will advise the King to exercise his prerogative to secure the passing into the law of the bill in substantially the same form in which it left the House of Commons, and His Majesty has been pleased to signify that he will consider it his duty to accept and act on that advice.

"Yours sincerely, "H. H. Asquith." Yesterday was a day of caucuses. Three meetings were held to discuss the situation. The Cabinet assembled early with a full attendance and sat for two hours. Later the Conservative leaders of both Houses met at Mr. Balfour's residence, the Marquis of Lansdowne, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the Marquis of Londonderry, the Earl of Selborne, Austen Chamberlain, the Rt. Hon. Henry Chaplin, the Earl of Halsbury and the Marquis of Salisbury being the principal figures of the conference.

The last and most impressive gathering was at Lansdowne House, which has been the scene of many important political meetings, but none as historic as this. More than two hundred peers, among them almost all the greatest names of their order, assembled and listened to the reading of the Prime Minister's letter and practically decided that they must accept the inevitable with the best grace they can.

Lord Lansdowne, Lord Halsbury, the Duke of Norfolk, the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Bedford, Lord Salisbury, the Duke of Somerset, Lord Curzon, Lord Selborne and several lesser lights made speeches, after which a statement was given out that the peers reserved decision as to government on Monday. Apparently this was mere temporizing. The Lords are not anxious to emphasize their surrender, but, speaking privately, few failed to say that they no longer consider themselves, in Lord Lansdowne's words, free agents, and will yield to the Government's threat to invoke the royal prerogative.

British Officers For Canada.

Ottawa, July 22.—In furtherance of the scheme of Major-General Sir John French for the organization of the Canadian militia, a number of British officers have been secured for service of the Department. Some have already arrived.

The intention is to place a second grade staff officer in charge of the training at each division. Col. Gwatkin, first grade staff officer, will be in charge of mobilization at headquarters, and the others are Capt. L. J. Lipsitt, Royal Irish Regiment; Major L. F. Phillips, King's Royal Rifles; Capt. Gordon-Hall, Yorkshire Light Infantry; Capt. R. J. F. Hayter, Cheshire Regiment; Lieut.-Col. C. E. English, Royal Engineers; Major W. Robertson, Royal Engineers.

New York to Extend Subways.

New York, July 22.—The city yesterday awarded the whole $225,000,000 subway extension to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. The city will contribute $123,000,000 for the new lines, and allow $27,500,000 for subway houses it has now under construction, making the total expenditure by the taxpayer $150,500,000. The railway company will spend the remaining $75,000,000.

Charge Reduced.

Berlin, July 22.—As a result of the physician's testimony concerning the post-mortem examination on the body of an infant found in the park lake several weeks ago, the charge of murder preferred against Annie Geletzki, Polish girl, was withdrawn in the Police Court yesterday morning. She was committed for trial on a charge of concealment of birth.

GOES TO TRIAL. W. J. Lindsay Is Committed on Charge of Conspiracy.

Toronto, July 22.—William J. Lindsay, stock seller for the collapsed Farmers' Bank, was committed for trial from the Police Court yesterday morning by Magistrate Denison upon a charge of conspiracy with W. R. Travers, former general manager of the bank, to secure fraudulently the certificate of the Treasury Board of Canada which enabled the bank to commence business. He will appear at the next sittings of the assizes after vacation.

William Laidlaw, K.C., was a witness at yesterday's hearing and told of receiving complaints from a number of Halton County farmers who had subscribed for stock upon Lindsay's solicitation. He swore that he had issued a writ on behalf of these complainants against Lindsay and others asking the rescinding of all stock subscriptions and seeking an injunction debarring an application for the bank's charter. A copy of the writ was forwarded to Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance setting out the alleged frauds. He heard that an emissary of the bank had gone to Hamilton and agreed to cancel the subscriptions and to refund payments made and that the court had consented to the withdrawal of the writ. It was said that about $80,000 of the $250,000 required for the issue of the certificates was alleged to have been secured in this way. Mr. Laidlaw said that these could not have been bona fide subscriptions when the certificate was obtained.

Mr. Lindsay was committed for trial and bail at $8,000 was renewed.

TOOK NO NOTICE.

Persia Blames Russia and Britain For Uprising.

Teheran, July 22.—The Persian Government yesterday sent a note to the British and Russian legations, pointing out that the various representations made on the subject of the intrigues of the deposed shah, Mohammed Ali Mirza, had been uniformly ignored, and alleging that the indifference of the British and Russian representatives had produced the natural effect in Mohammed Ali's landing in Persia.

The note adds that the Persian Government regrets that it has not received the assistance from Great Britain and Russia, which it had the right to expect in virtue of the protocol of August 25, 1909. The situation is of the gravest nature. The Government, in spite of its first show of energy, is disposed to temporize, and nothing yet has been done in the way of equipping an expedition to proceed against the ex-shah and the revolutionaries who are active in Kurdistan. Two thousand Bakhtiariars have been summoned to Teheran, but the War Minister says that the force cannot be set in motion for ten days.

Shots Fired In Strike.

Montreal, July 22.—The first case of violence in the carpenters' strike was reported yesterday morning when two shots were fired at a body of striking carpenters, as they were on their way from the United Shoe Machinery Building, now under construction, to the Labor Temple. The shots were fired by a non-union foreman who is employed on the job. Fortunately each shot missed and no one was hurt. No arrest has been made, but the union men state that they know the name and address of the man alleged to have fired the shots and that he will be taken in charge.

A different version is given by J. N. Fournier, the foreman accused of shooting, who admitted that he had fired, but declared that he fired in the air with the object of frightening the men, several of whom had threatened to attack him. He said that he had reported the affair to the police and had asked for protection, which was promised him.

Almost Queered Election.

Ottawa, July 22.—In connection with a fire which occurred at the printing bureau on Thursday, it developed that Canada came very near not having the expected election this fall.

It all hinged on a fire which started in the long grass beside the printing bureau, and which was extinguished by a volunteer fire brigade from the bureau. Right beside the burning grass was a pile of old packing boxes, and beside the pile of packing boxes was a long shed. In the shed were housed the recently revised voters' lists of Canada in type. Had the packing boxes caught the flames would have spread to the shed. Had the shed become ignited the voters' lists would almost assuredly have been ruined.

Hot In Old Lunnun.

London, July 22.—London yesterday sweltered in the hottest weather in five years, the temperature reaching 88 degrees in the shade. Lord Justice Williams, presiding over the appeal court, made an almost unprecedented sacrifice of judicial dignity to comfort by doffing his wig and permitting the barristers to follow suit.

The hot spell has now been unbroken for two weeks and London is threatened with an ice famine. Thousands are flocking to the seaside and the country. No rain has fallen in the greater part of the country districts for three weeks and farmers are complaining bitterly of ruined crops.

Aviator Is Suspended.

London, July 22.—In the case of Aviator Gilmore, who applied for an order restraining the Royal Aero Club from suspending him because of his action in flying over the Henley course during the recent races, the court yesterday declined to issue the order.

It expressed the view, however, that the action of the Royal Aero Club in suspending Gilmore's French pilot's certificate was not an effective suspension of that license.

WILL PASS TO-DAY

Reciprocity Lacks Nothing But Last Formalities.

TO BE SIGNED WEDNESDAY

Senator Townsend's Amendment to the Measure is Voted Down by a Large Vote—Taft Has Trunk Packed For Week-End and Fight on Bill is Now Over — It is Thought Majority Will Be Large.

Washington, July 22.—Senator Townsend's amendment to the reciprocity bill, providing for international improvement of the St. Lawrence river, was defeated in the Senate yesterday by a large vote.

Mr. Townsend spoke in favor of his amendment, which would have authorized the President to enter into an agreement with Canada for the improvement and deepening of the river from the great lakes to the ocean. He said it would greatly develop commerce, reduce freight rates, and work toward closer commercial relations with Canada.

Senator Stone opposed putting waterway legislation upon the reciprocity bill. He said it should come up in Congress as a separate proposition, and that as such it probably would be favorably acted upon.

The Senate adjourned until to-day at 11, when only the votes on the various amendments and the final passage of the bill remain. President Taft has his trunk packed for a week-end at Beverly, Massachusetts. Friends of the bill look for its passage by two to one, if there is even such a stubborn opposition.

Senator Smith said yesterday afternoon that the utmost his forces could muster would be thirty-two or thirty-three out of ninety-one Senators.

It became known last night that if the Senate passes the reciprocity bill to-day it cannot be signed by the President before Wednesday. This is due to the fact that to-day's sitting of the House of Representatives is a very brief one, and as the presiding officer of each Chamber must sign a measure while his House is in session before it can be signed by the President, these conditions cannot be complied with to-day. Senators Penrose and Crane tried to induce Speaker Champ Clark to prolong the sitting of the House till the Senate had finished, but he declined, saying it had been arranged that nothing would be done at to-day's sitting, and he could not go back on that.

'Twas Bedlam Broken Loose.

Viterbo, Italy, July 22.—During yesterday morning's exciting clash between the defence counsel and prosecutors in the Camorra trial, the prisoners in the great steel cage formed a sort of clique, hissing and cursing their accuser, and applauding their lawyers. Giovanni Bartolozzia and others pressed their heads between the bars of the cage like wild animals, struggling to reach their tormentor. "Get your heads back in there," ordered the carabinieri, with a threatening movement.

"No, cut off our heads. Yes, behead us," they cried. Then Bartolozzia tumbled over in a fit. Doctors entered the cage, and were followed by a score of carabinieri, each of whom seized a prisoner and held him until he was physically exhausted.

Located Engineer's Body.

Port Colborne, July 22.—The Hamilton auxiliary crane, working all day, succeeded in raising the tender and trucks of the large Mogul engine, which plunged into the Welland Canal here on Thursday night. The diver has located the body of Engineer Charles Smith of Sarnia, which cannot be reached, being jammed in the cabin of the engine. Pontoons will be brought here to-day, and Supt. Weller hopes to have the canal cleared by to-night.

COLONIES NOT BOUND.

Premier Fisher Maintains Right to Sever Imperial Tie.

London, July 22.—The Review of Reviews publishes a remarkable interview with Sir Andrew Fisher, who is alleged to have said: "Don't talk to me of Empire; we are not an Empire. No end of mischief has come from the use of that word. We are a very loose association of five nations, each independent, each for the time being willing to remain in fraternal co-operative union with Great Britain and each other, but only on condition that we may at any time and for any cause terminate the connection."

"We are independent, self-governing communities, absolutely untrammelled by any laws, treaties or constitutions. We are free to take our own course according to what we believe to be our own interests, without anyone being able to prevent us."

"There is no necessity for us to say whether we will or will not take part in any of England's wars. If we are threatened we should have decided whether to defend ourselves, and if we thought the war unjust and England's enemy in the right to haul down the Union Jack, hoist our own flag and start on our own account. We don't expect to be attacked and don't contemplate a declaration of independence, because, except as a riddance of risk of being attacked by England's foes, we could gain nothing, as we are as independent as any other sovereign state and might lose much."

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Eight Canadians are in the final stage for the King's Prize shoot at Bisley.

Mrs. A. H. Boomer, well-known for works of benevolence in London, Ont., was seriously hurt in a runaway accident.

Wesley and Ernest Campbell, Wesley's wife and two children, missing since the fire at Porcupine, have been found.

It is stated that Mr. D. C. Cameron of Winnipeg will be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, in succession to Sir Daniel McMillan.

Alex. Hargu, one of the sailors taken on the steamer Bendu, died at Quebec, and another man is very low. The nature of the disease has not yet been determined.

Gas companies operating in the Bayham field are engaged in a lively war, and it is expected people in Vienna and Port Burwell will enjoy free gas for a year as a result.

Vice-President Bosworth of the C.P.R. has returned from England, and reports that he placed an order for two new steamers for the company's Pacific service.

Miss Ida Newlands, visiting at New Westminster, B.C., was in an auto at Agassiz, which swerved at a bridge and plunged into the creek, where she was nearly drowned.

In an incendiary fire that destroyed two dwellings, a saloon and grocery store in the foreign quarter at Niagara Falls, N.Y., yesterday, two infants were rescued by being thrown from windows by firemen.

Judge Murphy's report on the Vancouver Chinese investigation says there was free smuggling of Chinese and opium. He blames the Chinese interpreters, and exonerates the Liberal executive and the Government officials.

One man was severely burned about the back, chest and abdomen. Another was taken from the front window of the upper storey by the firemen in a blaze which damaged the English Chop House in Toronto. The rest of the 12 guests and eight employees were able to make their way to safety.

45,000 Harvesters Needed.

Winnipeg, July 22.—A conference was held in Winnipeg on Thursday between Deputy Ministers of Agriculture for provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and the Dominion Government Commissioner of Immigration, dealing with the question of harvest laborers needed this year and most conservative estimates place the number at from 40,000 to 45,000. The Government reports show that winter wheat in Alberta and the earlier districts in South Saskatchewan and Manitoba will commence cutting before August 10, and harvesting will be in full swing by August 15 to 20. The railway companies are taking action to co-operate with a view of obtaining the necessary labor and in this connection the general agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific advises that that company can take care of 4,000 or 5,000 along their line by August 8 and 9, and commencing August 15 as fast as they can be obtained.

Tuberculosis Congress.

Rome, July 22.—The central committee has granted the request of the foreign committees for the postponement of the next international congress on tuberculosis from September 15th to the following April.

The official explanation is that the foreign committees considered that September was not a propitious season for the meeting and were further influenced by the fact that the program could not be completed in time.

It had been reported earlier that the postponement was sought because of the prevalence of cholera in Italy. The congress will be held in this city.

Win For the G.T.R.

Providence, R.I., July 22.—The G.T.R. went in its first contest in the Rhode Island courts yesterday with its rival, the New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railroad, when Judge Baker, in the Superior Court, granted its petition for an injunction restraining the New Haven road from proceeding with the construction of freight houses in the proposed path of the new road at Woonsocket.

MARKET REPORTS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, July 21.—The black rust bug-bait was banished from the wheat pit to-day and so was the fear of Canadian frost. With traders deciding that for the time being neither menace would prove serious, the market fell back and there was a weak close, 3-8c to 1-2c and 5-8c under last night. Final sales left corn 1-4c to 1-3c down, oats off 7-8c to 1-1-4c and hog products varying from the level of 24 hours before to 30c decline.

The Liverpool market closed to-day 3/4 to 1/2 higher than yesterday on wheat, and 1/2 higher on corn. At Berlin, wheat closed 1/2 higher, at Budapest 1/2 higher, Antwerp holiday.

The local export trade in the market for coarse grains was quiet, but prices are well maintained. There was some demand from buyers for new crop winter wheat flour, and as Ontario millers are selling it at 10c per barrel below world crop wheat flour, sales were made for August shipment. The export demand is quiet, but the local demand continues good. Rolled oats have advanced 20c per barrel under a good demand for export account. Demand for millfeed is good.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP

Will all those who intend to go to camp at Rice Lake communicate with the Secretary as soon as possible.
 Every boy must have a vacation. Here is an opportunity among surroundings that are healthful inviting and ideal.
 Every boy should know how to play the games of boyhood in order that he may be fitted to play the game of life. At the camp there will be a high grade athletic organization.
 It is in the interests of the town that every boy be a member of the "Y." This camp is for the purpose of increasing the interest. The committee are sparing no effort or expense to make the camp a success and with the support of the citizens it cannot fail.
 The boys will go to camp on Tuesday, Aug. 1st, but an advance party will be on the grounds and have everything ready when the boys arrive.
 Parents will do well to take sufficient interest in the camp to make enquiries with a view to permitting their boys to come.
 Watch for the camp circular on Tuesday afternoon, it will contain a lot of information.
 Aug. 7th is Civic Holiday, picnickers will be welcome on the grounds.

JOHNSON'S OPINION OF ENGLAND.—Mr. J. Arthur Johnson, he who in the roped arena at San Francisco humbled the white race of America into a dislike of prize fight pictures has been proclaiming his belief after experience, that England is the freest and most just country on earth. Mr. Johnson is more than a slugger. He can think, as well as put rivals beyond the power of thinking.—Ottawa Journal.

WAS KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—While George Walter Walt, who lived on lot 16 con. 3, East Whitty was sitting by the stove in his kitchen Monday evening, during the electric storm, the lightning came in through the chimney and struck him rendering him unconscious. His wife and daughter had just left the room a second before, else they might have suffered the same fate. Medical aid was summoned at once, but the stricken man died before medical assistance arrived, never regaining consciousness. The only mark on his body was a slight abrasion across his right shoulder and breast.—Oshawa Reformer.

WAITING TO BE INSPECTED.—It will not be long before the Canadian Northern Railway will have regular trains running between Toronto and Trenton. The line is practically ready, but it has not yet been passed upon by the Railway Commission whose inspector may go over it any day. Therefore it is possible for the Railway Company to name a definite date for the commencement of the surface. It is said, however, that they hope to establish it on or about August 15th.
 A story to the effect that a C. N. R. train has already run into Trenton likely owes origin to the fact that one day last week a party of officials went on a train composed of an engine and one coach down the line as far as the Kingston Road crossing this side of Cobourg.

If you want to reach the people, advertise in "The People's Paper"—THE GUIDE.
