

POLICE COURT

W. Wilson of Port Hope faced two charges before Magistrate W. A. F. Campbell in Police Court here this morning and an adjournment until Thursday afternoon at 2.30 was made. Accused faced two charges, (1) intoxication and (2) by assaulting Chief T. Murphy with intent to resist his apprehension contrary to section 296 (c) of the Criminal Code.

W. F. Kerr, K.C., of Cobourg, acted for the Crown.

Warrant Issued

No response was made when the name of Julia Peverall was called and a warrant was issued for her arrest. Accused resides on the Cranberry Road and Chief of Police T. Murphy and Provincial Constable H. Storey visited the premises this morning only to find that the accused is out of town.

She faces a charge of permitting drunkenness on her premises.

Spending ten days in jail on forgery charge, E. M. Cooper filed suit for $50,000 for false arrest at Scranton, Pa., another man convicted for same offence.

HELP PROBLEM WILL BE SERIOUS

70,000 Extra Laborers Needed If Fine Weather Continues

The problem of harvesters for the west threatens to be serious, for if good weather continues 70,000 extra farm hands will be needed. Government departments and railway companies are at present engaged in finding where these will come from. Employment index on July 1, was the highest since 1920, for construction, mining and industry have absorbed all available labor. It is proposed to call on British labor, as was done four years ago, but this time better arrangements for transporting back to England all who desire to return will be insisted by the Canadian Government.

Western United States is another source of supply, for there the crop is earlier than in Canada and cheap transportation can be arranged. The big problem is to supply the 70,000 laborers and yet not have them a drain on the country when their three months' work is ended.

According to will of late A. S. Peacock, New York, worth millions left widow $5 and sons $100 each.

FUTURE BAND CONCERTS WILL BE CALLED OFF

Payments of Grant Held up and Executive Interviewed Council Monday

Following an interview by the Executive of the Port Hope Band with the Town Council in the Clerk's office at the Town Hall Monday evening, Bandmaster Walter Fraser announced that all band concerts listed for Sunday evening throughout the summer would be called off. This action was caused by the Council's failure to make the $500.00 grant to the Port Hope Band.

Sometime ago members of the Band waited on the Council regarding a band grant and subsequently a resolution was passed granting the band the sum of $500. To date, the check has not been handed to the band although it has been signed by the Mayor.

The Council refused to give the band a definite answer Monday night regarding the payment of the grant pending a special meeting to be held Friday evening. This being unsatisfactory, the band authorities announced to the press that all future band concerts would be called off, pending the special meeting.

The Port Hope Band has rapidly grown to be a very talented organization and large audiences have greeted their weekly concerts. Several contributions have been received from appreciative citizens.

FIRST TAX BILLS ARE DISTRIBUTED

Approximately seven hundred tax bills were mailed through the local post office this morning by Tax Collector A. J. Chesher and ratepayers will receive their little accounts of indebtedness to the corporation in due course.

Four per cent discount will be allowed on all taxes paid in full before August 7th while three per cent is allowed on part payment before that date. December 14th is the last date for payment before a penalty is added.

The remainder of the notices will be sent out as soon as possible and about two thousand notices will be sent out in all.

JEWEL THEFT AT OSHAWA

Burglars Gain Entrance to Store Through Rear Cellar Window

Burglars entering by the cellar window at the rear of the store and breaking through the rear door, which was secured by a bolt and lock, Arthur O. Felt's jewelry store, 14 King Street East, Oshawa, was the scene of a $1000 robbery Sunday night.

The robbery took place between 10.30 o'clock and 8.15 Monday morning. All was well when Mr. Felt was in the store for a few minutes Sunday night, but when he returned to open up for business he immediately sensed something was wrong when he saw the trays out of place and the door of the safe open. On investigating, Mr. Felt found about 15 pocket watches and three dozen wrist watches had been taken, along with about $150 in cash and a quantity of tie pins of the better class.

The mystery of the situation, however, was that, although the burglars had the whole store at their mercy, including the contents of the safe, they took only cash, watches and tie pins, and overlooked several trays of valuable signet rings which had even been moved from their usual place, and which were worth over $1500. They also overlooked about $2000 worth of diamonds and other precious stones which could have been taken away just as easily as the other articles which are now missing.

Claiming he was intoxicated and not realizing what he did when married, A. D. Stark sues for annulment at Trenton, N. J.

AUSTRALIA NEEDS BRITISH SETTLERS

Premier Bruce Says Dole Could Finance Development Plan Information

In a speech before the Sydney Chamber of Commerce, Prime Minister Bruce said that Australia's greatest desire was an ever increasing inflow of British people, but that the flow must be conditioned by the country's power for economic absorption.

We are not prepared to undermine our standard of national health by lowering the standard of physical fitness we require for emigrants. By the difficulties today are largely due to her failure to recognize in the past that a permanent solution of her great problem of surplus population could only be achieved through the development of the great potential resources of the Dominions and evolving a great scheme of Empire co-operation.

"Australia can economically absorb a population only by the development of her natural resources and expanding her secondary industries.

"At present Britain is spending between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000 in doles to those for whom work cannot be found. Surely it would be worth while to expend what in comparison would be small sums to promote development and create useful avenues for men, whose morale, under the present system, must inevitably be undermined. Of the 15,000,000 pounds provided by Great Britain during the last five years for overseas development only a fraction was spent. I suggest that the reason was because the problem has never been really tackled."

C. N. R. TIED FOR SECOND PLACE

C. N. R. Have Narrow Escape When Mathews Are Defeated 13-12

Frank Bird's C. N. R. softball team had a narrow escape from defeat at Viaduct Park Monday night and after seven innings of hectic softball, the Mathews were trailing by one run and the C. N. R. crew won 13-12. The win for the Railroaders places them in second position in a tie with the Bankers, both teams having won eight and lost four games.

"Red" Sherry started the twirling for the C. N. R. aggregation and was somewhat erratic. Kennedy and Hulet, the first two batters drew walks and Taggart was sent to the mound. Kennedy scored on a passed ball and Hulet stole home. Taggart issued J. Laurie a pass but then settled down to retire the next three men in order.

The C. N. R. coralled twelve hits with Taggart leading with three safeties and Francey and Bird two apiece. McCullough handed out four walks while Taggart also had the same number and Sherry two.

C. Trew for the losers had a perfect average with the bat and secured four hits while D. Trew had two, one going for a triple in the sixth frame.

Entering the seventh innings, one run down, the Mathews valiantly tried to knot the count. McCullough rolled to the box and Trew hit safely through second and went to the middle sack on a passed ball. With third base uncovered Trew piffed third. Kennedy drew his third walk and stole second. Hulet skied to right field and J. Laurie was called out on strikes to end the game.

The Teams: — Mathews — Kennedy, ss; Hulet, lf and 3rd; J. Laurie, 3rd and lf; R. Laurie, 1st; D. Trew, c; Winfield, cf; Sibley, rf; McCullough, p; C. Trew, 2nd.

C. N. R.—Guy, ss and 3rd; Hills, 2nd; Francey, c; Highfield, lf; Bird, 1st; O'Neill, 3rd and ss; F. Hills, rf; Cook, rf; Taggart, p; Sherry, p and cf; Jones, cf.

Umpires — Henderson at plate, Rowden on bases.

JOY OR SORROW—When the righteous are in authority the people rejoice; but when the wicked bear the rule, the people mourn.—Prov. 29:2.

PRAYER—Lord, we would ever seek in faithfulness to secure only the righteous for official position.

CANADIAN WINS FINAL

Percy Williams Triumphs in Final Heat of Olympic 100 Metres

Percy Williams, 20 year old Vancouver youth, Thursday brought to Canada world supremacy in the Olympic 100 metres, one of the greatest contests of the Olympiad, thus fulfilling the glorious promise of his achievements in Canada and in the opening day trials on Sunday.

It was a day of glorious achievement for the British Empire. Added to the sparkling performance of the Vancouver streak was the victory in the 400-metre hurdles of Lord David Burghley of England and the winning of the 16-pound hammer-throw by Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan, brawny Irishman. "Lord Davy" earned his points in a thrilling final in which the defeated contestants included F. Morgan Taylor of the United States, the champion, and record-holder and Frank Cuhel, another much-fancied member of Uncle Sam's contingent.

Williams, a mere boy among the redoubtable sprinters who opposed him in the final, swept through to win by a yard over J. E. London, big British negro. Lammers of Germany was third. The Canadian, altogether apart from his speed, displayed coolness and cleverness in his race that stamped him as one of the world's finest sprinters.

The Canadian boy's time in the final was 10 4-5 seconds. In an earlier semi-final he ran a close second to MacAllister of the United States in 10 3-5 seconds, equalling the Olympic record. Williams, set this time himself in a heat Saturday, and he had also run the distance in 10 3-5 seconds in Canada. The world record is 10 2-5 seconds, held by Charley Paddock, California.

Canadian headquarters were all excited by Williams' victory, and the spirit of exultation undoubtedly strung the morale of all competing Canadians, in all branches of sport, even higher than before. Captain J. R. Cornelius, veteran Canadian coach, and a canny Scot to boot, was undoubtedly elated with the Vancouver youth's feat, but he pointed out, with characteristic caution, that the games were not over yet.

R. R. HALL, K.C., CONGRATULATES COMMISSION ON DECISION TO INSPECT ORILLIA UTILITIES

The members of the Peterboro Utilities Commission are to be congratulated upon their decision to go to Orillia to inspect the operations of the Orillia Light and Power Commission because they will get first hand information from the Orillia Commission, which was not cajoled or humbugged into casting in their lot with the Hydro Electric Power Commission. It is most important that the members of the local commission should make a close comparative examination of the statements and rates furnished by the Orillia Commission and by the Peterboro Commission.

Orillia's Electric Power Assets Our local commission will find that Orillia is the owner of 6,000 h.p. without any Hydro Electric strings attached to it. They will also find that as of the 10th of December last, Orillia's electrical department owned electric power plants worth $833,156.68 and of this amount no less a sum than $32,503.73 is invested in gilt edged securities to provide for the future retirement of liabilities against her electrical department.

Our local commission will further find that Orillia is prepared to sell 10 h.p. or over on a flat rate basis, delivered to her manufacturers at $13 per h.p. per annum for ten hour service and for prompt payment the manufacturer will be allowed a discount of 15% off his power bill. If the manufacturer wants to run 24 hour service a day, he will be charged only $18 per h.p. per annum on the rated capacity of his motor and for prompt payment will be allowed a discount of 15%.

Orillia and Hydro Commission Every possible effort was made by the Hydro Commission of Ontario to induce the citizens of Orillia to cast in their lot with the Hydro Commission and thus enable the Hydro Commission to make "ducks and drakes" of Orillia's birth-right. Orillia is to be congratulated upon the fact, that she did not sell her birth-right for a mess of Hydro Commission pottage.

Further Contracts on Power Rates Our local commission must further contrast the fact that this city pays $32 per h.p. per annum on a WHOLE SALE BASIS, whereas Orillia delivers power to its own consumers at only $13 per h.p. per annum for 10 hour service and $18 per annum for 24 hour service. Please remember that Orillia's costs per h.p. ARE RETAIL COSTS and NOT WHOLESALE COSTS. According to last year's statements it actually cost the power and light consumers of Peterboro $96,238 to buy power IN ADDITION to paying $32 a h.p. wholesale cost as well, which on a total consumption of 5293 h.p. is equivalent to $18 cost for delivering power and light in addition to the $32 per h.p. Hydro charge as well.

Truth vs. Humbug Our Local Commission will further find that the statements of the Orillia Commission are candid and simple and that no effort whatever is made on Orillia's behalf to juggle the figures, whereas Hydro report shows power consumers in this city are paying one $18.97 RETAIL while the Local Commission, which sells this power, PAY $32 PER HP. WHOLESALE plus $18 per h.p. for distribution. Reader, stop and think! IF A FAKIR DID THIS, HE WOULD BE GAOLED IMMEDIATELY.

July 9th, 1928 R. R. HALL.

MAGISTRATE HOLDS JUDGMENT

Question at Issue Concerns Seizure of Sixty Cases at Harbor

Magistrate J. E. Willis has reserved judgment with respect to an application made in Whitty police court by S. H. Burns, K.C., of Toronto, for possession of 60 cases of beer recently seized at the harbor by Chief of Police H. Gunson. Burns was appearing for George E. Waters, agent for the consignee, G. T. Moore of Sodus, N.Y., while Crown Attorney J. A. McGibbon of Oshawa represented the Crown.

Chief Gunson testified that the seizure was made on the morning of July 13, because half the liquor remained on shore after a launch had left for an American port with what he claimed to be clearance papers for the full shipment. H. L. Taylor, Whitty Customs Officer, stated that clearance papers were issued in the regular manner for two shipments of sixty cases of beer each and that after one vessel had left a second boat was expected to take the balance. Waters, who claims to have been captain of the first vessel, explained that the other boat was disabled and consequently de-she did not sell her birth-right for a mess of Hydro Commission pottage. Even Esau, when he sold his birth-right for a mess of pottage got real food, but the Hydro pottage is principally composed of chaff with a small percentage of molasses.

Orillia and Peterboro Contrasted According to the Hydro report for 1927 Peterboro is charged up with a liability of $1,142,189.00 upon which she paid last year $55,828 in interest alone and all the City of Peterboro got out of it was 5293 h.p. with not one red cent of provision being made to enable this City to own one fraction in the Central Ontario Power System. On the other hand Orillia will own, in less than 10 years, power property worth $1,000,000 without a cent against it.

Our Local Commission will further find that the Hydro Commission charged this City last year $28,000 for alleged losses made on the sale of power to private customers and companies. Orillia pays not one cent of money for Hydro Commission blunders.

Further Contracts on Power Rates

Our local commission must further contrast the fact that this city pays $32 per h.p. per annum on a WHOLE SALE BASIS, whereas Orillia delivers power to its own consumers at only $13 per h.p. per annum for 10 hour service and $18 per annum for 24 hour service. July 9th, 1928 R. R. HALL.

The above letter published in The Peterboro Examiner is of great interest to Port Hope. We were led to expect lower rates than what we were getting from Dr. Corbett the first to serve Port Hope and the Seymour Electric Light and Power Co. Both companies were swallowed by the Hydro plants and material scrapped and what are we paying by comparison—ever so often is a new "adjustment" for measuring the current, but always the bills go higher.

The Hydro is the most powerful institution. Its officers may do as they please and be accountable to neither man or the creator.

Outfielder Paul Easterling recently won a game for the Leafs at Montreal but yesterday he evened the count when the Royals beat the league leaders in the opening game of the series by 3 to 2. Easterling made one of the Leafs' eight hits, and wasn't charged with an error but in the ninth inning with two men out, he played badly a ball hit by Pitcher Falk. It went for a triple, and was manufactured into a run—the winning one at that—when Stapleton beat out a grounder to Styles. So all was well that ended well for Royals, even if it was a bad day for the Leafs.

Precision built in this Great Hudson

The great performance that marks Hudson out among all fine cars, with stellar brilliancy, is not alone in the genius of its design, but in a manufacturing execution that also stands at the head of the industry.

The hand-matching of all pistons is a detail in this precision manufacture, that is typical of every operation in building this greatest of all Hudsons.

Hudson leadership of mode extends to every detail and marks a new Hudson supremacy, as definite as its mechanical dominance through the Super-Six principle, and its companion invention which set today's standard for motor performance.

Every item of finish, construction and equipment expresses value as tangibly as its great chassis qualities. Come and examine the new Super-Sixes. They will give you an entirely fresh view of motor values.

THE GUIDE STORY

He excused himself with thanks, and such a hand-clapping as he had not given to any mortal woman's hand, save his mother's, in his lifetime.

"Pardon me, no. I wish to see the end of this. I am so positive that not one of the men the police have captured is the guilty one. I owe my life to you. I wish I could devote it, in some way, to your service."

"In some way? That might mean marriage, or it might not," Elizabeth Katalinka frowned. "I can dispense with meaningless compliments, monsieur," she said; "and you will not forget that you dine with us tomorrow at nine, Adieu."

She withdrew her hand, and smiled.

He raised the broad-leafed, Spanish-looking hat that he wore, partly to disguise him from his merely fashionable acquaintances in the Paris night streets, and Elizabeth bowed to him; then her carriage rolled away, and Robert gave his name and address to the police.

As he was turning away, he suddenly found the dark face of the violinist looking into his own.

"Ah, Monsieur Brutone! you kept me waiting till past eleven o'clock. How was that?"

He asked the question with some natural heat, and he saw a look that he disliked in the other's fine face. It was a look half of fear, half of sullenness, so he thought.

"I was called away on sudden and most urgent business at the last moment. I had no time to send a telegram. Is it true that some rascal has tried to stab you just now?"

"Quite true. The handle and broken blade of the dagger are in the hands of the police."

"Thank Heaven!"

Brutone spoke in a deep, concentrated tone. His emotion touched Robert Dacre, who was ever open to kind influences.

"We must always thank Heaven; but I owe my safety to a scientific arrangement and a warning. Never mind. Will you come home with me now?"

"Not tonight, my lord; another time. It is so late."

"Name your own time, then, monsieur."

"I will say Thursday."

"Very well. Come to the Hotel Louvre, and dine with me at nine on Thursday."

They shook hands cordially enough, and Brutone went on his way toward his apartments.

It was quite true that Louis Brutone had been called away at the very moment when he was leaving his hotel with the intention of paying the promised visit to Lord Dacre. A letter had come by post addressed to him. Inside was written that command which he dared not disobey:

"Come instantly."
"(Signed) Le President."

He had hurried at once to that obscure room in that dark court in that ill-favored and dirty street where the school-girls had wandered on the night when Augustine Volney led the other two into such wild mischief and strange peril.

Louis found all the members assembled, and the president presiding. He had been storming at his slaves—for such they actually were—in his most desperate and violent fashion, and when Louis appeared he began again. The pith of his denunciation was the fact that suspicious had arisen that there was a traitor in the camp. The whole of the members of Paris were present—some thirty-five men—and the president told them to watch one another, and to report to him, at the place of meeting, anything that struck either of them as suspicious in the conduct, words or looks of one another.

"Let me bring the guilt home to that wretch," said the president, shaking his great clenched hand, "and he will sleep his last sleep within four-and-twenty hours! No; you think I can not do it. I tell you that I have two thousand men under my control in Paris alone, ready to do my bidding. Not one of your lives is safe one single hour, if I give the word of death. I know that some of you present begin to hate and fear me. You say or think, 'Why should this man rule? Let us attack him as he stands, stab him or strangle him, and throw him into the Seine. Ah! but if either of you laid one finger on me, he should fall dead at my feet, and yet my hands should not touch him. There are secret forces in nature which I have learned, and I could sweep Paris itself into a dust heap if I willed. But I would not have the good to suffer with the vile, and so I wait until I have found out the name of the Judas who sits in our midst."

Louis Brutone had listened to this tirade, with a strange mingling of awe and scorn in his soul.

Was this man with the thunderous voice, the muscular arms, the giant's stature, the same polished gentleman who figured in the first Parisian circles as Mr. Hesperus, the American?

Yes—no—yes—no—yes. Which was the true answer to that wild question?

It was not answered, that night, nor until long, long afterward. Nay, was it ever really answered?

CROP REPORT

Below will be found a brief synopsis of telegraphic reports received at the Head Office of the Bank of Montreal from its Branches. The Branch Managers have complete and intimate knowledge of each local situation and are in close touch with crop conditions in all sections of the districts mentioned.

General

Crop prospects throughout the Prairie Provinces continue to be satisfactory. Wheat in the various districts is reported as headed out, in bloom, or starting to fill, and other grains are making equally rapid progress. There has been little damage from hail during the past week, and conditions have not been conducive to rust development. In Quebec crops are progressing favorably. In Ontario heavy rains during the past week have delayed haying operations, and have caused some lodging of wheat and oats. Fall wheat has ripened fast; cutting has commenced in western Ontario and will be general in a week. Ideal growing conditions have prevailed in the Maritime Provinces. Throughout British Columbia the weather has been hot and dry, and harvesting of grain crops is now general.

Prairie Provinces

ALBERTA WESTERN AND NORTHWESTERN AREAS—Conditions are ideal. ALBERTA SOUTH EASTERN AREA—Situation continues very favorable and late sown wheat is catching up and now heading out. SASKATCHEWAN NORTH EASTERN AREA—Prospects generally are very favorable, with crops coming along well in showery weather. Wheat is in healthy condition and beginning to fill. SASKATCHEWAN SOUTHERN AREA—Growth of all grains is advancing under satisfactory conditions. Wheat is well headed out. Hail damage previously reported, while severe in districts affected, was fairly scattered and not generally extensive. MANITOBA—Conditions continue favorable except on low lying land. Wheat is well headed and coarse grains are making good progress. There are no reports of rust developments. Hail damage is negligible. Dry weather

Province of Quebec

Haying is becoming general, but in some districts has been delayed by rains; the crop is a good average. Grain crops show continued good growth. Potatoes and other root crops are doing well. Small fruits are plentiful. Pastures are in very good condition. Tobacco shows strong growth although retarded in some districts by recent rains.

Province of Ontario

Fall wheat is a good average. Oats and barley have made excellent growth and very heavy crops are assured. Corn is promising, but needs dry weather. Haying operations are delayed by frequent rains and wheat and barley will be ready before all the crop can be stored. Root crops are doing well but in southwestern Ontario many fields are flooded, and sugar beets have been damaged considerably. Tobacco has made good progress but some fields show evidence of too much rain. Pastures are excellent. A spell of two or three weeks of warm dry weather is now needed.

Maritime Provinces

Haying is well under way and an above the average yield seems assured. Potatoes blossomed well and continue to make excellent growth. The apple crop is now estimated at 80 per cent of the five year average, or about 900,000 barrels. The fruit on the whole is clean. Pasturage is very good.

DUE TO ARRIVE ON AUGUST 16TH

His Highness Will Cross Canada on Way to Far East

His Royal Highness Prince George, the King's youngest son, will arrive in Quebec City on Aug. 16 aboard the S.S. Empress of Australia. Prince George is en route to the Far East where it is believed he is going to join the China station flagship, and will stay for the remainder of his commission. He will assume the rank of Lieutenant on joining the squadron, it is stated.

Prince George will arrive in the ancient capital on Aug. 16, and will take the train for Vancouver. It is not known whether he will stop at Montreal or Ottawa on his way through.

COLOR FILMS NOW POSSIBLE

Latest Eastman Invention is Demonstrated to Distinguished Audience

Monday George Eastman, 74 year old inventor and manufacturer of kodaks and moving-picture films, realized a quarter century dream by announcing the perfection of a system of color photography, whereby any amateur photographer can take moving pictures which reproduce all the colors of the spectrum in all their beauty.

Before a distinguished audience of scientists, inventors, educators, publishers and business leaders, in his private projection room in his home, Mr. Eastman gave the first public demonstration of his new 'kodacolor' process, casting incredibly gorgeous color tones upon a moving picture screen less than half the size of an ordinary classroom blackboard.

The perfection of color photography and of vocal films has been the most difficult technological problem confronting scientists and engineers working in the moving picture field. Now that both seem on the way to achievement, the vision of the practical idealists assembled at Rochester Monday is thrown forward upon something that would have appeared fantastic a generation ago, color television synchronized with radio.

Today so many impossible things have happened that one must be reactionary to deny the possibility of a combination of action, sound and color, all reproduced in synchronization for one's entertainment in one's own home.

RELIGION! WHAT IS IT?

'Tis not to go to church today, To look devout, and seem to pray; And ere tomorrow's sun goes down Be dejected, scandal through the town.

Not every sanctimonious face, Denotes the certain reign of grace; A phiz that seems to scowl at sin Oft veils hypocrisy within.

'Tis not to mark our duty's walk, O'er all our own good deeds to talk, And then to practice secret crime, And so to mope and waste our time.

'Tis not for sects or creeds to fight, And call our zeal the rule of right; When all we wish is at the best, To see our church excell the rest.

'Tis not to wear the Christian's dress, And love to all mankind profess; Then treat with scorn the suffering poor, And fast against them close the door—

Ah! no! religion means not this, Its fault far sweeter, fairer is, In heavenly soil alone it thrives, And more than blossoms where it lives.

Religion! 'tis the rule of life, The bond of love, the bone of strife, Its precepts this, "to others do As you would have them do to you."

It grieves to hear an ill report, An scorns with human woes to sport; Of others' deeds it speaks no ill, But tells of good, or else is still.

And does religion thus import?— Oh! May our souls its influence court! Haste, haste, the bright, the blissful day, When the whole earth shall own its sway.

While working in drain at Bloomfield, Neb., two men asphyxiated by gases.

Choked for Air.—Some little irritant becomes lodged in the bronchial tubes, others gather and the awful choking of asthma results. Nothing offers quite such quick and positive relief as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. The healing, soothing smoke or vapor penetrates, clears the passages and gives untold relief. It has behind it years of success. It is the sure remedy of every sufferer.

THE HIGHWAYS OF BUYING

"Follow the highway markings and you can't go wrong." . . . That's the advice the Automobile Club gives you before starting on a motor trip. You follow the well-known, well-marked roads. And you reach your destination the safest, most comfortable way.

Why not follow the same rule in your shopping? Why not stick to the "highways of buying?" They have been just as carefully plotted and are just as carefully marked as the great motor roads you've come to depend on. Marked by the trade-marks of reliable, advertised products.

The next time you go shopping follow these "highways." Before you start, look through the advertisements in these columns. Pick out the products you want. Notice the names and trade marks that identify them. And then ask for them by name.

The advertisements are the sign-posts to guide you to the best merchandise.

Our Picnic

We had a dandy picnic,
All on a summer's day,
And on the road to Lee's Point,
Wended our noisy way.

We went from the St. Mark's church
On wagons, rigs and chaise;
We numbered o'er one hundred,
And this is no mere phrase.

The grub was plentiful and good,
The drinks were soft and long,
The well fought races made us think
Of London's marathon.

The girls were bright and happy
Of this you may be sure,
When 'mongst them were numbered,
The well known Misses Tuer.

Miss Ellis won the spinster's test,
With bon-bons for a prize;
While to good Mrs. Putman
Fell the contest for good wives.

The history of that baseball game
Against the whole round world
Its tricky pitches, mighty swipes
No pen has yet unfurled.

'Twas Mr. Brown from out of town
Conducted all the races;
While Mr. Strong and Mr. Long
Showed very happy faces.

Of those who ran about the most
And worked like any slave
Were Glingner and young Monti
And others just as brave.

Mr. Twilley—he's so silly,
A lot of work got through,
He helped us boil, 'midst other toil,
The kettle for our brew.

To fair Kathleen Eaton,
Miss Read and sisters Brown,
And Mrs. Mann, we never can
Present too fair a crown.

The parson poor, was old and fat,
And couldn't do much good;
His kids they ran about for him
And helped to eat the food.

Of all the lads and lassies there
I'd fall to tell their parts;
But ere the day was o'er were signs
Of gladness in all hearts.

The prizes were distributed,
And hearty were the cheers,
With which the crowd expressed
Their joy for their compere.

So back to old Port Hope again
We drove our dusty way
Singing songs of pleasure long,
Whilst night succeeded day.

HEARD ON THE STREET

So this is the end of it!

July is done—August follows close behind and after that September with its Fall Fairs will be right along; then the bustle of Christmas and those gorgeous, sparkling days will be right here before we know it. It won't be long now till those who are crazy with the heat will be rubbing the frost out and bewailing the bitter days.

Let's all be joyful for these grand summer days with the happiness they bring.

Again we say, it pays to advertise! The bracelet mentioned in yesterday's issue was found by an honest person who through the advertisement in the Guide was able to restore it to its owner.

Not half the beauty of this town can be seen when motoring around. One has to see the gardens with their lovely flowers and many of the best are in back yards and on side streets. Among those most worth seeing at the present time is that of Mr. Thos. Garnett, Baldwin street. His garden is ablaze with color.

There will be dancing tonight at the Port Hope Beach Pavilion.

Lingard Bros. Motor Coach conducted a bus service to Cobourg this afternoon owing to the circus there. A good crowd took advantage of the bus service and a trip will also be made at 6.45 p.m. returning at 10.30 p.m.

Patrons of cheese factories in this district are finding the 1928 season so far a profitable one. During the month of June the Warkworth Cheese Company paid its patrons 55 cents per pound of butter fat. In the Campbellford district the average price for milk delivered at the factories realized from 55 to 58 cents per pound butter fat to the patrons. With cheese selling in this district around 21¢ cents a pound the dairy business is proving popular this season. The shareholders of the Ormoude cheese factory situated near Hastings, which was burned a few days ago, met since and decided to rebuild. The new building will be of cement, and thoroughly up to date.

Mr. Harry Seto of Toronto, purchased the cafe which Mr. Geo. Wong owned and operated in Listowell, so Mr. Wong has returned to his business here, the New York Cafe.

Mr. J. Y. Kellough, of the local Department of Agriculture and Mr. John Tucker, Potato Specialist of the Dominion, Department of Agriculture, held a potato demonstration on the farm of Mr. E. Werry, Enniskill on this afternoon. Discussions on grading, control of insects and diseases, fertilizers and so forth were given by Provincial and Federal Officials.

A rose which has shown unusual growth and is a source of pride and pleasure to its owner, is found in the garden of Mr. Wm. Finlay, Walton street. It is an American Pillar rose which in a year has grown to the height of 10 feet and carried sixty-four bunches of bloom, one having as many as twenty-two blossoms in the bunch. It is certainly a beautiful sight. It is too bad though it grows at the back of the house whereas if it were at the front it would be a delight to thousands who pass. If people would be thoughtful and not touch or destroy, we would have more beautiful flowers and shrubs out where we could all enjoy them.

Our good old friend Harry B. Lawson, took compassion on the hungry look on the editor's face and brought in a potato big enough for a meal for him. The potato weighs 1 1/4 lbs. and has a most unusual shape, some what resembling a turtle. We've prevailed upon the editor-in-chief to hold off so the potato will be in the office for you to see.

It's a funny thing how one of our bankers varies in height when he changes positions. If you look around a bit you may notice one young man who has gained in position has lost in stature.
