

LAKESIDE TENT RAZED BY FLAMES

Disreputable Work of Vandals Lead to Destruction of Local Tent, Bedding Etc.

A disreputable act of vandals, whose names are alleged to be known, was committed near the Fort Hope Beach Pavilion late Saturday night, when a large wall tent, occupied by H. Munro, A. A. Stagg and T. Dulyes, for tenting purposes, was razed to the ground by flames. The perpetrators of the act are known and it is said that court proceedings will follow.

For some time past, considerable destruction has been going on at the pavilion and its locality. A few days ago a tent was stolen, but was returned, but the firing of the campers' tent is beyond a joke. The tent was totally consumed as well as sleeping cots and bedding.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nelson and daughter, Irene, and friend, Miss N. Francis of Peterboro, motored here to be holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Black.

APPROPRIATE TEXT IS USED

New Pastor Spoke On Patriotism As Dominion Day Subject

The new minister of the United Church, Rev. G. A. Sisco, spoke on a very timely and appropriate subject for his Dominion Day evening sermon, his first Sunday as incumbent of this pulpit. The musical part of the program also blended beautifully with the thought of the day.

In the morning Miss Minnie Scerrell gave a lovely rendering of "Open the Gates of the Temple," and in the evening, material assistance was rendered the fine service by the duet, "At Eventide" so well and especially sung by Messrs G. Darling and A. E. Fulford.

His text: "If I Forget Thee, O Jerusalem, Let My Right Hand Forget Her Cunnings," Psalm 137:5, suggested his subject, "Christian Patriotism."

He showed the relationship between religion and patriotism, that the latter is not exclusively a Christian virtue for in heathen lands, there were great patriots at Thermopole in early Greece, in the Great Roman Empire, but with the coming of Christ, it was touched with a new glory, that now people are beginning to see that Patriotism does not mean love of one's own country and hate of other countries, but as a man's love of one woman makes him respect all women, so men are beginning to see that to be truly patriotic, one is more ready to cleanse the evils of one's own country and through great example, teach other nations to turn from political corruption and social vices.

Huge Dominion Day Crowd See Port Hope Ints. Win 6-4

Bowmanville Meets Defeat at Town Park on Monday Afternoon at Hands of Ontarios—Fast Ball Played Throughout.

In a fast Oshawa District Intermediate baseball fixture at the Town Park Monday afternoon before a huge Dominion Day crowd, Port Hope Intermediates triumphed over Bowmanville 6 to 4. The game was fast throughout and the close score kept the crowd on their feet for the entire nine innings. Port Hope plays in Bowmanville next Saturday and a win for the Ontarios will place them in a dangerous position in the standing.

Brockenshire went the route for Port Hope and outside of the first session when the losers recalled three hits, he allowed no more than one hit in each inning. In all, 9 hits were collected off his delivery. He issued one walk and registered five strikeouts.

Osborne allowed nine hits and issued one pass. At the opening of the game he continually kept spitting on the ball, but after protests had been lodged and warnings issued by the umpires, he finally settled down.

Bowmanville started off well in the first session and showed over three runs. Corden started off with a double to left and Cameron drew a walk after D. Osborne and Colwell had been retired. Cameron stole second and Chalk made an accurate peg to the middle sack. Lycett, who covered the bag, juggled the ball and Corden counted. M. Osborne slashed a two bagger to right scoring Cameron and Osborne counted on Des Jorges two bagger to left.

The Ontarios balanced the score up in their first half on three hits and an error. Micks, the lead off man, cracked a single over short and Graham also clouted to the same quarter. Lycett secured a life on Des Jorges error of a ground ball and Micks scored the first run. Boyd doubled to centre scoring two, but the next three batters were retired.

The visitors were held scoreless until the ninth, but the homesters kept pegging away and scored individual counters in the second, seventh and eighth.

In the second stanza, Haskill hit to left and stole second. Micks drew a pass and Graham hit safely to centre, but Haskill was caught at the plate. When Osborne was in the act of making a long windup, Micks essayed to steal home. Osborne saw the attempted theft and made a hurried balk and Micks scored easily.

Again in the seventh, the home team counted. Brockenshire's hit went for a double and he stole 3rd. Osborne then made a balk and threw to third. Colwell was nowhere near the bag and the ball rolled to the fence while Brockenshire scored. In the eighth Port Hope made sure of the game and notched another marker. Lycett hit safely, but was forced at second on Lyck's fielder's choice. The alert captain easily pilfered second, and third and scored on Curtis' rap to third.

Bowmanville threatened in the ninth when Cameron singled, went to second on an error, to third on an infield out and scored on Caverly's sacrifice fly. On this drive, Lycett made a particularly good play. It was a high ball back of second but the local shortstop raced back and made a nice catch.

Monday's engagement marked the appearance of Bob Chalk, the hero of many a game, back to the fray. His pegging was right on the mark, but in the fifth innings he gave way to Curtis'. On his first appearance to bat, Corden robbed Chalk of a hit, when he jumped into the air and speared a line drive with one hand. In the third, Chalk engineered a double play which drew a big hand from the crowd. Corden reached second on an error, followed by Osborne's hit. A double steal was in the offing and Colwell at bat tried to assist things along by a bunt. His try resulted in a little pop fly and Corden was doubled off second by Chalk.

The lineup—Bowmanville—Corden, 1st; H. Osborne, p; Colwell, 3rd; Cameron, cf; M. Osborne, c; Des Jorges, ss; Caverly, lf; Walton, 2nd; Thurston, rf.

Port Hope—Micks, 2nd; Graham, 3rd; Lycett, ss; Ebyd, 1st; Mitchell, rf; Chalk, c; Curtis, c; Holman, lf; Haskill, cf; Brockenshire, p.

MARVELLOUS DAY FOR CELEBRATION

Crowds Enjoy Thrilling Stunts Done High in Air On Dominion Day

Marvelous weather favored Port Hope's Sixty-First Annual Dominion Day Celebration held at the Park on the Hill when the biggest and best crowd in its history covered the hill and thronged about the race track and the ball diamond.

Before dinner a band concert in Memorial Park and two softball games drew out the crowd, and when the bands began to play down town after dinner, long lines of cars and people proceeded to the Park.

The hill certainly was a picture with the multitude dressed in variegated hues against the dark green grass and tall, stately pines. From their seats upon the hillside, the crowd looked down with vantage at the horse races, vaudeville, aeroplane stunts and other events of the afternoon and evening. In strange contrast to the bustle of the park was the country beyond, with its peaceful green fields dotted with lovely trees and the placid blue waters of Lake Ontario stretching off to the horizon, and on the lake the lighthouse was reflected, adding to the tranquility of the distant scene.

Stunts High in Air.

The first most outstanding event of the afternoon's program was a stunt plane piloted by Capt. Chris Evans, which looped the loop and did many difficult turns and tricks in the air followed by Bobby Irwin's daredevil acrobatic feats on and below the wing of the plane, which have to be seen to be appreciated.

Vaudeville

Following this was the vaudeville act of the Stewarts, which was remarkably good and much enjoyed by the vast throngs upon the hillside.

Between and during the acts and various events, the Port Hope Citizens' Band and the Cobourg Kiltie Band took turns in giving the assemblage music which was of a high order and was much appreciated. Daylight fireworks were also in-

Many enjoyed a picnic, after which they enjoyed the vaudeville and dancing aerial stunts, after which the crowning feature of the day, the beautiful night fireworks, lit the sky and ground. The display included many wonderful showering rockets, fine set pieces and aerial bombs which broke into beautiful sprays high in the air.

TOURNAMENT AT OSHAWA

Local Bowlers Take Part In the Dominion Day Events

Forty-four rinks competed in the annual tournament of the Oshawa Lawn Bowling Club yesterday. Play got under way in the morning at 9.30 and indications were at midnight that the tournament would not be completed until Tuesday morning early. The McLaughlin and Eaton Trophies are the chief awards to the winning rinks. At midnight the McLaughlin event, known as the primary competition, had reached the semi-finals with J. HEARD ON THE STREET

'Twas a marvelous day, wasn't it?

Nobody could have any reason to be disappointed with the weather and the entertainment provided by our Dominion Day Committee who are to be congratulated on keeping the program on the same high plane as that of other years.

Did you meet your old friends from all over at the Park? Most everybody was there and all had a delightful time.

Friday afternoon, beneath the trees, in the balmy summer breeze, a charming church Garden Party will be the rendezvous for all who like to be present at such festive occasions. It's Friday afternoon from 3.30 to 6 o'clock on the lovely grounds of the Thurber home, Dorset Street.

How are your fenders? A lot of nice new fenders got rather bent up in the crash, but no serious accidents occurred in Port Hope traffic.

It is thought that the entrance results will be ready for publication this week whereby a lot more anxiety will be relieved and perhaps a few will be disappointed and pained at the result as some were Saturday.

As the vaudeville actor spun the actress around above his head yesterday, one small girl on Park Hill was heard to ask, "Was she alive, mother, when she was spinning around?" We have seen some places where there would be no question.

The "Cohens and Kelleys in Paris" showing at the Royal is a rip, roaring success. According to all those who saw their former pictures, this is said to be an even greater success.

A bunch from Cobourg showed a neighborly spirit and joined us in our big celebration.

Already much interest is being shown over the school fairs which are to be held in Hastings County, with the championship fair at Stirling on, Sept. 26. Commencing with

The largest crowd of the season attended the Port Hope Pavilion last night.

The pretty flower plot laid out at the corner of Mill and Ontario Sts. by the Port Hope Horticultural Society, is very attractive and beautifies that section.

Two cyclists were injured in Saturday evening accidents and after an investigation the police adjudged the drivers of both the automobiles involved to be free of blame. Howard Hazel of Whitby received a broken collar bone when he was struck from his bicycle by a car driven by Charles King, also of Whitby, while Thomas Found suffered two fractured ribs and head injuries when he was hit by an automobile driven by E. Brown of Whitby.

TIME TO CONFER

"How is Simpson getting along in 'business'?"
"Wonderfully, but he's terribly discouraged."
"How's that?"
"Well, they're so busy filling and shipping orders they haven't any time to hold a conference."

SERIOUS CRASH NEAR NEWTONVILLE

American Car and Toronto Car Figure in Smash—Occupants Injured

The only serious accident reported in this district Monday, occurred two miles east of Newtonville, when a Lincoln sedan, driving easterly, was struck by a Pontiac coach driven by A. G. Helene, 24 Southward Ave., Toronto. The Lincoln was in charge of Leslie Johnson, 1725 Spring Drive, Louisville, Ky.

The Toronto car was driving westward along the Provincial Highway and in turning out, struck the side of the east bound car. The Lincoln was forced into the ditch but it did not capsize. It was badly damaged, but the Pontiac was not seriously smashed.

Mrs. A. P. Witty, an occupant of the Lincoln, received a cut on the leg, while Mrs. P. S. Medanish of 1444 Rosewood Ave., Louisville, sustained a lacerated head.

GOING HOME

Under the young moon's slender shield,
With the wind's cool lips on mine,
I went home from the Rabbit field
As the clocks were striking nine.

The yews were dark in the level light,
The thorn-trees dripped with gold,
And a partridge called where the dew was white
In the grass on the edge of the fold.

Oh, had your hand been in my hand
As the long chalk-road I trod,
The green hills of the lovely land
Had seemed the hills of Gail.

PATS A.C. DEFEAT LAKESIDES LADIES

Toronto Softball Teams Prove Drawing Card at Dominion Day Celebration

One of the features of the big Dominion Day Celebration here on Monday was the exhibition softball tilt between Pats A.C. of Toronto and the Lakeside Ladies, the two leading softball teams in the Sunnyside loop at Toronto. Local fans were amazed at the fast pickups and throws by the lady artists, and rounds of applause greeted the players. Orme Gamsby, the popular Orono fan was in the grandstand and won the hearts of the players and he presented a number of them with boxes of chocolates for well executed plays.

The Pats won the 10 to 7 fixture and the work of Annie Miller, at short, stood out prominently. She collected two doubles and a single out of four attempts and scored three runs. She was the pivot in a fast double play in the fifth innings. Miss King singled through short, and when Miss McNamara bounced a grounder to short, Miss Miller picked the ball from a difficult angle, touched second and tact tossed out the runner at first. Miss Murchie, third base player for the winners had three hits.

One of the features of the game was the home run clout by Miss Manson in the first innings with one runner on base. The ball was clouted to deep left centre and the batter had no difficulty in scoring. Miss Manson twirled nice ball for the losers and had two strikeouts. Miss Devore for the winners had three strikeouts. Miss King and Miss Manson each had two hits for the Lakesides.

BERKELEY INTS. WIN TWO GAMES

Toronto Team Defeats Two Local Nines Here Dominion Day Morning

Berkeley Intermediates of Toronto proved the drawing card at Viaduct Park on Dominion Day morning, when they handed Frank Bird's C.N.R. team an 8 to 7 defeat, and in the nightcap affair gave Buck Tweed's file makers the short end of a 5 to 4 count. The games proved good exhibition fixtures and a large crowd braved the broiling sun to see the teams in action.

An error, an infield out and Highfield's hit scored the C.N.R. their first run and it was not until the fifth session that the locals got under Titus' offerings and manufactured four runs to make the count read 6 to 5 in favor of the visitors. In the first of the seventh Berkeley increased their lead by two more runs on three hits, a walk and a sacrifice hit.

Entering the seventh and last session, three runs down, the Rail-roads staged a belated rally. Hills, the chubby little second baseman, secured a walk, stole second and scored on two passed balls. Highfield drew a pass and scored on two stolen bases and a passed ball. Bird and Welch, pinch hitting for Taggart, both drew passes, but Wakely, batting for Perry, ingloriously struck out. Hicks' home run in the third innings, for the visitors, featured the game, while Bird for the locals, secured four walks in four trips to the plate.

File Lose

In the second fixture, Nicholson File were beaten 5 to 4 in five innings and the locals never got going until the last frame, when they came within one run of tying the score.

Tweed hit to right and Beatty bunted safely. The former scored on a passed ball and Staples, batting for Wallace, singled to centre. Travin sent both runners home when he tripled to deep centre and scored on Nelson's hit. Nelson went out stealing and Wakely popped out to end the fixture.

FORMER T.C.S. MAN HONOURED

General Straubensee, Has Recently Been Elevated To the Knighthood

Major-General Casimir Van Straubensee, former R.M.C. cadet and present commander of British troops in the Malay Peninsula, has been elevated to knighthood, a sister, Miss Van Straubensee, residing at Kingston, has received word.

This is the second time the family has been honored by his Majesty in the last 70 years.

The Van Straubensees descended from a Dutch guardsman who crossed to England with his regiment. The first Van Straubensee to be knighted was Sir Charles, honored in 1858 in connection with the capture of Canton in China, by British troops.

Sir Charles was an uncle of the present Sir Casimir.

Sir Casimir was born in Montreal in 1867. He was educated at Trinity College School and the Royal Military College, Kingston. He graduated in 1886, and served in England, Egypt and China. He was commandant of the School of Gunnery at Shoeburyness, England.

DON'TS FOR MOTORISTS

Twelve "don'ts" for motorists suggested by R. A. Staples, the President of the Ontario Motor League, and particularly applicable during the holiday at hand:

- Don't assume that kiddies will stay on the sidewalk. They must be your car—first, last and always.
- Don't ignore the pedestrian's right. He also pays taxes.
- Don't sit like a bump on a log. Give signals and let the other fellow know what you are going to do.
- Don't be a swivel-neck, keep your eye on the road.
- Don't dawdle on the way. This is the twentieth century, not the Dark Ages.

Don't exceed the speed limit. Use ordinary every day horse sense.
Don't cut in—it may be smart, but it is not safe.
Don't demand your right of way. Allow a margin of courtesy for safety's sake.
Don't use glare lights. It is against the law, vulgar and dangerous.
Don't neglect your brakes. You may save a life by stopping quickly.
Don't take a chance at railway crossings. It might be your last.
Don't drive with a drunken man at the wheel. Solomon saw it coming and said: "The companions of fools will be destroyed."

Yield of blackberries in Delaware is best in years.

THE GUIDE STORY

Augustine persisted in calling the president of that fearful secret society a brigand. The girl was partly physical, no doubt, but her smothered laughter was most provoking.

The fact soon became apparent to Vesta and April, that somebody in the house must have heard a door locked, or footsteps, and now was bent upon rousing the servants by means of the gong, which was kept in the entrance hall.

Footsteps and voices were soon audible.

"See what tale she will tell them now?" asked Augustine, still laughing. "Say that we have been to the theatre, for instance?"

"Quiet," whispered April; and door and turn-lock, which happened by good luck to be inside the door.

"Now, wait," she whispered, "we can get out of the other door and so to the back stairway, so long as we are not afraid of meeting the servants coming down the stairs."

Presently somebody caught hold of the handle of the door, wrenched it, and then kicked the door violently.

"There are robbers in the house!" said an excited female voice, in English; and the school girls knew it for the voice of Miss Jane Somers the younger of the two governesses, a lady of waspish and violent temper, not beloved by many of her pupils.

To fall under the lash of Miss Jane's uncompromising tongue was a fate dreaded by even the bravest of the young ladies.

"Let us get away," whispered Vesta. "She will turn us out of the house tonight in her temper, if she finds us;" and the three crossed the room in a hurry.

They had on their boots; the floor was bare. Miss Jane, on the other side of the door, distinctly heard their footsteps; and she shrieked "Murder!" at the very pitch of her always sharp and shrill voice.

There was not a single individual of the better sex in the household. Horrible tales were afloat of the desperate deeds of professional house-breakers within the past few months in the French capital and its environs. It was thus only natural that the two Miss Somers, the three resident teachers, Fraulein Schultz, the pupils, such of the servants as were not aware of the real state of the case, should have been driven by sheer terror to their wits' ends.

Meanwhile, April Vaughan had the key of the room which led into their own, safe in her pocket. She stole out of the room in the dark by the other door. But first, the three lawbreaking demoiselles took off their boots.

"Now, quick," said April, "quick as thought. There is nobody to disturb in our rooms."

They crept up the back stairs in the darkness, and along a corridor, reached the door of Augustine's room in safety, inserted the key in the lock, turned it, passed in, locked the door inside, and struck a light.

There were two other rooms in the same corridor and they could hear the girls calling out, and some of them crying with fear. Then for the first time it struck April that her conduct had been un lady-like, deceitful, daring—altogether most unworthy.

Augustine Volney, on the contrary, positively began to enjoy the escapade with a keen relish.

"Ma foi! it is superb, I tell you. I would not have missed it for a thousand francs!" said the naughty school girl, laughing. "Listen! Listen to their loud screaming!" she continued in her fluent French. "And I do believe that owl of wisdom, Anna Crossman, is screaming as loudly as a baby of six months who wants its feeding bottle. Listen I tell you, is it not of the grandest? Why, this is far, far better than if we had found the fortune teller and been back in two hours and admitted by Adal, and gone to bed quietly. This is splendid—magnifique!"

She grinned and her white, even teeth gleamed in the light of one wax candle allowed for the two rooms, opening one into the other. The candlestick was placed on a bracket close to the door of communication.

Augustine divested herself of her walking attire, her gown, put on a long blue dressing robe, and took the pins out of her hair. April and Vesta, who were humiliated instead of delighted at the storm their wild escapade had raised, undressed in the greatest haste, and each crept into bed. They occupied two pretty, tasteful white beds in the inner room.

Augustine rushed out now upon the landing, screaming and pretending to be frightened to death.

"Oh, we shall all be murdered!" she cried. "There are assassins in the house! See! Listen! They are coming up the stairs with knives—knives—knives in their hands! They will cut our very heads off!"

Augustine's shrieks and cries were re-echoed by all the pupils—not only those in the large dormitories in the same corridor, but by those at the other side of the landing, and presently the whole house was full of the wildest clamor.

LICENSE FOR THOSE WHO FISH

Fee of $1 Is Being Considered By Committee of Legislature

One of the duties of the special committee under Hon. Finlay Macdriarmid which is to investigate the fish and game resources of the Province will be, it is understood, to sound out public opinion on the matter of a $1 fishing license for all resident Ontario anglers.

The Department of Game and Fisheries would like, it is said, to establish this license fee, but has made no move to date in view of the strong opposition to the fee which was voiced by members of the Fish and Game Committee at the last session of the Legislature.

The Macdriarmid committee will now endeavor, it is said, not only to sound public opinion, but to direct it down the channel the Government has in mind. An angling fee for residents would, it is argued, aid greatly in game fish conservation.

Recommendation of the $1 fee by the special committee would likely mean its operation in 1929.

PORT HOPER IN EUROPE

Mars Westington Describes Part Of Trip, Especially In Sunny Italy

A letter bearing the stamp of Rome and in the handwriting of one well-known to many of our readers, was laid before us and after we perused the same, we were sure you would all enjoy it as we did.

Prof. Mars M. Westington's letter to Mr. E. H. Martyn, is of general interest and we are certain you would like him to write another like this.

C/o Royal Bank of Canada, Princes St., E.C. 2, London, England, June 9, 1928. Dear Ed,—

I had intended writing you earlier but ever since April every day has been so ideal, from the tourists' standpoint, that my correspondence has suffered somewhat.

After a delightful visit to New York, a thoroughly enjoyable ocean voyage, and a glorious week in "Mighty London," I came to Italy via Holland, Germany and Switzerland, and sojourning in the places of greatest importance, and including the ever-memorable boat trip up the Rhine.

The German people both at home and abroad have strongly impressed me with their hospitality and courtesy. In these respects they far exceed all other peoples except perhaps the French. Germany is the only country where beggars do not continually beseege the tourist. The people are poor, but every last one is hard at work—there is no asking for alms anywhere.

Italy and Sicily are veritable gardens. The vineyards, palms, lemon orchards, etc., are extremely picturesque. The soil is highly productive everywhere and the agricultural methods proportionately primitive.

Hay is cut by hand, raked by hand, cooked and drawn in by oxen. The hay season begins about May 6; when I was in Sicily about the middle of May the grain harvest was being drawn in. They use ne wagnons, but load the grain on each side of mules' backs until you can see nothing but feet and wagging ears. Sicily is particularly attractive in May—the roses are in full bloom, the cactus grows wild, as well as the geraniums, along the railroads.

All Italy is flourishing under the present Italian government. Mussolini appears to be a benevolent "strong man" who is worshipped almost as a God by the nation universally, and whose after death will surely be herofication. Certainly his rule has established law and order. All trains carry two policemen and at least two soldiers; blackmailing and brigandage, formerly so rife, are now so non-existent that even in the most remote sections of Sicily travellers may enjoy absolute security.

I met Douglas here in Rome last Sunday. The "Eternal City" is really the cleanest and most beautiful I have ever seen. We unfortunately have to leave on Wednesday for Greece, where we expect to remain several weeks, returning to France, Belgium and Holland in July and touring Great Britain and Ireland in August and September.

This is a trip on which a man could write a book and I am afraid my observations may consequently seem a little detached. However, I hope that you and Mrs. Martyn may be able to go abroad sometime in the future, and enjoy the trip as much as I have every moment of this one.

With kindest regards to all,
Sincerely,
Mars M. Westington.

REPORT SHOWS SMALLER LOSS

More Fires in 1927 But Loss Is Much Smaller

According to a report of the Fire Marshall of Ontario for 1927, there were more fires during 1927 than the previous year, but the loss was much smaller. Port Hope's fire loss in 1927 was $750.

Fire Marshall E. P. Heaton says in part: "For the fourth successive year we show an increase in the number of fires which have occurred in the province but a reduction in the amount of the loss incurred thereby." The comparative figures for the past five years are then given, showing that while the number of fires in 1927 was 11,506 as compared with 10,941, the previous high mark established in 1923, the loss was only $11,878,333 as compared with $18,344,587 in 1923, while the other years between 1923 and 1927 all showed a higher fire loss than the year just closed.

The Fire Marshall continues: "References to the statement on page 6 of the fire loss in our four largest cities will show that the aggregate loss was $230,460 less. It is also worthy of note that 41 per cent of the total number of fires in the province took place in the four named cities; the proportion of the loss sustained thereby in proportion to the whole loss of the province was 28 1-2 per cent. Considering the congested values in these cities, the record is a tribute to fire department efficiency."

SECRET OF HAPPINESS

When things are far from cheerful and your feeling rather blue, Remember there are other folks who've got the feeling, too. Don't sit around and grumble at your everlasting luck, That's just the time to stick it out and show a bit of pluck. For even at the worst of times you'll always find a bit Of happiness around you if you like to look for it.

When everything looks splendid and you're feeling pretty bright, Remember there are other folks still trying hard to fight. The sun's not shining everywhere because it shines on you, And for a lot of other folk things may be looking blue. So when you're feeling happy, don't forget to shed a bit Of happiness around you for those in need of it.

It's not your job to grumble at the way the world is run, It isn't fair to sit about, just basking in the sun. And whether luck has come your way, or things are going wrong, Remember that it's up to you to help the world along. So look around for happiness, and when you find a bit Just share it out with all the world and make the most of it. —Phillip Harrison.

Kingston Drops a Pair

Oshawa took two games from Kingston at Oshawa yesterday in a Central Ontario Baseball League attraction, the morning game going eleven innings. The score of this game was 9 to 6, a homer with two bases being occupied was responsible for the 3-run margin.

The afternoon fixture was somewhat of a burlesque affair, Kingston using seven pitchers. The visitors uncorked five errors while Oshawa batters drew eleven charities. The first game was a pitchers' battle between Mathews for Oshawa and Jamieson for Kingston. Dainty went the route for Oshawa in the afternoon and pitched consistent ball. A number of double plays featured both games.

Another Homer

Babe Ruth hit his thirty first home run of the season in the 6th inning of the Yankee Senator game at Washington yesterday, with Garland Braxton pitching and nobody on base.

The homer put Ruth 25 games 22 days and 6 home runs ahead of his 1927 record. On this date last year he had 25 and he failed to get his thirty-fourth until his ninety-fourth game of the season.

Capture Two

Taking five of the last seven games against Rochester, the Leafs have come through the so called acid test with colors flying and they are now safely in the lead with more victories in the offing. In yesterday's games at Toronto they rose to great heights in the morning tilt to win by 5 to 0 and in the afternoon they battled toe to toe with the desperate Red Wings overcame the lead three times and eventually won a well earned 5-3 verdict.
