BYNG MUST RETIRE AT 70

Has Prospects of Only Four Years At Most At Head Of Police

Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, was sharply questioned in the House of Commons Wednesday concerning the announcement of the appointment of Viscount Byng, former governor-general of Canada, as Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police and head of Scotland Yard.

Labor members of the House displayed considerable feeling on the subject and more than once the Speaker had to call the members to order.

George Lansbury (Labor, Bow and Bromley) first asked what salary would be paid the new Commissioner, what his period of office would be and whether he would be entitled to a pension when he retired.

The Home Secretary replied that Viscount Byng was entitled to the salary provided in the Home Office estimates, namely, $15,000 yearly. No definite term of office was fixed, but as the law stands, the commissioner of police cannot retain office after he reaches the age of 70. Viscount Byng is 65 years of age. As regards a pension, the Minister could only refer the questioner to the Police Pensions Act, under which the pension is only payable where it is specially approved by the Secretary of State with the consent of the treasury.

Mr. Lansbury again asked how long Viscount Byng would serve.

"No period was fixed," the Home Secretary returned. "He must retire at 70, and he may retire before."

OBITUARY

S. S. LAZIER—BELLEVILLE

Samuel Shaw Lazier, Honorary Colonel of the Agyle Light Infantry, Master in Chancery of the Supreme Court and Deputy Judge, a native son of Hastings County, passed away at the family residence, Kirklaw, at Belleville, Wednesday, at 11 a.m. He had been in failing health for some time, on account of advanced age, but his sudden demise today was a shock to his wide circle of friends.

Born in Township of Tyendinaga in 1840, deceased received his education in the township, the high school at Belleville, and Victoria College, Toronto. He studied law under his brother, a former Judge of the county, and was called to the Bar in 1864. He practiced law in Belleville for ten years, and he was appointed in 1874 Master in Chancery and Deputy Registrar for the Counties of Hastings, Prince Edward, Lenox and Addington. He relinquished the Deputy Registrarship some years later, but retained the Mastership in Chancery till his demise. Deceased was the oldest judiciary holding office in the Province of Ontario. In his long years of service his decisions have seldom been reversed and seldom appealed.

The late Colonel Lazier devoted a great deal of his time to the militia and the Masonic Order. In May, 1865, he obtained a first class military certificate, and in August, following, was gazetted Ensign in the Fifteenth Argyll Light Infantry. In June, 1866, he obtained Captaincy, while on active service with his regiment at Prescott, where he saw service against the Fenians. He was gazetted Major in 1871 and Lieutenant Colonel in 1876, and from then on till 1895 he commanded the regiment in Belleville with credit to the city and forces.

NO CROSSES NO CROWNS

Had we no heavy cross to bear on earth below
With weary brow and aching, sighing heart;
Did no sharp thorns among our roses grow
Piercing our struggling souls with sorrow's dart.

Did we drink deep of earthly joys
Of life's rare gifts and witching smiles,
Vain flattery's charms and all the hollow toys,
Which serve to lure us with deceitful wiles.

From heaven our weakend souls would turn,
To the false sweets of this brief life we'd cling;
No longer with strong faith in future glory burn
And to our God cold, empty hands would bring.

But when instead of even bliss and roses fair,
Thorns spring around our feet and fortune frowns,
If we our heavy burdens take and bravely bear,
Above the Crosses we shall see bright, gleaming Crowns.

Strangled with Asthma is the only expression that seems to convey what is endured from an attack of this trouble. The relief from Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is beyond measure. Where all was suffering there comes comfort and rest. Breathing becomes normal and the bronchial tubes completely cleared. This unequalled remedy is worth many times its price to all who use it.
