Weather Man Explains

Cause of Hot Wave

Toronto Meteorologist Says No Reason to Expect That the Conditions Will Not Last Some Time

"What is the real reason for this excessive heat spell," the weather man at Toronto was asked.

"It is to be found in the condition of the peninsula of Ontario rather than in any extraordinary feature in the heat wave itself," was the reply. "Southern Ontario for a long time has been excessively dry. If there had been moisture in the ground, the heat here would not have been so extreme. Everything has been favourable to bringing on record heat. The days have been long, and the wind has been from the south-west."

"It is the low humidity which makes the heat endurable at all. In New York city, the reason of the large number of deaths is the extreme humidity. Here, although there have been deaths, it has not been nearly as serious as if there had been much humidity at the same time.

"The present heat wave had its origin in Kansas and Missouri last week. Conditions there were also favourable to high heat," said the observatory official. "The dry plains there took in the rays of the sun, and when an area of low pressure set in, the temperature went right up. They have been having from 100 to 102 for days.

"That area has moved north-east until it has spread over the whole eastern half of the continent. Right here in this part of Ontario it has been about the worst, owing to the extraordinary dryness of the land."

"The storms which are coming will not dispel the heat completely. Of course, it will moderate a little for there will be more moisture, but I see no prospects of cool weather for quite a long time. The idea that a hot day or a hot spell is necessarily followed by a cool one is a fallacy. The fact is that it is very hard to break any type of weather. That is why there has been such a period of wet weather in the West. It is hard to break that condition, and for dry weather to come."

The weather man thinks it probable that Ontario, even before the days of official records, never had heat like the present.

there was never a period of 100 degrees in the shade.

"Last week," said the weatherman in conclusion, "on my way back from Dawson where there has been very cold weather, I had steam heat in my room at Victoria, B. C. In Vancouver, on Coronation Day, the women were wearing furs on the streets. I see that in Victoria Tuesday night it was only eight degrees above freezing."

THE SPUR LINE

Will Be Completed By October 15th

A party of G. T. R. Surveyors are in town at work on the route of the Spur Line. The tenders for the construction of this line have all been sent in to Montreal and the work will be awarded in a few days. The contract calls for the work to be completed by October 15th. The last plans it will be remembered, showed King street to be closed but this was a mistake. The elevation of the line commences at the File Factory bridge and there will be subways at Barrett, Ontario, Mill and Peter street, with a level crossing on King street. There will also be a pedestrian subway built in place of Jacob's Ladder.

SEVERE STORM

At Peterboro—Lightning, Thunder and Rain—Much Damage

Following five days of intense heat, Peterborough was visited Thursday morning by an electrical storm of more than usual violence, which did considerable damage in the district and at the same time was of decided benefit to the farmers, whose crops were threatened with destruction through the prolonged hot spell. The storm came shortly before five o'clock, heralded by continuous rumbling of thunder in the west, which awakened the many people who were sleeping on verandahs and balconies and enabled them to get safely indoors before the downpour. The lightning was very severe and the thunder heavy and almost incessant. The rainfall was very heavy while the storm lasted, but by 7 o'clock the shower was over.

A number of places in the city and in the surrounding country were struck and some narrow escapes are recorded.

Lightning struck the chimney at Mrs. Armour's, 145 Rubidge street. Running down the chimney it smashed out every stop and finally made its exit through the hall into the street, carrying with it clouds of smoke and dust.

Mrs. Armour, who was sitting in the kitchen corner at the time the bolt struck, was momentarily stunned and unable to speak or move a limb. Every moment the house was expected to be in flames, but happily such was not the case, the only damage being that the chimney was somewhat loosened. The roof of the dwelling of Mrs. Pethwick, 195 Park street suffered damage to a considerable extent. Tiles and beams were literally shivered, and pieces of the wood were thrown out on the street. This house also was lucky to escape conflagration. Builders are now at work repairing the damage.

TRAGIC DEATH

Of Mr. Andrews—Falls from Hay Wagon With Fatal Results

A sad fatality occurred Wednesday afternoon in North Monaghan township, which resulted in the death of Mr. Thomas Andrews. The deceased, with the assistance of his son, was engaged in hauling grain into the barn from the field, and while attempting to get down from one of the loads, he slipped and fell and his whole weight was precipitated onto the breast beam of the barn. Several ribs were broken and he was otherwise badly shaken up, but at the time his condition was not thought serious. He was immediately removed to the house and medical aid summoned, but to no avail. The shock to the system was too much. He rapidly sank until death took place several hours later.

The late Mr. Andrews was well known and highly respected throughout the district in which he lived. He was a former resident of Welcome and the news of his tragic death will come as a startling shock to his many friends.

The funeral took place this afternoon at Welcome Cemetery upon the arrival of the 12.30 train from Peterboro.

A Level-Headed Woman.

Who says that hypnotism is without value? Here is Mrs. Annie Windhorst, who lives on a farm near Ridgeway, Illinois. The other day while she was preparing dinner, a maniac, supposed to have escaped from some asylum, rushed into her house, told her that he had received instructions from the Almighty to kill her and her three children. He seized her by the throat, forced her against the wall, told her to get down on her knees and pray, adding that he intended to strangle her.

Mrs. Windhorst is a student of hypnotism. She caught the maniac's eye and then told him to sit down in a chair near at hand. She threw him into a trance and told him that he was unable to lift his hand from his side. She held him in this condition until she could call to a neighbor, who rallied a force, came into the house, bound the maniac and carried him to the county jail. This shows us that it is possible for a level-headed woman to escape from what would seem to be a desperate situation. If she had not kept her wits about her, she would undoubtedly have been killed.

CENSUS OF IRELAND.—A provisional abstract of the enumerators' summaries of the census of Ireland gives the total population at 4,831,951—a decrease since 1901 of 76,824 or 1.7 per cent. Of the total population 7.39 per cent were returned as Roman Catholics, 13.1 per cent as Protestant Episcopalians, 10 per cent as Presbyterians, and 1.4 per cent as Methodists. The percentage of loss of population for the decade is the smallest yet recorded.

LEGLESS AND ARMLESS.

Yet Kavanagh Was a Daring Rider and a Famous Showman. Far and away the most interesting member and in many ways the most remarkable man who has ever sat in the house of commons was the flight Hon. Arthur Kavanagh, who sat for the county of Wick.

Kavanagh was born without arms or legs—he was, in fact, a mere trunk of a man. And yet he performed a feat from 1859 to 1880, with that full complement of members might well have shrunk.

Stripped on to his saddle, he was one of the most skillful and daring riders to be found in all Ireland. On one occasion, it is said, the saddle turned under him and the horse tumbled back to the stable yard with his master hanging under him, his hair sweeping the ground, bleeding profusely.

So remarkable was the sight of this plump little trunk perched on his big horse that the people were wont to dash out of a wood ran shrieking to his mother, exclaiming: "Oh, my, my, I've seen Satan himself! I've seen him sure enough!"

Kavanagh was also an enthusiastic sportsman and was the first to assert the right of M. P.'s to motor their craft opposite the houses of parliament. He went on a shooting expedition to Albania and published a charming book on his experiences, illustrated with admirable photographs taken by himself.

His most famous exploit, however, was his ride from Norway to India. Accompanied by two friends, he rode across Russia to the Caspian sea, thence to Astrakhan and Astrabad and through Persia, laughing at the perils and fatigues of a journey which might well have daunted even the famous Colonel Burnaby.

Kavanagh, who was the father of four handsome sons and daughters, all perfectly formed, was carried into the house of commons on the back of an attendant, and was certainly one of the keenest and ablest of legislators of his time—London Tit-Bits.

CHANCES OF LIFE.

Figures That Indicate Your Probable Future in Years.

Do you ever wonder how long you are going to live? Ask an actuary, the man who figures it all out for the life insurance companies and who can tell with almost supernatural precision. He'll tell you that if you are 20, and in good health, your chances are 12 to 1 that you'll live beyond 50. For longer life he'll offer these odds: To be 40, 5 to 1; to be 50, 3 to 1; to be 60, 1 to 2; to be 70, 1 to 3; to be 80, 1 to 5; to be 90, 1 to 10; to be 100, 1 to 20.

Suppose you are 80. Your chances run this way: To be 80, 11 to 1; to be 85, 4 to 1; to be 90, 2 to 1; to be 95, 1 to 1; to be 100, 1 to 2. If you are 90, your chances of turning 100 are 1 to 2. If you are 100, your chances of turning 110 are 1 to 10.

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS.—Mr. F. O. Lewis, Secretary of the New York Prison Association, has made some valuable suggestions along the line of prison reform. One is that all feeble-minded should be segregated. Another is that wives and children of prisoners should, wherever possible, share the fruits of their toil.

Three Houses Are Struck in Brockville—Barrie's House Hit and He's Deafened by the Shock.

During the storm lightning struck three cottages close to the town. The summer home of F. B. Steacy at Fernbank was the scene of one of the attacks. The lightning struck the roof, bearing a hole through and twisting the rafters as though they were matches.

It is somewhat odd that the Norman French of Edward the Confessor should still be the language, the legal voice, of parliament, but so it is in fact. Whenever a bill has passed the commons the clerk before he forwards it to the house of lords writes upon it, according to the ancient usage, "Sic ballie au seigneur."

It is not the royal assent to become a law. Here the Norman French says "assent." The commons, summoned by the usher of the black rod, are admitted to the bar of the house of lords to hear the statement of his majesty's command. Then the lords are assembled the lord chancellor makes a sign to his assistant, who reads the title of the bill and then says in a loud voice, "Le roi le veult!"

The king wills it. In the case of a bill for the raising of money, the roi remercia ses bons sujets, accepte leur benevolence, et ainsi le veult. (The king thanks his good subjects, accepts their faith and so wills it.)

Should a bill pass both houses it is sent from the commons to the lords. Here the Norman French says "assent." The commons, summoned by the usher of the black rod, are admitted to the bar of the house of lords to hear the statement of his majesty's command.

Beaverly, July 7.—Yesterday morning about six o'clock a severe thunderstorm in this vicinity, over four miles south of Beaverton, the new bank barn of Donald Brown, near the township of Thorval, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Mr. Brown's loss will be heavy, as four horses, twenty-five cows and several calves were killed, also all his hens and implements were burned.

Trolley Cars Struck. Niagara Falls, July 7.—For half an hour yesterday the most severe electric storm of the summer raged along the frontier. On the American side, two automobiles and several trolley cars were struck by lightning. Firemen were called out to extinguish a blaze resulting from two telegraph poles being struck.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES. Ten acres of Jackson Park at Galt has been sold to manufacturers. George Gordon of Eugenia drank gasoline in mistake, and it killed him. Mr. G. B. Bolshy's automobile was run into by his own automobile and injured.

Jerome Cronk, an inmate of the House of Refuge at Belleville, was found hanging in the bars of his cell.

Contracts for the construction of the Canadian Northern Vancouver to Kamloops line have been let, and work will begin in a few days.

The fire loss at Marville will amount to $100,000. The Grand Trunk station, five box-cars and several large business establishments were burned.

The honey crop in Kent, Lambton and Essex counties is the smallest in twenty years. Climatic conditions are for the most part the cause of the shortage.

W. J. G. of the Inland Revenue Department has reported, regarding complaints made against the Gas company in Toronto, that the meters are correct, and the quality of the gas up to standard.

Fire of a mysterious origin last night destroyed the grand-stands at the Windsor Athletic Grounds. The loss is estimated at $70,000, which is partially covered by insurance. A thousand men were put to work clearing the grounds, and more live high dead carpenters got busy on the new structure.

Drowning at Cobourg. Cobourg, July 7.—The body of W. J. Cook, 24 years of age, was found yesterday morning in the water east of the harbor at the foot of Division Street. It is not known how the drowning occurred, but the body was found around town on Wednesday afternoon and up to a late hour at night. No inquest will be held. The body was sent last night to his father's home at Sterling, where interment will take place.

PORT HOPE, JULY 7, 1911

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

His paper in The Critical Review, itself a decided success, might have been followed up by others of the same tenor. Instead of mouldering in a dull cathedral town, he might now be living and working in France or Germany. His money would have served one purpose as well as the other, and two or three years of determined effort—

Mrs. Roots showed her face at the door.

A gentleman is asking for you, says Mr. Chivers. "Mr. Chivers? Please ask him to come up."

He threw his book on to the table, and stood in expectancy. Someone ascended the stairs with rapid stride and creaking boots.

The door was flung open, and a cordial but affected voice burst forth in greeting.

"Ha, Mr. Peak! I hope you haven't altogether forgotten me? Delighted to see you again!"

Godwin gave his hand, and felt it strongly pressed, whilst Chivers gazed into his face with a smiling wistfulness which could only be answered with a grin of discomfort.

The Rev. Bruno had grown very tall, and seemed to be in perfect health; but the efficiency of his brilliant youth still declared itself in his attitudes, gestures, and attire. He was dressed with marked avoidance of the professional pattern.

A hat of soft felt, not clerical, fashionable collar and tie, a sweeping ulster and beneath it a frock coat, which was doubtless the pride of some West End tailor. His patent-leather boots were dandiacally diminutive; his glove fitted like that of a lady who lives but to be bien gantee. The feathery hair, which at Whitelaw he was wont to comb smooth, still had its golden shimmer, and on his face no shadow was permitted.

"I had heard of your arrival here, of course," said Peak, trying to appear civil, though anything more than that was beyond his power. "Will you sit down?"

"This is the 'breathing time' of the day," with you, I hope? I don't disturb your work?"

"I was only reading this book of Walsh's. Do you know it?"

But for some such relief of his feelings, Godwin could not have sat still. There was a pleasure in uttering Walsh's name. Moreover, it would serve as a test of Chivers' disposition.

"Walsh?" He took up the volume. "Hal Justin Walsh. I know him. A wonderful book! Admirable dialect! Delicious style!"

"Not quite orthodox I fancy," replied Godwin, with a curling of the lips.

"Orthodox? Oh, of course not of course not. But a rich vein of humanity. Don't you find that? Pray allow me to throw off my overcoat. Ha, thanks!—A rich vein of humanity. Walsh is by no means to be confused with the nullifidians. A very broad-hearted large-souled man; at bottom the truest of Christians. Now and then he effervesces rather too exuberantly. Yes, I admit it. In a review of his last book, which I privileged to write for one of our papers, I ventured to urge upon him the necessity of restraint; it seems to me that in this new work he exhibits more self-control, not as yet he had enjoyed no intercourse with the broadest school of Anglicans, and was uncertain as to the limits of modern latitudinarianism.

The discovery of such fantastic liberality in a man whom he could not but dislike and condemn gave him no pleasure, but at least it disposed him to amusement rather than antagonism. Chivers' pronunciation and phraseology were distinguished by such original affectation that it was impossible not to find entertainment in listening to him. Though his voice was naturally thin and piping, he managed to speak in head notes which had a ring of robust utterance.

The sound of his words was intended to correspond with their virile warmth of meaning. In the same way he had cultivated a habit of the muscles which conveyed an impression that he was devoted to athletic sports. His arms occasionally swung as if brandishing dumbbells, his chest now and then spread itself to the utmost, and his head was often thrown back in an attitude suggesting self-defence.

"So you are about to join us," he exclaimed, with a look of touching interest much like that of a ladies' doctor speaking delicately of favour symptoms. Then, as if consciously returning to the virile note, "I think we shall understand each other. I am always eager to study the opinions of those among us who have scientific minds. I hear of you on all hands; already you have strongly impressed some of the thinking people in Exeter."

Excursionists Thrown into Water at Park at Aylmer.

ONE WOMAN IS DROWNED

Mrs. Justin Davis of Woodlawn is the Only One to Lose Her Life in Catastrophe Which Might Have Drowned a Score But For the Prompt Rescues of Two Young Yachtsmen—Gardway Action

Ottawa, July 7.—Through the collapsing of a section of the pier leading to the dock at Queen's Park, Aylmer, shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon, fifty people, all residents of Fitzroy, Aylmer and Toronto, were precipitated into the water. A scene of indescribable confusion followed. One fatality occurred, Mrs. Justin Davis of Woodlawn. Her husband, losing her life by drowning, Miss Pearl Graham, Toronto, had a narrow escape, only being brought around with difficulty.

The lives of the whole fifty persons were endangered, and had it not been for Mr. Foley Ottawa, and Mr. Mullin, Hull, the young members of the Victoria Yacht Club, it is more than probable that a score or more would have met their death by drowning. To these young men credit is due for saving the lives of the women by pulling the rescued out of the water into a boat, many owe their lives.

At the time the accident occurred the pier was crowded with about 250 members of the Anglican Churches at Fitzroy Harbor and Toronto, who were waiting for the arrival of the young Mr. G. B. Greener, which was to carry them back to their homes. The occasion of their visit to the park and to Ottawa was their annual picnic held under the management of Rev. Mr. Ivison, rector of the two churches. The steamer was about to put out to take on the excursionists awaiting its arrival. Many of those waiting were engaged in watching young Foley and Mullin swimming and diving. At the sound of the steamer's whistle a half rush was made toward the end of the dock, when suddenly there was a sound of rending timbers, and in a moment those who were standing over the spot where the wreck occurred, were hurried into the water with great force.

The balance of the excursionists stood seemingly helpless. No one with Foley and Mullin, as the two young men were engaged in their work of rescue. Hastily seizing up the situation and seeing that they alone in the crowd had any chance of helping those in peril, they plunged into the lake and commenced to bring the women to the pier. One after another was pulled, hauled, or dragged to the platform, raised up the side of the pier so that willing hands could bring them to the safety of the dock. With no thought to their own safety, they acted like beavers and never stopped until all were accounted for. Men stood watching them and did not offer a hand. Indeed, it seems to be "save him who may."

In the water several incidents occurred that throw no heroic light on the men who were thrown in with the women and children. One of the occurrences was of a particularly cowardly nature. A young Mullin had just pulled a woman who was going down for the last time. Seeing another in a like predicament he asked one of the male passengers, who was clinging to the dock, to take charge of the first woman while he went to the help of the second. Mullin had no sooner turned around than he heard the sound of a cry, looking around he saw the man strike the woman full in the face, sending her back into the water. Fortunately, however, Mullin was able to rescue both women, but in the hurry he lost track of the man who did the cowardly act.

Backing For C. N. R. Montreal, July 7.—The presence of Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann, together with Col. Davidson, in this city at the same time has given rise to much speculation, and some of the forecasts were that they were on their way to announce that the Canadian Northern has secured financial backing for the construction of the entire route from the Pacific to the Atlantic. It was also announced that within thirty months the railroad would enter Montreal by a tunnel and erect a magnificent central station.

Kicked to Death. Toronto, July 7.—Although he had been warned against doing so, 14-year-old Eddie Harvey, 282 Dupont street, entered the back yard of the new Howland avenue fire hall at 11.30 yesterday morning and approached a horse tied there. He was so severely kicked by the animal that he died a short time after.

When the little fellow was found by the firemen, his left side was terribly injured. The horse had broken loose, and either kicked or trampled him. An inquest will be held.

The occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Bragg and a boy, were thrown out, but fortunately all escaped without any serious injury. The machine was badly wrecked.

Heat Wave In Toronto Exacts Heavy Toll of Lives.

Toronto, July 7.—The heat wave in its way west, Quebec and Ontario last night did its worst. The weather man said that its next stop would likely be Manitoba and Alberta. During the few hours it has been quite cool in the west, Calgary having been only four points above freezing.

The prolonged previous dry spell in Ontario made the heat harder to bear. Added to this was the usual Ontario humidity. Had the atmosphere been like the few hours of weather, the toll would not have been nearly so oppressive.

The death toll in Toronto has reached over 40, possibly more, having died indirectly. Yesterday thirteen out of twenty death registrations at the city hall were caused by the heat. The total number of registrations since Saturday is almost double that of the same period of last year, and judging from this, it is not at all unlikely that many deaths, while not being attributed to the heat, may have been hastened by it.

New York, July 7.—Showers last night brought measurable relief to New York from the hot wave which has taken more than 100 lives and caused hundreds of registrations during the five days it has hung over this city. Until the shower area began to hang over the city, it was not clear that any relief was in store.

England Also Warm. London, July 7.—England is experiencing the hot wave also, which, however, according to meteorologists, has no connection with the heat wave in the west. The temperature in London yesterday was 83 in the shade—the highest since the beginning of the year. The temperature is driving the people by the wholesale to the seashore.

MEN ARE NEEDED.

West Is Faced by Old Trouble In Worse Form. Winnipeg, July 7.—The Canadian Pacific Railway is rousing to a sense of its responsibility for the men who are at the present time promised to be the two-hundred-million-and-over men of the Canadian prairie west. It was stated yesterday that the company's office that a number of enquiries had been telegraphed to large landowners over the Canadian prairie asking whether they could spare men. Answers received to date show that the labor situation is not encouraging.

It is possible, though, that an all-gatherer notice could be issued, instead of bringing from seven or eight men, said men from British Columbia points, mainly from Vancouver. It has been pointed out by Sir William Whyte that owing to the exceptional labor conditions prevailing at Vancouver, a large number of men are being recruited from the Pacific coast. The railway has been asked to grant some cheap harvesters' fares from the coast as are offered from eastern Canada. It was stated that the railway will thus get help from the Pacific coast, which will be a great benefit to the prairie west in its hour of need.

Inquest Adjourned. Beamsville, July 7.—The body of Edna Comfert, which was taken from the reservoir Wednesday night, was buried yesterday afternoon at the establishment and a jury was empaneled yesterday morning at six o'clock. A postponement was taken till Tuesday evening, July 7, to procure further evidence. The inquest adjourned at 10 o'clock Mrs. Fairfield, Elmore and Stallwood conducted a post-mortem, and a jury was empaneled at the moment until the inquest. The men's hats and a little wagon belonging to her son were found in the woods a short distance from the reservoir by a squad of boy scouts yesterday afternoon.

Motor Cyclist Hurt. Chatham, July 7.—Murray Hogarth had an unfortunate experience yesterday morning, when motoring in town on his motor cycle on the river road, Harwich. A horse hitched to a wagon was being driven by a man who was going in the same direction. When it heard the cycle come up suddenly from behind it became frightened and dashed right into the cyclist, knocking him down into the side ditch and damaging the motor cycle considerably. Hogarth was badly injured.

Vessels Destroyed Crib Work. Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., July 7.—Siroux and Collins, who have a Government contract for crib work at the upper approach to the canal, complain of delay in operations through the cribs being destroyed by vessels downward bound. During this season cribs have been badly damaged, four times by American vessels and once by a Canadian.

Said Brother Stole Clothes. Chatham, July 7.—Paul Werwener, a Belgian, came up in the County Police Court yesterday, charged with stealing clothing and other articles from Barney Kokob another Belgian. He pleaded not guilty and claimed the clothes were stolen by his brother, who sold some of them to him. The case was remanded for a week.

Struck by Flying Splinter. Chatham, July 7.—Baum Pickering, an employer, who bent goods works, was struck by a flying splinter from a shaver he was operating and suffered a severe gash in the face below the right eye.

VETO BILL CHANGED

Important Amendment Is Added by Unionist Lords.

LORD MORLEY WARNS THEM

Clause Is Added to Provide a Joint Committee of Both Houses to Decide What Measures Are Money Bills—Many Unionists Advise Against Provoking the House of Commons to Create New Peers.

London, July 7.—The committee stage of the Parliament bill, otherwise known as the veto bill, for the curtailment of the powers of the Lords, was concluded in the House of Lords last night. Although numerous amendments and new clauses seeking to modify its provisions were proposed by members, these were all withdrawn or rejected.

The debate throughout displayed great vivacity on the part of the members against their leaders and there were significant differences of opinion. Lord St. Aldrya, who as Michael Edward Hicks-Beach, was Chancellor of the Exchequer in 1880, and again in 1893-1894, the financial leader of the House, said more than once declined to vote with his party.

The House of Lords shows the greatest reluctance to yield its control of money bills. Lord St. Aldrya said the Lords is committed to a joint committee of six members of the two Houses the power of deciding whether or not any bill is a money bill. The power which the Government bill proposes in the Speaker of the House of Commons alone.

Fourteen select committees will have the virtual power of referring any important bill to a referendum of the people. The report stage has been fixed by the Lords for July 13, and when the bill goes back to the House of Commons, it is certain that these new clauses and amendments will be rejected en bloc. That course the House of Lords will then adopt is uncertain, but the strongest influence are being brought to bear from the strongest section of the Unionist party to persuade the leaders against forcing the Government to invoke the creation of 500 peers.

Lord Curzon said his fellow Unionist peers profess to fear that a money bill may pass the House of Commons with general legislation tacked on, and that when the bill goes back to the House of Commons, it is certain that these new clauses and amendments will be rejected en bloc. That course the House of Lords will then adopt is uncertain, but the strongest influence are being brought to bear from the strongest section of the Unionist party to persuade the leaders against forcing the Government to invoke the creation of 500 peers.

After several peers had spoken in support of the new clause, it was adopted and added to the bill.

Heat Hastens Vote.

Washington, July 7.—A more general sentiment for expeditious action on the Canadian reciprocity agreement, was apparent yesterday after informal conferences among various groups of Senators and six hours of continuous debate in the Senate. The measure was brought to the floor of the Senate. It was the first of the longer sessions under the direction of the Senate to meet one hour earlier than usual. The measure was brought to the floor of the Senate. It was the first of the longer sessions under the direction of the Senate to meet one hour earlier than usual.

The informal discussions among Senators indicated that the present feeling, doubtless influenced to some extent by the existing hot wave, is that debate may be brought to an end by a vote on the measure, and that when the reciprocity bill is passed, the Democrats will be liable to vote on the wool and free list bills without any extended debate and adjourn almost immediately. The insurgent Republicans are still holding out, however, for other legislation.

May Need Special Election.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 7.—City Solicitor McBurney goes to Toronto today to interview Master in Chambers Ovington on the Home case, the latter having been recently unseated from the council. McBurney will endeavor to ascertain whether or not it will be necessary to hold a special election to fill the vacancy on the aldermanic board.

Two Fingers Crushed.

Chatham, July 7.—A McCormick, up the creek at Harwich, met with a serious accident yesterday morning. He was aiding in the removal of a beam when his hands got caught in the pulley. Before he could release it two fingers of his left hand were crushed to a pulp. He was brought to the city, where he was given surgical attention.

Fish Dying by Thousands.

Chatham, Ont., July 7.—The fish in Lake Erie are dying by the thousands, and are daily being washed up on the shores. Along the lake front near Erie Beach, thousands of people are burying dead pickered, bass, and herring by the ton. No reason can be assigned for this remarkable slaughter of the finny tribe.

Will Be Extradited.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 7.—Arrangements are being made to bring Anton Veit, a German, wanted in Buffalo for murdering a fellow-countryman on Oct. 30, 1910 back to Canada. Pending completion of arrangements he is held in Buffalo. The Canadian Government offered $500 reward for his arrest.

PUSHING TREATY.

Bryce and Knox Sign First Schedule in Paris.

Washington, July 7.—The principle of arbitration of international disputes, in so far as its application to the United States and Great Britain is concerned, received a pronounced impetus yesterday. Secretary of State Knox and Ambassador Bryce signed the first schedule of certain pecuniary claims existing between the United States and Great Britain and the terms of their submission to arbitration in accordance with the special agreement signed August 15 last.

Not satisfied with this accomplishment for one day, the Secretary and Ambassador then further lent their efforts to the cause of international peace by conferring for an hour on the proposed general arbitration treaty, which is to supplant, by broadening its scope, the very treaty under which the pecuniary claims will be arbitrated.

This conference was devoted to questions relating primarily to phraseology. It is admitted in official quarters that the treaty is all but completed, and the administration is confident it will be ratified in time for submission to the Senate for ratification at the present session.

The pecuniary claims to be arbitrated aggregate several million dollars. Some of them are of long standing, even antedating the war of 1812, while many grew out of the war in the United States. Others relate to fisheries and the Fiji Islands.

Both the special agreement and the schedule of claims will now be submitted to the Senate for ratification. The special agreement commits the two Governments to the arbitration scheme and provides the machinery of its execution. The schedule is a list of claims believed to be legitimate and worthy of consideration.

Reorganizing Standard Oil.

New York, July 7.—It is reported here that within a short time plans for reorganizing the Standard Oil Co. of New York and Jersey into a new company it is said will undergo complete disintegration and that all subsidiaries that are charged with having combined and conspired to monopolize the oil trade will operate separately. The company may be split into fifteen or twenty parts and each will operate as an independent company independent of other companies. The control, however, will continue to be the same.

Boatman's Body Recovered.

Sault Ste. Marie, July 7.—A body taken from the river two miles below the Soo Wednesday evening has been identified as that of John Sherwood, a boatman who disappeared in the river last night November, while bringing a party of Canadians, three of whom were drowned, to the Canadian side. It was rumored at the time of the accident that Sherwood had escaped and had left for parts unknown, but during the consequences of his act, the body has been interred in a public cemetery at the expense of the city, as he had no relatives here.

No Fireworks Allowed.

Montreal, July 7.—The building industry has been instructed to write to S. Letourneau, secretary of the Labor Union, to inform him that the use of fireworks and other fireworks will not be permitted on the occasion of the welcome to the President of the United States, Wilfrid Laurier, after returning from Great Britain. A little girl lost her eyesight through the last fireworks display and the city had to pay heavy damages.

GOLF CLUB TEA.—The golf club tea will be held on Saturday, July 8th, at 4 o'clock p.m., at the new Golf Club grounds. The members and friends are earnestly requested to attend.

LAWN FESTIVAL.—The congregation of the Church of Our Lady of Mercy will hold their annual lawn fête on the grounds west of the church, on Wednesday, July 19th. Keep the date open. Come and enjoy a pleasant evening. Band in attendance. Admission 15 cents.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—As Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Allin and children were leaving the home of her brother, Mr. Mark Jennings, Whitby, an automobile passed them at high speed, frightening their horse so badly that it kicked. The two children, Ellen and Albert, were seated in front of the buggy, and the little girl had her jaw broken, while the boy had his ear cut and head badly bruised by the horse's feet.

CROSSING WAS NOT NEEDED.—The town has placed a new concrete crossing on King street just opposite Mr. James Fleming's and to the majority of the ratepayers it looks quite unnecessary. Only a few feet to the north is a good cement crossing put down only a year or so ago and this should furnish ample accommodation for persons desirous of reaching the east side of King street from Ward street. There are dozens of places in town in need of crossings and the Council should use better judgment in the distribution of their concrete.

HOT WEATHER AND ITS RESULTS.—The mercury dropped back to 78 to-day, quite a pleasant change from yesterday when it hovered around 82. There is, however, no promise of rain, although there was quite a heavy rain at Garden Hill and Bewdley yesterday. In Montreal on Wednesday the thermometer registered at 84 during the entire night and it is estimated that over 50,000 persons slept in the park. During three days one hundred and eighty-nine children died as a result of the terrible heat. Fourteen deaths were recorded in Toronto yesterday all due to the excessive heat.

WATER

THE Board of Water-Works Commissioners, desirous to meet the wishes of the ratepayers who use Town water on their lawns, have decided, in the meantime, that the water may be used for this purpose between the hours of 6.30 and 8 p.m., and whilst thanking the ratepayers for their ready compliance with their request of the 5th inst. to abstain from lawn watering and needless waste, they still appeal to them to use the water judiciously, both for domestic and other purposes, and respectfully ask the co-operation of the citizens in this important matter. There is only one desire—and that is the welfare of the Town of Port Hope.
