In Port Hope, and following the presentation by the family the Rev. J. S. La Flair presented the bridal couple with the following address and a beautiful chair.

DEAR FRIENDS:—Your many friends in the Port Hope Baptist Church extend to you heartiest congratulations upon the reaching of the sixtieth mile stone on the journey of your married life.

We most sincerely wish for you that the journey together may yet continue in health, happiness and prosperity, for many years during which you may unceasingly enjoy one another's love, the affection of your offspring, the highest esteem of your numberless friends and most of all the abounding blessing of God.

We suppose that an occasion like this will bring freshly to your memories other days in the long ago, when love was perhaps less deep and strong, but more demonstrative, and when one chair was ample for the accommodation of two people.

It is only a slight token of the esteem in which we hold you both, but with it go our very best wishes for your continued happiness. We hope that you may for years to come find rest and comfort in the every-ready arms of this chair, and when the journey is ended come to the Home Land where we may all "meet again" no more to part forever.

Signed on behalf of the Church, R. J. EDMUNDS, Clerk.

It was all a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Hansman, but the former made a very appropriate reply thanking them from the bottom of his heart for their kind words and beautiful gifts.

inent Liberal, should be chosen beforehand."

In addition to these somewhat significant directions concerning the need for secrecy and the necessity for making Liberals prominent in the movement, the Montreal organization sends copies of cut and dried resolutions to be passed at the ready made meetings. There are two resolutions, one coupling reciprocity and annexation, and the other pledging members of the association to work against the reciprocity agreement now under discussion in the House of Commons, and if the same should become law, "to work for its abrogation at a later date."

PORT HOPE, JUNE 12, 1911

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

(Continued from Saturday) Sunday was always a day of weariness despondency, and at present he suffered from the excitement of his conversation with Sidwell, followed as it had been by a night of fever.

Not far from his door some children had gathered in a quiet corner, and were playing at a game on the pavement with pieces of chalk.

As he drew near, a policeman, observing the little group, called out to them in a stern voice: "Now then! what are you doing there? Don't you know what day it is?"

The youngsters fled, conscious of shameful delinquency. There it was! There spoke the civic voice, the social rule, the public sentiment! Godwin felt that the policeman had rebuked him, and in doing so had severely indicated the cause of that isolation which he was condemned to suffer.

He walked on at a great speed, chafing, talking to himself: His way took him through Heavtree (when Hooker saw the light here, how easy to believe that the Anglican Church was the noblest outcome of human progress) and on and on, until by a lane with red banks of sandstone, thick with ferns, shadowed with noble boughs he came to a hamlet which had always been one of his favourite resorts, so peacefully it lay amid the exquisite rural landscape.

The cottages were all closed and a silent hark for the reason! from the old church sounded an organ prelude, joining in one of the familiar hymns. A significant feature of Godwin's idiosyncrasy. Notwithstanding his profound hatred and contempt of multitudes, he could never hear the union of many voices in song but his breast heaved and a choking warmth rose in his throat. Even though prejudice wrought most strongly with him, he had to give way before this rush of emotion; he often hurried out of earshot when a group of Salvationists were singing, lest the involuntary sympathy of his senses should agitate and enrage him. At present he had no wish to draw away. He entered the churchyard, and found the weary mood which he had felt when he had often rested. And as he listened to the rude chanting of verse after verse, tears fell upon his cheeks.

This sensibility was quite distinct from religious feeling. If the note of devotion sounding in that simple strain had any effect upon him at all, it merely intensified his consciousness of pathos as he thought of the many generations that had worshipped here, living and dying in a faith which was at best a helpful delusion. He could appreciate the beautiful aspects of Christianity as a legend, its nobility as a humanising power, its rich resources in literature, its grandeur in historic retrospect. But at no moment in his life had he felt it as a spiritual influence. So far from tending in that direction, as he sat and stood here in the churchyard he owed to his fit of tearfulness a courage which determined him to abandon all religious pretences, and henceforth trust only to what was sincere in him—his human passion.

The future he had sketched to Sidwell was impossible; the rural pastorate, the life of moral endeavour which in his excitement had seemed so nearly a genuine aspiration that it might perchance become reality—dreams, dreams! He must woo as a man, and trust to fortune for his escape from a false position. Sidwell should hear nothing more of clerical projects. He was by this time convinced that she held far less tenaciously than he had supposed to the special doctrines of the Church; and if he had not deceived himself in interpreting her behaviour, a mutual avowal of love would involve ready consent on her part to his abandoning a career which he would represent it as had been adopted under a mistaken impulse. He returned to the point which he had reached when he set forth with the intention of bidding good-bye to the Warri-combes—except that in flinging away hypocrisy he no longer needed to trample his desires.

Each need no longer be pressed till after a lapse of time. For the present his task was to obtain one more private interview with Sidwell ere she went to London, or, if that could not be, somehow to address her in unmistakable language.

(TO BE CONTINUED.) It is Not in the Blood. Medicine Taken Internally Cannot Cure Eczema. It is Caused by Germs. Eczema cannot be overcome by ordinary treatment, and the old-fashioned way of dosing the system with drugs. Eczema is caused by a parasite germ that bores into the skin. It is generally a contagious disease. Until the parasite is completely destroyed and removed, eczema cannot be cured. Fully one-third of the skin diseases are in the hands of eczema.

I so thoroughly believe that Rexall Eczema Ointment will overcome eczema and allied skin complaints, that I unhesitatingly promise to promptly return the money paid me for it should it in any way be unsatisfactory to the user. Because of its remarkable cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal, soothing, healing influence, Rexall Eczema Ointment has a very pronounced value in the treatment of skin diseases, especially where the form of ailment is of the chronic, aggravating sort. I highly recommend it for the dry scaly form or the weeping type, where there is a constant flow of ill-smelling excretion. Rexall Eczema Ointment is very prompt in relieving pimples, blotches, skin discolorations, ringworm, acne, nettle rash, tetter, hives, ulcers, insect bites, and for healing sores and wounds. It is a pleasant smelling, grayish-white ointment, and is very easy to use. Two sizes, 50c and 5.00. Sold only at my store—The Rexall Store. H. W. Mitchell, Phm. B.

Excursions to Western Canada.

The Grand Trunk Railway System announced that on Tuesdays, June 13th and 27th, August 22nd and 25th, August 30th and 2nd September 3rd and 10th, 1911, Homeseekers' Excursions will be run from all Stations in Ontario and Quebec to Western Canada, via Chicago and Duluth or via Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, at reduced round trip fares.

The well-known double track line of the Grand Trunk from the East to Chicago appeals to the traveller, and with the superior train service that is offered by this line, including the famous "International Limited" from Montreal daily at 9.00 a. m. and which is the finest and fastest train in Canada, many passengers will be attracted to this way. The route via Chicago is a most interesting one, taking passengers through the principal cities and towns in Canada and in the States of Michigan and Indiana. In addition to this a choice of seven lines between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis is offered.

Owing to the great number of Canadians who reside in Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis Duluth and other cities en route, there is no doubt that the Grand Trunk will find many patrons who will take advantage of the opportunity thus afforded them for a brief visit at the stations with their friends. Canadian citizens are exempt from so-called Immigration Examination, and there is no detention at any point.

Baggage is carried through the United States free of charge, and attracts special attention on the part of the passenger. Inspection is not necessary at any part of the points at the border.

Another feature that will appeal to the homeseeker is the comfortable transfer at points like Chicago, St. Paul and Duluth to the well-ventilated clean cars, avoiding the necessity of travelling a long distance in the same car.

In addition to the above routes, the sale of tickets is also authorized via Sarnia, and the Northern Navigation Company's magnificent Steamers across Lake Huron and Lake St. Clair.

For further particulars apply to any agent of the Grand Trunk Railway system or write to Mr. J. Quinnlan, District Passenger Agent, Bonaventure Station, Montreal, or Mr. A. E. Duff, District Passenger Agent, Union Station, Toronto.

An Unnatural Mether.

Montreal, June 12.—A threat made in court to kill her own son just as she stepped out of the witness stand caused Mrs. James Brennan to assume the role of accused forthwith. The case before Recorder West for beating the late in the street the previous night, and the mother had been called to give evidence. When the judge's sentence of $50 or two months, she burst out: "Two months! what do you think of that? I will kill that scoundrel!"

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA AND BRONCHITIS

Brought Mrs. Baker to Death's Door. Father Morrissey's No. 10 Saved Her.

One of the many hundreds of cures wrought by Father Morrissey's No. 10 (Lung Tonic) few are more remarkable than that of the life of Mrs. John S. Baker, of 194 Rockland Road (North End), St. John, N.B. She writes on Oct. 16, 1909:

"I wish to express my gratitude that I am living to-day, saved from the grave by Father Morrissey's No. 10 (Lung Tonic). This time last year I had pleuro-pneumonia and bronchitis, and had been given up to die, and had my lungs tapped in the hospital, and never expected to walk again; I was continually getting worse every day. I came home from the hospital, and everyone was watching to see if I died. I tried everything but there seemed to be no cure for me."

"I began taking Father Morrissey's No. 10, and the second day I could eat without pain. I used 22 bottles of No. 10, as I was run down right into consumption, and for six months was just a shadow until I began to use it, and now I am in good health, and surprised most of my neighbors by gaining so quickly. I feel that it is worth all it is said."

"Father Morrissey's No. 10 is very different from the many preparations that simply relieve a cough. No. 10 relieves the cause of the cough, restores the membranes of throat and lungs to a healthy condition, and tones up the whole system, giving strength to resist future attacks."

BOAT UPSETS IN SQUALL

Arthur Hewitt, Aged Eighteen, is Out With His Younger Brother and Another Lad When Dinghy is Capsized—The Little Boys on the Boat and Their Swims For Help—Heart Gives Out.

Toronto, June 12.—Attempting to swim to shore when the sailboat in which he and his companions were sailing capsized, Arthur Hewitt, 15-year-old son of Arthur Hewitt, general manager of the Consumers Gas Co., met death by drowning yesterday afternoon just a few hundred yards off his father's cottage at Lorne Park. Young Hewitt was the eldest of the party of three lads, including his nine-year-old brother Gordon, and Edward, son of Charles Booth of the E. Eaton Co., both of whom clung to the boat until rescued.

Hewitt had been out some time, and although Hewitt was a good sailor, the small came with such suddenness that he had not time to right the boat. Once overturned, however, he sought to retain command, and placing the younger members of the party in safe positions, he started to swim for the shore. He was seen by onlookers to turn back, and then suddenly disappear. Boats with the bodies of the three boys were out of sight. Mait Akroyd was notified and is now assisting in the dragging.

CANADIANS WELCOMED.

Troops For Coronation Handsomely Treated at Liverpool.

LONDON, June 12.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Col. H. H. McLean, M.P., commanding officer of the Canadian coronation contingent, says the reception accorded the troops at Liverpool was the most magnificent he has ever seen. They were received in London by C. H. Moore, Gen. MacTavish, Hon. L. P. D'Almeida, Sir Hugh and Dr. Donald Armour. The Canadian naval contingent arrived on Saturday.

The Liverpool Post says Liverpool's welcome to the Canadian troops gives a popular expression to the cordiality of the feeling of all classes in the kingdom when the representatives of the dominions beyond the seas are to the front. Whatever the circumstances, the effect there is a wholesome popular sentiment of friendliness and brotherhood for them to rely upon. Canada is unquestionably within its constitutional right in negotiating a reciprocity agreement without regard to the interests of the other part of the Empire. The great harm can be done to either of the other dominions, but it would be in more accordance with the spirit of the Empire if recognition had been given by Canada to the relations with the other parts of the Empire by taking their interests into account.

CHINESE BOY HANGS HIMSELF.

Syren Scared Horses. Montreal, June 12.—The blowing of a syren on a motor car on Saturday resulted in the death of Mrs. Isabel Travers, who was thrown from the carriage in which she was driving when her horse bolted at the sudden sound.

Mrs. J. Miller, who was also in the carriage, suffered severe bruises, while the coachman, John Pitts, who was driving, was also injured. The accident took place on the Cote St. Antoine road. A sudden blast from a motor syren caused the horse to leap down the hill, the coachman being control.

The horse dashed between the sidewalk and a stone-laden wagon. The carriage crashed into the wagon and the occupants were thrown. Residents carried them into a house nearby, but Mrs. Crawford died before the arrival of an ambulance. Death resulted from shock, according to the doctors. Mrs. Miller will recover.

Travers Goes Back. Kingston, June 12.—Shortly after 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon W. R. Travers entered the big penitentiary at Portsmouth, and was registered on the rolls. He arrived in Kingston shortly after 1 o'clock, and Deputy Sheriff Severs, who had him in charge, took a cab and drove him to the Randolph Hotel, where he was staying. He was driven to prison.

M'LAREN RESIGNS

The Presbyterian Home Mission Secretary Steps Down.

HE WANTS LIGHTER WORK

For Nine Years, Says Energetic Head of One of the Church's Greatest Branches, He Has Had No Relaxation—Report of the Moral Reform Committee is Presented—Study Social Problems.

Ottawa, June 12.—The importance of the church taking a very live interest in social and industrial matters was emphasized at the Saturday meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly. After a comprehensive review of conditions all over Canada, the board of evangelizing, temperance, social and moral reform made the following recommendations: "That the general assembly hereby urge the members of the church to inform themselves carefully regarding the conditions of human life in their own neighborhoods, particularly as these are affected by the conditions of industry; to acquaint their congregations with these facts; to instruct their young people in the sociology of the gospel regarding the social service; to co-operate in every effort for the amelioration of the ends for which the church has for so long labored itself."

"That the general assembly hereby request all who have charge of schools and factories to make the simple preparation for instructions regarding the Christian ideal of society; and further, that it direct the governing bodies and faculties of theological colleges to provide that the students in their care be taught the social principles of the gospel and trained in methods of applying these principles to the needs of the localities in which they shall be called to minister. "That the general assembly hereby urge all the members of churches to give serious study of social problems and to avail themselves of their opportunities for social service; to bring the sense of justice and righteousness, which is fundamental in Christianity, to bear upon matters of every kind that touch the welfare of man, wherever their influence may extend, and to create a Christian public sentiment for social service; to bring the removal of wrong wherever found."

The next order of business was the reception of the report of the Home Mission Committee, and when Rev. Dr. E. D. McLaren, the Convenor and secretary of the committee, rose to present the report he had a startling announcement to make. Following a course of nervous strain, Dr. McLaren drove all thoughts of other business from his mind, and during the presentation of the dual position of Convenor and secretary of the Home Mission committee. For nine years he had been engaged in the Home Mission work, and during that time he had had, as he said, "very little home life, no intellectual relaxation, and no social enjoyment, and no social recognition, with great regret Dr. McLaren's resignation, to place on record the Assembly's appreciation of his faithful service, to give him his salary up to March 31, 1912, and to appoint a committee to canvass the new situation created by the resignation of the Convenor, to devise a course of action and report to the present Assembly."

Dead Number 350. Mexico City, June 12.—Because of the lack of telegraph facilities and slowness with which the officials of railway and telegraph districts make reports to the Government, it is not probable that months may pass before an accurate statement of the number of carbomb victims is known. The list of known dead so far totals a few more than 150. It is possible this number may be augmented somewhat, but neither Government officers nor local newspapers believe it will exceed 350, notwithstanding some rumors to the contrary that number more than 1,000.

Killed by Live Wire. Brandon, Man., June 12.—William Shaddick and Englishman, aged 22, driver for Murdoch Bros., was instantly killed Saturday evening by a live wire. Shaddick had finished deliveries and put his horse in the stable and was going to supper, taking a short cut over the back of the Empire Hotel. Two wires were hanging loose. He caught the end of one of them. His right hand was burned a quarter of an inch, but he had no relatives in this country. He was a member of the Sons of England.

Hill Again Invades Canada. Winnipeg, June 12.—That invasion of Western Canada by James J. Hill and his associates is a reality is evident from the fact that Mr. Hill has acquired by purchase the charter of Alberta Central railroads. He will at once commence construction of the line extending north from the border. The charter provides for a line north and south to the northern limits of the province, and the line will connect with the main line of the Great Northern.

Tactics Being Pursued by Anti-Reciprocity League.

Bradford Kopsider.

The St. John Telegraph exposes the methods of the "Anti-Reciprocity League of Canada," which is now operating throughout the country. Its confidential literature, sent out in advance, asks the local organizer to "call a meeting of prominent people whom you know to be strongly opposed to reciprocity, comprising as many Liberals as possible." It adds these pearls of wisdom:

"Be careful to explain that the meeting is to be entirely free from party politics."

"The meeting should be held behind closed doors, no press reports to be made, and no one favoring reciprocity admitted."

"A chairman, if possible, a prominent person."

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone in the Bladder

GIN PILLS PASSED IT

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone in the Bladder. He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.

"He relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller but he could not remove it although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise and joy, I passed the stone. GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they do not do so much good, I will recommend them to all the rest of my life."

The Bible Interpreted

Impression That the Old Testament Scriptures Are Obsolete Is Erroneous—A Masterly Exposition.

CHARLES T. RUSSELL, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

St. Louis, Mo., June 11.—Pastor Russell preached here twice today to great audiences. Both addresses were out of the ordinary and well calculated to make the hearers sit up and take notice.

The Old Testament Scriptures are accepted as of equal authority with the New Testament, said Pastor Russell, because Jesus and the Apostles so accepted them and inculcated all their teachings upon them.

their deceased friends as falling asleep. This expression is used frequently in the New Testament. St. Stephen tells us that he died "falling asleep."

The Apostle Paul, however, suggests that the Church may look back with profit upon the Worthies of the past to note their degree of faith in God and their obedience to His will.

St. Peter (1st Epistle, ii, 24-25) calls our attention to the fact that the Prophet David did not die in sin, and that his resurrection was not in regard to himself but Jesus—that the soul of Jesus was not left in sheol (hell, grave), and, addition to the fact, that Jesus was not allowed to corrupt.

St. Peter was pointing out the fulfillment of this prophecy of the resurrection of Jesus from the dead on the third day, when he made use of our text, "David is not ascended into heaven, nor did he remain in sheol."

Many Christian people repeat every Sunday what is styled the Apostles' Creed, which declares the crucifixion and death of Jesus and His descent into hell—to hades—and that "God raised Him from the dead, and raised Him to sit at the right hand of the Father."

King David will not go to heaven, said Pastor Russell, he will not desire to go to heaven, for the same reason that a fish has no desire to be taken out of the water.

And even when this spirit-begotten and with their affections set on things above, the Lord's consecrated "little flock" experience difficulty in keeping their hearts from the things of the earth.

On a previous occasion we saw the teaching of the Bible to be that the first to be blessed by Messiah's Kingdom will be the Ancient Worthies.

in the case of any other Bible character. And they show us a noble character, despite David's human weakness and the frailties of his flesh, asmastered to power by his kingly office and the misconceptions of kingly prerogatives which prevailed in his day.

The beautiful traits of the character of David, on account of which he was declared to be not a "new creature," nor "born of God," nor "an heir of God and joint-heir with Messiah," but "a man after God's own heart"—these traits were his loyal obedience and his integrity of every thing which in any degree was displeasing to God and interrupted the fellowship Divine.

God's spirit-begotten children may not, therefore, take the Prophet David or any of the Ancients as their pattern. Only Spirit-begotten ones should walk in the footsteps of Jesus, and may even take the Apostles and other faithful brethren for examples.

As soon as the spiritual phase of the resurrection is established in power, the setting up of the human phase will begin. In humble recognition, therefore, of the Divine purpose and order in the resurrection of the dead, the Church, we repeat the Apostle's statement that "they (those noble, loyal, righteous, faithful Ancient Worthies) who are to be resurrected, shall not be made perfect."

Therefore also we, being compassed about with so great a cloud of martyrs (Greek Christians—who so nobly witnessed for God and right causes), let us (emulate them) and lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so grieve us, that we may run with patience the (higher, heavenly) race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the Author and Finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before Him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God.

Jesus, our Redeemer, is also our Forerunner and Pattern in this race. His example, his faith, his endurance, is even now at the right hand of the throne of God, whither we also may go to Him.

"A little while, now He has come; The hour draws on apace— The blessed hour, the glorious morn, The hour of His return to our face. How light our trials then will seem! How short our pilgrim way! Dispelled by dawning day!"

The century of the Bell Rock Lighthouse was completed with the beginning of 1911, has passed without any demonstration to mark the fact. The erection of the lighthouse was a task of exceptional difficulty.

An extraordinary expedition was reported to recently at Newbliss, Monaghan, by a man who was anxious to catch a train. He set off along the rail track and as the train approached the driver repeatedly whistled, but he refused to leave the track and was stopped.

NEWCASTLE DROWNING.—After a dreadful protraction lasting for three weeks, lessened by only two days, on the part of the sorrowing family in particular, and the whole community, in general, the mysterious disappearance of Reggie Coulson on the morning of May 13th, was made plain Thursday morning when about 9 o'clock his lifeless body was seen drifting lakeward close by the windward side of the Katie Eccles as she lay in port discharging her cargo of coal, brought to the surface undoubtedly by the heavy and prolonged land gale of the night before. Means were at once taken to bring the body ashore, Mr. Coulson was at once communicated with, and although sadder intelligence is inconceivable, a terrible load was thereby lifted from hearts doubly grieved by the absence of any ray of light upon their bereavement. Coroner Tucker considered an inquest unnecessary. Interment took place in the family plot in St. George's cemetery last Thursday afternoon, many friends participating in the obsequies and everybody expressing their sympathy for the bereaved parents.

HEAVY STORM

Thunder, Lightning and Rain; Church of Our Lady of Mercy Struck.

AND OTHER DAMAGE DONE.

Quite a severe electric storm passed over here on Saturday evening about 10.30 o'clock. The rain fell in torrents while the lightning was very vivid and was followed by loud peals of thunder. Lightning struck the spire of the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, tearing away two sections of it on the north side. The damage extended to the base of the cross, but the cross was not injured. The burning shingles flew in all directions, but the heavy rain soon extinguished the blaze.

A large tree in the valley was struck and split from top to bottom. Several transformers of the Electric Light Company were burned out, and the Telephone Company's property was considerably damaged.
