NUMBER HEAR W. K. THOMPSON

Baptist Y.P. Union Have Chicago Man Speak On "What Prayer Can Accomplish."

The regular meeting of the Young People's Union of the Baptist church was held last night. There was a good attendance and the young people were privileged to hear Mr. Wallace K. Thompson of Chicago speak on "What Prayer Can Accomplish." He spoke of what prayer had accomplished in the lives of some of the great men of the Bible and then told of what prayer might accomplish in the life of each Christian.

"A Christian life without prayer, close communion with God, is void of happiness and helpfulness. But a Christian who really prays has a heart full of joy and is able to lead his fellows to Christ."

Misses Beryl and Esther Thompson and Mrs. Lois Therrien sang a trio.

EVIDENCE TAKEN IN MULVEY CASE

Accused Is Committed for Trial In Port Hope Court On Monday

Howard Mulvey of Port Hope was committed for trial when he was arraigned before Magistrate W. A. F. Campbell in Port Hope Police Court here Monday afternoon on a charge of "Wilful neglect did cause bodily harm." The Court case Monday followed an accident on the Provincial highway between here and Wellesville a few weeks ago, when a truck, driven by Mulvey, crashed into a Buick coach owned by D. A. J. Swanson of Oshawa, and occupied by the driver, John Bentz, and Mr. Cewar, and Mr. Gibson of Newcastle. Hon. G. N. C. of Peterboro and W. F. McLachlan of Port Hope, appeared for the accused, while Crown Attorney W. F. Kerr, K. C., of Cobourg, acted for the Crown.

D. A. J. Swanson, driver of the car, told of driving to Oshawa on May 26th with Bentz in the front seat, and the other two sitting in the rear seat.

When reaching Wellesville, Mr. Swanson stepped his car to speak to H.T.O. Hallick and when stopping, put out his hand to signalize his intention. Mulvey, driving a Stewart truck, was driving northerly and crashed into the car, knocking it into the ditch.

The driver of a car who was following the Traffic Officer, stopped, and, together with H.T.O. Hallick and Mr. Swanson, assisted Bentz from the car. Bentz complained severe pains in his back.

"Mulvey was in a condition of shock," told the witness, "arising out of the accident. He was extremely nervous. I asked him how it occurred and he said he had been sick and did not see the car."

Cross-examined by Mr. Gordon, the witness told that he had not been drinking and neither had Bentz, but did not know if the other two had or not. There was no liquor in his car.

"Was there any physical reason why you did not park off the pavement together?" asked Mr. Gordon.

"Absolutely none." Mr. Swanson told of the reason he stopped to speak to the Traffic Officer. While driving home, a truck was zigzagging in front of him and he was unable to pass and was desirous of drawing the officer's attention to it.

Witness told that Mr. Hallick ordered Mulvey back to his truck and that he did not think Mulvey was drunk. The pavement was damp and there was not much traffic on the road.

Traffic Officer Hallick noticed the car stepping on the road and when he drew alongside, he noticed a big truck driving down the pavement at 35 or 40 miles per hour. The truck did not decrease its speed and crash into Mr. Swanson's car.

The Buick was thrown seventy feet and the truck continued one hundred feet further along the highway.

When asked to describe Mulvey's condition, witness first thought he was drunk because he staggered and did not seem able to hold himself. "He told me he didn't see the car, and chief Murphy came out and took him to town."

John Bentz, a towering six footer, and according to his own statement, weighing 360 pounds, took the stand and told that his condition was OK before the crash. He said he had sustained an injured back and since the mishap, his back had bothered him. Since the crash, witness related he had lost some 25 pounds. "Where had you been?" asked Mr. Gordon.

"At Cobourg, there was a court case there."

"What was the nature of the case?"

"Is was accused of having liquor for sale and Magistrate Floyd reserved judgment."

"Did you have any liquor at Cobourg, or did anyone?"

"There was no liquor used by any person."

"Any liquor in the car at all?"

"No, sir."

"How long have you been laid up?"

"Three weeks."

"What is your line of work?"

"Fisherman."

This concluded the evidence and,

EIGHT INNINGS RESULT IN TIE

Sanitary and C.N.R. Battle To Six All Draw Monday Evening

Softball fans saw some real action at Viaduct Park Monday evening when the Sanitary and C.N.R. battled to a six-all draw in a scheduled engagement. Eight innings were played and the contest was then called off owing to darkness. The score was knotted five-all at the end of the seventh and though loose fielding, the Sanitary counted a run in their half, while the rail-riders evened matters up in the last of the eighth.

Williams reached second when Perry threw wild to Bird at first, and Perry led Jex's fly get away from him back of second. Jex made a dash for second and when the C.N.R. made the play for second, Williams scored.

In the C.N.R.'s half, Taggart led off with a hit through third and Guy grounded to first. Francyey hit safely and O'Neil beat out a hit to short and Taggart scored on the play.

Pinnegan Hills, the veteran of many a campaign, graced the C.N.R. line up and patrolled the right field garden. The Sanitary might have circled the tit in the first of the seventh had it not been for Finn's good peg to the plate. Ham got on due to an error and Hagerman hit to right field after Snell had grounded out. Ham endeavored to score from second, but Hills pegged the ball straight as an arrow to the plate to nip Ham. Highfield, in left field, made a spectacular one-handed stab of Wade's drive in the fourth.

Lineup:

WESTERN CROP IS PROMISING

Conditions Generally Are Similar To Those in 1923

The crop outlook in Western Canada continues to remain highly promising, according to the weekly report of the Canadian National Railway just issued. With the exception of a corner in the southern part of Central Saskatchewan, from Radville to Willowbunch, all sections of the prairies report beneficial rain during the week and excellent reserves of moisture in the ground. There has been some slight damage done from wire and cutworms in the vicinity of Lashburn, Alberta, but other wise there has been no damage from any cause. Conditions generally are similar to those existing in 1923 when one of the largest crops in history was produced.

Wheat is staging out well throughout the west and in a number of places it is reported to be in shot blade. Stands are now about eight inches high in Saskatchewan, ten in Alberta and twelve inches high in Manitoba. Fall rye is heading out, pastures are green and conditions generally are entirely satisfactory.

BIRCH MOST IMPORTANT HARDWOOD

Birch is Canada's most important hardwood. Of the seven Canadian species, the yellow birch (Betula lutea) and the paper birch (Betula alba or papyrifera) are the best known. The former is used for flooring, furniture, cabinet-work and vehicle stock, while the tough rosinous bark of the latter has supplied the aborigines for centuries with the material for covering their famous birch bark canoes.

on being asked by the Magistrate Mulvey, through his counsel, made no statement. He was committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction, which will likely be held at Cobourg in the fall.

MAY ATTEMPT NIAGARA "WALK"

Jas. Hardy Has Performed On Many Occasions In Port Hope

Crossing the Niagara river on a tight wire may be again repeated by James E. Hardy, of Toronto, and who performed at Port Hope on several occasions, who accomplished the feat back in 1890. "The suggestion was put to me when I was at the Falls a couple of weeks ago," said Mr. Hardy, who is now 53 years old. "I said that if enough money was guaranteed I would be willing to perform for a couple of months this summer. But I am not very anxious to do it. I have been trying to get away from this business."

The high wire walker said that he did it for reputations' sake in '96, but that now it was a different proposition. "I would not do it again for the love of it," he said. "I have been in the business longer than I have wanted to be. I would like to settle down in my own home town, but no one seems to have any thing to offer me. Hardy will finish in harness, I guess," he concluded.

If Hardy does cross the Niagara river, plans will likely take definite shape within the next couple of weeks. "Last time I did it, I had an inch and a half of steel cable up the river, but this time it will likely be nearer the whirlpool rapids, where there is land on the American side suitable for spectators and parking space for cars," he explained.

The acrobat, a native of Toronto, has specialized in wire walking all his life, and in crossing Niagara at the age of 21 he balanced himself on chairs and cooked a meal.

The feat gave Hardy a great deal of advertisement and contracts followed in quick order. He crossed the Genesee gorge at Rochester, which is about 600 feet wider and nearly as deep as the Niagara gorge. He also performed daily for three months in 1903 over the Montmorency Falls, Quebec. His wire was strung at the very brink of the falls and differences in height caused Hardy quite a nervous strain.

The first engagement of this resident of 196 Quebec Avenue, was at Walter Dean's old boat house, which was situated approximately where the bridge now lead down to Sunnyside, and three dollars a night was the remuneration, which was augmented by passing the hat.

A Niagara Falls syndicate is reported to be willing to pay Hardy $10,000 for the stunt, but he is holding out for $15,000.

HEAVY BAIL IS DEMANDED

Three Alleged Gunmen Are Remanded for One Week at Belleville

The three alleged gunmen, Joe Marano, Marvin Holly and Harry Craig, all of Montreal, who were arrested by the Belleville police Monday appeared in Police court and were remanded for one week. In the meantime their finger prints will be taken and sent to Ottawa and information secured of the car they were driving which is alleged to have been stolen in Montreal, B.C. Donnan, Crown Attorney, advised the men to secure counsel if possible, for if they were found guilty of the offense he would press for the maximum sentence under the code.

Marano inquired, when being led down stairs to the cells, if bail could be secured. "Yes," said Mr. Donnan "but it will be $10,000 each, with no personal security." All were charged with being in possession of fire arms without a permit.

$75,000 Conflagration Visited Oshawa on Tuesday Morning

Bradley's Rink on Richmond Street Badly Guttled and Numerous Residences Destroyed—Bowmanville and Whitby Fire Brigades Answer Calls.

One of the most disastrous fires that ever visited Oshawa occurred early Tuesday morning when Bradley's Rink, situated on Richmond St. was totally gutted and a number of residences in the district burned to the ground. The conflagration broke out at 1.40 a.m. and it was not until 5.15 that the blaze was under control.

So great was the conflagration, that emergency calls were despatched to Whitby and Bowmanville and the trucks from those two towns responded in record time and did considerable work in assisting to subdue the blaze. The approximate damage of the fire is $75,000.

Only one mishap occurred in connection with the fire. Percy Horn, was engaged in fire fighting from the roof of the residence of E. Brown, fell to the ground. He was attended by Dr. C. O. Miller, and at first it was thought his back was broken, but later this was found to be incorrect. He was rushed to the General Hospital where he is lying in a serious condition.

The buildings destroyed were all of wood construction. A breeze from the northeast fanned the flames which leaped across the street and attacked buildings in the vicinity. Of the five houses which fell before them, three were on Richmond Street, and two, a double house, were on William St. The Flintoff warehouse, which was just being built and nearing completion, was situated on the south side of Richmond St. Ed. James' barn and ice house stood on MacMillan Dr.

Firemen of the three towns, assisted by citizens of Oshawa, worked valiantly. It was due to their untiring efforts that the flames did not spread farther.

Cap. W. Seelygrw. Capt. Wesley Elliott of the Oshawa fire department was on the scene of the conflagration and is seeking to determine the cause of the outbreak, which was the most spectacular the town has ever had.

At the ringing of the fire bell citizens awoke to find that the whole sky was ablaze with the reflection cast by the flames. Dressing hurriedly they rushed to the scene of the fire and rendered whatever assistance they could to keep it under control.

ADDRESSED Y.P. SOCIETY

Told of Possibilities to Develop Christian Citizens in New Territories

Monday marked the close of the United Church Young People's Attendance Contest when the Blues, leading by one point, made sure of victory by getting a lead of twelve points. Mr. Murray Anderson was the speaker of the evening and brought a splendid message on "Christian Citizenship."

Rev. F. W. Anderson conducted the devotional part and prefaced his reading and explanation of the lesson by a few remarks in regard to his association with the Young People of the Port Hope United Church.

He said in part that it had given him a great deal of pleasure to associate with the members of the League. He has always emphasized the fact that leadership should be within the group and for that reason he has never attempted to control the activities. He regretted that the multitude of events prevented him from attending every meeting but nevertheless his eye is upon the Young People and his interest is always with them and he realizes that the society is doing well and training many young men and women for useful work later on in the church here or wherever circumstances take them.

The passages Mr. Anderson read for the lesson: Isaiah 56:4-7 and John 20:19-22, emphasized how the Christians should spend the Sabbath. Mr. Anderson gave an interesting explanation of the setting and meaning of these passages. The topic "Consolidation of Christian Citizenship" was handled by Mr. Murray Anderson, who gave a leaf out of his "book of experience" on the home mission field.

He first told of his field near Huntsville and then his second post at Hurst which is on the northern line of the Canadian National Railways. He told how the country there had great prospects for the future and of the difficulty in spreading the Gospel because of the many languages used by the people there. The Roman Catholic Church is looking after the French which compose about 40 per cent of the population while the Church of England and the United Church have a great work to make the right kind of Christian citizens out of the Anglo-Saxons, Finlanders and others.

His parting word to the leaguers was that they should "pull together for a fuller citizenship and live up to the league pledge."

This is the final league meeting Mr. Anderson and Murray will be here to attend so it was a great privilege and pleasure to have them both take part.

AFTERNOON TEA AT "THE LODGE"

Mrs. F. W. Anderson Honored Before Taking Departure From Port Hope

Mrs. F. G. Orchard and Mrs. E. E. Snider, were hostesses at a delightful afternoon tea given at "The Lodge" Ward Street, Monday afternoon, when Mrs. F. W. Anderson, was honored before her departure for Nanaimo, B.C. About forty guests were present and the function proved most successful.

Mrs. Anderson was the recipient of an appropriate gift and the guests expressed regret on Mrs. Anderson leaving town. Mrs. Anderson most graciously thanked the gathering for the presentation and assured them that she would always maintain a warm spot in her heart for Port Hope and her many friends here.

During the afternoon, the numerous guests conducted a tour of the beautiful flower gardens surrounding "The Lodge." Hundreds of iris were in bloom and the well-kept flower beds and flowering lilacs presented a most colorful scene. The flower garden was at its best, and many comments were heard on its appearance.

The guests were looked after by the Misses Ward and Messrs Robert Orchard and Robert Charles. A number of gentlemen guests were also present and Rev. Dr. F. G. Orchard, who celebrated his birthday Monday, was the recipient of many good wishes and congratulatory remarks.

CROP REPORT

Warmer weather is urgently needed in all parts of the province, according to the weekly reports of the Agricultural Representatives. In central Ontario the recent rains have been most beneficial to spring grain and clover and fall wheat. In Eastern and Western parts however, rainfall has been excessive and some of the lower lying fields have been flooded. A good deal of land intended for spring grain still remains unown in Eastern Ontario; much of this grain, owing to the lateness of the season, have to be sown to buckwheat.

In the Western counties the planting of corn, tobacco and beans is being seriously delayed. Meadows are short and unless the temperature improves shortly the hay crop will be very light. Prospects are better in Northern Ontario; spring grains and clover are looking well and, with favorable weather from now on, indicate better than a normal crop. Owing to the strong demand and relatively good prices for dairy cows, an increased interest is noticeable in many of the eastern counties. The situation is also being affected by improved prices for milk for cheese production.

BRANT—Spring grains in most sections of the county are looking very well and with suitable weather following the rain of the past week, prospects are very good.

DUNDAS—Excessive rains have continued throughout the past week with the result that not more than 80 per cent of the crop is in. The acreage of barley will be seriously reduced. Pastures and meadows are suffering from too much rain. Many farmers are turning to buckwheat to replace oats and barley which will be too late to sow.

DURHAM—Very few orchards have commenced the calyx spray, but earlier varieties such as McIntosh, Stark and Duchess are ready today. In the well cared for orchards there is very little evidence of any scab or insect injury, but in unsprayed orchards or those which have not been sprayed in former years considerable injury has been done by bud moth and case bearers.

DURHAM—Already interest is being taken in cleaning up the weeds along the roadsides in this county and individual farmers have been asking for information on how to control several of the weeds mentioned in the Weed Act. Much better results, we feel, will come from the Weed Act this year.

ELGIN—Owing to the wet weather, planting of corn and beans have been greatly delayed, possibly only 50 per cent of the corn and beans have been planted in this county.

GLENGARRY—Seeding and gener al conditions are very backward, in fact old residents report conditions as about the worst in the history of the county. On a great many farms not a seed has been sown yet, while on the whole there is possibly still forty per cent of this work to be completed.

LAMBTON—Crop conditions are looking good despite the fact of very wet weather last week and four days of rain this week. Creeks and ditches are running full of water. The weather has been cool, mostly north winds which have offset any danger of warm weather scalding the spring grains after the heavy rainfall.

LANARK—Two things are working well in the improvement of live stock at the present time; one is unusually good grass and the other good prices for all classes of stock with the exception of pigs. Cattle in particular are selling at high prices, and the demand for dairy products is having a marked influence on the improving of our livestock. Large numbers of cattle have been sold to go across the line, but there is no appreciable decrease in the number of our cattle due to farmers keeping more heifers.

MANITOWLIN—Although the weather continues rather cool, we have had a few warm days and a splendid shower of rain which, coming as it does, after seeding operations are completed, goes a long way towards making crop prospects in this district very bright.

MIDDLESEX—Although the weather this spring has been backward it gave the farmer an opportunity to get caught up with their seeding. This wet spell, which we appear to be having now, is, according to general reports, six weeks late for this section. Men who had their pastures heavily stocked were commencing to worry, but we hope that this better growing weather will continue.

MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND—Generally speaking, crops appear to be somewhat in advance of the same date last year, with the possible exception of hay. In some places, growth has been satisfactory, while in other cases, indications point to a short crop, unless weather conditions change very soon. Cool weather is retarding growth in the gardens.

NORFOLK—Recent rains followed by warmer weather have resulted in a very rapid growth of hay and grain crops and vegetables. Tobacco growers have been planting for two weeks under good conditions. Planting will soon be finished. The season is a little late, but the growers are optimistic.

PETERBORO—There is quite an increased interest in sheep this year. Many of the farmers who have been careless in their sheep management are beginning to ask about treatment for worms and dipping. More dipping than usual has been done this spring. The labor situation this summer is better than usual. The C.P.R. placed a number of men and boys in the district which has helped the labor shortage materially.

THE GUIDE STORY

Now, then, had Augustine contrived to please herself of a duplicate key?

We will follow the girls downstairs and let matters explain themselves. The broad general staircase was carpeted, but the wide stone entrance hall would have sounded against the heels of their boots, had they worn them. As it was, the governess, though seated in the warmth of their own cozy salons, which opened on the hall, did not hear the breathless girls crossing it.

Augustine led the way through a side door, along a dark passage, and then rapped loudly on a door, which opened and disclosed a young woman in a white cap and apron—a veritable neat bonnie, with rounded cheeks, black eyes, and a saucy, cunning face of thirty or so.

The room in which this person was seated was cold, carpetless, fireless, and only contained a deal table two wooden chairs and a number of keys hung on pegs.

Ada, the maid, was the confederate, the arch plotter, the tool, the advisor of this mad adventure. She was to be paid a couple of gold Napoleons for her share in the exploit.

"Now, then, be quick!" said Augustine. "We will put on our boots and you can go and open the door in the wall, and then come back with the lantern."

"But I am not going twice over the snow," retorted the bonnie. "Do you know that more snow threatens? You may be caught in a storm, mademoiselle!"

"I won't go," said Vesta, trembling. "The snow won't stop me," said April, "now that I have made up my mind. See, my boots are on. Come, Vesta, show your courage." "I don't think I have an ounce of it," said Vesta, with a bitter, sad laugh. "I hope and trust Augustine knows the way."

"As well as I know my way over the Pension Marly!" cried Augustine with a laugh. "Now, then, listen; are all the boots on? Has each one her purse, her umbrella, and, oh! this cold night, her pocket handkerchief? Hal hal come on! don't be cowards. Think how brave your fathers were supposed to be at Waterloo!"

The wind was blowing bleak and sharply from the north as the three girls, preceded by the bonnie with the lantern, crossed the snowy lawn, which was frozen hard; thus their feet did not get wet by the snow. Neither of them uttered a word.

Vesta, the only timid one of the three pupils, glanced up at the long, two-storied mansion, standing white against the background of the night, and at the lights which twinkled here and there in the windows. They suggested to her warmth, comfort, safety. Oh, how bitterly cold the wind was! What would her lady-mother think if she could see her at that moment? She would scream aloud, then she would faint.

These doleful thoughts swelled at the soft heart of Vesta; but April raised her handsome head and stared defiantly at the white, dull pension, with its few blinking lights.

If April's mother could see her now, she would rather scream nor faint. Mrs. ... was not the fainting sort. The splendid, worldly Italian lady would fly into a passion and attack April in violent language; next she would order her into the house, and afterward she would request Miss Somers to shut her daughter up for a week on bread and water. Within an hour, April's impulsive mother would have changed her tactics, and, weeping bitterly, would have prayed for her child's release.

April knew this as well as if it had happened before. As for Augustine, not only was she free from fear, but she was in her element; she delighted in adventure. Her southern blood circulated so quickly that she did not feel the cold, and the spice of danger and risk was as dear to her heart as if she had been a schoolboy.

Meanwhile, Ada, the bonnie, piloted the girl across the kitchen garden and to a door in a high wall which led out into a lane, on the other side of which was another high wall surrounding a private house.

"Now I will stand here with a lantern and so light you to the foot of the lane where is the public road; then you must all cross at the bureau and take your tickets, and when the omnibus arrives, take your places; that omnibus will put you down in less than half an hour, when you must get into another, which will take you to the Rue de Rivoli."

"I know—I know—perfectly," Augustine cried. "I get out, and we cross the river, the bridge beyond the two theatres of the Chatelot and the Larique; then we are in the Latin quarter, and I know my way; I have been there with my brother."

Now the reader will say, why did not these fool-hardy school-girls get a carriage and desire to be driven straight to the Due Plumes d'Or? The answer is, that the two English ones had placed themselves under the leadership of the French girl, and that during individual delighted in the fun of getting into an omnibus exactly as if she were a married woman or a girl who had to work for her living; besides, there was the famous walk through the streets to come that was better than all.

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

Red Rose Orange Pekoe —Top Quality
In clean, bright Aluminum

For at least ten years. Here were large men with 43 years of service to their credit, others with nearly the same. Here were half a dozen who had served for 30 years, a stellar number with a 29 year history. And so on down to the hundreds who had been at least ten to fifteen years with the company.

This was an evening of reminiscence of "old timers," with the master of ceremony their fellow "old timer," R. S. McLaughlin, President of General Motors of Canada, Limited. His name was there on the honor-roll as having "41 years of service," and he it was who expressed the feeling of fellowship and loyalty, the family spirit so evident at this gathering, when he said: "We have gone together through hard times and good times, through fire and panic, until a greater success than any of us has dreamed of has rewarded our efforts."

And he, too, expressed the innumerable thoughts of these "old timers" when he gave vent to his own emotion with the words, "I like to stick with the old ship."

This was an evening of reminiscence, of joviality, of impressive ceremony. This was an occasion on which the heads of General Motors honored their workers. And the "old timers," speaking in praise of General Motors of Canada, recalled and emphasized that the worth of this organization went back to a little carriage shop and the ideals of that pioneer manufacturer, Robert McLaughlin.

The event opened with a banquet. During the proceedings each guest received a beautifully decorated and engraved booklet, carrying the records of the years of service of all those present. R. S. McLaughlin, presiding, referring to this, stated:

"The records of long and faithful service contained in this printed tribute do much to explain why the products of the McLaughlin Carriage Company and of General Motors of Canada, have attained the commanding position which they now occupy. Men and women have put their best years and their best efforts into these products. Their craftsmanship is no mere advertising phrase. It is the work of hard and brain and heart trained by long experience guided by honest endeavor, inspired by pride of accomplishment. Without the co-operation of the members of the General Motors of Canada family who are listed herein it would have been impossible for us honestly to proclaim 'It's better because it's Canadian.'"

"It has been said that business has no soul; but surely his history of General Motors of Canada is the story of a business with a soul. No group of men and women could be associated together as long as we have been, working always towards an ideal, without building up something more than a mere factory and sales organization."

During the evening every one received a service medal, an engraved disc of gold, the medal itself standing for five years of service and gold maple leaves on it for each additional five years. And in addition to the medals there was a special honor for the real "old-timers." There were: John Gibson, General Superintendent, Assembly Lines, 43 years; Dave Haverson, foreman, mill room, 43 years; Harry Davis, machine shop, 43 years; Joe Lane, industrial relations department, 41 years. To each of these, Mr. McLaughlin, in behalf of the company, presented a watch. And Dave and John and Harry and Joe in brief speeches, recalled the old carriage shop days, when "Sam" was learning the business. And "Sam" in turn rolled back the curtains of time and told of old-day pranks.

Then came one of the most impressive moments of the night: "Miss Brimacombe," Mr. McLaughlin called out. And to the platform came Mary Brimacombe, now in her seventy-eighth year, who has been in the service of the company for 30 years in the trimming department. Smiling happily, while her fellow-workers roared forth their applause, she received from the President, first a service medal, and then a basket containing 30 gorgeous roses as a special mark of her loyalty and endeavor.

At the head table at the banquet were the following: W. E. Davis, E. W. Drew, W. H. Moyes, E. Thompson, H. Cooke, W. A. Coad, G. W. Hazletton, H. Davis, J. Gibson, R. S. McLaughlin, Miss Mary Brimacombe, D. Haverson, J. Lane, S. Gummow, N. A. McLean, J. H. Buntton, G. E. Ansley, F. Chappell, H. A. Brown.

SOCIAL CENTRE IN NORTHERN WOODS

Deep in the heart of the rugged North Country, hidden by pine topped hills and thick virgin forests, lies a chain of sparkling blue lakes known as the Lake of Bays. Almost unknown to the outside world until a few years ago, these lakes have become the summer playground of vacationists and tourists.

The Lake of Bays district is large enough to enjoy seclusion and a holiday of backwoods life—if that is desired. If pleasure, gaiety and joyous companionship is your holiday goal, there are luxurious hotels—ultra modern—where golf, tennis, bowling, swimming may occupy your time—where music and dancing makes a perfect end to a perfect day.

Any Canadian National Railway Agent will gladly give you illustrated literature and full information on the Lake of Bays. Ask him for a list of hotels and cottages from which to make your selection. 11 19

MANY CHANGES IN STATUTES

Some Laws That Have Interest For Many People—Few Changes This Year

The Statutes of Ontario, 1928, have just been received and some of the new legislation is interesting to readers. The volume for the present year is the smallest for a long time. The chief reason for this is that the Statutes of Ontario were revised last year, for the first time in thirteen years. They were issued in four volumes. As a result, the laws were then brought up to date, with all amendments added and other necessary changes made by the Statute Revision Committee. The sessions immediately preceding such a revision always find the largest volumes of the yearly statutes and the years after find less new legislation and no "consolidations" of existing acts.

Chapter 1 is the act to grant the money required for governmental purposes and nearly $8,000,000 was voted for the year ending on October 31st and $38,639,000 for the year following that date. Chapter 2 is a confirmation of the newly Revised Statutes.

Highway Improvement Act

There has been some difficulty in the past year over road superintendents in some townships. A change in the Highway Improvement Act says that when a township receives more than 60% of the cost of road work from the government, the Department may appoint a township road superintendent. Where a township has a special situation making its road cost more expensive, greater aid, to the extent of 80%, may be given. Where a township desires to build a footpath or sidewalk along a provincial highway or county road, they may apply to the Department for a grant not exceeding 30% of the cost.

Workmen's Compensation Act

A change in the Workmen's Compensation Act makes it possible to divert part of the payment to a man's wife and family if he has moved from the province or is not supporting them.

Blue Sky Laws

Perhaps the most important piece of new legislation is the "Act for the Prevention of Fraud in connection with the Sale of Securities." This is so-called "Blue Sky Laws" and requires all brokers and salesmen to be registered and to put up a $500 bond. There are also provisions for investigation by the Attorney General.

Municipal Act

An interesting sequel to the discussion regarding the right of municipalities to have deputy reeves is found in addition to Section 51 of the Municipal Act. It is now the duty of the Clerk of every municipality having less than 10,000 municipal electors to send to the county clerk at least six weeks before nomination day, a certificate of the number of voters in the municipality counted for the purpose of deciding the number of deputy reeves—that is, the number who do not have the letters "NC" after their names. Failure to send in such a certificate renders the clerk liable to a fine of $50, but certifying a larger number than are on the list renders him liable to a fine of $500.

Declaration of Office

There is still another change in the law regarding the taking of the oath of declaration of office, made necessary by the mix up on account of an earlier election date in some municipalities.

Sale of Coke

By law may be passed prohibiting the sale of coke unless it has been stored in sheds out of the rain.

Highway Traffic Act

There are also some changes in the Highway Traffic Act respecting certain types of vehicles. Any motor vehicle carrying a load more than 80 inches wide must carry extra lamps or reflectors at the left side, one visible from the back and the other on the front. Spotlights are prohibited if they are higher than the headlights and they must be focussed on the ditch within seventy five feet of the car.

After the 1st of July, all cars must have two separate sets of brakes, which appears to mean an emergency brake operated entirely separately from the service brakes.

Weeds Must Be Cut

Every road authority shall see that all weeds growing on streets or highways are cut before they go to seed. Otherwise highway grants may be withheld.

Amend School Laws

Two amendments to the School Laws were discussed at the late session of the County Council and are of interest to county councils in general. Provision is made for the formation of a consultative committee of five, one of whom shall be a public school inspector, one appointed by the Department of Education and the other three by the county council. Its functions are defined as follows:

"The council may submit to the committee and direct it to report upon petitions for the setting up of new high school districts or the modification or alteration of the boundaries of existing districts, and may direct the committee to obtain information and make recommendations regarding any question affecting the facilities for education in the continuation schools and high schools in the county and the liability of the county for the support of such schools and the cost to the county of the education of pupils in such schools."

This looks like a needless piece of legislation provided for the purpose of giving more jobs to ex-wardens and other friends of county councils for the final subsection reads:

"The reports of the committee and the recommendations made by it shall be used for the purpose of obtaining information only, and the recommendations of the committee shall not be binding upon the Department, the county council or the boards in control of continuation schools or high schools."

The rights of county appointees on school boards have been straightened out by new legislation and they may now vote on public school matters if they live within the "high school district" which is generally the limits of the municipality.

Jinx Shaken

Walter Levern's trusty left wing and his batting prowess brought the Toronto Leafs out of their eight game losing slump at Newark Monday with a 5 to 3 ten inning victory over the Newark Bears in the second game of the series. It was one of those thrill a minute pastimes that saw Manager Bill O'Hara, Jess Doyle and Les Burke ejected from the game by Umpire Fyfe, with Levern providing a sensational and fitting climax with a home run in the tenth with Fred Belore on base. By winning the Leafs reduced Rochester's lead the latter losing at Reading.

Levern's smash made it the end of a perfect day for everybody but Warren Cote and Carance Fisher. Cote was in a collision with Johnny Conlan when the latter attempted to steal second in the 5th and suffered a badly bruised leg. He had to be carried off the field and it was feared that his leg was broken but a doctor's examination proved otherwise though he will be out of the line up for several days.

AN UPHILL FIGHT

You may be ill and you may be sore
With aches and bruises and pains galore;
Perhaps you are groggy and halt and lame,
But keep right on, for it's all a game
Where like as not you are booked to win
Right now, in spite of the shape you are in.

Your brain is weary, your thoughts are dead,
Each step is heavy as lifting lead;
The sun is under a passing cloud—
Don't let them measure you for a shroud,
But hang on, tho' it may be hard,
For your next hand holds the winning card.

If you have played a losing game
Until the colors all look the same,
You'll feel more joy when your luck has turned,
And look on life, which you may have spurned,
Through eyes that glow with the glorious light
That comes from winning an uphill fight.

JUNE ROSES

June roses join my neighbor's yard to mine;
Pink roses—open faced—whose branches twine
From fence to trellis, there we see
The green leaves guard protectively
The fragrant roses. Sad are we Such beauty comes but annually.

The flowers that bind my neighbor's heart to mine
Are flowers of love whose tendrils twine
From heart to heart. The soil of constancy
Has flourished them full tenderly
For long years gone, and gladly are we Those flowers bloom perpetually.

LATE MRS. THOS. COYTE

Another pioneer resident of Hope Township was taken, when Mrs. Thos. Coyte passed to her Eternal rest, on Saturday, June 9th.

Deceased was Annie Pondrid and was born in England eighty-one years ago, coming to this country at an early age with her parents, who settled here. She spent the remainder of her life in this vicinity and married Thos. Coyte, about 50 years ago.

In religion she was a Methodist, until the consummation of union. She was in good health until about a year ago, when, on account of advancing years, she began to fail, until finally, on Saturday, the 9th of June, she quietly passed away.

She was laid to rest in Welcome cemetery on the following Tuesday. Rev. F. W. Anderson conducted the funeral service and the following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: L. H. Giddy, Wm. Bamsey, Fred Hawkins, A. Jameson, Arthur and Wm. Moon.

She is survived by her husband, five children and ten grandchildren; sons William, Provincial Highway west; Louis, near T.C.S.; Clarence, at the old homestead near Dale; Alfred and one daughter, Mrs. Fred McMahon, both of Millbrook; grandchildren, Hilda; Fern; Gladys, Gordon, Walter; Hazel, Flossie, Annie, Charlett and Lloyd.

STAND OF BALSAM FIR

Although accurate information is not available as to the quantity of merchantable balsam fir still standing in Canada, it has been estimated to be about 48,000,000,000 feet board measure of saw-mill size, in addition to some 163,000,000 cords of pulpwood size.

PECULIAR QUALITIES OF BALSAM FIR

The wood of the balsam fir is very light in color and, being odorless, is very suitable for boxes intended for packing food materials.

Nine of ten babies would grow fat on diet of plain sour milk American Medical Association convention at Minneapolis, Minn., were told.

ALL RACES IN FRIENDLY ARENA

Upper—Ukrainian High School girls of Winnipeg form a beautiful string orchestra for the festival. Lower Left—All nations will contribute to the event. Lower Right—Dookhobor women spinning at their settlement in Brilliant, B.C.

Five art must always be produced by the subject of all machines, which is the human hand. No machine yet conceived or hereafter conceivable, will ever equal the fine machinery of the human fingers.—John Ruskin.

Few countries can so readily and fully demonstrate this formula as Canada demonstrates it today, with her ever-increasing family of new Canadians from every corner of ancient Europe.

They are here in their thousands to embellish the richness of a new world with the transported skill and taste of old countries of master-craftsmanship. They are chiseling and spinning, and weaving their piece and the flux of our prairies; they are hammering our metals, moulding our clay, carving our woods, plaiting our straws, to the tune of every peasant song that has echoed down the corridors of racial history through the rural homes of Europe's people.

Here, they find a blue sky wide enough for all colors; a sweep of pregnant prairie where men of any class and any race may sweat and eat nobly; revel at their ploughs; and revel in the sunshine. And simple hearths for winter days where Slav, and Magyar, Latin, Celt, and Scandinavian, Pole and Ukrainian, Hungarian and Roumanian, Finn and Russian, Dookhobor, Austrian, Czech, and the rest, may sit in peace, weaving their memories into lovely things which all will assemble to admire and enjoy together in the friendly arena of Canadian Folk Song and Handicraft Festivals.

Confidently, the old Canadian predicts that the Canada of tomorrow will solve some racial problems which are the universal despair of today. And she will do it in great part by quietly saving and blending the missionary crafts of those beauty-loving missionary migrants who are merging themselves into her family as New Canadians. The first Canadian Folk Song and Handicraft Festival is to be held in Winnipeg, June 19-23 of this year, and will present a wealth of interest.

NO QUORUM AND COUNCIL DON'T SIT

Only Four Members Turn Up For Regular Meeting Of Town Council

As no quorum was present at the Town Hall here Monday evening consequently the regular bi-weekly session of the City Fathers was not held. Shortly before eight o'clock only four members put in appearance and included Mayor R. J. Edmunds and Councillors S. Brickell, H. W. Mitchell and H. Merrifield.

As five members constitute a quorum the meeting was consequently adjourned. Reeve L. H. Giddy and Deputy Reeve Fred Rosevear were in attendance at the Counties Council at Cobourg and Jas. Sinnott, M. M. Hewson and J. A. R. Elliott were absent for various reasons.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Justy lovely for the party!

Old Probs apparently couldn't bear to see the ladies down hearted and disappointed so changed his plans and saved the downpour for Wednesday—as usual!

Dr Diamond will be the physician on duty this Wednesday afternoon. He will fix the aches and pains of our people.

Lon Chaney as usual proved a strong attraction at the Royal Theatre last night, when his latest production, "The Big City" began a three day engagement. For the first time in quite a while Chaney appears with out makeup. His acting as a New York gangster lacks nothing and he is ably supported by Betty Compton, Charles Murray and Marceline Day in important roles. The picture probably will be enjoyed more by men than by women, as the romantic element is subordinated to the melodrama. A really funny comedy and a study of birds in flight are included in the program.

Don't forget the Tuesday night dance at the Port Hope Beach pavilion.

The Port Hope Band staged their first practice Monday night under the direction of new bandmaster A. A. Stagg. The members were out in full force and a good practice was held in preparation for the big program on the Second of July.

The water at the Beach is warming up rapidly and numerous bathers make the plunge daily. The temperature hovers around 62 degrees.

Chief of Police Lawler of Lindsay has issued a warning to wedding parties which have been causing too much noise in Lindsay of late and have been recklessly braking the speed and traffic regulations. He threatens to arrest some honeymooners if the nuisance does not abate.

In Peterboro may be seen the rare spectacle of a bantam rooster, belonging to a poultryman, acting in the capacity of guardian to a small flock of motherless chickens. The mother hen was killed after which the rooster took it upon himself to bring up the family. During the day he scratches industriously for seeds and worms and at night gathers brood under his wings.

Out of the Common
A man playing a round of golf drove off with a mighty swipe. Some thing soared into the air. It was not the ball, but a big clod of earth and grass. "Extraordinary," grunted the player.

"Yes sir" remarked his caddy. "It does seem a bit out of the common."

PERSONAL

Mrs. Alf McElroy, John Street, has been called to Brantford due to the death of her sister, Mrs. C. Clarke.

Mr. George Clark has left for Brockville where he will visit his son, Rev. G. A. Clarke, at his summer cottage.

Mrs. H. Channey and baby, Helen, and Mrs. H. Proctor have returned to Toronto after spending several weeks here the guests of Mrs. E. McCurdy. Mrs. G. Heron returned with them.

Shad season ended in Delaware River, with poor year for fishermen.

PORT HOPE LONG AGO

Dr. Shaw Writes Principal Somerville Interesting Letter Which Will Be Enjoyed

Principal D. L. Somerville received a most interesting letter from Dr. R. W. Shaw, Medical Officer, Indian Reserve, Manitowaning, Manitoulin Island, which contains a lot about Port Hope and Durham county Old Boys and will be enjoyed by our readers here and far away.

The letter was written to thank Mr. Somerville for supplying some historical facts for the sketch which Dr. Shaw mentions in the letter.

Such letters as this and those received just after our "Fifty Years a Daily Newspaper" issue, we receive gladly and they are of genuine interest to our readers, especially those who have not seen some of the people mentioned for years. We receive a large number of letters from subscribers who are delighted to get such letters as this.

Write comments on the letters and tell us more of the Durham Old Boys and Girls who may for a time have dropped out of our thought because of the distance separating us from them.

June 7, 1928.
Mr. D. L. Somerville, Principal, Port Hope Public School, Port Hope, Ont.

Dear Sir,
I beg to thank you for your favor with information as to Smith's Creek and its modern name Ganeraska. I might say at the outset that I had already obtained the information by a fortunate and peculiar circumstance. I was engaged on a paper for the meeting of the Ontario Historical Society which is to be held at Cobourg, on the 14th inst., or next week. My paper is on the Treaty that was made with the Indians at Smith's Creek on Nov. 5, 1818, for the cession or surrender of their lands, which included Peterboro and Victoria Counties, the north half of Durham and some parts of Muskoka and Haliburton. I was right at the crucial point when a gentleman came to my door; he had just stepped off the boat, and surmised that I could give him proper directions best by which he could make a tour of the Island. He was Mr. J. A. Carveth, a big business man of Toronto; by his name I divined that he must have sprung from the Port Hope people of his name, which proved to be true, and he had actually been born and reared there. So I was not long in extracting the information and much more in the same line, on the history, as far as he could furnish it. I have just finished my paper and will send it on by this mail, to be read for me at the meeting, if it should prove impossible for me to be present myself. It contains some valuable historical matter which I have gathered and hope it will be of some interest to our friends.

Being a son of the old Midland District and Manvers in particular, I would like very much to see our native region embrace the opportunity to present its historical material through the means of the O.H.S., and thus before all Canada; besides, the publications of the O.H.S. (of all its papers) are a fine and enduring receptacle within which to have such material preserved. I hope the people of the district are alive to the opportunity, and that the person of the two counties have given attractive notice of the meeting that is to be held. I have never been able to attend a meeting myself; it is held each year in a different part of the province so as to allow of research for all local history of value and interest, and presenting it.

I was pleased to infer that you had made such fine progress in your vocation as to attain to the position that you hold. You were, I believe, teaching at Lotus, when I was a medical student, and I remember well the very favorable comments which my brothers, Dick and Tolbert, made about your work there. With you at Port Hope, Ed. Mitchell at Newcastle (if that is right), Norman Wilson a principal in Sarnia, and the Hart boys in high places, and Robert Gillies at Sudbury, Manvers should derive and be accorded credit indeed for what her boys have done in the teaching line alone, I am sincerely proud of it. I have been from the homeland a long time, always busy, when I am not chasire in a professional way. I make use of every minute I can digging up early historical material; the French Jesuit missionaries are my staunch friends; I get in touch with much by them, and now I have secured the Jesuit Relations themselves, a great source, all in the quaint old French. I translated the Memoir of Nicolas Perrot, old fur-trader and explorer, who passed up this way in 1665 and 1671, you have encountered his name in Canadian records.

I attended Model School in Port Hope in 1889; I wonder if my old friend Frank Philips, a grocer there, is still alive; he had a brother too, a teacher. There were Neil Bros., also Photographers.

I must close, and I wish to thank you again for your letter and the information you took the trouble to send to me.

Yours Very Truly,
R. W. SHAW.
