Death of Two Small Children Result of Older Brother's Carelessness

When their ten year old brother mistook gasoline for coal oil in endeavoring to start a fire, two children, aged six and four, sons of Alex Maki, C.N.R. pump repair man at Hornepayne, 315 miles west of Sudbury on the main line of the C.N.R., were burned to death at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The mother, two older boys and a niece, were able to escape, but the two younger children were cut off by the flames and took refuge under a bed, where their charred bodies were found when the fire was extinguished. An explosion in the stove suddenly turned the room into a mass of flames. The father was at Carleton Place, 75 miles away when the fatality happened. The home and contents were totally destroyed.

BADLY BURNED WHILE AT WORK

Percy Peters Suffered Painful Injuries From Flying Molten Metal

Yesterday Percy Peters met with an unfortunate and painful accident in the molding room of the Port Hope Sanitary Manufacturing Co. He had a little iron left in his ladle when he had poured his mould and dumped it into a pot which, unbeknown to him, was wet, or damp inside, so that the molten metal flew all over and much of it struck him in falling, burning him particularly about the body, arms and feet.

Fortunately the burns are not deep so that he will recover within a short time.

Guests returning after midnight from a party at Saranac, N.Y., reported seeing an amber colored rainbow in the moonlight, indicating that the party must have been quite a success.

CANADA MILITIA ANNUAL TRAINING

About 33,000 Men Start Twelve Day Period of Instruction

Canadian militia regiments are commencing their annual training this week, with some 33,000 troops under canvas or receiving instruction at their Armories. This is about the same number as last year, while the period of training will cover 12 days instead of ten as formerly. That Canada is not a warlike nation is indicated by the fact that only 3,400 of the men in uniform are enrolled in the permanent force, and that these are used chiefly for instructional purposes. Thus it can truly be said that Canada has neither a large navy nor a large army.

Major General Thacker, Chief of the General Staff, will inspect the camps of Eastern Canada, while Colonel T. Victor Anderson, Director of Military Training, will perform similar duties in Western Canada. General Thacker will be at Niagara Camp on June 27 and 28, at Barrieffield on June 25 and 26, at London on July 10 and 11.

Cavalry at Niagara.

The cavalry regiments of Toronto and district took possession of Niagara Camp this week, and will be there until June 29. These include the Governor-General's Body Guard, the Second Dragoons, the Mississauga Horse and the Tenth Brant Dragoons. The Third Field Brigade of Canadian Artillery, including the Ninth, Fifteenth, Thirtieth and Fifty-third Field Batteries, is at Petawawa this week, and the Eighth Field Brigade from the Hamilton and St. Catharines district, will be at Petawawa from July 26 to Aug. 2. The Fifth Infantry Brigade, including the Lincoln, Haldimand and Norfolk Regiments, is now at Niagara, while the Fourth Brigade, embracing the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, the Dufferin Rifles, the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders of Hamilton and the Wentworth Regiment, will train throughout the year at its Hamilton headquarters, with the exception that the Wentworth Regiment will be at Niagara from June 27 to 29.

None of the Toronto regiments will cross the lake, but will receive training at home. The Twenty-second Infantry Brigade, including the Grey Regiment, the Simcoe Foresters, the Northern Pioneers and the Algonquin Rifles, will be under canvas at Collingwood from July 3 to 14.

The York Rangers, the Peel and Dufferin Regiment, and the Ontario Regiment will be at Niagara in August, while the Canadian Machine Gun Corps, the Army Service Corps and Field Ambulances will also train there.

At Barrieffield
To Barrieffield Camp, Kingston, this week went the Second Mounted Brigade, including the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards from Ottawa, the Third Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons from Peterboro, and the Fourth Hussars from Kingston. Petawawa will hear the boom of the big guns, as most of the artillery units of the Toronto and Kingston districts will train there during the summer.

Barrieffield also will be the training ground of the Third Divisional Engineers, the Signallers and the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Infantry Brigades, including such well-known regiments, as the Prince of Wales Own Regiment, the Argyll Light Infantry from Belleville; the Hastings and Prince Edward, the Frontenac, the Lanark and Renfrew Scottish, the Brockville Rifles, the Grenville Regiment, the Stormont, Dundas and Glengary Highlanders, the Ottawa Highlanders, the Regiment de Hull, the Northumberland, Victoria and Haliburton and the Durham Regiments, the Peterboro Rangers and the Governor-General's Foot Guards of Ottawa.

In Western Ontario
The First Hussars from London and Leamington will be at Port Stanley from July 3 to 14, while the Bruce Regiment is training at Tara this week. The London camp will be in full swing during the first part of July with the following regiments under canvas: The Middlesex Light Infantry, the Perth Regiment, the Huron Regiment, the Highland Light Infantry from Galt and Preston, the Wellington Rifles, and the Kent Regiment and others.

5TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. O'Neill, Blooms Grove Ave., Agreeably Surprised Wednesday Night

Upwards of forty friends and neighbors gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. O'Neill, of Blooms Grove Avenue, Wednesday evening, to join them in celebrating the fifth anniversary of their wedding. The bride and groom of five years ago, were taken utterly by surprise and both thanked the gathering for the beautiful presentation of solid walnut end table and book ends. The joyous evening was spent with social intercourse and dainty refreshments were served at the close.

The address, which appears below, was read by Mr. Bruce Peacock while the presentation was made by Mrs. Geo. Ward and Mr. Harold Beatty.

The Address

Port Hope, Ont., June 20th, 1923.

To Mr. and Mrs. F. R. O'Neill:

Dear Friends:—
We are hopeful that our uninvited presence here tonight will not be regarded by you as an unwarranted intrusion, but as an opportunity for a few of your many friends to spend an evening with you in innocent and pleasant intercourse.

We undertake not to smash up the furniture, or to overturn your kitchen range, nor to disturb or molest any of your neighbors, whose confidence and good will you so highly prize.

We want to assure you that our visit is entirely peaceful and one that will contribute and convey to all present, pleasant memories of this event for many days yet to be.

We have been reminded that it is only five years ago when an event took place which was of peculiar interest to you both.

It is for this reason we have come unannounced, to celebrate with you the fifth anniversary of your wedding.

We have brought with us some pieces of furniture which we do not intend taking away with us, but we ask you to accept them at our hands as an expression of our friendly feelings toward you both; these will also serve to remind you of this joyous occasion.

We trust that the journey commenced five years ago so auspiciously and continued thus far, will be fruitful of many years of happiness and success in the future.

Signed on behalf—R. B. Peacock

DECORATIONS WERE LOVELY

St. John's Service Club Took Special Care To Have an Artistic Show

Much effort and work of decorating the tables for St. John's Service Club Bazaar and Tea in the Parish Hall Thursday afternoon resulted in a glorious spectacle to the eyes of all who entered.

On either side of the door were the ice cream and mystery tree, the former daintily decorated with lilacs and a gorgeous bowl of peonies, here Mrs. E. B. Lingard and Mrs. J. A. Winfield passed out the wherewithal to cool the burning tongues and the latter did a splendid business under the conensorship of Mrs. Chas Staggs who was ably assisted by Mrs. C. R. Newman-Jones.

Farther on were two beautifully decorated tables the one on the right with purple streamers, purple lilacs and even the dresses of the ladies trimmed to match, was possibly the most outstanding from the brightness of the hues but the other on the left was daintily trimmed with bridal wreath was no doubt the real centre of interest, being the fancy work booth where beautiful and carefully worked pieces were displayed—an exhibition of rare loveliness.

The ladies, who with Mrs. D. H. Chisholm dispensed with the 'sweets' at the candy table included Mrs. A. Schultz, Mrs. F. L. Curtis and Miss Helen Smart. Mrs. J. L. Back with Mrs. W. J. Helm and Mrs. N. G. Johnston, was busy distributing the plants from the flower table.

Mrs. C. H. Wotherspoon, acting president of the Service Club owing to the illness of Mrs. F. J. Brown, was convener of the fancy work table and had the able assistance of Mrs. W. H. Roper, Mrs. C. H. Wickett, Mrs. H. Reynolds, Mrs. Geo Ramsden and Mrs. S. S. Dickinson.

Descending the stairs one found the tea room was no less artistic than the hall above, with the dainty boquet in the centre of tables, flowers banked up in the windows and girding the supporting posts.

Mrs. (Dr.) F. W. Diamond and Mrs. J. T. George were in charge of the tea room while the High Tea had a larger committee under Mrs. J. R. Bunting's conensorship, comprised of Mrs. F. H. Briden, Mrs. G. V. Strong, Mrs. T. C. Buckley, Mrs. W. F. McMahon, Mrs. R. Ware, Mrs. (Dr.) J. F. Thompson, Mrs. H. T. Bush, Mrs. D. Matthews and Mrs. M. J. Rerguson. Mrs. J. E. Smart sat at the seat of customs. The following young ladies assisted at afternoon and high tea, Harriett Martin, Phyllis Matthews, Mary Curtis, Doris Hancock, Cicely Hancock, Ruby Scott, Isobel Grover, Betty Ryan and Inez Thompson.

It was a very successful bazaar and tea despite weather conditions, and the Service Club is extremely gratified with the result.

Dominion Day Program Looms Up as Best Celebration Yet

Horse Races, Two Ball Games, Vaudeville, Fireworks, Two Bands, Aeroplane Stunts by Daredevil Bobby Irwin, Rounds Out a High Class Program.

Plans were completed for the celebration of July 2nd, in this town at an enthusiastic meeting of the Port Hope Dominion Day Committee held Thursday night and the program gives promise to be the best yet, thus keeping pace with the motto of the Committee, "Bigger and Better than Ever." The Committee have gone to considerable work and expense to obtain attractions which will prove sources of amusement to both young and old.

At 1.30, devotees of the sport of kings will be on hand to witness the commencement of an excellent card of trotting races. Excellent purses have been announced, and it is expected that many entries will be received from owners of fast out-of-town horses as well as the local entries. Three classes will be run off and include the 213, 218 and 228.

At 1.15 the Port Hope Citizens' Band and the Cobourg Kiltie Band will form up at the Queen's Hotel and will parade to the Town Park. The local band have been practicing faithfully and a high class musical program will be presented, while the Cobourg Kilties will provide their usual satisfying entertainment. Musical selections will be played during the afternoon and evening and will create a pleasant atmosphere for the throngs of people who attend the annual Dominion Day celebration.

At 1.45, softball fans will see two of the fastest ladies' softball teams in action. Last year two Toronto teams performed and the followers of the game will recall the manner in which the visitors played. On July 2nd, the Pats AC, and the Lakesides, who perform in the softball league at Sunnyside, Toronto, will be in action in an exhibition tilt.

Immediately following the game, the feature of the afternoon will be witnessed, when Capt. Chris Evans and Daredevil Bobby Irwin of Toronto, will perform in an aeroplane. Irwin has a wide reputation as a stunt flyer and those who have seen him perform are amazed at his exhibitions.

His repertoire includes walking the wings, swing from the plane, hanging by his teeth, etc. The stunts will be performed sixty feet from the ground and everyone will have the best possible view of the flight. The stunts will also be presented again in the evening.

At 3.15 Bowmanville and Port Hope Intermediates hook up in a scheduled Intermediate game and plenty of excitement is promised in this quarter. Bowmanville always provides stubborn opposition and on their last appearance in Port Hope, defeated the Ontarios so the locals will be out for revenge.

High class vaudeville will be presented in front of Port Hope's natural grand stand by Stewart and Mercer, Port Hope's own entertainers. It is eight years since this troupe performed at the Dominion Day Celebrations and their act will no doubt, make a decided hit with the crowd. They will come to Port Hope after an extensive tour of the United States and their act includes many new features.

Daylight fireworks will be included in the afternoon program and at night the best display of fireworks ever witnessed in Port Hope, will bring the evening's program to a successful close. The vaudeville act will also be repeated.

For some years, Hand and Co., of Hamilton, have had the contract for supplying the fireworks and special attention is being devoted to Port Hope this year.

The entire celebration will be run off on Standard Time and the admission to the park for the afternoon will be 50 cents (47c and 3c tax), and for the evening 35c (33c and 2c tax).

The advertising committee have been very liberal with printer's ink, and large posters have been distributed throughout the district, as well as attractive window cards in Port Hope. The committee are to be congratulated on accumulating such an array of talent to participate in the celebration of Port Hope's Big Day and now it only remains for Old Prebs to be on his best behavior.

SUMMER ARRIVES

Summer, which, according to Webster, begins astronomically on June 21, made her debut yesterday mid tears and smiles. Morning showers gave freshness to greensward and flower plots that ornament so many homes and open spaces in Port Hope while sunshine alternated, with a smile urged out of door folk to shed "slickers" and "wraps." So backward has been the season that it is difficult for many to realize rapid approach of mid-summer.

"Any man who gives his wife all his pay belittles himself" was opinion expressed by Judge Bertram in Camden, N.J.

"SALADA" TEA

ORANGE PEKOE BLEND

"Pekoe" comes from the Chinese word "Pak-ho", meaning silver hair, which was applied to the tip leaves on the Chinese tea bush. Tip leaves are wiry in shape. In India they were more orange in colour, so were called "Orange Pekoe" (Pak-ho).

CROP REPORT

The crying need is for warm weather. Spring rains are making fair growth, but rain is needed in most sections of the province. This does not apply to Eastern Ontario where seeding was retarded by excessive wet weather. Reports would indicate that the hay crop will be short and light in yield. Generally, crops are from one to two weeks later than usual. Live stock are in good condition and the milk flow is increasing on the succulent pastures. Reports from Agricultural Representatives follow:

BRUCE—Fall wheat has been making fair growth, but needs rain and warm weather. The same applies to alfalfa and clover which are very short for the time of year, being retarded by dry, cool weather with occasional frosts.

CARLETON—The past week has produced wonderful growth in the case of spring grains, the water land drying up with the heat of the past few days. Potatoes seem to be making very good growth considering the backward season.

DUNDAS—Despite unfavorable conditions there is a fair sort of fruit. Weather has been very favorable this week and the farmers are finishing seeding, which has been retarded by excessive wet weather.

DURHAM—Most of the apple growers have finished the early spray. The orchards visited this past week look very well. Baldwins and Starks continue to seem light, although one orchard was visited where 80 per cent of the trees were Baldwins and Starks and the owner had had an excellent blow. Spies and McIntosh, Greenings and Russets seem to have had a uniformly good blow throughout the county. One potato grower was visited this past week who had planted 25 acres. His next neighbor had 10 acres planted and there seems to be general increase in acreage in the potato districts this spring. We expect to have 4 certified potato growers this year, whereas we had none last year.

ENSEX—Rains and good warm weather during the past week have worked wonders in the Fall Wheat crop. Of course, much of it is patchy still, but it is now heading out, some fields being pretty well headed and many fields will at least cut a fair crop. Alfalfa, clover and pasture crops have been doing well the past week and some sweet clover has been cut for hay. It is seldom that spring grains look better than they do at present. Early potatoes, roots, etc., are also doing wonderfully well. Much of the early corn has been planted and is up, showing nicely in the rows, and a great deal of it received its first cultivation during the past week.

We expect about 50 to 100 per cent increase in the corn acreage over 1927. Tobacco planting is in full swing. Garden peas are in bloom and some early outdoor cabbages have been cut and are going on the market.

GLENGARRY—The milk flow is increasing and the cheese factories report the quantity of milk received well up to the average for the season of the year. Price of cheese has advanced this week. Weather has advanced this week. Weather

has advanced this week. Weather conditions have improved during the week with seeding still progressing. This work will be pretty well completed this week with the exception of low spots. In making our seed drill survey, I found the quality of seed being sown somewhat better than I anticipated.

HASTINGS—Growth continues to be fairly good, rains are keeping the pastures in good condition and the stock is doing well. Prospects for hay are quite encouraging but the crop will be somewhat less than last year. No cutting has been done to date, but indications are that there will be a start in a few days. Corn planting is practically finished and in some cases the corn is up high enough to cultivate. The acreage is less than last year as some of the farmers feel the extra work for the corn borer clean-up is too much.

HURON—The $5,500 sale of Shorthorn calf made by Frank Wood and Son of Blyth recently, has done more to stimulate the interest in beef breeding than anything that has happened for quite a long time. Spring crops are doing fairly well, notwithstanding the cold weather and lack of moisture. The hay crop will likely be light. Alfalfa and mixed hay is doing very well, also pasture. A good many sweet clover fields will yield little or none.

LINCOLN—A very large market at St. Catharines this morning, with a wonderful variety of fruits met the buyer and nearly every kind of early vegetable had ready sale. Head lettuce and spinach were of very high quality and sold quickly at 10c per head or 75c per dozen for lettuce and 75c per bushel for spinach. Early strawberries made their first appearance in limited quantity and retailed at 15c per pint box. Young beets sold for 2 bunches for 25c and 3 for 25c. Eggs were 38c to 40c per dozen, broilers 45c to 50c per lb. and fairly plentiful. Bedding plants 20c to 30c per dozen. Hay $15 per ton. Sour cherries have not set well in the Niagara Peninsula and will be only about 50% or 60% of a full crop. Peaches however, are setting well and most varieties promise to be a full crop. Early plums of Japanese varieties will be a full crop. Later varieties from 50% to 75% according to variety. Apples—Greenings nearly a full crop; Spies 50% and Baldwins very scarce.

LEEDS—Growth during the first half of the week was good. All vegetation is fairly well advanced for the season. Milk production is about normal, according to cheese makers. Cheese prices are better. Sixteen cents per pound was paid this week and milk prices are correspondingly higher; some factories paying as high as $1.50 per hundred.

factories. This crop looks very well. Tomato plants have suffered from the cool weather and corn is backward.

KENT—Fall wheat is low heading out and promises to be very good where not too seriously injured through winter killing. Hay in general will be short. Alfalfa cutting will commence about the middle of next week. The bulk of the tobacco and the balance of the corn was planted last week. The sowing of beans is also in full swing.

LAMBTON—Crop conditions in the county look very promising. There is no failure of any one crop at present. Warm weather would hasten the growth.

LANARK—All classes of stock are thriving. Milk supply is at its peak in this county. Good grass and natural freshening season are the two contributing factors. The excess of moisture has retarded somewhat the past week. Farmers have been able to do a little more work on the land than formerly. Generally speaking the country is looking exceedingly well.

THE GUIDE STORY

"Not know his name!" returned the man, who seemed to be the president of the assembly, in a tone of withering scorn; "why not say that you shrink from blood. Bah! you, with artistic instincts, should never have enrolled yourself under the banner of liberty. Your poets, your painters, your musicians, your sculptors are a feeble-souled, weak hearted set, refined cowards, who sicken at the sight of blood, even though it be the blood of a tyrant. Look at the world as it spins round, and tell me, what do you see? Misery, hunger, and death; the mass of mankind in sorrow, starvation, wretchedness and rage."

"Some thousands of honest tailors, the white slaves of this accursed civilization, who bear all the burdens of the age upon their bowed shoulders; women too degraded to be spoken of even within the hearing of the white ears of the daughters of wealth and luxury. Pampered vice triumphant; the hideous stend that men worship under the name of Mammon grinding down human souls and bodies beneath his chariot wheels, crushing them under his cloven hoof; men who must toil from dawn till darkness to earn coarse food for their wives and their babies; millions suffering all this day and night, night and day, in order that a few may be pampered and sit at ease and batten on the fruit of the labor of many. Governments, whose daily work is to oppress the people and deceive them with fine words; emperors and empresses, kings and queens, princes and princesses, dukes and duchesses, earls and countesses, generals and colonels and marshals and admirals, cardinals and bishops and bishops, merchants and mine owners, and manufacturers, landed owners of all nations; those to whom belong the buildings, and shops, and mansions of the great cities, judges of law courts, lawyers, and the hounds who make the laws. What do all these merit, for all these are the murderers of the bleeding, toiling, sorrowing masses who crawl at their feet?"

The speaker had a deep chest and a voice like thunder when it rolls through the heavens after the lightning's flash. The mask hid his face, but the man's whole frame seemed to quiver with the intense force of his passionate utterance; every fiber worked.

The president had taken off his coat and stood arrayed in a scarlet shirt, which, with black mask, seemed to be the uniform of this fearful society.

He had turned up his sleeves, his brawny arms were bare, the great muscles showed like cords.

"What do all these deserve?" he howled in his sonorous French, that was yet strongly tinged with a foreign accent.

And then the answer came from those seven other men in the red shirts, whose faces were hidden by masks, but whose voices were maniacal in the savage chorus, which had for its awful refrain the word "death!"

"Death! Death!" they echoed, hoarsely.

"Death for all and each of these," "Ay, death!" cried the president. "Death, and nothing less, for only by annihilating these human tigers and tigresses can you protect the suffering millions, and the generations that are to follow, from the chains and stripes, the lash and the dungeon, the slow, infernal torture of hunger, that poverty which drives men into the mad-house, and women into the deepest deep of the river. Snow is on the ground, then the cry of the children, the wailing of the women, the moans of the aged and the sick are in your ears—aye, and the groans of the dying; as for the dead—those who have fallen under the whips, and spurs, and chariot wheels of the thrice-acursed civilization—alas! my brothers, you can not help them."

The man's voice lost its savage power, and took a dejected pathos that was eloquent of a sublime compassion.

"You all know," he went on, "you all believe that I am anxious to give my life to this great cause. I have writhed under the lash in a Russian prison, and that lash has stung me into action. But it is not to avenge my own wrongs that I stand here—it is that I may inspire you to rescue the oppressed, and there is only one way to effect this—it is by the destruction of the powers that be!"

"A few nights ago a man came to our place of meeting wearing a mask and a red shirt, and giving the name of one of you present; he gave the watchword to David, our old servant; he took his place at the table; he listened to all that was said; then he rose and said he must leave, since his father was ill. He spoke in a voice like that of the man he personated—an English accent and voice.

"He went down the stairs and out into the street, where a cab was waiting, and then you whom we call Remus, because you had no other mother save a woman savage as a she-wolf—you, Remus, saw the mask fall off the face of that man—you studied it well, and then he drove away alive—alive, oh, cell!—in that carriage. You rushed upstairs with your terrible tale, and you were followed in five minutes by the man whose name the spy had assumed. Then we saw that we could never meet in the Rue la Forte again; we have new quarters here. You, Remus have taken the oath to obey the laws of our society; and those laws command you to hunt for that man and to slay him."

packed up on Hudson Drive, Toronto, Tuesday. There was a fortune strewn over the floor of the car used in the robbery, but the documents in which that fortune was represented were either unrecognizable or deemed dangerous, and the why bandits had swept them aside.

The diamond rings—all valuable—and the lonely two dollar bill left to lie among the debris in the automobile, testify to the frantic haste with which the hunted sextet sorted their loot. Greater testimony still to the feverish speed with which they worked is the slashed mail and money bags. These bags open with an easily manipulated piece of mechanism, but that was too slow a process for the fear-impelled fingers of the hunted six. They simply drew knives and slashed the bags up and across and dumped the contents on the floor for sorting.

The robbery car was driven to Hudson Drive and abandoned just before 7 o'clock Thursday morning. The police are in touch with a citizen who saw men drive up and hasten away from it. Police Headquarters, however, is not discussing, in any detail that angle of the crime puzzle development. But it is being with some interesting possibilities.

And this robbery car—the one picked up by the police on Hudson Drive, and from which a score of interesting finger-prints have been taken by police experts—was seen on a North Toronto side street shortly after this astonishing holdup took place at the Union Station. Several men alighted from it in haste, bundled some stuff into two other cars, and all three machines sped away, taking different directions.

So there were three automobiles—not one—used in this stupendous mail-car robbery, which becomes more interesting and more remarkable every step of the way its details are traced.

An obvious conclusion at which the police have arrived as a result of the finding of the robbery car on a Toronto side street nearly two days after the robbery is that the wanted bandits are hiding right in the city. Some rooming house, some unlikely dwelling house—most likely situated right in the heart of Toronto—even now holds the most-wanted men of the decade.

$250,000 FOR COUNTY PAVING

Of the Connecting Link Roads in the Towns and Villages

The Road and Bridge Committee of the counties council did a very important and far reaching piece of business as far as the roads of the counties are concerned at a meeting on Tuesday evening, when they passed a resolution to raise $250,000 by debentures to pave the connecting links and extensions of county roads within the towns and villages of the united counties. The paving is to be completed within the next two years, and the work this year will be done in the towns of Bowmanville and Campbellford and the villages of Millbrook and Hastings. In Bowmanville there is to be two miles of paving done; in Millbrook two miles; in Hastings one mile, and in Campbellford one mile. Next year the work will be continued in Cobourg and the other towns and villages in the counties. One condition that all towns and villages agreed to, to get this done, was that they would forego their county road grants for the next ten years. When this is finished the towns and villages will all have permanent roads that should not require any maintenance for the next twenty years. In addition to this recommendation the Road and Bridge Committee recommended that the sum of $125,000 be spent on the county road system this year and that for the next five years the sum of $150,000 be spent annually. This year already $45,000 has been spent by the county road commission in rebuilding bridges and repairing washouts caused by the spring freshets, and with this amount having to be spent it left very little money to be spent on roads.

The mill rate for the annual grant to roads will be two mills, based on the $125,000, while next year it will be 2 1-2 mills.

Games Today

Brooklyn at Boston New York at Philadelphia Cincinnati at Pittsburgh St. Louis at Chicago

All the teams in the International League rested yesterday when rain intervened to put a temporary halt to the closest race in years. The Leafs, of course, were not scheduled to play and they won't get into action until tomorrow when they will oppose the tail end Skeeters at Jersey City. Frank Gilhooley's men haven't been getting any the better of the breaks and are apparently in the cellar to stay. Therefore it is strictly up to the O'Haraites to make hay while the sun shines.

The rush being staged by the Baltimore Orioles has featured the race during the last ten days. This, and the collapse for the time being of the Leafs, tightened up the competition and indicated to all and sundry that the Toronto team will have to improve if it is to remain in the running for the pennant. On paper and in the batting records the Leafs look impressive but the hurling staff is 'shot' and Manager O'Hara is calling for help.

Only three of the pitchers are over the .500 class and this kind of mound work will win no championship. Rip

Collins stands out with eight victories and one reverse and he represents the difference between a first and second division team. Without his valuable services the Leafs would probably be far down the ladder at the present time.

BRAKES CAUSE MANY ACCIDENTS

Drivers Should Be Taught to Realize Task of Brakes in Safe Driving

While he is strongly convinced that defective brakes were the cause of a high percentage of the accidents in which 800,000 people were killed or injured in the United States last year, F. W. Parks, vice-president of the Cowdrey Brake Tester organization, said that the chief cause of motor accidents was "defective brakes, because you can't legislate against them."

"I think more than 90 per cent of the brakes on automobiles could be improved," he stated. "By that I do not mean that they are necessarily deficient, but I do mean that they could stand adjustment. When a child is run over on the highway, the real cause is very seldom ascertained. Accidents may be caused by mechanical trouble in the car, the chief of which is brakes, by road conditions, or by the human element, which I think is the greatest."

"Insurance men estimate that between 25 and 75 per cent of the total number of accidents are to be blamed on imperfect brakes. In my opinion 30 per cent would be nearer correct. The trouble today is that manufacturers have spent most of their time building acceleration into their cars without having given corresponding thought to deceleration. There is a great period of brake education ahead of us. The industry has passed through the balloon tire phase, and many other changes since it is at the stopping phase now. Too great a price is being paid to ignore it."

"As yet the manufacturers have not done anything to teach the driving public what brakes will do," he continued. "They do a terrific job. For example, take a car that weighs 4,500 pounds and drive it at 30 miles an hour. That car, if the brakes are in good condition, can be stopped in 2 1-2 seconds, and it is nothing unusual. But few owners appreciate the fact that 103 horsepower of kinetic energy have been transformed into heat at the brake drums."

"The car manufacturers have been able to find materials to do such a job as that, but the car owners are not retelling their brakes often enough. Not half as much brake lining is used as should be used. Linings are permitted to go altogether too far when you consider what tremendous jobs they do. "Educating the public on car brakes is a much neglected thing, and the only solution is compulsory brake inspection."

Mr. Parks explained some interesting tests which had been made in the United States in regard to individual reaction in applying brakes. A revolver was fired off when the person being tested was supposed to apply the brakes and the application of the brake set off another gun, the interval between the two reports being timed.

"The reaction of the individual varies from 3-5 of a second to 2 1/2 seconds," he stated. "Although there were only 300 or four hundred who underwent the tests, some interesting information came out of them. For instance, it was found that there was no difference in the reaction time between the sexes, and there was little difference between the ages of 18 and 50 and that race or color had no effect on the speed of applying the brakes."

"But it was during this period of reaction that an accident might be made or unmade. If, for instance, the driver took two seconds to apply the brakes after he had received his first inclination to stop, a great deal might happen. "Because," said Mr. Parks, "if the car was going 20 miles an hour, which is 30 feet per second, that would be 60 feet. That is where the human element enters into the cause of an accident." "Do you think that the slow driver or the loafing driver is a menace on the highways?"

"Undoubtedly the man who insists on leading a parade and tying up traffic is dangerous. In the State of Rhode Island, those not going at 35 miles an hour are ordered off the road."

"Are summonses issued against them?" "No they don't do that, because it is not against the law, they just order them off and they have to obey."

EXPORTS SHOW AN INCREASE

Another Sharp Upswing Shown in Import Figures For May

Imports into Canada in the month of May this year amounted to $113,582,238, an increase over the same month last year of $19,169,799, according to the trade summary issued by the Department of National Revenue, and the imports for the two months of the present fiscal year ended May 31 last totalled $192,072,708 an increase over the same period last year of $23,362,641.

Dominion exports from Canada in May this year were $118,021,324, an increase of $9,238,733 over May last year, while exports for the two months ended May 31 this year amounted to $176,996,639, a decrease of $9,123,916.

The total duty collected on imports in the month of May this year was $17,436,293, an increase over the same month last year of more than $2,400,000, and the duty collected on imports in the two months ended 31 last was $30,575,697 an increase over the same period last year of less than $4,000,000.

GRAND JURY

The Grand Jury system has come in for some comment of late, one learned judge calling it a waste of money and another, Judge Haycke of Peterboro rising to its defence on the ground that the grand jury, has a value in pointing out conditions that need correction. It is doubtful if the grand jury system will soon pass. Much of its duty has been taken off its shoulders by the trial of many cases before judges without jury, and yet the principle will doubtless be maintained not only because of respect for tradition but also because the thirteen men who compose a grand jury can see things for themselves and point out cures in cases of need. On the face of it, it might seem as if the hearing of the prosecution in a case by the grand jury was not necessary as a magistrate has already dealt with the same case and as the case still has the petit jury to deal with it. Still there have been instances where the grand jury has acted after cases have been sent to trial from the magistrates' court found "no bills" and the accused persons have been liberated. No one will say that all these "no bills" were misdirection of justice and perhaps in saving the petit juries from trying the cases they may have expedited matters and saved the counties in which the cases were entered considerable expense.

The grand jury gives the ordinary citizen some say in the course of the law. It is well that men should know something of the laws and court procedure. The grand jury teaches responsibility. Grand juries take their duties seriously enough and do not shrink, indeed they are proud of the honor of being selected to the position of saying what criminal cases shall pass on to the petit jury and the judges. This tends to a solidify of opinion throughout the county and country as to law and promotes a healthy respect for law and order. The grand juror in this way is a sort of semi-judge. The fundamentals of law and order, it is probable are better known through the principle of the grand jury, than they would with without the system.—Belleville Ontario.

GOLF AT JASPER ATTRACTIVE

That conditions of greens and the fairways are excellent at Jasper National Park Golf Course is indicated in reports from that popular resort, while inquiries already received suggest that there will be a large attendance of discriminating golfers of both sexes from Canada and the United States at the third annual tournament, which will take place September 8 to 15 next. While the Totem Pole Trophy is a magnet for leading amateurs, the mixed four-ball matches and the events for ladies, are of sufficient interest to induce many lady golfers to visit

Jasper Park Lodge during the tournament.

The golf season The golf course itself has been developed year by year; and stands unequalled in excellence among golf courses in Canada. The diversity of play, the uniqueness of its route, the high class character of its terrain, its exceptional design, its high standard of maintenance of fairways, tees and greens, its special appointments and the general largeness of the whole arrangement, coupled with its superb setting, all combine to put the Jasper Park Course in a leading position among the golf courses of North America. No one has yet been disappointed at Jasper.

An annual event of note is the Inter-Province and State Match in which teams of six players compete from the various provinces in Canada and the individual States of the Union. The diversity of interest in the Totem Pole Trophy was evidenced last year by the fact that all the provinces, with the exception of one, were represented in that event; five states of the Union had entries, two players from Great Britain and one from Honolulu.

PRESIDENT OF WORLD ROTARY

Tampico Supplies New International Head—Belgian Delegate Explains European Viewpoint

I. B. Sutton, of Tampico, Mexico, third vice-president, was elected president of Rotary International on Wednesday as the organization discarded its usual machinery for balloting and named him by acclamation at Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Europeans Rotarians are unanimous that the real function of the organization is promotion of world friendship. This was the message brought to Rotary International by Dr. Edward Willems, of Belgium, who said charitable aspects do not carry a great appeal because such problems are solved largely by the state in European nations. Raising the standard and dignity of business men and those associated with them in commercial pursuits is the principal community service of rotary as Europeans see it, he said, but advancement of international peace takes precedence as an aim. Special assemblies were called to consider boys work, activities for crippled children, and similar rotary projects.

BE NOT TOO LATE

What silence we keep, year after year, With those who are most near to us and dear! We live beside each other, day by day, And speak of myriad things, but seldom say The full, sweet word that lies just in our reach Beneath the commonplace of common speech.

Then out of sight and out of reach they go— These close, familiar friends who loved us so; And, sitting in the shadow they have left, Alone with loneliness and sore bereft, We think with vain regret of some fond word That once we might have said and they have heard!

For weak and poor the love that we confessed Now seems beside the vast, sweet unexpressed, And slight the deeds we did to those undone, And small the service spent in treasures won, And undeserved the praise for word and deed, That should have overflowed the simple need.

This is the cruel cross of life, to be Full-visionsed only when the ministry Of death has been fulfilled, and in the place Of some dear presence is but empty space; What recollections service ever can then Give consolation for the might have been?

Delights Everyone With Clever Comedy Presented to the Royal Patrons

"Good Morning, Judge," Reginald Denny's latest comedy success, was played here last night at the Royal. The trouble and fun all started in the same place, at a prize fight. Then Reg. gives everyone a real laugh when he is trying to keep his identity from his sweetheart and his sister also a friend of hers, arrives on the scene. After a hearty laugh the story culminates "as you like it."

Besides the thrilling chapter of the serial story, there was shown pictures of the beautiful land of Evangeline, made famous by Longfellow's poem, as well as a novelty picture, which has no subtitles, and no faces are shown. It is absolutely a story without words, yet they are not needed, for here "actions speak louder than words."

The same program will be repeated this evening and Saturday; another night of "fine" entertainment.

Really this is beauty!

Our corner friend was right about it lasting until noon today but we'll have to wait and see if it's going to clear up and let us away for the week end.

St. John's Parish Guild is holding a sale of home made cooking tomorrow. The young ladies assure us they did it themselves so you see it will be good.

The Port Hope Cafe have got a new sign. Our main street will look like Broadway when it gets all lit up.

Speaking of lighting—it would be interesting for strangers as well as townsfolk who are busy through the day to be able to look over the goods in shop windows in the evening. Only a few of our merchants do and we are certain it would be money well spent to keep well lit up.

The Dominion Day Committee met last night and completed their programme for the big day—July 2nd.

A most peculiar thing happened on the Bank of Toronto corner yesterday when a bull dog chased by a spaniel ran into a car which stopped almost instantly because of the shriek of the scared animal. Then to the surprise of eye witnesses the spaniel seized the bull dog and dragged him to safety whereupon he shook him well—no doubt to shake some sense into the bull dog so that he will look up and down before he crosses the street.

To the memory of the late Lady Parker, wife of Sir Gilbert Parker, Bart., a memorial window has been placed in St. Thomas's Church, Belleville, and will be dedicated to her memory in a fitting service on Sunday next. The subject of the window is "The Nativity." It is an example of stained glass on traditional English lines.

This month has already rolled up a total of $240,000 in building permits at Oshawa. This total is spread over 95 permits, of which 64 are for new dwellings or alterations and additions to houses, the total value of residential building permits being $217,000. The balance is divided in to industrial permits, $16,225 and 29 permits for garages, totalling $5,600.

Alterations and extensions to the Commercial Hotel at Oshawa that will provide 21 additional bedrooms, an enlarged rotunda and the conversion of the diningroom into a banquet hall, at a cost of $70,000, have been decided upon by Geo. McTaggart, proprietor. Sketch plans have been prepared and the construction work will be done this fall, it is expected. When these extensions have been completed the hotel will have a frontage of 90 feet with a depth of 150 feet and will have a total of sixty-one rooms.
