Robert Hutchinson, of Cavanville, one of selling liquor between the 30th of April and the 14th of May, and the other between the 14th and 30th of May. Hutchinson pleaded not guilty to both charges. The information in the both cases was laid by Mr. J. A. Ayerst, Provincial License Inspector, the first on a complaint from the residents of Cavanville, and the second on information supplied by two whisky spies, Solomon and Sky.

On the first charge four witnesses were called:—Allen Morton, John McManus, Albert Tinney and Benjamin Thompson. They all swore that they had not received liquor in Mr. Hutchinson's hotel between the dates mentioned and the case was dismissed.

On the other charge the whisky spies said that they visited Hutchinson's Hotel on the 16th of May and asked for a night's lodging.
They went in the bar that night and Solomon asked Hutchinson for the best he had. They were served with pop and they asked
Hutchinson to join them He Hutchinson to join them. He took a drink from a bottle which he had on a shelf and they asked him for some of that.

He put up two whisky glasses and gave them what was left in the bottle. It was whisky. They tried later to get another drink, but Hutchinson told them he had no more but expected some when the stage came in from Peterboro. They only had one drink and left on the 18th for Pontypool.

Mr. Hutchinson said that neither of the men received liquor at his place and that when he had a drink with them he took ginger ale out of the same bottle.

Mrs. Hutchinson and Miss Florence Hutchisson told of Solomon coming to the kitchen and complaining of toothache and asking for whisky. They told him that there was no whisky about the place and they heard Mr. Hutchinson tell them the same.

After reviewing the evidence Magistrate White dismissed the cases and the costs amounting to $35 will have to be paid by the pro-

CORONATION SERVICE

At St. Mark's Was Largely Attended

The beautiful and impressive Coronation service held yesterday in St. Mark's Church was a grand success in every way. The church was suitably decorated for the occasion with flags and flowers and was much admired by the large congregation present, every seat being occupied. The Sunday School children marched in procession from the Rectory to the church, carrying a banner and flags and headed by a drummer. The service began with the solemn Litany of the Coronation Service, after which an appropriate and patriotic address was given by the Rector in which he described the origin and meaning of the Coronation service, founded on Bible precedent and of deep religious significance. After the address the proclamation of the Coronation of the King and Queen was read from the Altar, followed by the National Anthem, which was made still more impressive than usual by the waving of flags by the Sunday School children. Kipling's Recessional Hymn was sung by Miss Hazel Burnham with that grace and artistic rendering so well befitting this beautiful hymn.

At the close of the service the Te Deum was sung as an act of special thanksgiving. Much credit is due to Miss Tuer, the talented organist of St. Mark's, and the choir for the impressive and splendid rendering of the musical portions of the ser-

Many of those in the large congregation attending expressed themselves as very much pleased with the impressive rendering of the service and its solemn significance. The Sunday School children assembled in front of the Rectory in the evening to witness an elaborate display of fireworks. The day's celebration closed with singing the National Anthem and three cheers and tiger for our newly crowned

When George V. Is Crowned.

We take pleasure in publishing the following original poem on the coronation of George V. by Roland C. Barwell, a son-in-law of Mr. Charles Bonnycastle, of Chilliwack, B.C. The poem has been set in music by Mrs. R. H. Bonnycastle, sr., of this town:

Come, swell the vast assembly, Come, join the gladsome throng, Make music with the cymbals

With triumph and with song. Let every loyal Briton A song of gladness sing, When nations all shall gather At the crowning of the King.

A great and glorious Empire, Shall show the wond'ring world, That Loyalty's the watchword, Where'er the Flag's unfurl'd; How liberty and justice,

Which British rule will bring, Has taught e'en savage Chieftains, To honor Britain's King.

All Europe's many Monarchs Will their noble grace, Our Royal George to honor Who rules the Saxon race.

The great and prosp'rous nation That springs from British loins Adds her congratulations And in our gladness joins.

And last, tho' never least, The Colonies will sail From North to South, from West to East

From ev'ry clime they hail, From Prairie and from Forest, From Afric's desert sand. Australia's wond'rous pastures And India's coral strand.

Then joyfully together When George the Fifth is crown'd We'll meet in glorious union By loyal feelings bound. God bless our noble Sovereigns, God bless the Mother Queen; God bless the greatest Empire The world has ever seen -Campbelltord Herald.

Three Fires Started In Colborne Hotel

Blaze Started in Hotel Stables: Incendiarism Suspected.

Colborne, June 21 .-- Fire broke out three times at the Hotel Bristol here to-day. The first alarm was sounded shortly after noon, when the fire appeared to have started in the lavatory, which was a mass of flames when discovered and about S1,000 damage resulted.

At 3 o'clock a blaze started in the hay mow of the hotel stables, and at 5 o'clock a box of straw in the hotel cellar was found burning. Having been discovered in the nick of time, no damages were incurred in the later outbreaks. All were of suspicious origin, and following the mysterious occurrences of the past few months, property owners are naturally feeling quite uneasy. The hotel property is owned by Mr. G. M. Teasdale, and the business has been carried on by Mr. Harry Whitney. Their losses are covered by insurance.

SPORTING SKITS

BASEBALL

The Port Hope ball tossers drove over to Cobourg yesterday afternoon for a league match with the easterners, and received a trouncing to the tune of 14 to 11. The exhibition was far from being brilliant, and had the locals given Pipher any fair kind of support they would have won the game Pipher struck out five men and he hit the ball for four safeties. The fielding at times was wretched, and in one case a single error gave Cobourg seven

CORONATION.

Mrs. A. O'Loughlin, of Lindsay. received this week from Buckingham Palace a letter from the King's private secretary, Sir Arthur Bigge, acknowledging with compliments Majesty's coronation:

Thou chosen King of a kindly line, Upon thy brow may the diadem shine

As the ruby red, the sappire blue, The emerald green, and pearl so true:

Like th: diamond's splendor, may thy light cheer The hearts of thy people, far and

May she, thy Queen. wear well the

With grace and peace through the years adown; Like Mary, star of earth and sea

May she, thy Mary, rule with the, To guard the people in thy care, And shield them safe from every snare.

God send his grace to thee and thine

Through all the great illustrious line; To her, who bore thee as her son May right and good be ever done. God bless King George, Queen

Mary, too:

Our hearts to both will e'er be true. -Lindsay Post.

CORONATION TALK

Quite a crowd of people were gathered this morning in front of one of our hotels discussing the ins and outs of the Coronation. Amongst the boys was "Old Uncle Bill" from the Township of Hope, a well known but rather an eccentric character. Some of the wise ones were trying to explain the difference in the time between Port Hope and London, and made the statement that if the Coronation took place at 10 a.m. we could have learnt the fact by "wireless" telegraphy two or three hours before it actually happened. Uncle Bill could not get that through his "think tank." How's that boys? The news gets here two hours before it happened. Well! Well! that beats all, by gum. Say boys that's like me cutting my hay to-day and drawing it into the barn yesterday. That knocks me off my trolley. Come boys, lets have a smile, as he marched into the sample room.

CANNOT PLEASE ALL.-The records of one pork packing house in Toronto show that in thirteen years the lowest dividend paid was 25 per cent. In one year it ran up to 120 per cent. The average for the thirteen years was over 52 per cent. Facts like these will go a long way to explain why the farmer in Canada has been getting less for his pork than in the United States and at the same time the Canadian householder has been paying very much more for bacon and other cured meats. Reciprocity is not a popular measure with Mr. Flavelle but if it comes into force it will be overwhelmingly popular with two interests of far greater importance, that is to say the producer.

Now her mind was kept so interest to miss Ance Bradiey.

Mr. Chas. Howitt, of Buffalo, is visiting a friend in town.

Quite a number of gents and some ladies from here took in the lar measure with Mr. Flavelle but

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

At the Gales' house assembled a great variety of intellectual people. and with her father's express approval (Martin had his reasons) Sidwell made the most of this opportunity of studying the modern world. Only a few days after her arrival in London, she became acquainted with a Mr. Walsh a brother of that heresiarch, the Whitelaw Professor whose name was still obnoxious to her mother. He was a well-favoured man of something between thirty and forty brilliant in conversation, personally engaging, and known by his literary productions, which found small favour with conservative readers. With surprise Sidwell in a short time became aware that her society. 'Yes, I am always friendly. But nothing more.'

'I don't mother. Mr. Walsh understands that we differ irreconcilably on subjects of the first importance. I have never allowed him to lose sight of that.'

Intellectual differences were of much less account to Mrs. Warricombe than to her daughter, and it, you know.'

Sidwell mused gravely. In a said in her gentlest voice:

Thank you, mother. I will be more careful.'

Perhaps she had lost sight of prudence, torgetting that Mr. Walsh could not divine her thoughts. Her interest in him was impersonal; when he spoke she was profoundly attentive, only because her mind would have been the picnic is at once assured. All affected in the same way had she been reading his words instead of others interested are cordially inlistening to them. She could not often more distinct to her imaginoften more distinct to her imagin-ation than his to her actual sight, the inner man. Mr. Pollard has ane that her thoughts were frequently more busy with a remembered dialogue than with this in which she was engaged. She had abundantly safe-guarded herself against serious misconstruction, but if gossip were making her its subject it would be inconsiderate not to regard the warning. It came, indeed, at a moment when she was very willing to rest from social activity. At the time of her last stay in London, three years ago she had not been ripe for reflection on what she saw. Now her mind was kept so incess-her as with the young women who seek only to make the most of their time in agreeable ways. Sidwell's vital forces were concentrated in an effort of profound spiritual significance. The critical hour of her life was at hand, and she exerted every faculty in the endeavour to direct herself aright.

Having heard from his brother hat Sidwell had not been out for several days, Buckland took an opportunity of calling at the house early one morning. He found her alone in a small drawing-room, and sat down with an expression of weary discontent. This mood had been frequent in the young man of late. Sidwell remarked a change that was coming over him a gloominess natural to his char-

Church Theaters.

Few people know that plays in England, Germany, Italy and France were fostered for religious purposes by the church centuries before they were taken up as a separate secular business. Moreover, few visitors to St. Paul's cathedral, in London, realize that that church during Elizabeth's reign and the first years of the reign of James L set aside one of its adjacent buildlags for use as a secular theater. Its little stage was famous, and the company of choir boys as actors presented many of the great plays of Shake-speare's time. They acted from about 1598 to 1608 under the management of Edward Pierce, their great master in music, who as church almoner bad business control of these adjacent buildings owned by the church.-Lon-

Colored Rain. Showers of red rain have fallen more than once in the world's history. In the middle ages they were looked upon as awful omens of war and bloodshed, but nowadays we know the hue of the "rain of blood" to be due to the presence of a tiny red insect, a variety of water flea. Red rains are very rare, but in volcanic regions gray rain is comparatively common. Sicfly has had many showers of this shade. They are caused by the upper atmosphere being full of ash colored volcanic dust from Etna. This dust is infinitesimally fine and colors the rain as it falls.

We are rather thankful for the experi-ment we were forced to go through. With this market being gradually closed against us we had to place our surplus product elsewhere and we did. The effort developed our energies and tempered our mettle. We may have had a grim look for a while, but we have successfully sailed the course and we are now smiling all over.

"This is why we gladly seize the hand, which your worthy President extends to us and we welcome the offer of a fair exchange of natural products on even terms.

"The Canadian protectionist is supported in his opposition to the treaty by the budding British protectionist. This ally hopes to convert Great Britain to his views in the near future and to be then in a position to organize a Zollvrein within the Empire. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has just voiced the true sentiment of Canada on this question. The Dominion stands by its preferential policy to the Mother Country and is ready to go further in that direction, but Canada will al-

GEORGE V. CROWNED

Westminster Abbey Is Scene of a Magnificent Ceremony.

NOTHING TO MAR THE DAY

Stately Ritual of Consecrating King George and Queen Mary to Their Exalted Positions In the Empire Passes Off Without a Hitch-Her Majesty Visibly Affected-

eighth of the House of Hanover, was yesterday consecrated to the service of the British Empire, and in turn received the public homage of his world-wide subjects.

With his consort, Queen Mary, His Majesty was crowned in the Abbey of Westminster, with all the wealth of religious rites and royal ceremonial prescribed by historic custom.

The coronation services, solemn and imposing, were those handed down from the earlier centuries, and fabric down from the earlier centuries, and the actors in the principal secondary roles of to-day's great function were garbed in reproductions of the multi-colored, gold-embroidered trappings worn by their ancestors in bygone generations. The latter made up a wonderfully effective setting around the central figures.

Outside, the usually dull streets had been transformed into a mass of color. The King and Queen's pro-peer's crimson mantle around his shoulders, and the Duke of Connaught in the uniform of a field marshal. Just above the altar, loaded with massive gold plate, to the right of the King, was the girlish Princess Mary, wearing the coronet of a peerees, with hair hanging down her snoulders, and the three younger princes in Scottish kilts. Near them were the other members of the royal family. Yeoman of the guard with halberds lined the aisles throughout the space of the abbey, and in the great boxes, rising high against the walls and filling the transepts and galleries, were 7,000 spectators, forming blocks of quiverhigh against the walls and filling the transepts and galleries, were 7,000 spectators, forming blocks of quivering, variegated color. In one group were the future rulers of most of the kingdoms of Europe with their aides. In another were the diplomatic corps, competing with the royalties in the splendor of their uniforms and decorations. Two blocks facing across the nave were composed of peers and peeresses wearing red robes and ermine capes, holding in their laps their coronets until the King was crowned.

The ceremony in the abbey consumed more than three hours. The stately ritual of the Established Church, combined with the coronation rites, surcharged with the traditions of faded centuries, and Sir Walter Parratt's impressive music, which continued pressive music, which continued throughout — now a soft accompaniment, then the choir intoning the service, then the majestic hymn, and, at the culminating points, the roll of drums and the blast of trumpets—to make every moment one of intense

While the King was being annointed and crowned she had her handkerchief to her eyes frequenty. The King, when he received the homage of the heir, displayed a father's affection.

Crowds Waited Long.

Both routes of the procession were filled up long before the troops had found their places. The early strival of cavalry in brilliant uniforms, accompanied by bands, afforded almost as interesting a show as the procession itself, and then came royal carriages and coaches taking robed and uniformed men and daintily dressed women to the abbey for the ceremony. Horse Killen .- The black horse owned by Mr. Thomas Robhorse owned by Mr. Thomas Roberts, butcher, was killed by the Friday even'g, June 23 10.10 train on the Ontario street bridge on Wednesday evening The horse had been pasturing on the lot near the river and wandered on the track reaching the north end of the bridge just as the 10.10 train came along. The train was not moving rapidly but struck the horse with sufficient force to throw it into the river. A veterinary surgeon was called and it was found that the injuries were of such a nature that the horse had to be

LOCAL OPTION FOR OSHAWA .-Oshawa citizens have decided to begin a Local Option campaign with a view to voting on a by law next January. Good resolutions. Oshawa need have no fear that Local Option will kill that go-ahead town. It will rather help the laboring classes to buy the houses they occupy and made the town a safer, better and more moral residential place and the $100,000 that go the bars annually will find its way into other business channels. Local Option is one of the greatest blessings that has come to Bowmanville in this generation and if adopted and properly enforced will be a much greater blessing to Oshawa.-Bowmanville Statesman.
