

WORKMAN DIES AT LAKEFIELD

Accident in Cement Plant Saturday is Believed To Have Been Accidental

John Haggerty was suffocated in one of the drying bins at the Canada Cement Company plant, Lakefield, at one o'clock Saturday morning. He and a fellow employee named Pringle were working together at the time and Mr. Haggerty entered the bin. No one knows how the accident happened, but it was declared to have been purely accidental. His body was recovered at about 3.30 a.m.

Mr. Haggerty was a young London Irishman, 21 years of age, and was in St. Joseph's Catholic Home in London for a while. He has been in Canada for about four years and lived in Lakefield for about a year. He had many friends among his fellow employees. He was a member of the Holy Name Society, very quiet and unassuming. His only living relatives are two sisters in the Old Country.

MAIMED DIVER MAKES RECOVERY

Hauled Too Quickly To Surface He Is Stricken by Dread "Bends"

Thanks to the tiny decompression chamber on the Salvage King of the Pacific Salvage Company's fleet, C. S. Cathledge, a United States Navy diver from Keyport, Wash., is a whole man today instead of a creeping cripple—a fate which for upward of 60 tortuous hours appeared to be his inevitable lot.

Cathledge was seized with that dreaded disease of all divers—"the bends"—while working off Keyport. Hauled up too quickly—rising from the 120 foot level to the surface in two minutes—he was within a few minutes seized with agonizing pains, which intensified until both legs and one arm had become paralyzed. Fellow divers and doctors at Keyport worked for two days, but unavailingly, to give him relief. Rashed to Victoria, B.C., which can boast—and quite properly so—of the only decompression chamber along the coast. Cathledge, semi-conscious, was hustled aboard the Salvage King and given treatment.

For five long, suffering hours he was locked within the steel chamber while two attendants spent what they afterward described as the "longest five hours in their lives" in taking the kinks out of their patient. The chamber pressure, regulated from the outside, was first put up to 45 pounds, but as pain gradually began to leave Cathledge, it was decreased correspondingly. After the first hour or so, the diver had the use of his limbs again, but the untiring vigil of his attendants, W. Reay and C. L. Anderson, was maintained until the air pressure was equal on both sides of the chamber. Then, and not until then, was Cathledge, weak, but smiling, and again able to "wiggle his toes," removed to a hospital cot.

Throughout the decompression treatment, T. W. Burdick of the Salvage King and Dr. H. Blasko of the U.S. Navy, controlled the air pressure and kept in constant touch with Reay and Anderson, within, by telephone.

FORMER PASTOR OCCUPIES PULPIT

Rev. MacFarlane Spoke To Baptist Congregation Sunday Morning

At the Baptist Church, Sunday morning, the congregation had the pleasure of listening to a former pastor, Rev. J. S. MacFarlane, who labored here some 19 years ago. Those who remember him, were glad indeed to meet him again, and while he saw many changes here, he remarked that time had dealt lightly with those who remained.

EVENING SERVICE

In the evening Mr. W. K. Thompson spoke from the text given in the book of John 17-3, "And this is life eternal that they might know Thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, Whom Thou hast sent." It was pointed out that people these days are looking for the realities of life, and also a life without the knowledge of God is unfruitful, and does not fulfill in the program that God has for mankind. It is God's purpose to reveal Himself to His children and to draw them into a closer fellowship with Himself. It is only as we wait before Him, and submit our lives to His will, that He manifests Himself and causes life to become full of joy and blessing, even though we have to go thru hard places. He concluded with the appeal for Christians to take time to learn to know God. "Whom to know aright is life eternal."

VERY REV. DEAN O'SULLIVAN IS TRANSFERRED TO PETERBORO

After Twenty-One Year's Service in This Parish Dean O'Sullivan Will Go—Father J. J. Guiry Will Occupy Vacancy

Very Rev. Dean O'Sullivan who has been pastor of this parish for over twenty-one years has received notification that he is to leave St. Mary's Church here and go to his first parish Immaculate Conception Church Peterboro, whereby Port Hope loses another much respected citizen.

The bishop of the diocese of Peterboro, Bishop O'Brien, notified Dean O'Sullivan of his appointment to the Peterboro church and that he is to be dean of Peterboro and Victoria counties.

He is to be succeeded in the pastorate by Father Guiry of Peterboro who is well known in Port Hope, having come here from Lindsay for the time Dean O'Sullivan was busy in his position as president of the Catholic Truth Society. It is only surmised who will fill Dean O'Sullivan's place as Dean of Durham and Northumberland as official word has not confirmed the report.

CORONER'S JURY TO PROBE DEATH OF BICYCLIST WHO DIED SUNDAY

John F. Stewart of Port Hope Died in Port Hope Hospital Sunday Morning and Preliminary Inquest Was Held Monday Morning—To Be Resumed Tonight

John F. Stewart of Port Hope, who received injuries here a week ago last Sunday, when he was run into the side of a car on Walton Street, died in the Port Hope General Hospital Sunday morning, and an inquest was opened at the Underlying parlors of Messrs. Jex and Smith, Ontario Street, this morning. After viewing the body, the hearing was adjourned until Monday night at 7.30 in the Town Hall.

W. P. Tickell, D. A. Shay, George Elliott, John Whetstone and James R. Giffen.
It will be remembered that the bicyclist was riding down Walton Street at 8.30 a.m., a week ago Sunday, when a car occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Parkinson of Leamoin, Penn., approached from the rear. Stewart apparently did not see the car and when it was alongside, he was struck by the side of the car. He was hurled to the pavement and received a fractured skull. He was rushed to the local hospital in an unconscious condition, but death ensued yesterday.

Coroner Dr. F. W. Diamond had charge of the hearing with Constable A. J. Chesher in attendance. The jury is composed of the following: J. Winfield, J. L. Westaway, Melville Hancock, Cyril V. Brown, of Stewards.
D. A. Shay, Secretary Committee of Stewards.
Fred Oke, Committee of Stewards.
W. A. Meadows, Superintendent Sunday School.
John Whetstone, Superintendent Sunday School.

REV. F. W. ANDERSON

REV. F. W. ANDERSON BIDS FAREWELL TO UNITED CHURCH CONGREGATIONS

Great Tribute Paid Fine Character of Pastor Who Leaves Now For Pacific—Is Given a Substantial Monetary Gift by His Congregation

Large congregations were present at both Sunday services in the United Church to hear Rev. F. W. Anderson's final message to the people of Port Hope before his departure for his new field of helpful service at Nanaimo, Vancouver Island British Columbia. After the evening service the gratitude and love of his friends in the church were expressed in a well worded address with which was coupled a gift.

Mr. Anderson's messages were both in keeping with the occasion, speaking in the morning on "The Unsearchable Riches of Christ" and in the evening on "Completeness in Christ."

At the close of the evening service Dr. Daley came on the platform of the S.S. Hall, where the services are being held and, as acting chairman of the Official Board of the church, he called on Mr. Harold Fulford, the secretary, to read the following address on behalf of the congregation and all its organizations: Port Hope, Ont., June 24, 1928

To the Rev. F. W. Anderson, M. A. Dear Mr. Anderson:—

Having responded to a call which you believed to be the call of the Divine Head of the Church, you are about to sever your connection with the United Church in Port Hope and to bring to a close the activities and services you have so faithfully and well rendered on behalf of the church here.

We cannot permit an event of this kind to pass without due recognition. It is now over three years since you assumed the arduous duties of this pastorate. The circumstances are still fresh in our memories. The union of the three churches forming the Union had just been consummated. There were serious difficulties recognized and unforeseen to be dealt with. Nevertheless, with courage and reliance upon divine strength, you set yourself to the task and with wisdom, tact and patience have guided the Church and guided it well through these years of transition.

Every organization operating within the Church bears testimony to your skillful, safe and sane leadership. The Sunday School and Young People's Society have been greatly benefited by your presence and encouraging words of counsel.

As the presiding officer at all the meetings of the Session and Official Board, you have invariably displayed wise discretion, good judgment and commendable patience. Your pastoral duties have been very heavy and exacting, but you have discharged them most faithfully and with great benefit to your people. The careful consideration you have shown for the sick and afflicted and sorrowing members of the flock has been most commendable.

Your preaching has been very profitable to your hearers, being evangelical and practical, finding its way to the hearts and lives of the people.

You have encouraged the congregation to hearty co-operation in all matters pertaining to the work of the local Church, and you have constantly held before the people their relations to the church at large and their privileges and responsibilities in connection with the extension of the Kingdom of God.
Occasions have arisen during your pastorate when questions affecting the social and moral life of the community at large had to be dealt with, and when it behooved the Christian ministry to assert itself on behalf of the best interests of society and the State. On such occasions your pulpit utterances were invariably and unfalteringly in favor of truth and righteousness.
We realize that in all of this work Mrs. Anderson has been a deeply interested and valuable co-worker with you and that she has filled a very important place in the life and work of the congregation.
We know that the community holds you both in very high esteem and that the great majority of the people would say "Port Hope loses two good citizens and Nanaimo will find two."
Further, we believe that every member of this congregation will be glad to retain the good fellowship of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, for, as Oliver Wendell Holmes has tersely and truthfully said:—
"There is no friend like an old friend
Who has shared our morning days
No greetings like his welcome
No homage like his praise
Fame is the scentless sunflower
With sweets in every fold."
But friendship is the breathing rose
With gaudy crown of gold

Ethel M. Kerman, Pres. Y.P.L.
A. E. Fulford, Pres. of Choir.
Thos. Garnett, Trustee Board.
Adelaide E. Aldrich, Leader Gift Shop Girls.

At the close of the address Mr. J. R. Whetstone was called upon to present to Mr. Anderson a very tangible token of the regard in which both he and Mrs. Anderson are held by all the people of the congregation. This was in the form of a monetary gift for the purchase of a new motor car in which to make their western trip.
In acknowledging the kindness of the people in making such a generous gift, Mr. Anderson remarked that he would be glad to think of the new car as a Port Hope friend and helper in carrying on in his new field the kind of service he has tried to do for the people here.

W.M.S. Honored Mrs. Anderson

Realizing that we often fail to speak the word of appreciation that we really feel in our hearts and that our kindly thoughts, our sincere admirations and even our warm affections sometimes remain unknown and that this old world is not quite such a happy place because of the omission, the members of the Women's Missionary Society met after the evening service Sunday night and presented Mrs. Anderson with one of the new Life Membership pins of the United Church W.M.S. and a short address of appreciation.
Dear Mrs. Anderson,—
We, the members of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Port Hope United Church desire to express our appreciation of the kindly help, wise counsel and efficient service which you have rendered to our Society during the years you have been associated with us. We are not unmindful of your willingness to respond with voice and hands and heart when called upon; and in any field of service the willing response is always appreciated.
We shall miss you from our meetings and are sorry to lose you and Mr. Anderson from our town and church and though many miles may separate us, yet we hope you will not forget the old associations and friendships which have been formed here.

We present to you this life membership pin as a little reminder of our happy associations here and trust it will fasten our friendship even more firmly together. It is our hope that in your new home you will have the best of health to enjoy the friendships you will form there and that our Heavenly Father's richest blessing may rest upon you and yours.

Signed on behalf of the members of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary.

THE GUIDE STORY

"Are you going to kill us to-night?" pursued April.
 "Why ask? It is best to be prepared for the worst," returned David with a grim smile.
 At this juncture Augustine lost all control over her nerves; she shrieked and screamed and sobbed, and laughed in the wildest hysteria. Her shrieks rang up to the high ceiling.
 "Murder! Murder! Thieves! Death! Help!" shouted Augustine.
 Then April heard the bolt of the door of communication withdrawn, and forthwith the president of the secret society walked into the room and held up his hand.
 "Silence, girl," he said in a voice of thunder.
 And in an instant the very power of utterance seemed gone from Augustine; she sunk back on the couch, where she had placed herself, and stared at the masked face of the president with glassy eyes.

CHAPTER V.

"Who sent you here?" thundered the president, in French.
 April Vaughan had a beautiful Yender man, whose terrific socialistic doctrines she had listened to anon, was still a man of emotions—a man of culture. When he saw April's blue eyes, bronze hair, and sweet red lips, and rounded cheeks, he would not send her to her death.

 "Surely," said the instincts of her girlish vanity, "he will not hurt a hair of my head!"
 "We are school girls—" she began in French.
 "Speak your own language, young woman. You are English, as I judge by your accent."
 Now, this man spoke English so perfectly that he won the heart of April, so to speak.
 "Speak English?" she echoed in her sweet, pure accent. "Ah, how gladly, sir; and how glad I am to find one of my father's nation in the person in power. I love the English."
 "I am not English," responded the president, coldly.
 "Sir, you amaze me, with that fine pronunciation."
 "If you please, we will leave the subject of my nationality and of my fine accent to settle themselves. I wish to know who sent you here?"
 "Nobody; we lost our way, and came here by accident to inquire the way to the Rue Plumes d'Or."
 "A falsehood!" said the president.
 "An impudent falsehood!"
 April was startled; but her courage rose. There was something in the breath of danger that she loved. A spirit of defiance awoke in her.
 "It is cowardly to insult a lady, sir."
 "In the abstract, yes; but circumstances alter cases."
 "Nothing can justify such rudeness," said April haughtily.

 "Let it, then, remain unjustified," returned the president; "it would be a mockery to waste politeness on those who are condemned."
 He paused.
 "Condemned to what?" asked April, boldly.
 "Now act!" said the president in a loud voice.
 As he spoke, four men, in masks, filed in through the door of communication and advanced to the middle of the room; they knelt down and drew aside the boards of the floor.
 "Now," said the president.
 The four men advanced in file, and with steady footsteps, toward April Vaughan. One seized her right arm, the other her left.
 She did not scream or faint, but Augustine began to shriek again.
 Vesta Llewellyn lay back unconscious, and like one dead, in a chair.
 Two men held April to the opening in the floor. She saw a black abyss and she started back.
 "Shoot me," she said, "but don't throw me down there!"
 The president of the society stood masked, silent, terrible. He neither moved nor spoke. The appeal of April might have been the mere mournful sighing of the storm-wind for any impression that it seemed to make upon him.
 Then suddenly a man stepped out from the others, went close to the president, and whispered in his ear.
 All this while it had appeared as if the two men, each of whom grasped a shoulder of April Vaughan, had been waiting for a signal to cast her down to destruction.
 She, staring into the black, fathomless hole, so sick now with terror to be conscious of anything but the prospect of a hideous death, scarcely knew if she felt relieved or otherwise that her destruction was postponed, when, in answer to some secret signal, the men drew her away from the yawning death-trap and placed her gently in the chair.
 The shadowy room, with its sullen, flameless fire, its one solitary lamp, its scant furniture, its mysterious occupants, was as horrible as a dream—her head was in a mad whirl.
 Vesta Llewellyn still lay in the chair in a dead faint.
 Augustine was sobbing convulsively, kneeling on the floor and lifting up her clasped hands toward the president in a great and speechless agony.
 That pitiless reformer, whose method of righting wrongs seemed to lead him through the red road of murder, took no heed of the girl's anguish.

With practically a full turnout of the members, the new $12,000 clubhouse of the Oshawa Golf Club was officially opened on Saturday. The building, which has just been completed, is most modern in design, being equipped with women's and men's locker rooms, lounging rooms, dining hall, and quarters for the pro, besides other features which help to make it one of the best, although possibly not the largest, in the Province. During the afternoon foursomes were played after which tea was served in the clubhouse, a number of the officials giving addresses of an optimistic nature in regard to the coming season and as to future progress.

Wins Championship

Johnny came marching home triumphantly Saturday thru the rain and the cheering crowds with the greatest of all golfing crowns atop his black curly thatch.
 This slim young Irishman with the million-dollar smile and the distinction of being the best dressed professional star in the country—27 years of age, Johnny Farrell of Little Old New York—stepped up to an eight foot uphill putt on the home green and rammed it home to beat the great Bobby Jones and win the open golf championship of the United States by a single stroke.
 With that finishing shot and the masterful mashie club from the rough that made it possible, a brace of the greatest strokes any championship conflict has ever seen, Farrell stood off the gallant closing thrust

FEWER LUXURIES NOW

As recently as a decade ago the closed automobile was considered a mark of financial well being. Open cars outnumbered enclosed about four to one, and there was considerable disparity in cost in favor of the open models, with the result that people of limited means were known as the open-car class.

Today the situation stands reversed. Twenty five per cent more closed than open automobiles were sold last year, and manufacturers priced their closed models at less than touring and roadster types. The open car is becoming the rich man's car and the time is coming when the bulk of the demand for open models will be from those who can afford to own both closed and open types.

All know the advantages of the closed car over the open models and there are two reasons for the reduced cost of some enclosed machines. One is that industry has discovered the secret for reducing the cost by increasing the production but has never found a way to prevent the cost from increasing in face of diminishing production. And then manufacturers under new conditions must build their open models to meet the more refined requirements of a trade with which the cost is of secondary importance.

Again and again consumers have demonstrated that luxuries come at low cost if they come in large quantities and as soon as the price is low and the demand large, they become essentials.—Oshawa Times.

KNOW THE JOY OF BRIGHT WATERS AND HAPPY LANDS

The Indians coming upon a chain of gleaming, shimmering lakes about ninety miles east of Toronto, named them "Kawartha"—"bright waters and happy lands."

It is many years since the Indians gave the name "Kawartha" to these lakes; yet today vacationists find it the source of happy holidays in the many resorts scattered along the shores.

If you are an ardent fisherman, cast your line in the larger lakes for bass and muskonge; in the smaller lakes speckled trout provide good sport.

BIG FRUIT CROPS ARE PREDICTED

Forecast Based on Blossom Conditions on June 1

Canadian fruit crop prospects were never more promising in the fruit producing provinces from the Atlantic to the Pacific. This forecast is based entirely on blossom conditions on June 1.

Without exception, all kinds of fruit are showing a heavy blossom, according to the crop report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. As the amount of bloom is little or no indication of the eventual yield, except that a big crop should not be expected from a small showing of blossom, no attempts will be made to estimate yields until the results of the June crop are all known.

British Columbia—which is more advanced than any other province—is very hopeful for a good crop of apples, peaches, cherries, plums and small fruits. Strawberries, which are now moving to a market, are practically assured of an increased crop over 1927.

In the Eastern provinces, weather conditions have been cool and wet during the blossom period, and it is feared that in all probability the

"Gib" McKelvey Named in Writ Hinging on Gymnasium Assault

A writ filed at Ottawa Friday, instituting an action for unstated damages in the Supreme Court of Ontario against Gilbert "Gib" McKelvey, the well known rugby star of Queen's University. The plaintiff is Herbert E. A. Inman, son of H. J. Inman, of the Western Canada Flour Mills. The writ set forth that the plaintiff's claim is for damages for "Aggravated and unprovoked assault made on the plaintiff by defendant at Queen's University gymnasium, Kingston, Ont., on or about the 25th day of February, 1928."

A. E. Fripp, solicitor for Inman, stated that his client had for the last three years, occupied the position of looking after the sale of tickets in connection with athletic events at Queen's. The dispute which led to the alleged attack was over passes to a certain athletic event and it is claimed Inman was permanently injured.

Babe Homers Thrice

George Pipgras's superb pitching Sunday helped the Yankees shut out the Red Sox 4 to 0, for their only victory of the series, Boston winning it by two victories to one. Incidentally it was Pipgras' thirteenth victory out of fifteen decisions. He allowed the Red Sox but three hits, two coming in the ninth. Babe Ruth made his 28th homer in the third and his third homer in two days, he having hit two on Saturday when the Hugmen lost both games. The drive put Ruth 19 games 15 days and 4 home runs ahead of the pace he followed last year to establish a new season record of 60. Ruth hit his 28th and 29th homers last year on July 9.

Leafs Climbing

Dropping the first three games of their four game series to Toronto, the Jersey City Skeeters displayed a surprising reversal of form in the final round of Sunday's doubleheader after dropping the opener by a score of 7-2 and stopped the Leaf's winning streak with a 1 to 0 verdict in an abbreviated contest of seven innings. Not only did the Skeeters check O'Hara's men, but this unexpected victory spoiled the Leaf's chances to lead the league alone, the Rochester Red Wings having been beaten twice at Baltimore. Threatening weather promised to sidetrack Sunday's events as an overcast sky was dripping rain when the opening game started. It soon cleared, however, and a bright sun appeared but the early rain affected the attendance which was the smallest week end gathering of the season.

THE HELPING HAND

If when climbing up life's ladder You can reach a hand below Just to help the other fellow Up another rung, you know; It may be that in the future, When you're growing weary, too, You'll be glad to find there's someone Who will lend a helping hand to you!

If while struggling in life's battle You a kindly word should say To a comrade who's lost courage 'Mid the fierceness of the fray, Maybe, sometime when the foe man Bear you back, and things look blue, He you helped may cheer you onward And bring victory unto you!

If, when you shall hear men slander And with false words seek to shame, You speak up him who's absent, And defend his name and fame! In that day when you are sneered at By the self-same, slimy crew, You'll rejoice to know there's someone Who will boldly stand by you!

The Poor Man's Friend—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil possesses power in concentrated form. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

TORONTO TEAM HERE JULY 2ND

Berkeley Intermediates Meet C.N.R. While Winners Play File

Softball fans will see plenty of action here on July 2nd, when three fast softball teams will participate in a tournament at Viaduct Park. At ten o'clock, the Berkeley Intermediates of Toronto, will play an exhibition tilt with Frank Bird's C.N.R. team, while the winners will meet the Nicholson File aggregation, who are now tied with the Bankers for first position in the local softball loop.

MAIL ROBBERS YET IN HIDING

Police Efforts Have No Results Yet—Military Guard for Mail Suggested

No new developments have taken place in connection with Tuesday night's mail robbery. Postal officials say that they will know pretty well what securities have been lost and the amount after today's check-up with the security companies concerned. Envelopes have been torn open and the contents almost hopelessly mixed up. Inquiry at the offices of the Canadian Bankers' Association today finds no information that the Bankers will add to the $2,000 reward offered by the Federal Government. The standing reward of $5,000 offered by the Bankers' Association applies only to robberies on bank premises and robberies of bank officials.

In financial circles, the reward offered by the Government is regarded as "miserably small," and the suggestion thrown out that some added protection must be provided. The banks are not interested in this reward, because of the insurance carried against loss. It is suggested among the postal officials that the Federal militia men might be utilized for the night trains that carry large amounts of money, as the majority of them do. Some express the opinion that from the military schools one man whose position would be covered in the mail cars, could accompany the mail on all of the express trains, and utilize the services of the trained men this way, with very little added expense, while it would make hold-ups of Tuesday night's character an impossibility, anywhere along the lines. They also point out that Federal men from the Northwest Mounted Police are always on guard at the office of the Receiver General, and this precaution has been taken since the Melinda street hold up.

More care is being taken to guard the mail cars. Friday night two messengers who had been sent over with a bunch of mail to be placed on an out-going train, were forced to produce their identification cards.

COMPETITION FOR CANADIAN TEAM

Bisley Team Hopes to Win Trophies at Great Empire Shoot

With competition keen, and important alterations made in the program the 1928 meet of the National Rifle Association at Bisley Camp the first two weeks of July, is expected to be the finest in the 68 years it has been held. It is recognized as the great shooting tournament of the military forces of the whole empire and is the largest of its kind in the world. South Africa, Australia, India, Guernsey and other parts of the empire, and numerous marksmen from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, will be present and contesting with the 18 picked Canadians in the classic team and individual contests. The Canadian team, however is again expected to be a leading factor in the whole meet, as it has been for years past. With two former winners of the King's prize—C.S.M. W. A. Hawkins, Toronto, (1913), and Lieut. Desmond Burke, Ottawa, (1924), the Dominion's soldier marksmen should give a good account of themselves.

Last year Lieut. Burke lost the King's Prize by a single point to Captain Vernon of Hampshire. The Canadians, last year, however, captured the two greatest team shoots, the Mackinnon Challenge Cup and the Imperial Kolapore Cup. The Kolapore is an eight man and the Mackinnon a twelve man competition. Among the individual events captured by the Canadians were the Prince of Wales trophy (C.S.M. Hawkins) and Times Silver Trophy, (Lieut. K. R. McGregor, Ottawa).

This year for all contests on the short ranges, 200 to 600 yards, the size of the bull's eye is being reduced to lessen the great number of highest possibles, which have already been recorded. These necessitated shoot-offs among competitors trying for leadership. Wonderfully accurate rifles, notch match and service guns, and splendid ammunition make necessary the placing of this further handicap on the marksmen. A slight change is also made in the conditions for the first stage of the King's prize, classic individual event for the past or present members of his Majesty's forces. In the first stage the marksmen will fire seven shots at 600 yards, seven at 500 and seven at 200. This will prevent late starters from shooting in the longer ranges at dusk. The 300 best scorers in this stage enter the second stage two days later, now firing ten shots at 300, 500, 600 yards. The best 100 in this shoot—the King's Hundred—compete in the final, 15 shots at 900 and 1,000 yards.

The first stage of the St. George's contest will be at 300 and 600 yards, instead of 200 and 600.

The most far-reaching changes this year, however, are the reduction from ten shots to seven in all the great newspaper shoots and in the Prince of Wales' Prize, the Donegal, the Service Rifle Wimbledon Cup, the Barlow and Graham competition.

Conductor Hogan joined the "Soo" line in 1886 as stoker on the old Wisconsin Railway, and is to-day one of the veterans of the company.

Montreal.— A new era in Canadian trans-Atlantic passenger history, has been inaugurated in Montreal, where the fine new liner "Duchess of Bedford" docked recently. The new 20,000 ton vessel, the largest to ascend the St. Lawrence to Montreal, is the first of four cabin class sister ships of the new "Duchess" type, which will supplement the Canadian Pacific's trans-Atlantic and winter cruise services. Speakers at the banquet held on board on arrival in Montreal after her maiden voyage eulogized the occasion as an event of national significance.

The Feast of St. John the Baptist, greatest of French Canadian religious spectacles, will be celebrated throughout the province of Quebec shortly. The Montreal baseball stadium, which will accommodate 25,000 persons, will be crowded by spectators of a French Canadian oratorio, to be followed by a spectacular fireworks display. On the Sunday afternoon, thirty floats, depicting French Canadian scenes, many bands, and over 10,000 singers and minstrels, will come together in a procession several miles long through the streets of Montreal.

A manager writes: "My man must have milk, so be sure and let me know without fail whether it can be got in Toronto without trouble!" Presumably, if it cannot, a cow will be included in the party.

There are numerous letters to the effect that "a good, clean job" is desired in Toronto during the training period to help meet the expenses.

An inquirer from New Jersey wants a list of tenting spaces within the city limits and another American wishes the C.N.E. to arrange a temporary residence for him here, with a guarantee that no cabbage will be served to him during his stay.

Diets, apparently, are an important part of training, but they vary as much as do the swimmers' requests.

TRAFFIC COURT

Jack Roche, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs for speeding over intersections in Port Hope by Magistrate W. A. F. Campbell, in local Traffic Court.

G. M. Bickle, Toronto, donated $1 and costs for driving a car with an "in transit" marker, other than on the original trip from the factory to dealer.

H. Wallace of Hope Township, was taxed $3 and costs for driving a buggy with no light.

Here and There

(89) Half a million automobiles from the United States and the provinces of Canada, carrying a million and a half persons, will enter Montreal during the coming tourist season, according to the estimate of the Montreal Tourist and Convention Bureau.

The use of the combine is expected to be more general than ever in the 1928 harvest. In 1927 there were 176 combines in the Prairie Provinces, 148 being in Saskatchewan, 26 in Alberta and 2 in Manitoba. In 1927 there was a total of 530 in Saskatchewan, 221 in Alberta and 23 in Manitoba, 774 in all.

There is considerable tree planting activity along the Medicine Hat division of the Canadian Pacific Railway. At Shackleton alone twenty-five bundles of small trees were received the other day from the Forestry Branch at Indian Head, Saskatchewan, and all are now planted. Cluny and other villages are competing actively.

NEW WAY OF CUTTING COAL

Compressed and Frozen Liquid Carbonic Gas Used as Explosive. An important step in reducing hazards of life in the coal mining industry is seen by mining engineers in the development of a method substituting compressed and frozen liquid carbonic gas for explosives in dislodging coal from the working face of a mine.

The carbonic gas method, which is in use for experimental purposes at the Lick branch mine of the Peabody Fuel Company of Maybury, W. Va., has a staunch supporter in Robert M. Lambie, chief of the West Virginia mining department. The liquid gas, contained in a steel shell 29 inches in length, is inserted in a four-inch drill hole in the coal. When placed in the shell the gas is below freezing point and has a pressure of 2,000 pounds a square inch, but by means of an electric fuse within the shell the temperature is raised to a point that the pressure within the shell is increased to 26,000 pounds a square inch. When that pressure is reached a plug of softer metal than the shell gives way, releasing the gas and dislodging the coal.

An increase in lump coal of from 10 to 15 per cent, already has been noted, but other advantages from the use of carbonic gas in that phase of mining include elimination of explosives, no roof fracture, a reduction in timbering, no danger of blown-out shoots, the possibility of dislodging coal from the solid and being able to shoot coal on bit dust without danger of an explosion.

WALTON ST. PORT HOPE

HEARD ON THE STREET

Good morning! What kind of weather is just ahead?

After the rainy season last week people expected we would have many days of sunshine, but it seems to give promise of another damp spell not far ahead. Our corner friend says we can stand a wet spell better now than on Port Hope's Bigger and Better Day.

The annual Sunday School picnic of St. John's Sunday School, will be held at Sylvan Glen, north of Port Hope, on Wednesday afternoon, July 3rd.

In "Week by Week," an interesting magazine published in Toronto, a photograph of Chas. A. Byam, the Grand Master of Grand Lodge of Ontario, I.O.O.F., which recently convened in Toronto, appears on the front cover. Chas. Byam is an old Port Hoper and was honored by a presentation at the convention.

In the same issue, under the subtitle, "Scenic Ontario Highways," a portion of the provincial highway, west of Welcome is shown. Three local girls are shown in hiking costume in the picture and include, Misses Cicely Hancock, Ruth Mercer and Doris Fielding.

The Town Council is holding a special sitting this evening, due to the fact that the last regular meeting was not held as a quorum was not present.

Oshawa bade farewell to two pastors Sunday, when Rev. C. W. Demille of King Street United Church and Rev. Dr. H. S. Dougall of Simcoe Street United Church delivered their farewell messages. Mr. Demille is going to the Central United Church, Stratford, while Dr. Dougall is retiring from the ministry.

Despite threatening conditions, a lot of the boys took their week end trips as usual. Funny, too, when we went to collect information for our personal column, some of the boys just blushed, smiled, and didn't say a thing.

Well, Sunday's traffic took the cake for this year, but what will it be like next week?

The Council meets tonight, an Inquest will be held, the chariot race of Ben Hur starts tonight and several other things besides young people's meetings, will make a busy evening in Port Hope.

The Peterboro County Council completed its seasonal work at noon Saturday, striking a county tax rate of 12 4-5 mills, as compared with 11 3-5 mills last year.

Good progress is being made on Oshawa's new hotel, which has just been named the "Genosha," to indicate the home of General Motors and the name of city. The steel is expected in the city on Monday, and, according to the contractors, the structure will cost in the neighborhood of $700,000. It will be completed by Sept. 15.

BAD COLLISION NEAR NEWCASTLE

Four Motorists Injured in Crash On Highway Sunday Afternoon

Four motorists received injuries as a result of a collision between a Hudson sedan and a Buick on the provincial highway, a short distance east of Newcastle, Sunday afternoon about 5.30. The Hudson was driven by Norman E. Beck, 1496 Collingwood avenue, Detroit, while the other car was managed by George Baynam, 109 Simpson avenue, Toronto.
