Much Blood Found on Cushions of Bowmanville Mystery Car

Mystery surrounds the whereabouts of four men whose car figured in an accident at Bowmanville Wednesday morning. It occurred about 4.30 o'clock, when a large touring car, number 94-056, crashed into the retaining fence just west of the town and was badly damaged. The car was travelling west, and had rounded the sharp curve by the overhead bridge. It then went on some forty yards and suddenly swerved into the south fence and started over the embankment. The police were immediately notified and arrived at the scene of the accident about ten minutes after it had occurred. When they arrived, the men had disappeared. Investigation revealed the fact that one of the men was injured—no one knows how badly—since there was a great deal of blood on the cushions.

NEW OFFICER FOR BROCK HIGHWAY

Emerson Spence Appointed To Territory Whitby To Lindsay

Highway Traffic Officer Emerson Spence has been appointed to patrol the Brock highway between Whitby and Lindsay. The new constable, who has made his headquarters at Brooklin, formerly resided at Bradford and had been doing patrol duty on the Toronto-Muskoka highway between Bradford and Barrie as an under officer. He has now reached full status as a traffic officer, and will be in full charge of the Whitby-Lindsay territory. The patrol between Rouge Hill and Bowmanville on the Kingston highway is still without a regular officer since the transfer of Constable Wm. Reid to Niagara Falls. A new appointment is expected shortly.

Seeking shelter under trees from lightning storm near Philadelphia, Mary Smith, 19, was killed.

13 YEAR OLD TO ENTER SWIM

But Must Pass Medical Examiners As To Ability To Endure Strain

Exhibition officials in charge of the third Wrigley swim will bar any would-be contestants of unduly tender age. This policy was indicated following the receipt of an entry from a 13 year old schoolgirl, Charlotte Spridick of Charleroi, Pa. She is being notified of the receipt of her entry and also informed that the acceptance of it will be conditional upon a certificate from the C.N.E.'s medical examiners to the effect that she is of sufficiently sturdy physique to attempt such a race. Another difficulty which has cropped up to bother the officials has been a series of requests to use such contrivances as webbed gloves, rubber suits and other remarkable articles of costume in the race. All such inquiries have been notified that these additions to the usual swimming ensemble would mean disqualification.

CANADIANS AFTER OLYMPIC HONORS

Athletes in Training All Over Dominion for Trials on June 30

Striving for places on the teams which will carry the Maple Leaf of Canada into competition in a variety of sports at the 1928 Olympiad at Amsterdam, July 28 to August 12, men and women throughout the Dominion are now finishing their training for the Olympic trials to be held at Halifax, N.S., Toronto, Hamilton and St. Catharines, Ont., from June 30 to July 7. The selected cream of Canada's competitive athletes will represent the Dominion at the Olympic games at Amsterdam, Holland, from July 28 to August 12. Men and women of the track and field team and the carmen competing in the fours and eights will sail on the Albert's July 11 to Southampton. The boxers, wrestlers, cyclists and New Westminster, B.C., lacrosse team will go on the Megantic's July 18 to Antwerp. On June 30 and July 1, the men's track and field trials will be held at Hamilton, while on the same date the women's eliminations will take place at Halifax. The Olympic fours and eights will be selected at the Henly Regatta, St. Catharines, on July 4 and 5 and on the two following days the swimming trials will be held at Toronto. The boxers and wrestlers will not decide supremacy until July 14 and 15 in Montreal. In all 87 athletes will strive to gain points for Canada at the game this year. Eight girls and 25 men will represent the Dominion in the track and field sports and there will be 15 oarsmen, 10 swimmers and cyclists, 14 boxers and wrestlers and 15 lacrosse players, the latter comprising the New Westminster team which won the Canadian championship last year. Competitors will be under the general direction of P. J. Mulqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic Committee, but each division of sport will have its own manager and trainers. Reputations will be given little consideration at the different trials. Veterans, to secure places on the teams must shape up well in their elimination events and while the men who have won consistently for years may succeed again, some ordinary competitors of a year or two ago may turn in startling performances this year. Champions may be toppled from their thrones and new rulers proclaimed during the weeks of Olympic preparation. At present the best Canadian hopes for Amsterdam are generally recognized to be: The single and double sculls with Joe Wright and Jack Guest of Toronto. The classic marathon with Cliff Bricker of Galt, Ont., at the top of a list of several point winners. Short distance races with Cyril Coaffee, formerly of Winnipeg, L. Miller, Halifax; Williams, Vancouver; Brown, Edmonton; Hester, of Windsor; Cohen, Winnipeg and Mekeheney, Montreal. Phil Edwards, British Guiana, in the 800 metres. Don Carrick, Toronto, in heavy-weight boxing. Doral Pilling, Cardston, Alberta, in the javelin throw. John Jackson, Lettbridge, Alta., in the welterweight boxing. Wright and Guest, who have gone to England to compete in the Diamond Sculls at Henley, which Joe Wright lost by an unfortunate error last year, are conceded an excellent chance of adding to Canada's point total in the Olympic rowing events. Whoever makes the better showing in the Diamond Sculls, will row as Canada's representative in the Olympic singles. Sneydy, rugged, willing, youthful, Joe Wright is singles champion of America. He has inherited the rowing experience of his father and accumulated a great deal of his own. If he is entered in the singles at Antwerp, many believe he will carry off the title. Wright and Guest were selected arbitrarily for the Olympic doubles and singles, but the fours and eights will be selected at the Canadian Henley. Cliff Bricker has been working on a farm in Holland for some time and training for the Olympic marathon. Both a middle distance and a marathon star, it is not expected he will be entered in the shorter races

The executive took advantage of the occasion to present George Van Horne of Kingston, formerly of Port Hope, a fellow member, with a silver tray. Mr. Van Horne was married yesterday.

COUNCIL STRIKE TAX RATE AT 53 MILLS ON THE DOLLAR

Rate Increased Three Mills Over 1927 Chiefly Due to Rise in Counties Rate and Heavy Increase in Town's Share of Local Improvements.

The highest tax rate in the history of Port Hope was struck by the Town Council at a special session at the Town Hall Wednesday evening, at 53 mills on the dollar, an increase of three mills over last year. The increase is chiefly due to a boost of 1-2 mills in the counties' rate and heavy additional expenditure in connection with the local improvements. The meeting was called for eight o'clock and of late the council sessions have been commencing fairly well on time, but Wednesday evening's confab did not start until Big Ben announced 10.20, and the business of the special sitting was transacted in twenty minutes. Press representatives remained within the dim confines of the bleak council chamber for nearly two and a half hours while the council were busy in the clerk's office, behind a locked door, endeavoring to pare down the expenditure. Occasional ominous rumblings were heard to disturb the tranquility of the council chamber together with the weary footsteps of a few knights of the road making application for a night's lodging. Those present at the meeting included Mayor Edmunds, Reeve Giddy, Deputy-Reeve Rosevear and Councilors Mitchell, Brickell, Hewson, Sinnott and Elliott, with Henry Merrifield an absentee. The necessary by-law, to strike a rate, was read a third time and passed and in part is as follows: "That there shall be raised, levied and collected for the year 1928, a tax rate of 53 mills on the dollar, upon the assessed value of all rateable, real property, business assessment and income in Port Hope, and for the public uses of the Municipal Council of said corporation and current expenditure."

It was revealed that the rate, which was increased three mills this year, was chiefly due to a rise in the local improvement expenditure. Last year, Port Hope's share of the local improvements totalled $725.00, but this year the amount was set at $5,843.55, caused by the town's share of the payment of paving and new sewers. The county rate was also raised a mill and a half, and together with the local improvement boost, are uncontrollable by the council.

A resolution was moved by Councilor Mitchell, seconded by Reeve Giddy that the time for the receiving of the first instalment of the taxes be extended to August 1st, 1928, and the resolution passed on June 5th, be rescinded.

Karl Schweickert, Bedford Street, was given permission by the council to erect a cement curb in front of his residence on Bedford Street, but the owner of the property assumes all liability connected thereto.

The chief items tabled in the list of expenditure includes the estimates of the High School at $18,106 Public School $19,500, County rate, $14,665.58, Debenture and coupons, $44,663.14, Street and Bridge Committee, $20,500, Parks $2,500 and Public Library, $1700.

CAMPAIGN GAINS GOOD SUPPORT

Northumberland and Durham Farmers Wage War on Noxious Intruders

Farmers in the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham are credited with evincing considerable interest in the weed control campaign which is being carried on by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. In some localities a real campaign has begun against noxious weeds along the roadsides, both in rural and urban districts, and these are being cut and cleaned out. By this good work it is expected the usual crop of weeds will be considerably diminished before the end of the present year.

MARKING HISTORIC SITES

In commemoration of places, events and names prominent in Canadian history, the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada during 1927 reviewed 100 sites and recommended 20 for commemoration. The Department of the Interior, on the recommendation of the Board, acquired 17 sites and marked 20. Apart from the general maintenance and improvement work on extant monuments, the engineering operations on the new sites included the erection of 13 standard stone cairns with bronze tablets, one granite memorial tablet, two cut stone monuments with tablets, and two boulders with tablets.

Johnny Raid, 13, carried three miles through eight-foot tube of rushing water to save dog at Erie, Pa.; both rescued.

TRAGIC DEATH OF NEWCASTLE MAN

Walker Millson Died From Blood Poisoning Resulting From Tiny Scratch

The funeral of the late Walker Dickinson Millson, was conducted this afternoon from the residence of his son, Lanson E. Millson, Lot 10, Con. 2, Clarke Township, Interment was at Orono Cemetery. Death came to Mr. Millson at the Bowmanville Hospital, on Sunday, June 24th. He was in his 72nd year and was the beloved husband of Eva Bebe. His many friends and acquaintances were shocked to learn of his sudden death from blood poisoning, which developed from a mere scratch which he received on his hand the Monday previous while loading manure into a spreader on the farm of his son, Mr. Lanson Millson. His death is all the more tragic in that Mrs. Millson was in the hospital at the same time, convalescing from blood poisoning which developed from a wound received from a fall in the house. The late Mr. Millson's married daughters came home from Western Canada on learning of the serious condition of their parents. Deceased was a member of Newton Lodge S.O.E.B.S. as it is feared he would expend energy needed for his great effort in the marathon. Bricker is looked upon as one of Canada's outstanding hopes this year.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Good bye, teacher! Good bye school!

The youngsters are out of school and into mischief for two months, now the only anxiety is: "Did I pass?"

Tomorrow afternoon the Hospital birthday party will be held on the Hospital Lawns. The townspeople will all remember the Hospital and come with useful gifts of provisions, linen and other things as well as patronize the afternoon tea.

If you see a small boy trying to walk the clothes line it won't necessarily mean that he is crazy—he's only learning to put on a couple of the stunts he saw at the circus yesterday afternoon. About half of Port Hope seemed to be in Oshawa to swell the crowd.

The circus train passed through here shortly after midnight on its way to Peterboro where they make the spread today.

Peter Simone has the contract for the draining and sewerage work at Millbrook preparatory to paving.

Protests against the establishment of a brewery in Oshawa was made at a special meeting of the Oshawa Ministerial Association. Resolutions are being sent to the chairman of the liquor control board and the Oshawa city council.

Miss Amelia Earheart, William Stultz and Louis Gordon, crew of the transatlantic plane Friendship were in Southampton last night ready to sail for New York on the President Roosevelt.

Mr. and Mrs. William Suggitt of Valenta were surrounded by more than 75 relatives and friends Tuesday when they celebrated the anniversary of their golden wedding.

Miss Gladys Black is holding a little recital for her pupils on Tuesday, July 3rd at 8 o'clock in St Paul's Sunday School Auditorium when Misses Frances Johnson and Marjorie McElroy will assist the younger pupils. There is no admission fee as it is chiefly in the interests of the class to show their attainment to their parents.

"Your presents is respectfully requested at the Hospital Birthday Party tomorrow." When you go you will have a good time and because of the good work done by the institution, you will be glad you went bearing gifts.

If any lingering doubt remained in unbelieving minds that Governor Alfred E. Smith would be chosen as the party's candidate for President of the United States, it should have been removed last night, when the Democratic National Convention engaged in a carnival of unrestrained enthusiasm in the Governor's favor.

Kingston took second place in the C.O.B.L. when they defeated Deloro at Kingston last night by 12 to 7. Belleville leads the league with six wins and three losses while Kingston has won five and lost four.

Britton's home run in the third was the feature of the game. It was the first circuit drive at the Kingston park and the first made by any Kingston player. Ada, who is leading the league in hitting, continued his slugging with three hits.

Kingston won by hammering Shea hard for eight innings, after the Smelters had scored six runs on two hits in the second. Wildness by Smith and Young were responsible for the half dozen counters but after that frame bright fielding pulled the locals out with a win.

CONDUCT SEARCH FOR AMUNDSEN

It was relieved by the Braganza in Northern Spitzbergen.

The newspapers have printed an appeal to the public to subscribe to a fund to equip an expedition to search for Amundsen, and today thousands of kroner were pouring into their offices for the fund. It is planned that this expedition start immediately aboard a Norwegian sealer commanded by an experienced Arctic skipper.

THE GUIDE STORY

CHAPTER VI.

April wondered, when she looked back to those terrible moments, that she had lost her reason. As it was, a sort of daze came over her, and she found that the men in masks who were to have thrown her down into the cellar, had instead carried her to a chair. One of them was holding her own smelling salts to her nostrils.

She had dreamed or swooned; she fancied that she had been flung into the darkness, had died, and that it was her disembodied spirit that lay back painless, and, strange to say, fearless in the chair.

She heard voices; but the men were speaking in Russian, a language she did not understand.

At last a voice—the voice of the man they called the president—addressed her in English:

"Mademoiselle April Vaughan, you were condemned to death, but your life is spared. Remember, though, that the society into which, in your stupid insolence you have ventured to intrude, is one of the most powerful in Europe; its emissaries are everywhere; it possesses a secret police more subtle, more active, and omnipotent than the police of Russia itself. Henceforth, the eyes of one at least of this society will be upon you, and should a word of yours arouse suspicion against us, no matter where you are, or how safe you think yourself, before three days are gone you will have paid the penalty of death. You have seen enough here to know what that means."

Whoever this mystical personage in the mask was, he spoke with a certain nerve-thrilling power that there was no escaping.

April was young and beautiful, and full of hope; life was sweet to her. Hope called to her from the verdant fields of the future. Love himself was surely lurking amid the flowers of promise that bloomed around her footsteps. The mention of death was terrible to her; she shrank and shuddered.

"Do you think you could find your way here again, for instance?" pursued the president.

"I? You do not exact that?" she cried.

"But, yes," was the answer. "You have heard so much—you know that such a band as ours exists in this city of Paris. Well, it is but a branch of one great central federation, a Parliament comprising more members than your English House of Commons six times numbered. In every European city of any size we have our bands, societies, by the dozen or half dozen, as the case may be. We shall be the future rulers of the world; but at present it is war to the knife between us, the liberators of human kind, and all existing institutions.

Hence we deal death to all our enemies, and—we deal it swiftly and surely. You escape because you are not police spies but foolish school-girls. Well—but if you attempt to find us here, or to set the police to find us here, the same day that you or either of you set such a work in motion you will die!"

"I believe you, monsieur," cried Augustine Volney, who had risen to her feet, dried her eyes, and now stood trying to smile a very sickly smile at the terrible master of these fearsome ceremonies. "I quite believe you, but I for one will never attempt to find this street, or any other street, again, as long as I live."

"You, then, understand English?" said the president.

Augustine had answered his English speech in French.

"Yes, I comprehend very well, but speak badly."

"Enough!" The brusque man waved his large hand. "I have no time for hearing your private affairs; I only know that it is a wonder you are not all lying there dead or dying in that cellar, which is a sheer descent from this room of one hundred and twenty feet. See, there are ladders by means of which we descend into the wine cellar from this room to save descending by the entrance staircase, and then down the steep winding stairs to the vault; but you would have been thrown down, you perceive, with no more compunction than if you had been three bundles of straw."

"And—we don't deserve it," sobbed Augustine.

"The question is, are you dangerous to our cause, or are you not?"

"We shall be silent as the grave, monsieur," said April, in her clear English accent.

"Well, I take it that for your own sakes you will be. I think almost your chances of marriage would be damaged were it known what a wild game you have played tonight. If you were my daughters I would have you thrashed until you howled, and you should be kept on bread and water for a week. Ah—ha! So you say to yourself: Thank Heaven, I am not the daughter of this old ruffian, eh?"

"He is an evil spirit; he is a thought-reader," said Augustine to her quaking heart.

All this while the other masked men had been waiting for two of their number who had left the room. Presently the door fell back and the two entered.

April had taken no heed of the forms or the gestures of either of these men. Had she done so, she would have seen that Remus was one of those who had entered.

Oshawa Intermediates Failed to Arrive for Scheduled Game Wednesday

Oshawa intermediates did not put in an appearance at the Town Park Wednesday afternoon for their scheduled tilt with the Port Hope entry in the Oshawa District Intermediate Baseball League and accordingly the game was awarded to Port Hope by default. The Oshawa management should be taken to task for their non-appearance at scheduled games. Last time they were carded for Port Hope they arrived over an hour late and Wednesday's crowd waited until 6.30 as no word had been received from the Oshawa club regarding their non-appearance.

A large half holiday crowd was on hand and the locals intended to field a strong lineup. Bob Chalk, the veteran of many a campaign, was in uniform and was slated for the back stop position.

HEMLOCK IN CANADA

The hemlock in western Canada is found from Nova Scotia westward throughout the St. Lawrence River valley and Ontario to the west end of Lake Superior. For years the hemlock was despised as a lumber tree, and it is only since a scarcity of better timber began to be felt that a market has been developed for its lumber. At present hemlock occupies fourth place as a lumber in Canada, with an average annual cut of about 250,000,000 feet board measure. The eastern hemlock forms approximately 85 per cent of this lumber, and the remainder is cut for the most part from western hemlock.
