FRUIT INSTITUTE ECHOES

The Fruit Institute held in the Port Hope Town Hall on Friday, March 3rd, under the auspices of the Northumberland and Durham Apple Growers' Association and the Port Hope Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture was a marked success. There were afternoon and evening sessions. These special Fruit Institutes are causing a great awakening among the fruit growers of these United Counties. As a result, fruit men are taking a keen interest in the art of successful growing and especially in this true of spraying.

During the afternoon the chair was occupied by Mr. R. L. Holdsworth and Dr. Leslie (but at different times.) H. T. Foster of Burlington spoke on pruning, cultivation and cover crops. In pruning he said it was well to start with the young trees leaving three main limbs as two were apt to split off. He also referred to the necessity of having the trees headed low to facilitate spraying and if possible, have the tree so pruned that the weight of the tree will lean towards the prevailing wind. Cultivation, said Mr. Foster is very essential for the production of good fruit and which cultivation should be shallow and should be carried on till the beginning of July when a cover crop of clover should be sown to check the wood growth of the trees and thus prepare the wood for winter exposures and to protect the roots from the frost.

Prof. J. W. Crow, O.A.C., Guelph, gave a fine address on "Sprays and Spraying." He said it was an advantage to scrape the old rough bark from the trees as the bark acts as a hiding and as a feeding ground for insects. He also said it was absolutely necessary to spray in order that No. 1 fruit might be produced. Mr. Crow stated that each orchard should be sprayed three times each year as follows:—

1. Before the leaf buds burst or on the dormant wood. Use lime-sulphur either commercial or home-made, corresponding to the strength of the commercial diluted 1 gallon to 10 gallons with water. No poison as a rule is necessary. This application kills oyster-shell scale and blister mite, and helps ward off cankers and pear and apple scab.
2. Just before the bloom buds open. Use commercial lime-sulphur diluted 1 to 30 or 35, or Bordeaux mixture (4-4-40) and 2 lbs arsenate of lead to each 40 gallons. This application is to destroy all early feeding caterpillars such as tent-caterpillars, case-bearers, canker worms and bud moths, and to help against apple and pear scab and cankers.
3. Immediately after the blossoms fall. Use the same mixtures as for No. 2, but the lime-sulphur need not be stronger than 1 to 40 nor the Bordeaux than 3-3-40. This application is chiefly to control codling moth and apple and pear scab, but also helps greatly against lesser apple, worm and plum Curculio.

P. J. Carey, Dominion Fruit Inspector, spoke on varieties, packing and marketing. He made reference to the cursed system of lump buying whereby the man with his dirty, scabby, wormy, unsprayed fruit got as high a price for his second and third quality apples as did the man with his cleaned sprayed first quality apples. He said it was indeed poor business. He also made reference to the scarcity of No. 1 fruit in Ontario and said that during the last year not more than 10% could be classed as No. 1 fruit. Mr. Carey attributed the cause to lack of spraying. He said high class fruit could not be produced unless spraying was done. Mr. Carey advised the growers to plant Spy, McIntosh Red and Snow apple trees principally, saying the market was enlarging for these fancy high class apples.

Dr. Leslie presided at the evening meeting. H. F. Foster opened the program with an address on small fruits, paying special attention to strawberries, raspberries and red currants.

J. W. Crow followed with a very interesting talk on co-operation. He briefly outlined some of the work of the Norfolk Co-operative Association. He stated that there were 300 growers in that Association who owned an average of three acres of orchard each. This year 35550 lbs of apples were shipped by that association. The manager of the Association is paid 20c per bbl. for handling. He said there were 107 apple packing gangs with 10 special instructors who aim to supervise the gangs.

Treatment of old orchards by P. J. Carey finished the regular program. He said that spraying, pruning and cultivation were essential to the welfare of an old orchard. He corroborated what Mr. Foster said in the afternoon about pruning and cultivation and also what Prof. Crow said about spraying.

At the conclusion of the program a resolution was moved by G. H. Martyn and seconded by W. E. Walker that a committee of R. S. Duncan, Dr. Leslie, Arthur Runnals and G. H. Martyn be appointed to look into the formation of a Co-operative Fruit Association.

BATH TUBS WHOLESALE

The Ideal Improvements.

Representatives of the Lindsay Post and the Port Hope Guide held the honor and pleasure of witnessing the first operation of the new moulding machine at the Ideal works on Saturday.

The moulding box of a big bath tub was filled with moulding sand in less than half a minute, an operation which would require hard shovelling of two men for half an hour, and the moulding sand rammed solid on the pattern in a few seconds more. A high electric crane picked up the heavy cast iron moulding boxes filled with pattern and sand and scooped off with them as easily as a child would a toy.

The whole operation was under instant signal and control of foreman Pipher, who is greatly pleased with the success of the new machinery which will increase the output of the works many times over.

Death of Mrs. J. A. Aylesworth

Montreal, March 11.—The death of Mrs. J. A. Aylesworth of Newboro' occurred here yesterday from heart failure, at the home of Rev. W. R. Young, 996 Dorchester street. Mrs. Aylesworth was the widow of the late Dr. A. J. Aylesworth of Newboro', and the body will be sent there for interment on Monday morning. Sir Alan Aylesworth, Minister of Justice is a nephew of the deceased.

Mrs. J. A. Ellsworth, after several weeks of severe suffering, passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. (Rev.) W. R. Young, Montreal. Mrs. Ellsworth will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends, not only in Montreal, but all over the country, where she was known. THE GUIDE joins the Port Hope friends in sympathy to Mrs. Young in her great loss.

MEETING OF RAILWAY BOARD.—A meeting of the Dominion Railway Board will be held on Friday, March 24th, in Cobourg. It will take place in either the Court Room or the Council Chamber. The question of the subway in the Township of Hamilton at the Grafton Toll Road will be taken up, and will be one of great importance as a great outcry has been raised against it. It appears to be what is called a "man-tray," and no doubt some action will be taken by the Board, as they will be able to see the subway, and can better judge the matter on the spot than at a distance. A protest was passed at the Town Council on Monday night against the work at the Division Street subway, and that will also come up. It seems to us that the C. N. Railway Company are coming in for hard knocks all around, but it is better to start right, than have to construct extensive works afterwards. — Cobourg Star.

MILLBROOK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Friday night after midnight a fire broke out in Messrs. Walsh & Clarke's store. Dr. Fisher, who has an office across the street, where he sleeps, was the first to see light on his window and gave the alarm. It was the Elliott block where the fire started, occupied by Messrs. Walsh & Clarke and Mr. Chas. Lang, who had a harness and boot and shoe store and shop, and was the heaviest loser, having a large stock on hand. Mr. J. Steele's jewellery shop was badly damaged which is in front of the private residence of Mr. Wm. Carveth, whose building had a narrow escape. It also got into Mr. R. J. Doak's block, doing considerable damage in the upper part and roof.

Mr. J. J. Fair's building across the street on the late Johnston estate, which he purchased and fixed up lately, the front of which was badly scorched with the intense heat which came across the street. Fortunately it was a calm night, or otherwise it might have been a much more disastrous fire. Our firemen who worked will deserve great praise in confining the fire to this one block, which was completely destroyed and very little saved out of it.

VALUABLE HORSE KILLED

On Saturday night Messrs. Rouse and Steeman hired Mr. C. A. Hagerman's black mare Floss (one of the black team) to drive to Cobourg. When crossing the C. N. R. tracks on the Cobourg Road, the horse fell striking on her head which doubled under her, killing her instantly. It is thought her neck was broken. This will be a severe loss to Mr. Hagerman, as Floss was one of his best drivers, and he recently refused $200.00. Mr. Rouse made a settlement with Mr. Hagerman the best he could under the circumstances.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

(Continued from Saturday) If everyone was as well informed of your movements as I, I don't wonder, replied the journalist. 'Since you left Buenos Ayres, I have had two letters, each containing twenty words, which gave me to understand that no answer could by possibility reach you.'

'The word has a less specific meaning, my dear fellow,' replied Earwaker, laughing. 'Only you of all men would have rushed at the wrong one. I mean to say—if your excitement can take in so common a fact—that I have promised to dine with some people at Notting Hill, and mustn't disappoint them.'

'Don't be idiotic,' broke in the other. 'There's a strong feminine element in you, Malkin; that's exactly the kind of talk with which women drive men to frenzy.'

'What the deuce do you mean?' 'In other words of improving the paper, Runcorn is strong on the side of blackguardism. We had a great fight the other day over a leader offered by Kenyon,—a true effusion of the political gutter-snipe. I refused point-blank to let it go in; Runcorn swore that, if I did not, I should go out. I offered to retire that moment. 'We must write for our public,' he bellowed. 'True,'

'Go, it my boy! Go it!' cried Malkin, 'slapping his companion's knee violently. 'Raise the tone! To the devil with mercenary considerations! Help the proletariat out of its grovelling position.'

'But I must see you again. When shall you be home to-night?' 'About half-past eleven, I dare say.'

OBITUARY

MISS CAROLINE DUSTAN After an illness of about three weeks starting with la grippe, and suffering a relapse from which pneumonia and later a general complication of diseases resulted, Miss Caroline Dustan died Wednesday evening.

The deceased was born in Port Hope fifty years ago, and came to Bowmanville with her parents when about ten years old. She entered the employ of Couch, Johnson & Cryderman twenty-eight years ago, and remained with them up to the time she was taken sick.

The death of her father on August 20th last, was the first and her death makes the second break in the family.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her mother, one brother, W. H. Dustan, and three sisters, Miss Susie, at home, Mrs. G. W. Mingay, Tecumseh, Mich., and Mrs. R. H. Knott, of Toronto, who was at the bedside when the end came.

The funeral took place from her late residence, Ontario street, Saturday, March 11.—Bowmanville Review.

KENDAL BUSINESS MAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Harry H. Jennings, a well known business man of Kendal, committed suicide on Monday morning of last week by cutting his throat with a razor. He had been in a poor state of health for some time, and for the past few weeks, his mind being affected, he was under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Alexander, awaiting arrangements for his admission to an asylum.

Early Monday morning after he dressed himself, he was laying quietly on the couch, when suddenly he sprang up grabbed Mr. Alexander's razor from a high shelf, and rushing past Mrs. Alexander, who happened to be at that time alone in the house, ran some distance over a steep embankment towards the swamp, committed the terrible act, then turning ran up the hill again towards the house. The alarm having been given by this time a number had gathered, but nothing could be done. To those standing about Harry said, 'Boys, this is hard, but I couldn't help it.' He died in a few minutes after committing the deed. The remains were interred at Newtonville.

WELCOME FARMERS CLUB

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Welcomes Farmer's Club was held Monday, March 6th, nearly fifty being present, including both our Port Hope representatives of the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Duncan addressed the meeting throwing out many valuable hints on co-operation, spraying as well as several other points of interest after which the subject were dealt with by the following members:

- W. H. Symons—Preparation of Soil. Will Bickle—Seed Grains. Job Dickinson—Seeds, Clovers and Alfalfa.

The next regular meeting will be held March 20th, when a Debate—Mixed versus Specialized Farmery will be taken up by six members. All interested friends are cordially invited.

Ottawa, March 13.—Means to prevent a recurrence of the present typhoid outbreak in Ottawa, with a determination to use every endeavor to have a most rigid enquiry into the causes were debated on Saturday afternoon by local gentlemen headed by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick. They seek a commission appointed by the Ontario Government, which suggestion is now under consideration at Toronto.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT.

Sermon by CHARLES T. RUSSELL, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

More Dead Flies in the Precious Ointment

Pastor Russell Points Out More Deceptive Additions to Word of God.

March 12.—Not long ago I pointed out that the last twelve verses of St. Mark's Gospel in our Common Version are spurious—so recognized by all scholars, because these verses are not to be found in any of the oldest Greek MSS. and were evidently added to the Word of God in the seventh century or later.

Today I invite attention to some other dead flies, some other additions to God's Word, which have had much to do with twisting the theology once delivered to the saints. Take, for instance, the closing words of the Lord's Prayer:

'Thine is the Kingdom and Power and Glory.' These words, if uttered by our Lord, should be found in the old Greek MSS. But they are not found therein. They are, therefore, to be rejected as additions made by people centuries after Matthew's Gospel was written.

In line with this the most important bishop of the time was recognized as Divinely appointed to represent Christ in the world and to reign over the nations in His stead and to bring about the Millennium, etc. This was the Bishop of Rome, who subsequently was styled the Pope and who claimed and was accorded the honorable title, 'Vice-gerent of the Son of God.'

Thus the change came in the general sentiment of the 'Christian world.' Messiah's Kingdom was no longer to be looked for as coming, but was to be recognized as here. The Pope as Messiah's reigning representative, was to be acknowledged. All Kingdoms that were to honor and obey Messiah were commanded to honor and obey the Pope.

The Lord's prayer was already in the Scriptures, and was known to many. It could not be eliminated. But some zealous person, fully believing that God's Kingdom had come, felt justified in amending the prayer to correspond to what he supposed were the facts. Hence the prayer which begins, 'Thy Kingdom come,' is made to end by saying, 'Thy Kingdom has come in its glory and power.'

Although our protesting forefathers broke away from the Pope and denounced him as Anti-Christ and declared that he falsely sat in the place of Christ without authority, they, nevertheless, were imbued with the same error. They did not think to go back to the message of the Scriptures and to look for the Son of God to set up His Kingdom at His Second Advent and then to bless Israel and the world through His glorified Church. Instead they held to the Papal theory that God's Kingdom was set up and was conquering the world, and that thus the Messianic reign mentioned in the prophecy is being fulfilled. They held that Christ himself is the invisible King but that the Pope is not authorized to represent him. Hence this spurious addition to the Word of God is as acceptable to Protestants as to Catholics; indeed more so, if we may judge by the fact that the Catholic Bible omits the spurious words, while the Protestant Bible quotes them.

We here remark that according to Protestant theory Messiah's Kingdom is represented in the civilized nations of the world, especially of Europe. These all claim to reign 'by the grace of God,' in which case, of course, wars and battles between them are conflicts between the various parts of Messiah's Kingdom. And present military preparations on land and sea portend a most sanguinary conflict between these 'kingdoms of this world,' which think themselves and are called by Christendom 'kingdoms of God.'

How glad we are to see the Truth on this subject; that the Kingdom of God's dear Son has not yet been set up, in any sense of the word—that it is still future. It cannot be set up until this Gospel Age ends and the 'elect' saintly few of every nation—Jew and Gentile—shall be changed from earthly to heavenly nature by the First Resurrection, which will qualify them to be 'kings and priests unto God and unto Christ and to reign with Him a thousand years' (Revelation xx, 6).

It is well that all Bible students should mark this 'fly' and extract it from the Precious Ointment, and notice how much sweeter and fresher the Lord's prayer is to them forever. Thomas Paine was an enemy to the Bible and to the Christian religion, but largely so, we believe, on account of his poor understanding of it. And his misunderstanding of the Bible was largely due to the false doctrines handed down from the 'Dark Ages' purporting to be biblical. Who cannot sympathize with the great infidel, Thomas Paine, who, when reading the last verse of St. John's Gospel, exclaimed, 'O, what a whooper!' It reads, 'And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written.' (John xxi, 25).

Surely any one of reasoning mind should see the absurdity of such a statement. Surely all Christian ministers should have informed the Lord's sheep under their care respecting what is and what is not the Word of God, the Bible, as it was recognized by the Apostolic Church and written down in the original Greek manuscripts. Why any Christian minister should assail me because I endeavor to do for the people what he has neglected to do I cannot understand. I must leave it to the Lord to judge between us. I am informed that hundreds of ministers went to the Editors of the papers which publish my sermons weekly and endeavored to have them discontinue their publications.

But the Editors perceive that their readers are no longer under the bondage of the 'Dark Ages,' but have begun to think for themselves, and that many of them are hungering and thirsting for the Truth respecting the Bible—the Christian's spiritual food and drink. To the claim that many read my sermons instead of going to Church the answer is, that Pastor Russell is preaching to the non-church-going ten millions who are in the majority and that it behooves the ministers to provide for their people the spiritual food for which they are famishing, if they would not lose them all.

To the credit of such men as Luther, Calvin, Knox, Zwingle, Wesley and others living prior to our day we must explain that they had no opportunity for knowing of the spurious passages of the Scriptures. They, therefore, have no responsibility such as devolves upon ministers of our day who do, or should, know all about these matters. We cannot on this occasion make further investigation, take out more of these dead flies; but, the Lord willing, at some future time I, John V. T. S., will have our attention. It is worthy of it. It has caused the Ointment to stink and has confused the minds of many of God's dear saints by the way in which the error in this case has been interwoven with the Truth.

My hearers should bear distinctly in mind that what I am here presenting is not at all in line with the presentations of the Higher Critics. Their method is to read through the Scriptures and judge of them by their own keen intellectual powers, and thus to discriminate between which were written by the Prophets credited, and which were additions. Their Higher Criticism claims a keener scent or mental discernment than ordinary mortals enjoy, by which they know these things whether others can see it so or not.

I resent Higher Criticism and accept the Word of God in full. I reject nothing because of my own or other men's surmises, but merely go by the facts. If the oldest Greek MSS. do not contain certain passages of Scripture, how could they get into later MSS. except as spurious additions? Nor should I be considered as fault-finding with our Common Version of the Bible. While it is not without its faults, it has so many excellent qualities and beautiful translations that I prefer it to any other and generally use it. But I must not, I cannot, approve those portions of it which all orthodox scholars admit to be spurious. We must not handle the Word of God deceitfully. If we do we must expect darkness instead of light, confusion instead of harmony.

Just three centuries ago our English Common Version Bible was published. This year its Ter-Centenary is celebrated. It is a grand book. It has done a grand work. The fact that it is not perfect must not condemn a work possessed of so many glorious qualities. It was the result of seven years' labor on the part of forty-seven persons learned in the languages and appointed by King James of England for its preparation. They labored to some disadvantage by reason of the command given them to follow an earlier translation styled, The Bishop's Bible, and to alter it as little as the original would allow. They were also instructed that if the Tyndale, Coverdale, Matthew, Cranmer or Whitchurch translations and the Geneva Editors agreed better with the text, theirs should be accepted as instead of the Bishop's. The translation was, perhaps, the best that could be made at the time.

Published by kingly authority, it is now venerated by English and American Protestants as though it had come direct from the finger of God. This is a mistake. We are to worship God and to reverence His Word and to search as carefully as possible to have the precious Ointment provided by the spirit of the Truth free from all dead flies—mistakes from all human additions and mis-translations and superstitions of the 'Dark Ages.'

The basis for our Common Version was the Latin Vulgate, which was diligently revised and compared with the Greek MSS. of the time. But there were few Greek MSS. known at that time, whereas at the present time there are over 700. Three of these are quite ancient.

(1) The Sinaitic MS., found in a Convent on Mt. Sinai so recently as 1859. This is acknowledged to be the oldest Greek MS. known in the world. Its date is estimated to be about the year 331 A. D. This MS. is now in the possession of the Russian Government at St. Petersburg.

(2) The Vatican MS., 1209, is credited with being next in age. It was found amongst old MSS. in the Vatican Library and is still there and catalogued. The date of its writing is estimated to be about the year 350 A. D.

(3) The third of these oldest known Greek MSS. of the New Testament is styled the Alexandrine, because it was found in Alexandria in Egypt. It is now in the British Museum, where any visitor can behold it in a glass case. It is supposed to have been written about A. D. 450. The readings of all three of these Greek MSS. can be secured and the variations between their readings and our Common Version are so simply arranged as to leave no excuse for ignorance on the part of Bible students. Our Common Version with notations of these MSS. can be obtained through any bookseller.

Prof. Tischendorf, writing respecting these ancient Greek MSS. says: 'To treat such ancient authorities with neglect would be either unwarrantable arrogance or culpable negligence. Indeed, it would be a misunderstanding of Providence if, after all these documents had been preserved through all the dangers of fourteen or fifteen centuries and delivered safe into our hands, we were not ready to receive them with thankfulness as most valuable instruments for the elucidation of Truth.'

The Lord speaks of some who receive not the Truth in the love of it, and tells that they ultimately will be spared by the Adversary. Evidently heart-honesty is one of the most precious elements in the Divine sight. It is not sufficient that we should be Christians in name merely and with form and ceremony. It would not be sufficient in the Lord's sight that we should worship sect or party or even the Bible. It is the Divine Truth that we must reverence next to the Divine person.

It is not sufficient to have Bibles on our centre tables merely, nor sufficient to carry them under our arms. We must 'eat' the Word of God—that is to say, we must, as spiritual children of God, feed upon His message. And this truly implies careful discrimination to discern between God's inspired Revelation and all human additions and admixtures. There is, therefore, a difference between reverencing and loving the Word of God and reverencing and loving a particular translation, errors and all.

Our Master's prayer for all of His true disciples, or footstep followers, was and still is, 'Sanctify them through Thy Truth; Thy Word is Truth.' Whoever would have the sanctifying influence of the Divine Word should so far as possible rid himself of every unsanctifying admixture of human tradition and interpolation. The true sanctification or setting apart of the heart to know and to do the Lord's will could not be content to accept with the sanctifying Truth defiling errors, chaff and nonsense.

If thousands are turning away from the Bible there is a reason. It is not the pure Truth that drives them away, but the foreign admixture and the slanderous misinterpretations handed down to us by our well-meaning but deluded ancestors of several centuries ago. It is high time for all to manifest to God their love of the Truth by spending some of their time in studying it—in learning its precious lessons and in telling forth its 'good tidings of great joy to all people.'

'This one thing now to read the Bible through. Another thing to read, to learn and do: 'This one thing now to read it with delight, And quite another thing to read it right. Some read to prove a pre-adopted creed, Thus understand but little what they read; And every passage in the Book they bend To make it suit that all-important end. Some people read, as I have often thought, To teach the Book, instead of to be taught.'

DISASTER IN MINE

Tracklayers Crushed Under Landslide at Virginia, Minn.

TWENTY-SIX PERSONS DEAD

While Thirty Men Are at Work in Open Pit Workings, Great Bank of Ore Rock and Ice Slides Down Upon Them and Four Are Taken Out Alive - Three of These Will Die From Injuries.

Virginia, Minn., March 13.—Death in the form of 500,000 tons of iron ore, rock, earth, ice and snow, on Saturday night slid down on thirty tracklayers working in the Norman Open Pit Mine. Only four escaped the avalanche, and three of these are in a hospital suffering from injuries that may prove fatal.

Ole Johnson, foreman of one of the three changes of men that were caught by the vast mass, is the only one whose injuries are not critical.

The place that was an open pit is now almost a plain rock, ore and earth, with here and there parts of a body in sight. A few crushed heads protrude from the mass.

Arms and legs could be seen at varying angles as the great lantern of the steam shovels swung over the half-filled pit.

An army of men with shovels worked desperately to recover the bodies. The work was tedious and difficult.

Women and children ran screaming to the pit, and some fell in while looking eagerly for lost friends.

It will be days before all can be recovered, and all parts of some may never be assembled. The mass of rock and earth ground many of them into shreds. The only four men near the outer edge had a chance to run as the landslide swept into the hole.

So far as can be ascertained all the men caught in the slide were Finns and Austrians. Many left large families. Paul Paulson, whose wife died a month ago, left seven children orphans. The little ones formed a group at the edge of the pit on Saturday night.

The miners, who were taking up one of the two tracks in the pit to permit the steam shovel to work in another part of the mine, were for the most part bent over with bars and claws when the avalanche swept down. The great mass struck them to earth. Many were flattened to the bottom of the pit, while a few were carried to the surface by the earth as it rolled over in the pit, much as a furrow is turned by a plowshare.

The four who were thrown clear out of the pit had been working half-way up the side of the excavation. The mine is nearly a mile from the city limits. Women and children filled the road to the mine shortly after the accident occurred.

The catastrophe was novel in the history of the iron mining in this range. Behind and before the pit were thousands of tons of ore rock, earth, snow and ice, and the rapid warming of the atmosphere released the embankment.

The Norman mine employs about 1,000 when running to capacity.

Preferred Death to Mutilation. Chicago, March 13.—Thrown from one train and struck by another, which severed his left leg and arm, Edward Wolf, 17 years old, Saturday night made the instant choice of death as the alternative to life as a helpless cripple.

Fighting off the helplessness induced by his injuries he managed to reach into his pocket with his remaining hand, draw a revolver, and put a bullet through his brain.

The bullet, which made a suicide of Wolf, almost claimed a second life, for it passed completely through the head of the self-slain boy, and hit his traveling companion, William Haines, 18 years old. Haines was struck in the neck and physicians who removed the bullet later found that it had just grazed the jugular vein. Wolf and Haines ran away from home in New York City a month or more ago. They were consumed with an ambition to see the west and traveled on freight and passenger trains as far as Denver. Then they became homesick and turned back.

No Tariff Views. Ottawa, March 13.—Premier Hazen of New Brunswick is in the city to argue a case before the Supreme Court to-day. When asked for an expression of opinion on reciprocity, Mr. Hazen said he had none to express. He further intimated that his Government would not submit to the Provincial Legislature, now in session, any resolution with reference to the subject, though, he added, the Opposition was talking of bringing forward the matter.

"If it does," he said, "we will deal with it; but I would regard such a resolution on their part as bad tactics."

No Montreal Exhibition. Montreal, March 13.—That there will be no exhibition is the opinion of the aldermen who were present at the meeting on Saturday afternoon of the directors of the Industrial Exhibition Commission held in the City Council chamber.

No site so far proposed for an exhibition seems to be good enough on which to hold an exhibition in Montreal, according to the aldermen.

A final decision in the matter was reached on Saturday. Vote was taken on different sites in question, with the result that all were voted down an lost.

Valuable Gift for Art Institute. Chicago, March 13.—Announcement was made on Saturday of the presentation to the Chicago Art Institute of eighteen of the best paintings of Geo. Inness, N.A., the American landscape artist. The presentation was made by Edward B. Butler, a Chicago merchant, and himself a painter of some local reputation. The cost of the collection was a trifle above $150,000.

SEAS SWEEPED OVER HER

S. S. Boston Has Hard Run From Jamaica to Halifax.

Halifax, March 13.—Eleven days out from Jamaica, after battling with a fierce hurricane for over four days, the steamship Boston has put in port with her wheel house gone. Two of her boats badly damaged, doors smashed and part of her railing washed overboard.

The Boston, Captain Holstead, left Jamaica on Sunday, Feb. 26. She arrived at Turk's Island two days later and sailed for Halifax on Wednesday, Feb. 29. On entering the gulf stream she encountered a heavy northeast gale, which increased in velocity until it culminated in a fierce hurricane. The waves swept over the ship fore and aft, and she was compelled to lay to. For eighty-five hours the ship remained there unable to make any progress. Huge seas swept over her, sometimes covering her completely. The wheel house was carried away by a mountainous sea, one lifeboat and a jolly boat, were badly damaged, doors were smashed and part of the railing was carried away. So perilous was her plight and that of those on board that the man who steered had to be lashed to the wheel and the other men wore life belts. The storm became fiercer and fiercer, and the ship was like a toy fighting against great odds. The seas boarded her continuously with terrific force, sending her on her beam ends and carrying almost everything in their path. The cabin filled with water and some of the captain's effects with a quantity of stores were destroyed.

On Friday the storm abated. When the Boston arrived her coal bunkers were empty.

Two Drowned in Credit. Toronto, March 13.—H. A. Brown, a mill owner, 49 years old, and Kenneth South, aged 20, a son of George South, farmer, were drowned at Meadowdale on Friday night while trying to clear a large mass of ice from a dam in the Credit River.

Their object had been to prevent the dam giving way under the crush of ice, but an avalanche created by their efforts swept them over the waterfall.

The two men left for the dam about 5 o'clock, and nothing was known of the accident until their horse came wandering home alone about 6:15.

Friends dragged for their bodies all Friday night, and on Saturday fully two hundred people joined the search party. Matland Aikroyd, the well known body recoverer of this city, went up to Meadowdale Saturday morning to assist the searchers.

Brown was a married man, and leaves a widow and one child. South, who was unmarried, had been working for Brown for a couple of weeks.

Trial of Camorristi. Viterbo, March 13.—Formal proceedings began on Saturday in the trial of thirty-six members of the Neapolitan Camorra, including the alleged head of the organization, Enrica Alfano, also known as "Erionce," for the murder of Gennaro Caccolo, "the beautiful Sorrentina."

For the first time in Italy two presidents of the court were appointed to direct the trial, so that if one should unavoidably be absent the other might take his place. Most of the day was given over to the selection of a jury, but notwithstanding the threats of the presiding judge to apply the severest fines against citizens offering pretenses for not serving on the jury, almost unsurmountable difficulties arose at the last moment, and the trial was postponed until Tuesday.

Will Cost Two Millions. Halifax, March 13.—The Railway Commission was here Saturday to meet the Halifax Board of Trade and discuss plans for a new terminal. Mr. Kennedy, engineer of Montreal harbor, was present with the plans he has prepared.

Mr. Campbell, chairman of the Railway Board, told the Canadian press that the board would recommend to Parliament that the terminals as per Mr. Kennedy's plans, perhaps slightly modified to meet Halifax requirements be built. He estimates that the total cost would be from one million and a half to two million dollars.

WANT ARBITRATION

Hotelmen Would Have Their Finances Looked Into.

THEY ASK A YEAR'S DELAY

Deputation of Toronto Hotelkeepers Wait on Premier Whitney to Protest Against Proposed Tax on Bars—They Declare That Profits Are Badly Cut Into - Mr. Hanna Urges Unearned Increment.

Toronto, March 13.—The substance of the hotelmen's interview with the local Cabinet was made known last evening in an interview with W. C. Martin, secretary of the Hotelmen's Association of Toronto, who was one of the spokesmen on that occasion.

"The press were denied access to the meeting," said Mr. Martin, "and this fact was called to the attention of the Cabinet Ministers in comparison with the manner in which the temperance delegations have been received when every significant utterance was emblazoned broadcast. The result is that the public, and our opponents are very much in the dark, except as to one side of the question. I can say this, however, that we were very courteously received and the Government evinced a very great interest in our arguments."

The hotelkeepers asked the Government to defer action for a year regarding the proposed bill to place a tax of 5 per cent. upon all bar receipts over $40 a day. In the meantime they asked that an arbitration board be appointed at the expense of the "trade" to go fully into the facts and position of the trade and arrive at a fair basis of taxation on net profits instead of gross income. They also asked that any tax on cigars or soft drinks be not put in the bill, because other business men do not pay such a tax on soft drinks and cigars.

A vigorous protest that the license holders were being grossly discriminated against, was made.

"The Ministers desired data," said Mr. Martin "and we told them that the license returns to the Government show that in Hamilton and Ottawa the tax on $40 receipts at license fee of $700 is 5.23 per cent.; in Berlin license fee $500 it is 4 per cent.; Barrie license fee $450 tax 3.55 per cent.; towns of 2,000 to 5,000, 2.3-4 per cent., and villages 2 per cent.; townships 1 per cent., while in Toronto the tax rate on the first $40 of business is 13 per cent. The province outside of Toronto pays an average of between 3 and 4 per cent., and is the highest in Canada. The gross profits are the same all over the province, while the gross charge here is very much higher, as wages, rent, taxes and food are very much dearer than outside."

Mr. Hanna argued that the tax might be construed as an offset to "unearned increment"—the great advance in the prices reported to be paid upon every license that is sold or transferred.

Not in Any Sense Official. Ottawa, March 13.—Some misapprehension has arisen with respect to a supposed invitation to members of Parliament to attend the coronation. No official invitation has been extended by the British Government to any members of the Canadian Parliament, as has been intimated on this side of the Atlantic. It is true, however, that a self-constituted committee of the British House of Commons sent messages proffering hospitality to eighteen members of the Canadian Parliament. This was not in any sense an official invitation. An informal selection of eighteen members of the Senate and House of Commons has been made without distinction to party, and they have been invited to the gentlemen of the British House of Commons who sent the message.

There will be no official representatives of the Canadian Parliament. The only official representatives of the Cabinet will be the members of the Cabinet who have received official invitations.

A Brave Woman. Montreal, March 13.—After she has been shot in the head by F. Manpeo, an Italian, Mrs. Antonio Francisco captured the man who made the attempt on her life and turned him over to Constable Lacombe last night.

Manpeo is said to have entered Mrs. Francisco's home with a boy about 9 years of age, thought to be his brother. When he got inside the door he drew a revolver from his coat pocket, and pointing it at Mrs. Francisco, pulled the trigger. The bullet cut a furrow in the left side of the woman's head and buried itself in the wall behind her.

When he opened the door to escape Mrs. Francisco pounced upon him and pinned him against the side of the door until the constable arrived.

Passing of Leading Methodist Scholar. Montreal, March 13.—Rev. Wm. I. Shaw, D.D., principal of the Wesleyan Theological College, and for many years chairman of the board of Protestant school commissioners, from which he retired a few weeks ago, on account of ill-health, died at noon yesterday. He was born in Kingston, Ont., on April 6, 1841. Studying first for the legal profession, he abandoned that design and entered the ministry in 1864 and was ordained four years later. In 1894 he was called to succeed Principal Douglas in the Montreal institution.

Landslide From Vesuvius. Naples, March 13.—A severe earthquake accompanied by strong detonations from Mount Vesuvius, occurred last evening. Investigations showed that a great landslide had dropped from the upper part of the crater. It is estimated that it measured 1,000 by 250 feet, and when it fell it caused enormous clouds of smoke. The funicular railway was badly damaged. A party of tourists were about to ascend by the railway when the shock occurred.

PLUCKY BANK CLERK.

Masked Men Overpower C. R. Weaver of Wyoming, Ont.

Wyoming, Ont., March 13.—When C. R. Weaver, teller of the Bank of Toronto here, stepped into his room over the bank at an early hour yesterday morning, on his return from an evening party, he was called upon to throw up his hands.

Weaver jumped at the man, wrenching his revolver from him, and after a vigorous wrestling bout, he succeeded in throwing him on his head.

A companion of the hold-up man then sprang to the assistance of his companion and they were able to overpower the teller. After vainly endeavoring to secure from Weaver the number of the combination to the bank vault, the robbers proceeded to bind and gag him. They then descended to the bank below.

After several minutes of struggling Weaver succeeded in getting himself free, and securing his revolver he at once opened fire through an opening in the floor of his room, which is directing above the front of the safe. After firing a shot in return, which narrowly missed Weaver, the would-be robbers fled.

Weaver fired three shots in all, and is almost certain that one took effect and wounded one of his assailants.

A small office safe was found open, but nothing was taken.

Separate Crowning as Emperor. London, March 13.—King George is now seen daily in Rotten Row centering with equestrian. He needs the bracing air, for he is overwhelmed with the details of various ceremonial of what must be the busiest year of his reign. The precedents of the last coronation are followed closely, except the minor points, like the substitution of girls for boys as the Queen's train bearers, but a series of new questions have been raised for the Delhi ceremonial and the investiture of the Prince of Wales at Carnarvon, since tradition and recent practice do not cover them. Lord Curzon and other viceroys have been consulted respecting the Delhi function, and the decision has been reached that it must not be treated as a re-crowning of the King, already consecrated at Westminster Abbey, but as a separate crowning as Emperor of India.

A thousand novel details connected with regalia and costume and oriental pageantry need to be determined. The prince's investiture is almost equally as difficult, owing to Welsh sensitiveness.

The Duke of Connaught, who is the King's closest adviser, has decided not to accept another military command. He may become Viceroy of India after serving a short term at Ottawa.

Count Tolstai Arrives. New York, March 13.—The international floating hotel Mauretania brought many interesting passengers to port yesterday morning. Nearly all assembled in the brilliant illuminated lounge Thursday evening and listened to an address by Count Leo Tolstai, third son of the late Russian philosopher.

The count is forty-two years old, of medium height, with brown beard, long face, mild eyes, and teeth that gleam. He is a sculptor. He is deeply interested in social subjects and reform in educational methods. In Paris he has been two years studying with Rodin, the sculptor.

The speaker produced two busts of his father which he had fashioned, one in plaster and the other in bronze. The audience noted the likeness of the busts to the young count. He said he had been his father's intimate and co-worker in writing, editing and teaching, and enjoyed his father's entire confidence.

The son attributed his father's erratic conduct during the last days to the influence of Lord Radstock, an English evangelist, under whose spell the elder count had fallen.

Burned to Death. New York, March 13.—An oil-fed fire sped 350 feet stop a long frame structure to a fleet of tugs and barges at the Standard Oil piers in Brooklyn Saturday night, caught the tug Protector in its sweep before the vessel could hurry away, and burned to death Edward Brown, the captain. His three companions leaped to floating craft nearby and escaped. Half a million gallons of oil were consumed by the flames, which also licked up a barge, tug and a group of small frame buildings around the plant.

The blaze originated in the filling room of the Pratt Oil Co., a subsidiary of the Standard, and ripped its way through the building with a series of explosions as 100,000 five-gallon cans of oil went up. Four alarms were turned in, the firemen fought for three hours before bringing the fire under control. The estimated loss is $100,000.

Issues New Publication. Ottawa, March 13.—A new publication of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is a monthly bulletin called The Publications of the International Agricultural Institute. It undertakes to re-publish or summarize the most important articles which appear in the three monthly publications of the institute, viz., the bulletin of agriculture statistics, the bulletin of the bureau of economics and social intelligence (agricultural organization, co-operation, etc.), and the bulletin of agricultural intelligence and plant diseases.

Big Express Strike On. New York, March 13.—The strike of express company employes, which has been threatened for several days past, materialized yesterday with the failure of practically all the drivers and helpers in the employ of the Adams Express Co. in the city to report for work.

Fatal Slide in Panama Canal. Colon, March 13.—There was a big slide of earth at the north end of the Canal Lock of the Panama Canal on Friday night. The mass buried a steam shovel and caught a gang of workmen, killing two Spaniards and an Italian, and injuring several others.
