fetters the higher spiritual and intellectual life, must prove it. Commensurate with an increase of wealth, the spread of the spirit of gain, the diffusion of property and the growth of its value, there are perceptible not only a vast enlargement of creature comforts, but a deeper spiritual life and broader intellectual horizon, a profounder sympathy, keener appreciation and more liberal patronage of the fine arts.

There is probably something more picturesque and even poetic in the tramp of the Crusaders across Europe, than the passage of a modern freight train from Vancouver to Montreal. The songs of the old minstrels of England had a more tuneful note than the fog horn of an ocean liner, but who wants to set the obsolete century-old idea of holding to traditions against the march of modern ideas? What has been said of Merrie England, its whistling plough boys and warbling milk maids, when modern railways did not disfigure the landscape nor modern factories befoul the air with smoke, may be said with some modification of our own country, and even our towns.

In England, previous to the introduction of machinery and extensive manufacturing, the people lived in abject poverty. Clean shirts were almost an unknown luxury. The death rate was double that of to-day and men were old at forty. The people were as degraded mentally and morally, as physically. The majority of the members of Parliament could neither read nor write. Religion consisted in reciting the catechism, or in ecstatic visions. Sixty years ago, if we are to believe its great orators and historians, the whole of the laborers in the agricultural district of England were on the verge of starvation. If it is different to-day, have not the manufacturing towns caused the difference? Certainly we cannot attribute the change to the presence of old abbeys, ruins historic battle fields or scenic beauties.

By becoming a mere manufacturing town we are not going backward. The mill that turns out produces no waste. All progress means turning the limelight on the unworthy. Action discovers the lame mule.

In conclusion let me say that the Chinaman has decided to get along without his cue in the future. China has many old schools, palaces, walls and memories, but she has produced no Carnegies, Peabodys, Coopers, Tyndalls, Darwins, De Lesseps, Siemens, Bessemers, Strathconas. Is it necessary to ask why?

COINS WITHOUT CROWN.—The new dies from which Canadian coins will be milled at the mint on Sussex street, have arrived from the old country, and will shortly replace those in use at present. When the new coins are turned out, they will show the head of King George, but without a crown, as the King of Great Britain has yet to undergo his coronation. At present the mint is turning out the new imperial sovereign, bearing the head of King George. The only distinguished mark to show that it is made here, is a small "C." The new sovereigns are already in circulation.—Ottawa Free Press.

A SHORT SIGHTED BUSINESS IN CAVAN

To the Editor of the Millbrook Reporter.

It is with deep concern for our picturesque township that I presume to raise a protest against the wholesale slaughter of our beautiful shade trees. That a great injury—so great as to be irreparable in the present generation,—is being done must be apparent to all who see and think. Our Western friends come home, and what do they first and most admire and exclaim about? Is it the crops, the weather, the abundance of fruit, the long settled and comfortable farm homes? No, no, none of these, but—the trees. We hear a lot about the great West, and occasionally some honest soul whispers that among the advantages it has grave disadvantages and first among these comes the absence of trees. And yet we will not be warned, but are trying to get rid of ours as quickly as possible.

This is bringing about many detrimental changes, noticeable to all who care to think back, not twenty-five years, but even five for instance, the great lessening in number of our song birds, of such incalculable value to the farmer; the atmosphere changes which are fast rendering our climate and our crops difficult to say the least; the diminishing in size and number of our small streams, these and many more changes are being steadily wrought to say nothing of the destruction to beauty and comfort.

Now, Mr. Editor, don't you think it is time for a change? Have we enough public spirited men in the township, who, looking upon the trees, can see something besides feet of lumber or cords of wood? It really seems to me that our Township Council could do considerable to prevent, or at least lessen the evil. They could at least protect the trees upon the public highways. We hear indignant protests on all sides in this matter, but so far, there it has ended and the devastation goes on. If I could but make and enforce a law I would have it so that no man could cut down or sell to another any tree beyond a certain size, unless it were doing serious damage to himself or another, and that for every tree cut down he should plant one somewhere in its stead. Furthermore, I would have so heavy a fine attached that violations of the above would afford a neat sum to enforce the act and pay for the setting out of many trees where trees have already been ruthlessly destroyed, or might to advantage be grown. Then our children's children might "rise up and call us blessed," instead of cursing the fate that will be theirs, because their forefathers were so short-sighted a people.

Yours in the interests of the common weal.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

'Well, after that we at once saw a good deal of each other. He has been working for years at a chemical factory down on the river; Moxey used to be there, and got him the place.'

'Moxey?—Oh yes, the man you dined with. You must remember that these are new names to me. I must know all these new people, I say. You don't mind?'

'You shall be presented to the whole multitude as soon as you like. Peak wants to see you. He thinks of an excursion like this last one of yours.'

'He does? By jove, we'll go together! I have always wanted a travelling companion. We'll start as soon as ever he likes!—well, in a month or two. I must just have time to look round. Oh, I haven't done with the tropics yet! I must tell him of a rattling good insect-powder I have invented; I think of patenting it. I say, how does one get a patent? Quite a simple matter, I suppose?'

'Oh, always has been. The simplest and least worrying of all business enterprises.'

'What? Eh? That smile of yours means mischief.'

In a quarter of an hour they had got back to the subject of Peak's history.

'And did he really run away because of the eating-house?' Malkin inquired.

'I shall never venture to ask, and it's not very likely he will admit it. It was sometime before he cared to talk much of Whitelaw.'

'But what is he doing? You used to think he would come out strong, didn't you? Has he written anything?'

'A few things in The Liberator, five or six years ago.'

'What, the atheistic paper?'

'Yes. But he's ashamed of it now. That belongs to a bygone stage of development.'

'Turned orthodox?'

'Earwaker laughed.

'I only mean that he is ashamed of the connection with street-corner rationalism.'

'Quite right. Devilish low, that kind of thing. But I went in for it myself once. Did I ever tell you that I debated with a parson on Mile-end Waste? Fact! That was in my hot-headed days. A crowd of costermongers applauded me in the most flattering way.—I say, Earwaker, you haven't any whisky?'

'Forgive me; your conversation makes me forget hospitality. Shall I make hot water? I have a spirit-kettle.'

'Cold for me. I get in such a deuced perspiration when I begin to talk.—Try this tobacco; the last of half a hundred-weight I took in at Bahia.'

The traveller refreshed himself with a full tumbler, and resumed the conversation cheerily.

'Has he just been wasting his time, then, all these years?'

'He goes in for science—laboratory work, evolutionary speculations. Of course I can't judge his progress in such matters; but Moxey, a clever man in the same line, thinks very highly of him.'

'Just the fellow to travel with. I want to get hold of some solid scientific ideas, but I haven't the patience to work steadily. A confounded fault of mine, you know, Earwaker,—want of patience. You must have noticed it?'

'Oh—well, now and then, perhaps.'

'Yes, yes; but of course I know myself better. And now tell me about Moxey. A married man, of course?'

'No, lives with a sister.'

'Unmarried sister?—Brains?'

'Pretty well supplied with that commodity.'

'You must introduce me to her. I do like women with brains.—Orthodox or enlightened?'

'Bitterly enlightened.'

'Really? Magnificent! Oh, I must know her. Nothing like an emancipated woman! How any man can marry the ordinary female passes my understanding. What do you think?'

'My opinions are in suspense; not yet precipitated, as Peak might say.'

'One o'clock sounded from neighbouring churches, but Malkin was wide awake as ever. He entered upon a detailed narrative of his travels, delightful to listen to, so oddly blended were the strains of conscious and unconscious humour which marked his personality. Two o'clock; three o'clock;—he would have talked till breakfast-time, but at last Earwaker declared that the hour had come for sleep. As Malkin had taken a room at the Inns of Court Hotel, it was easy for him to repair to his quarters. The last his friend heard of him was an unexplained laugh, echoing far down the staircase.

NEW LINE PLANNED

It May Be Eastern Link For the Canadian Northern.

FROM QUEBEC TO THE SEA

Thomas Malcolm, Who Holds the Quebec-New Brunswick Charter, is Said to Be Contemplating the Construction of a Complete System to Halifax and St. John, N.B.—Would Go to the C. N. R.

Montreal, March 18.—It is apparent that still another railway is to be built from Quebec to St. John and Halifax, and the statement is made that if the people of the lower provinces persist in keeping the I.C.R. under Government control that the new line will be handed over to the Canadian Northern as constituting their Atlantic section.

It was announced the other day that Mr. Thomas Malcolm, who has just completed the International from Campbellton to St. Leonards on the St. John River, would build the river railway from Grand Falls to St. John and over country to Moncton from Fredericton.

It appears, however, that Mr. Malcolm, who owns the Quebec and New Brunswick charter, has a more formidable project on hand, and will construct the Quebec and New Brunswick line as part of the system. By this route the distance from Quebec to St. Leonards, on the St. John, is 174 miles, from St. Leonards to Grand Falls, 12 miles, from Grand Falls to Woodstock, 74 miles, and from Woodstock to Fredericton, 63 miles, and from Fredericton to St. John, 80 miles, or 402 in all.

Then it is proposed in order to form an alternate route through to Halifax to run across country from Fredericton to Moncton and on to Halifax.

Sudbury Link.

Montreal, March 18.—The official announcement was made for the first time here yesterday as to the probable date of the opening of the Canadian Northern Railway from ocean to ocean. Mr. D. B. Hanna, en route for Quebec, stated that the several links would be hitched up by the fall of 1914, and the third vice-president also confirmed the statement to the effect that the five hundred-mile stretch from Sudbury to Port Arthur will be built in two years' time.

Mr. Hanna likewise expects that by that time there will be no less than six trains daily running from Montreal and Toronto to the Pacific Coast, two to be operated by the C.P.R., two by the Grand Trunk Pacific and two by the Canadian Northern. He also wants to know why, if Canada can give business enough for six daily transcontinental trains, why can she not support at least a daily steamer from Great Britain to the Canadian ports? This is what he says will happen, and travelers from Bristol to Halifax will only pass four nights on shipboard.

'There is no room for knockers here in Canada,' said the third vice-president in conclusion, 'and there is also room for three great railways.'

Camorra Trial.

Viterbo, Italy, March 18.—The entire session of the trial of the 36 Camorristas was taken up yesterday by the cross-examination of Corrado Sorino and Nicola Morra, both of whom are accused of the actual murder of Gennaro Cuccolo. Both men strenuously denied the charge, and in an endeavor to prove an alibi testified that at the time Cuccolo was killed they were under police surveillance and could not possibly have left Naples to go to Lorr-del Greco, where the murder occurred.

Sorino attempted to justify the scars on his hand, which, according to evidence adduced, were received from Cuccolo, while Sorino was killing him, by saying that one of them was caused by a pair of scissors and the other by the scratch of a hat pin. Both Sorino and Morra have had criminal records.

Earnings of U. S. Steel.

New York, March 18.—The annual pamphlet report of the United States Steel Corporation for the year ended Dec. 31, 1910, issued yesterday, shows a volume of business done by all the subsidiary companies during that period of $703,951,424, compared with $646,382,251 in 1909.

STUDHOLME WITH LIBERALS

Labor Member of Legislature Votes Against the Government In Division on Hon. A. G. MacKay's Amendment to Reciprocity Resolution—Premier Compares Profits to Farmer and Cost to Canada.

Toronto, March 18.—Ringing cheers for the King and a demonstration of loyalty unexampled in the history of the Ontario Legislature formed the climax to the reciprocity debate.

The galleries were crowded with spectators when the House opened yesterday afternoon, and the preliminaries on the order paper were made short work of. When the Prime Minister rose to close the discussion, by a reply to Thursday's lengthy address of the leader of the Opposition, expectancy was keyed up to a high pitch. Prolonged applause came from the Government supporters, and their chief proved his prowess by a vigorous address.

The anti-reciprocity resolution of the Premier was carried on a straight party division, Allan Studholme, the Labor member, voting with the Opposition. Hon. A. G. MacKay's amendment was first defeated by 75 to 17, and the resolution carried by 74 to 17. Hon. I. B. Lucas was absent when the later division occurred.

"It is my purpose this afternoon," said the Premier, "to make some observations on the subject before this House and some observations in relation to certain statements in the amendment, the like of which were never before seen in this House."

"My hon. friend, the leader of the Opposition, spoke yesterday for an hour and a half; read a compilation of mixed statistics, the truthfulness of which is not in question; and gave a wicked compilation of quotations respecting the attitude of a prominent Canadian statesman of the past."

"The remarkable feature of the addresses on this subject from the other side of the House is that all the speakers, from the whip down to the leader, have dwelt on the mere sordid dollar. They have not discussed the question of the effect on the Empire, but have only discussed the very slight higher price paid in Buffalo for hogs and lambs."

"I was struck with the circumstance that the member for West Huron stated that Mr. Taft was not the tempter. The tempter was the market in Buffalo. He contrasted Toronto and Buffalo, but did not mention the wider difference between the prices in Buffalo and Chicago and Omaha."

"The amendment suggests that the loyalty of Canada is a purchasable property."

There has been no direct attempt to answer the statements of Mr. Taft, J. J. Hill, Champ Clark and Senator Beveridge that reciprocity will draw Canada towards the United States. The only effect, according to the Opposition leader's speech, will be two cents more a pound for lamb and $1 per cwt. more for hogs.

The serious effect would be that it would separate our east from our west. That just as we have fastened the hooks of commercial activity on all parts of Canada, that as Canadians have just stepped out on the mountain of nationhood, the tempter appears and the Dominion is asked to step aside and abandon her nationality. The American politicians do not expect immediate annexation, but their whole idea is to gradually lead the people of Canada towards annexation.

A scene of inspiring patriotism was the sequel. Differences of resolution and amendment appeared to become forgotten. Capt. Machin, Kenora, led off by starting the "Maple Leaf." Alex. Muir's matchless Canadian anthem was rendered with impressive force and vigor by the hundred sturdy legislators, irrespective of party. The chorus of "Rule Britannia" followed, and instinctively every person present rose in every part of the House, including all the galleries, and "God Save the King," attested by its volume and ring that the Ontario Legislature is British to the core.

Cheers for the King scarcely sufficed to give full vent to the enthusiasm of the inspiring moment.

The division was on strict party lines, except that Allan Studholme, who usually votes with the Government, voted for the amendment.

Gets Ten Years.

Chicago, March 18.—Judge Landis in the U. S. District Court yesterday sentenced Edward S. Nichols, who was convicted of having enticed Elsie Ferrer, 13 years old, to Hammond, Ind., in violation of the Mann "White Slave" statute, to ten years imprisonment in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

While the court was reading sentence, secret service operatives of the department of justice were arresting Jacob Finklestein on the charge of having placed his young wife in improper places in El Paso, in Mexico, and in California, and of abandoning her thereafter, taking $5,000 of her earnings to purchase a saloon property.

Let Colonies Send Members.

London, March 18.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Irish Times says: "If it is really desired to introduce fresh blood into the Upper House and at the same time justify the title of an Imperial Parliament, we see no better way than by giving considerable representation to the great dominions."

Just Like Uncle Sam.

St. Petersburg, March 18.—Large bodies of Russian troops en route for China are concentrated at Sharkent, about sixty miles west of Kujia. An official communication announcing the movement of the troops euphemistically describes it as "a test of mobilization."

ARBITRATION ONLY.

Sir Edward Grey Does Not Propose an Armed Alliance.

London, March 18.—Sir Edward Grey further developed his views on arbitration at the annual banquet last night of the International Arbitration League, and corrected some misapprehensions which had arisen regarding his now famous speech in the House of Commons, in which he gave support to the suggestion of President Taft for an Anglo-American treaty providing for the settlement by arbitration of any question that might arise between the two Governments.

"I observe," said the Foreign Secretary last evening, "that some of the words I used the other day are being construed as if a general arbitration treaty between these two great nations would be tantamount to a defensive alliance between them. If a general arbitration treaty were made between two great nations and became firmly rooted in the feelings of both countries, and if one of them was in the course of time made the object of an attack in a dispute with a third power, in which arbitration had been offered to and refused by the third power, certainly, I think, there would be a strong sympathy between the two powers who had made the general arbitration treaty. But that is a matter which depends upon public opinion, and in which opinion will take care of itself.

"To introduce any such condition or stipulation into an arbitration treaty would impair the chances of it here or elsewhere. It might even lead other countries to suppose that the arbitration treaty between the two powers was directed against one or more of those powers. That would completely spoil its possible effect in mitigating the general expenditure on armaments."

"If an arbitration treaty is made between two countries on the lines sketched out as possible by the President of the United States, let it be done between the two powers concerned without 'arrière pensees' (by-purpose), but don't let them set narrow bounds to their hopes of the beneficial results which may develop from it in the course of time—results which, I think, must extend far beyond the two countries originally concerned."

Compromise on License.

Brockville, March 18.—A new situation has been created in the license district of Leeds by a ruling of Eudo Saunders, chief of the department. A year ago a Robert Service of Rockport applied for a yearly license, which was opposed by the temperance people of Scotland, and as a compromise the board granted him a six months' license for wine and beer. This year the temperance people raised the point that to obtain a six months' license it required a requisition signed by a majority of the votes in the polling sub-division, the same as for a yearly license. The matter was referred to the department by Inspector Tabber, with the result that the contention of the temperance people holds good. The ruling affects three other hotels in the district.

Libel Suit Against Paper.

Montreal, March 18.—Silas Carpenter, chief of the city detective department, through his attorneys, Leaudin, Loranger & St. Germain, took out a $5,000 libel action against Peter Pigeon, proprietor of Le Bulletin, yesterday morning, in Superior Court.

The chief alleges that Le Bulletin made an attack on his department, particularly as to how they handled pickpockets and sent them into the United States. These attacks, which have appeared in the paper for several Sundays back, also state, it is alleged, that Chief Carpenter conspired against Chief Campeau of the police department, in the working of the department.

Explosion Caused Fire.

Barrie, March 18.—An explosion in the cellar of J. R. Hamby's hardware store Thursday afternoon was responsible for a $17,000 fire.

V. Hamby, nephew of the proprietor, was very badly burned about the head by the explosion.

The loss to stock is estimated at $15,000, on which there is $9,000 insurance. The damage to the building, which is owned by Mrs. James Plummer, Toronto, amounted to about $2,500, and is fully covered by insurance.

Liner Burned.

London, March 18.—The Furness Line freight steamer North Point, which sailed yesterday morning for Philadelphia, was destroyed by fire in the Thames two hours after she left her wharf. The crew of forty were taken off in safety, after the vessel had been beached. She carried no passengers.

Conservative Candidates.

Essex, March 18.—By a unanimous vote the Liberal-Conservatives of South Essex yesterday nominated Dr. Fred. Park of Amherstburg for the House of Commons, and Dr. C. N. Anderson of Leamington for the Legislature.

CALLS NEELY LIAR

Glen Campbell Becomes Obstreperous in Commons.

FORCED TO WITHDRAW

He Takes Offense at Dr. Neely Quoting a Passage From a Speech Made in the West and Repeatedly Hurts the Epithet "Liar" at Fellow Member—Peace is Finally Secured by Speaker.

Ottawa, March 18.—While the estimates of the Department of Interior came under consideration shortly before supper recess, a melee arose between Glen Campbell (Dauphin) and Dr. Neely (Humboldt). There was a discussion over certain alleged discrimination against homesteaders who were known to be Conservatives. Dr. Neely stated that no discrimination was made on political lines, and if there was, the Minister of the Interior would make an investigation.

In response to Conservative jeers, Dr. Neely said: "It is known that my hon. friend (Mr. Campbell) has taken steps himself, on certain occasions, to lead even officials to do what was not in the best interests of the country."

"My hon. friend is a liar, absolutely a liar," said Glen Campbell. There were cheers and cries of "Order."

"It will be necessary for my hon. friends to withdraw those words," said the Deputy Speaker.

"I called him a liar and I refuse to take it back!" Dr. Neely shifted in his seat nervously.

The Speaker insisted on considering the point of order he had raised.

"He had better talk of his honesty," said Mr. Campbell. "Where is the capital of Saskatchewan? What does it cost to vote for it?"

"The member for Dauphin will realize that he has spoken hastily, and also that his words are not Parliamentary. I think that will be sufficient to cause him to withdraw them," said the Deputy Speaker.

Col. Sam Hughes here raised a second point of order with regard to Dr. Neely, saying that he did concerning Mr. Campbell. "It is his place first to withdraw his declaration."

"What I said goes, he is absolutely a liar, but if it is not Parliamentary, I take the word back. But he is absolutely a liar," called out the member for Dauphin.

The Deputy Speaker: "Such a breach of order must be—"

Here the House got into a tremendous uproar. "I will not take a word back. He is a liar, first, last and all the time," said Mr. Campbell, while half a dozen members tried to speak.

The Deputy Speaker: "Inasmuch as the hon. member has refused to withdraw, it will be my duty to report the matter to the House, for such action as it deems proper and desirable."

"It is a hard task, Mr. Chairman, to withdraw something that is absolutely true," asserted Mr. Campbell. More cries of "Order."

After further discussion Mr. Campbell withdrew the expression "At your order, Mr. Chairman."

Dr. Schaffner (Souris): "Now you had better make that man withdraw."

Col. Hughes then raised the point of the propriety of Dr. Neely's remark, that the member for Dauphin had sought to induce the officer of the crown to perform an illegal act. The Speaker did not think the expression was unparliamentary.

Dr. Neely denied using such words, and when interrupted by Col. Hughes, said he would give him an opportunity to speak, adding: "I am not cowardly enough to make insinuations."

"Why don't you call him to order," said Dr. Reid (Greenville), but the chairman said he had not heard the word.

Dr. Neely, in explaining his assertion, said that he meant to convey that the member for Dauphin had "made the admission or statement—"

"That is absolutely false," broke in Mr. Campbell.

"That in connection with a certain transaction, a firm with which my hon. friend was identified, that it cost that firm a certain amount of money in order to induce an official of the department to obtain this grazing lease." He added that he had a report of a speech of Mr. Campbell in which that statement was made.

Mr. Campbell denied this and after a couple more wrangles both members made withdrawals satisfactory to the Deputy Speaker.

Friday is a clearing up day in the House. On the motion to go into supply yesterday afternoon, A. C. Boyes (W. Algoma), directed the attention of the Minister of Labor to a disturbance among electricians employed by the Lake Superior Corporation, who had resented the dismissal of their foreman. This was the culmination of a long series of grievances due to the fact that the alien labor law had been laxly administered, and hundreds of men had been imported from the United States at Sault Ste. Marie. The Canadian workmen resented this, because they felt their living was in jeopardy.

Hon. Mackenzie King stated that the Labor Department was not charged with the enforcement of the law, except in regard to contract labor. Otherwise it was in the hands of the Interior Department to see to its enforcement. He said that the Department had been in receipt of complaints from the Lake Superior Corporation that the immigration officers at Sault Ste. Marie were too active in this regard.

W. M. Martin (Regina) read a telegram from the Association of Saskatchewan Municipalities in session at Moose Jaw, which stated that the reciprocity agreement had been unanimously endorsed by two hundred delegates present. Mr. Martin added: "So far I have not met a single man in the province of Saskatchewan who is against reciprocity."

Sam Barker (Hamilton) read a communication which stated that quarantine conditions in Goose Isle were in a deplorable condition. With the outbreak of cholera there was danger of persons infected getting into Canada. He thought the Government might save some of the money now being squandered on wharves all over the country and extend the docks at Goose Isle, to make it possible for ocean liners to come alongside.

Winnipeg, March 18.—Archbishop Langevin was thrown from the rig on Thursday night in which he was driving to St. Anne's, but happily was not seriously injured. His grace continued on a hand car and was able to officiate at an ecclesiastical function yesterday.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Alva James, a Kingston traveler, was struck by a train and carried along for some distance by his overcoat, which caught in the cowcatcher. Four persons, a man, two women and a child, all colored, were burned to death in a fire in a four-story tenement on Truro street, Boston, early yesterday morning.

Messrs. W. S. Buell of Brockville and Isaac Pitblado of Winnipeg have been appointed to hold an inquiry into telegraph rates. The commission will sit at Toronto on April 24.

Thirty-five hundred employees of the United States and Wells Fargo Express Companies threw in their fortunes yesterday with the 1,500 striking drivers of the Adam Express Co.

Sir E. Taschereau suffered a slight stroke of apoplexy Thursday night, but it is thought he will recover, despite his advanced age. The former chief justice showed signs of improvement yesterday.

After being out about half an hour the jury last night brought in a verdict in the inquest into the circumstances surrounding the explosion at the Ontario Paper Co.'s power house at the Falls. They hold no one responsible.

Auguste Panneton, the lunatic, who escaped from the St. Benoit Joseph Asylum immediately after the murder of one of the guards last Tuesday, was brought back to the institution at Montreal yesterday morning from L'Assomption.

Montreal, March 18.—About one cent on the dollar is the latest estimate of the dividend of the seekers of wealth who sought quick and easy fortunes through the medium of Charles D. Sheldon's "Blind Pool."

According to Mr. Burnett, of the firm of Wilkes & Burnett, who are the curators of the estate of the one-time financial "wizard" of 139 St. James street, there is at present but little more than $15,000 in receipts available to divide among the unfortunate creditors, whose losses total up to the neighborhood of $80,000.

Nearly $7,000 must come out of the $15,000 to provide for expenses, legal and otherwise, in connection with the winding up of the "Investment Broker's" business.

Some little ray of hope, however, was held out to the creditors by Mr. Burnett, who said that if the law suit which the curators had taken against a certain party for the recovery of $14,000 or $15,000 was successful, twenty or more other suits would be instituted to recover amounts which, if not quite as large as the first one, would swell the total receipts for distribution considerably.

A Brutal Husband. Montreal, March 18.—"My only regret is that the complaint against you was not laid in such a way that it would be possible for me to condemn you to the lash."

Such was the remark of Judge Lanctot yesterday when Maxime Branchaud, who had been found guilty of cruelty to his wife and of non-support, appeared before him and asked for clemency of the court.

Branchaud arrived in Montreal from Cornwall six months ago with his wife and eight children, and, according to the evidence yesterday, made no effort whatever to support them. Dr. Pilon said that Branchaud twelve days after the birth of a child had beaten his wife into unconsciousness.

After Mrs. Branchaud told the court that both she and her children were afraid to live with Branchaud, Judge Lanctot, after lecturing the accused, sentenced him to six months, a fine of $100, or three months, after which he would have to furnish bail of $200 to keep the peace or serve an additional three months.

Abbott in the Soo? Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., March 18.—Glancing over a Toronto paper last evening a well-known citizen of the Soo, who claims acquaintanceship with Charles Abbott, the missing Toronto butcher, said: "I met Abbott on the street here yesterday and conversed with him. I have since learned that he had only $40 in his possession when he left Toronto, which would be about enough to land him here."

All efforts to locate the man last night were unavailing, he not having registered at any hotel. The citizen claiming acquaintanceship with Abbott is positive the man he saw was the Toronto butcher.

Civil Service Conditions. Ottawa, March 18.—Representations are to be made to the Government by twelve hundred clerks in the third-class of the civil service with a view to improving their conditions.

When the civil service was re-classified several years ago it was done according to salaries being received. Examinations were set by the commission, which some of the older employes claim are a hardship, and prevent their getting promotion.

Fishers Use Wireless. Halifax, March 18.—The first wireless message from the Newfoundland sealing fleet was received yesterday when John Bros., of St. John's, Nfld., and Halifax, had a telegram from the Beophic. The message read: "Prospects encouraging for successful voyage." Two-thirds of the vessels in the fleet are equipped with the wireless installation.

Archbishop Spilled. Winnipeg, March 18.—Archbishop Langevin was thrown from the rig on Thursday night in which he was driving to St. Anne's, but happily was not seriously injured. His grace continued on a hand car and was able to officiate at an ecclesiastical function yesterday.

Mr. Geo. Bolton and daughter, Amy, of London, have returned home, after spending a few days visiting friends.

BAND TO-NIGHT.—The band will be at the rink this evening.

WILDWOOD LEASED.—Mr. Frank L. Evans, of Newcastle, has leased "Wildwood," and will conduct a horse business there. It is a fine place for horses and cattle to run.

$100 FOR THE HOSPITAL.—The Moulders' Union desire to thank the public for the liberal patronage extended for the recent ball. $66 was cleared from the proceeds, and the Union will make it $100 even for the Hospital Fund.

Contractor Myles has finished his contract on the big filling west of the village, and the steel gang who are working along straightening the rails, expect to relay the tracks across this week. Work commenced on this filling a year ago last October.—Orono News.

POWER EXPECTED SHORTLY.—According to Local Manager, J. E. Skidmore, the Seymour Power Co. will have power here by May 1st, provided the contractors of the sub-station here have the building ready in the required time. The poles and wires are strung as far as Colborne, and the men are rapidly approaching Cobourg.—Cobourg Star.

THE MARKET.—There was a very good market this morning. The prices were high, eggs being held at 20c. per dozen at the opening, but were dropped to 16c. Butter 26 to 28; chickens from 40c to $1 each; turkeys at 25c. per pound; geese $1.25 to $1.50; lamb 12c to 15c; mutton 9c to 10c; pork 11 and 12 cents.

VERY SUCCESSFUL.—The Crossley special meeting in the Methodist Church concluded on Sunday evening with a packed house in all parts and a deep interest that pervaded the whole people. This series of meetings has proved, we are sure, a rich blessing and lasting benefit to all who attended, and the general feeling towards Mr. Crossley and his methods is one of appreciation and respect. There was no shouting and wailing of death's dire destruction for the sinners, but earnest appeal to reason and sober sense. The great verities of the gospel were presented in sane and convincing straightforwardness, and to the satisfaction of the evangelist and the joy of everyone, the response was very fruitful. Long may the Rev. gentleman linger on the pulpit platform to prosecute his life work for which he is so eminently fitted, and long may the influence of his presence and bright Christian teaching remain in the lives and actions of our people.—Millbrook Reporter.
