The active medicinal ingredients of Rexall Orderlies, which is odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action. The Last Week

THE CANADIAN PACT

We are obliged to Mr. Geo. B Salter, formerly of Port Hope, for a copy of The Norfolk (Nebraska) Daily News, giving the following opinion on reciprocity :-

The question of reciprocity with Canada has by the treaty now made by President Tast with authorities across the line been brought into the limelight as one of the most important political problems of the day. In his action the President has, in the opinion of many, demonstrated his capacity for the broadest and best kind of statesmanship. It is of course true that in New England and in the border states like Minnesota and the Dakotas, there is wide diversity of opinion. doubtless true that it would lower for a time the price of wheat and barley, but it would on the other hand create a tremendous market for many other products that Canada does not raise, and vice versa. It is a singular fact that some of the congressmen who as progressives have charged other men, coming from the steel and woolen manufacturing districts who were afraid of any attempt to lower duties on those articles because it would injure those industries, with a lack of patriotism, now that there is a probability of some products in which the people of their own districts are interested being lowered, are taking exactly the same position as the men whom they have so mercilessly criticized. What is evidently needed in the life of the nation to-day is a capacity on the part of its voters as well as the leaders in public life to take a view of problems on broader plane of promoting the general welfare. A great republic cannot legislate successfully for special districts any more than it can for special interests." It is true of the family, the social life of a community, or the material and moral welfare of a great people, that if progress is to be made that will help them collectively there must be a willingness on the part of the individuals concerned to promptly make concessions and sacrifices. There is no escape from this law. When it is obeyed, however, none are usually better pleased with the happiness and enlarged prosperity which is sure to follow, than those who have been the most generous te bear the burdens which conduce to the united success.

President Tatt has now put the question clearly up to the American voters as to whether they want closer trade relations with their younger but growing neighbor on the north, and come into closer union with Canada and England, with whom the larger part of our export trade is now done, or to shut ourselves more firmly than ever against this trade. It is a crisis that meets us in the pathway of progress and if it is met in a way that shall mean the largest good of the largest number it will call for men not dwarfed by the viewpoint of merely local considerations, but large, sun-crowned statesmen who have caught the vision of the duty and the high destiny of the American nation in leading the different countries of the world into that federation of mankind in which the universal brotherhood shall be no longer a dream but a living and genuine reality. Reciprocity with Canada not only its action upon this most important thing which President Taft has thus far in his administration called its attention to, should consider it with the greatest care and be sure that no backward step is taken.

STARKVILLE

The Institute meeting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gordon on the ninth of March, was well attended. The current events and short readings were nicely interspersed among the different musical selections given on the autoharp organ and gramophone. The next meeting is to be the annual, to be held at Mrs. R. Caldwell's on the 6th of May. Besides the election of officers that day, two ladies from policeman, with a smile that would the Orono Branch will be expected to give addresses. After luncheon the usual votes of thanks were given: those present wishing that Mr. Gordon may live to enjoy many more 9th's of March, the anniverssary of his birthday in Toronto. In the twilight the sleighs and cutters full of happy people, left the happy home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon.

SHE WOULDN'T.

A young lady whose beauty is equal to her bluntness in conversation was visiting at a house where other guests were assembled, among them the eldest son of a rich manufacturer. The talk turned on matrimonial squabbles. Said the eligible "party."
"I hold that the correct thing for the husband is to begin as he intends to go on. Say that the question was one of smoking. Almost immediately I would show my intentions by lighting a cigar and settling the question for ever."

"And I would knock the thing out of your mouth !" cried the imperious beauty.

"Do you know," rejoined the young man, "I don't think you would be there !"

THE LAST TOLL-GATE.-London (England) may soon lose its only remaining toll-gate, situated at Dulwich Tell-bars originated as early as 1200 in London, when one was put up at St. Giles to take toll of all traffic going to Temple Bar. In 1346 one was established at Holborn Inn-lane to defray the cost of the road thence to Martin's lane, Aldersgate. Turnpikes were set up about London in great numbers in means in the long run larger mar-kets and a lower price for living 1823, when twenty-seven were swept expenses for people on both sides of away, an additional eighty-one bethe line, but in its influence in world ing demolished about North Lonhistory, it has a potentiality that don in July, 1864, and sixty-one in The Last Week cannot be measured. IN MEMORIAM

A policeman was entertaining some friends to an afternoon tea. when one of them with an inquisitive turn of mind, happened to see on a shelf a glass shade, underneath which was a brick with some flowers upon it.

The friend, thinking they were mementos of some historic interest, asked the policeman why he kept that brick underneath the glass

"That brick," replied the son of the night, "is what I had thrown at me at the last election. "And what about the flowers?"

further inquired the friend.
'Them flowers," continued the not come off, "came off the grave of the man that threw the brick.'

Debate Over Dismissal of a Game Warden Results In a Riot In Which a Clerk Named Smith Defends His Boss by Slugging the Democrat Leader and a Supporter-Women Visitors In Hysterics.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 20 .- A sacred song service and fist fights were features of the first all-day Sunday session ever held by the Missouri Legislature.

The forenoon meeting closed with all the members singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "In the Sweet By-and-Bye," and "America." The afternoon session ended abruptly with a knockdown and drag out, a riot, and a panic. House floor leader N. J. Simmons was in the centre of the fight, in which Representative David W. Stark of Cass County and Kirby J. Smith, a clerk for the game warden, were the busiest participants. The fight was preceded by a party division on the appropriation rider, which calls on the governor to remove Game Warden Tolerton from office or accept the other alternative of permitting the de-partment to forfeit the $90,000 allotted for its support.
Governor Hadley announced last night he would do neither. Smith was on the floor when the House concurred in the Senate amendment to the contingency appropriation bill con-taining the Tolerton rider. Smith resented the attitude of the Democrats and declared they "lacked a whole lot of getting Tolerton."

Simmons ordered Smith from the

Smith struck Simmons, then slugged Stark. Stark slugged Smith, and in doing so stumbled over Represen-tative Swearington's chair. Stark fell to his knees and while down, Swear-ington says, Smith struck him three times about the head. Stark jumped up and sent his right to Smith's jaw, laying open the right cheek. Smith went sprawling into a group of girls seated just outside the railing in the southwest corner of the hall. Stark sprang after Smith, bore him to the floor and choked him.

In an instant the House was in an uproar. Many women, girls and children were in the hall watching the Sunday proceedings. Their screams added to the din. Many members rushed to the scene of combat. Doorkeeper Wilson pushed his way through the hysterical women and fighting solons and dragged Smith to the door. Blood streamed from the cut in his cheek. Meanwhile a dozen held the other combatants.

Thirty Firemen Overcome. Chicago, March 20.—Thirty firemen were overcome by the flames of ammonia yesterday while fighting a fire which destroyed a warehouse of the Monarch Refrigerating Co. and caused an $800,000 loss.

Thrilling rescues were made in carrying the unconscious firemen from the burning structure. It was necessary to take them down the fire es-capes, as the cables of the elevator in which the rescuers ascended, snapped and the cage plunged three floors to the basement with a load of fire-

The fire started early yesterday afternoon and raged with unabated fury until late last night. Five explosions of ammonia filled the building with fumes and made the work of fighting the flames dangerous. The structure was heavily stocked with poultry, meats and butter.

While attempting to escape from the roof by sliding down a rope. Battalion Chief Fisher became unconscious when he reached the fourth floor and dropped to the pavement. He fractured a leg and was internally injured.

Immigrants Are Men of Mystery. Boston, Mass., March 20.—Eighteen strange-looking men, wearing "drum major" hats, quilted blouses and trousers and high leather boots, are being detained at the immigration sta-tion because the Government inter-preters are not able to classify them or to understand their language. The men arrived on the Ivernia Friday, and during the time they have been here, the immigration inspectors have been wholly unable to identify them, but it is thought that they may be natives of some village in the Cau-casus Mountains. They have tickets for Seattle.

New Armories for Ingersoll. Ingersoll, March 20.—Col. Caldwell, Toronto, of the engineering staff of the Department of Militia; Col. T. R. Mayberry, M.P.P.; Major W. A. They inspected the Charles Street Methodist Church property, which has been suggested as a site for the armories, if brought here.

Terrible Ravages of Plague.

London, March 20.-During the month of February, the deaths from the plague in India reached the enormous total of 88,498. The disease has become such a fixture in that country that its ravages are little heard of except through the occasional official statistics. The British India offices reports that the epidemic was particularly virulent this year, and adds that the most persistent efforts to stamp it out have failed to effect a permanent improvement in the situation.

The Premier announced Saturday night that dissolution would not be sought this year, and supplies were voted thus ending three weeks' deadlock.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT.

London, March 19.-Pastor Russell preached to-day at the London Tabernacle to an overflowing house. His text was taken from Hebrews ii, 3: "So great salvation, which began to be spoken by our Lord, and was confirmed unto us by those who heard Him." The speaker said:

Him." The speaker said:

In the past many of us misunderstood these words—"so great salvation"—and have thought them to apply merely to an "elect" few of the saintly followers of our great Re-deemer. Surely it should not be thought strange if a closer examina-tion of God's Word would demonstrate to us that as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are His ways and plans higher than ours (Isaiah lv, 9). It should not surprise us to find that our forefathers were generally in considerable darkness respect to "the length and breadth and height and depth of the love of God, which passeth all understand-ing" (Ephesians iii, 18, 19). It should not surprise us to find that our Saviour will yet see the fruitage of the travail of His soul and be satisfied (Isaiah liii, 11), and that this satisfaction will result from the salvation of more than the flock," who walk in His steps and who, like Him, "present their bodies living sacrifices, holy and acceptable to God," in the service of Truth and righteeusness.

There are several ways of treating this thought, that more than an "elect" few are eventually to reach eternal life through the Redeemer of mankind. One way, which many adopt, is to claim that our Lord and the Apostles did not really mean to establish so high a standard of saintship as their words imply, and then to conclude that, the unsaintly will gain eternal life as well as the saintly-all except the degenerate wicked. This view of matters, which is the common one, is undoubtedly prompted by sympathy for friends, relatives, neighbors and the heathen; but it is wholly contrary to God's Word. Another view still held by some is that everybody but the saintly will suffer torture eternally and hopeless-

The third theory which I desire to present here is the one I believe to be in accord with every text of Scripture, and in accord with Justice, Wisdom, Love and Power Divine, and in accord with sanctified common sense. I have time for only an outline of this Plan, which is most comprehensive, as follows:

Salvation in no sense began before the Redeemer's birth, forty-one hundred and twenty-eight years after the fall of our first parents. In all that long period nobody was saved. The Apostle declares in our text that salvation began to be preached by Jesus. Again we read that Jesus brought life and immortality to light through His Gospel (II. Timothy i, 10). So, then, life and immortality and the Gospel Message began to be preached by our Lord and was not preached before His day. In-deed we can see that if there is "none other Name given under heaven or amongst men whereby we must be saved," than the name of Jesus, then it could not have been preached; nothing could be preached previously except the Divine declaration that God purposed in due time to redeem mankind from sin and death through a Saviour and a Great One-One able to save unto the uttermost all that would come unto the Father through

Him. This reasoning is surely true to the facts. Search all through the Old Testament and there is found no promise of eternal life set forth except by the Law given to the one lit-tle nation of Israel. That Law declared that he that doeth these things shall live by his obedience thereto (Romans x, 5), and the Apostle assures us that Jews died because none of them kept the Law-because no imperfect human being could possibly meet the requirements of God's per-fect Law. "By the deeds of the Law shall no flesh be justified in His sight" (Romans iii, 20).

The Apostle, further explaining the matter, says, "Wherefore, then, serveth the Law?" He replies to his question, "It was added because of transgression until the promised Seed should come" (Galatians.iii, 19).

The Apostle's words direct our thoughts back to Eden, when God declared that the Seed of the woman would at some future time bruise the Serpent's head. But that Seed did not exist for over four thousand years after, and has not yet crushed the Serpent's head—destroyed sin and works of Satan.

The Apostle's words again remind us of God's promise to Abraham, "In thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed" (Genesis xxviii, 14). Abraham was not thus blessed, nor were any others thus blessed, however faithful they were. All the blessing was to come through Abra-ham's Seed and could not be dispensed before His coming. Hence the Apostle, referring to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and all the faithful of past time, declared, "All these died in faith, not having received the promise" (Hebrews xi, 13)—the bless--reconciliation to God and eternal life.

And when Jesus came He did not attempt to bless the world, but on the contrary, in His prayer, declared, the contrary, in his prayer, ucclaice, "I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given Me" (John xvii. 9)—the saintly, the "very elect" (Matthew xxiv, 24). These elect" (Matthew xxiv, 24). These He called; these He taught—"Israel-ites indeed." These He directed to give the same message to others, not for the conversion of the world, but for the calling, instruction and edi-fication of "the Church, which is the Body of Christ." The message to Body of Christ." The message to these from first to last was that they were called to suffer with Him, that they might also reign with Him. In the past many of us have overlooked the fact that the Church are, figuratively, "the Body of Christ"—to be hereafter, as the Apostle declares, "the Church which is His clares, "the Church which is His Body." And again, We are members in particular of the Body of Christ, which is the Church (I. Corinthians xii, 27). In a word, then, the entire Christ includes the members of the Body with the glorious Head of the Body. And this glorious Christ, which will be completed by the close of this Gospel Age, will as a whole be the promised Seed of Abraham.

From this viewpoint we can sawhy God's long-promised blassing has not yet reach d the world, but from this viewpoint we can see that He is morely selecting or electing the Church, the Seed of Abraham. The promise to Abraham is, "In thy Seed shall all the families of the earth by blessed," and, as we have seen, the Seed of Abraham is "Jesus the Head and the Church His Body In a word, our previous view of the Divine Plan was too narrow. saw the election of the Church, but did not see God's gracious purposes for "All the families of the earth." The Church, as the Scriptures de-clare, is merely a "first-fruits" unto God of His creatures and is not, by any means, the entire harvest. Let here remember St. Paul's planation of this matter. He de-clares, "We, brethren, as Isaac was, clares, are the children of the promise" (Galatians iv, 28)—the heirs of the promise-through us all the families of the earth are to be blessed.

It might indeed be said in one sense of the word that since father Adam was placed on trial in Eden with a reward of eternal life before him or a penalty of death, and that since he lost his chance of eternal life by disobedience, therefore any chance of eternal life coming to him or to any member of his race would, of necessity, be a second chance. This is undoubtedly true. From this stand-point every member of the human family must eventually have a second chance for eternal life, because it was for this very purpose that our Redeemer left the heavenly glory, was made flesh, dwelt amongst us and died, just for the unjust." Whoever enjoys this second chance must expect no more, because "Christ dieth pect no more, because "Christ dieth no more." But, as we have already seen, nobody had a second chance for eternal life prior to the coming of our R. leemer into the world. "He brought life and immortality to light." He died, the just for the unjust, to make reconciliation for in-iquity—and this message of so great salvation began to be spoken by our Lord.

The comparatively few who have heard the Gospel since Jesus' day—"Good tidings of great joy which shall be unto all reople," these, the comparatively few, who have heard of "the only name given under heaven or emparation wherehy we must en or amongst men whereby we must be saved"—are the only ones who in any sense of the word have had their second chance. Indeed we might, Scripturally, limit the matter much further and say that the Gospel has been hidden from the majority of those who heard it; their mental eyes and ears being deaf and blind, they did not comprehend the message, and therefore could not reject it.

The "high calling" and "so great salvation" which so few have really heard and seen is referred to by our great Redeemer saying, "Blessed are your eyes, for they see, and your ears, for they hear." "The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God, neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. • • But God hath re-vealed them unto us by His spirit' (I. Corinthians ii, 14). In other words, only the Spirit-begotten ones are now on trial for life everlasting or death everlasting. And only the faithful footstep followers will gain the glory, honor, immortality and joint-heirship with Him in His Kingdom. These are the "elect," the "very elect." These are such as make their calling and election sure by running as to obtain this great prize of membership in the Body of Christ.

These elect ones experience change of nature, and in the future will not be human beings, but partakers of the divine nature (II. Peter i, 4). They will be inducted into the perfection of the divine nature in the First Resurrection, the chief resur-recti..., in which they will be chang-ed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, because flesh and blood can-not inherit the Kingdom of God (I. Corinthians xv, 50-52).

We all gagged at the thought that the heathen and everybody except saints would be consigned to an eter-nity of torture, yet we all recognized that heaven is not a place of development but a condition of per-fection. We were perplexed, mysti-ded. We did not follow our Bibles with sufficient care. Many of us wisted the Scriptures, wrested them from their plainly obvious import, and always to our own injury. Some went in the direction of Universalism, others halfway, and still others abandoned the Holy Book. Now we e where we erred.

God has two salvations; one for the Church and a totally different one for the world. The salvation for the Church is to heavenly nature, spirit bodies, and joint-heirship with the Master in His Kingdom, which flesh and blood cannot inherit, as we have already seen. The other salvation, for mankind, is an earthly one, called in the Scriptures "Restitution." Man was not an angel originally, not a spirit being, but, as the Scriptures declare, "The first man was of the earth earthly."

It was that earthly man, perfect, in the image of his Creator, for whose happiness Eden was specially prepared. By obedience to God he might have continued to enjoy his Eden home everlastingly. By disobedience he first lost his fellowship with God, then his Eden home, and after nine hundred and thirty years of toiling with thorns and thistles in sweat of face, the death penalty upon him reached completion—he died. Adam's race, sharing his weaknesses by laws of heredity, have also shared death with him.

The Scriptures tell us that God's real purpose in sending Jesus into the world was that the "world might through Him be saved"—not the salvation of the Church; that was an incidental feature. The Church an incidental feature. The Church is selected that as the Bride or Queen during the Messianic Kingdom she may be associated with her Lord, the King, as the Seed of Abraham in the blessing, the saving, of Adam and his family, or so many of them as shall be willing, from sin and death conditions. We remember the Mas-ter's words to the effect that "He came to seek and to save (recover) that which was lost."

We have just seen that it was a human life, human perfection and an earthly home that were lost. It is these, then, that Jesus proposes in due time to recover for Adam and his family. The Messianic reign of Jesus and his Body—the Anointed, the Christ. The Messiah—will be for the purpose of blessing Adam and all of his race with glorious opportunities of an earthly salvation. The upliftof an earthly salvation. ing, restoring influences of Messiah's Kingdom will affect not only Adam and his race, but also the earth itself. Gradually Paradise Lost, as a little garden of Eden, will become Paradise Regained as the world beautiful. Then the wilderness shall blossom as a rose and the solitary place shall be glad. At our Lord's First Advent the "acceptable time" began—the time when God having accepted the sacrifice of Christ Jesus, became willing through Him to accept the sacrifices of all who desire to become His disciples -to take up their cross and follow Him through evil report and good report even unto death. The entire Gospel Age antitypes Israel's Day of Atonement, and the sacrifices of our Atonement, and the sacrinces of our Lord and the Church, His Body, are the "better sacrifices," foreshadowed by the bullock and the goat offered typically by the Jews. This is the acceptable year of the Lord which Jesus declared (Isaiah lxi, 2; Luke God's faithful people of this acceptable day are glad to be invited to "present their bodies living sacrifices, holy and acceptable unto God" (Romans xii, 1). In the end of this acceptabel day will come the end of all opportunity to thus sacrifice the human nature and become joint-heirs with Christ and partakers of the

Then will be introduced a new period styled, in the Scriptures, "Times (or years) of Restitution."

The acceptable day for the Church's sacrifice has lasted for nearly nineteen centuries. And we know how long the "Times of Restitution" will last—nearly a thousand years. St.
Peter tells us just when these "Restitution Times" will begin. They did not begin in his day. They have not begun yet. They will begin as a result of the Second Advent of Jesus, the Messiah, and the establishment of His Kingdom and righteousness, "Times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord and He shall send Jesus Christ, as before was preached unto you, whom the heavens must retain until the Times of Restitution of all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of all the holy prophets since the world be-gan. For Moses verily said unto the fathers, A Prophet like unto me (of whom I am but a type or figure) shall the Lord your God raise up unto you from amongst your brethren. Him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever He shall speak unto you. And it shall come to pass that the soul that will not obey that Prophet shall be destroyed from amongst the people (Acts iii, 19-23)—in the Second Death. This great Prophet has been in process of raising up for now nearly nineteen centuries. And when the last member of His Body shall have passed beyond the veil, He will stand forth in the glories of His Kingdom to rule, judge, instruct, restore and bless all the families of the earth with opportunity for restoration to all that was lost in Eden and redeem-ed at Calvary. These "Restitution Times" are beautifully referred to in a poem known to many of our readers, written by one who was particu-larly identified with The Christian

Sir Edward Grey's Peace Proposal Has Caught On.

TAFT WATCHES EAGERLY

President of the United States Is Delighted With the Way In Which Britain Has Taken His Arbitration Suggestions-All England Is Interested and Peace Sunday Is Celebrated In the Churches.

London, March 20.-The movement for peace in the English-speaking world is well timed for the lowest ebb of political affairs at Westminster, where "little water is running under the bridges."

Sir Edward Grey has lifted discussion to the e higher levels of noble idealized.

idealism. He had not definite pro-posal to offer at the peace conference Saturday night for the carrying out of President Taft's suggestions for an Anglo-American coalition against fra-tricidal war, but he spoke like a statesman who has appealed to the best instincts of the nation and had behind him the moral forces of public opinion.

Radical Hotspurs who have chattered about sending him upstairs to the House of Lords, where he would be out of David Lloyd-George's way for a future Premiership, are now si-lent. He has become the English evangel of President Taft's gospel of the hegemony of the English-speak-ing race and the effective crusade against the barbarism of war and the wastefulness of armaments.

The Unionist press was cold and critical until Mr. Balfour warmly approved Sir Edward Grev's utterances. It now admits that he will have the kingdom and the Empire behind him kingdom and the Empire behind him if he succeeds in making a definite treaty with Washington.

Leading preachers of the free churches proclaimed the glad tidings of world's peace from their pulpits yesterday, and a mass meeting at Albert Hall will be arranged at an early date, which will represent all religious bodies. The Bishop of Southwark and other prominent churchmen have welcomed the movement with as much ardor as the free with as much ardor as - the free churchmen.

Sir Edward Grey's impressive call upon enlightened public opinion has aroused the dormant energies of churches, brotherhoods, Christian Endeavor unions and peace societies.

. Old-fashioned experience meetings on the wickedness of war and the folly of excessive armaments have been substituted for barren debates on the number of Dreadnoughts in a reasonably probable combination against by England and the impracticability of limiting armaments by agreements among suspicious nations.

So unmanageable is the sudden out-break of enthusiasm for national peace that there are serious risks of a revel of sentimentalism without prac-tical results.

"Sir Edward Grey has already cor-rected the misconception that an ar-bitration treaty between England and America will necessarily involve a de-fensive alliance directed against Germany or other European powers.

President Taft's suggestion in a strictly limited form needs to be adhered to literally, without the menace of coercion to other powers. A treaty between England and America on his lines will be the pivot on which a new history of civilization can turn When history of civilization can turn. When that example is set for the benefit of Christendom it will be time enough to talk about deliverance from armaments and inocuous measures for po-licing the world.

Certainly Sir Edward Grey will now succeed in carrying the declaration of London through the Imperial Con-

Taft as Dove.

Augusta, Ga., March 20.—President
Tait has followed with keenest interest the discussion of the last few days in the British Parliament on the subject of the international arbitration treaty proposed by him. He is de-lighted with the manner in which the proposal has been received in Great Britain, as indicated in the speeches of Sir Edward Grey and Mr. Balfour. The President is extremely hopeful The President is extremely hopeful that the treaty may be adopted by both countries, and believes it will be a great step toward the abolition of war. And with war practically impossible between the two great English-speaking nations, there is every reason to hope, according to the President's view, that other nations may come into such an agreement and thus make for universal peace. for universal peace.

In some quarters there has been an impression that the proposed treaty involved an offensive and defensive alliance between Great Britain and the United States. This is an error. The treaty is a broad one, however, and proposes that all disputes, including even those of national honor and ter-ritory, shall be settled in an arbitra-

British approval of the proposed British approval of the proposed peace pact has not come to the President as a surprise. It appears he had been in dread of the disease for a long time, and had told his confidents that he would shoot himself if he ever learned that he had it.

When he got back to Toronto, so it is said, one of his superiors told him that he would have to be taken off the cash and put back on the books because it had come to the ears of the management that he was dealing in mining stocks—an indulgence which is not tolerated among respons-ible employes of the Bank of Montreal.

"THE MAN OF THE HOUR."-The greatest play produced in years, George Broadhurst's wonderful George success, "The Man of the Hour," will be seen in Cobourg on Tuesday March 21st under the special direction of Wm. A. Brady. This production has been in Toronto all week. See Felix Harvey as Old Phelan.

New Street.-The town authorities are considering the advisibility of opening the remainder of Wright street which now ends on the east bank of the creek just east of the File Factory buildings. The plan is to continue this street north along the east bank of the File Factory pond to the Cavan street bridge and this would also involve the improvement of the Cavan Road on the east side of the electric light pond. Wright street is laid out on all the old plans and maps of the town and the opening of it to travel would be a benefit not only to those in the north but would open up a very desirable section of the town for building operations and the grades on the new street are thought to be very easy and safe from the railways.
