ROBERT NICHOLS.

There passed away in Port Hope J. W. Sanders, Esq., Town Clerk, on March 2nd, aged 76 years and 6 Port Hope, Ont. months, one who has been a resident of the town for 59 years-Mr. Robert Nicholls. Born in Baltimore on Sept. 1, 1834, of good Scotch stock (his mother being Isabella Campbell of Clan-Campbell) he was early indentured to Mr. John Helm, to learn pattern-making, at which he became an expert.

Upon the retirement of Mr. Helm in 1872 from the Foundry, a part-nership was formed consisting of the late Messrs. Geo. Helm and Robert Nichols, Mr. Henry Helm, and Mr. Robt. King, under the firm name of "Nicholls & Co." continued for five years In 1877 the late Mr. Geo. Helm and Mr. Robt. King retired, and the business was carried on by Mr. Henry Helm and Mr. Robt. Nicholls, as "Helm & Nicholls" until 1885 when Mr Nicholls retired. Since then he has lived quietly, but for the past 10 years has been a semi-invalid confined to the house.

He was a man of sterling integrity, "whose word was as good as ing his active life in the community.

He was in former years prominent in Masonic Cifcles, being a member of the first Masonic Lodge ever formed in Port Hope, and to the last was always interested in Masonic matters. A staunch Liberal in politics, (a reader of the Globe from its first number) and a Presbyterian in religion. His wife pre-deceased him 30 years.

He leave to mourn his loss one son and one daughter, Dr. Bruce F. Nicholls, dental surgeon, Bay street, Toronto, and Mrs. Newman Williamson at home.

The funeral took place on Sunday March 5th, under Masonic auspices and was largely attended.

LEGISLATION MAKES MONTREAL AN ISLAND NO LONGER

Spanning of Rivers Joins City to Mainland - St. Lawrence Route vs. Georgian Bay Canal

Ladies Object to Imported Wives

From Our Own Correspon

Montreal, March 20 .- If the pick and shovel men work as hard when the time comes as the legislators have been doing lately the Island of Montreal will be ancient history even to the present generation. Bill after bill is being presented to the Legislature at Quebec and charter after charter is being sought asking for power and authority to build bridges and tunnels across the St. Lawrence and the Riviere des Prairies from the mainland to the Island of Montreal. Of course the rivers will still be there, but if On motion the Department of the plans all mature the crossing of Agriculture (Mr. R. S. Duncan) was them from the island to the main-

given the free use of the Town Hall | land will be like crossing the Seine from one district to another of

No less than seven railway and development companies want to get into the city. Two of them would tunnel the river, the others would build bridges. One of them has conceived the brilliant idea of tunnelling the whole island, passing under the streets from south to north, under Mount Royal and out goodness knows where in one of the back parishes. The promoters are working like mad to obtain the necessary consent to start work. Montreal needs more ways of communication with the mainland to the south of her, but it is doubtful if she is quite ready to go into bridge building and tunnelling wholesale. There is something be-hind all this activity and excitement which the public, as yet, has not been able to fathom.

NEW PHASE OF WATERWAYS PROJECTS Heretofore Montreal has been looked upon as an unanimous champion of the Georgion Bay canal project, so that it was with some surprise that the plans outlined by Mr. Henry Holgate, the expert en-gineer, for the development of Canada's waterways, were received so heartily. Mr. Holgate asserts that if the present St. Lawrence route were improved as it would be quite possible to improve it, it would prove so much superior to his bond," and much esteemed durthe consideration of that vast pre-

Tea Time Talks The Healthfulness of Tea

Physicians who often forbid the use of Coffee and Cocoa to the well, prescribe tea for the sick. Of the three, tea is the only beverage that can be drunk for a lifetime without injurious effects. It is a harmless tonic-a gentle stimulant without As tea is the most desirable beverage, so

"Salada" is tea in its most desirable form. "Salada" Ceylon Tea comes from tea plant to tea pot untouched by human hands, from the time the leaves fall into the picker's baskets. Its delicate aroma and delicious flavor are perfectly preserved in sealed, air-tight packages.

Ask your grocer for "Salada" Tea or send for a free trial package which makes 25 cups of delicious tea. We will mail it to you without charge. Say whether you use Black, Mixed or Green Tea and the price and 75 feet wide and a minimum of 22 feet of water on the sill. I think the time has come when such a study of the St. Lawrence should be made, and this before we commit ourselves to heavy expenditures on existing route." Mr. Holgate also made incidental reference to the proposed development of power at Long Sault Rapids, saying that the idea of canalising the river by maintaining the navigation channel in the tiver and erecting dams below the various rapids had been the dream of engineers for many years.

INDUSTRIES ON THE BOOM

Despite the fact that reciprocity does not stand a chance of being settled one way or the other for some time to come Canadian industries are booming, and there is a feeling of the utmost confidence pervading the atmosphere breathed by those who have money tied up in Canadian industrial securities. The severe depressions which have prevailed during the past twelve months in such staples as cement, iron and asbestos are now lifting and legitimate business is getting back to a normal basis again.

IMPORTED WIVES

A short time ago the newspapers heralded the fact far and wide that a modern steamship company, harking back to the ways and means of Samuel de Champlain's time, had started a movement to bring women from the old country to Canada to seek husbands. The Ladies' Auxiliary League of Montreal rose in rebellion, saying that it was a slur on this young nation's womanhood, and there was a hot time for a few days. Finally the Immigration Agent explained that it was all a mistake, the ladies accepted the apology and Canadian men will henceforth have to look elsewhere for their "ready made wives."

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

CHAPTER II

Peak's destination was Peckham Rye. On quitting the railway, he had a walk of some ten minutes along a road which smelt of new bricks and stucco heated by the summer sun; an obscure passage led him into a street partly of dwelling houses, partly of shops, the latter closed. He paused at the side door of one over which the street lamp dimly revealed-'Button Herbalist.

His latchkey admitted him to total darkness, but he moved forward with the confidence of long Mrs. James Rosevear is giving match, and found himself in a comfortable sitting-room, soon illumined by a reading lamp. The atmosphere, as throughout the house, was strongly redolent of dried simples. Anyone acquainted with the characteristics of furnished lodgings must have surmised that Peak dwelt here among his own movables, and was indebted to the occupier of the premises for bare walls alone; the tables and chairs, though plain enough, were such as civilization permits; and though there were no pictures, sundry ornaments here and there made strong denial of lodging house affinity. It was at once laboratory, study, and dwellingroom. Two large cabinets, something the worse for transportation, alone formed a link between this abode and the old home at Twybridge. Books were not numerous and a good microscope seemed to be the only scientific instrument of much importance. On door-pegs hung a knapsack, a botanist's vasculum, and a geologist's wallet. A round table was spread with up housekeeping and moving to A round table was spread with Toronto, and will sell all her valuable furniture and household effects again an experienced lodger must at her place, No. 1, Deyell's Terrace have bestowed contemplative scruton Monday, March 27th at one inv, for no hand of common lando'clock. The custom of four years had accustomed Peak to take these things as a matter of course, yet he would readily have admitted that they were extraordinary enough. Indeed, he even now occasionally contrasted this state of comfort with the hateful experiences of his first six years in London. The subject of lodgings was one of those on which (often intemperate of speech) he spoke less temperately. For six years he shifted from quarter to quarter, from house to house, driven away each time by the hateful contact of vulgarity in every form .by foulness and dishonesty, by lying slandering, quarrelling, by drunken-ness, by brutal vice,—by all abominations that distinguish the lodgingletter of the metropolis. Obliged to practice extreme economy, he could not take refuge among selfrespecting people, or at all eve 1's had no luck in endeavouring to find such among the poorer workingclass. To a man of Godwin's idiosyncrasy the London poor were of necessity abominable, and it anguished him to be forced to live among them.

Rescue came at last, and in a very unexpected way. Resident in the more open part of Bermendsey (winter mornings made a long journey to Rotherhithe intolerable), he happened to walk one day as far as Peckham Rye, and was there attracted by the shop window of a herbalist. He entered to make a purchase, and got into conversation with Mr. Button, a middle-aged man ot bright intelligence and more reading than could be expected. The herbalist led his customer to an upper room, in which were stored sundry curiosities, and happened casually to say that he was desirous of finding a lodger for two superfluous chambers. Peak's inquiries led zpress.... 7.15 s.m. | Mixed...8.55 a.m. | to his seeing Mrs. Button, whom he wired.....10.20 a.m. | Msil...12.55 p.m. | found to be a Frenchwoman, of very day...... 4.15 p.m. | Express IO.15 p.m. | pleasing appearance; she spoke to his seeing Mrs. Button, whom he fluent French-English, anything but disagreeable to an ear constantly tormented by the London vernacular. After short reflection he decided to take and furnish the rooms. It proved a most fortunate step, for he lived (after the outlay for furniture) at much less expense than theretofore, and in comparative luxury. Cleanliness, neatness, good taste by no means exhausted Mrs. Button's virtues : her cooking seemed to the lodger of incredible perfection, and the infinite goodwill with which he was tended made strange contrast with the base usage

he had commonly experienced. In these ten years he had paid but four visits to Twybridge, each of brief duration. Naturally there were changes among his kinsfolk: Charlotte, after an engagement which prolonged itself to the fifth twelvemonth, had become Mrs. Cusse, and her husband now had a draper's shop of his own, with two children already born into the world of draperdom. Oliver, twice fruit-lessly affianced, had at length (when six-and-twenty) wedded a young person whom his mother and his use. He softly ascended two flights sirable connection, the daughter (aged thirty-two) of a man who was drinking himself to death on such money as he could earn by casual reporting for a Twybridge news-

When the Mule Kicks.

"No man unless he is blind should ever be kicked by a mule. There is no excuse for it. If kicked he is as much to blame as the mule," said a mule raiser. "A mule never kicks without first wagging his ears and switching his tail," said the breeder. "All you have to do is to keep your eyes on his ears and tail. And when he begins to wag his ears or switch his tall then it is time to dodge. And if you dodge quickly you will never be touched."-Kansas City Journal.

Hon. Mr. Sifton said that they had net to discuss an issue, the most im-cortant which had arisen in Canada during many years. It had cut many idrift from party lines, life-long Liberals having united to oppose a policy introduced by the Liberal Government.

Proceeding Hon. Mr. Silton said that the fiscal policy of the Government had been wonderfully successful, that it had improved the trade of the Dominion in every direction, both toxign and interpretable to such foreign and interprovincial, to such an extent that the trade had jumped from thirty to a hundred millions in four years, while Canada had become one of the most prosperous countries i the world.

During the past twelve years Can-ada had gone along without anything approaching hard times, despite occasional flurries, which had failed to produce any panic or general distress. But the United States had during that time had no less than three serious panies. "I have been in politics for twenty-three years," continued Mr. Sifton. but never before have I seen a Government bring down an important measure to Parliament and so entirely fail to make good in argument as the Government has done in this case.

"The marvelous thing," continued Mr. Sifton, "is that our friends in the Government seem to desire to put the farmers on a free trade basis, for they have to sell, while they will still have to pay duty on their manu-fictured goods.

"The great beneficiaries of the agreement," said Mr. Sifton, "would be the American Newspaper Association, the Chicago Beef Trust, the U. S. Steel Co., the Minneapolis Milling Trust co., the Minneapons Mining Trus and the Hill railway interests. "It will mean that these vast aggre gations of American capital will be invited to come in and dictate to our country and to take from us the business we have built up by the past 25 years of hard work."

An amusing incident took place last evening during the Sifton procession. Several hundred Sifton sympathizers were drawing the ex-Minister's carriage, when an opposing faction took possession of the rig and set fire to it. A scuffle ensued and the Minister was escued from his enemies.

Notwithstanding the fire, which took place at the above market this day week, there was ample accommodation for all the stock that came forward, and buyers and sellers were not put to any inconvenience, and, considering the little time the management had, the market is in as good condition as could be expected. A feature of the trade was the stronger feeling which prevailed for cattle, and pricessas compared with those of a week ago show an advance of ½c per ib., which was due to the smaller offerings. In the small meat trade calves were a glut on the market and sellers found it difficult to make sales even at the slump in prices on account of the fact that the government inspectors are very strict this season and in consequence a large percentage of the purchases made of late have been confiscated. Some sales were made at prices ranging from $2 to $8 each, as to size and quality. The trade in sheep and lambs was quiet and prices were unchanged. Yearling lambs sold at $5.50 to $6.55 per cwt., and sheep, at 50 per 1b.

GOLD EXTRACTION.

Getting Metal In Saskatr:hewan Is Interesting Work.

The evolution of gold extraction from the river bed and bars of the Saskatchewan would form a volume of interesting details. On the hilly drive from Duck Lake, the famous battle ground of 1885, on the south shore of the North Saskatchewan, to Prince Albert, tourists may view an old, curiously constructed, ramshackle, abandoned steamboat, which somewhat resembled a sternwheel passenger craft, and is yet rigged with an apparatus evidently intended for dredging. This is a disused gold dredge, which represents some $10,-000 or $12,000 invested, mostly by Englishmen, in enabling an English engineer to develop his ideas as to what a gold dredger should be. Perhaps, if he had been furnished with wheels, pulleys, chains, stanchions and other mechanical parts of good steel, it might have worked to this day. But the parts were made in England, possibly by some one used to contracting for the war office. They gave out at all critical junctures with wondrous rapidity, and the dredger practically wents to bits, as has been said, almost after the manner of Dr. Holmes' "concess shay." Yet it produced in the open season of one year, gold that sold at the mint for $8,100, from 18,000 cubic yards of gravel dredged from the bars of the North Saskatchewan; this means 45 cents of gold per cubic yard. The tailings are said to have contained enough more to be worth reworking.

Now, extensive gold-dredging opera-tions are carried on along the Feather River of California, in gravel or sand, which yields less than 20 cents per cubic yard. Boston men and money are engaged on Feather River. Many have since turned their attention to the Saskatchewan.

At present the North Saskatchewan, at many points along the meandering for 500 miles below Edmonton, is be-ing exploited by miners using a very crude apparatus locally called the "grizzly," which term is more proper-ly applied to one part of the collec-tion of characteristics. tion of cheap contrivances.

The grizzly, whence the evolution of the gold dredge is a very simple device. Any ordinary man could construct one, at a cost of $5 or $10, according to his ability. Men earned and now earn from $2 to $4 a day along the Saskatchewan by this process. On some bars they run as high as $8 and $10. During the open season scores may be seen recovering fine gold; the work is remunerative and fascinating, but now that modern and fascinating, but now that modera invention has produced a dredge and buckets operated by water power and electricity, doing the work of 1,500 to 2,000 men each day, the days of the "grizzly" and the "rocker" appear to be numbered—so far as being considered distinctive mechanics for cold sidered distinctive machines for gold recovery.

A steam dredger is essentially a "grizzly" apparatus on a great scale. The machinery lifts gravels from the river bed or the bar, dumps it aboard the boat, washes it over successive screens, and ultimately leaves the gold adhering to blanket cloth, from which work it is washed in receptacles containing mercury, so that amalgam is formed. A steam "grizzly" and all other plant contributing to the formation of a first-class modern gold-dredging apparatus, cost from $60,000 to $125,000—or more, according to capacity.-T. H. Brooks,

A New Kind of Insenity.

Many weird things come to the at-tention of the men who look after the immigrants. Especially do the offi-cials who have charge of the deport-ing of undesirables not find their lives monotonous. Romance looms up every week—scene of tragedy, scenes of comedy. An interesting incident occurred the other day—something rather new for Canada. A big train crept into Ottawa populated mostly by Russians. There was nothing in that to cause cub reporters to prick up their ears; many incoming foreigners hiking for the prairies are given a glimpse of the capital city en route. But this train was not westward bound: It was pulling in the opposite direction—full of deports, so the officials said.

They also calmly said in answer to journalistic queries, that all the for-eigners on the train were demented. Nor were they joking. Of course, there are many forms of insanity. Brainstorm was not one of the symptoms of this. The Russians were afflicted with a peculiar malady com-mon to those of the Slavic temperament-intense homesickness. gia is the name in the psychology books for it. The Canadian Immigration Department has so far, except in instances, been saved nostalgia troubles. However, other Govern-ments have been worried. The United States spends a large sum annually returning Russians who yearn for their little villages, out of place in the western hustle.

ESTIMATES TABLED

Main Expenditures For the Year Total Eight Millions.

MILK BILL GOES THROUGH

Hon, James Duff's Measure Is Given Its Third Reading-Mr. McNaught Introduces a Bill to Give Municipalities the Right to Control Car Lines - Provision Made For Museum and Prisons.

Toronto, March 21.—Eight million dollars is in round figures the estimated amount to be expended on current and capital account, according to the main estimates presented to the Ontario Legislature yesterday after-

The pure milk bill was given its

The pure milk bill was given as third reading, and a resolution of appreciation of the great services rendered Canada by His Excellency the Governor-General was also adopted.

Hon. Col. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, briefly explained the main estimates for the fiscal year, Nov. 1, 1911, to Oct. 31, 1912. The estimates were he said, practically the same as were, he said, practically the same as last year, when the various salaries increases were considered. There was about half a million dollars on capital account which was for Government House, prison farm and Central Prison buildings, and the new provincial museum.

The amount for the Provincial Departments is $7,332,411.66. Public buildings, $625,500, and public works, $70,200.

Colonization and mining roads, $133,000.

The net aggrégate is $8,090,911.66.

The sum of $200,000 is appropriated towards the erection of the new Government House on East Bloor street.

Hon. J. Duff, Minister of Agriculture, declined to accept the task of issuing a set of regulations for the enforcement of the pure milk bill.

Hon. A. G. MacKay argued that it was the duty of the Department to make the regulations.

Hon. Mr. Duff insisted that they should be left to the municipal councils, and the bill went through committee in that form.

mittee in that form.

J. J. Carrick, Port Arthur, protested against the clause in the Assessment Act, to abolish the fixed assessment. ment on Port Arthur acreage land.

He declared the clause iniquitous. Hon. I. B. Lucas said the acreage assessment had been $1, $4, $10, and last year $20. The committee considared the time had arrived to arrange lor a change to the regular assess-ment, the present rate of $20 to con-tinue until Dec. 31, 1912.

Mr. Carrick replied that if the Ontario Government was the tower of strength it was supposed to be, it should not permit iniquitous legislation holding back the development of the northern country.

Sir James Whitney said a member should not use the term iniquitous regarding the proceedings of a committee without evidence to confirm it. The chairman of the committee informed Mr. Carrick that he could move an amendment on the third reading. Sir James Whitney has respondedto a crisis by opening the way for a bill to vindicate the right of Toronto and other municipalities to control their streets and highways. As it is retroactive, it will negative the radial double-track order to the Rosedale golf links, which otherwise the city would have to fight out in the Court of Appeals. The bill was introduced yesterday by W. K. McNaught, M.P.P. It is entitled an Act to amend the Railway Act the Railway Act.

At the night session the estimates were passed through committee, after three hours' discussion.

J. McEwing, East Wellington, enquired why the appropriation for technical education for 1912 was only $96,-300, while $103,700 was voted for 1911? It was explained that this year there was $7,400 in some special appropriation not required for 1912.

Hon. A. G. MacKay asked if there was any special reason for an increase from $41,500 to $49,500 for the maintenance of patients in municipal sanitaria for consumptives. Mr. Hanna explained that it was due to a statu-tory requirement fixing the grant according to the number of patients, which was increasing.

Mr. Studholme wanted to know if the Salvation Army was to get a bo-nus of $5 besides the grant of $10,000. Bonuses only paid for domestic servants and only after they had been located and proved to be satisfactory.

TOM MARKS COMING

The phenomenal success of the Tom Marks Stock Company this season is due in no little measure to the word of Tom Marks and his the critics agree that you get more real enjoyment to the square inch o'clock, to the place of interment, than any other stock company on St. John's Cemetery. Funeral than any other stock company on St.

Mr. Marks may be said to be even better as a comedian than ever for no artist with his natural aptitudes for comedy could impersonate a variety of characters as he had done since first seen here without a broadening of his artistic view and a refinement of his comic method. He has a keen sense of humor and knowledge of just how far he must go to make a point. Arrangements have been made to present Tom Marks and his excellent company at the Opera House for three nights commencing Monday, March
