APPLICATION FOR CHIEF

Chief Jarvis of Bowmanville Retired Thursday After Many Years' Service

Many applications for the office of Chief Constable for Bowmanville have been received by John Lyle, town clerk. It has been a source of comment and interest the last few days to the people and residents of the town concerning the question "Who is going to be the new Chief of Police?" No doubt the same question would be repeated amongst citizens of any town if the office of chief were made vacant as such is the case there that the present chief resigned.

It is going to be in this case especially, a difficult matter for the honorable body of men, the mayor and council, to decide finally just who is to be the man to fill the position. There have been men of merit, men of courage, men of boldness and men of character seek the position by mail, by telephone and by personal interview. There have been Scotchmen, Englishmen, Federal men, Provincial men and former chiefs apply for the honor to wear the long blue coat and peaked hat which is at present worn by the esteemed Chief Jarvis, who relinquished his title yesterday. Bowmanville is a particular town and although there may be the occasional case of disobedience of the law, as will crop up anywhere, on the whole, Bowmanville wants her officials to be particular also, and she wants them to maintain the standard which the town in itself sets forth, one of the very best.

The name of S. Venton, who at present is a member of the Oshawa police force, is being pushed for the prospective position, as also is another member of that body, a Mr. Flintoff. As far as may be ascertained, both are eligible in a truly remarkable degree and all that may be mentioned through the press is that "may the best man win." Of course there are many details which must not be omitted in the appointment of a new chief, and the council which will meet in all probability next Monday, has a hard row to hoe when they settle down to do the appointing.

Thomas Cousins, a well known provincial man and familiar with this district, is also on the list for the council's scrutiny as well as the honorable chief of Campbellford. Many others will also be considered in the run.

The police committee will probably meet during the remaining few days of the week to consider the applications and the decision on Monday will be final.

MRS. A. McMASTER LAID TO REST

Old and Respected Resident Passed Away Wednesday Evening

The funeral of the late Mrs. Alexander McMaster was held this afternoon from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. W. J. Oke, Hope St., and was largely attended by friends and relatives of the deceased. Rev. F. W. Anderson of the Port Hope United Church conducted the services and interment was at the Port Hope Union Cemetery.

The late Mrs. McMaster, whose maiden name was Jane Campbell was in her 91st year, and passed to the Great Beyond on Wednesday evening. She was a resident of Port Hope for most of her life and her many friends will regret to learn of her passing. Some two years ago, the aged lady sustained a fractured hip and was confined to her bed. She became seriously ill the first part of the week and died on Wednesday evening about five-thirty o'clock.

Her husband predeceased her some years ago and four daughters survive. They include Mrs. Hipwell of Lang, Sask., Mrs. McCague of Baltimore and Mrs. W. J. Oke and Mrs. G. Long of Port Hope.

WAS WELL KNOWN IN PORT HOPE

Capt. Williamson Passes Away In Collingwood At Age Of 80

Collingwood lost one of its oldest residents in the death of Benjamin Alexander Williamson at the age of 80. He had been a resident of the town for 45 years. Captain Williamson had sailed the Great Lakes for 60 years and was known in every port. Born in Edinburgh, he came to this country in his youth and spent many years in Port Hope. The late Captain Williamson was a member of the Sons of Scotland and a lifelong Liberal. He and Mrs. Williamson celebrated their golden wedding in 1924. The veteran sailor is survived by his wife and six daughters: Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Allen and Miss Gladys of Fla.; Mrs. G. Broderick, Seattle; Toronto; Mrs. Quinn, Jacksonville; Mrs. N. Bell of Oshawa, and four sons, Herbert and Ernel of Cleveland, Ansel of New Westminster, B. C., and Howard of Midland. In addition there are ten grandchildren.

ANIMALS INCREASE IN PARKS

The operation of the national parks of Canada as game sanctuaries has demonstrated that the sanctuary idea is the most successful method of bringing back native animals once thought in danger of extinction.

It is a wretched thing to lean on the reputation of others, lest the pillars being withdrawn the roof should fall in ruins.

VICTORIAS LOSE SECOND GAME

And Will Play Third Game With Maple Leafs On Tuesday Evening

The Maple Leafs evened matters up in the play offs for the Port Hope Junior Town League Thursday night when they defeated the Victorias 2-1 in a hard fought struggle. The Leafs, facing elimination, played strenuous hockey and after a one goal lead in the second frame, held the advantage after thrusting several stubborn Victoria attacks.

The Victorias won the first game of the play offs for the league championship Tuesday night 4 to 1 and the third and deciding contest will be played next Tuesday evening commencing at 8.15. The first two fixtures were played on straight time but in the game next Tuesday regulation O.H.A. rules will be used regarding time, etc. For the last two games, a good number of fans attended and on Tuesday a record crowd should be out to see the two fast junior teams.

The score by periods last night was as follows: First Leafs 1 Victorias 1, 2nd Leafs 2 Victorias 1, and 3rd, Leafs 2, Victorias 1. At the opening of the game the Victorias were content to adopt a defensive style of play similar to that of Tuesday night. As a result Haskill in goal for the Vics was deluged with shots from all angles.

The game had hardly got under way before Clement was penalized and McElroy followed a few seconds later for boarding Strong. Shortly after the commencement of the first session, Davison broke away on a rush, jumped the defence and took a wicked shot from the side. Wade made the stop but McElroy secured the puck from beside the net and beat the Leafs' goalie. The Leafs evened matters up when Strong scored a lucky goal. Clement took a long shot from behind the net and the rubber rolled in after hitting Haskill. The Leafs had the best of the play in the latter part of the period and Haskill had numerous saves.

Both teams went at it hammer and tongs in the middle chukker and half way through Clement broke the deadlock on a lucky shot from centre. The Victorias gamely tried to knot the count but the Leafs held them at bay for the rest of the game. So with a game apiece, interest is at fever heat regarding next Tuesday night's game.

The teams: Leafs—Goal, Wade; defense, B. Sherry and Giddy; centre Strong; wings Clement and Sneyd; subs Paddon and Leuty. Victorias—Goal, Haskill; defense, Stephens and Trew; centre McElroy; wings Highfield and Davison; subs F. Sherry and Berbert. Referee—Johnny Rowden.

IS 72 YEARS OLD BUT ONLY HAS 18 BIRTHDAYS

Jas. G. Walker, Blooms Grove Ave., At Home to Friends On His Leap Year Birthday

February 29th, the extra day in 1928 was an auspicious date for Mr. James G. Walker, Blooms Grove ave., who celebrated the 72nd year of his birth but in reality celebrated his 18th birthday, having been born on the last day of February, seventy-two years ago.

Among those from out of town who invaded the home of Mr. Walker to extend felicitations Wednesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Grant and Mrs. G. L. Fair of Toronto; and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Walker of Welcome.

A very pleasant evening was spent in social discourse, etc., and the members of the party provided bountiful refreshments. It is hoped that Mr. Walker will be spared to celebrate another birthday four years hence.

Mrs. K. Hill of Port Hope, was in Peterboro Wednesday evening for the annual banquet of the Companions of the Forest held at the Empress Hotel.

"IGNORANCE OF THE LAW IS NO EXCUSE."

The following clipped from the Mail and Empire is interesting: Make Laws Known

A useful thing the Ontario Government should do is to make new legislation known. The recent "upset" over "qualifications" of councils in several towns is due to legislation put through a few months ago and little known and understood. Of what use to the people is the publication of the Ontario Gazette or the Statutes? In the hands of a lawyer or an official they serve as the medium through which advice is given to a client. Legislation affecting the carrying on of government, both municipal and provincial, should be made known to the people generally through their local press, and not only in neatly bound books to be placed on shelves in a few offices.—Renfrew Mercury.

As an excuse "ignorance" is not accepted by Police Magistrate Campbell or in any Court right up to the Privy Council.

Every session of the Provincial Legislature the members endeavour to earn their allowance or salary, by making new laws or amending the old statutes.

The common people, including, of course, editors, have little opportunity of knowing just what tinkering the laws have had even those learned gentlemen—the lawyers—find it difficult to keep abreast of the times in law.

Since Confederation and even before, so far as we know, every reasonable effort has been made by the various governments, Federal and Provincial, to make the laws known to those most affected—the people. Copies of the statutes as printed year by year, and the Revised Statutes have heretofore been delivered free to the newspapers, Justices of the Peace, Municipal Clerks and others.

The last Provincial revision we have is dated 1914, revision, consolidation or digestion of the laws is supposed to be made by especially qualified expounders of the law every ten years. We understand a belated issue has been published dated 1927, this may not be true for we haven't met anyone who has seen a copy.

The Provincial laws are more closely associated with every act of our citizens than the Dominion laws. Did it ever occur to you that we cannot walk, ride, eat, especially drink, do business, loaf, have a doctor, do without one, be sick and go to the hospital, be born, go to school, be married, vote, or even die and be buried without being controlled by the Provincial laws?

In days of old the laws were not cheaply printed, but those at the head of affairs explained them to the people. How often we read—"Speak unto the children of Israel," and the people and laws were thus made acquainted. Nowadays it is different, we cannot expect Premier Ferguson to come down to Port Hope, or even go out to Bobcaygeon to expound the law, or would Col. Price do it at any price, for it is not necessary.

What we can and do expect is that every effort be made to let the people know what they have to do.

The withholding of copies of the law to the usual persons cannot be done in the interests of economy for that word is not known to governments.

McDONALD WILL LIKELY HANG

Seeks An Opportunity To See Her Husband Before the Executions

Recent reports tending to show that Doris McDonald, who with her husband, George McDonald, is under sentence of death for the murder of Adelard Bouchard, is sure to escape the hangman's noose have not a very strong basis for their optimism, according to information at Montreal. A petition for leniency and commutation of the woman's sentence to life imprisonment is under discussion of the cabinet at present and a report received states that five ministers are inclined to allow the woman to hang, unless strong proof is forthcoming that the girl was a mere tool in the hands of her husband.

Doris is asking to be allowed to see her husband. She has not seen him since they were both sentenced at Valleyfield and when he was brought to Bordeaux jail and she was taken to Fullum street women's jail. Such a visit between husband and wife can only be arranged, Chief Lorrain of the provincial police said by order from the authorities at Ottawa.

ROCKEY

PORTS IN FINALS

Led by Captain Pete Kilpatrick, Port Colborne intermates continued in the O.H.A. semi-finals by defeating Toronto Parkviews by 2 goals to 1. It was the Toronto team's home game, and Port Colborne, who earned a four goal lead on Monday night, thereby win the round by five goals. They meet the winner of the Kitchener-Newmarket series, with the first game at Port Colborne Monday night. Newmarket invade Kitchener Saturday night, carrying a three goal lead from the first game.

KITCHENER JUNIORS OUT

Newmarket juniors will meet the Toronto Marlboros in the finals for the O.H.A. junior championship as a result of their 3 to 1 victory at the Auditorium at Kitchener last night, thus taking the round 8 to 3 from Kitchener. The winners amply demonstrated their superiority, even though they did play a careful defensive game for the better part of the game. The winners got a rather fortunate break on a lucky goal but they deserved their victory, even though the homesters completely outplayed the Northerners in the second period and should have had more than the one goal they tallied. The winners were better in the first and third sessions, but not by so wide a margin as the homesters were in the second.

ST. MIKE'S ELIMINATED

The old axiom of the good little man and the good big man was exemplified once more at the Arena last night, when the good big Marlboro team beat the good little St. Michael's 4 to 2. This gives the Dukes the round 8 to 3, and they will now enter the finals against Newmarket conquerors of Kitchener. There was not an empty seat in the reserved section, nor was there a voice not raised at least once at the end of the 60 minutes of action-crammed hockey. In fact, most of the crowd were yelling all the time, so excited were they.

O.H.A. BULLETIN

The O.H.A. senior finals will be played between the Toronto University and Kitchener, with the first game at Kitchener, March 3, and the return game at Toronto on Thursday, March 6, total points 10-4 in the two games to count. Neutral goal umpires and time-keepers will be appointed by the O.H.A. Guy Smith of Hamilton will referee. The junior finals are scheduled for Monday, March 5 and Wednesday, 7, at the Arena Gardens, with Marlborough and Newmarket as the contending teams. The winning team in this series will play the N.O.H.A. junior champions, either Soo Greyhounds or Iroquois Falls, at Arena Gardens next week. The intermediate finals also will be played next week. If Newmarket is one of the finalists, the games will be played Tuesday and Thursday, March 6 and 8, and the winning team will meet South Porcupine, N.O.H.A. champions in a two game series.

GRADS IN PARIS

University of Toronto Grads Olympic hockey champions have arrived in Paris laden with silver cups given by Berlin in appreciation of the splendid exhibition game the Grads played against their substitutes while visiting in the German city prior to coming to Paris. W. A. Hewitt, of Toronto, Secretary of the Ontario Hockey Association, who is with the team, stated that the game was one of the best ever seen. The Grads beat their spares, 5 to 4. Hugh Plaxton, C. Delaney, M. Mueller, L. Hudson and Roger Plaxton arrived in advance of the party, for they chose an aeroplane for their mode of travel. Mr. Hewitt and P. J. Mulqueen, Chairman of the Canadian Olympic Committee, said they had received a deluge of telegrams and congratulations in connection with the Grads' decisive victories over all opposition in winning the world's hockey championship.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King

Prime Minister of Canada, cabled the following congratulatory message to the Grads: "My colleagues join me in sending hearty congratulations on your splendid victory at St. Moritz. Canada is proud of your achievement."

Sam McBride, Mayor of Toronto, wired congratulations to the Grads on their wonderful achievement, and stated that the citizens were delighted. The Canadian Hockey Association also wired in the same vein.

Tonight the Grads will play the Paris team at the Palais de Glace, and will then journey to London to meet an all-star English team on Sunday. On March 9, the distinguished hockeyists will be presented to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

Mr. Hewitt, commenting on the trip, said that the sight which inspired him most was that which occurred at Vienna, when everybody in the rink stood up with bowed heads when "God Save the King" was rendered before the game the Grads played against the Austrian team.

LINERS

Catcher Bubbles Hargrave has been reappointed captain of the Cincinnati Reds.

Manager George Moriarty of the Detroit Tigers told scribes he has set himself the task of attempting to make Harry Rice, obtained from the Browns, the best base runner in the American League.

With only Catcher Johnny Gooch missing, the Pittsburgh Pirates settled down to work Thursday at Paso Robles, Cal.

Oliver Sax, third baseman, who stole 61 bases for Scranton last year is said to be going good enough with the Browns to warrant a season's job.

Kirk Cyster showed the greatest yardage of any of the Chicago Cub sluggers at Catalina Island.

"Sad Sam" Jones, veteran pitcher, has finally sent word to the Washington Senators that he is on the way to camp after having presented, it is said, a $10,000 offer, and received in return a contract calling for less money. "Goose" Goslin has received a $1,000 increase to $14,000. Joe Judge and Tommy Taylor are still out of the fold.

Pitchers Jack Russell, Bill Bradley and Danny McFayden cut loose during the Boston Red Sox drill and the form they flashed tickled Manager Bill Carrigan.

COBB SIGNS

Tyrus Raymond Cobb, famous outfielder, returns to the Philadelphia Athletics for another season.

This announcement was made by Manager Connie Mack Thursday.

a telegram from the Athletics' training quarters at Fort Myers, Fla.

The renowned Georgian ended all conjectures about his plans for the future by wiring Mack that he had accepted his terms. Cobb said he had fully decided to remain out of the game for a year or two, but that Manager Mack appeared to want him so badly that he had agreed to his terms. Friendship for the Mack, the Georgia Peach said, was the greatest influence in drawing him back to the game.

Three of the most noted veterans of the American League are now enrolled with the Athletics—Cobb, Speaker and Collins. Their combined ages total 121 years Cobb being 41 and the others forty each.

BOXING

DELANEY BEATEN

The heavyweight ambitions of Jack Delaney crumbled once again last night, this time before the bull-like attack of the iron jawed brawler from New Zealand, Tom Heeney.

Before a crowd of more than 18,000 that paid $175,000 to see the first of the heavyweight elimination semi-finals, Heeney carried off the decision over the erstwhile French-Canadian sharpshooter in fifteen mauling, bruising rounds.

It was not a one sided victory for the block, square jawed boxer from the Antipodes, but it was decisive nevertheless, and gained as a result of a determined rally in the last rounds.

In a struggle that was fast if not spectacular, punctuated by bruising clinches, Heeney emerged the victor because he was the aggressor all the way. Chunky Tom seldom gave handsome Jack a chance to get set for a knockout swing. Outboxed, outsmarted and outspurred by his rival, Heeney nevertheless kept charging in, punishing Delaney severely about the body with an attack that was as persistent as it was damaging.

Delaney, conceding nearly twenty pounds to his far more rugged rival, stood up gallantly under a very steady pummeling. The sharpshooter's main weapon was a left hook to the jaw. He used this repeatedly, with jarring effect, but it seldom made more than a fleeting impression on the grey and rocklike countenance of the Anzac.

The margin, nevertheless, between Delaney's sharpshooting and Heeney's constant plugging was so close at the finish that there was a wide divergence of opinion, not only among ringside experts, but among the spectators. The verdict of the two judges and Referee Denning in Heeney's favor was greeted with mingled boos and cheers by the colorful crowd that jammed the arena.

CHAPTER II

Although the events I am now relating happened many years ago, although the persons principally affected by them are dead, with the exception of myself and one other, I shall still, for caution's sake, avoid mentioning by name the various places visited by Mr. Dark and myself for the purpose of making inquiries. It will be enough if I describe generally what we did, and if I mention in substance only the result at which we ultimately arrived.

On reaching Glasgow, Mr. Dark altered his original intention of going straight to the north of Scotland, considering it safer to make sure, if possible, of the course of the yacht in her cruise along the western coast. The carrying out of this new resolution involved the necessity of delaying our onward journey by perpetually diverging from the direct route. Three times we were sent uselessly to wild places in the Hebrides by false reports. Twice we wandered away inland, following gentlemen who answered generally to the description of Mr. Smith, but who turned out to be the wrong men as soon as we set eyes on them. These vain excursions—especially the three to the western island—consumed time terribly. It was more than two months from the day when we had left Darruck Hill before we found ourselves up at the very top of Scotland at last, driving into a considerable seaside town, with a harbor attached to it. Thus far our journey had led to no results, and I began to despair of our making any discoveries. As for Mr. Dark, he never got to the end of his temper and his patience. "You do not know how to wait, William," was his constant remark whenever he heard me complaining. "I do."

HIGHER WAISTLINE IN SPRING MODE

The lengthened skirt and the higher waistline that were expressed in the winter mode have become a reality with the advent of spring. However, many designers ignore the heightened waistline in some of their models as it has not, as yet, become universal. It takes time for the feminine world to grasp such a radical change, and it must evolve into being in a rather slow manner.

Let us take four leading houses such as Chanel, Rene, Molyneux and Douillet and see their version of the new mode.

Chanel shows a slim silhouette and rather low waistline, while skirts fall just below the knees except in the case of certain evening gowns. The skirt fullness is interpreted in pleated treatments, stitched quite low or else by circular cuts. She introduces a one-piece model that has the appearance of a two-piece dress by contrasting bodice and skirt. Suits are important, and, like Worth, they are short, straight and collarless. Chantel however, uses new and interesting belts. On the evening gowns, trains fall from the waistline.

Doeillet introduces some afternoon and evening gowns that place the waistline at normal, but the majority of models have the waistline at the top of the hips. Taffeta in black, chiffon in white and tulle in both shades are featured. In his suit models we find some capes replacing the short jackets.

All of Rene's models have a wearable quality. A longer skirt than was worn last year is evident in the afternoon models, and skirts are motivated by many finely pleated tiers as well as irregular effects. Moire is used for dresses, coats, jumpers and evening gowns.

Molyneux is another who has retained the low waistline in spite of the radical changes adapted by other designers. He uses fullness in the skirt but shuns any bulkiness by putting the skirt onto a smoothly fitting hip-yoke. Bodices are slim with slight flat blouses a feature of several evening dresses.

The Oil For The Farmer—A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the farm house will save many a journey for the doctor. It is not only good for the children when taken with colds and croup, and for the mature who suffer from pains and aches, but there are directions for its use on sick cattle. There should always be a bottle of it in the house.

METHOD TO SAVE GIRDLED TREES

Department of Agriculture Gives Some Timely Orchard Advice

That persistent and destructive orchard pest, the "mouse," has been on the rampage again and has girdled many fruit trees in the apple sections east of Toronto. In most cases of injury by mice the damage is generally done to young trees, but this winter the little destroyers have developed a particularly voracious appetite and have also eaten the bark on large, old trees. The type of injury is, moreover, quite severe, in many cases the trees are entirely girdled at the base. Trees injured in this manner will surely die unless reparative measures are adopted. Fortunately for the orchardist methods of repairing most cases of mouse injury have been developed and are now successfully used. This operation is called Bridge Grafting and consists in making a bridge of living tissue across the injured area, thus permitting of the translocation of food supplies and a continuation of growth and fruitfulness.

Various methods of bridge grafting may be used with more or less success, but the method preferred by the writer of this article is known as the Channel Bridge. The details of this method are as follows:

- 1 Select for scions strong, well-developed, healthy shoots of the past season's growth. These may be taken from any hardy variety of the species to be grafted.
- 2 Make scions from four to six inches longer than vertical section of girdled area.
- 3 Reduce diameter of both ends of scions to one half original thickness for a distance of from two to three inches.
- 4 Very lightly pare edges of reduced sections to more thoroughly expose cambium area. Extreme care must be taken in doing this to avoid removing too much tissue from the edge of the scion—just enough outer bark should be pared off to expose the green tissue beneath.

5 Place scion in upright position with lower pared end extending two to three inches below the girdle and upper end a similar distance above the girdle.

6 Outline with pencil or knife the points where scions come in contact with bark when placed as directed above.

7 Cut channels in bark the precise width and length of figure made by knife or pencil. In making the channels, special care should be taken to dig out all bark from bottom and to make it so that a close, precise fit of scion to trunk may be secured.

8 Set scion in position with basal part in the lower channel and the top in upper channel. The exposed wood of scion must come in contact with the bottom of channel. If the channel has inadvertently been made too wide for scion, crowd scion on one side of channel so as to get cambium contact.

9 Nail scions in position using two small three-quarter inch wire nails at each end.

10 Cover all points of contact and all exposed wood surface with good grafting wax applied in liquid condition.

11 Bridge grafting may be done just before growth starts or even later, provided scions are kept fresh and dormant.

Scions inserted by this method may be set as closely as one inch apart and when placed as described will eventually form a living wall around the girdled part of the tree.

In many cases when the scions start to grow, small sprouts will develop on those scions. When this occurs, leave these shoots as they help the scion to make a more rapid diameter growth for two years.

The directions given above are intended for trees of two inches in diameter and upward. On trees less than two inches in diameter the best results are obtained by sawing off the trunk of the tree just below girdle and grafting on the stump by the cleft or channel method.

For more complete directions for bridge grafting by this and other methods, the reader is referred to Ontario Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 324—"Grafting Fruit Trees."

Ski line view of Canadian Metropolis

Montreal, Metropolis of the Dominion of Canada, is so fortunate as to possess a great natural playground in the heart of the city so that it is but a few steps from the everyday matter-of-fact world of trade and commerce into sylvan retreats. Mount Royal possesses attractions in every season of the year and for every age. In winter time it affords numerous paths for the ski enthusiasts, providing level ways for the leisurely and swift runs for those who want thrills. Mount Royal has the further distinction of being forbidden to the automobile at all times. From the point where the camera man has found the ski pair resting a wide view of the city and the surrounding district is obtainable. Manufacturing plants vie with the spires and just to the left of the middle distance the face of Notre Dame contrasts with a vast grain elevator. At the right may be seen the great Victoria Jubilee Bridge connecting the Island of Montreal with the South shore, crossing the St. Lawrence now covered with its winter mantle of ice and snow. SETTLE ACTIONS AGAINST COUNTIES

Plaintiffs Drop Claim and the United Counties Drop the Counter Claim

At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Tuesday, in the action of Tijou vs. the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, E. Lash, for the plaintiff, obtained an order on consent dismissing the action without costs. In this action the Toronto Eastern Transport Co. brought an action for damages for $1500 against the counties by reason of a bridge on the Castleton-Warkworth road collapsing while one of its trucks was passing over loaded with butter, the truck falling through into the creek. The counties defended the action and brought a counter-claim against the company for $1900 by reason of it being overloaded. At Osgoode Hall by consent the order was obtained dismissing both claim and counter-claim each party paying its own costs. E.

Lash appeared for the plaintiffs and F. D. Boggs, K.C., for the counties.

Molly O'Day and Alec B. Francis in "The Shepherd of the Hills" MOLLY O'DAY AND ALEC B. FRANCIS

In a scene from the First National Picture "The Shepherd of the Hills" from the widely ready book by Harold Bell Wright; a big attraction at the Royal Theatre tonight and tomorrow. Everyone who has read the story will want to see it, while those who do not know its famous characters should make their acquaintance now. A Cameo Comedy and second episode of that promising English mystery serial "Blake of Scotland Yard" complete a fine week end bill.

TO ERECT SPECIAL SPEED INDICATORS

Quebec Highways Minister Orders Signs for Rail Crossings

Special plates indicating speed limit for automobiles when nearing level crossings are being prepared. The speed limit is 8 miles an hour by the Quebec Minister of Highways, and the plates, 6 inches deep by 18 inches long, bear a large eight together with the word "speed" both in English and French.

The plates will be placed on poles which the Railway Commissioners have erected 300 feet from a level crossing.

INCREASE IN LEAD PRODUCTS

The total increase of lead production in Canada in 1926 was 15,150 tons or nearly 12 per cent of that produced in 1925; and of zinc 20,335 tons or between 37 and 38 per cent of that of 1925. Increases in both are indicated for 1927.

DIAMOND MINES PROVE RICH FIND

Member of S. African Assembly States Mines Richer Ever Discovered

"The richest diamond field ever discovered anywhere," is what Col. Sir David Harris, member of the South African House of Assembly for Kimberly, said about the new diamond field that has been disclosed in the debate in the House of Assembly.

The romantic discovery of fabulously rich alluvial deposits of diamonds at Alexander Bay, at the mouth of Orange River, came to the knowledge of members of the House in connection with the debate on apparently an unimportant matter, and it was stated that the diamonds were lying on the surface waiting to be picked up.

A Design That Is Particularly Designing

This designing young miss has designs on a certain young man's fastidious pin. And she has designed a dress which she is certain will help in attaining success. The tricky curved bands crossing at the left side, directly over her heart, make an ideal place to pin the tribute. At any rate, the whole effect of the frock is very pleasing to her. The girle brought snugly about her slender hips and fastened by a smart buckle at the top of the flare gives her extraordinarily nice lines. The uneven hemline is a smart feature. This style is very well adapted to crepe satin. The shiny side could make the skirt, the lower part of the blouse, and the trimming bands. A coat trimmed with similar bands would complete a charming ensemble. (Copyright, 1928, by Butterick)

CANADA IS AFTER STRIP OF ALASKA

The Alaskan panhandle is like a fence over which it is necessary to climb to go in or out of Northern British Columbia, according to Dr. Forrest A. Kerr, of the Canadian Geological Survey.

Dr. Kerr supports the version of H. F. Kergin, member of the Provincial Legislature for Atlin, who urged in the House recently that British Columbia should take steps to acquire the panhandle. Since then the proposal has aroused considerable controversy in Canada and the United States. Whether the discussion is crystallized into official action remains to be seen but meanwhile mining men with interests in northern British Columbia are closely watching the situation.

In the opinion of Dr. Kerr, the securing of the panhandle would be of great value to the western section of Northern British Columbia as the mineral possibilities in this district are great.

"The geology of a large part of the area adjacent to the Stikine River south of Telegraph Creek is similar to that of some of our great mining camps," he said, "and would seem to have great possibilities as a producer of wealth. The country is new in that it has never been thoroughly prospected and it is readily accessible by means of the Stikine and its various large tributaries. It would seem to be a very favorable area for prospecting."

SAFE BLOWN $8 FOR WORK

No Trace of Robbers Who Broke Into C.P.R. Freight Shed At Belleville

Robbers broke into the Canadian Pacific freight sheds at Belleville during the early hours of Thursday morning, blew the safe with nitroglycerine and secured $8,000 in currency which was the only money left by the staff Wednesday evening. Checks and valuable papers were found lying around the floor when the office was opened.

Detectives who are working on the case are of the opinion that the safe cracking was the work of professionals rather than amateurs. They left no traces.

THE PRAYER IN THE GARDEN

When twilight was sinking in stillness to rest,
And the last beams of daylight shown dim in the West,
Over fields by pale moonlight I wander abroad
In deep meditation to think of my God.

While passing a garden I paused for to hear,
A voice faint and plaintive that fell on my ear;
The voice of a sufferer affecting my heart,
While pleading in anguish the poor sinner's part.

I listen a moment, then turn me to see
What man of compassion this stranger might be;
I saw Him low kneeling upon the cold ground—
The loveliest being that ever was found.

So deep was His sorrow, so fervent His prayer,
Then down on his bosom rolled sweat blood and tear;
I wept to behold Him, I asked Him His name;
He answered "Thy Jesus, from Heaven I came."

"I am the Redeemer, for thee I must die,"
The cup is most bitter, but cannot pass by,
Thy sins like a mountain are laid upon me
And all this deep anguish I suffer for Thee.

IN MEMORIAM

BOWEN—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Marjory Evelyn Bowen, who passed away March 2nd, 1924. This day brings sad memories, Of that loved one who has gone to rest, But God took her to Heaven, He always does what is best. Some may think we have forgotten Just because they see us smile; But in reality we are thinking, Thinking of her all the while. —Sadly missed by Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Well, if it isn't another of those days with all kinds of weather.

The glorious sunshine of the morning did not last, for black storm clouds were swept over the western horizon and we were treated to a blizzard.

"Princess Chysanthemum," the United Church Sunday School was a Filled Church Sunday School was a fine production which took a great deal of practice and work to prepare so beautifully. It is a pity that it was only put on once after all the work of preparation. Besides those we have already mentioned as assisting on the Costume Committee, we might also have mentioned Mrs. Nicol, Mrs. W. A. Meadows and Mrs. M. M. Carscadden.

"The trucks that pass in the night," cause a considerable interest when they try to pull a trailer up the Walton street hill without chains. Another Labaw tractor pulling a trailer and semi-trailer stalled in front of the Guide where he put on chains and after an hour's struggle reached Brown street. From there to the top he had the assistance of the High way snow plow, and made the hill with something like two hour's delay and a long scrape chain marks to show.

Wm. Croft, Queen street, has sold his 100 acre farm three miles east of Rossmount to John R. Lightle of Hamilton township. The property for the past several years was worked by James Croft. The sale was made by auctioneer J. H. Wilson of Port Hope.

There will be general skating at the rink tonight from eight to ten o'clock.

Birnie Hodgetts will represent Cobourg Collegiate in the school competition of the Canadian and International Oratorical contests being conducted in Ontario by the Toronto Star in connection with the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

In the 17th musical revue staged at the Royal Theatre last evening by Al Stagg's Capitolsians, "Perfect Love," an appealing number written by Cyril Brown of Port Hope, was played by the orchestra and the chorus was sung by Al Stagg. The number made a big hit with the appreciative audience.

Amongst the numerous messages of congratulation received by Radio Station CPCA on their daily broadcasts from 2LO, London, England, the Toronto Star quotes the following: "Re London. Congratulations. Magnificent. It made one's blood tingle to realize the fact," is the enthusiastic comment of W. T. R. Preston of Port Hope, Ont.

After a blistering blast from the bench, Wellington Brunt, of Newcastle, Ont., was fined $20 and costs or 30 days in Toronto Police Court, and jailed for seven days for reckless driving on Bloor east, lost his license to drive for three months, and his liquor permit, which showed 137 varieties, indefinitely.

Five box cars of a train of seven, drawn by an Oshawa Railway electric shunter and consigned to Oshawa plants of General Motors piled up at Ritson Road and Bruce Street at half past four on Thursday morning, one being completely wrecked, the four others badly smashed. The contents of the cars, consisting mostly of lumber, were strewn over the pavement. Cars were hurled from their trucks and thrown several feet while four of them turned on their sides. Some of these cars landed on lawns on the south side of Bruce street. The corner is completely blocked from traffic, and residents of the district are fortunate that their homes are not damaged. No one was injured in the crash. The damage is estimated at $75,000.
