Bible Students Association To Petition Against Ban On Their Radio

The International Bible Students Association of Canada is preparing a petition protesting against the cancellation of the radio licenses for their broadcasting stations. Howard S. Ross, K.C., of Montreal, and Norman Heyd of Toronto are in Ottawa discussing the matter with department officials.

It is stated that the department has notified their stations at Toronto (CKCX), Edmonton (CHCY), Saskatoon (CHUC) and Burnaby (CFYC) that their licenses will not be renewed on April 1. The department objects to controversial matter going out on the air, counsel state, but they claim the right of "free speech."

COOLIDGE IS NOT IN FIELD

Refuses Wyoming's Request To Set Aside Personal Inclination

Once again President Coolidge has reiterated his desire not to be a candidate for re-election. He declined Wednesday to accede to a request of the Wyoming Republican State Central Committee that he "waive his personal preference and consent to continue, for an additional four years that leadership which has brought honor and prosperity to his country."

He made known his declination in a letter from his Secretary, Everett Sanders to L. C. Hinkle, Chairman of the Committee.

"The President has received your letter of the seventeenth enclosing a copy of the resolution adopted by the Republican State Committee of Wyoming on March 10," said the Sanders letter to Hinkle. "While he, of course, very greatly appreciates and thanks you for the expression of confidence, the President directs me to say that he must decline to grant the request of the committee."

TOWN COUNCIL VISIT HOSPITAL

Made Thorough Inspection of Building and Had Afternoon Tea

The Town Council were kept on the alert throughout the entire day Wednesday, and behaved like real city aldermen in the performance of their civic duties. No, dear reader, the world's hockey champions did not arrive in Port Hope, nor did the world's long distance swimmer seek a retreat within the confines of the town. Wednesday morning a joint conference with the representatives of the Governing Body of Trinity College school was held and this session did not terminate until after twelve o'clock. At two o'clock, the members met with Oil Company men and at three o'clock, conducted a tour of the hospital.

The following were in attendance: Mayor R. J. Edmunds, Reeve L. H. Giddy, Deputy Reeve Fred Rosevear and Councillors H. W. Mitchell, Jas. Sinnott, S. Brickell, Moss Hewson, J. A. R. Elliott and H. Merrifield, Town Clerk J. W. Sanders, Town Treasurer N. S. Choate and representatives of the press. Through the kindness of Messrs E. M. Thurber, president of the Port Hope hospital trust, Judge H. A. Ward, secretary of the board, Miss E. M. Elliott, superintendent of the hospital and Miss R. Bell, assistant superintendent, the delegation were shown throughout the institution.

They were shown through the basement where the kitchens, storerooms, heating plant, etc., are situated, then through the main floor and later the second story. The delegation also visited the operating room and the X-Ray room and all spoke in words of highest praise of the equipment of the local hospital. The all-important feature which impressed the visitors was cleanliness and tidiness of the institution. Every patient's room in the hospital is being utilized and the erection of a new wing will solve a much needed want. Many of the visitors enjoyed short conversations and a hearty hand shake with many of the patients.

The delegation also inspected the laundry building, where the linen, etc., of the hospital is cleaned.

The tour terminated at the nurses' home, where afternoon tea was served the delegation, through the kindness of Miss Elliott, Miss Bell, and Mrs. E. Edgar, of the Women's Hospital Mission. Mr. E. M. Thurber extended a welcome to the council and assured them that a visit to the town's far-famed institution would always be acceptable. Judge Ward also extended his appreciation of the visit of the councillors to see for themselves the everyday work of the hospital. Mayor Edmunds, Reeve Giddy and Deputy Reeve Rosevear thanked the hospital authorities for the numerous kindnesses which were extended them throughout the afternoon.

Mr. E. W. Armstrong, Cavan st., has an interesting old coin in his possession. It is a Lower Canada one penny Bank Token of 1837 with English inscription and coat-of-arms on one side as well as a figure which cannot be easily made out because the coin is worn fairly smooth on that side. The French gives the amount as "Deux Sous."

BAD BLAZE AT OSHAWA

Spectacular Fire Raged for Over Two Hours Causing $50,000 Damage

A spectacular fire raged at Oshawa for two hours Wednesday when the Canadian Cannery building was ablaze and the inflammable stock of the Merritt Paint and Auto-body Company made easy fuel for the flames. As the fire progressed, there were several explosions presumably caused by oils. The main section of the old Cannery building was destroyed, including the ground floor occupied by the Merritt Company. An early estimate places the damage at $50,000.

During the fire a telephone cable was burned, cutting off the connection with Toronto and seriously affecting the Oshawa service. The latter, however, was soon repaired.

As far as can be ascertained, the fire originated in the elevator shaft near the top. Smoke was noticed by a man outside at about 8.30 o'clock. He ran into the building and warned men who were at work. The fire alarm met with a speedy response from the brigade but the flames spread with great rapidity. At the top of the building furniture in storage, belonging to thirty or forty families, had caught fire and it was easy prey, all being destroyed.

The firemen were powerless to check the blaze in that section and it was not long before the upper floors had been swept clean of everything. As the destruction progressed, the flames leaped out of the windows, rising to the height of many feet as they shot through a pall of dense smoke making a thrilling sight for many hundreds of spectators.

The firemen succeeded, however, in preventing the blaze getting far into the rear section of the building which extends back to Bonds' service station and that portion with its contents is only damaged by water which was played in four streams on the sides of the premises.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

School Children Hear a Safety First Lecture in Opera House

P. B. La Trobe, Field Secretary of the Ontario Safety League held a Safety Campaign for the school children of Port Hope, Wednesday afternoon from three to four o'clock. There were 750 school children from the three schools and a Safety Talk, Lantern Slides and Moving Pictures were presented to the children in an educative and entertaining manner covering the prevention of accidents.

There were, Mr. La Trobe stated to the boys and girls, 1548 people killed in 1927 by accident, an increase of 97 over 1926. But there were 13 less school children killed.

Motor vehicles killed 424 last year and they show a greater increase than all the other fatalities. Mr. La Trobe pointed out the dangers of the home also, such as fire, poison, matches, pills, medicine and scalding water, etc.

The children were shown the correct way to cross the street and the danger of riding two on one bicycle was pointed out to them.

Port Hope's boys and girls are very keen said Mr. La Trobe, and they are wide awake, and we want them to practice this wide-awakeness on the street and in their homes.

To Stop, Look and Listen and Always to Be Careful.

Cobourg was visited in the morning and the children all gathered from the public school at 11 a.m.—650 of them, and enjoyed the Safety Lecture.

The Separate School was visited earlier in the morning and 150 were addressed there.

WILL ERECT A FINE STATION

Town Council Confers With Representative Of Oil Company

S. R. Parsons, a former Port Hope boy and three other representatives of the British American Oil Company were in town Wednesday and held a joint conference with members of the Port Hope Town Council for the purpose of discussing the erection of a retaining wall west of the Jordan block, situated at the corner of Mill and Walton Streets. The members of the council in attendance included Mayor R. J. Edmunds, Reeve L. H. Giddy, Deputy Reeve Fred Rosevear, and Councillor H. W. Mitchell, Jas. Sinnott, S. Brickell, J. A. R. Elliott, Moss Hewson and H. Merrifield. Town Engineer Ferguson was in attendance.

Mr. Parsons, President of the Company, in a few introductory remarks, told the town fathers that an up-to-date service station would be erected on the site of the three story brick building recently purchased from S. Kostoff and Wm. Harris.

Mr. Parsons intimated that the station would be the finest on the way between Toronto and Montreal and would be a credit to the town of Port Hope. The super service station would have many advantages. It would be erected a few feet back from the main street and in this way would allow motorists to have a better view when rounding the dangerous corner.

The building will be built of pure white stucco concrete and would be brilliantly lighted at night. It was stated that possibly five men would be employed but the matter of employment would depend on the service work done. There will be refreshments stands, two separate lava tories and rest rooms. The station will be a place of beauty and a pride to the town, said the speaker.

He stated that the company proposed the erection of a retaining wall, three feet higher than the existing sidewalk, which would extend one hundred feet in a northerly direction and would save the building from the ravages of the raging Ganeraska in the spring-time. The wall would be heavily constructed and the matter came in for much discussion by the councillors.

The council assured the representatives that everything possible would be done in connection with the matter for which the visitors expressed their thanks.

Monarchs Take First

Ottawa Gunners tried to hew and hack their way to a victory over Regina Monarchs last night at the Arena Gardens, in the first game of the finals for the possession of the Memorial Cup, but lost both the sympathy of the crowd and the game, which went to Regina 4-3. In fact, the Westerners led 4-1 till within twenty-four seconds of the end of the bell. Then Regina let up and Howe, rosy-cheeked youngster from the Capital, ran in two goals in quick succession. The last tally was scored after the gong had sounded but before the referees had rung their bells.

After the night's display most people believe the Memorial Cup will go West. Monarchs have a great team, a constellation of stellar performers that twinkle every one of the sixty minutes. And in March, their flashy right wing, they have the greatest junior hockey player that has stepped on Toronto ice this year.

The team is well balanced on the forward line, with Wowie and Shaw supporting the coruscating March very ably. On the defense both Achtzenor and Begri held the fort most effectively, and the substitutes, Farrow and Williamson, were no less effective.

But this man March is worth a paragraph all by himself. He has speed and goes into the play with the vim and dash of a Marenz. He can out-skate anything on the ice, is a brilliant stickhandler and has a vicious and unerring shot. Four times last night he swept down the ice, dodged the defense man and went in on the helpless Peterkin to score.

EDITORS PAY VISIT TO DURANT MOTOR PLANT

Many Newspapermen and Others Are Invited Guests To Banquet And Visit Factory to See How Autos Are Made

On Tuesday, 20th inst., responding to a very cordial invitation extended to the editor of The Guide, by Mr. Geo. H. K. Netford, Mr. F. W. Wilson drove to Toronto in company with Mr. L. H. Giddy, the local representative of the Durant Motors of Canada and three other gentlemen. Mr. L. H. Giddy has leased the show room west of the Guide Office, Port Hope, and naturally is keenly on the lookout for business from this fine location.

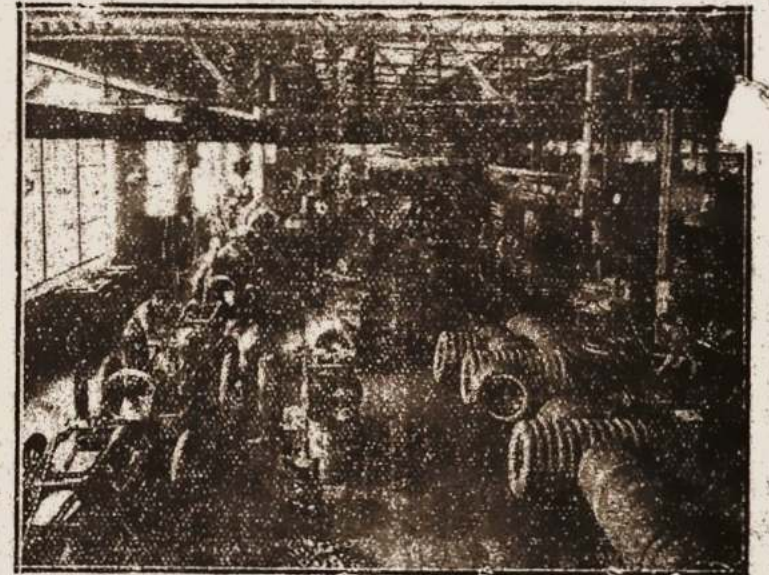

Newspaper men from all parts of Ontario were present and promptly answered roll call for luncheon in the especially decorated dining room. On our one side we had the Mail and Empire representative and on the other, The Times, printed and published at Oshawa.

The half a hundred newspapermen were brought up from the King Edward in new Stars, Durants and in received the utmost care and attention. Finally, after about 15 minutes, the chassis was completed to the point where it was ready to be enameled and go through the baking ovens.

During the period that the chassis were slowly passing through the ovens, a sub-assembly was going on apace. Various units were being installed on the Red Seal "L" head Continental motor, so that when the chassis emerged from the enamel ovens, its motor was ready to be installed.

Compressed air hoists are used for all lifting and one of these handled the powerful motor as if it were a toy, picking it up quickly and lowering it gently to its position in the chassis. Expert hands soon had the motor bolted to the frame in a rubber mounting and as the job, com-busses, but coming in on the Danforth, we were nearer Leaside than down town so Mr. Giddy landed us at the plant and we were ignorant of the King Edward part of the entertainment.

Brief speeches were made by company officials: Mr. Kerby expressed his pleasure and that of all his associates, in having so many newspapermen present. He assured his audience that no attempt would be made to do any "selling" and that the meeting had been arranged solely for the purpose of acquainting the newspapermen of the province with the methods employed in building Durant cars.

Mr. Duggan spoke briefly on behalf of the sales organization and pointed out that Durant dealers were to be found from Glace Bay to Victoria. He reiterated Mr. Kerby's warm words of welcome and further assured the visitors that while the best of materials and workmanship went into every Durant automobile, it was for the purpose of letting representative citizens see it all for themselves that this and similar meetings were being held throughout the production season.

Frank B. Averill, factory manager, H. C. McCasland, resident engineer, Charles Edward, purchasing agent, George Davies, in charge of sales promotion and others were introduced and the trip through the plant was started.

The Chassis Line

This commenced at the beginning of the chassis line. The first operation was that of fabricating the steel chassis frame by means of compressed air machines which riveted the rivets cold. It was explained that this method did away with the natural shrinkage that follows the riveting of hot rivets. The cold rivet fills the hole in the frame with metal when it is clinched under a pressure of 20 to 25 tons, making the chassis frame as nearly as possible one sturdy piece.

The chassis frame when completed, started on the chassis line and gradually it seemed to gather together as if by magic the various units that go to make an automobile. The rear axle was put into position then the springs—all as the chassis moved slowly on the "chain" that inch by inch brought it nearer to completion. Fast, expert hands handled each operation and though it was done quickly there was no mistaking the fact that each operation repleted to this point, continued on its journey over the ever-moving chain, the fenders and running boards, the steering wheel and radiator were added, as were also the several "finishing touches" required in the construction of a Durant car.

This brought the completed chassis under what is called the "hatch" through which the Durant built Hayes-Hunt bodies are lowered but at this point the trip of inspection was halted, insofar as the chassis is concerned and was resumed in the body building plant.

Body Building Plant

Of the half a million square feet of floor space that comprises the Durant plant, a goodly share is taken up by the body building department which includes the Duo plant and the trim shop. The newspapermen started this part of the trip of inspection at the point where the hardwood frames are fashioned into a four-door, sedan, two-door sedan or coupe. This frame work is put together in what are known as "jigs" which in turn, hold the sections together while they are matched and joined. These jigs bind the framework while the glue sets and while heavy screws are driven into place by compressed air screw drivers. The wooden frame work then slowly passes down the body line for its doors, and the metal work. Hundreds of hammers kept up a continual din as the workmen skillfully attached the metal to the frame and gradually automobile bodies came into being.

As they were finished, they were sent on to the Duco department where it appeared that unusual care was taken to see that each individual body received the utmost attention. Duco spray booths equipped with the most modern tools, were arranged in such a way as to permit the finest of workmanship with a minimum of waste motion. Still carried along a line or track, the bodies were sprayed and baked, sprayed and baked until they finally emerged from the last ovens in most attractive colors and ready for rubbing and a final coat.

The last operation, in the Duco department was the stripping.

A most unique, self operating track system automatically forwarded the bodies, thus Ducoed, to the trim shop, where the glass was put in the windows, the electric wires, cables etc., were installed, the handles put on the doors—and everything made ready for the upholstering.

Battery of Machines
On the right of this line there is a battery of electric sewing machines kept constantly humming to keep the workmen supplied with materials.

Each body was thoroughly inspected before being passed and once passed, it was ready to be lowered down the "hatch" to the completed chassis at the end of the chassis line.

After watching this work from the upper floor, the visitors went down to the chassis line again and there they were again marveled at the way in which the bodies were put on the chassis. Every move of the mechanics was the right move, at the right time. The body was no sooner lowered than the whole car was automatically moved over a pit. Men with compressed air wrenches soon had the body fastened securely to the chassis and the whole car ready for the brake testing machine.

Brake Testing
This is a most delicate piece of machinery for all its size. With its aid, the mechanics are able to adjust the Bendix Four wheel brakes with absolute accuracy—and then the car was ready for the Final Test department. This is the most critical department for every individual car must pass a most rigid inspection.

Each car is taken out of the plant and run for several miles. When the plant is in full production, upwards of 175 cars a day, there is a continual stream of cars going and returning from a proving run. When any defects are found, the car is turned in to another special department that corrects the condition and then the car must pass again thru the final test before it is marked "o.k."

The Durant Motors plant covers nearly 15 acres of ground and comprises a series of separate buildings each of which is splendidly ventilated, well heated and having walls that are principally windows. The working lines are all on the south side of the buildings so that the work is done in bright daylight.

When the visit through the plant was over, the newspapermen expressed their delight at what they had seen and voiced their appreciation of the opportunity extended to them by the executives of the company of thus seeing for themselves "how Durant cars are built."

Stratford won a most decided victory at home last night in the first of the playoffs for the Canpro pennant when it whitewashed the Toronto Falcons by four to nil. Some of the goals were what might be called flukes, but the winners were in no danger during the entire evening and look like the winners in the first half of the playoffs.

VICTORIAS MEET WESTERNERS

Victorias of Montreal won the hockey championship of Eastern Canada and the right to meet University of Manitoba, Western titleholders in the finals for the Allan Cup, by defeating Kitchener, O.H.A. champions 8 to 2, in the second contest of the two game semi-final series at Montreal last night. Vics won the first game, played at Toronto Monday by a 2 to 1 count, thus taking the round 10 to 3.

Vics were far superior to the slow skating Kitchener squad, the winners skating rings around the opposition at all stages. The Green-shirts were bewildered by the speed thrown at them by the Quebec title holders, and could do nothing right either on the offensive or on the defensive.

Vics scored two goals in the first period, and by the time the second period was five minutes old, had convinced the ten thousand fans present of their marked superiority over the opposition from Ontario. In the second period Vics scored six goals against a lone scoring effort by the Green-shirts. In the final frame the squad cased off and the visitors notched the lone tally of the period, Seagram beating Cockburn when he took a pass from Heller in side a weakened defense.

LEAFS HARD AT WORK

Who's who and what's what from the Leaf's standpoint is a long way from being determined. Manager O'Hara's squad may not be as large as that possessed by some of the other clubs, but what it lacks in quantity is made up in quality. And the party is one less as a result of Outfielder Daubenspeck being divorced from Fred Burchell's little list.

The youngster was only a bill of expense at the best, and Manager O'Hara does not know whether "Bugs" Hersche, who recommended him, was playing a joke on the club or sent him along in good faith. He is rather inclined to think that the ex-clown of the Leafs was up to his old tricks.

"Duby" sprung a new one in explanation of his sorry showing, claiming that last fall he had his nose broken by a pitched ball and that it caused him much pain whenever he made a violent movement. He also said that his eyesight was affected by the injury, and that he suffered on occasions from nose bleeds. All of which may be so, but his general department on the playing field was such that it gave everybody concerned a decided pain, and his enforced retirement will not occasion any great regret for all that he was a likeable youth. His final words before he took his departure was that he would be back, but he won't if one William O'Hara sees him first.

The outfield problem, which was causing the Toronto Club masterminds much worryment, is in a fair way of being settled with the acquisition of Clayton Sheedy of Baltimore. With the hard hitting, all-around athlete on the job, flanked by Rabbitt, and probably Jacobson, and Keyes and Sexton in reserve, the Leafs will be pretty well fixed in this department.

Mrs. Arnott, Ellen street, will sell by auction on Wednesday, March 28, at one o'clock, the following: Walnut parlor suite and other parlor effects; dining room buffet, table and chairs; walnut bedroom suite with dressers, stands, springs and mattresses; writing desk; Raymond sewing machine; kitchen tables; cane bottom chairs; rockers; hall rack; card tables; curtain shades; dishes; jems, and many other articles not enumerated.

SHAY'S SPRING FASHION REVUE

Beautiful Models Display Spring Finery At the Royal Theatre

Shay's Fashion Show at the Royal Theatre last evening was undoubtedly the main attraction to the large number of people who attended.

Gowns, frocks and coats for every occasion of the season were shown, and of every color but the lighter shades, even in the coats, predominated.

The Prologue "Dame Fashion" was given by Mrs. Gordon Scott, who wore a pink georgette evening dress, simply trimmed with tucks and fringe.

The curtain rose on a pretty garden scene where the models, Misses Ruby Gilmore, Dorothy Kuhne, Margaret Strong, Eleanor Armstrong and Gertrude O'Neill wore some very smart sport clothes. They were all two-piece models and the shades, especially the green ones, were beautiful. Two piece dresses, we believe, are to be the thing in sports wear.

The Ensembles were mostly a combination of Crepe and Kasha, and the seven-eighth coats were a new feature.

Knitted suits are always popular and some especially chic ones were shown. Some afternoon dresses were also two-piece models, but some striking and dainty one piece dresses were shown. Kerchiefs were worn with both afternoon and sports dresses and are very smart.

Coats are of practically every material, Tweeds, Satins, Poiret Twills, Broadcloth and Kasha. The broadcloth, will be especially fashionable. The scarf to match and harmonize with the coats is new and practical.

Miss Ruby Gilmore modelled some dainty and smart spring hats. The tiny veils are new, also hats and scarf to match.

The evening dresses are much longer and new in design and material.

The Fashion Show is well worth seeing. The young ladies who act as models know how to wear clothes, and the music which was supplied by Miss Dorothy Warmington and Alf. Stagg, added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

The D. A. Shay Co., are to be congratulated on the success of the undertaking and the Fashion Revue will be repeated this evening.

THE GUIDE STORY

"We bore the burden of that heavy trial together, William," she said, "and when I am gone, William, you will find that I have not forgotten you." Those words referred to the legacy which in her great generosity and gratitude, she left me out of the savings of her income, which were hers to dispose of. It was a large sum—too large a sum for a person like me. I do not underrate the value of that money—I am deeply sensible of the great advantage and security of worldly position, which it has been the means of procuring me—but I can say, honestly, from the bottom of my heart, that I would have given it all, and more, to have saved my mistress's life and to have purchased me the privilege of living and dying in her service.

My long story is almost done. A few last words relating to the persons chiefly concerned in the events of this narrative will conclude all that it is now necessary for me to say.

The French woman was found guilty of the robbery, and was transported for seven years. She did not live to serve out her time. After two years' submission to punishment, she and another woman joined some male convicts in an attempt to escape. They succeeded in getting away, but perished fearfully in the interior of the country. The bodies were recovered by the help of the natives; and certain appearances were observed which led to horrible suspicions of cannibalism on the part of the men, who probably survived starvation the longest. The circumstances are all detailed, I believe, in the Parliamentary Blue Books. But it is needless for my purpose to say any more about them than I have said already.

As for Mr. James Smith, he was spared for many years, and lived quietly abroad with his Scotch wife. I hope, for his own sake, that he took advantage of the opportunity for repentance which was mercifully granted to him. It may seem unjust, to our earthly eyes, that he should have offended so grievously and have escaped suffering for his wickedness in this world; but our punishments, as well as our rewards wait for us beyond our mortal time. He has gone to answer for his sins before a judge who can never err. I heard nothing of his last moments and I can say no more of him, now I have spoken the word that records his death.

Hardly six months have passed since I heard of his widow. She has married again, and is settled in London. She, and I, and Mr. Dark—who is now a feeble old man, the eldest of a brotherhood occupying a charitable asylum—are the only survivors of the troubles at Darrock Hall. I take Mr. Dark a present of snuff once a year. The last time I saw him his faculties were thought to be decaying. He knew who I was all right, for he winked feebly, and mumbled several words together. I could not make out one half of them but I heard enough to convince me that he was still given to talking about the Tour in Scotland, and the "beautifully neat case" in which it ended.

I have perhaps wearied you, sir, by a very long story. But I hope I have not occupied your time without convincing you that I had some little cause for speaking as I did when I said that there was no sight in the country I would not sooner take you to see than the empty house which is known by the name of Darrock Hall.

JUNIOR FARMERS CONDUCT CONTEST

Representative J. Y. Kellough Pleased With Success Of Orono Contest

A very successful junior public speaking contest was held in Orono, on Tuesday evening, March 20th, for farm boys and girls in West Durham under the auspices of the Junior Farmers and J. Y. Kellough, Agricultural Representative. Five boys and girls gave speeches which Dr. J. B. Reynolds, President of the O.A.C., declared to be the equal of any that he had heard in his twenty-five years of experience at similar contests. The judges of the contest were Dr. J. B. Reynolds, O.A.C., Guelph; Dr. J. T. Daley, Port Hope, and W. B. Reynolds, B.S.A., Port Hope.

Miss Ella Tamblin of Orono, won first prize in the contest for girls and also the handsome silver cup for the best speech of the evening. Her topic was "Reforestation and Value of Our Forests." Second in the girls' contest went to Miss Lillian Clemence, Newcastle, on an excellent speech on "The History of Agriculture."

In the boys' competition first place went to Norman Hogg, when he gave a splendid address on "The Junior Farmer in Ontario." Jack Payne of Pontypool, was second in the boys' section on "Our Duty As Citizens," while Gordon Ashton of Newcastle, was third with the topic "Beautification of Farm Homes." The judges had a very difficult time deciding the winner of the cup as the speeches of the two girls and the winner in the boys contest were very close. Dr. Reynolds and Dr. Daley gave some very useful pointers to the contestants.

Another interesting number on the program was the presentation to Howard Cryderman of a book won by him on an essay written on his trip to the Royal Show, Toronto, 1927, he being one of the 500 boys to win a free trip to the Royal Show in the Junior Farmers Judging Competition.

Musical numbers were given by John Buckley and Howard Linton of Orono.

Agricultural Representative J. Y. Kellough, Port Hope, expressed himself as being delighted with the excellence of the contest and hopes to repeat it next year when a greater number of boys and girls will avail themselves of this opportunity to increase their knowledge and usefulness as citizens.

JOHN CURTIS & SON

DIVISION COURT
Numerous cases were on the docket for the March sittings of the Division court held at the Town Hall today before His Honor Judge E. C. S. Huycke of Peterboro.

In the first case, Clarence Pillsworth of Port Hope, was given judgment for a claim against George Millward regarding some electrical wiring installed at the Preston residence nearly two years ago. Plaintiff entered claim for $41.79. Plaintiff was not represented by counsel while Mr. W. F. McMahon appeared for the defendant.

In his evidence, Mr. Pillsworth stated that he was called by Mr. Millward and was told that there was some urgent work to be done. The job was completed and Mr. Millward was billed several times, but no payment was made.

Mr. Millward told the court that he had the contract for the connecting of some piping in connection with the installation of a furnace for a Toronto firm. He was asked to secure an electrician and accordingly asked Mr Pillsworth. Defendant had not been paid for his part of the work yet.

Mr. McMahon—Did Mr Millward detail any specifications or material to use?
Witness—No.
Mr. McMahon—Did he tell you he should submit a bill to the company?
Witness—No, he never said anything.

In handing down judgment, His Honor pointed out that the defendant was responsible for the work and awarded Mr. Pillsworth the claim less $3.72 for interest and $5 due the defendant for some work.

Case Adjourned

The case of Bolter vs. Kinsman and Kinsman for $99.23 was adjourned to the May court.

Case Dismissed

Judge Huycke dismissed the action of E. Wilkins against the Trustees of Trinity College School for the sum of $72, alleged wages due him. F. W. McMahon appeared for the plaintiff while D. H. Chisholm, K.C., represented T.C.S. Wilkins told that he was engaged by the late Captain Annesley, former bursar of Trinity College School to do farm work in May, 1926. The monthly wage was fixed at $45.00. Witness told that on December 22, 1927, he was consulted by the office authorities, who told that he would be required to assist in a construction of a four foot drain leading from the school to the outbuilding for the purpose of supplying water for the cattle. Plaintiff maintained that this did not come under the classification of farm work and refused to do it.

Plaintiff admitted that he had previously been engaged in digging a drain near the Junior School to drain off excess water from the land, and considered this farm work.

Dr. F. Graham Orchard was called by the defence and told of the agreement made by Wilkins. Witness related that Wilkins had refused to do the work, stating that it did not come under the status of farm labor. Wilkins appeared to be rather antagonistic in the cross-examination by Mr. Chisholm. Alfred Baldoek was also called and told of the agreement made and considered the digging of the drain as farm-work. Another witness, Shuster N. Haskill, was called, but declined to pass an opinion regarding the status of digging the drain whether it was farm work or not.

Judge Huycke said that he had been too astute in the carrying out of his duty and concluded that witness should have done the work when told. The action was dismissed.

The action of Kennedy vs. Bell was adjourned for one month.

L. E. Ward vs. Bigelow for $130.75, was transferred to the Millbrook court.

At the conclusion of the court, Judge Huycke extended his sympathy to Rev. Dr. F. G. Orchard on the loss of Trinity College School by fire.

MORRISH PLAY WELL RECEIVED
Production Pleas'd Large Number Who Enjoyed Ladies Aid Entertainment Wednesday

The Morrish Dramatic Club presented their play, "The Kentucky Belle" in the local United Church Sunday School Hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society last evening, and welcomed by a host of citizens who filled the hall and thundered applause, so that the visitors would not be in doubt for a moment whether or not their efforts were appreciated.

Between acts musical talent entertained. Mr. Charles Doney sang a solo and later assisted in a mandolin solo and at another time, played a duet with Mr. M. Irwin. The Canton quartette, composed of Messrs. F. R. Currely, A. Peters, M. Bickle and W. Bickle and accompanied by Mrs. Currely, gave several numbers which were very much enjoyed and their generous response to encores was greatly appreciated.

One of the most enjoyed features of the evening was a quartette, in which four quaintly dressed youngsters participated, the Lewis twins, Ruth and Grace and John McHolm and Harry Cotter. They had such a unique presentation that every one was delighted.

As for "The Kentucky Belle" it was a good story well staged; that is to say, there were no star players because each one, from the principal players down, played his or her part with such excellence that there was really no outstanding actor so that the play was the outstanding success. Below is given a list of those who presented "The Kentucky Belle"

PERSONAL
The young ladies of the C.G.I.T. group had a sweet supply at their candy booth and were very pleased with the proceeds which amounted to about $10.

PERSONAL
Wallace, Havelock Robb of Belleville, naturalist and bird lover, was in receipt yesterday of a portrait of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, personally autographed, and a letter from Honorable Secretary Lascelles, thanking Mr. Robb for the fine book of poems, "The Quill and the Candle," and hoping for his continued success. The naturalist prizes the photograph most highly and it will be one of his most valued possessions. Last summer Mr. Robb was visiting at the coast and he was favored with an interview with His Royal Highness and in the conversation mentioned that he was writing a book of poems on bird life and relative subjects. His Royal Highness commanded that a copy be sent him on completion.

Royalties from Caruso's records since 1921 aggregate $741,449.

HEARD ON THE STREET
That's better, much better.
Our corner friend says it certainly is an improvement to our main street with the dirt removed. The men were busy today and removed several wagon loads of accumulated dirt not only improving the appearance of the street but saving tons of dirt from being carried into the drains.

Well, there is never a night in Port Hope without something on to occupy or entertain its citizens and visitors. Tonight, besides private parties there's the second night of the Fashion Revue and there will be Prayer Meetings in several of the churches. Victoria Encampment also meets in I.O.O.F. Hall.

At the second meeting of interested men held this week it was decided to try out the Toc H plan and form a group.

Mr. F. H. Brown speaks highly of Guide advertising, having by his week end advertising disposed of 43 bags of potatoes. To get the best of your dollar keep advised by reading what the merchants have to offer. Their advertising in the Guide will instruct you.

Looks as if Walton Street C.N.R. crossing would have to be fixed again this summer. Sort of an annual repair seems necessary.

Mrs. H. Keeler, Sherbourne St., entertained a number of ladies at supper last evening. After supper they had a tea towel shower for Miss Marguerite McMahon, who is to be married shortly. The remainder of the evening was spent in a few sociable games.

Already extensive building plans have been made for the coming summer season so that Port Hope will have a very busy time. Boost and build to make Port Hope one of the go-ahead towns.

You were asked to keep off the boulevards while the grass is soft. We noticed several cross main street boulevards and sink in quite deep. If this continues they will be so cut up that they cannot be got into shape all summer.

If you go to Will Weatherell's auction sale at ten o'clock you will be three hours early as the correct hour is one o'clock on Thursday, April 5th. The advertisement appears elsewhere in this issue.
