PLANS ARE FILED

Contemplated Changes on Midland Line - Grades to Be Avoided.

The plans for the new G. T. R. route between Reaboro and Port Hope were filed at the Registry Office, Lindsay, on Monday morning. On the old line it was necessary to have an engine around Omemee and Manvers to assist the heavy trains along the steep grades. By the new line these grades will be avoided and the Midland treight trains will be able to run directly south to Bethany, cross Midland, turn north-west to Cavan station, then turning southeast will join the Midland line again at Summit. It will be necessary to build a bridge at Bethany, where it crosses the Millbrook branch of the Midland and also another just south of Bethany. By this route much time and expense will be saved.

A request for one hundred inches of human skin made by Rev. Dr. Symonds before his sermon at Christ Church Cathedral last evening, at first rather startled the members of Montreal's most fashionable congregation.

An extraordinary operation, on a scale absolutely without precedent in this city or in any part of Canada, is to be performed by one of Montreal's most distinguished surgeons at the General Hospital on Saturday morning next, and if successful it will be one of the greatest scientific triumphs that modern surgery has achieved.

The case has aroused an exceptional interest in the medical and surgical profession and at McGill University, and this is not surprising, for the task to be essayed is nothing less than to provide a man with a new skin for the whole of the lower part of the body.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

'Pereunt et imputantur.'

Godwin Peak read the motto beneath the clock in Exeter Cathedral and believed it of Christian origin. Had he known that the words were found in Martial, his rebellious spirit would have enjoyed the consecration of a phrase from such an unlikely author. Even as he must have laughed had he stood in the Vatican before the figures of those two Greek dramatists who, for ages were revered as Christian Saints.

His ignorance preserved him from a clash of sentiments. This afternoon he was not disposed to cynicism; rather he welcomed the softening influence of this noble interior and let the golden sunlight form what shapes it would- heavenly beam, mystic aureole-betore his mind's eye. Architecture had no special interest for him, and the history of church or faith could seldom touch his emotions; but the glorious handiwork of men long dead, the solemn stillness of an ancient sanctuary, made that appeal to him which is independent of names.

'Pereunt et imputantur.'

He sat down where the soft, slow ticking of the clock could guide his thoughts. This morning he had left London by the earliest train, and alter a night in Exeter would travel westward by leisurely stages, seeing as much as possible of the coast and of that inland scenery which had geological significance. His costume declared him bent on holiday, but, at the same time, distinguished him with delicate emphasis from the tourist of the season. Trustworthy sartorial skill had done its best for his person. Sitting thus he had the air of a gentleman who enjoys no unwonted ease. He could forget himself in reveree, and be unaware of soft footfalls that drew near along the aisle.

But the sound of a young voice, subdued yet very clear, made claim upon his attention.

'Sidwell !- Sidwell !' She who spoke was behind him; on looking up, he saw that a lady just in front had stopped and turned to the summons; smiling, she retraced her steps. He moved, so as to look discreetly in the backward direction, and observed a group of four persons, who were occupied with a tablet on the wall: a young man (not long out of boyhood), a girl who might be a year or two younger, and two ladies, of whom it could only be said that they were mature in the beauty of youth, probably of maiden-hood-one of them, she who had been called back by the name of 'Sidwell.' Surely an uncommon name. From a guide-book, with which he had amused himself in the train, he knew that one of the churches of Exeter was dedicated to St. Sidwell, but only now did his recollection apprise him of a long past acquaintance with the name of the saint. Had not Buckland Warricombe a sister called Sidwell? And-did he only surmise a connection between the Warricombes and Devon? No no; on that remote day, when he went out with Buckland to the house near Kingsmill, Mr. Warricombe spoke to him of Exeter -

Buckland, the geologist, also was son. How suddenly it all came back!

He rose and moved apart to a spot whence he might quietly observe the strangers. 'Sidwell,' connection with the Millbrook Form IV, History—L Rorke 62, once remarked, could not be confused with the companion of her own age; she was slimmer, shorter (if but slightly), more sedate in movement, and perhaps better dressed- Messrs A. For perhaps ten minutes they lingered about the aisle, then, after a glance at the west window, went torth. With quick step Godwin pursued them; he issued in time to see them entering an open carriage, which presentdrove away towards High street.

For half an hour he walked the Cathedral close. Not long ago, fon first coming into that quiet space, with its old houses, its mooth lawns ' natural delight in a form of beauty especially English. Now, the impression was irrecoverable; he could and their luxurious carriage, and the two beautiful horses which had borne them-whither? As likely as not the identity he had supposed for them was quite imaginary; yet it would be easy to ascertain whether a Warricombe family dwelt at Exeter. The forename of Buckland's father ? He never had were making their decision, the known it. Still it was worth while interval was filled in with songs land's father --- ? He never had consulting a directory.

He walked to his hotel. Yes, the name Warricombe stood there, but it occurred more than their alloted task, Mr Rickard then once. He sought counsel of the in an able manner spoke of the landlord. A DOUBLE CURE FOR DOUBLE TROUBLE

Father Morriscy's No. 26 Cures Catarrh by a Combined Treatment.

The sudden weather variations in our climate result in a great many case; of catarrh-a troublesome disease usually considered hard to cure, and one which often leads to serious pulmonary and intestinal troubles.

A neglected coid in the head weakens the nasal membranes, so that at every future exposure the trouble returns. At length these conditions are fastened onto the system, and the sufferer undergoes the annoyance and danger of chronic catarrh.

Some doctors confine themselves to prescribing external applications, and thus do not reach the seat of the trouble-Others give internal treatment exclusively, and thus do not promptly relieve the affected parts.

Father Morriscy, the skilled priest-physician, rightly regarded catarrh as a double trouble, consisting of unpleasant local effects and their fundamental causes, the latter having to do with impaired general vitality.

His famous remedy, No. 26, is a combined cure for catarrh. It consists of tablets to be taken three times a day, and an especially compounded salve,

The salve is antiseptic, and quickly heals the inflamed membranes of the nasal passages. The tablets go to the seat of the trouble and restore the system to its usual tone. Together, they cure.

Instead of neglecting a disease that is unpleasant to yourself and to others, and one which often leads to pneumonia and consumption, it is surely the part of wisdom to take timely steps to do away with the effects and at the same time remove the cause. No. 26 does just that, 50c. for the combined treatment.

YOUNGS CONVICTED

Oxford County Official Guilty of Bribery Charge.

SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED

He Is Admitted on Bail on Condition That He Pay $200 For His Own Prosecution-Jury Makes Recommendation to Mercy-Witnesses Say That Youngs Started Out to Get the Job In Jail.

Woodstock, Ont., March 29.-John Youngs, ex-county councillor of Ox-ford, was last night found guilty on the charge of having offered R. E. Butler a bribe for the latter's influence in securing Youngs' appointment as a governor of the county jail at Woodstock. The jury added a recommendation to mercy. Messrs. Mak-ins, for the accused, and Crown Attorney Ball and Crown Prosecutor G. T. Blackstock, conferred, and the grown anounced its consent to senbeing suspended.

His lordship concurred, and sen-tence was deferred, on Youngs' giving his recognizance for $1,000 to appear-when called upon, and on his paying the costs of the prosecution, ich will be about $200

The case was reached at the assizes late yesterday afternoon, it reached the jury at 7.15 o'clock last evening. James G. Wallace, barrister, told of Youngs having come to see him in 1908, a few months before Mr. Cameron resigned.

Youngs, he said, asked his influence in favor of his application for the position, when Mr. Wallace referred him to Mr. Butler, who controlled the patronage. Mr. Youngs had told him that he did not expect to get the position for nothing. John Lindsay, of street during the last year Mr. Cameron was at the iail, and Youngs said he was going to see Mr. Whitney and Mr. Hanna about the job, and Mr. Cameron had said that he would resign if Youngs was guaranteed the position.

Youngs asked Lindsay to see Butler about the matter.

D. M. Perry swore that Youngs had told him that he (Youngs) was going to get the position, and that he had $1,000 to say that he would land it. Under cross-examination Perry said that Youngs may have the world have the world a wager but meant in the way of a wager, but the witness had not taken it that

R. E. Butler told of Youngs having come to see him in his private office about the job, and Mr. Butler had told him that he proposed to recommend Charles Wilson for the job, and that he would not do anything until Mr. Cameron stepped out. Then Mr. Cameron stepped out. Then Youngs told him that there was a thousand dollars in it if he (Butler) would support him for the position. This Butler indignantly refused to do, stating that Youngs had not enough money to buy him.

Youngs went into the box on his own behalf and denied in toto the stories of both Wallace and Butler. He denied having asked Butler for anything but his influence. No money had been mentioned by him to anyone whom he had asked for the job.

Levee Investigation.

Toronto, March 29.-Ten school principals told Judge Winchester yesterday that they had been solicited either by Chairman Levee of the Board of Education, or his agent, to buy stock in the Slocum Medicine Co., of which Mr. Levee is president and general manager. Five of them quite voluntarily, them going down to the office of the Slocum Medicine Co. Inspector E. W. Bruce, also told of having subscribed to some shares at Mr. Levee's suggestion, but he said he was not urged, and had been a personal friend of Mr. Levee for a number of years.

Premier Has Not Had Message From Manitoba.

ROBLIN MIXING THINGS UP

Sir Wilfrid Says Manitoba's Prime Minister Is Uniting Extension of Boundaries and Ouestion of Subsldies In His Demands on the Federal Government-Mr. Graham Brings In I.C.R. Bill.

Ottawa, March 29.-The Premier and Mr. Borden had a little tilt over Manitoba Boundary question in the House yesterday, in which the Opposition leader wied to make capital out of the delay in negotiations.

The short discussion on the subject was introduced by W. D. Staples (Macdonald), who asked the Prime Minister if he had any communica-tion from the Manitoba Government regarding the proposition made by the Federal Government as to the extension of the boundaries of the pro-vince. Mr. Staples remarked that when Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in the west last year he stated that if Pre-mier Roblin would go to Ottawa the boundary question could be settled in ten minutes.

Mr. Roblin had come to Ottawa, and instead of a satisfactory proposi-tion there had been submitted such a proposal that both the Government and Opposition of Manitoba had re-jected. What they wanted in Manitoba was equality.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that so far he had received no communication from the Manitoba Government. When it arrived he would be in a position to discuss it. It was quite true, he said, that he had stated that Premier Roblin came to Ottawa they could settle the matter in ten

"I am sorry," said the Premier, "that in making that statement I pre-sumed too much on Mr. Roblin." He insisted that Mr. Roblin was simply uniting two things which were quite separate, (1) the extension of boundaries and what terms should be given to the province in lieu of the lands; (2) another readjustment of the subsidies paid generally to Manitoba, as well as to the other pro-

Mr. Borden said the Prime Minister was not doing justice to Mr. Roblin. The latter had come twice to Ottawa without getting any suggestion or answer, and even after going back to Manitoba, he had waited two months before an answer was made. Therefore, in saying that he was relying too much on Mr. Roblin's modera-tion, or something of the kind, the Premier was not doing justice to Mr.

The Opposition leader explained the position of Manitoba. The province was entitled to be put in the position of the two provinces to the west, or in the position of the provinces to the east. In the one case, it would be entitled to administer its public domain and to compensation for the public domain that had been disposed of by the Federal Government in the Mr. Borden concluded by saying that the position of the province could not be attacked logically.

Hon. George P. Graham introduced a bill to legalize the creation of funds on the Intercolonial Railway to provide for renewal of equipment, rail renewals and fire protection. The bill was of a technical nature. Hon. Sydney Fisher introduced resolution and a bill to amend the Seed Control Act. by adding to the list of noxious weeds, some not already named in the act, to include flax in the list of grains, and to provide for the grading of other seeds.

W. D. Staples (Macdonald) said this was an annual occurrence of the Minister of Agriculture. The Minister was on the wrong track. The only way to get along seed was to establish way to get clean seed was to establish seed grain farms. Mr. Staples claimed that grass seed purchased in Ottawa carrying the guarantee of the Department was "chocked full of Canadian thistles and sow thistles."

Stole For the Church. Montreal, March 29.—That the Catholic Church is superior to the criminal law of Canada, when the jury is a French-Canadian Catholic jury, is the effect of the verdict in the Lemieux case yesterday.

A. J. Lemieux was charged with A. J. Lemieux was charged with highway robbery of money and papers from L. Larose last autumn. He ad-mitted taking the papers, but said he had returned the money, and plead-ed that he was acting in the interests of the Catholic Church, as Larose was a Freemason, and secretary of the now famous Emancipation Lodge. It was to secure lists of names of members and other papers of the lodge that the theft was committed.

His brother and two others who were with him, also acknowledged holding up Larose, but they too pleaded the return of the money and the interest of the church.

Bishop of Niagara Passes Away at Age of 78.

WAS BRILLIANT PREACHER

After Nearly Half a Century In the Anglican Ministry Widely Known Prelate Dies at Hamilton - Was Called to Diocese of Niagara In 1896-He Was Out Walking Only a Few Days Ago.

Hamilton, March 29.—Right Rev. John Philip DuMoulin, M.A., D.C.L., Bishop of Niagara, passed away about I a.m. yesterday at the See House. He had been in failing health recently, but only a few days ago was able to go out walking. He was 78 years

Born in Dublin in 1836, Dr. DuMoulin came to Canada through the in-fluence of Dr. Cronyn, the first Bishop of Huron, and was admitted to the deaconate in 1862, being ordained priest in the following year.

His first curacy was under the late Archdeacon Brough, rector of St. John's, London Township, from where he went to Galt, and later to Trimity Church, Montreal, as assistant to Rey, Dr. Bancroft. He also served as as-sistant to Rev. Canon Ellegood at St. James the Apostle in the same city.

His first rectory was that of St. Thomas' Church, Hamilton, where he went in 1871. Four years later he was chosen first rector of St. Martin's Church, Montreal, where he remained till called to the rectorship of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, in 1882, with the rank of canon. It was in the mother church of the capital of Ontario where he made for himself a name as one of the most forceful preachers of Canada.

Dr. DuMoulin was elected Bishop of Algoma in 1872, on the organiza-tion of that diocese, but declined the

His call to the bishopric of Niagara came in May, 1893, and he was con-secrated to the office in St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, by the late Arch-bishop Lewis on June 24.

He married in 1363 Frances, daughter of Ven. Archiescon Brough. His son, Rev. Frank DuMoulin, is dean of the cathedral at Cleveland, Ohio.

Peace Soon In Mexico.

San Antonio, Texas, March 29.— Senor Madero, father of the insurrec-tionist leader, arrived here yesterday and predicted that peace would reign within a month.

Diplomatic exchanges had proceeded sufficiently to make it safe to state that the office of vice-president, at present occupied by Senor Corral, whom he called obnoxious, has been abelished. This would leave the functions of the office of vice-president for the new Foreign Minister, De La Barra.

Senor Madero said that Diaz will save his face by remaining in office for four or six months and then re-signing. He will plead the weariness f his many years. It will then fall to De La Barra to become de facto president, and to call an election. The administration party, it is said, will choose Limantour, the Minister of Finance, as its candidate for the Presidency.

WILL BORDEN QUIT?

His Resignation Said to Be All Ready to Send In.

Ottawa, March 29 .- R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, will hand his resignation to the Conservative party to-day. It is understood that his determination to resign is fixed, but the party generally, who are with few exceptions all behind him, are hopeful that they will be able to induce him to retain the leadership. A petition was circulated last evening amongst the Conservative members asking him to continue as leader of the party, and was signed by all the members who are in town except

The situation is so crucial that the editors of some of the Conservative organs are in the city and have had conferences with him. It is under-stood that they, as well as the lead-ing Conservatives in the House, have pointed out to him that his resignaion at this moment may mean the disintegeration of the party he has led since 1900, for it is freely stated that if Mr. Borden resigns definitely several of the most prominent Conservatives now at Ottawa will not seek re-

It is hoped that the six Conservative members, who have not yet attached their signatures to the round robin will be on hand to-day and that there vill go to him a unanimous endorsement of his leadership.

Meanwhile the situation is being losely watched by the Government and it is current comment that if Mr. Borden resigns a general election will be called immediately.

Custody of the Child.

Montreal, March 29 .- As a result of the judicial decree last week annul-ling the marriage of two Catholics because a Protestant minister performed the ceremony a difficulty has aris-en as to the custody of a child of the parted couple, who neither of them, in court, opposed the decree. Two children were born to the couple but one

There was no mention of the re sponsibility of the father as regards the child in the judgment handed down. That was left evidently to the separated parties to settle between themselves.

Speaking with reference to the mat-ter, L. J. Lefebvre, attorney for Mrs. Hebert, declared that his client was anxious to retain the custody of her daughter, while the husband also wished to be the guardian of the

Mr. Lefebvre understood that there was to be some settlement made by Mr. Hebert on his wife, but the nature of this he would not say. The law-yer said he did not think that the parties would seek to be re-married by a priest of the Catholic Church.

Hotel Rates to Go Up.

Teronto, March 29 .- "We will raise the rates on the first of May, when the new law goes into effect."

This was the announcement made last night by W. C. Martin, secretary of the Hotel Men's Association of Toronto. The decision was finally made at a meeting of the association in the afternoon. They have not yet drawn up their schedule of increase, but it will include practically all goods sold over the bars in Toronto, with the possible exception of champagne, and will be extended also into the diningrooms and rooms of the hotels.

"Inasmuch as the Government has decided to take the major portion of our profits, the public must necessarily be expected to make up that which is taken from the hotel man," continued Mr. Martin.

Former President Indicted

New York, March 29 .- Joseph B. Reichmann, former president of the now defunct Carnegie Trust Co., was indicted by the grand jury late yesterday, charged with having knowing-ly concurred in making a false statement last fall as to the condition of the institution. The Northern Bank is one of the string of banks which failed after exposure of the high financiering schemes of Joseph G. Robin.

The indictment yesterday is the se-cond against an official of the Car-negie Trust Co. Other indictments are expected, and more than a hundred witnesses will be heard.

Laurier to Visit Ireland.

London, March 29.-The Manchester Guardian says Premiers Laurier, Botha, Fisher and Ward will visit Ireland during the summer, and receive civic receptions.

An Irish correspondent says Ald. Ferrell, Lord Mayor of Dublin, has issued letters to citizens inviting their hearty co-operation in welcom ing the four Dominion Premiers. He is sure they will sink all class and political distinctions. He is also inviting the Mayors of Belfast and Cork to assist in the welcome.

Black Hand Outrage.

Chicago, March 29 .- A Black Hand bomb early yesterday wrecked the front of the saloon of Sotto Santo, within a stone's throw of the 22nd street police station. The perpetrators escaped. Santo and his family escaped injury. The explosion followed close on the heels of the finding of the body of an unidentified Sicilian in a prairie at 90th and Yates avenue.

60th Ballot Without Result. Albany, N.Y., March 29.-The 60th joint ballot for U. S. Senator to sucseed Senator Depew, vesterday showed no substantial departure from the vote of Monday night's caucus so far as the ninety Democrats who entered he caucus were concerned.

Gone to Church For Century. Muskegon, Mich., March 29.—The cossessor of good health and retainpossessor of good health and realth-ng almost unimpaired faculties, Mrs. Marie Esther Sturgeon has just cele-brated her 104th birthday here. It is said she has attended church egularly for 100 years.

Diaz to Resign?

Mexico City, March 29.—A report that President Diaz will resign is rerarded as not wholly without foundsion, though the date of such action s contingent upon the re-establishment of peace.
