N.Y. BOND CLUB HONORS MASSEY

Canadian Envoy Stresses Advance Made During Last Year

Vincent Massey, Canadian minister to the United States, was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Bond Club of New York. He spoke of Canada's frontiers and reminded his audience that there still is a large area in the dominion that has to be accurately prospected and mapped out. There is probably no country in the civilized world which still has more exploration to do within its own boundaries than has Canada. the said.

"In the last twelve months," Mr. Massey said, "we have made the most striking advances on the widest front with what will be the most permanent results in any period of the same length in our history, During the last year, one has been conscious that there is an atmosphere of reasoned optimism and quiet confidence, which is based on solid, indisputable facts."

IMMIGRANTS TOTAL 158,874

Intend to Be Farmers

Immigrants coming to Canada during 1927 totalled 158,874, according to a return tabled by Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, Mon day. Some 52,000 of these were British and 23,818 from the United States. The other 50 per cent were Europeans, including 2369 Belgians; 2066 Dutch; 5054 Finnish; 11,981 Ger man; 4440 Italians; 4744 Jewish, 1618 Jugoslavs; 7581 Magyars; 8248 Polish; 10,836 Ruthenians, 12,000 Scandinavians, 4242 Slovaks and 681 Swiss.

The intended occupation given at the time of landing were as followsfarmers 90,000; laboring class 9000; mechanics 9500; trading class 5200; mining class, 10,000; female domestic servants 15,380; other classes, 26,-

The department kept no records as to the religious denominations of the immigrants, nor does it keep a record of departures from Canada to the United States, it is stated.

In reply to the question, "How many returned to Canada other than tourists?" the following figures were given: Canadian born citizens 36,838; British born subjects with Canadian domicile, 3560; naturalized Canadians with domicile 1680; aliens with domicile, 2295; total 44,373.

Mr. Forke said no figures were available as to how many immigrants settled on farms for themselves or as hired men or women. The total cost of the Immigration Department last year was $2,878,939.

BUILDING LINE STILL INACTIVE

No Permits Issued in January Or February in Bowman-

Bowmanville building has been in sad decline this month and during the whole winter. No permits were issued by the town engineer during January or February. However, it was explained that the same conditions effect the town around this season of the year.
Building operations begin generally on or about May 1st it was stated, and at that time last year things began moving for the erection of the new nurses' home in connection with the Bowmanville hospital. There seems no doubt that the same standard will continue for 1928, because much conversation is diffting towards construction in various directions already.

T. H. MARSHALL DIED IN STATES

About One-third British-90,000 Was Born in Port Hope and Became Prominent Railwayman

> Thomas H. Marshall, assistant treasurer of the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad, and one of the best known railway officials in state of Colorado, died Thursday afternoon, February 23rd. The end came in St. Joseph's Hospital, where he had been taken on Wednesday afternoon when he suffered a severe heart attack.

Mr. Marshall's life was filled with romance and adventure in a business career that led him from a job as a stenographer to the responsible position he held at his death.

Born in Port Hope

He was born in Port Hope, Canada, in 1861, and when a young man decided on a legal profession. He was the 3rd son of the late David Marshall and will be remembered by many Port Hopers. He stud'ed law but the romance of the western frontier proved a magnet that drew him from his studies to Colorado and Denver. Soon after his arrival there, forty years ago, he took a position as stenographer to the late Joseph H. Gilluly, treasurer of the D. and R. G. W. railroad. His alert mind and his eagerness for advancement aided him in grasping the details of the railroad business quickly and step by step he rose from the clerical position to chief clerk, cashjer and finally, ten years ago, he was made assistant treasurer of the com-

Mr. Marshall possessed a friendly nature. He had two main interests in life-his work and golf. He was among the charter members of the Lakewood Country club and was one of the group of pioneer golfers who introduced the popular game at the old Overland park course.

He continued his membership in the Lakewood Country club, and later joined the Denver Country club. He was instrumental in the growth of the Denver Athletic club, of which he was a past vice-president.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. A. E. Beck, of Vancouver, and Mrs. Charles R. Smith of Winnipeg and a brother, James A. Marshall of Win-

Funeral services were held Saturlay afternoon February 25th at 2.30 at Rogers mortuary, The Rev. Chas. Marshall officiated. His body was sent to Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, for burial.

OCEAN PHONE CALL COSTS REDUCED

Three Minute Conversation Charge now $40 Instead Of $75

A three-minute telephone call to Great Britain will cost only $40, instead of $75, effective Sunday, the American Telephone and Telegraph announced Thursday in co-operation with the British General Post Office. Each extra minute will cost $15.

Corresponding reductions will be made to continental cities. The new three-minute rate to Belgium will be $48; Holland $48.75; Sweden $51.75; Germany $52.50.

Although it was reported from Sweden this week that there had not been a call either way since the service was inaugurated, the United States talkers have been using the trans-oceanic telephone liberally. Although 60 per cent of the service is between New York and London, 41 states have plugged in for Europe since Great Britain was hooked up more than a year ago.

Two hours also being added to the schedule. Service will be available from 7.30 a.m. to 8 p.m., corresponding to 12.30 p.m. and 1 a.m. in England. Only four and a half hours a day was allowed when the service

MAPLE LEAFS ARE | MODERN PUMPER TOWN CHAMPIONS

Win Thrilling Overtime Struggle from Victorias Tuesday

Fire Fighting Equipment Was
In Port Hope and Dem-Night

The Maple Leafs came back strong to tie the score in the third and deciding game for the championship of the Port Hope Town League at the Young Street igloo Tuesday evening and in ten minutes overtime Bill Sherry, the stalwart defence player worked his way through the entire team to cinch the contest 5-4. The fixture Tuesday evening was undoubt edly the best of the season and a large crowd witnessed the contest.

The offic als of the Town League are to be congratulated on the success of the league and fans are hud in their praise of the games. The race was tight from the opening game and some splendid games were played. The youngsters give all they have and from present prospects it looks as if Port Hope will present a formidable junior team in the future. Many fast players have gradually come to the fore and the game for the championship last night was well worth seeing.

To stimulate interest in the league two local merchants made enticing offers for the winners. Geo. I. Gould will present hockey boots to the winners and Jas. R. Giffen will donate skates.

The score by periods of last night's game is as follows: 1st Maple Leafs 2 Victorias 2: 2nd Victorias 4 Leafs 3; 3rd Leafs 4 Victorias 4; and overtime Leafs 5, Victorias 4.

Howard Hutchings who handled the bell for the game, refereed in creditable style and held the game well in check. The league extend their thanks for the referees of the scheduled games which include Howard Hutchings, Johnny Rowden and Cyril Brown.

In the first part of the game many penalties resulted, all for minor infractions. The Leat's broke the ice in the first period when Clement scored on a rebound from his long shot from the penalty box and shortly afterward Strong scored the second goal on Clement's rebound. Highfield scored th second goal for the losers while the first goal deflected off Strong's stick into the net before

Wade could right himself. The second session was productive of better hockey and both teams travelled at a fast clip. Sneyd scored the lone counter-for the Leafs while Berbert and McElroy beat Wade.

Perhaps the best man on the ice was Bill Sherry, fast defense player for the Leafs. Not only did he team up well with Giddy on the defense, but rushed in telling style. After several attempts he sent the game into overtime when he went through the entire team in the waning minutes of the third stanza to plant the delight and Sherry was well applauded for the play.

In the first five mintes overtime, both teams battled hard to win the memorable struggle. Both goalies were kept on the jump all the time and in the second five minute period, Sherry again covered himself with glory when he beat the whole team on a fast rush to put his team one goal up. For the balance of the game the Leafs held their slim lead and emerged as Town League champions.

Perhaps the best player for the Victorias was Haskill in the nets, and all five shots scored on him were hard ones for any goal keeper to handle. He was bombarded with shots throughout the game and in no way can be blamed for the reverse. The teams:

Victorias-Goal Hoskill; defense Trew and Stephens; centre Berbert; wings Highfield and Davison; subs

McElroy and F. Sherry.

Maple Leafs—Goal Wade; defense B. Sherry and Giddy; centre Strong; wings Clement and Sneyd; subs Paedon and Leuty.

VAST INVESTMENT IN POWER INDUSTRY

The capital invested in the waterpower industry in Canada is estimated to be $900,000,000. This is more than that of any other single manufacturing industry in the Dominion. The corresponding figure in 1910 was $121,000,000, so that the increase in 17 years is over 600

DEMONSTRATION

onstration Given

A modern fire pumper and equipment was in town today and a demonstration was given of its possibilities to the members of the Fire Brigade, Town Council and other interested citizens.

The pumper and equipment is manufactured by the Bickell Fire Engines, Ltd., of Woodstock, while the chassis of the truck is manufactured by the Gotfredson Company The engine is possessed of seventy horse power and the pumper is capable of handling 450 imperial gallons per minute. Under good conditions two good streams can be trained on the conflagration and three modest streams.

The outfit which was in town today has recently been purchased by the York Township Fire Department for Fairmount area. Several of this type have been sold to vari- June 22, and continue daily until the ous municipalities in the province, 28th. The middle and upper school and this year three machines have been sold to York Township. Other pumpers of a similar type have been purchased by Whitby, Oshawa and Bowmanville fire departments.

A demonstration was given at one o'clock today at Trinity Collegs school, the scene of Saturday's disastrous blaze and also at the creek at the foot of Queen street. Those in charge included R. S. Bickell of the fire equipment manufacturers and F. E. Newman of the Gotfredson Company. The run to the College from down town was made in three

The pumper is of triple combination and besides the pumping engine, it includes twin chemical tanks and sundry equipment consisting of hand fire extinguishers, axes, ladders, ropes, lanterns, etc.

The pumper was attached to the hydrant at the college where some twenty pounds of pressure existed Two moderate streams emanated from the pumper and when one line of hose equipped with an inch nozzle, was used, a powerful stream of water was forced to the top of the fifth story at the western end of the college, near the tower. When the hose was attached to the hydrant and without the use of the pumper, the water barely reached the second

This play sent to force the water from the various Arctic and the afforts being made lines of bose after the supply is received into the pumping machine.

Following this a demonstration was given at the Ganeraska river at the foot of Queen street near the Canadian National viaduct. The water was taken from the creek by means of a heavy tube and two lines of hose were attached to the pumper. Two heavy streams of water were shot into the air to a considerable number of feet over the top of the viaduct.

Members of the fire brigade and council expressed themselves as much pleased with the action of the pumper. The purchase price is $5800, and it is likely that the subject of fire protection will be discussed at the next regular meeting of the town council which will be held next Monday night.

GOLD IN CANADA

Gold has been found in every province of Canada except Prince Edward Island. The first recorded discovery was made in 1824 on the Gilbert river, fifty miles south of Quebec City. Placer mining operations commenced here in 1847 and intermittent operations have been carried on ever since. Placer discoveries were made in Ontario, in British Col umbia, and in Yukon Territory at much later dates. Lode mining for gold began at Tangier river, Nova Scotia in 1858. In 1926 the total production of gold in Canada was I,729,000 ounces, valued at $35,749,-000. Approximately eighty-five per cent of this production was obtained I will instruct my sorrow to be in Northern Ontario and fourteen per cent. from British Columbia.

INVESTIGATION IS HALTED

The investigation at Trinity College school by Deputy Fire Marshals E. D. Jordan and F. J. Baker, acting under instructions from Fire Marshal E. P. Heaton, came to a tempor ary halt today The investigators will continue the inquiry after the students' two weeks' vacation.

Warning signs have been posted up at points of entrance to the doomed structure and workers are busily engaged in assembling the remains of the furniture and equipment.

Lt.-Col. C. Goodday, house master of the senior school, who was on the scene shortly after the conflagration broke out on Saturday, was asked by Inspector Jordan if he had any idea what caused the fire. "It is a mystery to me," replied Lt.-Col.

CONSUMERS OF ALBERTA COAL WERE PLEASED

Was Distributed to 260 Points And Householders Universally Satisfied

When Alberta coal has come into Ontario, it has given universal satisfaction. Experimental shipments of coal have been made to Ontario, notably in 1924 and 1925, and these got very wide distribution throughbut the province. Under every possi-ble form of practical test the coal proved its merit.

In sworn evidence in 1926 before the House of Commons special committee on the coal resources of Canada, Premier G. Howard Ferguson and others testified to the excellent results obtained by users of the coal so brought down. William Buchanan, a coal dealer of London, Ontario, declared that many of his customers said that if they could be assured of a supply of Alberta coal, they would never buy any more American anthracite.

A significant comment was made by Mr. Buchanan when he was asked 'If you were able to sell Alberta coal at $13 in Western Ontario, don't you think American anthracite would follow your price down?"
Ofr: Buchanan replied: "No, the Alberta coal gave a great deal of satisfaction in Ontario, declared Premier Ferguson, at this inquiry. "We burned it in hotels, in lamber camps and in private houses and under a great variety of conditions. We distributed to about 240 to 260 points. The verdict, generally speaking, was universally satisfactory.

"The disintegration is very light

If you get coal from close to th footbills, like the Saunders Creek con and the Drumbeller coal, it is a very good quality and will burn to great estisfaction with a minimum of clinkers and ash and a very high standard of thermo quality."

million or twelve million tons of other coals for other purposes. That is a huge amount of fuel. If there is any way that money can be retained in Canadian channels, it will be a tremendous value to the Dominion of Canada, because when we send it to Pennsylvania, we do not get a cent of it back unless we go after it. It is our idea to retain our money in the Dominion and we are exceedingly anxious in Ontario to trade with the east and west. May I say this-not by way of boasting-that perhaps the two central provinces of Ontario and Quebec, in contributions pay eighty per cent, or eighty five per cent, of the cost of government, and any losses in freight rates which will be charged to the Consolidated Fund of the Dominion, will have to be repaid, from eighty to eighty five per cent, by us. Our people of On-tario, for the sake of getting Dominion fuel, and the development of Deminion interests, would cheerfully bear out our portion of that extra cost, whatever it would be."

In his evidence before the committec. J. A. Ellis, fuel controller of Ontario, stated his opinion that Alberta coal at $2 a ton or so less than American anthracite, would compete in the Ontario market. Changing public habits was a matter of education. Ontario people were prejudiced in favor of anthracite, but were ready to turn to something else if they got a reasonable chance. Mr. Ellis filed with the committee a large number of letters from coal dealers and consumers expressing great satisfaction with the Alberta coal they had received. The letters, which were highly laudatory, demonstrated that Ontario people who have tried Alberta coal, under an emergency situation, liked it.

Dr. Charles Camsell, chairman of the Dominion Fuel Board, also paid tribute to the satisfactory burning qualities of Alberta coal. People who have bought Alberta coal are satisfied with it,

ORANGE PEKOE BLEND

THE GUIDE STORY

Our life at the Hall soon returned to its old, dreary course. The lawyer in London wrote to my mistress to ask her to come and stay for a little while with his wife. But she declined the invitation, being averse to facing company after what had happened to her. Though she tried hard to keep the real state of her mind concealed from all about her, I, for one, could see plainly enough that she was pining and wasting under the bitter injury that had been inflicted on her. What effect continued solitude might have had on her spirits, I tremble to Fortunately for herself, it occurred to her, before long, to send and invite Mr. Meeke to resume his musical practicing at the Hall. She told him-and, it seemed to me, with perfect truth-that any implied engagement which he had made with Mr. James Smith was now cancelled since the person so named had mor-ally forcested all his claims as a husband first, by his desertion of ber; and, secondly, by his criminal that fell on the fourteenth of March.

marriage with another woman. After stating this view of the matter, she left it to Mr. Meeke to decide whether the perfectly innocent connection between them should be resumed or not. The little parson, after hesitating and pondering, in his helpless way, ended by agreeing with my mistress, and by coming back once more to the Hall, with his fiddle under his arm. This renewal of their old habits might have been imprudent enough ,as tending to weaken the strength of my mistress's case in the eyes of the world, but for all that, it was the most sensible course she could take for her own sake. The harmless company of Mr. Meeke, and the relief of playing the old tunes again in the old way, saved her, I verily believe from sinking altogether under the oppression of the shocking situation in which she was now placed.

So with the assistance of Mr. Meeke and his fiddle, my mistress got through the weary time. The winter passed; the spring came; and no fresh tidings reached us of Mr. James Smith. It had been a long, hard winter that year, and the spring was backward and -ainy. The first really fine day we had was the day date merely because it is fixed in my memory forever. As long as there is life in me, I shall remember the fourteenth of Marth, and the smallest circumstance connected with it: The day began ill, with what superstitious people would call a bad omen. My mistress remained late in her room in the morning, amusing herself by looking over her clothes and by setting to rights some drawers in her cabinet which she had not opened for some time past. Just before the luncheon hour we were startled to hear the drawingroom bell rung violently. I ran up to see what was the matter, and Josephine, the French maid, who had heard the bell in another part of the house, hastened to answer it She got into the drawingroom first, and I followed close on her heels. My mistress was stand ing alone on the hearth-hug, with an appearance of great discomposure in her face and manner.

"I have been robbed!" she said, vehemently. "I don't know when or how. But I miss a pair of bracelets, three rings, and a quantity of old fashioned lace pecket handkerchiefs."

"If you have any suspicions, madam," said Josephine, in a singularly sharp, is dden way, "say who they point at. My boxes, for one are quite at your disposal."

"Who asked you about your boxes?" said my mistress angrily. "Be a little less ready with your answer if you please, the next time I speak." She then turned to me and began explaining the circumstances under which she had discovered her loss. I suggested that the missing things should be well searched for first, and then, if nothing came of that, that I should go for the constable and place the matter under his direction. My mistress agreed to this plan and the search was undertaken immediately. It lasted till dinner time, and led to no results. I then proposed going for the constable. But my mistress said it was too late to do anything that day, and told me to wait on the table as usual, and go on my errand the first thing the next morning. Mr. Meeke was coming with some new music in the evening; and I suspect she was not willing to be disturbed at her favorite occupation by the arrival of the constable. Dinner was over; the parson came and the concert went on as usual through the evening. At ten o'clock I took up the tray with the wine and foda-water and biscuits. Just as I was opening one of the bottles of soda-water, there was a sound of wheels on the drive outside, and a ring at the bell.

I had unfastened the wires of the cork, and could not put the bottle down to run at once to the door. One of the female servants answered it. I heard a sort of half scream -and then the sound of footstep that were familiar to me.

(My mistress turned round from the piano and looked at me. "William," she said. "Do know that step?"

Before I could answer, the door was pushed open, and Mr. James Smith walked into the room.

MARY PICKFORD IH"MY DEST GITZL"

Probably the strongest week en attraction of the whole season is Mary Pickford's latest photoplay, "My Best Girl," which comes to the Royal Theatre for three nights, beginning tomorrow, and Saturday matince. It is an up-to-date story with Mary playing a role in which she is neither too young nor too old, that of a stock girl in a five and ten cent store, and her experiences will entertain the whole family. CREMATED IN SCOTLAND

The movement for the disposal of the dead by cremation is certainly making progress when so conservative a centre as Edinburgh seriously entertains the idea. The "Scotsman" says: "The cremation of Thomas Hardy's remains may have had some influence on the popular mind in regard to the disposal of the dead, but for some years past a quiet, but definite change of feeling has proceeded in regard to the manner in which 'dust to dust' returns. those customs in which religious thought is interwoven the Scottish nation is more conservative than others, and the Scottish capital is probably more Scottish in this respect than some of the industrial towns. But even Edinburgh-the last of the capital cities to move in the matter-has at last taken up in earnest the demand for a crematorium within the city bounds. On sanitary grounds little can be said in favor of interment in the earth. But religious sentiment and not a little superstition remain in conflict with cold reason; and though cramatoria may be multiplied throughout the land, the old form of burial, with all the gloomy trappings of sorrow is likely to remain for many

Sir Wilfred Grenfell is paying a visit to Canada at the present time and is telling to interested audiences everywhere, with the aid of lantern views and moving pictures, the colorful story of his work "down north" along the coast of Labrador. The story is a romantic and appealing one and Canadian people are always eager to hear of the progress of the work along hospital, educational, religious and other lines with the "livyeres," and to help the good cause to the best of their ability. The word Labrador brings to mind a bleak and barren land of Mittle natural beauty, but that impression is being dispelled by tales of the loveliness of the country in the short summer months. Sir Wilfred predicts that within a very few years, tourists will find their way along the coast to summer on the many fjords. What this will mean to that country and to the work being HERE TOMORROW phesied, but that it will give it a great impetus, no one can doubt.

DISCUSS SCHOOL

Public School Board Decided To Look Into Matters Of Insurance

After the regular business to combefore the Public School Board was disposed of last evening their thoughts turned to the perils of fire losses and after some discussion it was decided that our Public Schools should be adequately protected against fire and insured against loss so the matter will be looked into and prought up at the next meeting.

The whole Public School Board was present at the March meeting held ast evening in the Town Hall but Mr. J. W. Sanders,, the secretary, was unable to attend and Mr. Reg. Hayden acted secretary protem.

The attendance report showed nine ases investigated but none were of serious nature.

The board was advised that Miss McLean's resignation as a member of the Library Board had been regret fully accepted. The Public School Board left the matter of a new apcointment over until a later meeting.

Miss Muriel Oke's resignation was accepted to take effect on March 31st when Miss Oke will go to Oshawa to take a position on the teaching staff there, where her sister, Helen, is engaged. Miss Oke spent two years at Severn Bridge and this coming term would have completed two years in the local public school.

A letter from the Blue Bird Ink Company was filed for later considgeneral manager of the Ontario Safe y League, informed the board that they would send a man with pictures to be shown in the local schools on Wednesday, March 21st, and talks would likely be given by the local chief of police who is well aware of traffic dangers in Port Hope. Mem- that a snow plow has been working bers of the board who had seen the Safety First Pictures last year, approved, so the secretary was advised to write and advise the Otario Safety League that the date would suit.

Before the motion to adjourn a long discussion about fire protection and insurance ended in the selection of a committee to investigate to report at next meeting.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Have we got enough insurance?

Now the trustees of public buildings and church properties everywhere are asking themselves if the buildings of which they have charge are adequately protected against fire

The Public School Board at its regular meeting last night defided to look over the insurance to ascertain if local schools were well enough protected.

Our High School Board were a ittle ahead of most trustees of build ings as they looked into the fire protection early last year and saw that the school was properly covered.

This year's Toronto fair will be designated "Jubilee Year." Some have spoken of calling it "Semi-Centennial," but in the opinion of the majority who will have a say, the latter designation is too much akin to the Sesqui-Centennial designation of the fair at Philade'phia, which was anything but a success two years The Exhibition will be open for 14 full days in ead of 13 as last year. It will be open on Friday, August 24. It is more than likely that at least one British band will come from overseas. No title has yet been selected for the spectacle before the Grand Stand, but it will deal with the part the Exhibition has played in the development of Canada.

Sidney Venton, assistant chief of police at Oshawa, has been selected by the Bowmanville council for the position of Chief Constable at Bowmanville. Twenty seven applications were reported received by the town clerk which number was decreased to three at a special meeting of the council last Thursday. A standing vote was taken. It was also decided that the duties of the new chief would take effect on April 1. The salary attached to the postion was stated to be $1700.

Oshawa will go on daylight sav ing time at 12.01 a.m., Sunday, April 29, it was decided at the regular meeting of the Oshawa council. The daylight saving period will end at 12.01 a.m. on Sunday, September 30, A letter from Mr. J. F. Wyse, and will coincide with that of Toronto and also with the spring and summer train schedule.
