U. OF T. GRADS END TOUR

U. of T. Subs Play With Albion—Olympians Meet Prince of Wales

U. of T. Grads, Olympic hockey champions, concluded a triumphal tour at the London Ice Club last night by administering a 11 to 4 defeat upon the English hockey team which competed at the Olympics. One of the most exclusive London audiences assembled to watch the game and saw the Englishmen decisively outplayed, despite the fact that three of the Grads' substitutes assisted them against the brilliant Canadians.

Frank Sullivan, Bert Plaxton and F. Fisher were the players who aided the English team in their efforts to make a good showing against the smooth playing Canadian team.

Today the Canadians were presented to the Prince of Wales and with a record of 8 victories (three following a brief stay in London, the party will then sail for Canada of them shutout triumphs against European teams in the Olympic series) and no defeats.

NEW TRINITY COLLEGE TO BE MORE MODERN

Board of Governors Will Announce Further Plans On Saturday

The Board of governors of Trinity College School met in an upstairs room of the Osler and Hamond offices at Toronto to consider steps to be taken for the accommodation of the pupils who were evicted by the fire which destroyed the buildings last Saturday.

A member of the board said in an interview that "excellent temporary arrangements have been made, and there will be an announcement Saturday as to the assembling of the senior school. The financial committee have under consideration plans for a more modern and up-to-date school system in every way. The insurance has not yet been settled, although it is very substantial and will fully make good the loss suffered in the fire."

"The fire is in a very good financial condition," Mr. G. L. Smith, continued. "Although, of course, the insurance will not cover the cost of the new buildings which will cost much more than the old quarters."

Those present included F. G. Osler, Dr. Orchard, head master of the school; General Cartwright, Britton Osler, K.C., Dyce Saunders, K.C., L. H. Baldwin, Percy Henderson, Dr. Maynard, G. L. Smith, Norman Seagram and G. B. Strathy, who are members of the board, were not present.

FUELLESS MOTOR NOT NEW SCHEME

Several Applications Made for Patents in Past—French Inventor Tried to Get Power from Air

Five patents on inventions, believed to embody a principle similar to that of the so-called "fuelless motor" recently credited to Lester Hendershot of Pittsburgh, have already been granted by the U.S. patent office it was learned Thursday.

All five of the inventions, two dating back to the last century, depend for their power on electricity extracted from the air or the earth and each is claimed to operate without fuel or batteries.

Experts at the patent office believe the devices to be commercially valueless and impracticable.

Patents could not be obtained on them today, as inventors are now required to demonstrate the feasibility as well as their novelty.

The first apparatus of this kind was patented a year before the Civil War, 1860, by H. C. Vion, a resident of Paris, who wanted to protect his invention in this country.

Vion's idea was to extract electricity from the clouds and also from the earth by means of a captive balloon and a wire conductor. His invention was derived from Benjamin Franklin's electrical experiments with a kite and a key. Positive electricity from the atmosphere was to be united with negative currents from the ground in Vion's apparatus "thus forming an electrical pile of considerable power."

EASY COME EASY GO

It is announced that the estate of Rudolph Valentino, popular screen idol of another day, has shrunk from nearly $700,000 to a paltry $287,462. Bills against the estate are responsible for the disparity in assets. One bill from a London merchant for clothing amounted to $27,059, while another claimed $77,70 for bow ties.

The other day in New York there was filed in the courts a record of the "estate of Marceline Orbit." Marceline was the great clown who once held a place in the world of laughter second only to Charlie Chaplin. He made a great fortune. Then he began to grow older and finally disappeared from the picture. They found him dead—a suicide. His estate consisted of $6.40 in a dime savings bank and a broken dollar watch.

These two instances of wealth accumulated easily and spent lavishly are not by any means isolated stories of squandered fortunes. Valentino's residue consists of what to the majority would mean a competence although it is a mere bagatelle when compared with what the actor made and spent during his popularity. The pitiful "estate" left by Marceline tells its own story of wasteful prodigality.

It is not easy to save and it is very, very easy to spend. The appeal, "Save today, have tomorrow," falls too often upon unheeding ears. More especially is this so when wealth is accumulated with comparative little effort. When the shekels are earned with "with the sweat of one's brow" and in face of spirited competition, they are apt to acquire a value unknown to the "easy come, easy go" fraternity. The story of Valentino and Marceline can preach a very useful sermon—if one chooses to listen!—Kitchener Record.

CANADA ORDERS 20 MORE MOTHS

Planes Will Be Used To Augment Previous Purchase for Civilian Clubs

Canada has augmented the fleet of light airplanes for loan to civil flying clubs throughout the country by an additional 20 Moth planes, the product of a British concern. The Moths have already been delivered on order to the Government and are in process of being distributed to clubs which comply with the conditions laid down by the Department of National Defence.

The Minister of National Defence announced that he signed a formal agreement with the directors of the Saskatoon Aero Club for the issue of two light planes to the club and the granting of the other forms of assistance, as laid down in the standard conditions under which the formation of such clubs will be approved.

The Saskatoon Aero Club is the first organization to fully comply with these standard conditions. A number of other flying clubs in different parts of the country have completed their organization and it is expected that arrangements will be signed with them during the next few weeks.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Going to the choir concert?

Tonight the United Church choir is putting on a concert of fine music which will be much enjoyed by the public of Port Hope. The program appears elsewhere in this issue.

Not so much like Spring today. Well the last storm piled it up on the south side but this time the north side of the streets has the pleasure of digging out.

Well, it looks as if we would be able to receive our friends and send them away again without spoiling the visit with the rough ride from the C.N.R. depot to John street that has marred many a visit to Port Hope.

Mr. Walter Grieves, who purchased Mr. W. Pomfret's house on Baldwin street, has sold his house on Margaret Street to Mrs. E. H. Rorke, who has resided in the second house from the north end of Brown street on the west side, since she came here last fall.

Victoria Encampment No. 25, I. O. O. F., had a very enjoyable meeting last evening. After several items of business were transacted the Camp was closed down and adjournment made to the club room where games were indulged in, after which oysters were served, cooked to the King's taste. Quite a number of the members from Cobourg were present and all voted the affair a very pleasant one.

Mr. William J. Wright has purchased the Summer home of Prof. Stewart at Rice Lake and will convert it into a tourists lodge.

A delegation of fishermen from the Bay of Quinte district will interview Hon. Charles McRae in Toronto to ask that the closed season from October 15 to November 15 be removed from that district. Mr. C. A. Payne of Belleville will be in Toronto to represent the fishermen at the interview and speak for them.

There will be general skating at the rink tonight.

Suspected of being afflicted with rabies a dog was shot by Chief Ruse of Cobourg, Wednesday after a chase of a half hour through the streets. Previously the dog had attacked several persons. A second dog was bitten by the animal was also destroyed. The heads of the two animals will be sent to Toronto to determine whether they were malignantly effected.

The Hydro Electric Commission has offered the gas plant and water-works system at Cobourg to the Corporation of Cobourg for $210,000. After considerable discussion in the Town Council it was decided to ask the Town Clerk to write the Commission asking for more information and for a more definite reply to a letter written it by the Town of Cobourg on Dec. 31, 1927. The letter asked the Hydro Electric Power Commission to supply the town with operating costs and capital investments of the utilities operated by it in the Town of Cobourg, giving the figures for the electric distribution plant, gas works and water works, separately, for the past four years.

With a number of buildings purchased by big corporations, to be altered or rebuilt and Trinity College School contraction, Port Hope is facing one of the best summer seasons in its history.

LAD OF FIFTEEN JAILED FOR LIFE

Had Been Guilty of Particularly Brutal Murder—Seemed Rather Pleased With Whole Incident

Andy Dryken, 15 year old slayer of his mother, pleaded guilty to second degree murder and was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor in the Ohio penitentiary.

On the evening of December 6, 1926, Dryken shot his mother to death as she stood in the doorway of their farm home, and when his father, Nick Dryken, and a farm hand, attempted to wrest the shot gun from him, he shot them.

Dryken appeared pleased. He said he was looking forward to the automobile ride from St. Clairsville to Columbus and told newspaper men all he wanted was "good clothes and plenty of cigarettes."

STARTED AS A PRINTER'S DEVIL

Walkerton—Herald and Times shows how they can't keep a good man down:

S. J. Moore, who has been named president of the Bank of Nova Scotia, used to be a printer in Barrie. That was a good place to train for a banking career. In the print shop he would be used to handling "quoins"; he would not fear bandits because he'd know all about the old "shooting stick"; figures would come easy to him because he was used to working in "columns"; and also his printing office experience would teach him that a dollar bill is quite a lot of money.

LINDSAY LAD IS KILLED AT PLAY

Did You Wear a Merry Widow or a Gainsborough?

A New York paper recently contained an article that is of particular interest to ladies. It was a short review of what the fine weather will bring in, new styles of hats. Spring is close at hand and the millinery houses will soon display the designs. A shape which is bound to be popular is the Merry Widow Sailor. This is a large brim straw very simply trimmed. The Merry Widow hats are 30 inches across. The Gainsborough, a cut which appears at the top, is also something new and dainty in hats for ladies for 1908.

THE GUIDE STORY

"I beg pardon, sir," I said, "but did you come upon anybody listening outside the music room when you left it just now?"

"Yes, William," said Mr. Mecke, in a faint voice. "I think it was the French maid. But I was so dreadfully agitated that I can't be quite certain about it."

Had she surprised our secret? That was the question I asked myself, as I went away to light the fire in the Red Room. Calling to mind the exact time at which I had first detected the rustling outside the door, I came to the conclusion that she had only heard the last part of the quarrel between my mistress and her rascal of a husband. Those bold words about the 'new wife' had been assuredly spoken before I heard Josephine stealing up to the door.

As soon as the fire was alight and the bed made, I went back to the music room to announce that my orders had been obeyed. Mr. James Smith was walking up and down in a perturbed way, still keeping his hat on. Ten minutes later, he rang for the kettle and the bottle of brandy. When I took them in, I found him unpacking a small carpet bag which was the only luggage he had brought with him. He still kept silence, and did not appear to take any notice of me. I left him for the night without our having exchanged so much as a single word.

So far as I could tell the night passed quietly.

The next morning I heard that my mistress was suffering so severely from a nervous attack that she was unable to rise from her bed. It was no surprise to me to be told that, knowing, as I did, what she had gone through the night before.

About nine o'clock I went with the hot water to the Red Room. After knocking twice, I tried the door and finding it not locked, went in with the jug in my hand.

I looked at the bed; I looked all round the room. Not a sign of Mr. James Smith was to be seen anywhere.

Judging by appearances the bed had certainly been occupied. Thrown across the counterpane lay the night gown he had worn. I took it up and saw some spots on it. I looked at them a little closer. They were spots of blood.

CHAPTER III

The first amazement and alarm produced by this discovery deprived me of my presence of mind. Without stopping to think what I ought to do first, I ran back to the servants' hall, calling out that something had happened to my master. All the household hurried directly into the Red Room, Josephine among the rest. I was first brought to my senses, as it were, by observing the strange expression of her countenance when she saw the bed gown and the empty room. All the other servants were bewildered and frightened. She alone, after giving a little start, recovered herself directly. A look of devilish satisfaction broke out on her face; and she left the room quickly and quietly, without exchanging a word with any of us. I saw this, and I was ed my suspicions. There is no need to mention what they were, for, as events soon showed, they were entirely wide of the mark.

Having come to myself a little, I sent them all out of the room, except the coachman. We two then examined the place. The Red Room was usually occupied by visitors. It was on the ground floor and looked out into the garden. We found the window shutters, which I had barred over night open, but the window itself was down. The fire had been out long enough for the grate to be quite cold. Half the bottle of brandy had been drunk. The carpet bag was gone. There were no marks of violence or struggling anywhere about the bed or the room and we examined every corner carefully, but made no other discoveries than these.

When I returned to the servants' hall, bad news of my mistress was awaiting me there. The unusual noise and confusion in the house had reached her ears, and she had had to do what had happened without sufficient caution being exercised in preparing her to hear it. In her weak, nervous state, the shock of the intelligence had quite prostrated her. She had fallen into a swoon, and had been brought to her senses with the greatest difficulty. As to giving me or anybody else directions what to do, under the embarrassing circumstances which had now occurred, she was totally incapable of the effort.

I waited till the middle of the day, in the hope that she might get strong enough to give her orders; but no message came from her. At last I resolved to send and ask her what she thought it best to do. Josephine was the proper person to go on this errand, but when I asked for her she was nowhere to be found. The house maid, who had searched for her ineffectually, had word that her bonnet and shawl were not hanging in their usual places. The parlor maid, who had been in attendance in my mistress's room, came down while we were all aghast at this new disappearance. She could only tell us that Josephine had begged her to do lady's maid duties that morning as she was not well. Not well! And the first result of her illness appeared to be that she had left the house! (To be continued.)

OUTPUT TO EXCEED NINETY MILLIONS

Ontario Figures Show Gold Production Increases to $33,700,658

A bulletin issued by the Ontario department of mines dealing with the mineral production of the province, shows preliminary figures of output in 1927 to be nearly 90 million dollars in value and when complete returns are available, it is expected that the round figure will be exceeded. Only in one year, 1918, when metal prices were high, was the metal production greater than in 1927. Among the metals, representing 70 per cent of the total output, the principal advances over 1926 were ingot, nickel, and cobalt, while arsenic, gypsum and salt were the leaders among the non-metals. Structural material and clay products show marked increase reflecting expansion in the construction industry.

By way of introduction, tables are given showing past output in detail during the past five years, also the total mineral production of the province year by year since the establishment of a bureau of mines in 1891. Gross output of metals is presented along with a comparative table, showing total dividends paid by the nickel, copper, silver-cobalt and gold industries. To the end of 1927 the figures are:

Total metals, $945,037,343, and total dividends, $263,287,174. During the past two decades, the growth of Ontario mineral industry has been more rapid than the rate shown by Canada at large. Progress of the industry is described under such headings as mining company incorporation; diamond drilling, search for base metals and prospecting activity.

Gold production, representing over half of the total metallic output, was $33,700,658 in 1927, or two and three quarter million dollars in advance of 1926. Expansion in this industry was most marked at Kirkland Lake. Production tables show the output of individual mines year by year also corresponding dividend. An interesting comparison is afforded of Ontario's increasing importance as a gold producer in a table showing world output and also in figures giving the gross output of Ontario, British Columbia and the Yukon. It will be news to many that Ontario passed the Yukon in aggregate output in 1925 and British Columbia in 1926. To the end of 1927 Ontario led British Columbia and the Yukon Territory.

The nickel-copper industry at Sudbury has taken on added importance as a result of finding large bodies of high grade ore at depth in the Froid and Froid-Extension mines. Copper runs from 6 to 20 per cent, in addition to the usual nickel and precious metals content. Ontario's position as a copper producer will be greatly improved two or three years hence when this new ore body is developed.

The bulletin is sufficiently illustrated to relieve the bald recital of statistics. There appears as a frontispiece a half tone of the nickel gallon, presented by the Mond Nickel Company to the Ontario department of mines in recognition of services rendered to the industry by the staff of the department, the occasion being the visit of the empire mining congress to Toronto in August last.

Public debt of U. S. was reduced by $99,407,477 during February.

MRS. A. McMASTER LAID TO REST

Old and Respected Resident Passed Away Wednesday Evening

The funeral of the late Mrs. Alexander McMaster was held Friday afternoon from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. W. J. Oke, Hope St., and was largely attended by friends and relatives of the deceased. Rev. F. W. Anderson of the Port Hope United Church conducted the services and interment was at the Port Hope Union Cemetery.

The late Mrs. McMaster, whose maiden name was Jane Campbell was in her 91st year, and passed to the Great Beyond on Wednesday Feb. 29th. She was a resident of Port Hope for most of her life and her many friends will regret to learn of her passing. Some fourteen years ago, the aged lady sustained a fractured hip and has been confined to her bed for the last four years. She became seriously ill the first part of the week and died on Wednesday evening about five-thirty o'clock. Her husband predeceased her some years ago and four daughters survive. They include Mrs. Hipwell of Lang, Sask., Mrs. A. Long, of Port Hope; Mrs. McKague of Baltimore and Mrs. W. J. Oke of Port Hope. The late Mrs. McMaster was a life-long member of the former Methodist church, and a regular attendant at all its services until forced by infirmity to be numbered among the "shut-ins." It was a great trial to her to be thus deprived of the privilege of public worship, and was always delighted to receive a visit from her pastor and other Christian friends. The Bible was her constant companion and she was continually repeating passages from the Sacred Book. One favorite expression was, "God is good." "Oh, may I triumph so, When all my warfare's past, And dying, find my latest foe, Under my feet at last."

H. E. Martin, 22, Chicago, was drowned when he broke through the ice of Petite Lake while skating.

Three schools in Mill Valley near San Francisco were closed when half the pupils became infected with a seven-day itch, resembling poison oak.

EMIGRATION TO U.S. IS DECREASED

Drop of 15,000 During 1927 As Compared to 1928 Is Shown

Indications are that a number of Canadian leaving Ontario for the United States considerably decreased in 1927 compared with the previous year are given in the report of the Registrar General, which has been presented to the Legislature. A drop of fifteen thousand in number is shown.

QUEBEC SEEKING CIVIC CHANGES

Bishops Adjourn After Three Days of Secret Deliberation

"If teachers in Quebec show enough interest in the matter, and want to proceed to Ontario to learn English, the Provincial Government will help them, since it is our desire that all our teachers have as thorough a knowledge of both languages as possible," declared Hon. Cyrille Delage, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the province, upon his return from a visit to the Queen City.

Mr. Delage stated that Toronto's commercial section was becoming bilingual, like Montreal. Clerks in department stores, hotel waiters, elevator boys, and many others in the larger and better establishments of the Queen City, had addressed him in French during his recent visit there, he said.

ANOTHER USE FOR ANTITOXIN

Physician Claims To Have Reduced Mortality and Cut Time in Hospital

Erysipelas may now be added to the list of diseases vanquished by man, Dr. Konrad E. Birkhaug of the University of Medicine told the American College of Physicians, meeting at New Orleans.

As a result of four years of work, Dr. Birkhaug has developed an antitoxin treatment for use in the early stages of erysipelas that gives results commensurate with those obtained through the use of diphtheria anti-toxin in the early hours of that disease.

The erysipelas treatment reduces to half the time that the patient must spend in the hospital, Dr. Birkhaug told the doctors. The mortality in adults has been reduced from 12 to only 4 per cent, while recurrent attacks of erysipelas have been prevented through a course of immunization through the use of toxiu.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Doyle celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at Philadelphia, Pa.

DECISION IS EXPECTED MAR. 18

Charter Amendments Come Before Private Bills Committee

The House of Bishops of the Church of England, which has been considering the revised Prayer Book in strict secrecy for the past three days, adjourned last night until March 15, when the amended proposals as finally decided upon will be made public. It was not revealed what alterations, if any, had been made by the Bishops in the book as the House of Clergy and Laity left it.

It was officially announced that a convocation of the ecclesiastical Provinces of Canterbury and York will meet to consider the book on March 18. Then on April 25 the Church Assembly in which the Houses of Bishops, Clergy and Laity are incorporated, will meet to give its final approval or rejection of the book as it then stands.

SONGER SIGNS CONTRACT

Don Songer, late of Pittsburgh and more recently of New York, who was shifted from the Giants to the Leafs when Faulkner was gobbled up by Manager McGraw last fall and who, if the truth must be told, did not exactly make a favorable impression, has forwarded his signed contract to president Solman.

Some apprehension was felt at Toronto headquarters when nothing was heard from the southpaw, but his covering letter carried an adequate explanation. It appears that Songer has had much illness in his family and that he has not had very much time to think of baseball. The arm trouble which affected him after he came to the Leafs from the Giants, he says has almost entirely disappeared and he confidently predicts that he will win at least twenty games for the Leafs next summer.

If he does as well at that there is little doubt but that there will be a fat bonus coming his way at the end of the campaign.

Songer has had plenty of experience and may prove to be just the man that Manager O'Hara has been looking for to round out his pitching staff, which at present is top heavy from a right handed standpoint. He has over a dozen star-board snglers, regulars and recruits but only two portsidars, Songer and Martin, and he latter is only a recruit. If Billy Bayne is returned by Cleveland there will be joy in the camp. This is the left-hander purchased by the Toronto club from Greenville of the Sally League and subsequently drafted by the Indians. Bayne led the Southern Atlantic Class B organization in victories and earned runs and on his record was the standout southpaw of the season. This is not his first time up as he was with the St. Louis Browns several years ago and consequently knows the ropes.

Johnny Prudhomme, who was a holdout of sorts, has also come to time. The document binding him to perform for the Leafs again in 1928 came to hand yesterday. He says that he will be among the first to report to Fred Burchell at the Leafs' training grounds. Nothing more has been heard of Rip Collins and Don Hankins, but there is a possibility that the Detroit acquisitions will bob up at the camp and thresh out their grievances in person with the manager.

Dale Alexander may have opposition at first base in the shape of Frederick Georje Bedore, a twenty-three-year-old giant from Chicago, where he played independent ball last season. Bedore batted .490 and fielded .985 at third and first bases. He was on the roster last spring and reported at the camp, but was called home by a death in his family and was afterwards released outright. He is a six-footer and weighs 175 pounds. Another youngster who may receive more than passing attention from the Leafs' board of strategy is Arthur Fraser, who led the pitchers in the New England League last summer with 15 wins as against 6 losses. This is the loop that produced Prudhomme.

Assistant manager Burchell is expected to arrive to talk over things with president Solman. He will leave today for the Albany, Ga., training ground and will take charge of the pitching exclusively when the team gets down to work, next Monday or Tuesday.

GRADS WILL GET WELCOME

Canada's Olympic Hockey Champions, the Varsity Grads, will receive an official welcome home, according to an announcement made by Acting Mayor Gibbons yesterday. The team is expected to arrive in Toronto on Monday, March 19. A meeting of all sports clubs in the city will be held in the City Hall on Tuesday evening, March 13, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of formulating plans that will provide a worthy reception for the world's champions. Every sporting organization is invited to send a representative.

PORT COLBORNE WINS TITLE

Port Colborne, after years of striving, inscribed its name in the champions' class of the O.H.A., winning the O.H.A. intermediate title last night at Kitchener by holding the Twin City six to a 1-1 draw, thus taking the round by 2-1 by their 1 to 0 victory in the Port on Tuesday night.

It was a glorious victory for the visitors, but one of the toughest losses imaginable for the home club. The latter completely outplayed the lakeside club for two periods, bottling them up for the most of the time, but they could only push one goal past Moore, his cage-minding being the most finished seen in many a moon. Port Colborne can unquestionably thank their cool little net minder that they won the John Ross Trophy. With an average goal tender the winners would have been beaten by five goals at least, so completely did the home-sters dominate the play for the final two periods.

One for the hockey boob occurred in the third period during one of the furious assaults on the Port goal, when, with Moore out of the cage, C. Ross took a tumble in the goal mouth just in time to get his head in the way of a fast shot from Hamel's stick that would have tied the

Cleaning up the West

Upper—The C.P.R. train of 35 cars carrying the record shipment of washing machines and pumps ever to be made in Canada. Lower—Plant of Beatty Bros. at Fergus, Ontario. Inset—Fergus station, the Special C.P.R. Train about to leave.

Fergus, a little Ontario town of 2,500 people is making a large contribution to the cleaning up of the West. Recently the whole community turned out to see the despatch of a special train of 35 cars, double-headed with motive power leave for the West with the largest consignment of washing machines and pumps ever to be made in Canada. There were churns, hay carriers and ladders, but the bulk of the eleven thousand individual shipments were pumps and washing machines which had already been sold by Beatty Brothers in farm and rural communities. Fifteen hundred merchants in Western Canada participated in the shipment which was handled as a special train by the Canadian Pacific through to Vancouver. Cars were dropped at Winnipeg, Calgary, Saskatoon, Regina and Edmonton, distribution being fairly general.

The large number of pumps going forward suggests that the Western farmer has decided to carry no more water if his housekeeper will do no more washing.

round up. This came as a climax to several sensationally cool saves on great close in shots on the part of Moore.

PETES' H.S. WIN BY TWO

Belleville High School hockey team will face a two goal deficit when they meet Peterboro Collegiate Institute in the second game of the final round for the Interscholastic championship of Eastern Ontario on Tuesday night next at the Belleville arena. The first game of the series was played Tuesday night in the Lift Lock City and the home-sters were victorious by a score of 5 to 3. The periods were 0-1, 2-1.

A SPRING GARDEN

Hast thou not seen my garden fair?
 Come walk with me in it, for there
 Are buds and blossoms—everywhere Here are the snowdrops, pure and white,
 Emblems of innocence, and light;
 Whilst here are the tulips in their bed,
 Golden yellow and rosy red.
 Also some pink ones, not a few—
 Their fragrance is sweet, I think, don't you?

Come, step this way now, if you please,
 For here is my pansy bed—heart-ease,
 Purple and creamy, brown and white,
 Dew-kissed petals, my heart's delight
 All 'round this grotto, poised in air,
 Are forget-me-nots a-bloom, so fair; Didst thou ever see flowerets quite so blue?

They are lovers' posies—tried and true
 Just see those narcissus and daffodils,
 Silvery petals and yellow frills;
 Quaint little crocus peeping above
 The baby grasses, A God of love Hath placed them there, that when faith is dim,
 We may think of how He careth, and look to Him,
 Must you go so soon? Good-morning
 dear!

Just allow me to open the gate—
 it's near,
 Pray come again when the south
 winds blow,
 And the sun and rain make more posies grow.

IDEA PROVIDES NEW THRILL

Scenic Railway Two Miles High Under Construction—Will Give Wonderful View of Mont Blanc.

Think of swooping through the air from Alpha crag to crag, on a real scenic railway over two miles high.
 This queerest of engineering projects, stranger than anything that has been attempted before, not only has proved feasible but part of the line is now in operation. It was under construction when the war broke out, but the suspended work has recommenced, and according to press dispatches, the line soon will be open to tourists.

This unique railway, technically known as a teleferique, will run from Les Dessons in the Charmonix valley, France, up the Alagnolle du Midi, 12,000 feet high, one of the jagged, precipitous needles in the Mont Blanc range.
 Tourists, in 30 minutes, will be transported from summer heat to the Arctic zone of Mont Blanc, swooping safely through the air while avalanches of snow and ice crash harmlessly by, hundreds of feet beneath the suspended cars.

The idea behind this novel engineering feat is to transport tourists sky-ward to the land of eternal snow and ice. Hundreds of thousands of tourists have seen Mont Blanc from below, but by means of this teleferique line many will be transported safely and comfortably to a spot where only the hardest of alpinists have ever ventured, and where visitors wishing to escape the heat of summer may indulge in all kinds of winter sports.—Selentific American.

Finger Facts.

It is a fact not generally known that the fingers of the right hand move much more quickly than those of the left. They are also much more accurate.

Recent experiments have also proved that the ring finger of the left hand can work more quickly. If it is moving in conjunction with the right-hand forefinger. Any two fingers working together, indeed, move considerably faster than one finger working by itself.

The more a person uses his or her fingers the more adept they become.
 A pianist or typist will find that, in time, the left hand becomes almost as skillful as the right.

Three horned toads arrived at the zoo, Philadelphia, by air mail from Texas.

Many farmers near Quincy, Ill., plan to sow oats this week.

Less than 2% of domestic rabbit pelts used by fur traders in U.S.
 are produced in that country.

The Grande Chartreuse.
 The Grande Chartreuse was the original monastery of the Carthusians, founded in 1804. It is situated among the mountains in the French department of Isere, about fourteen miles northeast of Grenoble, and is famous for an aromatic cordial made by the monks, the secret of which they have long possessed. The monastery was despoiled during the French revolution, and the inmates exiled from 1795 to 1816. They returned after the restoration of Louis XVIII (1814), but never recovered their former wealth and influence.

Caveat emptor

A few years ago "Let the buyer beware" was not so far of being the motto of Canadian business. If a man set out to buy a razor he might get a very excellent one—and, again, he might not. There were some very fine products. And some very poor. And there was no way of choosing the good from the bad, except by test.

Today that condition hardly exists. In every line of merchandise there are trademarked, standardized products. Products that are unvarying in quality and performance—that can be depended upon year in and year out. When you buy them you know what they are, what they'll do and what they'll cost. They're advertised products!

To take full advantage of this—to protect yourself—to save money—watch the advertisements! When you need anything turn to the advertising columns of this paper. Read about the things listed there. When you find the article you need, buy it—not haphazardly, but by name!

MARY PICKFORD IN IDEAL ROLE

"My Best Girl" Appeals To the Royal Theatre Patrons At First Showing

"My Best Girl" is a story of a young man whose mother had decided that it was time he married one of the friends of the family, "a girl suitable to his position" but when he enters his father's great store, under an assumed name, he is terribly smitten with Mary Pickford as the little stock girl so that his duty and his wish in regards to matrimony are two widely different things and brings about a struggle which is graphically depicted by Mary Pickford and Chas. Rogers, a new screen star, who plays the part of the boy. All through the picture there is plenty of scope for comedy which is cleverly done by Mary Pickford, the screen favorite, and Charles Rogers, whose rise in popularity is certain.

"O, Captain" the Cameo Comedy and the serial, "Blake of Scotland Yard" added to the feature, make the Royal week end program real good and attractive.

"Alf was held up last night by two men." "Where?" All the way home."

"ROCKET FLIER" FURTHERS PLANS

Condit Expects to Receive Cordial "Reception" in Venus

Robert Condit, who proposes a "rocket flight" to the planet Venus, expects a cordial reception there, he said today.

Condit, an Ohio inventor, planned to take off from Miami Beach when atmospheric conditions were "absolutely perfect." He hoped to leave the earth in a huge rocket propelled by explosives "more powerful than gunpowder."

"I believe there is a race on the planet similar to our own people," the inventor said. "It may be even more advanced. I expect to find about the same conditions as here, although the climate may be hotter." Condit revealed additional plans for his landing on Venus today as he groomed his torpedo-like craft. Two parachutes, now attached to its nose, will permit him to land "gracefully," he said.

We regret to learn that Mr. Alex. Walsh is quite ill at his home, Barrett's Terrace. His host of friends will wish for an early recovery.

EVERY MAN'S HOME

Every man's home is the best old home. And every man's wife the sweetest; Every man's child is the best little child. The best behaved and the neatest. Every man's baby is better than all The babies that ever were born—And just so it's babies and wives and homes. Why let 'em blow their own horn.

Every man's wife makes the finest preserves. And every man's wife bakes bread That beats all the bread that ever was made From Hatteras to Stony Head. Every man's home is the place to see The finest housekeeping on earth, And just so it's bread and preserves and home, Let 'em keep on with their mirth.

When every man thinks that his own home's best, And his own wife's sweetest why then We'll swing back unto the golden dream Of a heaven on earth again. And isn't it beautiful, fine and sweet That faith of a man in his child, And his wife and his home and his simple life That he boasts of undefiled?

When every man's home is the sweetest place On earth for a man to be; When every man's wife is the sweetest wife In all the world to see When every man's child is the dearest child That ever drew breath—ah, then We shall have better children and women and homes And a darned sight better men.

TO THE PUBLIC:--

Owing to an unavoidable cancellation in one of the larger places, we have been able to secure for next Friday evening the most important stage attraction that has ever appeared in Port Hope—a gorgeous English pantomime entitled "Dick Whittington and His Cat". This show has already played across Canada to the Pacific Coast, is now on its way to the Maritime Provinces, and will play Toronto later in the season.

The company presenting "Dick Whittington" numbers thirty people, including Curley Nixon, Hilda Palmer, Val and Vera Johnston, the Watson Sisters and little Jeanette Garette, all of whom made a decided hit here in "Captain Plunkett's Revue". We have arranged to use the entire production—a full carload of scenery, costumes and properties and to provide an orchestra that will do justice to the music. Prices for this attraction in the cities range up to $2.00 but here they will be 75c, $1.00 and $1.50, the lowest at which a high-class show can be expected.

You have all heard of the pantomimes that are so popular in England, but probably few Port Hoppers know how much enjoyable entertainment is packed into one. This is the first we have ever been fortunate enough to obtain, and I hope that local theatregoers who want the best will realize that they have an opportunity of seeing something really good.
