THE GUIDE STORY

(Continued from yesterday.) The latter was smiling brightly across the heads of the people at her, and suddenly a strange expression passed over the widow's face. From animation it changed to a stony mask, and as she raised her hand to pull down a thick veil, Olwen turned to follow the direction of her eyes, and found, to her sudden excitement, that the mysterious stranger whom she had seen calling at The Briars was in the reserved seats. Olwen stood up and glanced round the hall only to discover that Mrs West had vanished. The first act was an undoubted success. Equally undoubted was the fact that Firefly and the doctor were the making of the play. Firefly was inimitable; John, in his character of a clever, fascinating man of the world, so good that, angry though she was with herself over the absurdity, Olwen grew jealous. "Olwen my love," Miss Granby whispered, "I feel convinced that our good friend is really in love with Firefly! Such unmistakable warmth of feeling is assuredly more than good acting! Did you see, my dear, the pretty glance she gave to him? Did you notice the look in his eyes? I have been a very unobservant old woman." Olwen mumbled some reply that sounded uncomplimentary to all the performers. Truth to say, though she had the sense to know that it had all been merely clever acting, she liked it none the better. Doctor Forrester came round during the interval to ascertain whether the audience had been able to hear properly. He met with a cordial reception from Miss Granby, who indulged in sly innuendoes that he failed to understand while Olwen, hardly answered his questions civilly. "Why if there isn't Fred Woolf!" he suddenly exclaimed. "What on earth is he doing here? Excuse me, Miss Granby, but I must go and speak to him. He is the brother of an old college chum of mine. I had is he fooling round here for? Time can't be up yet. Quick, darling, say just one little word." "I'll give you your answer after the play," whispered Firefly, with a flash of her eyes. "Hello, doc, is time up? Guy, dear—it is sweet of you to come and fetch me like this—" "Allow me dearest Camilla, to conduct you back to the scene of your late triumph," answered John, in the same tone of voice, yet casting a keen glance at Hal's angry face. "May I suggest, my dear Thomas Brown, that well nigh a hundred people are clamoring for a sight of you and this fair lady?" With deep gloom, Hal followed the doctor and Firefly back to the stage. The girl stepped past John to take up her position. "Take care, young lady," he whispered, "if you are up to any trick with that youngster I shall write home."

GREAT BRITISH PICTURE COMING

"Second To None" A Story Of Life In The Navy, At The Royal Monday

One of the greatest hits of the current season was "Land of Hope and Glory," a British photoplay recently shown at the Royal Theatre, and its popularity here prompted the management to book "Second to None," also made in England, but dealing with life in the navy. The story is an inspiring patriotic narrative, relating how a sailor proved himself a hero and a gentleman; the cast is a typically true-to-life British one and the production includes many genuine scenes of navy life in peace and in war. Regular prices will be in effect and no doubt Monday will see one of the largest crowds in the history of the theatre.

With tonight's showing, Charlie Chaplin in "The Circus," ends a four day engagement, and the usual big Saturday audience will have an evening of uproarious fun. If you haven't seen "The Circus" you should join the merry throng, Charlie has never been funnier.

The Poor Man's Friend—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil possesses power in concentrated form. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

SUDDENLY

No time for a last farewell,
No time for the shock of fear,
Scarcely a moment's halt on the shore,
With the guide and the boatman near—
Dear, how surprised you were to go,
With nothing to suffer, little to know.

Only a moment of dark,
A dream of the fleeting night,
And then the beautiful break of day
And the quiet peace of the light,
And you found yourself where you longed to stand,
In the calm repose of the Fatherland.

Did they know you were coming—they
Who had won in the race for home?
Had they heard that the Lord had sent
The message for you to come?
Perhaps the friends who you loved was given
The joy to make you at home in Heaven.

But I know that you would not wait
So near to the King of Grace
Until you had gained your heart's desire—
To look on your Saviour's face.
Ah, victor! whose triumphs were nobly won!
There was no delay in His kind "Well done!"

You have learned your lesson in pain,
There was nothing to fear at last,
Dear, I am very glad for you
That all the trouble is past,
And I would that as swiftly and silently
Some day the summons might come to me.

Here and There

(68)
Actual sales of Canadian Pacific Railway farm lands for the first three months of the year have been double those of the corresponding period of 1927. Enquiries for farm lands generally have increased in the same proportion.

Quebec, Quebec. — The mineral production of the Province of Quebec for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, will be well in excess of $30,000,000 if the activity continues, according to a statement from the Provincial Department of Mines, just issued.

Saint John.—The Maritime Provinces can find a good market in South and West Africa for their manufactured and natural products, according to D. J. S. Tyrer, who recently returned from there. A vast trade, he claimed, could be worked up in salt fish.

Vernon.—For the first time in the history of bee-keeping in British Columbia one bee-keeper in the Okanagan Valley has exported a full carload of honey from his own hives. His 250 colonies gave him an average of 175 pounds of honey per colony.

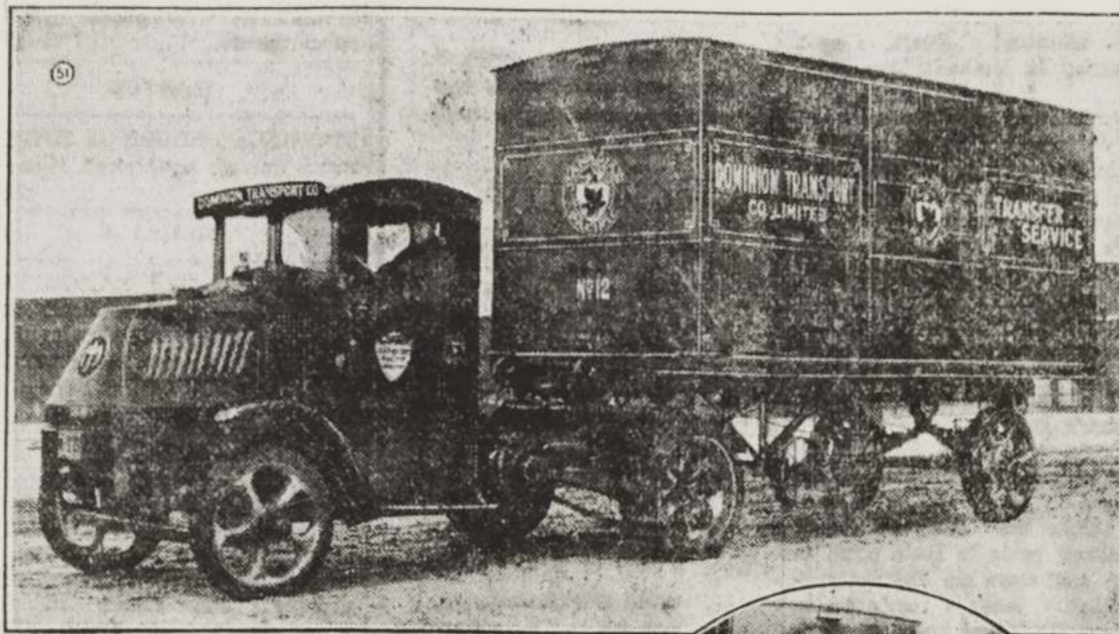

Ottawa.—A survey will be made this year for a Canadian air mail route between Montreal and Winnipeg. This will consist of determining the best routes and locating landing fields. Recent announcement of four air mail contracts between points in Eastern Canada forecast more extensive operations along this line at an early date.

Midland, Ont.—For the first time in the history of this progressive town, a through Canadian Pacific train left here early in May for Toronto, and the first C. P. R. through train arrived from Toronto later in the day. A bottle of champagne was broken across the fender of the C. P. R. locomotive as it pulled out of Midland.

Ski-ing in July and August will be a prominent feature of the combined winter and summer camp to be operated in the Canadian Rockies under the shadow of Mount Assiniboine by Marquis N. degli Albizzi. The winter sport is made possible by the fact of a huge glacier that runs down the slopes of the mountain. Summer sports of variety will also be possible at the camp, which is one of the beauty spots of that part of the Rockies traversed by the Canadian Pacific.

Exports of Canadian forest products constitute one quarter of our total export trade.

Speeding up Freight Service

The recent installation of Mack Tractors and Lapeer Trailers by the Dominion Transport Company Limited, for the transfer of l.c.l. freight between the Canadian Pacific Place Viger freight sheds and their outlying terminals in this city, was demonstrated before E. W. Beatty, Chairman and President, and other executives of the railway outside the Windsor Street Station.

Mr. Beatty was specially interested in the mechanism by which the trailer is connected up with the tractor. This is done by the simple operation of backing the tractor slowly into the trailer. Uncoupling is actuated from the tractor by the simple moving of a lever. The President had these operations performed several times and expressed his appreciation of their simplicity.

Coupling and uncoupling of the trailer is operated by means of a mechanism known as a fifth wheel which is bolted to the tractor frame and upon which the front end of the trailer rides, interlocks itself mechanically with the trailer through the use of rail-road type double locking jaw couplers. Brakes of both the tractor and trailer are applied individually and separately by the driver and are at all times under his control. Were it possible for a trailer to become disconnected from a tractor at any time when in motion, the brakes of the former are automatically applied bringing it almost immediately to a stop.

Through the use of a "Dolly" which consists of a fifth wheel mounted on a pair of road wheels, two or more attendant trailers may be attached to one tractor thereby forming a tractor train and by so doing much increasing the total load capacity. With the addition of the extra trailer wheels the total weight of the vehicle and load is divided over a greater road surface tire area, thus overcoming the deteriorating effect of heavily loaded trucks on the highways and city streets.

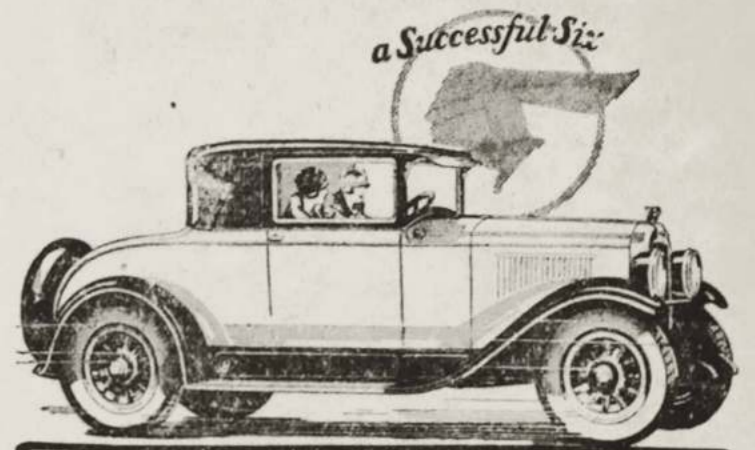

The capacity of the trailers used is 10,000 to 15,000 pounds with an inside dimension of approximately 16 feet long, 6½ feet wide and 7 feet high. The tractor is of the internationally known "Bull Dog" type and its draw-bar pull is far in excess of anything that will be required of it, but was deemed advisable to use in view of the heavy road conditions prevailing in Montreal during the winter months.

While the tractor is of standard Mack design, only the chassis is so in the case of the trailer, the body being built and finished in the Transport company's plant in Montreal. The body is of oak throughout with a sheet metal covering and the whole equipment is highly finished in dark blue with red wheels and undergear, the standard colors of the company, making a very handsome appearance. The centre side panels or sliding doors of the trailer as well as the rear doors and front panel are decorated with the Maple Leaf and Beaver, insignia of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The doors of the tractor bear the same crest. The Dominion Transport Company have at present nine trailers in operation and will increase this number to twelve in the next few weeks. Similar automotive equipment has been ordered for use in Toronto by the company.

Mack tractors and Lapeer trailers represent the latest and most efficient method of handling freight. It consists of spotting one or more trailers at strategic points where freight is to be picked up. When the trailer is loaded the tractor calls for each in turn, taking them to their respective destinations under what is known as the Shuttle System. By this method no time is lost by full trailers waiting to be moved, as they are operated on an hourly schedule between each of the outlying freight depots and the central station, thereby giving the merchants and manufacturers of these outlying districts the same despatch with their freight as those who are more centrally located.

THE TROUT BROOK
 The airs that blew from the brink of day,
 Were fresh and wet with the breath of May.
 I heard the babble of brown brooks falling,
 And golden wings in the woodside calling.

Big drops hung from the sparkling eaves;
 And through the screen of the thin young leaves
 A glint of ripples, a whirl of foam,
 Lured and beckoned me out from home.

My feet grew eager, my eyes grew wide,
 And I was off by the brown brook's side.
 Down in the swamp bottom, cool and dim,
 I cut me an alder sapling slim.

With nimble fingers I tried my line,
 Clear as a sunbeam, strong and fine,
 My fly was a tiny glittering thing,
 With tinsel body and partridge wing.

With noiseless steps I treaded the wood,
 Glad of the sun pierced solitude,
 Chattered the kingfisher, fierce and shy,
 As like a shadow I drifted by.

Lured in their watery lairs the trout
 But silver and scarlet, I lured them out,
 Wary were they, but warier still
 My cunning wrist and my cast of skill.

I whipped the red pole under the beeches,
 I whipped the yellow and dancing reaches,
 The purple eddy, smooth like oil,
 And the tail of the rapid yielded spoil.

So all day long till the day was done
 I followed the stream, I followed the sun,
 Then homeward over the ridge I went
 The wandering heart of me well content.
