LAI'D TO REST ON SUNDAY

Funeral Conducted of Henry A. Robinson, Who Died on Friday

Henry A. Robinson, Sullivan St. was laid to rest in Welcome Cemetery Sunday afternoon and numerous friends and relatives attended the obsequies. Mr. Robinson died suddenly Friday morning and was found by his wife, dead in bed. The late Mr. Robinson had been troubled with heart disease for the past month and last week was in fair health and was about as usual. Late Thursday night he appeared to be in a normal condition, but death arrived in the night.

Deceased was born in Rossmount, Hope Township, over fifty years ago and resided there practically all his life, excepting the last three years, when he was a resident of Port Hope. He was in his 55th year and married Annie Louise Smylie. In religion he was a member of the United Church and in politics, a Liberal.

Left to mourn his loss is his widow and three daughters, Mrs. C. Battersby, Hope Township and Linda and Goldie at home and two sons Lloyd and Luther also at home. One sister, Mrs. J. A. Byam of Hops street, also survives.

FIREMEN FIGHT FURIOUS FLAMES

Conflagration Started in Absence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lingard, On Saturday Night

Saturday evening at ten o'clock, fire broke out in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lingard on Barrett Street and gained considerable headway before noticed, as it broke out in the rear of the house, which was badly damaged by the flames.

A passerby noticed the flames, turned in an alarm and the fire department responded promptly and quickly got the fire under control. The fire apparently broke out near the kitchen stove and the flames quickly went up between the partition to the second floor, where it rapidly spread to the roof.

Thoughtful citizens removed the furniture so that it would not be destroyed by the flames or water. The kitchen and two rooms above were very badly damaged by fire, while the front of the house suffered to a considerable extent from the water used in extinguishing the blazing roof.

Mrs. Lingard told the Guide today, that it was very seldom that they went out and left the house alone at night, but she had been working hard at housework and she and Mr. Lingard had gone to the show. She could not account for the outbreak and it could only be surmised as to the origin.

The firemen are to be complimented for their work on getting the flames out as quickly as they did.

Breach of Liquor Control Act Brings Hotel Proprietor Two Months in Jail

L. K. Bosheff is Sentenced to Two Months Imprisonment as Well as Payment of Costs of Court—H. A. Ward Gives Notice of Appeal and Accused is Released on $500 Bail.

L. N. Bosheff, proprietor of the Ontario Hotel, Port Hope, was sentenced to two months' imprisonment at the Counties Jail at Cobourg in Police Court here this afternoon before Magistrate W. A. F. Campbell, on conviction of a breach of the Liquor Control Act. H. A. Ward, K.C., defence counsel, gave notice of appeal and the accused was released on $500 bail. As well as receiving two months, the accused is required to pay the costs of the court, amounting to $27.50 or serve an additional month's imprisonment.

Evidence Reopened

The charge of selling was aired in Police Court here last week and judgment was reserved until today, but at the opening of the hearing at 2.30 this afternoon, the case was reopened. H. A. Ward, K.C. counsel for the accused remarked that the Attorney General had requested all possible evidence and wanted to ask some questions of Provincial Constable Storey.

The reopening of the case centred around the statements alleged to have been made at the former trial by Provincial Officer Storey regarding the position of two men on stools in the bar at the time of the raid on April 7th.

"Describe to me what kind of stools they were sitting on?" asked Mr. Ward.

"I couldn't do it."

"High or low?"

"I couldn't tell what they were sitting on for I don't know."

Two other witnesses for the defence told of being in the bar room on several occasions and at no time noticed any stools. There were, they stated, some chairs and tables.

Mrs. Bosheff, wife of the accused and Miss M. Wilson also stated that no stools were used in the hotel at all.

"Do you remember any liquor that was in the house?" asked Mr. Ward.

"He had a little liquor or brandy," replied Mrs. Bosheff.

"When was it bought?"

"It must have been in September or October."

"Where was it kept?"

"In the bedroom."

"The other bottle on the permit, what was that?"

"A bottle of brandy."

"Are you familiar with everything that comes into the hotel?"

"Yes, I think I am."

"Do you know anything about your husband selling?"

"No, I don't know anything about it."

H. A. Ward argued that Provincial Officer Storey had been very careless when he admitted that men were first sitting on stools, at the time of the raid. The police came in almost immediately after the two men who did not have time to sit down, and declared Mr. Ward, "if a witness can see two stools that are not there it is reasonable to suppose he saw two glasses when here was only one."

Mr. Ward further argued that his client was under a severe ordeal as a result of the loss and trouble caused by the flooding of his property in the first part of April. Magistrate Campbell reviewed the evidence briefly and referred to the visit of Officers Storey and Murphy.

"The admission made by the accused that he had been selling," remarked the Magistrate, "is not specifically denied by the defendant. He just said 'I don't remember.'"

His Worship pointed out that he did not think any level headed man would take a drink for himself in a public bar before two strangers.

Accordingly a two months' sentence was handed down with costs of $27.50 attached, non-payment of which would bring another month. Notice of appeal was given and the accused was allowed his freedom on bail of $500.

WRIGLEY SWIMS COME TO THE "EX."

Distinct Events for Men And Women To Be Held On Separate Days

Toronto is to have the third Wrigley Marathon swim. Following a conference between J. Allan Ross, of the Wrigley Co. and the Canadian National Exhibition Board, the swimmers—there are to be two—were awarded to the Exhibition.

The races are to be held, one first for women only, on August 29th, over a 10 mile course; the second, for men over a 15 mile course, on Sept. 5th. Prizes will total $50,000; no announcement is made as to what disposition of prizes between the two contests is to be made.

The races are to be conducted, as was the 21 mile swim of last year, over a triangular course. But the course will be three miles in distance instead of seven. The triangular course will be laid out a mile on the base, along the Exhibition breakwater, a mile south out into the lake to the apex, and one mile back north to the starting point. This means that both events will be conducted within the view of the spectators on the shore during the entire day.

"These will be races rather than a marathon endurance contest," Mr. Ross said. "There was also some criticism that we were matching the women against the men in the long contest, so that it was decided to make a separate race."

As an incentive to the good women swimmers, Allan Ross and Elwood Hughes, sports director of the C.N.E., have decided that any of the first ten women who finish in the first race will be allowed to compete also in the 15 mile swim.

"The matter of accommodation for onlookers is having our serious consideration," said Mr. Hughes. "Last year the crowd was tremendous. The swimmers, while they are for the purpose of establishing the champion professional swimmer of the world, have the sanction of the International Professional Swimming Association of the World, whose offices are in New York, are also for the entertainment of the crowds that visit the Exhibition, and their side of the matter will have to be considered. The Parks Commission, our Board, Mr. Ross and others will meet to decide how improvements may be made to help the huge crowd expected."

Mr. Hughes expects some entries on Monday that will startle many Swimmers of renown who have never competed in professional events are likely to enter. Should there be a not over large entry list of women, the ten mile course will be more of a rectangular shape, that is a mile long along the shore wall, out just beyond the breakwater and a mile back. If the entry is small enough the course will be entirely within the breakwater. The men will swim over a 3 mile triangle.

DEATH SUMMONS MRS. JOHN GETTYS

Popular Port Hope Resident Passed Away Monday Morning

The citizens of Port Hope were grieved this morning to learn of the passing of Mrs. John A. Gettys, North St. Although the deceased had been ailing for some time her passing was quite unexpected.

The late Mrs. Getty's maiden name was Margaret Evelyn McGibbon and she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McGibbon, and was a life long resident of Port Hope. She was in her 43rd year and was a member of the Port Hope United Church.

The death of Mrs. Gettys has removed a noble character and a person whose memory will long linger in the hearts and minds of those knowing her. She was a cheerful, exemplary character and spread sunshine wherever she moved. In the family circle her death is an irreparable loss and those called upon to mourn the death of a wife and sister have sympathy that is as widespread as it is sincere.

Left to mourn her passing is her husband and four sisters, Mrs. Harry Routh of Cobourg; Mrs. Alfred Outram, Mrs. L. H. Giddy and Mrs. Ernest King, Port Hope, and two brothers, William McGibbon of Victoria, B.C., and Charles McGibbon of Picton.

The funeral service will be held on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock with interment at the Union Cemetery.

BURGLAR GETS SEVEN YR. TERM

Guilty of Entering and Stealing From General Store

Harold Stone, charged with breaking, entering and theft, appeared before Magistrate Jarman of Bancroft and, being found guilty, was sentenced to seven years in Portmouth Penitentiary. B. C. Donan, Crown Attorney, prosecuted and the accused was not represented by a counsel.

A serious fire occurred a Paudash Lake three weeks ago in which the general store of Hubbell Bros. was completely destroyed. Stone about this time, took to the woods with his wife and small babe, and for two weeks led the police a merry chase. During that time the two slept in abandoned shacks, and lived on what they could forage in the bush. When Stone was arrested he was armed. Property was found in his possession which was identified in court by owners.

EASTERN DISTRICT TO BE PATROLLED

Smuggling and Rum Running To Be Vastly Curtailed This Summer

Of late years considerable rum-running has been carried on across the border in the Thousand Islands district, as the multiplicity of islands afforded good seclusion and means of escape for those engaged in the business. Now that the season has again opened, United States prohibition agents are making plans for putting a stop to the passage of liquor across the international border. Several patrol boats will guard this section of the St. Lawrence River this summer. Spotters are being employed and local residents have been advised that two of them are located on Grindstone Island, a large American island lying just in front of that town. It is from stores on this island that Canadians secure large quantities of cigarettes, gasoline, matches and other contraband. The traffic is likely to be materially decreased this year. For some time the Canadian Customs Department has had a special officer in this district checking up on petty smugglers.

FOREST FIRES IN MAYO TWP.

Seventy Acres of Woodland Was Burned Before Outbreak Is Quelled

The first forest fire of any size in the Hastings-Peterboro-Victoria County district broke out in Mayo Township in the County of Hastings last week. Smoke chasers and forest fire rangers were soon at the scene of the conflagration and after several hours' fighting the blaze was under control, but not before 70 acres of slash woodland had been burned over. In that district, according to H. W. Crosbie, District Forester, there have been several small fires commencing as early as April 10.

The launching of Virginia II, large cabin cruiser, from the Ditchburn Boat Works took place Saturday afternoon, and was a most interesting ceremony. Preceding the launching the Orillia Kiltie Band played a program of music and marched to the dock. Gordon LeFebvre, vice-president of General Motors Corporation and his charming wife performed the ceremony of launching which was witnessed by thousands of spectators. The Mayor and Council attended in a body. Among the visitors present to witness the launching were a number of the General Motors officials from Toronto and Oshawa.

When a freight car broke loose while being shunted in the yards of the General Motors at Ottawa Saturday afternoon a serious accident might have occurred. The car gained speed down a grade, and travelled along Ritson Road at a fast clip, crossing King street, where the traffic is usually heavy. It continued on to Bruce Street, where it turned a sharp curve and then climbed a stiff grade to Drew Street, where it stopped. Two brakemen were on the car but could not get the brakes to work. A motorist, seeing the runaway car before it reached the highway, rushed ahead to stop the traffic, eliminating the possibility of a crash. The freight car nearly came to grief on the Bruce street curve, which turns almost at right angles. It lurched over sharply, but fortunately did not leave the rails.

BRINGING UP FATHER—

BY GEORGE McMANUS

PARLIAMENT TO PROROGUE 26TH

Every Effort Made To Wind Up Session Within Two Weeks

Every effort is being made to complete the session of parliament by May 26, Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader in the Senate, informed that body.

Criticism has frequently been levelled at the Senate for its "killing" and delaying, measures sent to it from the Commons, but the charge of obstructing Senate bills was made against the House of Commons and more particularly the charge that the government was holding up discussion on the Senate bill to establish a divorce court for Ontario. This was one of the first items sent by the Senate to the Lower House this session and it has not been reached for consideration yet.

Senator McMeans, vice-chairman of the divorce committee, suggested that prorogation of parliament be refused until this bill is considered. Senators Dandurand and Belcourt felt that there had been no undue delay in respect to the consideration of the bill by Commons but that under the rules of the House such delay has had occurred, was inevitable.

The Senate approved the federal district commission amendment act without division and the liquor traffic act was given further consideration. Senator Dandurand presented an amendment to the measure with respect to fines and penalties to be imposed for infractions of the act. The bill amending the naturalization act was read a first and second time and referred to the bank and commerce committee.

"BOSSY" GILLIS RULES SUPREME

Pretty Good Mayor and None of His City Council Will Dispute Point

All joking aside "Bossy" Gillis is doing a pretty good job as mayor of Newburyport.

The rather pugnacious ex-sailor who was transformed overnight from filling station proprietor into chief executive of this ultra-conservative community, has won his political spurs by employing tactics similar to those which in other days made him an outstanding figure in gasoline alley.

"I guess I've done as good as could be expected of a bad boy" grinned the belligerent red head, when interviewed by the United Press as regards his accomplishments during the first four months of his administration.

Since he became the Honorable Andrew G. Gillis "Bossy" has spent a comparatively small percentage of his time in the city which he rules with an iron hand.

He has made one trip to New York. He has hurried to Pittsburgh to hire the gun which started a dance marathon. He has been down to Boston to tell a group of Harvard alumni about the perils of politics. He has addressed Elks, Rotarians, Kiwanis and chambers of commerce in a dozen cities.

But on those nights when the city council meets he invariably is in Newburyport, and that, says, Bossy is the secret of his success. "Just keep a firm grip on your city council," his honor cautioned, "and the rest of your mayor's job will be soft." Proof that "Bossy" was maintained such a "firm grip" was seen in comment gathered from representative councillors. Even the mayor's former political enemies had no bad word to say against Newburyport's "bad boy."

"Are you satisfied with the accomplishments of your administration thus far?" the reporter asked. "Hell, yes," the mayor said. "Why shouldn't I be?"

HAD APPROPRIATE MUSIC AT U.C.

Rev. N. E. Bowles, B.D., of Toronto, Preached At Both Services in United Church

Sunday there were appropriate selections given for Mother's Day at the United Church and at the Sunday School a baptismal service was very much in keeping with the day.

At the morning service the congregation was favored by an anthem, "O, Taste and See," and a quartette "Memories of Mother" by Messrs G. Darling, Geo Ward, Alf Fulford and James Thomas. Rev. N. E. Bowles, B.D., Toronto, told a story quite in keeping with the thought of the moment which should be remembered by the children for a long time. It was a story of a little boy and his mother; the latter, motherlike, ever anxious as to his safety on going outside the home, led him to the stove leg with her apron string. As the boy got cooler and stronger he tested his strength on the apron string and finally broke it and hid him away to the mountain not far away and spent the afternoon enjoying the flowers, birds and scenery toward evening he concluded to go home and lost his way. Falling over a cliff, the apron string, still around his waist, caught on a snag and saved him from disaster and possibly death. The moral of the story the preacher left for the boys and girls to discover for themselves.

In the Sunday School Miss Minnie Sorrell sang "Memories of Mother" and four of the boys, Stanley Morrison, Jim Rutter, Joseph and Cecil Rutter rendered an excellent quartette, "I Would Be True." At the close of the regular session a baptismal service was held when six or eight parents brought their infant children for this sacred rite.

At the evening service the congregation had two real musical treats when Mr. G. Darling sang a lovely selection "The Promise Made To Mother" and Mr. C. E. Stephenson gave "King David's Lament," which is a very fine piece and was sung very beautifully by Mr. Stephenson.

Rev. Mr. Bowles, who is a returned missionary, had a message of good thought and good cheer. His text was taken from two places, Philippians 4:4, and Mark 11:22. "Rejoice, Have Faith in God." He started out by telling of all the things there are in which we can rejoice, the beauties of nature, the mountains, brooks, seas, the sunset, spring and so on; the inventions of genius, music, friends, the joy of being young, but he showed that these were the minor sources of joy as they all are likely to fade away or die. For a permanent joy we must have a faith in God which brings us in confidence into His presence and is lasting. Mr. Bowles left the theme to be carried away, "Rejoice, Have Faith in God."

FARM NOTES

The value of skim milk as a source of animal protein in the ration is well known to those engaged in the raising of bacon hogs. In many cases, however, the supply is limited and a suitable substitute is desired that will give good gains, develop the right type of hogs and be economical to purchase.

In 1923 an experiment was carried on at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Nappan, Nova Scotia, wherein 24 hogs were fed from weaning to finishing on a grain ration containing 8 per cent of fishmeal. Another group of hogs was fed the same grain mixture plus 300 pounds of skim milk per 100 pounds of the grain mixture. The fishmeal fed group gained .95 lbs. per day at a cost of 10.2 cents per pound, while the skim milk lot gained .94 pounds daily at a cost of 8.4 cents per pound. The fishmeal and skim milk were charged at $100 and $4 per ton respectively.

In 1926 two experiments were carried on. In each case a check pen which received no animal protein supply, was included in the test. The average daily gains recorded were as follows: Fishmeal fed lot, 1.25 pounds, skim milk fed lot 1.1 pounds and the check lot, .93 pounds. The average costs per pound gain were 8.78 cents for the fishmeal fed lots, 7.57 cents for the skim milk lots and 8.36 for the check lots.

In 1927 two more experiments were conducted. The gains were slightly lower with the fishmeal groups than with those fed skim-milk, but both lots showed greater gains than the check pens.

In all the experiments outlined, the hogs in the fishmeal fed lots were equally as good or better in type and finish than those fed skim-milk and both lots showed marked superiority over the check lots. The 1927 fed hogs were graded by a representative of the Live Stock Branch and the results were as follows: Fishmeal group, 90 per cent selects, 10 per cent shop hogs; skim-milk groups, 80 per cent selects, 20 per cent thick smooths; check group 50 per cent select 30 per cent thick smooth and 20 per cent shop hogs.

Averaging the results of all experiments it was found that the hogs fed fishmeal gained 1.01 pounds per day; those on skim milk .985 pounds and the check lots .907 lbs., at a cost per pound gain of 9.5, 8.15 and 9.04 cents respectively.

The digestible protein in the fishmeal cost 8 cents per pound. If the skim milk is charged at the same rate, it would be worth $5.76 per ton instead of $4 and the cost per pound gain would be 8.8 cents instead of 8.15. Fishmeal analyzing 70 per cent total protein or 63 per cent digestible protein and selling at $80 to $100 per ton, is one of the cheapest protein feeds on the market at the present time and if fed at the rate of 6 to 8 per cent of the meal ration, will give good gains and develop a good type add well finished bacon hog, providing a balanced ration is fed.

From the experiments above outlined, fishmeal is recommended to a man who is growing market hogs and has only a limited supply of skim milk at hand.

THE GUIDE STORY

There was no time for Firefly to do more than make an expressive little grimace in reply. During the next two intervals she took care to keep clear of both John and Hal. The Pett family occupied seats in the same row as those of Olwen and her aunt, and between the scenes Lesley Pett, who sat next to Olwen, did his best to be agreeable in a condescending way. Olwen found this trying to her temper as well as difficult to suppress. She could not but be aware that his attentions were daily growing more and more marked. She did not fail to realize that Mrs. Pett regarded her with ever increasing amiability. She knew quite well in what light she was regarded by the whole family, but she found it difficult to check the idea without actual rudeness.

Therefore, what with envy, jealousy, and embarrassment Olwen did not enjoy her evening. Neither, it must be owned, did Miss Granby, after the first act; for between admiration of Firefly acting and dismay at her taking the part of such an arrant heartless little flirt, she grew distressed.

"Well, Firefly?" said Hal eagerly, as after the performance the girl came out from the dressing room cloaked for the drive home. They were struggling to get thru the crowd to join Miss Granby and Olwen.

"You are just too late Mr. Pett. I am already engaged," she said.

CHAPTER XXII

A Surprising Theft

That night as they drove home, Olwen wondered what had happened to Firefly. Instead of being excited as might have been expected, she was either silent or so irritable that even Miss Granby noticed it, and decided that she was over tired by her exertions.

Had she seen the girl in the privacy of her own room that night she would have thought so still more.

"What a fool you are, Jane Fenton!" remarked Firefly angrily to her reflection in the glass about 1 o'clock the next morning, after she had contemptuously surveyed the pale cheeks, the red, swollen eyes, and the still quivering mouth. "Did you not hear me?" she repeated angrily. "What a fool you are."

Then blowing out the candle, she hurried into bed and seemingly slept for the next few hours. At any rate at breakfast she was her usual bright self, quite ready to help forward the preparations for the fancy dress ball that evening.

The ball was a novelty, and therefore, a success. Olwen did not make a good hostess; she was too stiff and self-conscious, but she looked well in her Spanish costume, and Mrs. Pett and Firefly seconded her efforts successfully.

In spite of the short notice, those invited, with very few exceptions, put in an appearance and in all cases the costumes were effective. Huge bonfires round the pond threw a ruddy light over the ice while weird shadows. Chairs were provided for those who preferred them. A band was stationed in the neighborhood of a huge bonfire and, altogether, as Mrs. Pett said, the affair could not have been more successful.

Yet to Olwen and Firefly the carnival was a failure by reason of the absence of two of the guests.

Hal Pett had sent apologies for his absence. Doctor Forrester's non-arrival was perplexing. Only that morning Miss Granby had met him out driving and he had told her, with a laugh, that he was hurrying thru his work to be ready for the ice carnival. Olwen felt uneasy and a pre-sentiment that something was wrong.

Before the skating was over something unpleasant did happen to Olwen, for Lesley Pett, exhilarated by the animated scene, made her an offer of his hand and his heart, assured her that his mother fully approved of his choice, and then, very well pleased with the way in which he had delivered his carefully prepared declaration waited for her answer.

Some time elapsed before she was able to convince him that she meant to decline the honor. In fact, in very desperation, she grew almost rude.

"But why? I don't understand," urged the astonished man. "I thought we were friendly. I gathered the impression that we were thoroughly congenial to each other. Perhaps I have spoken too soon, Miss Ransom? Another time—"

"We are not congenial. A hundred years hence it would be the same," said Olwen desperately; then, being in a softened, troubled mood she added more gently: "Don't be vexed, Mr. Pett, but I fancy that by the end of this week you will not be very sorry that I have said 'No.' You do not understand me in the least. You and I have nothing in common. Now, go and skate with that pretty girl over there. I have forgotten her name—it is Mollie somebody."

Lesley followed the direction of her eyes, and his own softened.

"Ah, that's Mollie Renfrew, a capital sort of girl. My young brother Hal used to be very chummy with her. I shouldn't wonder if they made a match of it."

"The Big Parade" Coming Back On Wednesday And Thursday at Regular Prices

Among about eight hundred photoplays produced for the season of 1927-28 there are four that stand head and shoulders above all the rest, and one of them is "The Big Parade." When shown here last fall it attracted a very large audience at 50c, 75c and $1 and delighted even those who paid the highest price, but as there are hundreds of other Port Hoppers who no doubt would like to see this great masterpiece, the management of the Royal Theatre have arranged for a return engagement on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The picture will be exactly the same as before, the only difference being the fact that of course, it is not accompanied by an orchestra. As a special treat for the public, regular prices will be maintained, making this attraction the most exceptional amusement value of the year. It is doubtful whether "The Big Parade" will be shown anywhere else in the province at 15c and 25c, as these prices are the lowest charged by any Famous Players Theatre.

"Second to None."

Tonight and tomorrow the Royal is presenting a British production, "Second to None," dealing with life in the navy. It is generally considered even better than "Land of Hope and Glory," which made a tremendous hit here, and should attract heavy patronage. This feature begins at 8.20.

Leafs Lose Two

Jersey City Skeeters and Toronto Maple Leafs made a hurried trip from Toronto Sunday and tarried long enough at the Jersey City ball park to dispose of a scheduled doubleheader, with disastrous results to Bill O'Hara's tourists, Jersey City grabbing off both parts of the twin bill to the chagrin of the visitors and great surprise of the home rooters, who at best had hopes for at least an even break. Weak hitting and ragged fielding were responsible for the Leafs downfall, while poor form by Pitcher Prudhomme as the relief artist in the Jersey's final round of the second line up permitted the victory to filter away just when the Leafs had the game apparently in their grasp.

Break Even Saturday

Through twelve innings of sensational baseball the Jersey City and Toronto Internationals struggled on Saturday afternoon in the first game and then history was made. Or to use that cut-and-dried expression, it was the end of the limit. With the Leafs three runs in arrears, none out and two men on the runway in the fateful twelfth Pinch-hitter Sexton crashed into the ball and Murphy, Skeeter right fielder, made a wonderful catch and started a triple play, probably the only one of its particular kind in all the annals of baseball. In fact there were many who claimed that it wasn't a triple play at all, but the umpire's word was final and Toronto lost by 8 to 5. They, however, avenged this reverse by winning the second game by 15 to 0, this being their only victory in the four-game series.

Six thousand fans looked on in amazement when the Skeeters pulled that three-ply killing. Otis Lawry and Frank Gilbooley, former Leafs were two of the culprits who made this unusual play possible. When Sexton ton connected the general impression was that the ball would cross the left field fence and tie the score but Murphy reached high in the air and holding the back of his glove against a sign, made a miraculous catch. In the meantime Styles, who had been on first base, and Bedore, on second, dashed for the plate, and Murphy threw the ball back into the infield where Martin secured it.

All Is Confusion.

Most of the players of both teams were congregated in that territory everybody appearing to be giving instructions while Styles and Bedore ran back and forth and just did not know what it was all about. Catcher Devine strode out toward second base leaving the home plate unguarded, and Bedore promptly raced in. But out of all the confusion came Manager Gilbooley to tag out Styles. "Gi!" then walked in to the plate to get in the argument with Umpire Carroll and Otis Lawry grabbed the ball out of Gilbooley's hand and raced to second, where he touched the base, and completed this most unusual of three-ply plays.

So that's the way it went down in the book—Murphy to Martin to Killhooley to Lawry.

CROSS COUNTRY DERBY

Bunion Derby Field Down To Fifty-Five

John Salo, Passaic, N.J., led C. C. Pyle's coast to coast racers into their seventy-first control at Arrowhead Beach, Ohio, Sunday, traversing the 51.4 miles from Elyria, Ohio, in 7.13'34. Salo ranks second in the Bunion Derby with an elapsed time of 485.37.49 for the 2084 miles to date.

Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla. joggled to a dead heat for sixth place, leader of the pack in elapsed time, Payne, Phillip Granville, Hamilton, and Louis Perella, Albany, N.Y., did the distance in 8.11.47.

Salo gained 58.13 on Payne but the Oklahoma runner held an advantage of 21.49.47 over his Eastern competitor. Payne's total time was 463.48.22; Granville's 497.09.59; Perella's 517.25.25.

Ed Gardner, Seattle negro, finished second in 7.45.30. His total running time was 536.37.03. He seemed to successfully have warded off a "splint" that threatened to eliminate him from the grind.

Mike Joyce, Cleveland Irishman, headed the runners through his home city but lost the advantage before the control point was reached and finished third in 7.48.30. His elapsed time is 511.28.54.

"Shure and you want too much" Mike said to a fan who rebuked him for not finishing first.

Harry Sheare, aged 50, San Francisco, oldest remaining runner in the race, was definitely put out of the grind when he was run down by an auto. The Californian sustained a possible fractured skull, wrenched pelvis and contusions when he was run down by a car driven by A. H. Silbergeld, Niagara Falls, N.Y., seven miles east of Elyria. He was removed to an Elyria hospital where he was reported in no immediate danger. He stood twenty-third in elapsed when forced out. His withdrawal reduces the field to 55.

Frank S. von Flue, Kerman, Cal., finished fourth in 8.10.12, total time 658.57.18, ad Guisto Umeck, Trieste, Italy, came in fifth in 8.10.30, with an elapsed time of 516.37.41.

Fighting his way through heavy traffic in Cleveland Sunday, Phillip Granville completed the 51.4 mile lap from Elyria in 8.11.47, tying Andy Payne, race leader, and Louis Perella, Albany.

Granville retains third place with an elapsed time of 497.09.59 for 2804 miles.

Cronick, Saskatoon, held eighth place by finishing eighth in 9.15.34—500.38.05.

Andrew Constantinoff, Toronto, finished 18th to hold 13th place in 10.27.53.—580.49.28.

George Liebergall, Bellevue, 1202.10—604.02.44.
