Methodist Church Notes

Anniversary, Sacramental and Baptismal Services Sunday, May 7th

The 106th anniversary of the Port Hope Methodist Church will be held on Sunday, May 7th.

The General Superintendent of the Methodist church, Rev. A. Carman, D.D., will preach both morning and evening. As this is also the Quarterly Sacramental Day the Love Feast will be held at 10 a.m. in the school room of the church, and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the close of the evening service.

A baptismal service will be held at the close of the morning service. All parents having children to baptise are invited to bring them to this service.

The public are cordially invited to any or all of these services.

The Sunday School will meet at the usual hour.

THE BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE Will hold its annual session this year in the Port Hope Methodist Church from Wednesday, May 30th, to Tuesday, June 6th.

The principal question which will be up for discussion will be church Union. The program of Conference as published in the Christian Guardian, makes this the order of business on Saturday and Monday morning of the Conference.

One of the most interesting features of the Conference is the evening Anniversary Services. The public Reception Service of Friday evening being particularly impressive. At this service the young men who have completed their probation are formally admitted to the brotherhood of the Methodist ministry.

There will be in attendance about 250 delegates, of whom 150 are ministers.

CONFERENCE BILLETS.

The work of securing billets for the delegates to the approaching Bay of Quinte Conference is now in progress. The Billeting Committee is composed of the pastor, Rev. W. G. Clarke F. Outram, (Chairman) T. Wickett (Vice-Chairman) G Garnett (Minute Secretary), H. Fulford, H. Skitch, J. H. Rosevear, E. V. Dyer, R. Gillies, M. P. Wickett.

Its meetings are held every Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. The Committee are very thankful to those who are so generously opening their homes. The pastor also greatly appreciates the friendliness of other churches for their co-operation and in opening their homes to entertain visiting delegates. As there are about 250 delegates to provide with homes the work as yet is far from complete. The pastor or any member of the Committee will be very glad to hear from any who may desire to open their homes to entertain a delegate.

All delegates to Conference will take their dinners down town. The Conference is held from Wednesday, May 30th, to Tuesday, June 6th. The laymen do not come until Thursday, June 1st.

THE TREAT OF THE SEASON—The dance to be held in the Town Hall on Friday evening, under the auspices of the Port Hope Base Ball club promises to be the treat of the season. There will be a large crowd in attendance and the committee have spared no pains to make the affair a most enjoyable one. Fralick's orchestra, of Toronto will provide music, and dancing will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

RESTAURANT BY-LAW HAS BEEN PASSED

Council Had a Lengthy Discussion, With Many Divisions.

The much-talked-of restaurant by-law has received its three readings and has been passed by the Council. The members were all in attendance last evening, and after considerable discussion the different blanks were filled in and the corporate seal attached to the by-law.

Councillor W. A. Russell was strongly opposed to the by-law and favored the restaurants being open all day Sunday. They served nothing except meals and he could see no objection to this. Many people patronized the restaurants after church; in fact he knew of one of the local ministers who did so regularly.

Mr Hancock could see no necessity for having the restaurants open in the afternoon between the hours of two and five o'clock. He would favor, however, allowing them to remain open from five to eight.

Mr. White pointed that the Court had decided that ice cream was a food and if the restaurants were given an open Sunday all the ice cream parlors could do business as well.

Coun. W. A. Russell thought that no particular harm would be done by having a dish of ice cream on the Sabbath. The fact of partaking of a little ice cream on Sunday would hardly ruin one's morals.

Mr. Fulford thought the restaurants should not be opened after seven o'clock on Sunday evenings.

Mr. Beggs stated that restaurants were a convenience to the public and should be opened when the hotels were closed. Between the hours of five and seven o'clock persons could be served at the hotels and he would favor allowing the restaurants to remain open for a later hour.

The Mayor said that under the old by-law the restaurants were allowed to remain open from five to seven, and Mr. Moore, one of the proprietors, stated that no business was done during these hours. He suggested to have the restaurants closed from two to eight and open from eight to ten p.m.

Mr. R. G. Russell wanted it from five to ten.

Mr. Patterson suggested a compromise from five to eight p.m.

The vote on Mr Fulford's resolution to allow the restaurants to remain open from 5 to 7 was lost on the following vote:—

Yeas—Messrs Patterson, Fulford and Mayor Mulholland.

Nays—Messrs W A Russell, R G Russell, Hancock and Beggs.

To allow the restaurants to remain open until 8 o'clock carried on the following vote:—

Yeas—Messrs Hancock, Patterson, Fulford and the Mayor.

Nays—Messrs W A Russell, R G Russell and Beggs.

Reeve Long occupied the chair during the second reading.

The bylaw as now passed allows the restaurants to remain open on Sundays until 2 o'clock in the afternoon and closed from that hour until 5 o'clock, then open from 5 o'clock until 8.

A TROUBLESOME MISGIVING

He knew that on such topics he could talk agreeably enough, revealing without stress or opportunity his tastes, his powers, his attainments.

In the meantime he had purchased a copy of Reusch's Bibel und Natur, and had made a translation of some fifty pages. This experiment he submitted to a London publishing house, with proposals for the completion of the work; without much delay there came a civil letter of excuse and with it the sample returned.

CHAPTER III.

It occasionally happens that a woman whose early life has been directed by native silliness and social bias, will submit to a tardy education at the hands of her own children.

The came of a race long established in squirearchy dignity amid heaths and woodlands. Her breeding was pure through many generations of the paternal and maternal lines representative of a physical type, fortified in the males by much companionship with horse and hound, and by the corresponding country pursuit of dowered daughters.

Messrs. Kells, Fowler & Co. have made a grand internal improvement in Mr. Fowler's department. Mrs. McBain has purchased a new auto. It is a beauty.

friends attention to the Calceola sandhina which Martin prized so much. The significance paleontology she dimly apprehended, for in the early days of their union her husband had felt it desirable to explain to her what was meant by geologic time, and how he reconciled his views on that subject with the demands of religious faith.

THE DOCTORS' QUESTION

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders.

The doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98% of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Revall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. I am so certain of their great curative value that I promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Revall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks.

A GREAT FEAST FOR CHILDREN

Preparations for the Coronation Entertainment to 100,000 Youngsters

The work of preparing for the Coronation entertainment which the King will give to 100,000 poor children of London at the Crystal Palace on June 26th, is well under way.

Sir William Carrington states that the committee entrusted to carry out the King's wishes, declares absolute impartiality is to be shown so that schoolchildren of every denomination should be properly represented.

Although not officially stated, there is every reason to believe that the King and Queen will be present in the course of the afternoon at the entertainment at the Crystal Palace. Most probably they will be accompanied by Princess Mary and one or two of her brothers.

It is assumed that the chosen 100,000 will be marshalled like an army and converge upon Sydenham by various routes. Probably the local railways for a certain time in the day will concentrate their energies on the transport of this army.

The King's guests will arrive between 11 and 12.30 and stay until between 7 and 7 o'clock. Dinner and tea will be served, if fine, at long tables on the grass, but if wet the meals will be served in relays within the Palace.

Each of the favored children will be given from the King a specially designed Coronation beaker of Royal Doulton ware. They are to be of the same shape as those made for King Edward, and on the occasions of the Jubilees of Queen Victoria.

Mr. Frank Lascelles will superintend the direction of a special performance of the Pageant of Empire, lasting half an hour. A Royal box is to be erected for Their Majesties.

CORONATION DRESS

The Names of the Seven Royal Train-Bearers

The Queen having decided that her train at her Coronation shall be borne by seven daughters of Earls, is now considering what their costumes shall be. According to precedent, they will all wear white, and will be dressed precisely alike.

The following are the train-bearers: Lady Eileen Butler, daughter of the Earl of Lanesborough.

Lady Mary Dawson, daughter of the Earl of Drogheda.

Lady Mabel Ogilvy, daughter of the late Earl of Airlie and the Countess of Airlie.

Lady Victoria Carrington, daughter of Earl Carrington.

Lady Jean Cochrane, daughter of the Earl of Dundonald.

Lady Eileen Knox, daughter of the Earl and Countess of Banbury.

Lady Adelaide Spencer, daughter of Earl Spencer.

It is probable that further appointments will be made, necessitated by the weight and length of her Majesty's train.

GLASGOW'S CELEBRATION

At the Glasgow Corporation meeting at 10 o'clock on Wednesday for celebrating the Coronation, the Lord Provost explained that it was proposed to carry out arrangements similar to what was followed at King Edward's Coronation. The idea was to give a dinner to about 20,000 poor in the various parts of the city, that the children and their teachers should receive a medal, and also that the children should have a day in the Exhibition instead of the Children's Day in the parks.

RECORD THEATRE PRICES

From information furnished by the directors of the Royal Opera, Grand Garden, the prices to be charged for the Coronation gala performance range from 100 guineas ($525) for grand tier boxes to guineas (about $525) for a single seat in the gallery.

HER MAJESTY'S PERSONAL GIFTS

Queen Mary is Fond of Music, is a Great Reader, and Follows Events Attentively

Sir Clement Kinloch-Cooke contributes to The North American Review a sympathetic character sketch of her Majesty Queen Mary. Intended mainly for American readers, it will be read with pleasure by Canadians generally. Her Majesty, says Sir Clement, has a very retentive memory.

Music had a great share in the home life at White Lodge, the musical hour in the drawing room being at one time a regular institution, and often the Duchess would sit down at the piano in the evenings and sing ballads from the popular operettas of the day.

The Queen is greatly attached to the historical part of her country, and has collected together quite a number of interesting things connected with the Royal Family. As a girl she always enjoyed going over museums and inspecting articles of antiquity, a trait in her character which has widened with years.

A Great Reader.

The Queen has always been a great reader, and her boudoir at White Lodge contained a little case of favorite books, prominent amongst them being Tennyson's Poems. Books of travel and biographies are seldom missed for the Queen does not read for mere passing pleasure, but for instruction and information.

Her Majesty follows events attentively. She reads the newspapers daily, and as Princess of Wales attended the more important Parliamentary debates, occupying a seat in the Peers' Gallery in the House of Lords and in the Speaker's Gallery in the House of Commons.

ROBES AT AUCTION

Those of George IV. Were Once Sold at Phillips' Rooms

It is a fact, generally forgotten, that the Coronation robes of George IV., which it has been suggested, his Majesty King George V. may wear at the coronation ceremony, were sold at auction.

The magnificent Coronation mantle of purple velvet was sold as "Lot 95" for a paltry $275, though it was probably worth $1,500 at least. Another splendid crimson velvet Coronation mantle, which according to the auctioneer, cost $2,500, brought on the same occasion $235.

Other items on the catalogue were "The Coronation ruff of superb Mechlin" and the Coronation coat, waistcoat, and trunk hose.

A "Coronation" Engine.

To mark the completion of the 5,000th engine constructed at the London and North-Western Crewe works, a leviathan locomotive is being built, to be christened "Coronation." It is to cost over $20,000 to build, and its horse power will be about 1,200. It is expected that the engine will be ready in June, and will be used for the train by which the King and Queen are to travel by the West Coast route on their visit to Wales.

Pictorial Representation.

In view of the acceptance of two new historical paintings for the Royal Exchange, the suggestion is again forthcoming that a few of the vacant panels might be devoted to pictorial representations of episodes in the reigns of King Edward and King George V. King Edward paid several visits to the city which could be commemorated in this way, while the Royal progress of King George at his Coronation would obviously provide a fitting subject.

The Primitive Man. "Jones is so dreadfully primitive!" "What's his latest?" "Why, we were at the opera house the other night, and a stage hand removed a table, and Jones yelled "Supe, supe!" We were dreadfully mortified."

The Cuckoo. In the middle ages the cuckoo was thought to be a god who took the form of a bird, and it was a sacrilege to kill him. The Romans were less superstitious and more practical. They caught him, killed him and ate him and held no bird could be compared with him for sweetness of flesh.

PREMIER WILL GO

Sir Wilfrid Decides to Attend Imperial Conference.

COMMONS MAY CONTINUE

After Conference With the Leader of the Opposition, Sir Wilfrid Decides That He Will Do His Duty as a Citizen of Empire — Mr. Fielding May Lead House In Order to Finish Banking Act.

Ottawa, May 4.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has changed his mind! Yesterday morning, when he called to see Mr. Borden in the latter's office, he made the definite suggestion that he would go to the Imperial Conference and that the House would adjourn until July 15.

After that the reciprocity proposals were to be pressed and the Premier even wanted to exact a promise that the matter would be disposed of before the Duke of Connaught came in September. After receiving this proposal, Mr. Borden called a caucus of the Opposition members for 10 o'clock this morning.

Last night, however, Sir Wilfrid asked Mr. Borden to come to his room and there the whole matter was gone over again. The Premier was not so certain that it would be wise to adjourn, and it is now a toss-up whether this will be done or Parliament be left in the leadership of Mr. Fielding, to go on with the debate on the general question of reciprocity, in the meantime dealing with the other Government measures with which the order paper is blocked.

The situation to-day, therefore, is somewhat different from that at noon yesterday. Then Sir Wilfrid was fully of the opinion that adjournment would be necessary. As a result of his interview with the Opposition leader last night, it is now almost certain that the answer he will give to Mr. Borden this afternoon is that Parliament will continue to sit and transact other business such as the revision of the Bank Act, the railway policy of Mr. Graham, Mr. Fisher's copyright bill and the voting of supply.

Last of the Pioneers.

Cornwall, May 4.—The last of the original pioneers of the northern portion of Mountain Township, Mrs. Eleanor Knox Kerr, has passed away, aged 93 years. She was born in County Antrim, Ireland, in 1818, and with her parents came to Canada in 1822. After a short residence in Montreal, they moved to Kingston, and afterwards to Cornwall. She was a passenger on the first boat from Kingston through the Rideau Canal.

One of the pioneers of the rear of Kenyon Township, Farquhar Dewar, is dead, aged 82 years. Mr. Dewar was born at Glen Elg, Inverness, Scotland, and came to Canada in 1833 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ewen Dewar. They located on lot 19, concession 8, Kenyon, where the deceased spent all his days.

New Senators.

Ottawa, May 4.—J. M. Wilson, of Montreal, has been called to the Senate in place of the late Senator Forget. He is a millionaire wine merchant.

Hunting Treasure.

London, May 4.—The head of the expedition excavating in Jerusalem is Capt. Montague Brownlow Park, brother of the Earl of Morley.

They were after treasure supposedly buried by Jewish kings.

DENIES CONNECTION

And Hon. Mr. Oliver Wants a Complete Probe.

PREMIER'S MOTION WINS

Minister of the Interior Objects to His Private Affairs Being Scattered Broadcast to the Public Curiosity But Is Anxious to Show That the C.N.R. Has Nothing to Do With His Banking Account.

Ottawa, May 4.—Hon. Frank Oliver yesterday in the Commons demanded a full investigation into the insinuations of graft made in two Toronto papers, at the same time he objected to having his private accounts thrown open to public curiosity. Mr. Oliver declares that he can show there is no connection between his bank account and the Canadian Northern choice of lands, and that the House deemed it sufficient in a vote on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's motion yesterday.

The Government voted down yesterday the proposal of Mr. Borden that the inquiry should be into the charge named by the Premier himself last week in the House, and the proposal of Mr. Lennox that there should be a royal commission.

R. L. Borden said that the motion, while different in form was to the same effect as the one to which he took exception on Tuesday. He remarked that this was very much of a family quarrel between the supporters of the Prime Minister.

In the opinion of Mr. Borden the matter to be inquired into was whether the money came from a tainted or untainted source. "Let us," he said, "be satisfied that Mr. Oliver is free from any suspicion of unworthy motives, but let it be an investigation that will satisfy Parliament and the country."

The matter could be settled by a committee in five minutes, if the Minister would state that the money was from private sources.

Mr. Borden then moved the following amendment, and in doing so said that his object was to make the scope of the enquiry just as wide as the Premier had made it when he spoke.

"That a special committee of five members be appointed to enquire into and investigate the charges and allegations set forth and referred to in the statement of the Prime Minister, made in this House on Friday, April 21 last, and the charges and allegations set forth and referred to in the statements of Hon. Mr. Oliver, Minister of the Interior, and of the Prime Minister, made in this House on Tuesday, May 2, inst."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in refusing to accept the amendment, said that Mr. Borden's proposal would not be fair to Mr. Oliver.

Mr. Borden had said there was a suspicion as to the source of the funds placed in the bank, but he would ask the House to judge whether it would be just to investigate the matter in the way he proposed. He admitted that it might possibly come from one hundred legitimate sources, and yet would enquire into the matter in the manner proposed. What Mr. Borden desired was authority to fix evidence. He would ask Mr. Oliver to prove a negative. He would ask the Minister of Justice to go into the box and prove his own innocence in the face of the well-known rule that a man was innocent until it was proved that he was guilty.

Hon. Mr. Foster said there was no authority for the statement that The Toronto World had made an insinuation. Two statements had been placed side by side, but that did not constitute a direct allegation. The charge which the Premier asked the House to investigate was therefore one which Mr. Oliver had framed himself. The only charge in which the country was really interested was that made by Mr. McGillivuddy to the Premier, in which he stated that Mr. Oliver was a bootler and a grafter. The charge had been made by a friend and a former beneficiary of the Government.

Mr. Foster asked the Premier to say if the committee of enquiry would be allowed to examine the evidence of McGillivuddy. The Premier made no comment, and Mr. Foster said he would take it that he refused.

Hon. Frank Oliver began his statement with the remark that the question of interest to the House and the country was the question as to how those who were charged with public responsibilities discharged those responsibilities.

He declared he was not trying to shirk investigation. The article in The Toronto Telegram did not allude to him specifically, therefore it was not for him to act. There had been an allusion to the Prime Minister, therefore it was the duty of the Prime Minister to take cognizance of it. But The Toronto World had specifically connected his name with an insinuation, a serious insinuation, which related to an important administrative act, for which he was primarily responsible, and he thought it was only right that the country should know, and have the earliest opportunity of knowing what foundation there was for that insinuation.

"Now, my honorable friend said that I might clear the whole matter up as to my bank account by a simple statement as to the source as to which this money came, and the direction in which it was diverted. I have no doubt that it is a fact, that I could take action and clear this whole matter up. But I conceive my duty to be this: I do not think that it is in the interest of Canada, I do not think it is in the interest of public life of Canada that upon an insinuation, based upon theft and put forward as blackmail, a man in public or private life in Canada should be compelled to expose his private business. I do not think that it would add to the dignity of Parliament or the standard of public life in Canada to say that Parliament should be the assistant of thugs and blackmailers by the requiring of the exposure of a bank account on such a statement as has been placed before the public."

On the vote being taken there voted for the Premier's motion 102 and for Mr. Borden's amendment 69, a Government majority of 33.

After recess Houghton Lennox moved for the appointment of a royal commission.

Mr. Lennox said they were not without experience of farcial investigations, and he mentioned the Hodgins and Lumsden investigations as instances.

The vote on Mr. Lennox's amendment was: Against 99 for 65. It was thus defeated by a Government majority of 34.

He declares that the ownership of the Anglo-American Co. will not be affected.

The conditions of the agreement, adds Mr. Vail, provide that the British Postmaster-General will practically control the rates charged by the company, thereby assuring that they will be reasonable, and that the post-office has under consideration a scheme for deferred service at modified rates.

To Control Cable Rates.

London, May 4.—The Government is taking steps to obtain certain powers of control over rates for transatlantic cable messages and by other means to secure British interests from any possible disadvantage resulting from the working arrangements between the Anglo-American cable companies and the Western Union Telegraph Co., which was concluded yesterday. DON'T WANT MORE

U. S. Has All Territory It Can Handle, Says Taft.

OPENS PEACE CONFERENCE

Arbitration Treaty With Great Britain Is an Attempt on the Part of the United States to Live Up to Its Duty as a Great Power, He Declares—No Designs on Mexico, Canada or Central America.

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—President Taft, in his speech at the opening of the third national peace conference here yesterday, declared that the United States would keep hands off and not seek to extend its domain or to acquire foreign territory. The President made no mention specifically of Mexico, but to those who heard him, it was evident that the troubled situation there and the suspicion in the South American republics as to the intention of this nation, in regard to its southern neighbors, had inspired him. The President had been speaking of the recurrence of internal disturbances in countries not so well able as the United States to maintain order and peace, and had said that it was incumbent upon the great nations of "this hemisphere to exercise their kindly and peaceful influences as much as possible."

One of the difficulties that the United States finds is the natural suspicion that the countries engaged have of the motives which the U. S. has in tendering its good offices," continued the President. "Asseveration of good faith helps but little where the suspicion is real, and yet I like to avail myself of an opportunity in such presence as this to assert that there is not in the whole length and breadth of the United States among its people any desire for territorial aggrandizement, and that its people, as a whole, will not permit its Government, if it would, to take any step in respect to foreign peoples, looking to a forcible extension of our political power."

"We have had wars and we know what they are. We know what responsibilities they entail, the burdens and losses and horrors, and we would have none of them. We have a magnificent domain of our own in which we are attempting to work out and show to the world success in popular government, and we need no more territory in which to show this. But we have attained great prosperity and great power. We have become a powerful member of the community of nations in which we live, and there is, therefore, thrown upon us necessarily, a care and responsibility for the peace of the world in our neighborhood, and a burden of helping those nations that cannot help themselves, if we may do that peacefully and effectively."

"An arbitration treaty between two great nations of the world," said the President, "would be a very important step in securing the peace of the world. I don't claim any patent for a new discovery in that suggestion, because I have no doubt that it has often been made before. If such an arbitration treaty can be concluded, I have no doubt that an important step will have been taken, but it will not bring an end of war. It is a step only; and we must not defeat our purposes by enlarging the expectation of the world as to what is to happen and by then disappointing it. I think we are likely to make more progress if we express our hope with moderation and realize the difficulties that are to be overcome, than if we proclaim that we have opened the gate to eternal peace with one key and within one year."

The President was particularly interested in a speech by Rev. Dr. J. A. Macdonald, editor of The Toronto Globe, a warm advocate of reciprocity. "If that arbitration treaty be ratified," said Dr. Macdonald, "the name of William Howard Taft will be remembered in world history so long as man lives in peace."

"Above all other nations Canada has the greatest stake in the proposed treaty, she has the most to gain by peace, the most to lose by war."

"Canada desires the pact, not for herself alone, but for the sake of the whole world. The time to do it is at hand. The hour is trembling, ready to strike; the tide is swelling to the flood and if I ever had the right to speak for my country or for the Empire to which I belong, it is now, and I ask that the Parliament of Great Britain and the Congress of the United States join to insure the peace of the whole world."

VETO BILL REPORTED.

British Measure Is Now Past Committee Stages.

London, May 4.—The Parliament bill, known also as the veto bill, for the curtailment of the powers of the House of Lords, passed yesterday the committee stage in the House of Commons practically without amendment, amidst scenes of great enthusiasm.

The refusal of A. J. Balfour, leader of the Opposition, to vote against the preamble to the veto bill, removed any danger that might have been apprehended from the revolt of the Laborites against the measure, and this portion of the measure, the consideration of which was regarded as the most critical test for the Government, proved easiest to carry. The Unionist opposition to the bill almost vanished. In place of hundreds of amendments which threatened to delay proceedings in the committee stage, only a few important ones, mainly in the direction of urging joint sittings, or a conference of the two Houses in cases of disagreement will be moved in the report stage of the bill, which is expected to occupy only two or three days next week.

The consideration of the preamble was the most critical stage of the discussion from the Government viewpoint, because of the diversity of opinion between the factions making up the coalition majority.

George Nicoll Barnes, the Labor leader, immediately showed fight.

The Labor party is composed of single chamber men, who have repeatedly declared their intention of opposing any plan to reform the House of Lords.

Barnes moved that the preamble be eliminated. He said that he would rather have voted with the Government to further the progress of the measure as a whole, but the Laborites had to part company with the Government at this point.

A. J. Balfour, leader of the Opposition, opposed the preamble on the ground that it would lead to the constitution of a wholly and directly representative second chamber. If the two chambers drew their authority from the electors, they would claim and possess equal authority, and he did not wish co-equal bodies.

The second chamber, he said, should be empowered in case of controversy between the two Houses, to refer the question to the electorate.

After the application of closure and the rejection of another amendment without division, Mr. Balfour said that he regarded the preamble as "indefinite and illusory," but he wished to see the Government carry it out. He hated some of it, but liked another part of it, and therefore would not vote against it.

Amid loud Ministerial cheers, the preamble was then agreed to without division. On motion that the bill as amended be reported, division was challenged and the motion was carried 265 to 147. The House then adjourned, the Government supporters giving vent to the wildest enthusiasm.

Case 27 Years In Courts.

Montreal, May 4.—Judgment was given yesterday in a case which has already been decided by the Privy Council and has been twenty-seven years before the courts.

In 1884 Andrew Rough bought a piece of land through the Eastern Townships Bank, but refused to take it because he could not get a clear title to it. The bank sued him and won. The Privy Council decided in his favor seven years ago. Next the lawyers for the bank found a flaw in the proceedings and appealed to the Superior Court. The case was recalled and judgment given in favor of the bank. It will go again to the Privy Council.

Willing to Lower Rates.

Montreal, May 4.—The first meeting between the management of the Street Railway Co., and the Board of Control in regard to the question of an extension of the franchise to the company, was held at the City Hall yesterday. The company's representatives said they did not object to giving more tickets for 25 cents, but there might be some difficulty in regard to giving lower fares to connecting lines.

It was further explained that the company had about perfected all arrangements in regard to an amalgamation of the four companies.

Recorder's Denial.

Montreal, May 4.—Judge Greenshield, in allowing an appeal against the quashing of a liquor license, scored Recorder Weir for having, he said, acted upon representations made to him in street conversations and not having been present when witnesses were examined.

The recorder declares he heard the greater part of the evidence and satisfied himself as to the authority of the allegations against the license holders.

Claims Shooting Was Accidental.

Fowler, Ind., May 4.—John Poole, the wealthy farmer in jail here, admits the shooting of his farm hand, Joseph Kemper, whose body was found on the Poole farm Tuesday. He said he killed Kemper on Dec. 12, 1910, while rabbit hunting. They were climbing over a fence when the shot gun was accidentally discharged. Then he cut the body into pieces and buried it with the refuse from the killing of hogs.

Clifford Sifton's Fall.

Ottawa, May 4.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, at the Horse Show yesterday morning, when leaping over hurdles, fell off his horse, but managed to save himself by holding to the reins.

Officials rushed up fearing he was hurt, but he intimated that he was all right, and showed this to be the case by immediately, amid applause, clearing three hurdles in succession.

GOT PLENTY—The spring weather, according to the Presbyterian editor, reminds him of the Scottish minister who prayed for rain. "Lord, Lord," expostulated the minister, "we have asked Thee for rain, but this is reedeeculous." —Montreal Herald.
