Tri-Weekly Guide

PORT HOPE, MAY 12, 1859.

The Concert on Tuesday.

All the world did not go to the Concert on Tuesday evening, nor did all Port Hope. We expected there would have been a great crowd out, as we understood that "the ladies" had taken the matter in hand. It was even asserted in our hearing, that one lady more enthusiastic than the others, had a basket of tickets in the market on Saturday, and was selling them as rapidly as farmers wives dispose of lumps of butter at 25 cents per lb. We don't vouch for the truth of this, however.

The programme was very well selected, and the parts very well sustained. Mr. Peiler and Miss E. Ward, "formally opened" the Concert with an overture on the piano forte. Mr. Aitken followed with "My Pretty Jane," which he gave with much effect. He sang several other songs during the evening, and on concluding, Burns, "A man's a man for a' that," was warmly encored. Mr. Holland, as usual, sang well, his, "I'm not myself at all," a comic Irish song, was given with a very good "tip of the brogue," and drew out as loud roars of laughter as could reasonably be expected from so fashionable, and well behaved (barring the laughing and talking) audience.

Mr. Peiler touched the piano with the skill of a master, and infused life and warmth into that ordinarily cold instrument.

Somebody at our elbow asks, if the ladies sang well? Dare an editor speak his mind freely on so delicate a subject?

Mrs. Tate was not in so good voice as on former occasions. Yet she was vehemently encored. This lady understands how to control a naturally fine voice; and sings with all the ease and abandon of a professional. Perfect self possession is as essential to the success of a vocalist as of a speaker; this Mrs. Tate fortunately can lay claim to.

Miss Sowden has everything in her favor. She has an unusually fine voice, and the not by any means to be despised adjuncts, of youth and a graceful person. Her tones are clear, ringing and bell-like; and we certainly have never heard any lady amateur in Port Hope who had so great a capacity for Opera singing. There can be no question that under good masters, and with industry on her part, she might become a vocalist of no mean order. She hushed the audience into a profound stillness with her rendering of Longfellow's "Excelsior," and retired amid a storm of applause that could not be stilled until she had repeated a stanza. Now, there is nothing extremely "sentimental" about "Excelsior"; and certainly nothing very comic. But there is something more elevated than either. Miss Sowden seemed to be animated by the spirit of the author, and trilled the winged wings so powerfully that their import penetrated thick heads unused to any kind of speculation except that in dollars and cents.

Another Concert.

The Warblers propose giving a Concert next Wednesday evening. A correspondent, last week, introduced this home troupe of musicians to the public through our columns; and it is therefore unnecessary for us to speak at length of their merits. "The Warblers" have met regularly during the winter for practice; and we can assure our readers that they are capable of giving a Concert of vocal and instrumental music well worth attending.

TROUBLES OF TELEGRAPHERS IN INDIA.—The telegraphers in India make great complaints not only that the rebels cut the wires, but that the elephants prostrate them, while the monkeys, under a complete misapprehension of the objects of the telegraph system, delight to use the wires for athletic sports and pastime. Mr. Russell says:—

"I have seen half a dozen great monkeys or baboons at work on one feeble stretch of wire, posturing, grinning and chattering away in the highest spirits—some walking tippy-turty along it, others toggling it up and down with main force, considerably increased by the circumstance that other monkeys were hanging on their tails, and others striving to detach the wire from the posts so as to give their friends a sudden fall; while ants eat the base of the posts away; sudden gusts of wind blow miles of wire and posts flat to the earth."

The Family Treasury of Sabbath Reading.

We have great pleasure in assisting to bring the above work to the notice of the public. The number laid upon our table has been carefully examined, and we can endorse every word said in its favour by the clergymen whose names are appended to the following testimonial:—

The Family Treasury of Sabbath Reading.

This is a new publication, edited by the Rev. Andrew Cameron, formerly editor of "The Christian Treasury." It is published by Nelson & Sons, of London, Edinburgh, and New York. The Agent for Port Hope is Maurice Hay.

This periodical is highly spoken of by a number of the most distinguished Divines of various Denominations; and certainly appears to deserve all that is said of it. Although issued in monthly parts, its contents are so arranged that it may be read in weekly portions; and the Editor strongly recommends that it be regularly used in families this way. Some idea of the work may be formed from the table of contents, which are distributed under the following heads:—

1. Practical and Devotional Papers.
2. Hours with living Preachers.
3. The Biblical Treasury.
4. Home Lessons for the Lord's Day.
5. The Children's Treasury.
6. Biography.
7. The Treasury Pulpit.
8. Treasury of Narrative and Incidents.
9. Poetry.
10. For Sabbath School Teachers.
11. Papers for the Churches.

Here there is great variety, in the compass of a monthly part containing 72 pages; and all good. Young and old, rich and poor, ministers and people, teacher and pupil, all find something interesting, suitable, and edifying. There is appropriate reading for the Sabbath hours; while the brief yet full and comprehensive nature of the various articles makes them suited for the few minutes the working man has to spare from his daily labor, during the times devoted to refreshment. It is a useful book, also, to stand on the parlor table, and to occupy the odds and ends of time which occur through the day.

The work seems specially suited to Parents in that Home teaching, in which they fulfil their bounden duty of bringing up their children "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." A duty which the Sabbath School is not intended to hinder, or to interfere with. Both are needful in their time and place; and both will be helped by "The Family Treasury of Sabbath Reading." We have great pleasure in highly recommending this ably conducted and useful periodical.

Rector of Port Hope.

War!

The news by the Adelaide, to be found in another column, is very warlike. Europe is evidently on the eve of a great struggle.

ARRIVAL OF THE "ADELAIDE."

WAR ALREADY COMMENCED!

80,000 French Troops in Italy!

100,000 AUSTRIANS ACROSS THE TICINO!

Warlike Preparations in England!

TEN THOUSAND MEN WANTED FOR THE NAVY!

St. John's Newfoundland, May 9.

The steamship Adelaide, from Galway, on the 30th, arrived at this port at three o'clock this afternoon.

The news by this arrival highly interesting and important. Hostilities had all but commenced in Italy.

The steamship Hammonia, from New York, arrived at Southampton on the 29th ult., en route to Hamburg.

The Austrians, 120,000 strong, are said to have crossed the Ticino, but the report had not been officially confirmed. There have been no actual conflicts as yet.

The French troops were pouring into Piedmont.

Tuscany and Piedmont had joined France. The French-Russian alliance was denied, but the Times had published the provisions of the treaty, causing a great panic on the London Stock Exchange. Consols at once went down to 88. About 40 failures had taken place among the stock operators.

It was telegraphed from various sources that during the night of the 26th, 100,000 men under the commander-in-chief, General Gyulai, crossed the Ticino in three corps d'armee and took the road towards Novara, and that they afterwards blew up the bridge of Buffalora. This news lacked official confirmation, and some doubts were thrown on it.

It was also reported that Austria had accepted the proffered mediation of England, and postponed the declaration of war.

France had not accepted England's offer of mediation, but was said to be considering it. The Paris Constitutionnel and Daily News deny the reported alliance between France and Russia. The latter says that the documents signed is a mere convention.—The Times professes to give the provisions of the treaty, and draws the most threatening consequences from them regarding the alliance as a menace to England, inasmuch as Russia guarantees the services of her fleet in the Mediterranean and Baltic, in addition to the army of observation on the Austrian frontier.

The King of Sardinia had issued inspiring proclamations to the army, saying he regarded Austria's ultimatum as an insult and treated it with disdain.

French troops were landing at Genoa in large numbers, and were most enthusiastically received.

The King of Sardinia had gone to join the army at Alessandria.

The Tuscan Army had called on the Grand Duke to join France and Piedmont and declare war against Austria; he declined and fled, and Tuscany had declared in favor of a military dictatorship.

The Bank of England had raised its rate of discount to 3.

Consols had largely declined under warlike news from the continent, and were quoted on Friday at 86 to 89.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Warlike preparation are going on rapidly in England. At Woolwich there was great activity.

The Government had chartered the Cunard steamer Elina and a number of other vessels to convey troops to the Mediterranean. There were rumours of a proclamation calling for 10,000 men for the navy.

War premiums were being generally demanded at Lloyds.

Parliamentary elections were progressing quietly.

There was a general panic in London, and Consols fluctuated excessively.

(By Telegraph from London to Galway)

LONDON, April 30, 1859.

The report that the Austrians had crossed Ticino on the 25th is incorrect. They received orders to do so, but these being countermanded, they remained on the east bank.—It is ascertained, however, that subsequently the advanced posts crossed, and that the main army would do so on the 29th.

The Austrian official journal contains an Imperial manifesto explaining the necessity of war with Sardinia, and authoritatively denies any secret treaty between France and Russia.

The ship Pomona, from New York to Liverpool, was wrecked off Wexport on the 17th ult. The crew and passengers, whose names are not known were saved. There were over 400 persons on board. The number of lives lost is as yet unknown.

FRANCE.

The most active military movements prevailed throughout France. 80,000 French troops was expected to be in Italy by the day the Adelaide sailed.

It is reported that Denmark had concluded a treaty offensive and defensive with France.

The Paris Bourse was considerably excited, but less so than the London Stock Exchange. The 3 per cents declined 1 per cent on the 27th but recovered one half on the 28th, closing at 62 1/2.

Very Latest.

LONDON, Saturday Noon.

The Austrian manifesto is considered as tantamount to a declaration of war.

PARIS, Saturday.

The Austrians have crossed the Ticino, and hostilities have commenced. This is official.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

LONDON MARKET.—There had been great activity in the London Market. Baring, Bros. quote wheat advanced 5s. to 8s. Flour is also considerably higher. Sugar heavy.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.—Breadstuffs of all kinds had considerably advanced, with a tendency still upwards. Richardson, Spence & Co's. circular quotes flour buoyant, and is higher since Tuesday, and is 6d higher on the week. Quotations are 11s. to 14s. Wheat buoyant with large speculative enquiry, and 9d to 1s higher than on Tuesday, and is 6d higher on the week. Western red 7s 10d to 10s 9d; do. white 10s to 12s; Southern White 10s to 9d to 13s 6d. Corn buoyant and advanced 6d since Tuesday; mixed 6s 8d to 6s 9d; yellow 6s 9d to 7s; white 7s 7d to 8s. The market generally was quiet at the close. Provisions slightly higher with an advancing tendency. Pork buoyant. Large speculative enquiry at considerable higher prices. Lard quiet at 58s to 60s for prime; and 60s to 62s for extra. Ashes firm. Pots slightly higher, 30s 6d to 31s 6d. Pearls 32s. Sugar heavy, and all grades slightly lower. Coffee steady. Tea but little enquiry, and prices weak.

A PEACE FOOTING.—The Paris correspondent of the London Herald, writing on the 13th of April, says:—"France may answer constantly with truth that she is not on a war footing; but then what are the facts? With a peace establishment of 500,000 men—which, by the mere stroke of the pen, calling in the reserves, may be raised to 700,000 men—France has no need, at the present stage of affairs, to make the same preparations as Austria. Her troops are concentrated at various parts of the country so skillfully, that by means of the railway they can be conveyed within a few days to any given point, and could lay waste the whole territory beyond the Ticino, sack Turin, and make mince-meat of the volunteer ruffian which constitutes the great bulk of the Piedmontese army at present, before the French were across the frontier. France, therefore may shut the mouth of adverse diplomatists clamoring for a general disarmament, and continue her preparations unchecked, and unless Austria is disposed to swallow this bitter pill, the new proposal.

ARRIVAL OF THE PERSIA.

VERY WARLIKE NEWS.

The Russo-French Treaty.

Victor Emanuel's Address to his Army

THE CHANNEL FLEET RECALLED

Ammunition Sent to Gibraltar and Malta!

GENERAL WILLIAMS COMING TO CANADA!

EXTENSIVE EMIGRATION TO AMERICA ANTICIPATED.

NEW YORK MAY 11.

The Royal mail steamship Persia from Liverpool, April 30th, a. m., arrived here this morning. The main features of her news have been anticipated by the Adelaide at St. John's but details add some facts of interest.

The Austrian Correspondence (Official journal) of the 20th, after detailing the progress of affairs, says Austria must draw the sword to maintain European order.

The London Post of the 29th, says there was still hopes of peace, as the last English offer of mediation was under the serious consideration of the Emperor of the French; and if the Austrians refrained from advancing, a pacific settlement might be made.

The following are the provisions of the Russo-French treaty as given by the Times. By the first treaty Russia binds herself in the event of France being at war with Austria, to assist France with the co-operation of her fleets in the Baltic and Mediterranean and to place an army of 50,000 men on the Austrian frontier.

This the Times says is directed obviously against England, and its existence is proof that the enterprises which are thus to be protected are such as it would be impossible for England to allow to pass unchallenged. The Russian army of observation, the Times concludes, is to excite insurrection among the Hungarians and Servians. The second treaty provides that in case Austria shall invade Sardinia, Russia shall declare war within fifteen days of her violation of the Piedmontese soil.

The Times maintains that England need take no active part, so long as the war is confined to Italy, but if France and Russia attack Austria in Germany Russia seeking perchance indemnity in the East of Europe, or if Prussia should be laid under a contribution of territory then the designs of the treaties would become no less than a partition of Europe and the first principle of preservation would compel us to consider whether we can better defend ourselves on the continent or at our homesteads. However much we may desire to keep clear of these complications, the existence of a great German Power is essential to our safety.

The following is a summary of the King of Sardinia's proclamation to the army:—"The King regards the demand to disarm as an outrage on himself and the nation, and he has, therefore, repelled the demand with disdain and scorn. The King calls to mind Italy's cry of anguish, and says, I will be your captain I have proved your valour on the field of battle, by the side of my illustrious father. This time you will have for your comrades the gallant French soldiers—your companions on the Tchernaya, whom the Emperor has sent to support and defend our just and civilizing cause. Forward to victory! Let our banners announce to you that our object, like our war cry, is the independence of Italy."

Prince Cargan had been appointed Lieut. General of Piedmont during the war. The universities of Piedmont had been closed by royal decree.

The Sardinians had retired from Palanza to the west bank of the Sesia. The great mass of the army, 70,000 strong, was condensed around the fortresses of Alessandria and Casale, with a second line at the foot of the Apennines, between Novia and Tortona.

The Turin correspondence of the Times does not think the Austrians will reach the capital. The country had been laid under water by means of the canals of irrigation, and means had been taken to render the roads temporarily impassible. The Sardinian Government had appropriated all horses belonging to private individuals, the highest price allowed being £16.

The news of Tuscany joining Piedmont and France is confirmed. The Grand Duke refused to abdicate, but retired to Bologna after throwing himself upon the protection of the five great powers. The Tuscan army is 15,000 strong. It is said that Victor Emanuel had been made Dictator of Tuscany.

ENGLAND.

The Channel squadron, which had gone to the Mediterranean was to be immediately recalled.

On the 24th four new ships of the line were placed in commission. It is stated that the French and Russian governments have lately been procuring large supplies of charts and surveys of the English coasts and English stations in the Mediterranean, and have likewise been engaged in making large purchases of coal, irrespective of price or quality. It has also been intimated that an extensive order for charts had been received from the Spanish government, and the inference was that Spain would throw herself into the arms of France.

Twenty-seven gun-boats of light draught and some vessels of larger size, were building on the Thames for the Spanish government. It was suggested that Spain might probably be acting merely as the agent of others.

Large quantities of ammunition and guns were being shipped to Gibraltar and Malta.

General Williams, of Kars, was appointed commander-in-chief in Canada.

The quarterly returns of emigration from Liverpool show great activity in the movements toward the United States, and it was believed that for the next six months emigration to America would be the largest experienced for several years.

Mr. Morphy had again played simultaneously five of the most expert members of St. James' Chess Club, London viz: Messrs. Lowenthal, Riviere, Barnes, Boden, and Bird. Mr. Barnes won his game. Those with Mr. Lowenthal and Mr. Boden were drawn, and Morphy won the other two.

FRANCE.

The Ministry of Police is to be re-established after the fashion of first Empire.

The French army of observation on the Rhine will consist of eight divisions of cavalry and as many of infantry. Eight steam frigates filled with troops left Toulon on the 26th for Genoa. The French army on the slope of the Alps will consist of sixteen divisions of infantry, four of cavalry, and artillery to match.

A RUSSIAN "LIONNE."—The party on board the Sylphide, proceeding from Neva to Peterhoff. "Nothing remained of the clamor that had been, but the low mumbling of a knot of naval courtiers near the wheel, who, alike indifferent to the raging elements, and pitching boat, or the creature sufferings around them," continued their discourse in broken phrases, between long drawn whiffs of Jewkoff's "superalitives," for which privilege they had preferred paying a two-shilling fare in our steamer to a free passage in a Crown boat, where smoking is prohibited. To some such weighty consideration we were probably indebted for the company of a lovely woman who sat opposite to us, and whose Madonna-like countenance I had been intently admiring for some time, for, thrusting a small delicately gloved hand into the pocket of her casimere morning dress, she pulled out an embroidered case from whence she leisurely selected a paperos. She shut it with a loud snap, and returned it to her pocket, looking round meanwhile as if in search of something, which in my ignorance, I supposed to be some rough surface whereon to rub a lucifer, but one of the naval smokers before alluded to, better acquainted with the difficulty, gallantly approached her, and proffered the lighted end of his cigar. The lady rose, their heads drew near, she obtained a light and gracefully thanked him he bowed, and they both resumed their seats, she—the beautiful Madonna!—oh, tell it not to Punch—sat there puffing away most manfully, her elbow over the side, and her legs across. My friends informed me that she was really a woman of consequence, married to a man of high rank, and the mother of several children; and furthermore, that she was a capital "whip"—a very uncommon accomplishment for this part of the world, "fast" ladies of this genus being rare in Russia—that she was not an indifferent swearer, and that par fantaisie, she smokes green tea. This class of "lady" is not common, it is to be hoped in any civilized country. One only of the class are we acquainted with in England, but the name of the beautiful smoker need not be repeated here. The class will probably have few imitators."

[Six Years in Russia—By an English Lady.]

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE IN EUROPE.—When we read the statistics of births in the cities of Augsburg, Munich and Vienna, and find that not less than one-third are illegitimate, we are struck with horror; but unless we are informed of the cause of this state of things, we invariably draw wrong conclusions. As the laws do not allow marriage until the parties can show property enough to furnish a kind of security against future want, great numbers, including a greater portion of the servants, are excluded from marriage, at least until late in life. The result is that nearly all the female servants have children whose father they subsequently marry. It sometimes happens, too—and not very unfrequently—that others than servants live together without marriage, and either afterwards part, or are married after they have a family grown up around them. Some men who have not been able to marry, go to America, and afterwards send for their unmarried wives and their children. Others, forget those they have left behind.

In Prussia the case is a highly favorable one, where but one-seventh of the births are illegitimate. In Prussia there are yearly between 2,000 and 3,000 divorces, and from 60 to 70 applications for divorce occur annually in single congregations in Berlin. When morality suffers so much, religion must suffer more.

[German Correspondent of Watchman and Reflector.]

FATAL ACCIDENT THROUGH EATING WILD CARROTS.—For some time we have heard much of the terrible poison contained in the carrot a Morcau, which resembles very much the ordinary white carrot, which is found often in the fields and occasionally in old gardens. Three persons have just fallen victims to it, and the fourth has been saved as if by miracle. The case is thus:—Four children residing in Rigaud, were, on Monday, the 25th ultimo, when going to school, and amusing themselves along the road, perceived some white carrots, and ate portions of them; a few minutes afterwards three fell sick, and, despite the efforts of Dr. Andre Seguin, finally died; two of them were children of Mr. Michael Lefebvre, and aged eight and four years respectively;—the other two were children of Mr. Lacombe, one aged four, the other seven; the last, however, had the good fortune to escape the fate of the rest.—La Minerve, May 3.

Things I have Seen.

Written for the Guide

I have seen some individuals who thought the world and all its people combined to obscure their merits and do them injustice; whereas the truth was, said world &c., neither knew nor cared anything at all about them, except when they stumbled or tumbled in the path of some busy mortal, and very likely got kicked out of it.

I have seen several infant prodigies whose astonishing developments put one in a state of alarm lest such prodigious powers when fully matured, should explode and shiver this planet to atoms; but something must have occurred to retard their progress, for I have never heard of them since.

I have seen or three women who did not cry when they were angry.

I have seen one or two clever women, and heard of several more, who did not think it necessary to manifest the same by renouncing every womanly grace, and making themselves as unattractive and unlovable as possible.

I have seen some managing women, with sweet faces and winning manners, who made everybody around them feel so comfortable, and so managing home; who patted and coaxed their husbands, wheedled their friends, pleased everybody and made everybody serve their interests.

I have seen a very few clever men who had sufficient confidence in themselves to risk the fear-experiment of choosing for a wife, a woman who had sense enough to know what or why she loved; and strange, to say these marriages did not turn out to so bad after all; for in each case, the wife did not seem to love her husband any the less for being able to appreciate him, and he did not tire of her before the first year was out;—moreover they did not always quarrel about the management or mismanagement of their children; and said children positively respected both their parents.

I have seen a good many females who evidently thought a great deal about and tried to make the most of their personal charms; and poor souls might they not be excused so long as these constitute a woman's only available stock in trade, but poor! nothing feminine ever came up, in this respect, to many a jackanape I've seen in tights and whiskers.

I have seen men and women too, with many human frailties about them, and who had not the faintest idea of being heroes, and heroines, but who nevertheless were;—who believed, hoped, trusted in God; had charity, love, patience, for man, who endured meekly yet wisely, acted energetically; and last not least, lived cheerfully, and the busy world never knew and never will know anything of them. But in the great final day they shall not be overlooked; then the Judge shall say to them "Well done good and faithful servant, enter ye into the joy of your Lord."

MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR

In all diseases inflammation more or less predominates—now to allay inflammation, strikes at the root of disease—hence an immediate cure. DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure. DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR will cure the following, among a great catalogue of diseases:—Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Blisters, Bruises, Sprains, Poinsettia Bites, Chills, Bites, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear-ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Scrofula, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ring Worm, Beriber's Itch, Small Pox, Measles Rash, &c., &c. so To some it may appear incredulous that many diseases should be reached by one article such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its opposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure: and it is an extractor: as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

For Sale by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canada.

Information Wanted.

WHEREAS MY WIFE, MARY ANN FAIRMAN, having in the month of August last left my house, in the County of Prince Edward, without just cause or provocation, and gone to parts unknown, and my eldest son having in consequence of such absconding of his mother gone insane, I hereby request her, should this notice come under her observation, to return at once if she has any affection left for the child whose reason has been overthrown by her departure. It is thought by the Physicians who are in attendance upon my son, that the return of his mother would restore him to his right mind, otherwise he must be taken to the Asylum in Toronto.

MRS. FAIRMAN is 32 years of age, low in stature, fair complexion, and slightly pitted with small pox.

Port Hope, April 15, 1859. v4-n31

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by disposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptive and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Constipation, Heartburn, Headache arising from disorder of Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Merbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted that can never be forgotten, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
