DIVISION COURT

Only One Case on the Docket

There was only one case on the docket at the Division Court on Wednesday afternoon. A N Ball sued John Harcourt for $50. Harcourt was a tenant of the Ball farm and this amount was for damages to the farm by reason of not keeping it fenced and also for burning up rails and boards.

Mr Harcourt entered a counter claim of $125 which he paid in five years as a special school tax. A number of witnesses were examined and the case took up the greater part of the afternoon. His Honor dismissed the claim and counter claim.

Mr. A. Kuhne Presented With Fountain Pen by Knights of Pythias

At a meeting of the Knights of Pythias last Thursday evening, Mr. A. Kuhne was invited to be present and at an opportune time was presented with a very beautiful fountain pen. Mr. Kuhne, although not a member of the order, treated the K. P.'s, a few weeks ago to a German dinner and the members desired to show in some tangible form their appreciation of his kindness. When it comes to serving a real German dinner they all have to take off their hats to Andy. We have enjoyed this treat and therefore know whereof we speak.

A PROPOSITION

From the Consumers Cordage Co.

The Secretary and Assistant Secretary of the Consumers Cordage Co., were in town last week. They have made an offer to the local stock holders of a 10 per cent dividend in lieu of the 31 per cent over on the preferred stock. This is done with a view of establishing their credit with the Bank. Looking at it broadly it would appear wise on the part of the shareholders to accept the proposition.

BOY SHOT GIRL IN MISTAKE FOR A WOODCHUCK

Mistaking the head of a 13-year-old girl for a woodchuck, a lad named Jude, who lives near Beaverton, took deliberate aim and lodged a bullet from a 22 calibre rifle in the brain of the unfortunate victim.

The distressing accident occurred on the banks of the Beaver River, about four or five miles from Beaverton, and near the farm of Mr. Duncan McLean. Mr. McLean's 13 year-old daughter was out fishing, and was sitting with her back to a log, while Jude, a neighbour lad about 14 years old, was out hunting woodchucks. Some distance away he spied what he thought was a woodchuck behind a log, bobbing its head up and down at intervals. This in reality was the head of Miss McLean, whose hair is of an auburn hue, and as she kept jerking her fishing line out of the water the young huntsman some distance away mistook her for a ground-hog, and carefully sitting on a rail fence he took deliberate aim and fired.

Almost instantly he realized what he had done, and with all haste summoned the girl's father and informed him of what had taken place. With all haste the girl was removed to the farm house and Dr. Grant, of Beaverton, summoned. Dr. McCulloch, of Lindsay, was also called in, the latter gentleman making a fast run to the scene of the tragedy in his auto.

The unfortunate young girl was found to be in a precarious condition, although sensible to what was taking place. The bullet entered directly in the top of the head and lost itself in the brain. This being the case, it was deemed unsafe to probe further in the delicate brain, but Dr. McCulloch skillfully raised the fractured skull from pressing on the brain and a nervous twitching which was previously experienced in the left hand and arm disappeared. At present the victim is quite sensible, but in a serious condition.—Lindsay Warrier.

DOMINION DAY

Calithumpian—Horse Races—Baseball—Aeroplane—Fire-works—Vaudeville and Musical Festival

A meeting of the Dominion Day Committee was held Thursday eve and the various committees brought in their reports outlining the program. Like a circus it is to be bigger and better than ever. Last years was good but the Committee's desire is to improve and the program for this Dominion Day promises to be the very best ever given in Port Hope.

The Calithumpian parade being such an attraction last year it has been decided to repeat this on a much larger scale.

The new racing circuit which Port Hope has joined promises one hundred horses and the races will be continued for the two days.

One of the best aeroplane men in the world will give two or three exhibitions of spectacular flying. There will be a baseball tournament, four teams taking part. A new feature of the afternoon program will be the Japanese daylight bombshells. These are fired from mortars and the bombshells are projected to a great height where they burst, throwing out paper figures of men, animals, &c., which fill out and float away in the wind.

In the evening there will be a grand display of fireworks in the Town Park, Professor Hand, of Hamilton, looking after the work. In addition there will be a band concert and several vaudeville acts by a troupe from New York. The day promises to be one continual round of pleasure so keep the date open and watch for further particulars.

A NIGHT WITH THE REBEKAHS

Oshawa Team Confer the Beautiful Degree on a Large Class

Ganeraska Lodge No. 131, Daughters of Rebekah, held their regular meeting last Thursday evening, and received a visit from a large number of sisters of Oshawa Lodge, who exemplified the very beautiful Rebekah Degree. The work was under the direction of Mr. Caverly, the degree captain, and he certainly had the ladies trained in the different floor movements to perfection. The charges were also given in a faultless manner, and any degree team that can excel the Oshawa sisters will have "to go some."

After the work of the evening, a very pleasant time was spent in the dining hall of the Lodge room, and short speeches were given by several of the prominent workers.

We are glad to see Ganeraska Lodge prospering, as their work is a most commendable one.

Frank Shepherd was compelled to close his saloon in Chicago, because his pet dog, Spot, a terrier, had eaten the license.

The Charleote W. I. will hold their next meeting on Wednesday, June 3rd, at 2.30 o'clock, at the Morrish Sunday School hall. All ladies are welcome.

NARROW ESCAPE

From Serious Injury — Took Hold of Live Wire

Morris McIntee, of Peterboro, an employee of the Seymour Power Co., had a narrow escape from serious injury on Tuesday. McIntee was working at the wires on Pine street when he removed the wrong plug. Both hands were severely burned and he was fortunate in being able to release his hands before seriously injured.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

To Little Lulu Hughes

Lulu, the nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Hughes met with a serious accident last Saturday. When going down cellar the little girl slipped on the top step and fell with great force to the bottom alighting on her head. She was rendered unconscious for some time and almost continually since the accident has bled profusely from the ears. It can hardly be ascertained yet the seriousness of her injuries but her many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

The Council met last Tuesday as a Court of Revision to hear the different appeals against the assessment.

Mrs Ida Thomas complained that her property was assessed too high but no change was made and the assessment was confirmed.

W.G. Stevenson's complaint was that he was wrongfully assessed, but this was also confirmed.

Mrs F. LeMoine complained that her assessment was too high and on motion, it was reduced $205.

Charles H. Moise thought his property was assessed too high but the council ruled otherwise and confirmed it.

D. L. Mathews complained that the assessment on the Dominion Canner's Co. property on Queen street, was too high. This was reduced $1,170.

Mr Alf Skitch thought his assessment was too high, but the Council confirmed this also.

WOMAN CARRIED OFF 5 LBS BUTTER

Market Incident With a Smooth Flavour in Which Woman Said She Left Purse in Store, Walked Away Before She Could be Stopped

Peterboro Examiner.

A smart trick was worked on the market on Saturday by which some Peterboro woman got away with five pounds of butter without paying for them. She approached Miss Garbutt, daughter of Mr. Wm. Garbutt, who resides near Nassau and asked the price of butter.

Miss Garbutt replied that she had received 27c a pound.

Said the woman: "They are only asking 25c over there."

Miss Garbutt intended to sell her butter for 27c which she had obtained, and said so to the prospective purchaser. The woman tasted the butter and said she would take four pounds. Then she changed her mind and said she might as well have five pounds. While Miss Garbutt was estimating the total of 5 times 27 the woman opened her hand bag and ostensibly felt around for her purse.

"My goodness," she said, "I have left my purse at So and So's and there's $20 in it," and without further ado picked up her basket with the five pounds of butter and disappeared. All of which was a rather smooth little game. The police were notified.

Garden Hill Womans' Institute will meet at Mrs Warren Dunber's, June 4th, at 2 p.m.

EXPENSIVE ALE

Two Bottles Cost $47.00—The Proprietor Was Not Aware of The Sale.

Two bottles of ale which were on exhibition at the Court Wednesday morning proved rather expensive before the Court had finally disposed of the case. On Friday afternoon last about 5 o'clock, Constables Royce and McAvoy were in the backyard of the Royal Hotel. They noticed a local citizen come out of the rear door of the hotel and from the appearance of the back of his coat they concluded he had a bottle in his hip pocket. Both policemen followed him out and as he turned to go through the woods at the Mill street church the Police called to him to wait as they wanted to buy a horse. The defendant waited and when the Police drew near Royce reached out his hand and removed a bottle of ale from defendant's pocket. The other bottle defendant handed over and told Royce he purchased them at Mitchell's liquor store.

Constable Royce stated that when he further questioned the defendant and urged him to tell the truth that he admitted he had purchased them in the Royal.

Mr. Heard was called and stated he had not sold the bottles in question to the defendant, neither had he any knowledge of the sale, as he was not about the bar that day. Mr. Heard had no evidence to offer and pleaded guilty to the charge of selling the ale.

The man accused of purchasing the ale was fined $20 and $3.50 costs and a similar fine was imposed on the proprietor of the hotel.

THRILLING ACCIDENT

Team of Horses Crashed Into an Automobile.

An accident which might have been followed with serious results, happened near W. J. Crowhurst's, brickyard Tuesday evening. Arlie Northcutt was driving Mr. Trenouth's car, when a team driven by Mr. Louis Nixon approached and crashed into the car. The steering wheel, wind shield and mud guards were smashed and Mr. Northcutt was considerably bruised. Mr. Nixon was thrown to the ground and suffered several minor injuries and the horses were scraped about the legs by the car. Mr. Northcutt claims to have been on the right side of the road and cannot understand Mr. Nixon's action in not turning out. Mrs. Trenouth, Miss Amy Trenouth and two other ladies were in the car but escaped injury.

RUNS SLIVER INTO ARM.—Monday evening, while Mrs. G. H. Webster, of Oshawa, a lady over 80 years of age, was walking in the yard, she tripped and fell, running a large sliver of wood about six inches long into her arm between the wrist and elbow. A doctor was called immediately and it was removed. She is apparently recovering from her painful accident as rapidly as possible.

KILLED AT STATION

CUT COMPLETELY IN TWO

Donald Black of Rochester, N.Y., formerly of this town, and son of the late Thomas Black, was instantly killed at the Grand Trunk station last Wednesday evening. He was with his two cousins, the Jenkins boys of Toronto, and it is supposed they were bumping their way on the 12.32 a.m. train. On reaching Port Hope, Black slipped and fell underneath the train, being cut completely in two. The remains were removed to A. W. George & Son's morgue and an inquest will be held.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

We pounced upon the following extract in the morning paper on Thursday, it being one of the arguments advanced in London why English magazines should have the preference over American magazines in Canada.

Sir George Riddell spoke especially on behalf of fictional matter provided for Canadian reading, telling the post-master general that the American system of love-making differed from the English system, in fiction especially and we at home were anxious that the young people of Canada should be instructed in the good English ways in such matters.

As we have tried both methods at various times (in fiction of course) we feel that we can speak with some authority on the subject. The following illustrations after the best manner of both nations, will show what Sir George means.

THE ENGLISH METHOD

Reginald, meeting the lady of his heart at tea, bursts forth as follows: Hello, old girl, how goes the world today?

Just had a bally, rippin' game of cricket.

And feel top hole. Eh, what? D'ye know.

I think I'll have some tea and cake.

And then some Scotch and Soda. Thanks, I say.

I saw you in the park this morning. Yes.

Really I did, y'know. What? Who was the chap?

That rode with you? He sat on his horse like a blooming sack of flour. I'm surprised.

That you should fancy such a silly trotter.

Come now, you're much too good a sport.

To ride with such an idiot. He cannot play golf.

And used to be an awful ass at Cambridge.

I really think you'd better marry me and then

We'll have some jolly canter in the park.

What say?

Marjorie speaks:—

Well, Reggie, you are a pretty decent sort.

And play a jolly game of golf, that's true.

I rather fancy the idea. Perhaps I shall.

To-day I am feeling potty just a bit.

Drop in again, I'll think it over.

THE AMERICAN METHOD

After the style of Robert W Chambers:

Schuyler Van Buren Van Camps Heinz, son of the pickle king, at fancy dress ball disguised as a beau, sees the girl he has long loved but is afraid to propose to, in the conservatory. She is drinking asbintine out of a thermos bottle concealed in her fan. He rushes over and kneels at her feet, then speaks:

Darling, I love you madly. The fragrance of your breath makes me think of some heavenly saloon where just we two and the bartender might live forever. I am intoxicated with passion. My heart throbs for you and only you. I will divorce my wife and we will fly together. I cannot live without you.

She does not answer at first, then tearing off two or three hundred thousand dollars worth of diamonds she says: I, too, am sick of this artificial life. Let us go to the ends of the earth together.

They depart quietly together and take the subway to Brooklyn.—From Saturday Sunset, B.C.

19 PER CENT FALL

WHEAT KILLED

Spring Crops are Well Advanced

Ottawa, May 20.—The Census and Statistics Office, in a bulletin, states that, according to returns from its crop correspondents, made on May 6, about 19 per cent. of the area sown to fall wheat in Ontario has been winter killed, this percentage representing a reduction of 132,000 acres, i. e., from 694,000 acres, the area sown, to 562,000 acres expected to be harvested.

In Alberta, the other large fall wheat province, fall wheat has been killed to the extent of 15.6 per cent., representing 36,000 acres, which will make the area to be harvested 193,000 acres instead of 229,000 acres, the area sown last fall.

The total area estimated to be sown to fall wheat, including, besides Ontario and Alberta, 3,000 acres in Manitoba, 78,000 acres in Saskatchewan and 2,700 acres in British Columbia, was 1,095,700, now reduced by winter killing in Ontario and Alberta to 838,700 acres.

CONDITION OF FALL WHEAT

The condition of fall wheat on May 6 was in Ontario returned as 81.3 per cent., and in Alberta 87.3 per cent. For all Canada the condition of fall wheat on May 6 was 83 per cent. of the standard or 103 per cent. of the average condition of the past five years represented by 100. The condition of the fall wheat crop this year is, in fact, superior to that of any year since 1910, when the record was over 89 per cent. of the standard.

Upon the whole, spring seeding was well advanced, except in the Maritime Provinces, where the spring this year is reported as abnormally late, and in Quebec, where not more than from 3 to 5 per cent. of spring seeding was reported to have been done by May 6. In Ontario at this date about 24 per cent. of wheat, 43 per cent. of oats and 41 per cent. of barley had been got in and 40 per cent. of the total seeding was reported as completed on May 6, as against the same proportion last year on April 30. In Manitoba, 57, in Saskatchewan, 79, and in Alberta, 88 per cent. of the spring wheat crop was reported as seeded by April 6, these proportions comparing favorably with the progress reported last year on April 30. For the five Provinces of Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the proportion of seeding reported as effected on May 6 was about 48 per cent. for wheat, 23 per cent. for oats, 16 per cent. for barley and about 37 per cent. for all crops.

About 14 per cent. of the area in hay and clover meadows is reported as winter killed as compared with 22 per cent. last year. The average condition of these crops on May 6 was 86.7 per cent., as compared with 89.6 per cent. of last year, and 74.6 per cent. in 1912.

Calcium Chloride to Lay Dust

Its Use Recommended by Eminent Authority

Since the majority of the roads of the country are earth, gravel or water bound macadam, one of the chief phases of the dust problem is the laying of dust on these roads. It is generally conceded that water sprinkling, at least by the methods commonly employed, is not practicable for the majority of such roads on account of the frequent difficulty of obtaining water near at hand, and the consequent excessive cost. Therefore various artificial dust layers have been produced, many of them acting with water to produce the desired effect.

With the exception of calcium chloride they are bituminous materials, and their effectiveness depends upon their property of retaining moisture applied to the road surface and absorbing moisture from the atmosphere. It is applied by either the "wet" or the "dry" method. By the first it is dissolved in water, and applied from an ordinary sprinkling cart, a solution of from 1 lb to 1 1/2 lbs. to each gallon of water being used.

The second method is especially applicable where water is not easily obtained. By this method the dry material in its granular form is spread directly upon the road and allowed to dissolve by the absorption of moisture from the air. One pound being said to extract and retain from 1 lb to 1 1/2 lbs. of water from the atmosphere. The manufacturers recommend the use of about 1 1/2 lbs. to the square yard of road surface for the first application, though smaller amounts may be used with satisfactory results. For the second and subsequent applications, less than 1 1/2 lbs. per sq. yard may be used.—F. W. E. Doam in the Canadian Municipal Journal.

POLICE TROUBLES

In Oshawa Continue—The Acting Constable Now In Wrong

Oshawa, May 22.—One policeman has been suspended in the town for alleged wrongful acts, but no charges have been proven against him. The question now arises for the Council to investigate the conduct of Constable Sprung, who took Stevens' place on night duty. It is alleged that Sprung arrested the well known musician, E. J. Pull, on Monday afternoon last, for trespassing on the Rider farm, situated on the Ritson Road. After arresting Pull, it is alleged that Sprung took him back to where Mr. and Mrs. Rider were and while still having Pull in custody, he permitted Mr. and Mrs. Rider to beat him. It is alleged that Mr. Rider struck and kicked Pull while Sprung had him handcuffed. The cause of these proceedings is said to have been of a private nature, and there was certainly nothing to warrant Sprung's behavior on this occasion.

Pull was placed in the lockup for a few hours, when he was allowed out on bail, and is now confined to his house, suffering from the castigation received.

Things have certainly come to a queer pass when policemen forget that their duty is to protect at all times, and when they stand back and allow even their prisoners to be ill-treated, they are subject to censure.

Perhaps the Mayo will tell us what he thinks of his new night constable.

Pull was to come up for trial in the Police Court Tuesday morning, but he was unable to appear, and he was remanded for a week, when the nature and extent of his offence will likely be disclosed.

The use of Miller's Worm Powders insures healthy children as far as conditions attributable to worms are concerned. A high mortality among children is traceable to worms. These sap the strength of infants so that they are unable to maintain the battle for life and succumb to weakness. This preparation gives promise of health and keeps it.

PETERBORO HAS POLICE TROUBLES

Peterboro Examiner

Policeman F Burnham, one of the latest additions to the local police department, has handed in his resignation and as he has not been on the force three months, his resignation will take effect at once. To the Examiner the ex-Policeman stated this morning that his reason for resigning was that he was dissatisfied with the actions of two of the acting sergeants, and he also stated that a petition signed by five of the police force had been forwarded to His Honour Judge Huycke, chairman of the Police Commissioners, asking for an investigation into the matter.

Warts are unsightly blemishes and corns are painful growths. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove them.

THE OIL OF POWER.—It is not claimed for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil that it will cure every ill but its uses are so various, that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself all attempts to pass it have failed. Its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learnt by experience.

A LONG WAIT.—Death having stepped in to free him of an obligation not to marry, laid on him by his father's will, Horatio Burton, 60, went to Baltimore from Glenora, Md., and was married to a neighbour, Miss Mamie Wagner, 40. The will of his father who died many years ago, made his remaining single and caring for an old housekeeper one of the conditions in his inheritance. For over three decades he remained true to the provisions of the will. Six years ago he met Miss Wagner and became her close friend. The death of the housekeeper a few months ago removed all obstacles to the marriage.

THE FOE OF INDIGESTION.—Indigestion is a common ailment and few are free from it. It is a most distressing complaint and often the suffering accompanying it is most severe. The very best remedy is Parnelee's Vegetable Pills taken according to directions. They rectify the irregular action of the stomach and restore healthy action. For many years they have been a standard remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion and are highly esteemed for their qualities.

VILLAGE IN RUINS

Oshawa Community Loses 18 Stores and 17 Residences.

MANY HAD NARROW ESCAPES

Portage du Port, Que., Is Swept by a Disastrous Fire Which In Two Hours Does Damage Amounting to Over $100,000 and Leaves Many Homeless.—Flames Cut Off the Telegraph.

OTTAWA, May 19.—Practically the whole of the business section and part of the residential area of the Village of Portage du Port, Que., which is about 50 miles from Ottawa, on the Ottawa river, and has a population of nearly 500, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. In about two hours a property loss of $100,000 had been sustained and many people had been made homeless. How much of the loss is covered by insurance and other particulars, could not be secured last night; owing to the telephone and telegraph equipments being burned out. As nearly as could be learned, 18 business places and 17 residences were totally destroyed.

The fire, it is said, started in a sample room at Dolan's Hotel, about two o'clock. A few minutes later the building was a mass of flames and the village being without any fire-fighting apparatus, the fire spread rapidly to adjoining buildings, and in two hours it had wiped out the whole of the business section, without even giving time to the occupants to save any of their personal effects. Some had narrow escapes from injury. A high wind was blowing, which helped to spread the fire. Most of the buildings burned were of wood construction. Some, however, were fairly substantial places of brick and stone.

Gerald Brabazon, M.P. for Pontiac, who had his home in the village, heard last night that his house was not burned.

The people who were rendered homeless were offered accommodation by more fortunate neighbors in the village, also by people in Shawville, Campbell's Bay, Halley's Station, Renfrew and other neighboring towns and villages.

Work on New Railway Begins.

CORNWALL, Ont., May 19.—Work on several sections of the Stormont and Glengarry Railway was commenced this week. This information was given out by C. L. Hervey, the promoter of the road while in Cornwall yesterday. The bridges over the Black River will be built by the Smith Concrete Co. of Montreal. The company expects that its rails will connect Cornwall with St. Polycarpe by Dec. 1st.

TO TRAVEL ALL SUMMER.

Vice-Regal Party Will Not End Tour Until Next September.

OTTAWA, May 20.—As at present arranged, Their Royal Highnesses will be in residence at Toronto from May 20 to 21, both inclusive. At the conclusion of their stay in Toronto they will visit the following localities: Peterboro, Port Hope, Cobourg, June 1; Belleville, Kingston, June 2; Brockville, Cornwall, June 3. From June 4 to July 4 Their Royal Highnesses will be in residence at Quebec, during which time His Royal Highness will probably visit Petawawa camp and the eastern townships.

On July 5 the Governor-General will pass through the Newfound-land, proceeding there on H. M. S. Essex, which is coming to Quebec in July.

At the end of July Their Royal Highnesses will proceed west to Vancouver, making various short stops en route. They will be back in Ottawa early in September.

Appeals Are Dismissed.

OTTAWA, May 20.—At the conclusion of argument in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon, in the Chateaugay election case, both appeals were dismissed. Mr. Fisher against James Morris, M.P., the sitting member, on preliminary objections.

The team took fright and ran away. Mr. Thring was thrown off and one of the hind wheels of the wagon passed over his neck, killing him instantly.

RAID ON PALACE FAILS.

Police Frustrate Elaborate Suffragette Demonstration in London.

LONDON, May 22.—The police yesterday broke up a large column of militant suffragettes who were attempting to march on Buckingham Palace for the purpose of handing a petition to King George. When the women reached the top of Constitution Hill leading to the palace, the police dispersed them and arrested Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and several other leaders.

The skirmish between the police and the suffragettes outside the gates of Green Park was very lively while it lasted.

Mrs. Pankhurst surrounded by a bodyguard consisting of several hundred suffragettes suddenly appeared from the portal of a residence opposite the park, crossed the road to the gates, and attempted to march down the drive leading to the palace.

Mounted police then barred their progress, and the women who were armed with sticks, attempted to cut their way through the lines of policemen. They fought with vigor, using their sticks with such force that the police charged. Several women were injured in the struggle, and the raiders were finally driven back, but left Mrs. Pankhurst and a number of her lieutenants in the clutches of the police, while on the ground was a considerable collection of remnants of garments which had been torn off the women in the hand-to-hand fighting.

The police also suffered some casualties during the fierce onslaught made on them by the women.

King George himself was an interested spectator of the earlier movements for his protection, which he watched from a window of Buckingham Palace.

The ambulance corps was kept very busy in attending to a number of injured women and removing on stretchers several who had fainted. There were over forty arrests.

RESORTS ENDANGERED.

Only Hard Work Saves Cottages From Forest Fires.

HUNTSVILLE, May 22.—A high wind has prevailed all day, and this has increased the anxiety in the fire zones. Reports, however, indicate that much private property has been saved by hard fighting. The Springside cottages have been saved, and all efforts yesterday were directed toward saving five new cottages in the vicinity owned by Mr. W. G. Blackburn. Men have been rushed up from Huntsville. Gangs have also gone out to Sand Lake, where a very bad fire is raging. Bonavista, on Lake of Bays, a colony of cottages owned by Rev. Mr. Brown, was in danger, but the whole neighborhood turned out, and it is said to-day that the buildings have been saved. This is the only danger point reported from Lake of Bays.

The Muskoka Wood Co. has lost a large number of logs at dumps on the east river, and the Ontario Bark Co. has sent a gang of men to protect their limits in Parry Township. There is still no sign of rain, and deep anxiety prevails everywhere in this section. The loss already is heavy.

NOTHING THIS SESSION.

But Hon. Mr. Crothers Has Labor Bureau Act For Next Year.

OTTAWA, May 20.—Drastic legislation to deal with the employment question will be introduced by the Government next session of Parliament. Action will be taken by the Canadian Government along the lines by which the Imperial Government has solved the difficulty in Great Britain, according to a statement made yesterday by Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor.

Incidentally Mr. Crothers stated that there would be no labor legislation this year.

In Great Britain the Government has established a number of labor bureaus with a central office in London. All expenses are borne by the Government, and Mr. Crothers found that they were excellently managed and had proved a godsend. These bureaus supply workers for employers and work for those out of employment. There is a perfect system of information kept regarding the needs in the various parts of the country, and the unemployed are therefore not subjected to the more or less misrepresentation of employment agents.

Accurate information regarding labor conditions in the various parts of the country will be available at each office, and to these offices those who desire employment will go. Employers also will be able to secure information as to the ability and record of those whom the bureaus will recommend to them.

Mr. Crothers stated that the distance in Canada render it impossible for the Government to advance traveling expenses, as is done in England, but he believed that he has arrived at a solution of the difficulty by getting employers to advance the money.

JOB TOO DANGEROUS.

Albania No Place For Comfort Thinks William of Wied.

VIENNA, May 20.—A serious situation has arisen in Albania, where by the life of the new ruler, Prince William, has been endangered. According to Durazzo despatches to The Neue Freie Presse, Essad Pasha had an audience with Prince William on Monday afternoon and tendered his resignation as governor. Essad Pasha had 300 adherents in his residence and 5,000 in Durazzo. They started a revolt on Tuesday, Essad himself firing the first shot against the prince's palace.

The prince thereupon appealed to the commander of the Italian and Austrian warships. They landed detachments, who set up machine guns in front of Essad Pasha's house. The Turkish commander then asked permission to be allowed to go aboard the Italian warship. This was refused, and he was arrested and placed aboard the Austrian warship Szigetvar as the prince's prisoner.

According to other reports, Prince William discovered a fortnight ago secret plans which had been drawn up by Essad Pasha, and ordered him to disarm his body guard. Essad Pasha refused, whereupon the Albanian gendarmie, commanded by Dutch officers, attacked his residence, arrested him and turned him over to the Italian commander.

Five hundred men from the Austrian and Italian warships are guarding the prince's palace.

VATERLAND SWEEP AWAY.

Huge Liner Carried Off From Tugs By Tide at New York.

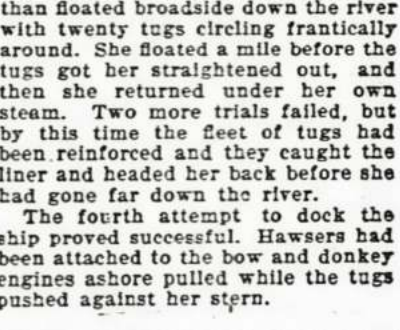

NEW YORK, May 22.—Navigation in the North river, between lower New York and Hoboken stood still yesterday while the Vaterland, the biggest ship afloat, defied all efforts to dock her and swept broadside down the stream for more than a mile.

When the liner arrived at her pier after her maiden voyage her great length and a strong ebb tide proved too strong a combination for the fleet of willing little tugs that urged her toward her berth. For more than two hours the tugs pulled and hauled at the gigantic liner without success. At the end of that time she lay heading up the river again; the heads of three piers, while the tugs, clustering like dolphins about a whale, laid their noses against her stern and started to swing it out; into the river, so that the steamer could slide bow-first into her slip.

The Vaterland had made three attempts to dock before this. Once she was almost ready to tie up, when the tide gripped her and dragged her out of the slip. Ferryboats and small craft scurried to safety as the levitation floated broadside down the river with twenty tugs circling frantically around. She floated a mile before the tugs got her straightened out, and then she returned under her own steam. Two more trials failed, but by this time the fleet of tugs had been reinforced and they caught the liner and headed her back before she had gone far down the river.

The fourth attempt to dock the ship proved successful. Hawkers had been attached to the bow and donkey engines ashore pulled while the tugs pushed against her stern.

OUR STORY

The girl held herself rigidly from any personal intimacy with her fellows. To some extent, at least, she could separate herself from their corruption in the matter of personal association. But, ever present, there was a secret energy of vice that could not be escaped so simply—nor, indeed, by any device; that breathed in the spiritual atmosphere itself of the place. Always, it was invisible, yet horribly potent, power of sin was like a miasma throughout the prison. Always, it was striving to reach her soul, to make her of its own. She fought the insidious, fetid force as best she might. She was not evil by nature. She had been well grounded in principles of righteousness. Nevertheless, though she maintained the integrity of her character, that character suffered from the taint. There developed over the girl's original sensibility a shell of hardness, which in time would surely come to make her less scrupulous in her reckoning of right and wrong.

Yet, as a rule, character remains the same throughout life as to its essentials, and, in this case, Mary Turner at the end of her term was virtually almost as wholesome as on the day when she began the serving of the sentence. The change wrought in her was chiefly of an external sort. The kindliness of her heart and her desire for the seemingly joys of life were unweakened. But over the better qualities of her nature was now spread a crust of worldly hardness, a denial of appeal to her sensibilities. It was this that would eventually bring her perilously close to contented companionship with crime.

The best evidence of the fact that Mary Turner's soul was not fatally soiled must be found in the fact that still, at the expiration of her sentence, she was fully resolved to live straight, as the saying is which she had quoted to Gilder. This, too, in the face of sure knowledge as to the difficulties that would beset the effort, and in the face of temptations offered to follow an easier path.

There was for example, Aggie Lynch, a fellow convict, with whom she had a slight degree of acquaintance, nothing more. This young woman, a criminal by training, offered allurements of illegitimate employment in the outer world when they should be free. Mary endured the companionship with this prisoner because a sixth sense proclaimed the fact that there was one unimpaired, rather than immoral—and the difference is mighty. For that reason, Aggie Lynch was not actively offensive, as were most of the others. She was a dainty little blonde with a baby face, in which were set two light-blue eyes, of a sort to widen often in demure wonder over most things in a surprising and naughty world. She had been convicted of blackmail, and she made no pretense, even of innocence. Instead, she was inclined to boast over her ability to bamboozle men at her will. She was a natural actress of ingenu role, and in that pose she could unflinchingly beguile the heart of the wisest of worldly men.

Perhaps, the very keen student of physiognomy might have discovered grounds for suspecting her demureness by reason of the thick, level brows that cast a shadow on the bland innocence of her face. For the rest, she possessed a knack of rather harmless perseverance, a fair smattering of grammar and spelling, and a lively sense of humor within her own limitations, with a particularly small intelligence in other directions. Her one interest was in the kind that made an individual appeal. In such, she was inimitable. She had been reared in a criminal family, which must excuse much. Long ago, she had lost track of her father; her mother she had never known. Her one relation was a brother of high standing as a pickpocket. One principal reason of her success in leading on men to make tools of themselves over her, to their everlasting regret afterward, lay in the fact that, in spite of all the gross irregularities of her life, she remained chaste. She deserved no credit for such restraint, since it was a matter purely of temperament, not of resolve.

The girl saw in Mary Turner the possibilities of a ladylike personality that might mean much financial profit in the devious ways of which she was a mistress. With the frankness characteristic of her, she proceeded to paint glowing pictures of a future shared to the undoing of ardent and fatuous swains. Mary Turner listened with curiosity, but she was in no wise moved to lead such a life, even though it did not necessitate anything worse than a fraudulent play at love, without physical degradation. So, she steadfastly continued her refusals, to the great astonishment of Aggie, who actually could not understand in the least, even while she believed the other's declaration of innocence of the crime for which she was serving a sentence. But, for her own part, such innocence had nothing to do with the matter. Where, indeed, could be the harm in making some old sinner pay a round price for his folly? And always, in response to every argument, Mary shook her head in negation. She would live straight.

Then, the heavy brows of Aggie would draw down a little, and the baby face would harden.

"You will find that you are up against a terrible frost," she would declare, brutally.

Mary found the prophecy true. Back in New York, she experienced a poverty more ravaging than any she had known in those five lean years of her working in the store. She had been absolutely penniless for two days, and without food through the gnawing hours, when she at last found employment of the humblest in a milliner's shop. Followed a blessed interval in which she worked contentedly, happy over the meager stipend, since it served to give her shelter and food honestly earned.

But the ways of the police are not always those of ordinary decency. In due time, an officer informed Mary's employer concerning her record as a convict, and thereupon she was at once discharged. The unfortunate victim of the law came perilously close to despair then. Yet her spirit triumphed, and again she persevered in that resolve to live straight. Finally, for the second time, she secured a cheap position in a cheap shop—only to be again persecuted by the police, so that she speedily lost the place.

Nevertheless, indomitable in her purpose, she maintained the struggle. A third time she obtained work, and there, after a little, she told her employer, a candy manufacturer in a small way, the truth as to her having been in prison. The man had a kindly heart, and, in addition, he ran little risk in the matter, so he allowed her to remain. When, presently, the police called his attention to the girl's criminal record, he paid no heed to their advice against retaining her services. But such action on his part offended the greatness of the law's dignity. The police brought pressure to bear on the man. They even called in the assistance of Edward Gilder himself, who obligingly wrote a very severe letter to the girl's employer. In the end, such tactics alarmed the man. For the sake of his own interests, though unwillingly enough, he dismissed Mary from his service.

It was then that despair did come upon the girl. She had tried with all the strength of her to live straight. Yet, despite her innocence, the world would not let her live according to her own conscience. It demanded that she be the criminal it had branded her—if she were to live at all. So, it was despair! For she would not turn to evil, and without such turning she could not live. She still walked the streets falteringly, seeking some place; but her heart was gone from the quest. Now, she was sunken in an apathy that saved her from the worst pangs of misery. She had suffered so much, so poignantly, that at last her emotions had grown sluggish. She did not mind much even when her tiny hoard of money was quite gone, and she roamed the city, starving. . . . Came an hour when she thought of the river, and was glad!

Mary remembered, with a wan smile, how, long ago, she had thought with amazed horror of suicide, unable to imagine any trouble sufficient to drive one to death as the only relief. Now, however, the thing was simple to her. Since there was nothing else, she must turn to that—to death. Indeed, it was so very simple, so final, and so easy, after the agonies she had endured, that she marvelled over her own folly in not having sought such escape before. . . . Even with the first wild fancy, she had unconsciously bent her steps westward toward the North River. Now, she quickened her pace, anxious for the plunge that should set the term to sorrow. In her numbed brain was no flicker of thought as to whatever might come to her afterward. Her sole guide was that compelling passion of desire to be done with this unbearable present. Nothing else mattered—not in the least!

So, she came through the long stretch of ill-lighted streets, crossed some railroad tracks to a pier, over which she hurried to the far end, where it projected out to the fiercer currents of the Hudson. There, without giving herself a moment's pause for reflection or hesitation, she leaped out as far as her strength permitted into the coil of waters. . . . But, in that final second, natural terror in the face of death, overcame the lethargy of despair—a shriek burst from her lips.

But for that scream of fear, the story of Mary Turner had ended there and then. Only one person was anywhere near to catch the sound. And that single person heard. On the south side of the pier a man had just tied up a motor-boat. He stood up in alarm at the cry, and was just in time to gain a glimpse of a white face under the dim moonlight, as it swept down with the tide, two rods beyond him. On the instant, he threw off his coat and sprang far out after the drifting body. He came to it in a few furious strokes, caught it. Then began the savage struggle to save her and himself. The currents tore at him wrathfully, but he fought against them with all the fierceness of his nature.

He had strength a-plenty, but it needed all of it, and more, to win out the river's hungry clutch. What saved the two of them was the violent temper of the man. Always, it had been the demon to set him aflame. To-night, there in the faint light, within the grip of the waters, he was moved to insensate fury against the element that menaced. His rage mounted, and gave him new power in the battle. Maniacal strength grew out of supreme wrath. Under the urge of it, he conquered—at last brought himself and his charge to the shore.

When, finally, the rescuer was able to something more than gasp chokingly, he gave anxious attention to the woman whom he had brought out from the river. Yet, at the outset, he could not be sure that she still lived. She had shown no sign of life at any time since he had first seized her. That fact had been of incalculable advantage to him in his efforts to reach the shore with her. Now, however, it alarmed him mightily, though it hardly seemed possible that she could have drowned. So far as he could determine, she had not even sunk once beneath the surface. Nevertheless, she displayed no evidence of vitality, though he chafed her hands for a long time. The shore here was very lonely; it would take precious time to summon aid. It seemed, notwithstanding, that this must be the only course. Then just as the man was about to leave her, the girl sighed, very faintly, with an infinite weariness, and opened her eyes. The man echoed the sigh, but his was of joy, since now he knew that his strife in the girl's behalf had not been in vain.

Afterward, the rescuer experienced no great difficulty in carrying out his work to a satisfactory conclusion. Mary revived to clear consciousness, which at first inclined toward hysteria, but this phase yielded soon under the sympathetic ministrations of the man. His rather low voice was soothing to her tired soul, and his whole air was at once masterful and gently tender. Moreover there was an inexpressible balm to her spirit in the very fact that some one was thus ministering to her. It was the first time for many dreadful years that any one had taken thought for her welfare. The effect of it was like a draught of rarest wine to her warm heart. So, she rested obediently as he busied himself with her complete restoration, and when finally she was able to stand, and to walk with the support of his arm, she went forward slowly at his side without so much as even a question of whither.

And, curiously, the man himself shared the gladness that touched the mood of the girl, for he experienced a sudden pride that delighted a starved part of his nature. Somewhere in him were the seeds of self-sacrifice, the seeds of a generous devotion to others. But those seeds had been left undeveloped in a life that had been lived since early boyhood outside the pale of respectability. To-night, Joe Garson had performed, perhaps, his first action with no thought of self at the back of it. He had risked his life to save that of a stranger. The fact astonished him, while it pleased him hugely. The sensation was at once novel and thrilling. Since it was so agreeable, he meant to prolong the glow of self-satisfaction by continuing to care for this waif of the river. He must make his rescue complete. It did not occur to him to question his fitness for the work. His introspection did not reach to a point of suspecting that he, an habitual criminal, was necessarily of a sort to be most objectionable as the protector of a young girl. Indeed, had any one suggested the thought to him, he would have met it with a sneer, to the effect that a wretch thus tired of life could hardly object to any one who constituted himself her savior.

In this manner, Joe Garson, the notorious forger, led the dripping girl eastward through the squalid streets, until at last they came to an adequately lighted avenue, and there a taxicab was found. It carried them farther north, and to the east still, until at last they came to a halt before an apartment house that was rather imposing, set in a street of humbler dwellings. Here, Garson paid the fare, and then helped the girl to alight, and on into the hallway. Mary went with him quite unafraid, though now with a growing curiosity. Strange as it all was, she felt that she could trust this man who had plucked her from death, who had worked over her with so much tender kindness. So, she waited patiently; only, watched with intentness as he pressed the button of a flat number. She observed with interest the thick, wavy gray of his hair, which contradicted pleasantly the youthfulness of his clean-shaven, resolute face, and the spare, yet well-muscled form.

The clicking of the door-latch sounded soon, and the two entered, and went slowly up three flights of stairs. On the landing beyond the third flight, the door of a rear flat stood open, and in the doorway appeared the figure of a woman.

"Well, Joe, who's the skirt?" this person demanded, as the man and his charge halted before her. Then, abruptly, the round baby-like face of the woman puckered in amazement. Her voice rose shrill. "My Gawd, if it aint Mary Turner!"

At that the newcomer's eyes opened swiftly to their widest, and she stared astounded in her turn.

CHAPTER VII. WITHIN THE LAW.

In the time that followed, Mary lived in the flat which Aggie Lynch occupied along with her brother, Jim, a pickpocket much esteemed among his fellow craftsmen. The period wrought transformations of a radical and bewildering sort in both the appearance and the character of the girl. Joe Garson, the forger, had long been acquainted with Aggie and her brother, though he considered them far beneath him in the social scale, since their criminal work was not of that high kind on which he prided himself. But, as he cast about for some woman to whom he might take the hapless girl he had rescued, his thoughts fell on Aggie, and forthwith his determination was made, since he knew that she was respectable, viewed according to his own peculiar lights. He was relieved rather than otherwise to learn that there was already an acquaintance between the two women, and the fact that his charge had served time in prison did not influence him one jot against her. On the contrary, it increased in some measure his respect for her as one of his own kind. By the time he had learned as well of the innocence, he had grown so interested that even her folly, as he was inclined to deem it, did not cause any wavering in his regard.

Now, at last, Mary Turner let herself drift. It seemed to her that she had abandoned herself to fate in that hour when she threw herself into the river. Afterward, without any volition on her part, she had been restored to life, and set within an environment new and strange to her, in which soon, to her surprise, she discovered a vivid pleasure. So, she fought no more, but left destiny to work its will unhampered by her futile strivings. For the first time in her life, thanks to the hospitality of Aggie Lynch, secretly reinforced from the funds of Joe Garson, Mary found herself living in luxurious idleness, while her every wish could be gratified by the merest mention of it. She was fed on the daintiest of fare, for Aggie was a sybarite in all sensuous pleasures, that were apart from sex. She was clothed with the most delicate richness for the first time as to those mysterious garments which women love, and she soon had a variety of frocks as charming as her graceful form demanded. In addition, there were as many of books and magazines as she could wish. Her mind, long starved like her body, seized avidly on the nourishment thus afforded.

In this interest, Aggie had, no share—was perhaps a little envious over Mary's absorption in printed pages. But for her consolation were the matters of food and dress, and of countless junketings. In such directions, Aggie was the leader, an eager joyous one always. She took a vast pride in her guest, with the unmistakable air of elegance, and she dared to dream of great triumphs to come, though, as yet, she carefully avoided any suggestion to Mary of wrong-doing.

In the end, the suggestion came from Mary Turner herself, to the great surprise of Aggie, and, truth to tell, of herself.

There were two factors that chiefly influenced her decision. The first was due to the feeling that, since the world had rejected her, she need no longer concern herself with the world's opinion, or retain any scruples over it. Back of this lay her bitter sentiment toward the man who had been the direct cause of her imprisonment, Edward Gilder. It seemed to her that the general welfare against the world might well be made an initial step in the warfare she meant to wage, somehow, sometime, against that man personally, in accordance with the hysterical threat she had uttered to his face.

The fact that was the immediate cause of her decision on an irregular mode of life was an editorial in one of the daily newspapers. This was a scathing arraignment of a master in high finance. The point of the writer's attack was the grim sarcasm for such methods of thievery as are kept within the law. That phrase held the girl's fancy, and she read the article again with a quickened interest. Then she began to meditate. She herself was in a curious indeterminate attitude as far as concerned the law. It was the law that worked the ruin of her life, which she had striven to make wholesome. In consequence, she felt for the law no genuine respect, only detestation as for the epitome of injustice. Yet, she gave it a superficial respect, born of those three years of suffering which had been the result of the penalty inflicted on her. It was as an effect of this latter feeling that she was determined on one thing of vital importance: that never would she be guilty of anything to pit her against the law's decrees. She had known too many hours of anguish in the doom set on her life because she had been deemed a violator of the law. No, never would she let herself take any position in which the law could accuse her.

But there remained the fact that the actual cause of her long misery was this same law, manipulated by the man she hated. It had punished her, though she had been without fault. For that reason, she must always regard it as her enemy, must, indeed, hate it with an intensity beyond words—with an intensity equal to that she bore the man, Gilder. Now in the paragraph she had just read she found a clue to a suggestive thought, a hint as to a means by which she might satisfy her rancor against the law that had outraged her—and this in safety she would attempt might save that within the law.

Mary's heart leaped at the possibility back of those three words, "within the law." She might do anything, seek any revenge, work any evil, enjoy any mastery, as long as she should keep within the law. There could be no punishment then. That was the lesson taught by the captain in high finance. He was at pains always in his stupendous robberies to keep within the law. To that end, he employed lawyers of mighty cunning and learning to guide his steps aright in such tortuous paths.

There, then, was the secret. Why should she not use the like means? Why, indeed? She had brains enough to devise, surely. Beyond that, she needed only to keep her course most carefully within those limits of wrong-doing permitted by the statutes. For that, the sole requirement would be a lawyer equally unscrupulous and astute. At once, Mary's mind was made up. After all, the thing was absurdly simple. It was merely a matter for ingenuity and for prudence in alliance. . . . Moreover, there would come eventually some adequate device against her arch-enemy, Edward Gilder.

Mary meditated on the idea for many days, and ever it seemed in creasingly good to her. Finally, it developed to a point where she believed it altogether feasible, and then she took Joe Garson into her confidence. He was vastly astonished and not quite pleased. To his view, this plan offered merely a fashion of setting difficulties in the way of achievement. Presently, however, the sincerity and persistence of the girl won him over. The task of convincing him would have been easier had he himself ever known the torment of serving a term in prison. Thus far, however, the forger had always escaped the penalty for his crimes, though often close to conviction. But Mary's arguments were of a compelling sort as she set them forth in detail, and they made their appeal to Garson, who was by no means lacking in a shrewd native intelligence. He agreed that the experiment should be made, notwithstanding the fact that he felt no particular enthusiasm over the proposed scheme of working. It is likely that his own strong feeling of attraction toward the girl whom he had saved from death, who now appeared before him as a radiantly beautiful young woman, was more persuasive than the excellent ideas which she presented so emphatically, and with a logic so impressive.

An agreement was made by which Joe Garson and certain of his more trusted intimates in the underworld were to put themselves under the orders of Mary concerning the sphere of their activities. Furthermore, they bound themselves not to engage in any devious business without her consent. Aggie, too, was one of the company thus constituted, but she figured little in the preliminary discussions, since neither Mary nor the forger had much respect for the intellectual capabilities of the adventuress, though they appreciated to the full her remarkable powers of influencing men to her will.

It was not difficult to find a lawyer suited to the necessities of the undertaking. Mary bore in mind constantly the high financier's reliance on the legal adviser compunct to invent a method whereby to baffle the law at any desired point, and after judicious investigation she selected an ambitious and experienced Jew named Sigismund Harris, just in the prime of his mental vigors, who possessed a knowledge of the law only to be equalled by his disrespect for it. He seemed, indeed, precisely the man to fit the situation for one so serious of outraging the law remorselessly, while still retaining a place absolutely within it.

Are You After Yankee Dimes?

If you notice anyone intently examining a United States ten cent piece coin you may naturally infer that he has the Ford mania. This mania for Yankee dimes has developed to an astonishing degree on account of the proprietor of the Ford manufacturing concern again doing something out of the ordinary, besides giving every employee in his American factory five dollars a day in wages, he has had printed in a very small letter at the lower end of many American dimes the letters F. O. R. D. and S. The person who obtains these letters on five dimes and presents it to the Ford people will be presented with an automobile. So there is more ways than one of securing a motor car. The story goes that a citizen stepped on to a trolley car in an American city and handed the conductor a ten cent piece. Immediately the conductor became engrossed in examining the dime, when the passenger asked him if that were not good money. The conductor burst forth, "you bet it is, it's the very letter I want." This dime had a letter on it which completed his set, and he was entitled to a Ford motor car. Another small boy gave a dime in a drug store in Toronto recently, that had a letter on it that the clerk wanted. The boy demanded the return of his dime, but in the end the clerk was so anxious to obtain the dime that he gave the boy ten dollars for it. Why shouldn't he? That dime likely meant an automobile to him.

HYGIENIC CRUMBLES

Miss Cleo, who is an ardent theorist in the matter of hygienic living, concluded her somewhat tedious remarks by descending from generalizations to concrete instances, as she nibbled at a cracker.

"You say!" she declared, with calm and patronizing pity in her tones, "you say that pepper and other condiments are not injurious if used in moderation. My friend, that is a mistake. The lining of the stomach, as you know, is composed of a delicate membrane—almost exactly like the lining of the eye. Now, candidly, would you put pepper or mustard into your eye? You would not. And why? Because it would cause indescribable suffering. And so, although you may not be aware of the fact, the condiments that you take into your stomach cause inflammation and suffering, which you call indigestion. Do I make my point clear?"

Farmer Grant moved uneasily in his chair; he had enjoyed his corned-beef dinner, and the only drawback to his enjoyment had been the sight of his guest nibbling crackers in preference to his own more substantial meal.

"I s'pose you've got the rights of the case," he admitted grudgingly. "But I just couldn't stand it to live on them hard-baked wafer things that ain't got a speck of taste to 'em."

"Try one," urged the advocate of the simple life.

Farmer Grant took the offered edible gingerly, then a sudden thought smote him.

"Turn about is fair play," he said bluntly. "I'll give in that pepper and mustard and vinegar and sick-like are all bad for the stomach, and I'll quit eating of 'em if I find they really do hurt the eye. And I'll try 'em on my eye—if you'll try the effect first on your eye of crumbly, this 'ere cracker up and rubbin' it round on that delicate linin' that you spoke of. Ef the hy-genic crumbles don't hurt your eye, why, I'll know they'll be good for my stomach; and if they do irritate and inflame that delicate organ, why, then I'll know hy-genic crumbles ain't good, and I'll stick to un-hy-genic eatin' which I swan to man I kin enjoy."

Farmer Grant is still eating unhygienic food, partly, no doubt, because Miss Cleo declined to rub "hy-genic crumbles" in her eyes.—The Youth's Companion.

THE PILL THAT BRINGS RELIEF.—When, after one has partaken of a meal, he is oppressed by feelings of fullness and pains in the stomach which will persist if it be not dealt with. Parmele's Vegetable Pills are the very best medicine that can be taken to bring relief. These pills are especially compounded to deal with dyspepsia and their sterling qualities in this respect can be vouched for by legions of users.

HAS CHANGED SCHOOLS

MME. MONTESSORI'S SYSTEM HAS WORKED A REVOLUTION.

Italian Woman Who Teaches Children While They Are at Play Has Accomplished Marvels in the Development of the Young Mind and Her Method Is Being Copied In Every Part of the Globe.

The title of "the most interesting woman in Europe" has been bestowed upon Mme. Maria Montessori, the Italian lady doctor whose system of teaching children has astonished the educational world.

She became attracted to the problem when, as assistant doctor at a Roman clinic, she noticed that feeble-minded children were herded with those who were actually insane. The sufferings of the fairly intelligent infants so impressed her that she threw up her medical work to take charge of an asylum for deficient and feeble-minded children, intending to conduct it on new principles she had thought out. The result was dramatic. One of her pupils, originally supposed to be half-witted, was sent, after her training, to the ordinary public school and passed in with higher marks than any of his companions.

This happened several times, and Mme. Montessori realized that her system must be considerably superior to the one followed by most preparatory schools. She decided to apply it to normal children, and re-entered the University of Rome for three years to supplement her knowledge. It seemed to her the whole world of children were crying for help.

In 1907, in one of the poorest districts of Rome, inhabited by the vicious and criminal, she opened her first school. To all appearance it is just a large nursery, where children either sit in little chairs or sprawl at their ease on rugs playing with wooden blocks, pieces of colored silk, buttons and other fascinating objects to the child mind.

One of them is engaged in a new and absorbing game. He has in front of him smooth pieces of cardboard on each of which is a letter in raised sandpaper. His eyes are fixed on the letters, which are arranged in a row, and he is busy tracing the outline of the letter with his finger. He follows the outline again and again, until he hardly needs the rough surface for guidance. He is learning to write! A few days hence, when the letter is called, the muscles of his little hand will instinctively move in the right direction.

If he feels bored, which really means tired, he will tear off his bandage and ask for something else to play with. That is the whole secret of Dr. Montessori's system. She develops the infant mind naturally, encouraging it to awaken from within rather than learn from without.

Because the children are not fed and driven, they learn to love school, and come gladly, even imitating a desire for knowledge in the hearts of their parents. One day a child at home, seeing a plate of bread and butter on the table, cried out, "Rectangle," and when the mother cut off a piece with a knife the child said, "Triangle." The whole family were curious and came round to know what the words meant.

Rough and drunken parents who usually spent their evenings in wine-shops stayed at home in the evening to learn for themselves the lessons which their children brought from school. Mothers became interested in the mysteries of writing, and timidly visited the school to acquire the art themselves.

Pupils began to despise playthings because they gave no chance to exercise their reasoning faculties, but they would preserve any odd scrap of paper that contained food for thought.

Most marvellous of all was the improvement in the health of the children. They grew plump and vigorous, and looked like the offspring of healthy parents living in the country rather than mites from the heart of the slums.

A happier school never existed, and it is now being copied all over the world. Teachers of all nationalities visit Mme. Montessori to learn her system, and the Franciscan schools and orphanages propose to adopt it.

After the Messina earthquake the Franciscan nuns at Monteverde housed and cared for three hundred wild and half-civilized girl orphans who had been saved from the wrecked villages, and ultimately turned them into well-mannered young ladies. If, with all their experience, the nuns deliberately adopt a new system of education, there must be many exceptionally strong points to recommend it.

The Poet Defined.—Somebody was remarking on the number of poets who are mentioned by the daily papers.

"Why," he declared, "I never heard of one in twenty of them. What is a poet, anyway?"

And the newspaper man gravely replied: "A poet is a writer who rarely gets into print."

Drawing the Line.—

"I don't mind listening to a man who is paying for my dinner tell me the story of his life," said the woman. "Men's lives are generally interesting, but I won't stand to hear a woman tell everything she knows, even if she does pay for my dinner. I'd rather pay for my own dinner and get an occasional sly at the conversation."

A Consistent Course.—A railroad president was writing to an underling regarding a matter of improvement the other man wished to inaugurate without loss of time, but of which the president did not particularly approve.

"Dear Blank," he wrote, "don't do anything until you see me."

"P. S.—Then don't do anything!"

Half Ontario Farms Are Mortgaged At Least Forty-Five Per Cent Are Burdened, But Farmers Have Large Holdings in Banks

About 15 per cent of the total value of the farm property in Ontario is mortgaged, according to a statement appearing in the report of Hon. James F. Duff, Minister of Agriculture for the year just passed.

This financial survey of farm conditions, as it might be called, is an innovation in the annual report, and information was ascertained under the following heads:

(1) The percentage of farms mortgaged, per cent of mortgages in value of farms and whether increasing or decreasing; (2) the extent of deposits by farmers in savings banks; (3) the extent of the demand on the part of farmers for loans; (4) rate of interest paid on both long and short date loans; (5) whether the loans are on the purchasing of land only or are for financing farm operations.

There seems to be a unanimous view that mortgages are decreasing in number. Payments are reported as being promptly met. A proportion of the mortgages, it is ascertained, have been taken to enable speculation in western real estate.

DEPOSITS HAVE INCREASED. With regard to deposits, it is stated that these have materially increased in recent years. One county estimates a 20 to 30 per cent. increase; another 70 or 90 per cent.; another 75 per cent. No accurate figures can be given of the total amount of farmers' deposits, but from estimates furnished from the different counties it is assumed that the farmers of Ontario have one million dollars to their credit.

With regard to loans, it does not appear to have been heavy during the past year. The interest rate varied from 5 1/2 to 7 per cent. on long loans and from 7 to 8 and perhaps 10 per cent. in the newer districts on short loans.

The facts are interpreted by the department as having an optimistic tone.

Sort of a Luxury. A small child who was the young member of a very hard up family, was told by her father that she had a new baby sister. Isn't that nice, he asked. But the lessons of domestic economy had already taken hold of the youngster, and she answered severely.

Well, daddy, I s'pose it's all right but it seems to me there's a lot of things we need more.

INJURIES PROVED FATAL

Fountain Died in Lindsay Hospital

Lindsay, May 20.—A message received from the Ross Memorial Hospital a few minutes before going to press informed The Warrier that Allan Fountain, of Cobocok, who endeavored to end his life by cutting his throat with a razor, died as a result of his injuries, death occurring about 1.30 o'clock.

The officer did not arrive in Cobocok until late last night, and had to hustle in order to see the parties required and serve them. A brother-in-law of the dead man will arrive in Lindsay this evening to claim the remains and make arrangements for their removal to Cobocok.

Fountain, who was employed in the Gull River Lumber Co's mills, laid off work the day he committed the rash act. His father was home at the time, and on going for water noticed Allan Fountain in the garden. When his son-in-law, Mr Woods enquired for Allan's whereabouts he was told where he was. On going out, Woods found him lying down, and thought he was asleep, but upon investigation it was found he cut his throat.

The dead man, it is claimed, left a statement with Mr. Grieves, of Cobocok, who will appear at the inquest. In making a partial statement to Dr. Johnson, the unfortunate man, it is claimed, made a declaration of his affection for Mrs. Weatherby, whose children were burned to death, but when mention was made of the little ones, he said no more.

Fatal Accident At Richardson's Crossing

Yesterday morning Geo. Willington, who resided near Lindsay, was killed by the G. T. R. flyer which leaves Peterboro at 7.10 a. m. It appears that he was driving a team across what is known as Richardson's Crossing, about a mile or so this side of Lindsay. The engine struck the wagon, killing one of the horses and throwing him to the road. The train was stopped and the injured man taken on board, with the intention of taking him to the hospital, but he succumbed, when in the waiting room of the Lindsay depot awaiting the arrival of an ambulance.

His leg was broken, his head badly cut, and he was also injured internally.

The victim of the accident was a married man and leaves a wife and three small children. The engineer of the train is W. Chambers and the Conductor C. Adams.

LOCAL OPTION PREVAILS THERE

Mr G N Gordon, of Peterboro, who contended in the Police Court of that place that there could be no prosecution against his client for violating the local option by-law of Otonabee township because the corporate seal had not been affixed, will have another guess coming to him when the opinion of Mr Eudo Saunders of the Liquor License Branch reaches him to day.

Mr Saunders points out that the municipal act provides, "Where by an oversight, the seal of the corporation has not been a fixed, the by-law shall be as valid and effectual as if it had been originally sealed." Under this clause of the act the affixing of the seal in court would bring to an end at once the contention that the by-law was invalid on that ground.

Mrs. Daniel Dwyer, of Norwood, Formerly of Peterboro, Ended Her Life in St. Peter's Cemetery

Peterboro, May 22nd.—The body of Mrs Daniel Dwyer, of Norwood, was found dead early this morning in the Roman Catholic Cemetery, lying across the grave of her husband, who died several years ago. It is thought that she committed suicide during the night, as a bottle containing carbohic acid and a paper cup was found only a few steps from where the body lay.

The body was discovered about six o'clock this morning by Mr Geo Powell, who lives next to the cemetery. Mr Powell went out in his garden shortly before six o'clock, and he had only been out a few seconds when he noticed the form of a well dressed woman lying a little distance from the edge of the cemetery. He called his wife, who verified what he had seen, and together they entered the cemetery. Approaching the form they saw that she was apparently dead and they went for another resident of that district, Mr J Mervin. He ascertained for certain that there was no life left in the body, and then got in communication with Coroner Dr Greer and Bishop O'Brien. The body was found to be that of Mrs Daniel Dwyer, formerly of this city, but latterly of Norwood. It is thought that she came to Peterboro on the C.P.R. train this morning about five o'clock and went directly to the cemetery. The theory that she committed suicide seems to be indisputable in that a bottle about half full of carbohic acid and a paper drinking cup were found a few feet from the body. The woman was very well dressed and beside her was found this morning her hat and purse, laid together. She was lying with her face upturned under a parasol, and had every appearance of having merely reclined on the mound of her husband's grave for a rest.

It is said that ever since her husband's death some years ago, the late Mrs Dwyer has been very melancholy, and has not appeared in public or on the streets of the city except when business demanded it. Up till a short time ago, she resided in Peterboro, but she went to Norwood some months ago, where she has since resided with her brother. She was very highly respected by all who knew her, and the only reason her intimate friends can offer for her act is that grief at the death of her husband at last unhinged her mind, resulting in the tragedy this morning. There will be no inquest as the case is clearly one of suicide.

C.P.R. Train Struck Farmer's Rig at crossing—Farmer Hurlled Into Field

A farmer living near Tweed who refused to give his name is lucky to be alive. The C.P.R. train crashed into him at Dumphrey's Crossing near Tweed Saturday killing his horses and reducing his wagon to splinters. How the farmer escaped was a wonder. He was hurled over the fence into a ploughed field. The engineer brought his train to such a sudden stop that the passengers thought he had struck the side of a house. The train crew rushed over and were surprised to see the farmer climbing over the fence. The man was mad clean through. "Why didn't you blow your whistle?" he shouted. "How much do I get for this," he remarked to the startled train crew. The man had not a mark on him. The engineer said the whistle was wide open all the time.

Already bush fires are causing thousands of dollars loss in timber and expense for fighting and if rain does not soon come, the outlook is serious for many places. Fires have been started at Harburn, at Lochlin, on the Burnt River and elsewhere for various reasons, and one at least, the Harburn fire, is past all control, sweeping along miles wide. The law, and the enforcement of it should be strict enough to make those too careless to look after their own, let alone others' interest, responsible for the damage caused. BAD FIRE AT COLD SPRINGS

On Friday of last week Mr. James Thompson, Jr., of Cold Springs, suffered a $3,500 loss by fire. His little girl was playing with matches near a barn and set fire to some straw. In a minute the barn was all ablaze, and Mrs. Thompson, who was in the hen house underneath, escaped with great difficulty. The only means of escape for her was blocked by the raging fire, and had it not been for the cool-headedness of a farm hand, who knocked several boards off the barn, and pulled her out, almost overcome by the smoke, she would have perished. A large frame barn, 40x35 feet containing over 600 bushels of grain, 16 tons of hay and a quantity of straw, also an implement shed, 3 calves, a big sow and 70 hens were destroyed. Mr. Thompson had $2000 insurance in the Hamilton Township Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co., which will not much more than half cover his loss. About six years ago h was burned out, and was just recovering from his financial loss when the second fire visited him.

RUTTAN GIVES UP. Housey Rapids Murderer Worries of Privations of the Bush. GRAVENHURST, May 26.—Contrary to police expectations and to his threat that he would never be taken alive, William Ruttan, the Muskoka bushman and trapper, who, on Wednesday morning, shot and killed his daughter, Mrs. Alfred Coutermache, and Geo. Coutermache, at their home at Housey Rapids, quietly surrendered to Inspector Greer, of the provincial police, and Constable Fielding, of Bracebridge, at his home at nine o'clock Saturday morning. Half famished, his clothes in tatters, and his face and hands torn by the heavy bush of the district, the murderer presented a pitiable appearance when taken in hand by the police. Ruttan Friday's heavy rainstorm, Ruttan lay concealed in the bush, and he told his wife Saturday morning, that once, when his pursuers were within twenty-five yards of him, he was forced to swim the Buck river to escape detection. Though he was soaked to the skin, and the raw air brought on a heavy frost Friday night, Ruttan was forced by the presence of three watchers on his house, to lie in the bush but a few hundred yards from his home. At five o'clock the watchers were themselves forced by the cold air to seek shelter in Henry Cook's residence and the murderer crept into the shelter of his barn. After half an hour in the barn Ruttan risked everything and crawled through the cellar window into his home, where he ate ravenously. While he was warming himself at the stove, Provincial Detective Greer, Constable Fielding and three other men returned to resume their vigil on the house and the murderer's escape was cut off. His wife said that it was primarily the message of their minister, the Rev. Findlay Crowther, which persuaded her husband to surrender. "Mr. Crowther told me to tell my husband it would be far better for him to surrender to the law, and I did."

Ruttan says his only regret is that he did not succeed in killing his son-in-law, Alfred Coutermache, and Henry Cooke, a neighbor. CREWE WILL WAIT. He Will Not Present Home Rule Bill To Lords Until June 22. LONDON, May 27.—Political writers yesterday on both sides anticipate little towards peace in the promised amending bill, and the minds of the members of Parliament are rather turned towards their constituency. Lord Crewe has announced he will not put down the second reading of the Home Rule bill in the Lords before June 22, so there will certainly be a breathing space of a few weeks, except for what may happen outside of Westminster. The Standard (Conservative) claims to have reliable information that the Liberal party agents having gone over the ground with a view to the possibility of an early election, predict 35 Liberal gains and 28 Liberal losses, provided the Liberals came to an arrangement with the Labour and the Independent Labour parties, and also commence an aggressive campaign concerning "the army plot to thwart the aspirations of the democracy."

COUNCILLORS TALKED AND TALKED AGAIN

Until His Worship Grew Weary—Session Lasted Four Hours

Board of Health Wants Sanitary Inspector

The Council met in regular session Tuesday evening and for actual time killing the meeting should take the members talked from 7.30 to nearly 11.30, while the business could easily have been done in one hour. They spent an hour on the resolution for a grant to the band and it was not until His Worship Mayor Bush grew impatient and offered personally to make the grant to the band that the resolution went through. It then passed as originally suggested and the whole hour of discussion was wasted. Mr. R. Gray, Secretary of the Board of Water Commissioners, wrote that he had been instructed by the Board to ask them to take such steps as may be necessary for the issue of the remaining debentures authorized under by-law 1044 amounting to $5,000. These debentures were required by the by-law to be issued on the 2nd of June, 1913, but as the money was not then urgently required and the difficulty in disposing of the securities so apparent, they did not think it desirable to apply for the issue at that time. The money is now urgently needed to make improvements in the water works system, which was the object of the by-law and approved by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board on that understanding. The only thing necessary to validate the issue is an order extending the time from the Municipal Board and the Commissioners have been advised that this can be obtained, and any expense in the matter will be borne by them. The Commissioners ask that the application may be approved by the Council. Town Solicitor White gave a very thorough explanation of the matter, after which the following resolution was passed. Moved by Mr. Chislett, seconded by Mr. Rosevear, that this Council approves the application of the Water Commissioners for the issue of the $5,000 debentures authorized under by-law number 1044 and authorizes and endorses an application being made to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board for an order extending the time for the issuing of such debentures beyond the time fixed therefor by the by-law, the expenses of such application for extension to be borne by the Commissioners, who also agree to provide the annual sinking fund and interest in issue. Carried.

FINANCE REPORT.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Men's pay roll, 205 60; T. Garnett & Sons, tile, 82 45; F. McAvoy, work at park, 43 75; W. R. Tremouth, livery hire, 7 50; W. F. Kerr, law costs, 23 10; R. Dunn & Co., extension ladder, 15 10; A. J. Smith, lumber, 13 80; A. J. Brown, work at park, 9 40; Jordan & Meadows, teaming at park, 9 00. Total: $416 70.

Then came the grant to the Band. It was moved by Mr Strong, seconded by Mr Rosevear, that the Band be given a grant of $300. Moved in amendment by Mr Sheriff, seconded by Mr Smith, that the request of the band be referred to the Finance Committee. The vote on the amendment was as follows: Yeas,—Messrs Perry, Sheriff and Smith. Nays,—Messrs Chislett, Rosevear, Patterson, Strong and Hayden. After another lengthy discussion it was moved by Mr Strong, seconded by Mr Rosevear, that the 46th Regiment Band be given a grant of $300, payable $25 monthly, said band to give their services gratis on June 1st and open air concerts during the summer months. Moved by Mr Smith, seconded by Mr Hayden, that the band receive a grant of $25 a month for the balance of the year. To end this quibbling, Mayor Bush assured the band that he would give them the necessary three hundred dollars and added that the Councillors acted more like school children than business men. It was then moved by Mr Chislett, seconded by Mr Rosevear, that the band receive a grant of $300 for the year 1914. Yeas,—Messrs Chislett, Rosevear, Strong and Hayden. Nays,—Messrs Patterson, Perry, Sheriff and Smith. Mayor Bush voted yea and declared the resolution carried. Messrs H Reynolds and F L Curtis were appointed Harbor Commissioners in the room and stead of Judge Ward and W H Giddy. A by-law to borrow $2,000 received its several readings and was passed.

The Last of the Friedman Cure

The Health Department of New York has pronounced the Friedman "cure" of tuberculosis a failure. Of the forty-seven cases observed twelve have resulted in death; twenty-two are still in hospitals; seven are attending clinics; one is under private treatment, and five have returned to their homes. Of the latter none are pronounced de-everything to improve the sanitary conditions, but ever since it has been a turmoil. Last year there were 125 violations of the Health Act, and not a single prosecution. To-day he is receiving $500. We have three sanitary inspectors, Royce, McAvoy and Geo. Thompson, and still the Board of Health wanted another sanitary inspector appointed. Mr. Sheriff—Last year, when Royce was night constable, Dr. Dickinson expressed himself as thoroughly satisfied with his work, but now three are not sufficient to carry out the inspection. Mr Rosevear—It is within the power of the Board of Health to appoint a Sanitary Inspector and make the town pay for it, then they should do so. Mayor Bush said he doubted very much if the Police were doing their duty regarding Sanitary Inspection. The Health Board feel that these men are not competent to do the work thoroughly. It was the duty of the Chairman of the Police Committee to see that these men performed their duties. Dr Dickinson informed the Council that Royce had told him that he was Sanitary Inspector. If he holds that office he is making no effort to do his duty. Moved by Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. Sheriff, that the Market and Police Committee be instructed to meet with the Board of Health and see if they can arrive at a satisfactory settlement re the Sanitary Inspector and to report at the next meeting and that the mover and seconder be included in this Committee.

The Street and Bridge Committee reported that the inventory of tools and street machinery was valued at $700. They also reported that no grading had been done on the C.P.R. on the different streets opened up by the company and recommended the Clerk to notify the C.P.R. and have the matter attended to at once. The Committee have also given instructions to have the sidewalk on Ontario street, north of the C.N.R., taken up and cinders put down as the Committee had no plank to use in repair. They were putting down a walk on Brunton street from Bramley to within 100 feet from Julia street; also a crossing on Toronto road at the end of the present sidewalk and a walk on the west side of Hope street from Ward to Blooms Grove avenue; a new walk from King to Hope on William and a new walk from Hope to Elgin on Dorset street. They also recommended that the gutter on Walton and Queen streets be levelled up and the water run into the sewer in the manhole at that point. Also a new crossing on Elgin street. The Market by-law received its first and second readings and the Committee rose and asked leave to sit again.

TAXES THE TROUBLE.

Albania's Difficulties Caused by Parsimony of Natives. ROME, May 27.—One of the chief reasons for the trouble in Albania is the unwillingness of the inhabitants of that country to pay taxes, according to the Marquis di Sa Giuliano, Italian Foreign Minister, in answering questions in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday. He described the action taken by the Italian Minister and the sailors of the Italian fleet for the protection of Prince William, ruler of Albania, and for the re-establishment of order in Durazzo. The Foreign Minister emphasized the identity of Italy's views on the subject with those of Austria. Both countries, he said, were aiming to enforce the decision of the conference of London regarding the independence of Albania. The Marquis di Sa Giuliano said that Italy and Austria would do everything in their power to prevent armed intervention in Albania and they were desirous of withdrawing the detachments landed from the warships at Durazzo.

DONNELLY MURDERED.

Coroner's Jury Finds That Man Was Killed by Unknown. CHATHAM, May 27.—At the inquest last night into the death of William Donnelly, whose body was found floating in the creek under the C.P.R. bridge near Princess street, last Wednesday morning, before Coroner H. Charteris, the jury found that Donnelly came to his death by being struck on the head by some person as yet unknown. The murderer is supposed to have been committed last Tuesday night about 10 o'clock. Jacob Liberton, colored, stated that when he had passed the vicinity of the tragedy that night at that hour, he saw the outlines of three men on the bridge. The men were using loud and angry language. Dr. R. V. Bray, who conducted the autopsy, testified that Donnelly had a gash in the head back of the left ear, probably caused by a pair of steel knuckles.

This Trial Was Quiet.

LONDON, May 27.—An almost uncanny stillness in marked contrast to recent police court scenes in which militant suffragettes have participated, reigned yesterday at the London sessions during the trial and conviction of the women vandals of the National Gallery and the Royal Academy, and of the recent raiders, who broke many windows in the west end of London. Sentence of six months' imprisonment on each of the picture destroyers, while the window smashers in all cases were condemned to terms of four months. Several of the women refused to give their names and were tried as "Number so and so."

WOULD TAKE OPTION BIG STABLE BURNS. Dr. Pugsley to Move For Right to Purchase the C.N.R. AT LOWER CAPITALIZATION He Proposes To Cut Down the Capital to $30,000,000 and Take a Five-Year Option on the Property in Order to Lessen the Risk to the Country—Meighen's Statement Challenged. OTTAWA, May 27.—The greater part of yesterday's session of the Commons was spent in committee considering the C.N.R. bond guarantee resolution, clause by clause. Mr. Pugsley began yesterday by questioning the accuracy of a statement made by Solicitor-General Meighen last Thursday. Mr. Meighen, according to Mr. Pugsley, had stated that all the British Columbia town sites were included in the holdings of the C.N.R. Townsites Company. He read from the trust deed of 1913 to prove that only Port Mann was included. He also read from the same trust deed to show that Mackenzie and Mann might withdraw any farm land in operations of the trust deed upon payment of $15 per acre and any urban property upon paying $150 per acre. Mr. Meighen replied that all the British Columbia townsites were included. He said it could make no difference, so far as the Government was concerned, whether any particular remained subject to the trust deed or went into the possession of Mackenzie, Mann & Co., Limited. The firm of Mackenzie, Mann & Co. was a party to the contract with the Government. Sir Wilfrid Laurier objected that the Government was taking no mortgages upon the St. Catharines and Niagara Railway. Mr. Meighen replied that this was true in one sense, but said the St. Catharines & Niagara Railway was owned by the Canadian Northern Ontario. The Government would get a lien upon it under the provisions of the contract, which created a mortgage upon the Canadian Northern Ontario to the extent that any part of the $45,000,000 was expended in construction work upon the C.N.R. Mr. E. M. Macdonald desired to know whether the Government had requested Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann to pledge their personal estates as security for the proposed Government guarantee. He claimed that in 1884, when the C.P.R. applied for a loan of $30,000,000, the promoters of that enterprise had pledged their own property as collateral security. This statement the Prime Minister disputed. No such authority, he said, had been exacted by the Government of Sir John Macdonald. A member of the Laurier Government had said in 1909 that the C.P.R. had in 1884 no security to offer. Mr. Carvell said nothing was to be gained by discussing ancient history. He would ask the Government whether it had called upon Mackenzie and Mann to put up any security, and whether it intended to so call upon them. Mr. Borden: "They will certainly be called upon if other adequate security is lacking."

Mr. Pugsley asked about the Northern Construction Co., in which he understood relatives of both Sir William and Sir Donald figured prominently. Bristol (Centre Toronto): "There is an affidavit on file to the contrary." This statement was sharply challenged and after some desultory debate the Prime Minister said: "The Mackenzie in that firm, I am advised, is not a relative of Sir William Mackenzie. The Mann in the firm, is, I believe, Sir Donald Mann's nephew, possibly his brother. I am not certain which, but we have explicit sworn testimony to prove that neither Sir William nor Sir Donald has any interest whatever in the Northern Construction Co." When that clause of the resolutions was reached which provided for forty per cent. of the C.N.R. stock being turned over to the Government of Canada, Hon. Mr. Oiler asked what responsibility the Government would assume for the conduct and result of the railway system. Mr. Borden said the Government would be merely a stockholder. There would be no attempt at Government operation of the road. Mr. Pugsley said that the Government as trustees for the people would have to take a lively interest in the conduct and operation of the system. He thought the idea of a partnership between His Majesty the King and Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann most objectionable. He gave notice of an amendment to reduce the capital stock to $30,000,000, all of it to be deposited with the receiver-general as trustees, and the Government to have an option on the whole system exercisable at any time within five years. Mr. Meighen said Parliament had no power to interfere with civil rights, and therefore could not confiscate the property of Mackenzie and Mann. All that could be done would be to ask Mackenzie and Mann to consent to some such plan as Mr. Pugsley suggested. They would, he said, undoubtedly refuse. Mr. Meighen concluded by saying the adoption of Mr. Pugsley's amendment would result in the appointment of a receiver for the Canadian Northern.

Forest Fires In Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, N.S., May 17.—Forest fires began their annual devastation Monday when, driven by a fifty-mile gale, they swept from the woods back of the villages of Fencible Cove and Ferguson's Cove two fishing and summer hamlets on the western shores of the Northwest Arm and Halifax harbor, destroying a church and a half dozen houses, and threatening the destruction of the great fortifications.

JACOB A. RILIS DIES.

Widely-Known Publicist Was Sixty-Five Years Old. BARRE, Mass., May 27.—Jacob A. Rilis, author and social worker, died at his summer home here yesterday after a lingering illness. Born in Denmark in 1849, he came to New York in 1868 and became a police reporter on The Sun, in which capacity he came into touch with the "submerged" population and became interested in social reform. He did much for the parks and playgrounds movement. His writing was chiefly along lines of civic and personal betterment; he also wrote a biography of Roosevelt.

He also read from the same trust deed to show that Mackenzie and Mann might withdraw any farm land in operations of the trust deed upon payment of $15 per acre and any urban property upon paying $150 per acre. Mr. Meighen replied that all the British Columbia townsites were included. He said it could make no difference, so far as the Government was concerned, whether any particular remained subject to the trust deed or went into the possession of Mackenzie, Mann & Co., Limited. The firm of Mackenzie, Mann & Co. was a party to the contract with the Government. Sir Wilfrid Laurier objected that the Government was taking no mortgages upon the St. Catharines and Niagara Railway. Mr. Meighen replied that this was true in one sense, but said the St. Catharines & Niagara Railway was owned by the Canadian Northern Ontario. The Government would get a lien upon it under the provisions of the contract, which created a mortgage upon the Canadian Northern Ontario to the extent that any part of the $45,000,000 was expended in construction work upon the C.N.R. Mr. E. M. Macdonald desired to know whether the Government had requested Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann to pledge their personal estates as security for the proposed Government guarantee. He claimed that in 1884, when the C.P.R. applied for a loan of $30,000,000, the promoters of that enterprise had pledged their own property as collateral security. This statement the Prime Minister disputed. No such authority, he said, had been exacted by the Government of Sir John Macdonald. A member of the Laurier Government had said in 1909 that the C.P.R. had in 1884 no security to offer. Mr. Carvell said nothing was to be gained by discussing ancient history. He would ask the Government whether it had called upon Mackenzie and Mann to put up any security, and whether it intended to so call upon them. Mr. Borden: "They will certainly be called upon if other adequate security is lacking."

AT LOWER CAPITALIZATION

He Proposes To Cut Down the Capital to $30,000,000 and Take a Five-Year Option on the Property in Order to Lessen the Risk to the Country—Meighen's Statement Challenged.

OTTAWA, May 27.—The greater part of yesterday's session of the Commons was spent in committee considering the C.N.R. bond guarantee resolution, clause by clause. Mr. Pugsley began yesterday by questioning the accuracy of a statement made by Solicitor-General Meighen last Thursday. Mr. Meighen, according to Mr. Pugsley, had stated that all the British Columbia town sites were included in the holdings of the C.N.R. Townsites Company. He read from the trust deed of 1913 to prove that only Port Mann was included. He also read from the same trust deed to show that Mackenzie and Mann might withdraw any farm land in operations of the trust deed upon payment of $15 per acre and any urban property upon paying $150 per acre. Mr. Meighen replied that all the British Columbia townsites were included. SLASHING GOES ON London Is Scene of Two More Suffragette Outrages.

BOMB GOES OFF IN CHURCH

Infernal Machine Explodes In Edinburgh Edifice But Little Damage Is Done—National Gallery and Royal Academy Are Visited by "Wild Women" and Much Mischief Is Done.

LONDON, May 23.—The "wild women" of the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragette organization, yesterday continued their terrorizing tactics by making two separate attacks on the National art treasures. Early yesterday morning a woman armed with a loaded explosive device entered the National Gallery, which, it is announced, has been closed to the public until further notice.

Both women were arrested. The pictures damaged at the National Gallery were a "Madonna and Child With Infant Saints," a "Portrait of Girolamo Savonarola," "Saint John and Christ in the Desert," "The Death of Saint Peter," and "Christ's Agony in the Garden." Apparently they were not irreparably injured. The painting gashed at the Royal Academy was entitled "Primavera," by George Clausen, a Royal Academician. The Academy was filled with a fashionable throng when a woman drew a butcher's cleaver which she had concealed in her clothing, and dashed at the picture, in which she hacked several gashes.

Attendants at once seized her, and it was only the presence of the police which prevented her from being roughly handled by the irate spectators. Both the women refused to give their names after their arrest. The National Gallery's vandal left a trail of blood behind her from cuts she had sustained by the falling broken glass from the pictures. The National Gallery was immediately closed and all the students turned out.

Put Bomb In Church.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, May 23.—Militant suffragettes in the course of Thursday night placed an explosive machine in the Rosehall United Free Church in an attempt to blow it up. The bomb exploded, but did only slight damage.

Insisted on Seeing Plate.

LONDON, May 23.—Miss Annie Kenney, one of the chief organizers of the Women's Social and Political Union yesterday afternoon made herself the self-invited guest of the Archbishop of Canterbury at Lambeth Palace. Together with a party of militant suffragette friends she proceeded in a motor car to the palace and succeeded in obtaining entrance afterward refusing to budge until she had seen the archbishop. Miss Kenney said she had made all preparations for spending the night at the palace.

HE WILL NOT CONFER.

Reports of Entry Into Mediation Denied by Carranza's Agent.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Jose Vasconcelos, the special agent of Carranza, who, it had been reported, had been chosen as a Constitutionalist representative to the Niagara conference, emphatically denied in a statement last night that he was to receive such an appointment or that Carranza would ever consider mediation as a solution of Mexico's internal affairs.

"As long as the Huertistas are at Niagara we shall not be represented there," said Mr. Vasconcelos. "The only way my party meets Huerta is on the battlefield. I will accept any mission that the chief of the Constitutionalist party may confer upon me. But I have no idea I will be named as delegate to the A. B. C. conference."

MEDICINE OF THE FUTURE.

Soul Cure the Remedy For Human Ills Says Dr. Berillon.

PARIS, May 23.—Dr. Berillon of Paris asserts that psychotherapia or soul cure is the medicine of the future. He does not put his patients under a hypnotic trance, but places them in an environment which creates an appetite for sleep. He invites them to repose on a bed and think of nothing. Then he leaves them. They gradually succumb to the "tick tack" of a metronome. When the patient is in a hypnotic slumber, if it is desired he should be cured of excessive indulgence in alcohol, the psychotherapist suggests to him that he cannot raise a glass of absinthe to his lips, and repeats the suggestion until the prohibition is so engraved on his brain that if he would he could not do so. Berillon is frequently consulted by those who wish to be cured of the unhappy love or passion, and through hypnotism they obtain release.

KINGSTON, May 23.—Joseph Orr, a farmer living at Sydenham, was the victim of a runaway horse. He sustained a fractured skull and other injuries and lies in a critical condition.

DEMOCRACY AT STAKE.

Representative Government, the Real Issue Says Lloyd George.

LONDON, May 23.—(C. A. P. Cable).—Finishing the campaign for the Government candidate, Mr. Masterman, in the Ipswich by-election last night, Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said that this contest was one of the most critical in the history of this country.

"Read the story of the scene in the House of Commons yesterday," he said. "Do you appreciate what it means and that it is a blow to free and representative government?" If it had been the case of an outburst of temper on the part of the Opposition, he would not have said a word, but he knew that it was deliberate and part of a plan to destroy the representative character of the Lower House. "Home Rule is not the cause of the trouble," he declared. "I am a Protestant Home Ruler. Just as good a Protestant as any covenantant. Why, even the Tory candidates have ceased to treat it as if it were a Home Rule election. On his polling card he places Home Rule last. It is not Welsh disestablishment, it is not plural voting, it is representative government in this land. They attempted to destroy it. So long as the House of Commons was filled with squires and sons of the nobility, so long as the Commons were away from the people, so long as it imposed taxes on their food in order to raise huge rents for the landlords, the House of Commons was all right. You had no young Tory lordlings, trying to break it by that rowdiness then. It was a mere drudge, a mere appendage to the House of Lords.

TIMBER IS GOING.

Hundreds of Acres Destroyed by Fires in Haliburton County.

LINDSAY, May 23.—Hundreds of acres of good timber are being razed to the ground in Haliburton County, and it is reported that the northern part of the county is alive with bush fires. For two weeks past fires have been raging, until they have assumed a dangerous condition, and houses and barns are in peril. At Harburn the fire is said to be beyond control, sweeping along miles wide.

Thomas Graham, of Wilberforce, reports that the whole country between Bancroft and Kinnmount Junction, along the line of the E. B. & O. Railway is on fire, a distance of some 60 miles. Watson's Hotel at Kinnmount Junction was burned, and on Thursday night the plant of the New York Graphite Co., at Harcourt, was saved only by heroic efforts.

Forest Fire at Coquitlam.

Bush Fires Costly.

BELLEVEILLE, May 23.—Bush fires in the vicinity of St. Peter's Lake, in the north part of this county this week destroyed $4,000 worth of pulpwood, the property of the Northumberland Pulp Co. Settlers in the vicinity also lost valuable timber.

SAYS LAW WAS RIGHT.

Carson Proud of Leader's Retort to Speaker Lowther.

LONDON, May 23.—Sir Edward Carson, speaking to a vast audience at Ipswich last night, referred to the Prime Minister's resolution considered in committee of the whole House, clause by clause. He read from Hansard to show that Mr. Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier agreed that the Canadian Northern system must be finished, that the system must not be allowed to collapse, and that Canadian credit must be saved from the blow it would receive through a transcontinental railway going into liquidation. Much of the discussion which had taken place since had concerned itself with discussing Mackenzie and Mann. It was said that they must be eliminated because they were not railway men but mere contractors. Nearly all the great railway men on this continent had begun at the foot of the ladder.

"There was quite a lively time in committee over the Mackenzie and Mann resolutions after the division earlier in the evening. Mr. Carvell moved that Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann personally guarantee the payment of certain obligations under the contract as well as Mackenzie and Mann Co., Limited. This renewed the old dispute as to the private fortunes of Sir William and Sir Donald and their obligation to risk the same in support of the Canadian Northern.

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS.

Wilson's Adherents Expect to Repeal Tolls By Majority of Ten.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Democratic leaders in the Senate were confident last night that the Panama Canal tolls exemption repeal bill and the arbitration amendments will be disposed of next week. Senator Kern, leader of the majority, said a vote would be taken May 24, and shortly afterwards, and added that the repeal bill would be passed by a majority of at least ten.

Youth Is Drowned.

IROQUOIS, May 23.—A drowning accident happened here yesterday at 8 p.m. when Zidon Everetts, aged 16, the second son of P. H. Everetts, was drowned while playing with two other lads around the old locks at the Iroquois Canal. He made an effort to keep himself afloat, but went down last time before help came. The body was recovered two hours afterwards.

QUEBEC, May 23.—The coroner completed the inquest on the death of Miss Dubois, who was brutally murdered a few days ago at her home in St. Saverus, the jury returning a verdict of wilful murder against Dion, who was formerly a cleric in the employ of her father. Dion was arrested.

MOTION IS DEFEATED

Government Determined to Put Through C.N.R. Deal.

THE DIVISION IS III TO 64

E. M. Macdonald's Motion to "Hoist" C. N. R. Proposals Is Voted Down With Bennett and Nickle Lined Up In Opposition—W. A. Charlton of Norfolk Sides With the Government.

OTTAWA, May 20.—By a majority of 47 the Government last night was upheld in the first vote upon the Canadian Northern legislation. E. M. Macdonald's motion for the six months' hoist was defeated on division. Yeas, 64; nays, 111. It was a party vote, except that Messrs. Bennett and Nickle voted for the amendment, and Mr. Charlton (Lib., Norfolk) voted with the Government.

Mr. W. F. Maclean (Con., S. York) opposed the six months' hoist, declaring that all thinking men of the country united in saying that the question before the House was one of urgent importance. He thought the legislation brought down by the Government was a long step in the direction of public ownership, but favored the Government immediately obtaining an option on the balance of the common stock of the Canadian Northern Railway Co. so that the system might be nationalized at any time and linked up with the Intercolonial as a great transcontinental railway.

Mr. Verville (Labor, Maisonneuve) said the Borden Government was fond of juggling with millions. Last session it was $55,000,000 and this session $45,000,000. He argued in favor of nationalizing the railways against a long series of nationalizations in Europe and Australia.

Mr. Foster (Con., Kings, N.S.), while supporting the Government, urged that the resolution be so amended as to compel the C.N.R. to withdraw their steamers from the North Atlantic combine. With these two vessels to begin with, the Government might charter others and thus secure lower ocean rates.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux described the Government's proposal as "iniquitous legislation being forced through an unformed Parliament in the dying days of the session." He said it was common knowledge that Mackenzie and Mann were millionaires. It was common gossip in Montreal that they had exploited vast holdings in real estate adjacent to the Mount Royal tunnel. The great banking houses, Morgan & Co., and Lazare & Co. of New York had combined with Mackenzie and Mann in this speculation whose profits aggregated not less than $20,000,000. Why did not the Government get as security some of these "golden acres in Montreal?"

Mr. Charlton (Norfolk) said he could not support the motion for a six months' hoist, but would vote to have the Prime Minister's resolution considered in committee of the whole House, clause by clause. He read from Hansard to show that Mr. Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier agreed that the Canadian Northern system must be finished, that the system must not be allowed to collapse, and that Canadian credit must be saved from the blow it would receive through a transcontinental railway going into liquidation. Much of the discussion which had taken place since had concerned itself with discussing Mackenzie and Mann. McMullen Acquitted.

TORONTO, May 20.—After about ten minutes' consideration a jury before Judge Coatsworth, in the Sessions court yesterday, returned a verdict freeing former County Constable James McMullen from a charge of forgery and perjury, which had been preferred against him at the conclusion of the Davis-Wettlaufer case about three weeks ago in the non-jury assizes court. It was charged that McMullen, who had been employed as a private detective on the case, wrote three letters, signing the name of Mrs. Wettlaufer.

Lady Bulvea Very Ill.

EDMONTON, May 20.—Following an attack of nervous prostration two weeks ago, Mrs. Bulvea, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, has recovered yesterday after she had been in bed for several days. Her condition, which is very serious.

LONDON, May 20.—Mrs. Jane Law of Glasgow, the widow of the late Rev. James Law of New Brunswick, and mother of Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, the leader of the Unionist party in the House of Commons, died at Bath.

PROTECTING DYNAMITE.

Cobalt Miners Ate Afraid of Forest Fire Catastrophes.

COBALT, May 19.—All day Sunday wagons were moving dynamite from an old magazine belonging to a powder company, as bush fires were raging in the vicinity. In this magazine, which is situated on the old Silver Queen property, there was stored 290 cases of dynamite, or approximately seven tons. Late on Sunday night this magazine was burned down, but by that time all the powder was in a place of safety. The magazine was situated only about a mile from the town.

Englehart In Darkness.

ENGLEHART, May 19.—A bush fire between here and Charlton Sunday afternoon destroyed nearly two miles of electric light poles, leaving both towns in darkness Sunday night. If dry weather continues another week there are certain to be extensive bush fires. Yesterday smoke in three different directions indicated as many forest fires.

Rev. Wm. R. Wood, Presbyterian clergyman of Franklin, Man., has been selected as Liberal candidate to contest Beautiful Plains riding for the Provincial House.

Mayor Martin has received a number of letters containing threats against his life. Most of the letters complain that Mayor Martin is trying to play the role of a boss.

ADMIRAL DRURY DEAD.

Sir Charles Was a Native of Rothesay, New Brunswick.

LONDON, May 19.—The death occurred yesterday of Admiral Sir Charles Carter Drury, aged 68. Deceased was born in Rothesay, N.B., his father being colonel of the 50th Regiment. He entered the navy in 1839 and rose to the rank of admiral in 1908. He was A. D. From 1903-8 he was second naval lord of the Admiralty, and he represented the navy at the Delhi durbar. In 1896 he was given the thanks of the Foreign Office for his services in Crete.

SLEEP-WALKING HIS PLEA.

Youth Advances Somnambulism as Defence For Murder.

CHICAGO, May 19.—Wm. Keith, on trial here for the murder of Walter Platt, made a plea of "somnambulistic insanity," through his attorneys.

Keith contends that he dreamed he entered a saloon and sent for Paul; that he dreamed he drew a revolver and said: "You ruined one family, but you will never ruin another," and that he dreamed he fired and Paul fell dead. In fact, everything appears to have been a dream except the police, the bullet in the victim's body and the report of the coroner's jury.

Investigation is alleged to have shown that in Alabama Keith and his people were known as "sleep walkers."

Dark Horse In Ipswich.

LONDON, May 19.—(C. A. P. Cable).—Polling takes place on Saturday in Ipswich. To the surprise and disgust equally of the Unionist and Liberal candidates, a third warrior has appeared suddenly, Scurr to wit, who is vaguely described by his backers as the rebel candidate. Local Laborites don't own him. The general supposition is that if he really goes to the poll he won't secure above a hundred votes.

Hon. F. D. Monk Buried.

MONTREAL, May 19.—The funeral of the late Hon. F. D. Monk, former Minister of Public Works, took place yesterday morning. Mass was celebrated in St. James' Church, interment taking place in Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

OFF ON LONG CHASE.

R.N.W.M.P. Officer Has Three Years In Which to Catch Murderers.

REGINA, Sask., May 19.—Inspector Beytes of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police force here has been given three years commission to go to the northernmost part of Hudson Bay in an attempt to find the murderers of Radford and Street, two explorers who were believed to have been killed by Eskimos two years ago.

Beytes will go to Chesterfield Inlet, the farthest point north on the Hudson Bay inhabited by white men, and from there take three years' supply of provisions and travel thousands of miles through the interior. The trip will be one of the most dangerous and trying ever undertaken by an officer of the Mounted Police, involving investigations among savage Eskimo tribes, at whose hands the two lost explorers met death.

TRAFFIC IN TITLES.

Germany Has a Busy Trade Alleged Socialist Deputy.

BERLIN, May 19.—Continuing his revelations, begun in the Reichstag last week, in regard to corruption in the German army, the well-known Socialist Deputy, Dr. Leibknecht, alleges in yesterday's Vorwaerts that the lately deceased Gen. Von Lindenau, military governor of Metz, died bankrupt, owing to 101 creditors claims ranging from $1.75 to $37,500.

The gravest charge against the dead officer was that he was accustomed to obtain money by trafficking in decorations and titles. Dr. Leibknecht reproduces an alleged copy of a letter in which Gen. Von Lindenau acknowledged the receipt of several thousand marks, which were to be considered as having been "paid back" when the furnisher of funds had, "through the grace of the Kaiser," become a Prussian professor of medicine.

Gen. Von Lindenau was regarded as a brilliant officer.

WANTED ROSE DEAD.

Former Associate of Becker's Gives Damaging Evidence.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Two convicts from Auburn prison, who were in the Tombs while Charles Becker and the four gunmen who shot Rosenthal were prisoners there, will be among the chief witnesses still to be called by District Attorney Whitman against Becker. The two convicts were in New York yesterday under guard.

These witnesses will testify to conversations they overheard between Becker and the gunmen. Charles Platt, Jr., former intimate and press agent for Becker, testified that at his last meeting with Becker in the laboratory of the train on the journey to Sing Sing, Becker said to him: "I want you to kill that squealing Jack Rose." Manton tried desperately to keep the Platt testimony from record, but his efforts were unavailing.

TROOPS AT CRAIGAVON?

Unionists Ply Lloyd George With Questions About Ulster.

LONDON, May 19.—There is a lull in the Irish crisis for the moment and it is improbable that much will be done before the debate on the third reading of the Home Rule bill commences.

Lloyd George, however, in the absence of the Prime Minister, who is on attendance on the King at Aldershot, had to face a number of questions in the House of Commons yesterday relative to the presence of troops around Craigavon, the seat of Capt. Craig, one of the Ulster leaders.

Four Men Electrocutted.

MONTREAL, May 19.—Four men were yesterday morning electrocuted at Black Lake, Megantic County. They were Russians and were repaying a power line.

One man touched a wire carrying 50,000 volts and the others were killed trying to pull the man's body off the wire.

Diversion of Funds Small.

OTTAWA, May 19.—The commissioners who inquired into the recent charges of graft in the Marine Department agency of Quebec, have completed their report. It is understood that the diversion of funds was not extensive, being around $500, but that there were a number of irregularities established.

Decrease Reported.

OTTAWA, May 19.—The Inland Revenue returns for April show a decrease compared with April a year ago. The figures are: April, 1914, $1,795,834; April, 1913, $1,898,607.

NO CIRCUSES IN TORONTO.—We observe no circuses are visiting Toronto. Thrillers are supplied the Telegram by the new sky-scrapers going up. The Borden Government's C.N.R. deal is a hair raiser for the Globe. Carson and Redmond supply fireworks for the News. The World is wholly absorbed in the Telegram, while the Mail and Star are merely two of the leading newspapers.—Peterborough Review.

WHY MEN SLEEP IN CHURCH.—A Milwaukee preacher has made a wonderful discovery. He says that the reason men fall asleep in church is because they take such intense interest in the sermon and the preacher that they hypnotize themselves—and so fall asleep. The women, he says, escape because they do not take such intense interest in the sermon. The point seems to be that the less interest one takes the more likely he is to stay awake, i.e., the sleepers are really the most interested listeners. Evidently the Milwaukee man has slipped a cog somewhere in his argument, but it is a good thing to hear such a charitable construction placed upon what is, to most preachers, such a heinous offence.

A GOOD WORK

The Port Hope Auxiliary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church

The Auxiliary during the year 1913-14 just closed, had a membership of 106. The Watch Tower had heralds for China, Japan, the French, Italian and Indian work, also for strangers within our gates. The auxiliary held twelve meetings during the year. The text book studied was, "The King's Business." A membership committee was appointed to look after absentees. There is also in connection with the auxiliary, a flower fund, for the purpose of distributing flowers to the sick or shut in members. There is also a birthday box in evidence at each meeting for anyone who may have had a birthday between meetings. A mite box is also given a place in the homes of the members. In October the ladies of the congregation were entertained by the ladies of the Auxiliary, also in April. The Easter Thank-offering was $63.01. The total amount raised for Missions during the year was $291.02.

Three members were called home The year 1913-14 has been a record one.

NOTICE

On the occasion of the visit of the Duke of Connaught to this town on Monday 1st June, the three Banks and the Midland Loan and Savings Company will close at 1 o'clock noon.

Miss Alice Fanning, of Lindsay, Mrs W N Brown, Toronto, and Mrs Richard Runnalls, of Welcome, left Monday evening for Chicago, to attend the funeral of their sister, Mrs J R Watt, which took place on Wednesday, from her late residence, 2455 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago.

ANOTHER DREAM.—A remarkable case of a woman's dream leading to the discovery of her brother's dead body was disclosed at an inquest at Wolverhampton, G.B. The inquest was on a laborer named Benjamin Plimmer, who had been missing for a fortnight, and was found hanging dead in the coal cellar of his father's house. He did not live with his father, and he must have entered the house secretly. The father, giving evidence, described how he found his son's body—"I was under the impression that he was working at Middlesbrough," he said. "I never go into the cellar, but my daughter said she dreamt she had seen her brother hanging in the cellar. I went down to search and found him hanging dead." It is supposed that the body had been hanging there a fortnight. A verdict of "Suicide during temporary insanity" was returned.

FOUR ARE DROWNED.

Entire Family Wiped Out In Holiday Tragedy Near North Bay.

NORTH BAY, May 27.—North Bay's Victoria Day was marred by one of the worst drowning accidents which has ever occurred in Lake Nipissing, a whole family, including father and mother and two children, being wiped out.

Early yesterday morning a young collie dog came whining to a Government road-making camp near the shore of the lake, a few miles from North Bay, and by his peculiar actions attracted attention to the lake front.

Straight to a beach the dog led, and there, lying on the sand, were the bodies of two children clasped in the rigid death grip of their mother.

The bodies were identified as those of Mrs. Arthur Mansbridge, a young woman of 21 years of age, who lived with her husband and two children in Lakeview Park, North Bay. The family were picnicking and fishing on the holiday in a canoe, and in the evening, when they were returning home, the lake became rough and the canoe upset, father, mother and children sinking beneath the waves.

Search is being conducted for the body of the father. In the canoe with the family was the children's playmate, a Scotch collie pup, which swam ashore and carried the message of death.

The White Shark.

The most dreaded and ferocious shark now in existence is the great white shark of tropical waters. It is the man eater par excellence. Specimens have been captured which measured forty-two feet in length. Whether it has done so or not, this frightful creature would certainly have no difficulty in literally swallowing a man whole.

JUDGE ROGER ENTERTAINS

His Honor Judge Roger gave a dinner at his residence, College street, on Friday evening in honor of Judge Harry Ward, of Port Hope, the newly appointed Senior Judge of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham and to give the local Bar an opportunity of meeting Judge Ward. Field, Clerk of the High Court of Justice. Regret was expressed that His Honor Judge Benson was unable to be present.

A very enjoyable time was spent.—Cobourg World.

She Understands It

Why is that man running? Because he hit the ball my dear. Now he's stopped and he is walking back. What's the matter. He was put out. But why is he put out? Because the fielder threw the ball to first base before he got there. Oh, I see. The fielder shouldn't have done that and that is why the man feels put out. Well, I don't blame him. I wouldn't play any more either.

GENEROUS CITIZENS.—The Council of Port Hope has guaranteed a bond given the Cosmos Manufacturing Co. of $3,750, which was made up by enterprising citizens of that town. Would Cobourg citizens show the same municipal spirit?—Cobourg Star.

NOT A SQUARE DEAL.—The householder doesn't get a square deal. In winter he has to put on storm windows and doors to keep the heat in. In summer he has to buy screens and screen doors to keep the heat out. He has to shovel snow in winter and sprinkle and mow the grass in summer. Why should these things be?

FOUND IN BARN.—In a barn near the village of Shannonville, near Belleville, on Saturday, May 16, the body of Mr Richard Cornell, of Thurlow township, was found. Death was evidently the result of a poison he had taken. A note near the body intimated that he was tired of living. The unfortunate man was upwards of 50 years of age, and leaves a widow and a son.

LARGE VERDICT.—What is probably the largest verdict ever awarded to a workman against his employer was returned at Three Plains, N. J., Friday, by a jury which awarded $75,000 damages to Oscar Fried, against the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad for the loss of his arms. Fried, who is thirty years old, and an electrician had sued for $150,000. He was working on one of the streets which support the catenary bridges holding the high tension wires of the New Haven's overhead electric system at Mount Vernon, on December 8 last, when he touched an un-insulated wire carrying 11,000 volts. Both his arms had to be amputated.
