DIRECTOR EXPLAIN APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Questions Anglican Restoration Fund Committee's Campaign Answered By Rev. Canon S. Gould

Complying with numerous requests for additional information regarding the appeal of the Restoration Fund Committee of the Church of England in Canada for approximately one million dollars to replace the lost endowments of the province of Rupert's Land and to alleviate pressing financial problems in various dioceses a pamphlet has been issued in which 76 questions pertaining to the campaign are answered.

The pamphlet entitled "The Why and How of the Restoration Fund" has been compiled by Rev. Canon S. Gould, General Secretary of the M.S.C. who is directing the campaign on behalf of the Executive Council of the General Synod of the Church.

Canon Gould in his questionnaire and answers deals comprehensively and effectively with the circumstances surrounding the dissipation of the Rupert's Land trust fund and the decision to apply surplus contributions to the Pension Board of the Church and to a sustentation fund created to meet pressing financial problems in many other dioceses.

The committee feels the pamphlet will be invaluable to speakers and other workers in their activities on behalf of the appeal which culminates in an "every member a cause" of Anglican congregations shortly after Easter.

Mrs. Anson Dunbar's Group In Charge Of W.A. And W.M. S. Meetings

Despite the muddy roads there was a good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary and Woman's Missionary Society held in the Garden Hill church when Mrs. Anson Dunbar's group was in charge of the program.

An instructive paper on Prayer was read by Miss Evelyn Little, who gave seven reasons as incentives to prayer.

First—"It honors God as our Father—'His Father's duty is to provide for his children. Therefore, our Father seeks that privilege and has appointed Prayer to that end. Heavily you shall find; and, and it shall be opened unto you."

Second—"To discharge our office as Priest. 'Ye are a holy Priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.'"

Third—"To avail ourselves of our new privilege as believers. When the New Covenant was completed by the death, resurrection and ascension of Christ, the believer has been brought to a new prayer privilege.

Fourth—"To fulfill our obligation to our fellow believers. Paul's epistle to the Ephesians closes with this exhortation, 'Praying always, with all prayer and watching there unto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints.'"

Fifth—"To seek and save the souls of men." The church of Christ has yet to come to a full realization of the ministry of prayer as a soul saving power.

Sixth—"To overcome the power of evil. No man is a match for the superhuman spiritual forces arrayed against him. Even our Lord did not face the enemy apart from prayer and God's word."

CAMPHOR MADE MORE CHEAPLY

New Industry Forecast—Starting Discovery In Anemia Cases

An important new industry, manufacturing synthetic camphor from turpentine by a newly-discovered process, was predicted to the American Chemical Society.

The strange discovery that the liver of a person suffering from pernicious anemia manufactures vast quantities of a remedy needed for the disease, but is unable to bring it into play only when aided by certain foods, has been reported.

The new method of making camphor is more direct than those now in use and produces a high-grade product at a low cost.

BANQUET FOR 1933 WARDEN

W. F. Rickard is Honored At Munster Banquet At Newcastle Tuesday

With over 250 people in attendance from all parts of the united counties of Brant and Northumberland, W. F. Rickard of Newcastle, Warden for 1933, was honored at a munster-banquet at Newcastle Community Hall Tuesday night.

By a coincidence, the number of accidents reported during February (520) was the same as for February, 1932. The total of twenty killed during the month represents a decrease of seven from last year and properly damaged, amounting to $52,412 was $12,545 less than the total for February, 1932. There were 407 persons reported non-fatally injured during the month, twenty more than the total a year ago.

Is analyzing the accidents, by type of accident, on the urban streets, "collisions with pedestrian" and "collisions with other motor vehicles" were most frequently reported.

On the rural road, "collision with other motor vehicle," "collision with fixed object" and "non-collision" accidents were the most common types.

Accidents on urban streets increased 44 per cent and accidents on rural roads decreased 7.4 per cent from the February, 1932 total.

As regards the time of occurrence, 40 per cent of the fatal accidents occurred between 6 and 10 p.m. Half of the fatal accidents happened in daylight and half during darkness.

Accident frequency was higher on Saturday than on any other day. Nine of the 20 persons killed and 155 of the 407 persons injured were pedestrians.

Of the 9 pedestrian fatalities, five were attributed to collisions with pedestrian accident, namely: "Crossing between street intersections," "playing on street," "hitching on vehicle," "standing on high highway" and "coming from behind parked vehicle or object."

COBOURG POLICE ARREST YOUTHS

Robert Gible and Frank Jarvis, of Oshawa, were arrested at Cobourg Tuesday afternoon by Chief Constable J. C. Ruse. They were apprehended on their way to the Summer home of Mrs. McCook Miller, Mrs. R. Adams spotted two youths fevring an entrance into the Miller home and phoned the police. BRANDED BEEF POPULAR

The increasing sale of branded beef in Canada denotes a threefold advance in the amenities of daily life in the Dominion, namely, the supply of a higher quality in the food of the people; greater encouragement to Canadian farmers who are devoting their efforts to breed better quality beef; and, thirdly, an expanding co-operation on the part of Canadians in building up one of Canada's most important national industries.

The latest figures issued by the Livestock Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, it is evident that Canadian householders are more and more recognizing the official brand as the hallmark of quality.

For the month of February of this year the total amount of branded beef sold in Canada was 229,965 pounds. This represents an advance of 750,410 pounds on the figure of 1,549,558 pounds for February, 1932, and much more than double of the 983,571 pounds, in 1931.

In other words, the sales of February in two days have exceeded by more than 322,826 pounds.

During the years 1931 and 1932 the heaviest brandings were made by the province of Ontario, followed in order by Quebec, Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, in that order.

For the month of February this year, Ontario branded 954,713 pounds; Quebec, 365,200; Manitoba, 341,275; Alberta, 236,153 British Columbia, 188,907, and Saskatchewan, 152,355 pounds.

These figures reflect the growing province in which the "branding" is done and not to the provinces in which the beef is sold. A considerable percentage of the beef branded in Winnipeg is sold in Northern Ontario and in the city of Montreal.

Similarly, considerable quantities of Toronto beef is sold in Montreal and in the Maritime Provinces. Occasional shipments of branded beef have been shipped from Saskatchewan to Eastern Canada, and from Alberta to Saskatchewan and to British Columbia.

DECLINE SHOWN IN FATALITIES

500 Accidents Are Reported During Month Of February

February was the seventh consecutive month in which fatalities by motor vehicles declined from the totals for the corresponding month of the previous year. This downward trend has continued longer than during any other period in the history of the motor vehicles in Ontario.

By a coincidence, the number of accidents reported during February (520) was the same as for February, 1932. The total of twenty killed during the month represents a decrease of seven from last year and properly damaged, amounting to $52,412 was $12,545 less than the total for February, 1932.

LATE SEED DELIVERIES

In recent years deliveries of seed from wholesale houses to retail dealers began, for the most part, in early February. This year, however, inspectors as in former years. It is also to be expected that there will be an increased tendency for farmers to trade in seed among themselves and in so doing it ought not be overlooked that all seed sold for seedling purposes in Canada is required to be sold at grade.

For the purpose of grading, samples of seed are forwarded to the nearest District Office of the Seed Branch Dominion Department of Agriculture. Three samples are graded free for a judicial of firm in any one year.

FAIL TO CHANGE GOVT. DECISION

Orono Village, hard hit by the closing of the Ontario Forestry Station, has failed in its effort to change the official mind at Queen's Park. "There is little prospect of a change in the department's plans to keep the Orono station closed this year," said an official close to Hon. William Finlayson, in denying the stories that the Orono business men and Durham County officials had induced a change of heart on the part of the Government.

Orono Village depends largely for its revenue on the forestry planting station, which in the past years has raised millions of seedlings for reforestation projects in every part of Ontario.

In addition to the local merchants, the railway station at Orono will likely be closed, as a large percentage of its business has been the shipping of trees from the station.

Practically every storekeeper in the town is affected, as all the station workers have been securing supplies during the past winter on a life of credit to be paid up when the station opened up in the spring.

THIRD OF SERIES OF TALKS GIVEN

Young People Turn Out In Large Numbers To Hear Inspirational Talk

Again a large crowd of young people gathered to hear Rev. D. McTavish speak on the third of the four fundamental principles of the Oxford Movement. Seventy about young men and women of the United Church Y.P.A. showed how they appreciated their pastor's previous talks on the subject by attending again this week and giving their undivided attention. Mr. McTavish's theme this time was "Absolute Unselfishness." With a lesson Mark 8:17 to 18. He pointed out that absolute unselfishness was a most difficult thing to accomplish in this complex world of ours in when one man receives so much more than another, but he showed that it had been demonstrated possible in the life of Jesus Christ. He concluded with one of Christ's utterances, "He who loses his life shall find it."

Next week Mr. McTavish takes up the subject of "Absolute Love," which in the minds of some comprehends a book, "If I Could Preach Just Once," as a guide in his very interesting and helpful discourse, in which he showed how the spoken word had influenced great movements and was even now showing great power in making it difficult to start a war because public opinion had been made too strong against war for it to be popular.

The Power of the Word Mr. E. H. Brown had the main topic, "The Power of the Word," taking a passage of Job 38:25, "Who is he that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge?" as his lead and giving a book, "If I Could Preach Just Once," as a guide in his very interesting and helpful discourse, in which he showed how the spoken word had influenced great movements and was even now showing great power in making it difficult to start a war because public opinion had been made too strong against war for it to be popular.

To conclude he pointed out that we should be most careful of what we say because there is such power for good or evil in the words that issue from the mouths of men and women.

MAKES STATEMENT COBOURG POLICE

Arrested By J. C. Ruse, Jack Armstrong, Welome, Confesses Hold-Up

While Cobourg town councilors deliberate on cutting his salary, Chief of Police J. C. Ruse has been carrying on with his customary thoroughness. Displaying smart detective work, the chief made an arrest of a hold-up man in the morning of the New York Cafe on March 16, escaping with twelve dollars in cash.

Jack Armstrong, Welome hold-up youth, who is charged with holding up the restaurant, was arrested at the home of his uncle in the Provincial Constable W. J. Carey.

A car stuck in a snowbank at Cambridge, some hours after the robbery had taken place in Cobourg, gave the clue that led to the arrest. The chief made some inquiries and learned the name of the owner of the car, Sam Hatheway, Port Hope. Hatheway had left his car in a Port Hope garage.

It is charged that Armstrong, who is only 16 years of age, went home to his home on March 18, the morning of the robbery, but later presented his father's 32 rifle, making his exit by way of a window. It is also charged that Armstrong went down to the garage, sprang the lock and took Hatheway's car. The car was taken care of by the morning and returned a few hours later.

When Armstrong was brought to Cobourg he was lined up with seven other men and identified by James Woo as the man who had held up the restaurant. He was also identified by Sgt. Constable H. Brown as the youth who had been hanging around the cafe.

The accused made a statement to the police following his arrest, in which, police claim, he confessed to the hold-up.

SPECIAL MEETING COBOURG COUNCIL

Endorses Recommendation To Spend $40,000 On Water-works

Cobourg Town Council at a special meeting on Tuesday night endorsed the recommendation of the Cobourg Public Utilities Commission for a $40,000 expenditure on the water works system in order to enable it to give an adequate supply of water with a sufficient margin to take care of a normal increase in consumption.

While all the members of the council expressed their approval of the proposal, Frank W. E. Cooper and Councillor Brue Lapp desired more time to consider the idea. Both councillors felt it advisable to await the delivery of the financial report of the electrical division of the public utilities before coming to a decision.

Councillor Leslie Wilson moved a resolution which was seconded by Councillor W. Jennings, that application be made for a mandatory order from the Provincial Board of Health approving the project and that the engineer furnish the board with all the necessary plans and particulars for its consideration. Councillor Lapp moved an amendment that the matter be not voted upon at the present time as he wished to see the electrical utilities report first, before taking a definite stand on it.

The amendment was defeated. Revere Cooper and Councillor Lapp being the only dissenting members.

The $40,000 expenditure suggested by the Commission includes a 300,000 gallons storage tank to be erected on Ontario street north, opposite the power substation, to equalize the pressure throughout the whole system.

Unidentified Thieves Enter Home Of Rev. Palmer — Quantity Of Food Stolen

Evidently it wasn't the case of bringing home the bacon, but it was an instance of leaving the bacon. Early Sunday morning, unidentified thieves effected an entrance to the home of Rev. Dr. K. H. Palmer, Pine Street, and looted the refrigerator, leaving only one piece of bacon.

The marauders made an entrance by the garage door, thence to the kitchen. The refrigerator was stripped of practically all of its contents but a later check-up revealed that no other articles were stolen from the house. Local police attribute the burglary to transients.

Durham Section Of United Counties Seeks Ex-Sheriff Nesbitt's Late Position

The name of Milton J. Elliott, four times mayor of Bowmanville and former warden of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, is freely mentioned in this district as the successor to Sheriff D. J. Nesbitt, of Cobourg, who resigned recently.

Mr. Elliott has had many years of service in the Counties Council and was unsuccessful Conservative candidate in the last provincial election when, after a recount, W. J. Bragg was declared elected by a slim majority of ten votes.

Mr. Elliott would not say whether he would take the office, but it is understood that he would not beaverse to taking the position, which would necessitate his removal to the county seat at Cobourg.

MAYOR REFUSES TO GIVE FIGURES RE LOCAL RELIEF

"Will Get Them From Other Source". Claims Dr. K. H. Palmer, Who Retired From Meeting

When Walter J. Crowhurst, Mayor of Port Hope, and chairman of the local relief board failed to give figures following a resolution which was unanimously passed by the board requesting the same, Rev. Dr. K. H. Palmer, minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, retired from the organization's weekly meeting at the Town Hall Friday afternoon.

Two weeks ago, a motion, sponsored by Dr. Palmer and Rev. T. E. Meldrum, Baptist Church pastor, was passed, requesting that a complete financial statement be given of all monies received and what accounts had been paid for fuel, food, etc., since January, 1933, and also the amount of grants that had been received from the Provincial government. Last week, the matter was introduced by the chairman, W. J. Crowhurst, was out of town, the matter was deferred until Friday when Arthur Mark, town clerk and treasurer, was billed to present a statement. The local organization is securing a two thirds grant on the basis of a report of $100 per cent. for food and 40 per cent. for fuel and clothing.

At 3:30 o'clock, Dr. Palmer, who was engaged in other duties arrived and took his seat at the board. It was growing late and the session nearly over.

"Two weeks ago," Dr. Palmer is credited with saying, "a resolution was passed here requesting a complete financial statement in order to show what the corporation is paying for relief."

"I instructed Mr. Chesher, the secretary, but to give it," replied the Chairman.

"That is all I want to know," remarked the member. "If people are willing to let you run things, then I will get them from some other source."

At 5:00 o'clock, Dr. Palmer retired. At last week's meeting of the board, which was presided over by the vice-president, Mrs. F. Philip, due to the absence of the Mayor, who was out of town, considerable discussion took place. The object was to ascertain what share the corporation of the Town of Port Hope was spending for relief work, following the introduction of a motion the previous week requesting that a complete financial statement be given of all monies received and what accounts had been paid for fuel, food, etc., since January, 1933. Due to the absence of the Mayor, who is chairman of the Board, the matter was deferred until this afternoon when Arthur Mark, Town Clerk and Treasurer was called to present a statement of the amounts of the various grants which have been received from the Provincial Government.

At two o'clock this afternoon, when the meeting was about to start, the Guide representative entered the room. The Mayor doffed his spectacles and approached the reporter just inside the door. His remarks were short and to the point.

"This board," he said, "has got along quite nicely for seventy years without the press, and we don't need them to-day."

Late Grace Chislett And Late Thomas Herring Laid To Rest

Two funerals were held in Port Hope Friday afternoon when the late Miss Grace Chislett and the late Thomas W. Herring were laid to rest at the Port Hope Union Cemetery.

The funeral of the former was held from the residence of her grandfather, Mr. W. R. Chislett, Brown Street, and was largely attended by citizens of the town and classmates of the popular 5th form student of the local High School who was called to the Great Beyond while in the flower of youth. The impressive services were in charge of Rev. Dr. K. H. Palmer, minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church and there was many a tear dimmed eye as the cortege left the home. The pall bearers were Malcolm Mark, Cyril Hewson, Paul Somerville, Stuart Snegrove, Douglas Ferguson and Wallace Gifford.

The funeral of the late Thomas W. Herring, who died on Tuesday, after being in business on Ridout Street for over twenty years, was conducted from the family residence at 230 O'Levy, the services were in charge of Rev. Duncan McTavish of the Port Hope United Church and many friends and relatives turned out to pay their last respects. The pall bearers were Messrs. M. V. Garrett, L. H. Giddy, J. H. Stephens, M. M. Hewson, Phil Martin and A. J. Christie.

J.B. REYNOLDS SPEAKS AT FORUM

Task Belongs To Church More Than To Any Other Human Agency In Solving Problem

Resolution Passed

At the close of Dr. Reynolds' address, the following resolution was moved, seconded and carried unanimously.—"That a committee be appointed to frame a resolution to be put before this Forum on Sunday, April 9th, incorporating the views of the speaker on the question of Christian Socialism as outlined by him in his address to-day."

The President, S. B. Hatheway along with George W. Garnett and Eric Oswald were appointed a committee to act with Dr. Reynolds in preparing the resolution.

At the Men's Forum at the Port Hope United Church Sunday afternoon, the speaker was Dr. J. B. Reynolds, and he took as his subject, "Why has not the Church Solved the Present Economic Problem?"

His remarks were as follows.—"In my last address to this Forum, Present Crisis?" I ventured to assume the subject. "What to do in the Kingdom of God, and by that phrase I meant, not a remote and final state to be enjoyed by the righteous in another life after this, but the reign of unselfishness and generosity and brotherly love in human society here and now. And it is not just now that we are discovering this meaning in the gospels. Twenty-five years ago it was my privilege to conduct classes in the subject of 'The Kingdom of God' at the Agricultural College on Bible study, and the topics followed were such as 'The Social Significance of the Teachings of Jesus' and 'Christianity and the Social Crisis.' And now the social crisis is upon us in a more acute form than I had dreamed of. In the possible twenty-five years ago, and we still are trifling with all sorts of man-made remedies such as tariffs and tariffs and gold standards and inflation and technocracy and imperial trade when we have the Divine leadership offered to us toward a promised, land wherein dwelleth righteousness. And we have forsaken the will of living waters, and have been out for ourselves cisterns that hold no water."

A retired banker, writing on the subject of reconciling the two opposing economic doctrines, Capitalism and Communism, says in conclusion.—"For the past thirty years, the nations of the world have followed a policy which has led to the reign of selfishness and hate, and the result has been world war, world crisis, world-wide unemployment, want, destitution, misery."

"Suppose that for the next thirty years the world should follow the law of generosity and love, and at the end of that time see whether the result has not been world peace, world economic freedom, world welfare and human happiness."

"Well, if this is the issue involved, if the teachings of Jesus Christ are to be applied to the solution of our present problems, and there seems to be no other hope of a permanent and happy world, why has not the Christian Church set itself unreservedly and devotedly to this task? Surely the task belongs to the church, more than to any other human agency. Surely the job is big enough to invite the best minds and the highest purposes. Surely the ends to be gained—the reconciling of the warring elements in a war-torn world, the allaying of fear and distrust and hate that have taken possession of the nations of the earth, the alleviation of want and misery, the conversion of the world from the worship of Mammon to the worship of the God of righteousness, and, lo, even this commission given to the Christian Church. 'Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature.'"

The church has not untriedly set itself to this great task because the church is not a church. We have a church that can speak with a single voice, but rather a conglomeration of denominations, each of them set upon furthering its own ends, emphasizing its differences with other denominations, and attaching to itself converts and proselytes.

Then, the various Christian

Mid-Week Meeting Of Sunshine Weavers And Comrades — Village Doings

(By Our Own Correspondent)

The March mid-week meeting of the Sunshine Weavers and Comrades, classes was held on Wednesday evening of last week. The classes assembled in the church schoolroom for the opening by an and prayer, but the business sessions were held separately.

Miss Freda Austin, President of the Sunshine Weavers, presided and also presented an excellent paper on "Canadian Art." Miss Alina Athey gave an interesting address on "Canadian Poets" with special reference to the poets of the day and an indicative of the versatility of that author read her poem on "Lent" after which Miss Doris Bougner read "The Cattle Thief."

As the President of the Comrades, Arthur Pollard, was absent the chair was taken by the Vice President, Leslie Knight. Alfred Evans and Harry Banks were in charge of the program.

One item of business was the selection of a class motto. The choice fell upon the words "I serve." Mr. Evans gave a splendid paper on "Speed." There was, too, a spirited discussion, led by Stanley Austin on "Who is the happiest man in the world." It was conceded that the happiest man is he who is neither hampered by poverty nor overburdened by riches, maintains high ideals, has a congenial occupation, a happy home and a hobby.

The business sessions were followed by the customary co-operative social program consisting of a concert, a game and lunch.

The April meeting will be the final gathering until next Fall. It will be held on the last Friday in the month and will take the form of a banquet.

CHINESE WAR IS SEEN ON SCREEN

Shown At Local Cafe Thursday Night With Hope Of Unifying Japanese Boycott

Shown with the idea of extending the Chinese boycott of Japanese goods even to Canada, a series of motion pictures of the fighting in the Shanghai area of China a year ago, was shown at the Embassy Cafe Thursday night. All the Chinese residents of both Port Hope and Cobourg were present for the occasion in addition to several local folk.

Wong Bing and George Wing Kent, both of Vancouver, were in charge of the event which is sponsored by one of the Chinese political parties.

The film opened with scenes of the wonderful Garden of Peking and equally interesting West Lake locality. From here the scene moved to Shanghai where many actual war scenes were shown with the Chinese under the command of General Chen Ichi. The film was warmly received and Japan has already unreservedly lowered its arms, already in the local Chinese citizens.

OTHER EDITORS' OPINIONS

THE EXPENSE OF JUSTICE

Jurists continue to differ as to the desirability of retaining that ancient institution, the grand jury.

Thus we have Mr. Justice Raney and Mr. Justice Kingstone, speaking on the same day, taking diametrically opposite positions in regard to the usefulness of the grand jury.

The latter judge deprecates any attempt to discard the grand jury system; Mr. Justice Raney, on the other hand, declares that there is no longer any need for maintaining it, and that the retention of grand juries and of the practice of appointing special Crown prosecutors for serious cases unnecessarily adds to the expense of administering justice in Ontario.

Public opinion will undoubtedly support Mr. Justice Raney on both these points.

There seems no sound reason why grand juries should be called four or five times a year to inspect public institutions, while it is equally difficult to see the necessity for a grand jury deciding whether a prisoner should be put on trial, after his case has already been heard at a preliminary hearing before a magistrate.

Similarly the value of appointing special prosecutors is open to doubt; when the resident crown attorney has familiarized himself with every angle of the case and has had it in charge since the beginning, he should be in a better position to prosecute than an outsider who has got to size up the evidence hurriedly and shape the case upon information supplied him by the crown attorney.

Justice would be expedited and its cost materially reduced if the views expressed by Mr. Justice Raney were to be put to work.—Peterboro Examiner.

ADVERTISING IN NEWSPAPERS

The great value of newspaper advertising is stressed in an article in the Hamilton Spectator which refers to the importance this plays in English cities' development. "In the Mother Country the value of this medium has always been recognized and it is obvious from recent happenings as reported in the English press, that business interests have lost none of their faith in it. The Spectator refers to the London Times which contains a convincing example" in the remarkable results achieved by a famous holiday resort on the south coast of England—the famous old town of Hastings and its neighbor, St. Leonards—through judicious use of the columns of the press. In the last ten years it reported, no less than two million pounds sterling has been spent on improvements in those cities, adding to their amenities from the tourist point of view. Of course Hastings is an historic old place, with attractions of a unique character. As the scene of battle which established the ascendancy of William the Conqueror, and the site of numerous relics of Norman-French days, combined with favorable climatic conditions, the place would doubtless enjoy considerable patronage in any event. But "the policy adopted by the Hastings Council of making known the town's attractions through newspaper advertising" is credited with an increase of 10,000 more visitors by rail in 1932 than in 1931 and an increase of 35 per cent. in motorists. Fourteen thousand direct replies were received to advertisements, it is said 90 P.C. of which are attributed to newspaper advertising. So successful has the effort been that, in spite of the large financial outlays on improvements, before referred to, it has been found possible to reduce the borough rates by three pence in the pound. Clearly, advertising pays, and pays well."

LACK OF APPRECIATION AND LOYALTY

One hears much these days of loyalty. Loyalty to country, to church, to school, to community, to home, to merchants, to lodges and other organizations. One of the great institutions in any community is the home town newspaper, be it weekly or daily. From personal experience, here and elsewhere, we regret to see this lack of appreciation and loyalty to the local newspaper which lends itself so wholeheartedly and continuously to the betterment of its people and the community it serves.

The local newspaper is recognized as the servant of the people. It fights their battles, seeks justice for the masses, often gives service without thought of pay, and last but by no means of least importance gives a dependable news service of the area it covers, never losing an opportunity to say a good word about an individual or boost a worthy cause. It is therefore often difficult for the publishers to understand the apparent disloyalty, or maybe it's only thoughtlessness, shown to the local newspaper by so many people. Those whom the paper benefits most are often among the most perfidious, and those whom it serves best are among the most false in their allegiance to their local newspaper.

Without beating around the bush, or coumoufaging the facts, we wish to point out that no newspaper can retain its high standard and continue to give the service that is expected or demanded of it without the loyalty and support of those whom it serves.

We find among the worst offenders, and we regret to say it, members of church organizations. Many of these societies, on the rightful assumption that the local newspaper must serve its community, expect free publicity for its meetings, for reports of its activities, and for its general announcements. Where these activities are for the good of the church, and where no charge is made for admission, the Statesman gladly gives reports at no expense to the society. In brief our policy is: Where you charge we charge.

This free service is carried on each week by the newspaper, and it becomes so commonplace that we fear the very nature of the service is forgotten. It is something that ought to be done, and as it never fails, there is a right to expect it.

But what about the times when these same people who look to the local newspaper for constant publicity wants some printing done? Sometimes its members have the right attitude and bring this work to the newspaper which has so generously supported them. But just as often it has been found that those to whom the newspaper service has proven most valuable, are the first to take their printing elsewhere, and often out of town where they have no hope of getting the free and effective service they receive from their own local newspaper.

"Don't think for a minute that church societies are the only offenders in this regard. The racket has become quite common among all classes. In fact we are only giving publicity to it now as we find some people are under the impression that they have been getting away with it without the knowledge of the publishers.

We might mention too that this cunning practice is not confined to Bowmanville only, for in a recent gathering of newspapermen from all parts of the Dominion it was revealed that all were suffering more or less from the same unfair practice.

All we ask is that you be as loyal to your local newspaper as it is to you, or in other words, let's practice the Golden Rule.—Bowmanville Statesman.

RADIO CRIME PROGRAMS

As a result of an editorial appearing in these columns, calling for a closer supervision of the "entertainment" which is brought into the homes of this land through the medium of the radio, the Daily News has received an acknowledgment from Mr. Hector Charlesworth, chairman and president of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission, Ottawa, in which he states that he has read the editorial in the News and wishes to thank this paper for the information provided; and also "wishes to advise that this matter will receive the consideration of the commission."

The programs criticized are those which depict crime under the disguise of adventure, which is a most unhealthy sort of entertainment to be listened to by children of tender and impressionable minds. Many children undoubtedly gain the impression that the extravagant things they listen to over the radio are true pictures of real life—gun-play, torturing, murdering, etc.—and the natural thing is to find them going out endeavoring to emulate these things in their play, which at times is apt to be dangerous and demoralizing.

If we wish children to be healthy and normal, they must be surrounded by healthy and normal conditions, and their minds should be directed as far as possible to the worth-while things of life. Some of the entertainment coming over the radio is not fit for grown-up people to listen to, let alone children of innocent and impressionable age.—Chatham Daily News.

RELIEF GARDENS

The appeal of the Ontario Minister of Public Welfare, Hon. W. G. Martin, to municipalities throughout the province to set aside vacant land for relief gardens is one that The Examiner feels might advantageously be considered and acted upon, particularly, as the Minister announces, that the seeds required for such gardens may be included in relief expenditure accounts.

With hundreds of men out of work and on relief, the establishment of vegetable gardens along the lines indicated would seem to be a very desirable feature of relief, providing a large amount of desirable foodstuffs and at the same time give those without employment an opportunity to contribute a very useful service.

There is no reason why this garden project should not be adopted by Ontario municipalities generally; there is plenty of suitable land available everywhere, and with the supply of seed authorized as part of the general relief scheme, no formidable obstacle would seem to lie in the way of the successful carrying out of the scheme.

At least its possibilities should be studied.—Peterboro Examiner.

Figure out how much chicken wire you need for ornamental vines, peas, beans or cucumbers and send an order in and have it delivered. It will then be ready to put on the first day you don't know what else to do.

If you never had a compost heap, start one. You won't gain by without one. It's the handiest way of disposing of the pulled weeds and autumn leaves. It's a waste of good material to burn them.

Save the ashes from the ash logs in the grate and spread them over the garden. They are excellent fertilizer and hardwood ashes cost real money at a seed house. It's throwing money away to waste 'em.

Lawns suffered badly from worms in many sections last fall. They need rolling this spring as soon as frost is out of the ground. Get a neighborhood roller.

Look over the garden tools and give them a coating of oil so they won't be dull and rusty when you want them.

Visit the spring flower shows and get ideas for your garden. Annuals are now important greenhouse subjects and you will see a lot of them.

CROP REPORT

WESTERN ONTARIO

DUFFERIN—This district experienced a most severe ice storm on Monday, March 30th. Considerable destruction was done to trees and telephone lines are in a very damaged condition. There are many more inquiries this year regarding the treating of seed potatoes and spraying to prevent blight. The ravages of late blight in fields not well cared for and the fairly high remunerative price of 60c per bag for commercial potatoes, have impressed the growers with the value of these treatments.

GREY—Winter weather and comparatively heavy snow still persist in Grey County. While the snow has not been exceptionally heavy there has been continuous snow which has given considerable sleighing.

HALTON—With the strengthening of the cold front and cattle the mixed farmers are taking on a more hopeful outlook. Hogs are scarce, some estimates claiming that our hog population at the present time is not more than one half what it was two or three years ago. This would have to come out by a study of our past and present marketings.

PEEL—Grade No. 1 Oats selling around 50c with Barley of same grade around 60c. Sufficient amount of Banner, Victory, Alaska and Liberty Hulled Oats, Canadian Goose Wheat and O.A.C. 31 Barley for seed purposes in the county. Over 120 farm hands have been placed by our office with Peel farmers already this year. Wages are running from $5 to $10 per month until seeding, then $15 to $20, for the summer months. The above wages are for single experienced hands.

SOUTH SIMCOE—Many of our best potato growers have sold their entire crop for table stock. This is likely to cause a shortage of certified seed. A considerable quantity of Registered O.A.C. No. 21 Barley is available in the Alliston district.

WATERLOO—In some districts fall wheat does not seem to be in a very healthy condition. Improved hog prices have been welcomed by this county. There has also been a minimum advance in the money paid by mills for fall wheat. Generally speaking, the production of milk is down to some extent owing to the fact that dairymen have purchased a minimum amount of concentrates. Egg prices have taken a seasonable drop.

SOUTHERN ONTARIO

BRANT—There seems to be a variety of opinions regarding fall wheat. Fields that had plenty of top last fall appear in good condition. Many farmers report damage to both old meadows and new seeding. Weather has been rather unfavorable. A number of sales of horses for use in the county in good order and ready for spring work. Farmers getting ready for spring work.

LAMBTON—The demand for seed oats has slackened. It would appear that sufficient seed has been secured. A large acreage of soy beans will be planted this spring, some on contract and considerable area not contracted for.

LINCOLN—The rather heavy frosts of the past week have not been inductive to good health of overwintering crops but the warm weather of the past few days is giving vitality to the wheat and clover which has not already succumbed to the winter's changing whims. Considerable spraying has been done very recently to be effective. The market for hogs has remained firm and there is a tendency for farmers to hold their hogs until well finished as the extra dollar or so per head which has come as a result of the increase in the price recently is a great encouragement to the live stock man.

MIDDLESEX—There is quite a lot of inquiry for seed grain particularly for Ontario farmers whose grain is not of high quality. Seed oats are being bought at from 45-60c per bush depending on quality. Some seed barley is moving at from 60c up. Not much activity yet in small seeds. Apple growers are showing more than usual amount of interest in podded peas this year. They are much finer than many of the old-time sort commonly planted.

It's a light season in carpenter and wood working shops. Have them turn out a supply of dahlia stakes or bean poles.

Kale can be picked up in the garden all winter. You might try a few plants another year.

This is the season of steam-heated gardening. It is done with a pencil, paper and ruler. You can't be sure of a good garden without planning it on paper.

preparations for spraying. The conventions at Mt. Brydges and Stratroy were attended by close to 200 fruit growers. Special preparations are being made to control the apple maggot, with many growers who do not produce enough to be classed as commercial fruit growers planning to spray as a means of securing good quality fruit for home use.

HALDIMAND—While it has yet been impossible to make any definite estimate of the damage done, it is known that the loss of fall wheat will be heavy. Some growers plan to run as high as 50-75%. Heavy inquiry as to possible sources of seed oats and seed barley with a marked shortage of this commodity in the county. Visit to a number of farms during the week would indicate that supplies of hay and grain are rather short. A few farms indeed are not feeding grain to their cows at all.

CENTRAL ONTARIO

HASTINGS—Supplies of registered grain for seed are nearly all sold. Small quantities of timothy, alfalfa and red clover are being offered for sale.

ONTARIO—The improvement and strength in live stock prices is creating a better feeling and bidding at recent sales where time was given has been quite brisk.

PRINCE EDWARD—Fairly heavy activity in the market for oats this week, 300 hogs and 100 calves going forward. Hogs brought $5.00 per cwt. The price of calves varied considerably due to quality. A Quebec buyer secured a load of grade cows this week for shipment to that province. Good runs of saps are reported the last few days.

YORK—Farmers are quite optimistic with respect to the outcome of the fall wheat crop, despite the fact that most fields show very brown. Little grain has been reported. It is too early to predict the outcome of the winter wheat. We are entering the critical period for these crops. Seed listed for sale and requests for seed to date would indicate that our requirements will be supplied locally. We have received good samples of oats, barley and peas, being offered for sale. Prices for hogs are 60c for oats and barley and $1.25 for peas.

EASTERN ONTARIO

CARLETON—There is in the Ottawa Valley still a considerable quantity of Banner, Alaska Oats and O.A.C. No. 21 Barley for seed as well as a small quantity of A.A. 72-angel seed. Market prices for feed oats are somewhat stronger.

FRONTENAC—Small pigs are being marketed in fair numbers and sell from $5.00 to $6.00 per pair. The demand is good. Dressed pork selling on market at 15c a lb. for middling and 16c for front quarters. Dressed veal at 3c for hind and 7c for fronts.

LEEDS—Only a small percentage of farmers have tapped their sugar bushes but tapping should be general next week. Farmers have had more than any time during the winter. Present snow coverings may save much injury to meadows as March is usually the critical month. Several cheese factories are opening for the season; manufacturing costs vary from $1.50 to $1.75. Enquiries for seed are becoming more numerous.

LENOX AND ADDINGTON—Little pigs on Saturday's market were selling from $4.00 to $5.00 per pair while drovers are offering $5.25 per cwt. for hogs at the local shipping station.

PRESQUIT AND RUSSELL—There is a fairly good demand for timothy seed at prices from 5 to 7c a lb. The clover seed market is dead with prices as low as 14 and 15c lb.

RENFREW—It is doubtful if there will be enough seed available to meet the demand. Some varieties and grades have already been cleaned up. Prices being secured by Ottawa Valley Seed Growers are as follows: Reg. No. 1 Banner, 75c; G.S. No. 1, 57c; Reg. No. 1 Alaska, 75c; G.S. No. 1, 57c; Reg. O.A.C. No. 21, 75c; G.S. No. 1, 57c; Reg. O.A.C. No. 21, 75c; Reg. No. 1 Marquis, 85c; G.S. No. 1, 65c; Reg. No. 1 Marquis wheat, 81c; No. 1, 85c; Reg. No. 1, Peas, $1.75; No. 1 Peas, $1.50. There are still, however, carlots of Registered No. 1 Alaska, No. 1 Alaska and Reg. No. 1 Marquis and No. 1 Marquis, Registered No. 2 and 3 Barley and No. 1 Barley, also some Registered peas of the Arthur and O.A.C. No. 181 varieties and some Registered No. 1 Banner Oats, 3rd generation available. Also the Se-41 Cleaning Machine and Plants are operating to capacity with some running nights.

LANARK—A surplus of registered barley, wheat and oats is on hand.

NORTHERN ONTARIO

TEMISKAMING—We are receiving several inquiries regarding the location of seed farms and are glad to say there is a large amount of seed available in the district this year.

See lions in the London Zoo are fed forty pounds of fish every day.

SHOWER FOR CANTON GIRL

Miss Margaret Pollard Honored By Sunshine Weavers Class

Among the numerous pleasant little gatherings at which Miss Margaret Pollard has recently been the guest of honour, none has been more enjoyable than the surprise party with which the Sunshine Weavers Class, of which Miss Pollard is a member, farrowelled her at the home of Mrs. R. V. Wallace on Tuesday evening, March 28.

The program included several amusing contests, one of which was an exceedingly funny that it deserves special mention. An amateur artist swiftly and skillfully sketched profile portraits of each guest. These drawings were put on exhibition and every one tried to at least recognize herself, a feat, which not a few failed to perform. Miss Pollard proved the best guesser when the list was read out by the artist.

When all points won in the various contests had been added, it was found that Miss Pollard had the highest aggregate with Miss Jean Hawkins as runner-up.

While the winner was examining her prize, a pair of handsome bookends, the special surprise of the evening was staged—an handkerchief and hosiery shower.

After Miss Pollard had expressed her thanks and appreciation and the gifts had been duly displayed, the serving of a delectable lunch brought to its close an event which will linger long in the memory of all concerned.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. George Gist entertained the choir last Saturday evening.

Miss A. L. Harris returned home on Saturday accompanied from Toronto by her nephew, Mr. Paul Harris and his mother, Mrs. W. Harris. Mrs. R. V. Wallace and son Campbell were week-end guests of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Siskley, Toronto.

Mr. Will Watkins, Woodbridge is visiting his brother, Mr. George Watkins.

Mr. Andrew Caldwell, Montpelier, was guest of his friend, Mr. Arthur Pollard, over the week-end.

CONVICTED UNDER SECURITIES ACT

Arthur T. Stone of Madoc was convicted Wednesday afternoon by Police Magistrate J. H. Macdonald of a charge under the Ontario Securities Act of 1930. Penally imposed on Stone was payment of a fine of $400 and $20.65 costs or one month in the county jail. One week's time was granted Stone to pay the fine. "If he pays you the time provided you will promise not to try to sell this stuff in Peterboro again until the fine is paid. Of course, if you continue the Crown will bring you up again."

His Worship found that Stone had been selling stock contrary to the provisions of the Securities Act. J. O'Brien, counsel for Stone, said that it was probable the conviction would be appealed. A similar charge faces Arthur E. Fisher of Toronto, but the hearing of the case was adjourned for one week. There has been a period of about a few months looking for home runs in the district to invest money in the No. 1 Manma Mining and Production Syndicate, was the statement made by Stone in explaining where money had gone that had been entrusted to him by investors in the syndicate.

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Daily Use of Bismarck Magnesia Overcomes Troubles Caused by Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a flat, bloated feeling after eating is a common trouble. It is caused by hydrochloric acid in the stomach, causing associated acid indigestion. Acid stomachs are dangerous. Too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, causing gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ailments. Food is not properly digested, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the internal organs, often affecting the heart.

If the worst of fully to neglect such a serious condition or to try to treat it by the use of laxatives, which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach. Food is not properly digested and the stomach is not properly cleaned. Little Bismarck Magnesia from any drug store and take a teaspoonful of water right after eating. This will neutralize the acid, soothe the stomach and sweeten the stomach, neutralize the acid and stop nervousness, acid formation and indigestion. It is a powerful laxative in liquid or milk form. It is not injurious to the stomach. It is safe for all ages. It is used by those who have no fear of indigestion.

JESUS REQUIRES CONFESSION AND LOYALTY

(International Uniform Sunday School Lesson, April 8)

GOLDEN TEXT: "Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."—Mark 8: 34.

LESSON PASSAGE: Mark 8: 27-38.

O let me hear thee speaking, In accents clear and still, Above the storms of passion, O speak to reassure me; To hasten or control; O speak, and make me listen, Thou Guardian of my soul.

A TEST QUESTION, 27, 28

Jesus did not lead his disciples to conviction in any magical or instantaneous way. His work was gradual, but it was thorough. When he led his disciples to Caesarea Philippi, a place about thirty miles north of Capernaum, he asked them questions to discover their real belief concerning him. He had spent months in training his disciples. He had given them his teachings in the Sermon on the Mount, had shown them, by his example as a healer and teacher and had sent them out on a missionary tour that they might gain experience. Now he wished to test out the result of all this training and to know if they realized who he was. Were they dependable? He first asked them the opinion of others. The reply came that some thought he was John the Baptist or Elijah, or one of the prophets. Those who gave these answers had not been intimate enough with Jesus to know the real meaning of his appearance. These answers showed that they had attracted great attention, but they also revealed that people outside the disciple band did not recognize him as Messiah.

PETER'S CONFESSION, 29, 30

Suddenly Jesus made his question very direct and personal: "Whom sayest thou that I am?" As usual Peter was the spokesman for the twelve. He answered and said, "Thou art the Christ." The word of Christ means "Anointed." Peter's use of this word was equivalent to saying that he recognized in Jesus the Messiah for whom Jewish saints and prophets had waited. It has been said that, by making this confession, Peter was the first Christian. There are those today who say that to be a Christian we must live in the spirit of Christ and follow the Golden Rule. This is good in so far as it goes, but Jesus would not have been satisfied with this attitude on the part of his disciples. He wished to awaken in them the conviction that he was the Christ of God, the one sent to be the Messiah and the Saviour of the world. Nor is this belief unimportant. Those who attach a high view to Christ's person show a great loyalty and power of service. Those who look upon Christ as a mere man have never been foremost in missionary endeavor or in rescue work. There is a power that comes from recognizing in Christ the Son of God.

SUFFERING INEVITABLE, 31

As soon as the disciples acknowledged the Messiahship of Jesus it was necessary for them to be warned against mistake. In their minds there was associated with the coming of the Messiah the thought of a Jewish king, a powerful war lord. This was the opposite conception of the Messiah as interpreted by Christ himself. He began to tell his disciples that the Son of Man must suffer many things and die and rise again. He saw clearly that in such a matter as that which he lived suffering was inevitable. The elders, chief priests and scribes were not ready to accept his message. There were too many people with vested interests for his teachings about the love and fatherhood of God to be necessary in the flower garden than in the vegetable patch, but both are essential.

PRESENTATION

Surprise Party Staged By Friends For Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woolcott.

Upwards of eighty friends of Port Britain neighbourhood assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woolcott and staged a surprise party in their honor before their departure from the neighborhood. The family have moved to another farm, east of Dale.

Following the reading of the address which appears below, the presentation of two handsome oak chairs was made. Mr. and Mrs. Woolcott thanked the gathering and the evening was spent in cards and dancing, with refreshments being served at the close.

The following address was read:— To Mr. and Mrs. Woolcott:— We, a representative gathering of your neighbors and friends have gathered at your house this evening to express our sincere regret that you are leaving us.

You have lived among us for many years, and have always proved to be good neighbors, ever ready to extend a helping hand in time of others' need. This gathering desires to extend to you their very best wishes for your success in your new home and surroundings. We feel sure that you will make many new friends there, but we hope that your old friends will always hold a high place in your remembrance.

As a small token of the esteem in which you are held, please accept these chairs. May they give you many hours of comfort and pleasure, and always remind you of your friends in Port Britain and vicinity.

Signed, on behalf of your many friends:— C. A. BARKE, JAS. SNELL, CHAS. EIGHTON.

It is no wonder that the disciples rebelled against this interpretation. We have hardly become accustomed to it even after nineteen hundred years. Yet it is true, in our day as in the day of Christ, that sacrifice and suffering are redemptive.

PETER REBUKED, 32, 33

What three things led him astray at that different time? One moment we may be high and the next we fall low. There is what is spoken of as the "defects of our virtues." Peter's readiness to speak his mind had led him to be the first to confess faith in Jesus as the Christ. This same outspokenness soon led him astray. He heard the Master speak about suffering and dying, Peter began to rebuke him. He did this out of loyalty and love, but he was putting temptation in his Master's way. Jesus rebuked him, uttering stern words: "Get thee behind me, Satan! When he said the things that be of God, but the things that be of man." He used a phrase that had been used in repulsing the tempter in the wilderness. Jesus said this to Peter, the disciple who had just confessed faith in him. Why did Jesus speak thus harshly to a loyal disciple? Was it not because he realized the persuasiveness of a temptation coming from a friend who loved him and who he loved? The temptations of our enemies may be easily withstood. They present little attraction to us, but the temptations which come to us from our personal friends are much more dangerous and we must be that much more decisive in resisting them.

THE CHRISTIAN LAW, 34, 35

Jesus continued to teach his unpopular doctrine of self-denial. He called the people to him along with his disciples, told them that if they were to come after him as followers they must deny themselves and take up the cross. He did not wish followers who put false pretences, promising them happiness and pleasure. He told them of the cross. He said that if any wished to have their lives, they must lose their lives. That is, they must give up material things if they wished to win the highest spiritual victory. How literally true this was for the disciples!

QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION

1. Why did Jesus test his disciples' belief about himself?
2. Why did people see in Jesus a resemblance to John the Baptist and Elijah?
3. Peter received praise and rebuke from Jesus, which do we deserve more?
4. What did the cross mean to Christ?
5. What does the cross mean to us?

Let us not ask for a return of our former false prosperity, but for a return of integrity and honor and respectability and joy among us. Bishop Wm. T. Manning.

FORMER, PORT HOPE

Most of the promising and pulling power of the horse lies in his hind quarters.

BORN
BRADLEY—At Port Hope Hospital on Thursday, March 30th, 1933, to Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bradley (nee Helen Pomroy), Ontario street, a daughter, Beatrice Shirley.

DIED
CHISLETT—At Port Hope Hospital on Wednesday, March 27th, 1933, Grace M. Chislett, elder daughter of Claude and the late Edith Chislett, aged 19 years.

HERRING—At Port Hope, Ont., on Tuesday, March 26th, 1933, Thomas H. Herring, beloved husband of Lillian E. Tapscott.

IN MEMORIAM
ROBIYTS—There passed away on March 25th, 1933, Mary Louise Swanson, beloved wife of William Robert, of 164 Charlotte street, Peterboro.

A year has passed since that sad day. The one I loved was called away. God took her home, it was His will, but in my heart she liveth still. I have lost my soul's companion, A life linked with my own; And day by day I miss her more As I walk through life alone.

Her loving face I hope to see again, Though the days have passed away; Sleep on, dear wife, and take your rest, You miss you most who loved you best.

Oh, what would I give to clasp your hand, Your dear, kind face to see; Your loving smile, your welcome voice, That meant so much to me. No one knows the silent heartache—Only those who have such a "cell" Of the grief that is borne in silence For the one I loved so well. Sadly missed by Husband and Kenneth. 5-17w.

HELPS TO FIRESIDE GARDENING

Those who have never tried it some times have difficulty getting a garden plan drawn to scale. The only satisfactory and accurate manner of getting a workable plan on paper. The simplest method is to use paper ruled in squares.

To save the labor of doing the job yourself with ruler and pencil it is an easy matter to buy paper already ruled. All stationers have paper ruled in squares, sometimes known as "co-ordinate papers," this being ruled off in larger blocks on a groundwork of small units. Each square may represent a unit of measure in the garden plan, one foot square, two or five as desired. The first move is to set the outside dimensions of the garden, the length and width. Then rule off these dimensions on the paper to any selected scale. It is then an easy enough matter to figure out space you wish to give to different vegetables, and block off the square rectangles on the paper, writing in the space laid off the name of the vegetables to occupy it.

The same plan is pursued in laying out a flower garden, which is generally more difficult because of the more complicated forms of the beds and the irregular lines for borders. But these can be plotted on the ruled paper.

When it comes to putting the paper plan on the ground, label plants which can be purchased cheaply by the hundreds at seed stores, are very convenient devices to stake off the beds and paths. A marker with a piece of chalk such as is used in laying out tennis courts, if available, is a quick and definite method for outlining beds and paths. It is the simplest to lay the plan out after the entire garden patch is graded rather than to try to space out the spaces included in the planned beds. Ordinarily a practical vegetable garden is laid out in its entirety in straight rows. The ruled paper is useful to indicate distances between rows with companion or companion planting between the rows of vegetables sufficiently far apart to permit an intermediate planter.

A little practice with paper ruled in squares and a ruler will make the devising of a garden plan a simple matter and one of fascinating interest—as matter of fireside gardening. A definite plan is more necessary in the flower garden than in the vegetable patch, but both are essential.
